After the death of Saul y Dauid anointed in Hebron. 5 The Iebusites rebel against Dauid, from whom he taketh the towne of Zion. 6 Ioab is made captain. 10 His valiant men.

- 1 Then * al Israel gathered themselves to Dauid vnto Hebron, saying, behold we are thy bones and thy flesh.

- 2 And in tyme past, euen when Saul was King, thou leddest Israel out and in: and the Lord thy God sayd vnto thee, Thou shalt feede my people Israel, and thou shalt be captain ouer my people Israel.

- 3 So came al the Elders of Israel to the King to Hebron, and Dauid made a couenant w them in Hebron before the Lord. And they anointed Dauid King ouer Israel, * according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Samuel.

- 4 ¶ And Dauid and all Israel went to Ierusalem, which is Iebus, where were the Iebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

- 5 And the inhabitants of Iebus said to Dauid, Thou shalt not come in hither. Neuertheless Dauid tooke the towne of Zion, w is the cite of Dauid.

- 6 And Dauid sayd, * Whosoeuer smiteth the Iebusites first, shalbe the chief and captain. So Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah went first vp, and was captain.

- 7 And Dauid dwelt in the towne: therefore they called it the cite of Dauid.

- 8 ¶ And he built the cite on euery side, frō Millo euen round about: and Ioab repaired the rest of the cite.

- 9 And Dauid prospered, and grewe: for the Lord of hostes was with him.

- 10 ¶ These also are the chiefe of the valiant men that were with Dauid, & ioyned their force with him in his kingdome with all Israel, to make him King ouer Israel, according to the worde of the Lord.

- 11 And this is the number of the valiant men whom Dauid had, Iashobeam the sonne of Hachmoni, the chiefe among thirtie: he life vp his speare against three hundredth, whom he slew at one tyme.

- 12 And after him was Eleazar the sonne of Dodo the Ahothite, which was one of the three valiant men.

- 13 He was with Dauid at Pas-dammim, and there the Philistims were gathered together to battell: & there was a parcel of ground full of barley, and the people fled before the Philistims.

- 14 And they stood in the middes of the field, and saued it, and slew the Philistims: so the Lord gaue a great victorie.

- 15 ¶ And three of the chirtie captains went to a rocke to Dauid, into the caue of Adullam. And the armie of the Philistims camped in the valley of Rephaim.

- 16 And when Dauid was in the hold, y Philistims garison was at Beth-lehem.

- 17 And Dauid longed, & said, * Oh, that one would giue me to drinke of the water of the wel of Beth-lehem that is at the gate.

- 18 Then these three brake thorow the hoste of the Philistims, & drewe water out of the wel of Beth-lehem that was by the gare, & tooke it and brought it to Dauid: but Dauid would not drinke of it, but powred it for an oblation to the Lord,

19 And said, Let not my God suffer me to do this: should I drinke the blood of these mens lives? for they have brought it with the leopardie of their liues: therefore hee would not drinke it: these things did these three mightie men.

20 And Abihai the brother of Ioab, he was chiefe of the three, and he lift vp his speare against three hundred, and slew them, and had the name among the three.

21 Among the three he was more honorable then the two, and he was their captain: but he attained not vnto the first three.

22 Benaiah the sonne of Ichoiada (the sonne of a valiant man) which had done manie actes, and was of Kabzeel, he slew two strong men of Moab: he went downe also and slew a lion in y middes of a pit in time of snowe.

23 And he slew an Egyptian, a man of great stature, euen five cubites long, and in the Egyptians hand was a speare like a weauers beame: and he went downe to him with a staffe, and plucked the speare out of the Egyptians hand, and slew him with his owne speare.

24 These things did Benaiah the sonne of Ichoiada, and had the name among the three worthies.

25 Behold, he was honorable among thirtie, but he attained not vnto the first three. And David made him of his counsell.

19 ¶ And of Manassch some fell to Dauid, whe he came with the Philistims against Saul to battel, but they helped them not: for the Princes of the Philistims by aduise-

21 And they helped Dauid against that bande: for they were all valiant men and were captaines in the hoste.

22 For at that time day by day there came to Dauid to helpe him, vntil it was a great hoste, like the hoste of God.

23 And these are the numbers of the captaines that were armed to battel, and came to Dauid to Hebron to turne the kingdom of Saul to him, according to the worde of the Lord.

24 The children of Iudah that bare shielde and speare, were six thousand and eight hundred armed to the warre.

25 Of the children of Simeon valiant men of warre, seven thousande and an hun-

26 Of the children of Leui foure thousande and six hundred.

27 And Iehoiada was the chiefe of them of Aaron: and with him three thousand and seven hundred.

28 And Zadok a yong man verie valiant, and of his fathers housholde came two & twen-tie captaines.

29 And of the children of Benjamin the brethren of Saul three thousand: for a great part of them vnto that time kept the ward of the house of Saul.

30 And of the children of Ephraim twentie thousand, and eight hundred valiant men and famous men in the housholde of their fathers.

tene thousand, which were appointed by name to come and make Dauid King.

32 And of the children of Issachar which times, to knowe what Israel ought to do:

the heads of them were two hundred, and all their brethren were at their commandement.

halfe tribe of Manassch with all instrumets of warre to fight with, an hundred and twentie thousand.

38 ¶ All these men of warre that could lead an armie, came with vpright heart to Hebron to make Dauid King ouer all Israel: and all the rest of Israel was of one accord to make Dauid King.

39 And there they were with Dauid three dayes, eating and drinking: for their brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreover they that were neere them vntil Issachar, and Zebulun, and Naphthali brought bread vpon asses, and on camels, and on mules, and on oxen, euen meate, floure, figges, and reifins, and wine & oyle,

2 And Dauid said to all the Congregation

4 And all the Congregation answered, Let vs do so: for the thing seemed good in the 5 ¶ So Dauid gathered all Israel together from Shihor in Egypt, euen vnto the en-from Kiriath-iearim.

6 And Dauid went vp and all Israel to Bas-to bring vp from thence the Arke of God

7 And they caryed the Arke of God in a

8 But when the Philistims heard that Dauid was anointed King ouer Israel, all the Philistims came vp to seeke Dauid. And when Dauid heard, he went out against them.

9 And the Philistims came, and spred them selues in the valley of Rephaim.

10 Then Dauid asked counsel at God saying, Shall I go vp against the Philistims, and wilt thou deliuer them into mine hand? And the Lord said vnto him, Go vp: for I will deliuer them into thine hand.

11 So they came vp to Baal-perazim and Dauid smote them there: and Dauid saide, God hath deuicid mine enemies with mine hand, as waters are deuicid: therefore they called the name of that place, Baal-perazim.

12 And there they had left their gods: and Dauid said, Let them euen be burnt with fire.

13 Again the Philistims came and spred them selues in the valley.

14 And when Dauid asked againe counsel at God, God said to him, Thou shalt not go vp after them, but turne away from them, that thou maiest come vpon them ouer against the mulberie trees,

15 And when thou hearest the noyse of one going in the toppes of the mulberie trees, then go out to battell: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite the hoste of the Philistims.

16 So Dauid did as God had commanded him: and they smote the hoste of the Philistims from Gibeon euen to Gezer.

17 And the fame of Dauid went out into all lands: and the Lord brought the feare of him vpon all nations.

Dauid prepareth an house for the Arke. 1. The number and order of the Levites. 2. The singers are chosen out among them. 3. They bring againe the Arke with ioseph. 4. Dauid dauncing before it, is despised of his wife Michol.

1 And Dauid made him houses in the cite of Dauid, and prepared a place for the Arke of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then Dauid said, None ought to carie the Arke of God, but the Leuites: for the Lord hath chosen them to beare the Arke of the Lord, and to minister vnto him for euer.

3 And Dauid gathered all Israel together to Ierusalem to bring vp the Arke of the Lord vnto his place, which he had ordeined for it.

4 And Dauid assembled the sonnes of Aaron, and the Leuites.

5 Of the sonnes of Kohath Vrieli the chief, and his brethren six score.

6 Of the sonnes of Merari, Asaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred and twentie.

7 Of the sonnes of Gershom, Ioel the chief, and his brethren an hundred and thirtie.

8 Of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Shemaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred.

9 Of the sonnes of Hebron, Eliel the chief, and his brethren fourescore.

10 Of the sonnes of Vzziel, Amminadab the chief, and his brethren an hundred and twelue.

11 And Dauid called Zadok and Abiathar the Priests, and of the Leuites, Vrieli, Asaiah and Ioel, Shemaiah, & Eliel, and Amminadab:

12 And he said vnto them, Ye are the chiefe fathers of the Leuites: sanctifie your selues, and your brethren, and bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

13 For because ye were not there at the first, the Lord our God made a breach among vs: for we fought him not after due order.

14 So the Priests and the Leuites sanctified them selues to bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel.

15 And the sonnes of the Leuites bare the Arke of God vpon their shoulders with the barres, as Moses had commanded, according to the word of the Lord.

16 And Dauid spake to the chiefe of the Leuites, wites, that they shoulde appoint certaine of their brethren to sing with instruments of musike, with viols and harpes, and cymbales, that they might make a sound, and lift vp their voyce with ioye.

17 So the Leuites appointed Heman the sonne of Ioel, and of his brethren Asaph the sonne of Berechiah, and of the sonnes of Merari their brethren, Ethan the sonne of Kuthiah, and of his brethren Benaiah, and Eliphele, and Mikneah, and Obed Edom, and Ieiel the porters.

18 And with them their brethren in the second degree, Zechariah, Ben, and Iaaziel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehiel, and Vnni, Eliab, and Benaiah, & Maaseiah, and Matithiah, and Eliphele, and Mikneah, and Obed Edom, and Ieiel the porters.

19 So Heman, Asaph and Ethan were fingers to make a sound with cymbales of brasce,

20 And Zechariah, and Aziel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehiel, and Vnni, and Eliab, and Benaiah, and Benaiah with viols on A-lamoth, 21 And Matithiah, and Eliphele, and Mikneah, and Obed Edom, and Ieiel, and Azaziah, with harpes vpon Sheminith le-nazzeah.

22 But Chenaniah the chiefe of the Leuites had the charge, bearing the burden in the charge, for he was able to instruct.

23 And Berechiah and Elkanah were porters for the Arke.

24 And Shemaniah and Iehoshaphat and Ne-thaneel and Amasai, and Zechariah, and Benaiah, and Eliezer the Priests did blowe with trumpets before the Arke of God, & Obed Edom and Ieijah were porters for the Arke.

25 So David and the Elders of Israel and the captaines of thousands went to bring vp the Arke of the covenant of the Lord from the house of Obed Edom with ioye.

26 And because that God helped the Leuites that bare the Arke of the covenant of the Lord, they offered seven bullockes and seven rams.

27 And David had on him a linen garment, as all the Leuites that bare the Arke, and the singers and Chenaniah that had the chiefe charge of the singers: and vpon David was a linen Ephod.

28 Thus all Israel brought vp the Arke of the Lords covenant with shouting and sounde of corner and with trumpets, & with cymbales, making a sound with viols and with harpes.

29 And when the Arke of the covenant of the Lord came into the cite of David, Michal the daughter of Saul looked out at a window, and saw King David dancing and playing, and she despised him in her heart.

CHAP. XVI

1 The Arke being placed, they offer sacrifices. 2 David ordeined Asaph and his brethren to minister before the Lord. 3 He appointeth a notable Psalm to be sung in praise of the Lord.

1 SO they brought in the Arke of God, and set it in the middes of the Tabernacle that David had pitched for it, and they offered burnt offerings & peace offerings before God.

And when David had made an end of offering the burnt offering and the peace offerings, he blessed the people in the Name of the Lord.

And he dealt to euerie one of Israel both man and woman, to euerie one a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a bottel of wine.

And he appointed certaine of the Leuites to minister before the Arke of the Lord, & to rehearse and to thanke and praise the Lord God of Israel.

Asaph the chiefe, and next to him Zechariah, Ieiel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehiel, & Matithiah, and Eliab, and Benaiah, and Obed Edom, euen Ieiel with instruments, viols and harpes, and Asaph to make a sound with cymbales,

And Benaiah and Iahaziel Priests, with trumpets continually before the Arke of covenant of God.

Then at that time David did appoint at the beginning to giue thanks to the Lord by the hand of Asaph and his brethren.

Praise the Lord and call vpon his Name: declare his workes among the people.

Sing vnto him, sing praise vnto him, and talke of all his wonderful workes.

Reioyce in his holie Name: let the hearts of them that seeke the Lord reioyce.

Seeke the Lord and his strength: seeke his face continually.

Remember his marueilous workes that he hath done, his wonders, and the iudgements of his mouth,

O seede of Israel his seruant, O the children of Iakob his chosen.

He is the Lord our God: his iudgements are throughout all the earth.

Remember his covenant for euer, and the worde, which he commaunded to a thousand generations:

Which he made with Abraham, and his othe to Izhak:

And hath confirmed it to Iakob for a Lawe, and to Israel for an euermlasting covenant, Saying, To thee will I giue the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.

When ye were fewe in number, yea, a verie fewe, and strangers therein,

And walked about from nation to nation, and from one kingdome to another people.

He suffred no man to do them wrong, but rebuked Kings for their sakes, saying,

Touch not mine anointed, and do my Prophets no harme.

Sing vnto the Lord al the earth: declare his saluation from day to day.

Declare his glorie among the nations, & his wonderful workes among all people.

For the Lord is great and much to be praised, and he is to be feared aboue all gods.

He called vpon the Name of God desiring him to prosper the people, and giue good successe to their labours.

To wit, Gods benefits towards his people.

David gave the this Psalm to praise the Lord, signifying that in all our interpretation the Name of God ought to be praised and called vpon.

Whereof this is the chiefe, that he hath chosen him for a Church to call vpon his Name.

25 And say ye, Saue vs, O God, our saluation, and glorie in thy praise.

26 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel forever and ever: and let all people say, So be it, and praise the Lord.

27 Then he left shane before the Arke of the Lords covenant, Asaph and his brethren to minister continually before the shabe, y which was to be done euerie day.

28 And Obad Edom and his brethren three

29 And Zadok the Priest, and his brethren the Priests were before the Tabernacle of upon the burnt offering altar continually, in the morning and in the evening, euen according vnto all that is written in the Law of the Lord, which he commanded Israel.

31 And with them were Heman, and Ieduthun, and the rest that were chosen (which were appointed by names) to praise the Lord because his mercie endureth for ever.

32 Euen with them were Heman, and Ieduthun, to make a found with the cornets and with the cymbales, with excellent instruments of musique: and the sonnes of Ieduthun were at the gate.

33 And all the people departed, euerie man to his house: and David returned to blesse his house.

34 And he said, Blessed be the name of the Lord God of Israel, who hath said for al other things, that he would preserve vnto God, and instruct our families to praise his Name.

35 David forbiddeth to build an house vnto the Lord, as Christ is promised vnder the figure of Salomon, as Da-uid himselfe saith, 23 And prayeth vnto God.

36 Now afterward when Dauid dwelt in his house, he said to Nathan the Prophet, Beholde, I dwell in an house of cedar trees, but the Arke of the Lords covenant remaineth vnder curtains.

37 Then Nathan said to Dauid, Do all that is in thine heart: for God is with thee.

38 And the same night came the word of God vnto Nathan, saying,

39 Go, and tell Dauid my seruants, Thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not build me an house to dwell in.

40 For I have dwelt in no holde, since the day that I thought out the childre of Israel:
vnto this day I have bene from tent to tent, and from habitation to habitation.

41 Wherefore I haue walked with all Israel, spake word vnto anie of the iudges of Israel (whom I commanded to feede my people) saying, Why haue ye not build me an house of cedar trees?

42 Now therefore thus shall thou say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, I took thee from the sheepe to be a shepherd, and thou hast followed the sheepe, what thou shouldest be a prince ouer my people Israel.

43 And I haue bene with thee, whiche soe-uer thou hast walked, and haue destroyed all thine enemies out of thy sight, and haue made thee as a name, like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

44 (Also I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and I will plant in that they may dwell in their place, and moue no more, neither shall the wicked people vex them anie more, as at the beginning.)

45 And since the time that I commanded iudges ouer my people Israel, and I will subdue all thine enemies: therefore I say vnto thee, that the Lord will build thee an house.

46 And when thy dayes shall be fulfilled to go with thy fathers, then will I raise vp thy seed after thee, which shall be thy sonne, and will stablish his kingdome.

47 He shall build me an house, and I will stablish his throne for euer.

48 I will be his father, & he shall be my sonne, and I will not take my mercie away from him, as I tooke it from him that was before thee.

49 But I will establish him in mine house, and in my kingdome for euer: and his throne shall be stablished for euer.

50 According to all these wordes, and according to all this vision, So Nathan spake vnto Dauid.

51 And Dauid the King went in and fate before the Lord & said, Who am I, O Lord God, & what is mine house, that thou hast brought me hitherto?

52 Yet thou seemest this a small thing, O
God, hast also spoken concerning the house of thy seruants for a great while, and hast regarded me according to the estate of a man of thie degree, O Lord God.

53 What can Dauid desire more of thee for the honour of thy seruants? for thou knowest thy seruant.

54 O Lord, for thy seruants sake, euen according to thine heart, hast thou done all

 20 Lorde, there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.
 21 Moreover what one nation in the earth is like thy people Israel; whose God went to redeeme them to be his people; and to make thy selfe a Name, and so do great and terrible things by casting out nations sit before thy people, whom thou hast delivered out of Egypt.
 22 For thou hast ordeined thy people Israel to be thine owne people for euer; and thou Lord art become their God.
 23 Therefore now Lorde, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant & concerning his house; be confirmed for euer, and do as thou hast sayd.
 24 And let thy Name be stable and magnified for euer; that it may be sayd, The Lorde of hostes, God of Israel, is the God of Israel, and let the house of Dauid thy seruant be established before thee.
 25 For thou, O my God, hast reucaled vnto the care of thy seruant, that thou wilt build him an house: therefore thy seruant hath bene bold to pray before thee.
 26 Therefore now Lorde (for thou art God) and hast spoken this goodnesse vnto thy seruant.
 27 Now therefore, it hath pleased thee to blesse the house of thy seruant, it may be before thee for euer; for thou, O Lorde, hast blessed it, and it shall be blessed for euer.

CHAP. XVII.

The battell of Dauid against the Philistines.
 1 And after this Dauid smote the Philistines, and subdued them; and rooke Gath, and the villages thereof out of the hand of the Philistines.
 2 And he smote Moab, and the Moabites became Dauid's seruantes, and brought gifts.
 3 And Dauid smote Hadarezer king of Zobah vnto Hamath, as he went to stablish his border by the riuer Perath.
 4 And Dauid tooke from him a thousand chariots, and seven thousand horsemen, and twentie thousand footmen; and destroyed all the chariots, but he reserued of them an hundred chariots.
 5 Then came the Aramites of Damascus to succour Hadarezer king of Zobah, but Dauid slew of the Aramites two & twentie thousand.
 6 And Dauid put a garrison in Aram of Damascus, and the Aramites became Dauid's seruantes, and brought gifts; and the Lord preferred Dauid wherefoeuer he went.
 7 And Dauid tooke the shield of gold that were of the seruantes of Hadarezer, and brought them to Ierusalem.
 8 And from Tibhath, and from Chinn (cities of Hadarezer) brought Dauid exceeding much brasse, wherewith Salom6 made the brasse Sea; & the pillars and the vessels of brasse.

 9 Then Tou king of Hamath heard howe Dauid had smitten all the hoste of Hadarezer king of Zobah.
 10 Therefore he sent Hadoram his sonne to king Dauid, to salute him, and to reioyce with him, because he had fought against Hadarezer, and beating him (for Tou had waite with Hadarezer) who brought all vessel of gold, and siluer, and brasse.
 11 And king Dauid did dedicate them vnto the Lord, with the siluer and golde that he brought from all the nations, from Edom, and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines, and from Amalek.
 12 And Abisai the sonne of Neriah smote of Edom in the salt valley eightent thousand.
 13 And he put a garrison in Edom; and all the Edomites became Dauid's seruantes; and the Lord preferred Dauid wherefoeuer he went.
 14 So Dauid reigned ouer all Israel, and executed iudgement and iustice to all his people.
 15 And Iosab the sonne of Zeruiah was ouer the house, and Iehoshaphat the sonne of Ahilud recorder.
 16 And Zadok the sonne of Ahitub, and Abimelech the sonne of Abiathar were the Priests, and Shaufa the Scribe.
 17 And Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada was ouer the Cherethites and the Pelethites; and the sonnes of Dauid were chiefe about the King.

CHAP. XIX.

 1 After this also Nahath the King of the children of Ammon died, & his sonne reigned in his stead.
 2 And Dauid sayd, I will shew kindnes vnto Hanun the sonne of Nahath, because his father shewed kindnes vnto me. And Dauid sent messengers to comfort him for his father. So the seruantes of Dauid came into the land of the children of Ammon to Hanun to comfort him.
 3 And the princes of the children of Ammon sayd to Hanun, Thinkest thou that Dauid doth honour thy father, that he hath sent comforters vnto thee? Are not his seruantes come to thee to search, to seeke and to spie out the land?
 4 Wherefore Hanun tooke Dauid's seruantes, and shaued them, & cut of their garmetes by the halfe vnto the buttockes, and sent them away.
 5 And there went certaine & told Dauid concerning the men: & he sent to meeete them (for the men were exceedingly anayed) & the King sayde, Tary at Iericho, vntill your beards be grown: then returne.
 6 When the children of Ammon sawe that they were shaued and bearded, they thus disfigured them to make them odious to others.

7 And they hyred them two and thirtie thousand chariots, & the King of Maachah and his people, which came and pitched before Medeba: and the children of Ammon gathered them selves together from their cities, and came to the battel.

8 And when Dauid heard, he sent Ioab & all the hoste of the valiant men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and set their battel in aray at the gate of the citie. And the Kings that were come, were by them selves in the field.

10 When Ioab sawe that the front of the battel was against him before and behinde, then he chose out of all the choise of Israel, and set him self in aray to meete the Aramites.

11 And the rest of the people he deliuered vnto the hand of Abihai his brother, and they put them selves in aray against the children of Ammon.

14 So Ioab & the people that was with him, came neere before the Aramites vnto the battel, and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon sawe that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abihai his brother, and entred into the citie: so Ioab came to Ierusalem.

16 And when the Aramites sawe that they were discomfited before Israel, they sent messengers and caused the Aramites to come forth that were beyonde the riuer: and Shophach the capitaine of the hoste of Hadarezer went before them.

17 And when it was shewed Dauid, he gathered all Israel, and went ouer Iordan, and came vnto them, and put him self in aray against them: And when Dauid had put him self in battel aray to meete the Aramites, they fought with him.

18 But the Aramites fled before Israel, and Dauid destroyed of the Aramites seven thousand chariots, & fortie thousand horsemen, and killed Shophach the capitaine of the hoste.

19 And when the seruants of Hadarezer saw that they fel before Israel, they made peace with Dauid, and serued him: And the Aramites would no more succour the children of Ammon.

CHAP. XX.

20 And when the Kings of the Philistines sawe that Dauid was victorious, they gathered them together to fight against him.

And when the yere was expired, in the time that Kings go out to warfare, Ioab caried out the strength of his armie, and destroyed the cuntry of the children of Ammon, and came and besieged Rabbah (but Dauid taried at Ierusalem) and Ioab smote Rabbah and destroyed it.

Then Dauid tooke the crowne of their King from of his head, and found if the weight of a talent of golde, with precious stones in it: and it was set on Dauid's head, and he brought away the spoyle of the citie exceeding much.

And he caried away the people that were in it, and cut them with sawes, and with harowes of yron, and with axes: euen thus did Dauid with all the cities of the children of Ammon. Then Dauid and all the people came againe to Ierusalem.

And after this also there arose warre at Gezer with the Philistines: then Sibbechai the Hushathite slewe Sippai, of the children of Haraphah, and they were subdued.

And there was yet another battel with the Philistines: and Elhanan the sonne of Iair slewe Lahmi, the brother of Goliath Gittite, whose speare staffe was like a weauers beame.

And yet againe there was a battel at Gath, where was a man of a great stature, and his fingers were by sixes, euen foure & twentie, and was also the sonne of Haraphah.

And when he reuiled Israel, Ichonathan the sonne of Shimea Dauids brother did slay him.

These were borne vnto Haraphah at Gath, and fell by the hand of Dauid: and by the hands of his seruants.

CHAP. XXI.

Dauid caught the people to be nombred, & hee founde four thousand men of the pefidence.

And Satan stode vp against Israel, & he tempted Dauid to number Israel.

Therefore Dauid said to Ioab, and to the rulers of the people, Go, and number Israel from Beër sheba euen to Dan; and bring it to me, that I may knowe the number of them.

And Ioab answered, The Lord increase his people an hundred times so manie as they be. O my lord the King: are they not all my lords seruants? wherefore doeth my lord require this thing? why should he be a cause of trespassse to Israel?

Neuertheles the Kings word preuailed against Ioab. And Ioab departed and went thorough all Israel, & returned to Ierusalem. And Ioab gaue the number and summe of the people vnto Dauid: and all Israel were counted: hundred thowse men that drew sword: and Iuda was foure hundred and seuentie thousand men, & drew sword.

And Ioab partly through negligence gathered not the whole summe: as it is here declared. In Samuel is mentioned of thistle thowse more: which was either by ioyning to them some of the Beniamites which were mixed with Iuda, or as the Ebrewe write, here the chiefe and princes are left out.

6 But the Leuites, and Beniamin counted he not among them: for the Kings worde was abominable to Iacob.
7 And God was displeased with this thing: therefore he smote Israel.
8 Then Dauid said vnto God, I haue sinned greatly, because I haue done this thing: but now, I beseech thee, remove the iniquitie of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.
9 And y Lord spake vnto Gad Dauids Seer, saying,
10 Go and tel Dauid, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I offer thee three things: chosse thee one of them, that I may do it vnto thee.
11 So Gad came to Dauid, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Take to thee
12 Either three yeres famine, or three moneths to be destroyed before thine aduersaries, and the sword of thine enemies* to take thee, or els the sword of the Lord and pestilence in the land three dayes, that the Angel of the Lord may destroye throughout all the coastes of Israel: now therefore aduise thee, what word I shall bring againe to him that sent me.
13 And Dauid said vnto Gad, I am in a wonderful strait, let me now fall into the hande of the Lord: for his mercies are exceeding great, and let me not fall into the hand of man.
14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, and there fell of Israel seuentie thousande men.
15 And God sent the Angel into Ierusalem to destroy it. And as hee was destroying, the Lord behelde, and repented of the euil and said to the Angel that destroyed, It is now ynough, let thine hand cease. Then the Angel of the Lord stood by the threshing floor of Ornans the Iebusite.
16 And Dauid lift vp his eyes, and sawe the Angel of the Lord stand betwene y earth and the heauen with his sword drawn in his hand, and stretched out toward Ierusalem. Then Dauid and the Elders of Israel, which were clothed in sacke, fel vpon their faces.
17 And Dauid said vnto God, Is it not I that commanded to number the people? It is euen I that haue sinned and haue committed euil, but these sheepe what haue they done? O Lord my God, I beseech thee, let thine hand be on me and on my fathers house, and not on y people for their destruction.
18 Then the Angel of the Lord commanded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid should go vp, and set vp an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floor of Ornans the Iebusite.
19 So Dauid went vp according to the saying of God, which he had spoken in the Name of the Lord.
20 And Ornans turned about, and sawe the Angel, and his foure sonnes that were with him, hid them selues, and Ornans threshed wheat.
21 And as Dauid came to Ornans, Ornans looked and sawe Dauid and went out of the threshing floor, and bowed him selfe to Dauid with his face to the ground.

22 And Dauid said to Ornans, Giue me the place of thy threshing floor, that I maye builde an altar therein vnto the Lord: giue it me for sufficient money, that the plague may be stayed from the people.
23 Then Ornans said vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, & let my lord the King do that which seemeth him good: lo, I giue thee bullocks for burnt offerings, and threshing instruments for wood, & wheat for meat offering, I giue it all.
24 And King Dauid said to Ornans, Not so: but I will buye it for sufficient money: for I wil not take that which is thine for y Lord, nor offer burnt offings without cost.
25 So Dauid gaue to Ornans for that place six hundred shekels of golde by weight.
26 And Dauid built there an altar vnto the Lord, and offered burnt offerings, and peace offerings, and called vpon the Lord, and he answered him by fire from heauen vpon the altar of burnt offering.
27 And when the Lord had spoken to the Angel, he put vp his sword againe into his sheath.
28 At that time when Dauid sawe that the Lord had heard him in y threshing floor of Ornans the Iebusite, then he sacrificed there.
29 (But the Tabernacle of the Lord which Moses had made in the wilderness, and the altar of burnt offering were at that season in the hie place at Gibeon.)
30 And Dauid could not go before it to aske counsel at God: for he was afraide of the sword of the Angel of the Lord)

CHAP. XXII.

Dauid prepareth things necessary for the building of the Temple. He commended his sonne Salomon to build the Temple of the Lord, which thing he him selfe was forbidden to do. Under the figure of Salomon Christ is promised.

1 And Dauid said, This is the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for the burnt offering of Israel.
2 And Dauid commanded to gather together the strangers that were in the lande of Israel, and he set masons to hewe and polish stones to builde the house of God.
3 Dauid also prepared much yron for the nailes of the doores and of the gates, and for the ioyning, and abundance of brasse passing weight.
4 And cedar trees without number: for the Zidonians & they of Tyrus brought much cedar wood to Dauid.
5 And Dauid saide, Salomon my sonne is young and tender, & we must build an house for the Lord, magnifical, excellent and of great fame & dignitie throughout all countreys. I will therefore now prepare for him. So Dauid prepared verie much before his death.
6 Then he called Salomon his sonne, and charged him to builde an house for the Lord

7 And David said to Salomon, * My sonne, I purposed with my selfe to builde an house to the Name of the Lord my God,

8 But the worde of the Lord came to me, saying, * Thou hast shed much blood, and hast made great battels: thou shalt not builde an house vnto my Name: for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my sight.

9 Beholde, a sonne is borne to thee, which shalbe a man of rest, for I will giue him rest from all his enemies round about: therefore his name is Salomon: and I will send peace & quietnes vpon Israel in his daies.

10 * He shall builde an house for my Name, and he shall be my sonne, and I will be his father, and I will establish the throne of his kingdome vpon Israel for euer.

11 Now therefore my sonne, the Lord shalbe with thee, and thou shalt prosper, & thou shalt builde an house to the Lord thy God, as he hath spoken of thee.

12 Onely the Lord giue thee wisdom and vnderstanding, and giue thee charge ouer Israel, euen to keepe the Lawe of the Lord thy God.

13 Then thou shalt prosper, if thou take heed to obserue the statutes and the iudgements which the Lord commanded Moses for Israel: be strong and of good courage: feare not, neither be afraide.

14 For beholde, according to my pouertie haue I prepared for the house of the Lord an hundredth thousand talents of golde, & a thousand thousand talents of siluer, and of brasie and of yron passing weight: for there was abundance: I haue also prepared timber and stone, and thou mayest prouide more thereto.

15 Moreover thou hast workemen with thee enough, hewers of stone, and workemen for timber, and all men expert in euerie worke.

16 Of golde, of siluer, and of brasie, and of yron there is no number: Vp therefore, and be doing, and the Lord wilbe with thee.

17 David also commanded all the princes of Israel to helpe Salomon his sonne, saying,

18 Is not the Lord your God with you, and hath giuen you rest on euerie side? for he hath giuen the inhabitants of the land into mine hand, and the land is subdued before the Lord and before his people.

19 Now set your hearts and your soules to seeke the Lord your God, and arise, and builde the Sanctuary of the Lord God to bring the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, and the holy vessels of God into the house buik for the Name of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

David being olde, ordeineth Salomon King. 3 He causeth the Leuites to be numbered. 4 And assigneth them to their offices. 12 Aaron and his sonnes are for the high Priest. 14 The sonnes of Moses.

1 So when David was old and ful of daies, he made Salomon his sonne King ouer Israel.

2 And he gathered together all the princes of Israel with the Priests and the Leuites.

3 And the Leuites were nombred from the age of thirtie yere and aboue, and their number according to their summe was eight and thirtie thousand men.

4 Of these foure and twentie thousand were set to aduance the worke of the house of the Lord, and six thousand were ouerscers and iudges.

5 And foure thousand were porters, & foure thousand praised the Lord with instrumets which he made to praise the Lord.

6 * So David deuided offices vnto them, so wis, to the sonnes of Leui, to * Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

7 Of the Gershonites were * Laadan and Shimei.

8 The sonnes of Laadan, the chiefe was Ichiel, and Zetham and Ioel, three.

9 The sonnes of Shimei, Shelomith, & Haziel, and Haram, three: these were the chief fathers of Laadan.

10 Also the sonnes of Shimei were Iahath, Zina, Ieush, and Beriah: these foure were the sonnes of Shimei.

11 And Iahath was the chiefe, and Zizah the seconde, but Ieush and Beriah had not manie sonnes: therefore they were in the families of their father, counted but as one.

12 ¶ The sonnes of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron and Vzziel, foure.

13 * The sonnes of Amram, Aaron and Moses: and Aaron was separated to sanctifie the most holie place, he and his sonnes for euer to burne incense before the Lord, to minister to him, and to blesse in his Name for euer.

14 ¶ Moses also the man of God, & his children were named with the tribe of Leui.

15 The sonnes of Moses were Gershon, and Eliezer,

16 Of the sonnes of * Gershon was Shebuel the chiefe.

17 And the sonne of Eliezer was Rehabiah the chiefe: for Eliezer had none other sonnes: but the sonnes of Rehabiah were verie manie.

18 The sonne of Izhar was Shelomith the chiefe.

19 The sonnes of Hebron were Ieriah the first, Amariah the second, Iahaziel & third, and Iekmiam the fourth.

20 The sonnes of Vzziel were Michah the first, and Isshiah the second.

21 ¶ The sonnes of Merari were Mahli and Musi. The sonnes of Mahli, Eleazar and Kish.

22 And Eleazar dyed, and had no sonnes, but daughters, and their brethren the sonnes of Kish took them.

23 The sonnes of Musi were Mahli, & Eder, and Ierimoth, three.

27 Therefore according to the last words of Dauid, the Leuites were nombred from twentie yere and aboue,

28 And their office was vnder the hand of the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of 7 house

Dauid assigneth offices vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

1 These are also the diuisions of 7 sonnes of Aaron, The sonnes of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the Priests office.

3 And Dauid distributed them, euen Zadok of the sonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sonnes of Ithamar according to their offices in their ministracion.

4 And there were found mo of the sonnes of Eleazar by the number of men, then of the sonnes of Ithamar: and they deuided them, so wit, among the sonnes of Eleazar, sixtene heads, according to the houtholde of their fathers, and among the sonnes of Ithamar, according to the houtholde of their fathers, eight.

5 Thus they distributed them by lot the one from the other, and so the rulers of 7 San-19 These were their orders according to their offices, when they entred into the house of the Lord according to their cus-

¶ Because Dauid was forbidden to build the Temple, he wil- leth Salomon and the people to performe it. & Exhorting him to feare the Lord.

1 NOW Dauid assembled all the princes of Israel: the princes of the tribes, and the captaines of the bands that serued the King, and the captaines of thousandes & the captaines of hundredths, and the rulers of all the substance and possession of the King, & of his sonnes, with the eunuchs, and the mightie, and all the men of power, vnto Ierusalem.

2 And King Dauid stood vp vpon his feete, and said, Heate ye me, my brethren and my people: I purposed to haue built an house of rest for the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, & for a footstool of our God, & haue made ready for the building.

3 But God sayde vnto me, ¶ Thou shalt not build an house for my Name, because thou hast bene a man of warre, & hast shed blood.

4 Yet ¶ the Lorde God of Israel chose me before all the house of my father, to be King over Israel for euer (for in Iudah would he chuse a prince, and of the house of ¶ Iudah is the house of my father, and among the sonnes of my father he delited in me to make me King over all Israel).

5 So of all my sonnes, (for the Lorde hath giuen me many sonnes) he hath euen chosen Salomon my sonne to sit vpon y throne of the kingdome of the Lord our God.

6 And he said vnto me, Salomon thy sonne, he shall build mine house, and my courtes for I haue chosen him to be my sonne, and I will be his father.

7 I will stablish therefore his kingdome for euer, if he indetoune himselfe to doe my commandements, and my iudgements, as ¶ this day.

8 Now therefore in the sight of all Israel, the Congregation of the Lord, and in the audience of our God, keepe and seeke for al the commandementes of the Lord your God, that ye may possesse this good land, & leaue it for an inheritance for your children after you for euer.

9 And thou, Salomon my sonne, know thou that thou shalt serue him with a perfit heart, and with a willing mynde: ¶ For the Lord searcheth all hearts, and vn- derstandeth al the imaginatiō of thoughts: if thou seeke him, he will be found of thee: but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for euer.

10 Take heed now, for the Lord hath chosen thee to build the house of the Sanctuary: be strong therefore, and do it.

11 ¶ Then Dauid gaue to Salomon his sonne the patern of the porche and of the houses thereof, and of the closets thereof, & of the galleries thereof, and of the chambers thereof that are within, and of the house of the mercieseat:

CHAP. XXIX.
The offering of David and of the princes for the building of the Temple. 1. David giueth thanks to the Lord. 2. He exhorteth the people to doe the same. 3. Salomon is blessed. 4. David dyeth, and Salomon his sonne reigneth in his stead.

1 Moreover David the King sayd vnto al
the Congregation, God hath chosen Salomon mine onely sonne yong and tender, and the worke is great for this house: is not for man, but for the Lord God.

2 Nowe I haue prepared with all my power for the house of my God, gold for vessels of gold, and silver for shew of silver, and brasie for shew of brasie, yron for shew of yron, & wood for shew of wood, and onix stones, & stones to be set, and carbuncle stones: & of diuers colours, and al precious stones, and marble stones in abundance.

3 Moreover, because I haue delighted in the house of my God; I haue of mine own gold and silver, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the house of the Sanctuary,

4 Euen three thousand talentes of golde of the gold of Ophir, and seven thousand talentis of fined silver to overlay the walles of the houses.

5 The golde for the shew of golde, and the silver for shew of silver, & for al the worke by the hands of artificers: who is willing to fit his hand to day vnto the Lord?

6 So the princes of the families, & the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the captaines of thousands and of hundreds, with the rulers of the Kings worke, offered willingly,

7 And they gaue for the seruice of the house of God six thousand talentes of golde, and ten thousand pieces, and ten thousand talentis of silver, and eightene thousand talentis of brasie, and one hundred thousand talentis of yron.

8 And they with whom precious stones were found, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lord, by the hand of Iehiel the Gerthunite.

9 And the people reioyced when they offered willingly: for they offered willingly vnto the Lord, with a perfite heart. And David the King also reioyced with great ioye.

10 Therefore David blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, and David said, Blef-sed be thou, O Lord God, of Israel our father, for euer and euer.
11 Thine, O Lord, is greatnes and power, & glorie, and victorie and praise: for all that is in heauen and in earth is thine: thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou excellest as head ouer all.

12 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest ouer all, and in thine hand is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make great, and to giue strength vnto al.
13 Now therefore our God, we thanke thee, and praise thy glorious Name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we shoulde be able to offer willingly after this sort? for all things come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue giuen thee:
15 For we are strangers before thee, and sojourners; like all our fathers: our dayes are like the shadowe vpon the earth, and there is none abiding.

16 O Lord our God, all this abundance that we haue prepared to buyld thee an house for thine holie Name, is of thine hand and all is thine.

17 I know also, my God, that thou triest the heart, and hast pleasure in righteousness: I haue offered willingly in the vprightnes of mine heart all these things: now also haue I scene thy people which are found here, to offer vnto thee willingly with ioye.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Izhak and Ifrael our fathers, keepe this for euer in y<sup>e</sup> purpose, and the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts vnto thee.
19 And giue vnto Salomon my sonne a perfite heart to keepe thy commandements, thy testimonies, and thy statutes, and to do all things, and to buyld the house which I haue prepared.

20 And David said to all the Congregation, Now blefse the Lord your God. And all the Congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, & bowed downe their heads, and worshipped the Lord and the King.

21 And they offered sacrifices vnto the Lord, and on the morowe after that daye, they offred burnt offerings vnto the Lord, euen rammes, and a thousand sheepe, with their drinke offerings, & sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.

21 And they did eat & drinke before y<sup>e</sup> Lorde the same day with great ioy, and they made Salomon the sonne of Dauid King y<sup>e</sup> second tyme, and anointed him prince before the Lorde, and Zadok for the hie Priest.

22 So Salomon sat on the throne of the Lorde, as King in steade of Dauid his father, and prospered: and all Israel obeyed him.

23 And all the princes and men of power, & all the sonnes of King Dauid submitted the selues vnder King Salomon.

24 And the Lord magnified Salomon in dignitie, in the fight of all Israel, and gaue him so glorious a kingdome, as no King had before him in Israel.

25 Thus Dauid the sonne of Israhel reigned ouer all Israhel.

26 And the space that he reigned ouer Israhel, was fouertye yere: seuen yere reigned he in Hebron, and thre and thirtie yere reigned he in Ierusalem:

27 And he dyed in a good age, full of dayes, riches and honour, and Salomon his sonne reigned in his stead.

28 Concerning the actes of Dauid the King, first and last behold, they are written in the booke of Samuel the Seer, and in the booke of Nathan the Prophet, and in the booke of Gad the Seer.

29 With all his reigne & his power, & times that went ouer him, and ouer Israhel & ouer all the kingdomes of the earth.

The booke of Nathan and Gad are thought to haue bin lost in the captiuitie p Meaning, the troubles and grieues.

THE SECOND BOOKE

of the Chronicles.

THE ARGUMENT

This second booke containeth briefly in effect that which is comprehended in the two booke of the Kings: that is, from the reigne of Salomon to the destruction of Ierusalem, & the carrying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this story are certaine things declared & set forth more capiously, then in the booke of the Kings, & therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophets. But three things are here chiefly to be considered. First, shew the godly Kings, when they sawe the plagues of God prepared against their countrey for sinne, had recourse to the Lord, & by earnest prayer were heard, & the plagues removed. The second, how is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that such as feare him and professe his religion, should ioyne in amitie with the wicked. And thirdly, how the good rulers ever loued the Prophets of God, and were very zealous to set forth his religion throughout all their dominions, & contrariwise the wicked hated his ministers, deposed them, and for the true religion and word of God, set up idolatry, and serued God according to the fantasie of men. Thus haue we historie in the chiefe actes from the beginning of the world to the building againe of Ierusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yere of Darius, and cōsumme in the whole, three thousand foure hundred foure score and eight yeres, and six monethes.

CHAP. I.

1 The offering of Salomon at Gibeon. 2 He prayeth vnto God to giue him wisdome: 3 Which he giueth him and more. 4 The number of his chariots & horses. 5 And of his riches.

Then Salom<sup>o</sup> the sonne of Dauid was cōfirmed in his kingdome: & the Lord his God was with him, & magnified him highly.

And Salomon spake vnto all Israhel, to the captaines of thousands, and of hundredes and to the iudges, and to all the gouernours in all Israhel, euen the chiefe fathers.

3 So Salomon & all the Congregation with him went to the hie place that was at Gibeon: for there was the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation of God which Moses the seruant of the Lord had made in y<sup>e</sup> wilderness.

4 But the Arke of God had Dauid brought vp from Kiriath-iearim, when Dauid had made preparation for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Ierusalem.

5 Moreouer the brassen altar that Bezalel y<sup>e</sup> sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle, of the Lord: and Salomon and the Congregation sought it.

6 And Salomon offred there before the Lord vpon the brassen altar that was in y<sup>e</sup> Tabernacle of the Congregation: euen a thousand burnt offerings offred he vpon it.

7 The same night did God appeare vnto Salomon, and sayd vnto him, Aske what I shall giue thee.

8 And Salomon sayd vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercy vnto Dauid my father and hast made me to reigne in his stead.

9 Now therefore, O Lord God, let thy promises vnto Dauid my father be true: for thou hast made me King ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

10 Giue me now wisdome & knowledge, that I may go out and go in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

11 And God said to Salomon, Because this was in thine heart, and thou hast not asked riches, treasures nor honour, nor y<sup>e</sup> shew of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long lyfe, but hast asked for thee wisdome and knowledge y<sup>e</sup> thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whom I haue made thee King,

13 Then Salomon came from the hie place, and reigned ouer Israel.

14 * And Salomon gathered the charets and horsemen: and he had a thousand & foure hundred charets, and twelue thousand horsemen, whom he placed in the charet cities, and with the King at Ierusalem.

15 And the King gaue siluer and gold at Ie-

16 Also Salomon had horses brought out of Egypt: * fine linen: the Kings marchants receiued the fine linen for a price.

17 They came vp also and brought out of E-fiftie: and thus they brought horses to all the Kings of the Hittites, and to the Kings of A-

CHAP. II.

The number of Salomons workemen to build the Temple.
Salomon sendeth to Hiram the King of Tyrus for wood and workemen.

1 Then Salomon determined to builde an house for the Name of the Lord, and an house for his kingdome.

2 And Salomon told our seuentie thousand that bare burdens, and foure score thousand men to hewe stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and six hundred to ouersee them.

And Salomon sent to * Hiram the King of Tyrus, saying, As thou hast done to Dauid my father, and didst send him cedar trees to build him an house to dwell in, so do to me.

Beholde, I build an house vnto the Name of the Lord my God, to sanctifie it vnto him, and to burne sweete incense before him, and for the continuall shewbread, and for the burnt offerings of the morning and evening, on the Sabbath dayes, and in the new moneths, and in the solemne feastes of the Lord our God: this is a perpetuall thing for Israel.

And the house which I buyld, is great: for great is our God above all gods.

Who is he then that can be able to buyld him an house, when the heauen, & the heauen of heauens cannot containe him? who am I then that I should build him an house?
but I do it to burne incense before him.

Send me now therefore a cunning man that can worke in gold, in siluer, & in brasse, and in yron, and in purple, and in crimosin and blew silke, and that can graue in graue work with the cunning men that are with me in Iudah and in Ierusalem, whome Dauid my father hath prepared.

Send me also cedar trees, firre trees and Algummim trees from Lebanon: for I know that thy seruants can skil to hew timber in Lebanon: and behold, my seruantes shall be with thee,

That they may prepare me timber in abundance: for the house which I do builde, is great and wonderfull.

And behold, I will giue to thy seruantes the cutters and the hewers of timber twen-tie thousand, and measures of beaten wheate, and twentie thousand measures of barley, and twenty thousand baths of wine, and twentie thousand baths of oyle.

Then Hiram King of Tyrus answered in writing which he sent to Salomon, Because the Lord hath loued his people, he hath made thee King ouer them.

Hiram said moreouer, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel which made the heauen and the earth, and that hath giuen vnto Dauid the King a wise sonne, that hath discretion, prudence and vnderstanding to builde an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdome.

Now therefore I haue sent a wise man, and of vnderstanding of my father Hiram,

The sonne of a woman of the daughters of Dan: & his father was a man of Tyrus, he can skil to worke in golde, in siluer, in brasse, in yron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blew silke, and in fine linen & in crimosin, and can graue in al graue works, and broyder in all broydered worke that shall be giuen him, with thy cunning men, & with the cunning men of my lord Dauid thy father.

Now therefore the wheate and the barley, the oyle and the wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send vnto his seruantes.

And we wil cut wood in Lebanon as much as thou shalt neede, and wil bring it to thee in rafes by the sea to Iapho, so thou maiest carry them to Ierusalem.

And Salomon nombred all the straun-gers that were in the lande of Israel, after the nombing that his father Dauid had nombred them: & they were found an hundred and three and fiftie thousand, & six hundred.

And he set seuentie thousand of them to burde, & fourescore thousand to hew stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and six hundred ouerseeers to cause the people to worke.

CHAP. III.

The Temple of the Lord, and the porche are builded, with other things thereto belonging.

Salomon began to buyld the house of the Lord in Ierusalem, in mount Moriah which had bene declared vnto Dauid his father, in the place that Dauid prepared in the threshing floore of Ornan the Ie-busite.

And he began to build in the second mo-neth & the second day, in the fourth yeere of his reigne.

And these are the measures, wherewith Salomon grounded to build the house of God: the the length of cubites after the first measure was threescore cubites, & the breadth twentie cubites:

And the porch, that was before the length in the fronte of the breadth was twentie cubites, & the height was an hundred and twentie, and he overlaid it within with pure gold.

And the greater house he sieled with firre trees, which he overlaid with good golde, & graued thereon palmertrees and chaines.

And he overlaid the house with precious stone for beautie: and the gold was gold of Parusim.

The house, I say, the beames, postes, and walles thereof & the doores thereof overlaid he with golde, and graued Cherubims vpon the walles.

He made also the house of the most holy place: the length thereof was in the front of the breadth of the house, twentie cubites, and the breadth thereof twentie cubites: and he overlaid it with the best golde, of six hundred talents.

And the weight of nayles was fiftie shekels of gold, and he overlaid the chambers with gold.

And in the house of the most holy place he made two Cherubims wrought like children, and overlaid them with gold.

And the wings of the Cherubims were twentie cubites long: the one wing was five cubites, reaching to y wall of the house, & the other wing five cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

Likewise the wing of the other Cherub was five cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubites ioyning to the wing of the other Cherub.

The wings of these Cherubims were spread abroad twentie cubites: they stood on their feete and their faces were toward the house.

He made also the vayle of blew silk & purple, and crimson, and fine linen, and wrought Cherubims thereon.

And he made before the house two pillars of fine and thirte cubites hie: & the chapter that was vpon the toppe of each of them, was five cubites.

He made also chaines for the oracle, and put them on the heades of the pillars, and made an hundred pomegranates, & put them among the chaines.

And he set vp the pillars before the Temple, one on the right hand & the other on the left, and called that on the right hand Iachin, and that on the left hand Boaz.

And he made also the pillars of brass, and the chapiters of brass.

And he made also the pillars of brass, and the chapiters of brass.

And he made an altar of brass, twenty cubites long, & twentie cubites broad, and ten cubites hie.

And he made a molten Sea of ten cubites from brim to brim, round in compasse, and five cubites hie: and a line of thirte cubites did compasse it about.

And vnder it was the facion of oxen, which did compasse it round about, ten in a cubite compassing the Sea: about two rowes of oxen were cast when it was molten.

It stood vpon twelue oxen: three looked toward the North, and three looked toward y West, & three looked toward the South, and three looked toward the East, and the Sea stood about vpon them, & al their hinder partes were inward.

And the thickentes thereof was an hand breadth, and the brim thereof was like the worke of the brim of a cup, with floures of lilies: it conteyned three thousand baths.

He made also ten caldrons, and put five on the right had, & five on the left, to wash in them: & to cleanse in them that which appertained to the burnt offerings: but the Sea was for the Priests to wash in.

And he made ten candlestickes of gold (according to their forme) and put them in the Temple, five on the right hande, and five on the left.

And he made ten tables, and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, & five on the left: and he made an hundred basens of gold.

And he made the court of the Priests, and the great court and doores for the court, & overlaid the doores thereof with brasie.

And he let the Sea on the right side Eastward toward the South.

And Hiram made pottes and besomes & basens, and Hiram finished the worke that he should make for King Salomon for the house of God,

Two pillars, and the bowles and the chapters on the toppe of the two pillars, and two grates to couer the two bowles of the chapters, which were vpon the top of the pillars:

And four hundred pomegranates for y two grates, two rowes of pomegranates for euery grate to couer the two bowles of the chapters, that were vpon the pillars.

He made also basens, and made caldrons vpon the basens:

And a Sea, and twelue bulles vnder it:

Pottes also and besomes, and fleshhookes, and all these vessels made Hiram his father, to King Salomon for the house of the Lord of shining brasie.

In the playne of Iorden did the King cast them in clay betwene Succoth and Zeredathah.

And Salomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brasie could not be reckoned.

And Salomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God: the golden altar also and the tables, wheron the shewbread stood.

Moreover the candlestickes, with their lampes to burne them after the maner, before the oracle, of pure gold.

And the floures and the lampes, and the snuffers of gold, which was fine gold.

1 SO was all the worke finished that Salomon made for the house of the Lorde, and Salomon brought in the things that David his father had dedicated, with the silver and the golde, and all the vessels, and put them among the treasures of the house of God.

2 Then Salomon assembled the Elders of Israel, and all the heades of the tribes, the chief fathers of the children of Israel vnto Ierusalem to bring vp the Arke of the covenant of the Lord from the citie of David, which is Zion.

1 THEN Salomon sayd, The Lorde hath sayd that he would dwell in the darke cloude:

2 And I haue buylt thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to dwell in for euer.

3 And the King turned his face, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel (for all the Congregation of Israel stood there)

4 And he sayd, Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel, who spake with his mouth vnto David my father, and hath with his hande fulfilled it, saying,

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the lande of Egypt, I chose no citie of all the tribes of Israel to builde an house, that my Name might bee there, neither chose I any man to be a ruler ouer my people Israel;

6 But I haue chosen Ierusalem, & my Name might be there, and haue chosen David to be ouer my people Israel.

7 And it was in the heart of David my father to build an house vnto the Name of the Lord God of Israel;

8 But the Lorde sayd to David my father, Where as it was in thine heart to buylde an house vnto my Name, thou didest well, that thou wast so mynded.

9 Notwithstanding thou shalt not build the house, but thy sonne which shall come out of thy loynes, he shall builde an house vnto my Name.

10 And the Lord hath performed his worde that he spake: & I am risen vp in the throue of David my father, & am set on the throne of Israel as the Lord promised, & haue built an house to the Name of the Lorde God of Israel.

11 And I haue set the Arke there, wherein is the couenant of the Lord, that he made with the children of Israel.

14. And said, O Lord God of Israel, * there is no God like thee in heauen nor in earth, which keepest couenant, and mercie vnto thy seruants, that walke before thee with all their heart.

15. Thou that hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine hande, as appeareth this day.

16. Therefore now Lord God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou shalt not want a man in my fight, that shall sit vpon the throne of Israel: so that thy sonnes take heede to their wayes, to walke in my Lawe, as thou hast walked before me.

17. And nowe, O Lord God of Israel, let thy worde be verified, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid.

18. (Is it true in deed y God will dwell with man on earth beholde, the * heauens, and y heauens of heauens are not able to containe thee: how much more vnable is this house, which I haue built:)

19. But haue thou respect to the prayer of thy seruant, & to his supplication, O Lord my God, to heare the crye & prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee,

20. That thine eyes may be open toward this house daye and night, euen toward y place, whereof thou hast sayd, that thou wouldest put thy Name there, that thou mayst hearken vnto the prayer, which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

21. Heare thou therefore the supplication of thy seruant, and of thy people Israel, which they praye in this place: and heare thou in the place of thine habitation, euen in heauen, and when thou hearest, be mercifull.

22. ¶ When a man shall sinne against his neighbour, and he lay vpon him an othe to cause him to sweare, and the swearer shall come before thine altar in this house,

23. Then heare thou in heauen, and doe, and iudge thy seruants, in recompensing y wicked to bring his waye vpon his head, and in iustifying the righteous, to giue him according to his righteousness.

24. ¶ And when thy people Israel shalbe ouerthrowen before the enemye, because they haue sinned against thee, and turne againe, and confesse thy Name, and pray, & make supplication before thee in this house,

25. Then heare thou in heauen, and be mercifull vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, & bring them againe vnto the lande which thou gauest to them and to their fathers.

26. When heauen shalbe shut vp, and there shalbe no rayne, because they haue sinned against thee, and shal pray in this place, and confesse thy Name, and turne from their sinne, when thou dost afflict them,

27. Then heare thou in heauen, and pardon the sinne of thy seruantes, and of thy people Israel (when thou hast taught them the good way wherein they may walke) & giue raine vpon thy land, which thou hast giuen vnto thy people for an inheritance.

28. ¶ When there shall be famine in the land, Chap. 30. 9. when there shalbe pestilence, blasting, or mildewe, when there shalbe grasshopper, or caterpillar, when their enemy shall besiege the cities of their land, or any plague, or any sickness,

29. Then what prayer and supplication so euer shalbe made of any man, or of all thy people Israel, when every one shall knowe his owne plague, and his owne disease, and shal stretch forth his hands toward this house,

30. Heare thou then in heauen, thy dwelling place, and be mercifull, and giue euery man according vnto al his wayes, as thou dost know his heart (for thou onely knowest the hearts of the children of men)

31. That they may feare thee, and walke in thy wayes as long as they liue in the lande which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

32. ¶ Moreouer, as touching the stranger which is not of thy people Israel, who shall come out of a farre country for thy great Names sake, & thy mighty hand, and thy stretched out arme: when they shall come and pray in this house,

33. Heare thou in heauen thy dwelling place, and do according to all that the stranger callet for vnto thee, that all the people of the earth may know thy Name, and feare thee like thy people Israel, and y they may know, that thy Name is called vpon in this house which I haue built.

34. ¶ When thy people shal goe out to battell against their enemies, by y way that thou shalt send them, and they pray to thee, in the way toward this citie, which thou hast chosen, euen toward y house which I haue built to thy Name,

35. Then heare thou in heauen their prayer and their supplication, and iudge their cause.

36. If they sinne against thee (*for there is no man that sinneth not) and thou be angry with them and deliuer them vnto the enemies, and they take them & cary them away captiue vnto a land farre or neere,

37. If they turne againe to their heart in the lande whither they be caried in captiues, and turne & pray vnto thee in the lande of their captiuitie, saying, We haue sinned, we haue transgressed and haue done wickedly,

38. If they turne againe to thee with al their heart, and with all their soule in the lande of their captiuitie, whither they haue caried them captiues, and pray toward their land, which thou gauest vnto their fathers, & toward the citie which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I haue buylt for thy Name,

39. Then heare thou in heauen, in the place of thine habitation their prayer and their supplication, and iudge their cause, & be mercifull vnto thy people, which haue sinned against thee.

CHAP. VII.

1 The fire consumeth the sacrifices. 2 The glorie of the Lorde filleth the Temple. 12 He heareth his prayer, 17 And promiseth to exalt him and his throne.

1 ANd when Salomon had made an ende of praying, fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering & the sacrifices: and the glory of the Lorde filled the house;

2 So that the Priestes could not enter into the house of the Lord, because the glory of the Lord had filled the Lorges house.

3 And when all the children of Israel saw y<sup>e</sup> fire, and the glory of the Lord come down vpon the house, they bowed themselves wth their faces to the earth vpon the pauement, and worshipped and praised the Lord, saying, For he is good, because his mercy lasteth for euer.

4 * Then the King and all the people offered sacrifices before the Lord.

5 And King Salomon offered a sacrifice of two and twentie thousand bullocks, and an hundredth and twentie thousand sheepe. so the King and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the Priestes waited on their offices, & the Leuites with the instrumentes of musike of the Lorde, which King Dauid had made to praise the Lord, Because his mercie lasteth for euer: wher Dauid praised God by them, the Priestes also blew trumpets ouer against them: and all they of Israel stoode by.

7 Moreover Salomon halowed the middle of the court that was before the house of y<sup>e</sup> Lord: for there he had prepared burnt of-frings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the brasen altar which Salomon had made, was not able to receiue y<sup>e</sup> burnt offering, and the meat offering, and the fat.

8 And Salomon made<sup>b</sup> a feast at that tyme of seven dayes, & all Israel with him, a very great Congregation, from the entring in of Hamath, vnto the riuer of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they<sup>c</sup> made a solemne assemble: for they had made y<sup>e</sup> dedication of the altar seven dayes, and the feast seven dayes.

10 And the<sup>d</sup> three and twentieth day of the seuenth moeth, he sent the people away into their tentes, joyous & with glad heart, because of the goodnes that the Lorde had done for Dauid and for Salomon, and for Israel his people.

11 * So Salomon finished the house of the Lorde, and the Kinges house, and all that came into Salomons heart to make in the house of the Lord: and he prospered in his house.

12 ¶ And the Lorde<sup>e</sup> appeared to Salomon by night and sayd to him, I haue heard thy prayer, and haue chosen this place for my selfe to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut the heauē that there be no raine, or if I command the grasshopper to deuour the land, or if I send pestilence among my people,

14 If my people, among whom my Name is called vpon, do humble themselves, & pray, and seeke my preface, & turne from their wicked wayes, then will I heare in heauen, and be mercifull to their sinne, & wil<sup>f</sup> heale their land:

15 Then mine eyes shall be open and mine
eares attē vnto y<sup>e</sup> prayer made in this place.

16 For I haue now chosen and sanctified this house, that my Name may be there for e-uer: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Dauid thy father walked, to do according vnto all that I haue commaunded thee, & shalt ob-serue my statutes and my iudgements:

18 Then wil I stablish the throne of thy kingdome, according as I made the couenaunt with Dauid thy father, saying, * Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if ye turne away, and forsake my statutes and my commaundementes which I haue set before you, and shall go and serue other gods, and worship them,

20 Then wil I pluck them vp out of my land, f which I haue giuen them, and this house which I haue sanctified for my Name, wil
I cast out of my sight, and will make it to be a prouerbe and a common talke among all people.

21 And this house which is most hie, shall be an astonishment to euery one that passeth by it, so that he shal say, Why hath the Lord done thus to this land, and to this house?

22 And they shall answer, Because they forsooke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and haue taken holde on other gods, and haue worshipped them, and serued the, therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

7 And all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and Perizites, and the Hivites, & the Jebusites, which were not of Israel,

8 But of their children which were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel had not consumed, eue them did Salomon make tributaries vntil this day.

9 But of the children of Israel did Salomon make no seruantes for his worke: for they were men of warre, and his chiefe princes, and the captaines of his charers and of his horsemen.

10 So there were the chiefe of the officers which Salomon had, euen two hundred and fifty that bare rule ouer the people.

11 Then Salomō brought vp the daughter of Pharaoh out of the cite of Dauid, into the house that he had built for her: for he sayd, My wife shall not dwell in the house of Dauid King of Israel: for it is holy, because that the Arke of the Lord came vnto it.

12 Then Salomon offred burnt offerings vnto the Lord, on the altar of the Lord, which he had built before the porch.

13 To offer according to the commandement of Moses every day in the Sabbaths, and in the new moones, & in the solenne feastes, three tymes in the yere, in the feast of the Veleuening bread, & in the feast of the Weekes, and in the feast of the Tabernacles.

14 And he set the courses of the Priests to their offices, according to the order of Dauid his father, and the Leuites in their watches, for to praye and minister before the Priests every day, and the porters by their courses, at euery gate, for so was the commandement of Dauid the man of God.

15 And they declined worke from the commandement of the King, concerning the Priests and the Leuites, touching all things, & touching the treasures.

16 Now Salomon had made prouision for all the worke, from the day of the foundation of the house of the Lord, vntill it was finished: so the house of the Lord was perfected.

17 Then went Salomon to Ezion-geber, and to Elath by the sea side in the land of Edom.

18 And Hiram sent him by the handes of his seruantes (skippes), and seruantes that had knowledge of the sea, and they went with the seruantes of Salomon to Ophir, and brought thence four hundred and fiftie talents of golde, and brought them to King Salomon.

And when the Queene of Sheba heard of the fame of Salomon, she came to proue Salomon with hard questions as Ierusalem, with a very great trayney, & camels that bare sweete odours, and much gold, & precious stones: and when she came to Salomon, she communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Salomon declared her all her questions, and there was nothing hid from Salomon, which he declared not vnto her.

3 Then the Queene of Sheba saw the wisdom of Salomon, & the house that he had built,

4 And the meate of his table, and the sitting of his seruants, & the order of his wayters, and their apparel, and his butlers, and their apparel, & his burnt offerings, which he offered in the house of the Lord, and she was greatly astonished.

5 And she said to the King, It was a true worde which I heard in mine owne lande of thy sayings, and of thy wisdom.

6 Howbeit I beleued not their report, vntill I came, & mine eyes had seene in behold, the one halfe of thy great wisdom: was not told me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Happy are thy men, and happy are these thy seruants, which stand before thee alway, and heare thy wisdom.

8 Blessed be the Lord thy God, which loued thee, to set thee on his throne as King, in the steade of the Lord thy God: because thy God loueth Israel, to establish it for euer, therefore hath he made thee King ouer them, to execute iudgement and iustice.

9 Then the gale the King six score talents of gold, and of sweete odours exceeding much, and precious stones: neither was there such sweete odours as the Queene of Sheba brought vnto King Salomon.

10 And the seruants also of Hiram, and the seruants of Salomon which brought gold from Ophir, brought Algummim wood & precious stones.

11 And the King made of the Algummim wood staires in the house of the Lord, and in the Kinges house, and harpes and viols for fingers: & there was no such scene before in the land of Iudah.

12 And King Salomon gaue to the Queene of Sheba euery pleasant thing that she asked, besides for that which she had brought vnto the King: so she returned and went to her owne countrey, both she & her seruants.

13 Also the weight of gold that came to Salomon in one yere, was six hundred threescore and six talents of gold.

14 Besides that which chapmen & marchants brought: and all the Kings of Arabia, & the princes of the countrey brought golde and silver to Salomon.

16 And three hundred shields of beaten gold: three hundred <sup>shekels</sup> of gold went to one shield, and the King put them in the house of the wood of Lebanon.

17 And the King made a great throne of yu-orie and overlaid it with pure gold.

18 And the throne had six steps; with a footstool of gold fastened to the throne, and staves on either side on the place of the staves, and two lions standing by the staves.

19 And twelve lions stood there on the six steps on either side: there was not the like made in any kingdome.

20 And all king Salomons drinking vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanon were of pure gold:
for silver was nothing esteemed in y dayes of Salomon.

21 For the Kings ships went to Tarshish with the seruants of Hiram, euery three yeere once came the ships of Tarshish, & brought golde, and silver, yuorie, and apes, and pecockes.

22 So King Salomon excelled all the Kings of the earth in riches and wisdom.

23 And all the Kings of the earth sought the presence of Salomon, to heare his wisdom that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, & ray-ment, in murraine, and sweete odours, horses, and mules, from yere to yere.

25 And Salomon had foure thousand stables of horses, & charrets, & twelue thousand hor-men, whom he bestowed in the charret cities, and with the King at Ierusalem.

26 And he reigned ouer all the Kings from the River euen vnto the land of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt.

27 And the King gaue silver in Ierusalem, as stones, & gaue cedar trees as the wyld figge trees, that are abundant in the plaine.

28 And they brought vnto Salomon horses out of Egypt, and out of all landes.

29 Concerning the rest of the actes of Salomon first & last, are they not written in the booke of Nathan the Prophet, and in the visions of Ieedo the Seer against Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat?

30 And Salomon reigned in Ierusalem ouer all Israel fourty yeres.

31 And Salomon slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the cite of Dauid his father; and Rehoboam his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. X.

1 The signe of Rehoboam: 2 He foloweth yong mens counsell. 3 The people rebelleth.

1 Then Rehoboam went to Shechem: for to Shechem came all Israel to make him King.

2 And when Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat heard it, (which was in Egypt, whither he had fled from the presence of Salomon) the King) he returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: so came Ieroboam and all Israel, and communed with Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father made our yoke grievous: now therefore make thou the grievous ser-uitude of thy father, and his fore yoke, that he put vpon vs, lighter, and we will serue
thee.

5 And he sayde to them, Depart yet three dayes, then come againe vnto me. And the people departed.

6 And king Rehoboam tooke counsell with the olde men that had stande before Salomon his father, while he yet liued, saying, What counsell giue ye that I may answer this people?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou be kind to this people, and please them, and speake louing wordes to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But he left the counsell of the ancient men that they had giuen him, and tooke counsell of the yong men that were brought vp with him, and waited on him.

9 And he sayde vnto them, What counsell giue ye, that we may answer this people, which haue spoken to mee, saying, Make the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the yong men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heauy, but make thou it lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My least part shall be bigger then my fathers iointes.

11 Now where as my father did burden you with a grievous yoke, I will yee increase your yokes: my father hath chastised you with rodde, but I will correcte you with scourges.

12 Then Ieroboam & all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the King had appointed, saying, Come againe to me the third day.

13 And the King answered them sharply, and king Rehoboam left the counsell of the ancient men.

14 And spake to them after the counsell of the yong men, saying, My father made your yoke grievous, but I will increase it: my father chastised you with rods, but I will correcte you with scourges.

15 So the King hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the ordinance of God that the Lord might performe his saying, which he had spoken by Ahiah the Shilonite to Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat.

16 So when all Israel sawe that the King would not heare them, the people answered the King, saying, What portion haue we in Dauid? for we haue made inhi-bitance in the sonne of Ithab: if se, euery man to your tents: now see to thine own house, Dauid. So all Israel departed to their tennes.

CHAP. XI.

<sup>Rehoboam is forbidden to fight against Ieroboam. 5. Cities which he built. 21. He hath eightiue wines, & three score concubines, and by them eight and twentie sonnes & thre score daughters.</sup>

ANd when Rehoboam was come to Ierusalem, he gathered of the house of Iudah and Benjamin nine score thousand chosen men of warre to fight against Israel, and to bring the kingdome againe to Rehoboam.

2 But the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah the man of God, saying,
3 Speake vnto Rehoboam, the sonne of Salomon king of Iudah, and to all Israel that are in Iudah, and Benjamin, saying,

4 Thus saith the Lord, Ye shal not goe vp, nor fight against your brethren: returne euery man to his house: for this thing is done of me. They obeyed therefore the word of the Lord, & returned from going against Ieroboam.

5 And Rehoboam dwelt in Ierusalem, and built strong cities in Iudah.

6 He built also Beth-lehem, and Etam, and Tekoa,

7 And Beth-zur, and Shoco, & Adullam,

8 And Gath, and Maratha, and Ziph,

9 And Adoraim, & Lachish, & Azekah,

10 And Zorah, & Aialon & Hebron, which were in Iudah & Benjamin, strong cities.

11 And he repaired the strong holdes and put captaines in them, and store of vitaille, and oyle and wine.

12 And in al cities he put sheilds & speares, and made them exceeding strong: so Iudah and Benjamin were his.

13 ¶ And the Priestes and the Leuites that were in all Israel, resorted vnto him out of all their coastes.

14 For the Leuites left their suburbs and their possession, and came to Iudah & to Ierusalem: for Ieroboam and his sonnes had cast them out from ministring in the Priests office vnto the Lord.

15 ¶ And he ordeined him Priests for the hie places, and for the deuils and for the calues which he had made.

16 And after the Leuites there came to Ierusalem of all the tribes of Israel, such as set their heartes to seeke the Lord God of Israel, to offer vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

17 So they strengthened the kingdom of Iudah, and made Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon mightie, thre yere long: for three yere they walked in the way of Dauid and Salomon.

18 ¶ And Rehoboam tooke him Mahalath

the daughter of Ierimoth the sonne of Dauid to wife, & Abihail the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Ishai, 19 Which bare him sonnes Ieusi, and Shemariah, and Zaham.

20 And after her he tooke Maakah daughter of Absalom which bare him Abiah, & Atthai, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboam loued Maakah daughter of Absalom aboute all his wines and his concubines: for he tooke eighteene wines, and three score concubines, and begate eight and twentie sonnes, and three score daughters.

22 And Rehoboam made Abiah the sonne of Maakah the chief ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him King.

23 And he taught him: and dispersed all his sonnes throughout all the countreis of Iudah & Benjamin vnto euery strong citie: and he gaue them abundance of vitaille, & desired many wines.

ANd when Rehoboam had established the Kingdome and made it strong, he forsooke the Lawe of the Lord, and all Israel with him.

2 Therefore in the fift yeere of king Rehoboam, Shishak the king of Egypt came vp against Ierusalem (because they had transgressed against the Lord)

3 With twelue hundred charets, & three score thousand horsemen, and the people were without number, that came with him from Egypt, euen the Lubims, & Sukkiims, & the Ethiopians.

4 And he tooke the strong cities which were of Iudah, and came vnto Ierusalem.

5 ¶ Then came Shemaiah the Prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Iudah, that were gathered together in Ierusalem, because of Shishak, & sayd vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Ye haue forsaken me, therefore haue I also left you in the handes of Shishak.

6 Then the princes of Israel, and the King humbled them selues, and sayd, The Lord is iust.

7 And when the Lord sawe that they humbled themselves, the worde of the Lord came to Shemaiah, saying, Thei haue humbled themselves, therefore I will not destroy them, but I will sende them deliuerance shortly, and my wrath shall not be powred out vpon Ierusalem by the hand of Shishak.

8 Neuertheles they shalbe his seruants: so shall they know my seruice, and the seruice of the kingdomes of the earth.

9 ¶ Then Shishak king of Egypt came vp against Ierusalem, and tooke the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house: he tooke euen all, and then tyrants.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Abijah maketh warre against Ieroboam. 4 He sheweth the occasion. 12 He strueth in the Lords and ouercommeth Ieroboam. 21 Of his wiues and children.

1 IN the eighteenth yere of king Ieroboam began Abijah to reigne ouer Iudah.

2 He reigned three yere in Ierusalem: (his mothers name also was Michasiah y daughter of Vrieli of Gibeon) and there was warre betwene Abijah and Ieroboam.

3 And Abijah set the batell in aray with the armie of valiant men of warre, even foure hundred thousand chosen men. Ieroboam also set the batell in aray against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men which were strong and valiant.

4 And Abijah stood vpon mount Zemeraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and said, O Ieroboam, and all Israel, heare you me,

5 Ought you not to know that the Lord God of Israel hath giuen the kingdom ouer Israel to David for euer, even to him and to his sonnes by a covenant of salt?

6 And Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat y seruant of Salomon the sonne of Dauid is risse vp, and hath rebelled against his lord;

7 And there are gathered to him wayne men and wicked, and made themselves strong against Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon: for Rehoboam was but a childe and tender hearted, and could not resit them.

Now therefore ye thinke that ye be able to resit against the kingdom of the Lorde, which is in the handes of the sonnes of Da-uid, & ye be a great multitude, & the golde calues are with you which Ieroboam made you for gods.

8 Hau ye not driuen away the Priestes of the Lord the sonnes of Aaron and the Le-uites, & haue made you Priestes like y people of other countreys: whosoever commeth to consecrate with a yong bullocke & seuen rams, the same may be a Priest of them that are no gods.

9 But we belong vnto the Lord our God, & haue not forsaken him; and the Priestes the sonnes of Aaron minister vnto the Lord, & the Leuites in their office.

10 And they burne vnto the Lorde euery morning and euerie euening burnt offerings: and sweete incense, and the breade is set in order vpon the pure table, & the candlestick of gold with the lampes therof, to burne euery euening: for we keepe the watch of the Lord our God: but ye haue forsaken him,

11 And behold, this God is with vs, as a captaine, and his Priestes with the sounding trumpets, to crie an alarme against you. O ye children of Israel, fight not against the Lord God of your fathers: for ye shall not prosper.

12 But Ieroboam caused an ambushment to compassse, & come behynd them, whe they were before Iudah, & the ambushment behind them.

13 Then Iudah looked, and behold, the bat-tel was before and behind them, and they cried vnto the Lord, and the Priestes blew with the trumpets,

14 And the men of Iudah gaue a shout: and euen as the men of Iudah shouted, God smote Ieroboam and also Israel before Abijah and Iudah.

15 And the children of Israel fledde before Iudah, and God deliuered them into their hande.

16 And Abijah and his people slew a great slaughter of them, so that there fel downe wounded of Israel fise hundred thousand chosen men.

17 So the children of Israel were brought vnder at that time: and the children of Iudah preuailed, because they stayed vpon the Lord God of their fathers.

18 And Abijah pursued after Ieroboam, and tooke cities from him, even Beth-el, & the villages thereof, and Ieshanah with her villages, and Ephron with her villages.

19 And Ieroboam recovered no strength again in the dayes of Abijah, but the Lord plagued him, and he died.

20 So Abijah waxed mightie, and married fourtene wiues, and begate two and twenty sonnes, and sixtene daughters.

21 The rest of the actes of Abijah & his manners and his sayings are written in the story of the Prophet Iddo.

Asa destroyeth idolatrie and commendeth his people to seruethis God. 11 He prayeth vnto God when he should go to fight. 12 He obtaineth the victorie.

The exhortation of Azariah. 8 Asa purgeth his country of idolatrie. 11 He sacrificeth with the people. 14 They sweare together to seruethis Lord. 16 He deposeth his mother for her idolatrie.

1 SO * Abijah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid; and Asa his sonne reigned in his steade: in whose dayes the land was quiet ten yere.

Then the Spirit of God came vpon * Azariah the sonne of Obed.

And he went out to meete Asa, and said vnto him, O Asa, and all Iudah, and Benjamin, heare ye me. The Lord is with you, while ye be with him: and if ye seeke him, he wil be found of you, but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you.

3 For he tooke away the altars of the strange gods and the hie places, and brake downe the images, and cut downe the grotes.

8 And Asa had an armie of Iudah that bare shields and speares, three hundreth thousand, & of Benjamin that bare shields and drew bowes, two hundreth and foure score thousand: all these were valiant men.

And when Asa heard these wordes, and the prophesie of Obed the Prophet, hee was encouraged, and tooke away the abominations out of all the land of Iudah, and Benjamin, and out of the cities which hee had taken of mount Ephraim, and he renewed the altar of the Lord, that was before the porche of the Lord.

d Your confidence and trust in God shal not be frustrate.

9 And there came out against them Zerah of Ethiopia with an hoste of ten hundreth thousand, and three hundreth charrets, and came vnto Marehah.

And he gathered al Iudah and Benjamin, and the strangers with them out of Ephraim, and Manasseh and out of Simeon: for there fell manie to him out of Israel, when they sawe that the Lord his God was with him.

e Called Shium, containing part of May and part of Iune.

10 Then Asa went out before him, and they set the battell in aray in y valley of Zephath beside Marehah.

So they assembled to Ierusalem in the third month, in the fiftieth yere of the reigne of Asa.

f Which they had taken of the Ethiopians.

11 And Asa cried vnto the Lord his God, and said, Lord, it is nothing with thee to helpe with manie, or with no power helpe vs, O Lord our God: for we rest on thee, & in thy Name are we come against this multitude: O Lord, thou art our God, let not man preuaile against thee.

And they offered vnto the Lord the same time of the spoile, which they had broght, euen seuen hundreth bullockes, and seuen thousand sheepe.

g These were y wordes of their couenante, which commanded al idolaters to be put to death according to the Lawe of God, Deut. 13.

12 And Asa smote the Ethiopians before Asa and before Iudah, and the Ethiopians fled.

And they made a couenante to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart, and with all their soule.

h So long as thei serued him aright, so long did he preferre & prosper them.

13 And Asa and the people that was with him, pursued them vnto Gerar. And the Ethiopians hoste was ouerthrowen, so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lord and before his hoste: and they caried away a mightie great spoile.

downte her idole, and stamped it, and burnt it at the brooke Kidron.

17 But the hie places were not taken away out of Israel: yet the heart of Afa was perfite all his dayes.

18 Also he brought into the houle of God the things that his father had dedicate, and that he had dedicate, siluer, and golde, and vessels.

19 And there was no warre vnto the fiue and thirtieth yere of the reigne of Afa.

CHAP. XVI.

Afa for feare of Baasha king of Israel, maketh a couenant with Benhadad king of Aram. 7 He is reproved by the Prophet, so VVhom he putteth in prison. 13 He put-teth his trust in the Phisicians. 13 His death.

1 In the six and thirtieth yere of the reigne of Afa came Baasha king of Israel vp against Iudah, & built Ramah to let none passe out or go in to Afa king of Iudah.

2 Then Afa brought out siluer and gold out of the treasures of the houle of the Lord, and of the Kings houle, and sent to Ben-hadad King of Aram that dwelt at Damascus, saying,

3 There is a couenant betwene me & thee, and betwene my father and thy father: behold, I haue sent thee siluer and gold: come breake thy league with Baasha king of Israel that he may depart from me.

4 And Benhadad hearkened vnto king Afa, and sent the captaines of the armies which he had, against the cities of Israel. And they smote lion, and Dan, and Abelmaim, and al
the store cities of Naphtali.

5 And when Baasha heard it, he left building of Ramah, and let his worke cease.

6 Then Afa the king tooke all Iudah, and caried away the stones of Ramah & the tymber therof, wherewith Baasha did build, & he built therewith Geba and Mizpah.

7 And at that same time Hanani the Seer came to Afa king of Iudah, and said vnto him, Because thou hast rested vpon the king of Aram, and not rested in the Lorde thy God, therefore is the hoste of the king of Aram escaped out of thine hand.

8 The Ethiopians and the Lubims, were they not a great hoste with charrets & hor-men, exceeding manie? yet because thou didest rest vpon the Lord, he deliuered thee into thine hand.

9 For the eyes of the Lord behold all the earth to shew him selfe strong with them that are of perbite heart toward him: thou hast then done foolishly in this: therefore from hence forth thou shalt haue warres.

10 Then Afa was wroth with the Seer, and put him into a prison: for he was displeased with him, because of this thing. And Afa oppressed certaine of the people at the same time.

11 And beholde, the actes of Afa first and last, lo, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel.

12 And Afa in the nine and thirtieth yere of his reigne was diseased in his feete, and his diseafe was extreme: yet he fought not the Lord in his diseafe, but to the Phisicians.

13 So Afa slept with his fathers, and dyed in the one and fortieth yere of his reigne.

14 And they buried him in one of his sepulchres, which he had made for him selfe in the cite of Daudi, & laied him in the bed, which they had filled with sweete odours and diuers kindes of spices, made by the arte of the apotecarie: and they burnt odours for him with an exceeding great fire.

CHAP. XVII.

Iehoshaphat trusting in the Lord, prospereth in riches & honour. 6 He aboliseth idolatrie. 7 And causeth the people to be taught. 11 Herceineth tribute of strangers.
13 His munitions, and men of warre.

1 And Iehoshaphat his sonne reigned in his stead, and preuailed against Israel.

2 And he put garisons in al the strong cities of Iudah, and set bands in the land of Iudah and in the cities of Ephraim, which Afa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphat, because he walked in the first wayes of his father Daudi, and fought not Baalim,

4 But fought the Lord God of his father, & walked in his commandments, and not after the trade of Israel.

5 Therefore the Lord stablished the kingdome in his hand, and all Iudah brought presents to Iehoshaphat, so that he had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And he lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and he tooke away moreouer
the hie places & the groues out of Iudah.

7 And in the thirde yere of his reigne he sent his princes, Ben-hail, and Obadiah, and Zechariah, and Nathaneel, and Michaiah, that they should teache in the cities of Iudah,

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiah, and Nethaniah, and Zebadiah, and Asahel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehonathan, and Adonijah, and Tobijah, and Tob-adonijah, Le-uites, and with them Elifhama and Iehoram Priests.

9 And they taught in Iudah, and had the booke of the Lawe of the Lord with them; and went about throughout all the cities of Iudah, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon al the kingdomes of the landes that were round about Iudah, and they fought not against Iehoshaphat.

11 Also some of the Philistims brought Iehoshaphat giftes and tribute siluer, and the A-rabians brought him flockes, seven thousand and seven hundred rams, and seven thousand and seven hundred he goats.

cities of store.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Iehothaphat maketh affinitie with Ahab. 10 Foure hundred Prophets counsel Ahab to go to warre. 16 Michaiah is against them. 23 Zidkiah smiteth him. 25 The King putteth him in prison. 29 The effect of his prophesie.

1 And Iehothaphat had riches and honour in abundance, but he was ioyned in affinitie with Ahab.

2 And after certaine yeres he went downe to Ahab to Samaria: and Ahab slew sheepe and oxen for him in great number, and for the people that he had with him, and enticed him to go vp vnto Ramoth Gilead.

3 And Ahab King of Israel said vnto Iehothaphat King of Iudah, Wilt thou go with me to Ramoth Gilead? And he answered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people, and we will ioine with thee in the warre.

4 And Iehothaphat said vnto the King of Israel, Aske counsel. I pray thee, at the word of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the King of Israel gathered of Prophets foure hundred men, and saide vnto them, Shall we go to Ramoth Gilead to batle, or shall I cease? And they said, Go vp, for God shall deliuer it into the Kings hand.

6 But Iehothaphat said, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord that we might inquire of him?

7 And the King of Israel said vnto Iehothaphat, There is yet one man, by whome we may aske counsel of the Lord, but I hate him: for he doeth not prophesie good vnto me, but alway euil: it is Michaiah the sonne of Imia. Then Iehothaphat said, Let not the King say so.

8 And the King of Israel called an eunuch, and said, Call quickly Michaiah the sonne of Imia.

9 And the King of Israel, and Iehothaphat King of Iudah sate either of them on his throne clothed in their apparell: they sate euen in the threshing floore at the entering in of the gate of Samaria: and all the Prophets prophesied before them.

10 And Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah made him barnes of yron, and said, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou push the Aramites vntil thou hast consumed them.

11 And all the Prophets prophesied so, saying, Go vp to Ramoth Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hande of the King.

12 ¶ And the messenger that went to cal Michaiah, spake to him, saying, Beholde, the words of the Prophets declare good to the King with one accord: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and speake thou good.

13 And Michaiah said, As the Lord liueth, whatsoeuer my God saith, that will I speake.

14 ¶ So he came to the King, and the King said vnto him, Michaiah, shalt we go to Ramoth Gilead to batle, or shall I leaue? And he said, Go ye vp, and prosper, and they shall be deliuered into your hand.

15 And the King said to him, How oft shall I charge thee, that thou tell me nothing but the trueth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then he said, I sawe all Israel scattered in the mountaines, as sheepe that haue no shepheard: and the Lord saide, These haue no master: let them returne euerie man to his house in peace.

17 And the King of Israel saide to Iehothaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he would not prophesie good vnto me, but euil?

18 Again he said, Therefore heare ye the word of the Lord: I sawe the Lord sit vpon his throne, and all the hoste of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lord said, Who shall perswade Ahab King of Israel, that he may go vp and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one spake and said thus, and another said that.

20 Then there came forth a spirit and stode before the Lord, & said, I will perswade him. And the Lord said vnto him, Wherein?

21 And he saide, I wil go out, and be a false spirit in the mouth of all his Prophets. And he said, Thou shalt perswade, and shalt also preuaile: go forth and do so.

22 Now therefore beholde, the Lord hath put a false spirit in the mouth of these thy Prophets, and the Lord hath determined euil against thee.

23 Then Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah came neere, and smote Michaiah vpon the cheekes, and said, By what way went the Spirit of the Lord from me, to speake with thee?

24 And Michaiah said, Beholde, thou shalt see that day when thou shalt go from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

25 And the King of Israel saide, Take ye Michaiah, and carie him to Amon the gouernour of the citie, and to Iosiah the Kings sonne, sence (for thy Name<sup>e</sup> is in this house) and will cry vnto thee in our tribulation, and thou wilt heare and helpe.

The Lord fighteth for his.

Thou art called upon and thou declarest thy presence and favour.

10 And now beholde, the children of * Ammon and Moab, and mount Seir, by whome thou wouldest not let Israel go, when they came out of the lande of Egypt: but they turned aside from them, and destroyed the not:

11 Behold, I say, they reward vs, in comming to cast vs out of thine inheritance, which thou hast caused vs to inherit.

12 O our God, wilt thou not iudge them? for there is no strength in vs to stand before this great multitude that commeth against vs, neither do we knowe what to do: but our eyes are toward thee.

13 And all Iudah stood before the Lorde with their yong ones, their wiues, and their children.

14 And Iahaziel the sonne of Zechariah the sonne of Benaiah, the sonne of Ieiel, the sonne of Mattaniah, a Leuite of the sonnes of Alaph was there, vpon whome came the Spirit of the Lord, in the middes of the Congregation.

15 And he said, Hearken ye, all Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem, and thou, King Iehoshaphat: thus saith the Lord vnto you, Feare you not, neither be afraide for this great multitude: for the battell is not yours, but Gods.

16 To morowe go ye downe against them: beholde, they come vp by the cleft of Ziz, and ye shall finde them at the ende of the brooke before the wilderness of Ieruel.

17 Ye shall not neede to fight in this battell: stand still, moue not, and behold the saluation of the Lord toward you: O Iudah, and Ierusalem, feare ye not, neither be afraide: to morowe go out against them, & the Lord wilbe with you.

18 Then Iehoshaphat bowed downe with his face to the earth, and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell downe before the Lord, worshipping the Lord.

19 And the Leuites of the children of * Kohathites & of the children of the Corhites stood vp to praise the Lord God of Israel with a loude voyce on hie.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they went forth to the wilderness of Tekoa: and as they departed, Iehoshaphat stood and said, Heare ye me, O Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem: put your trust in the Lord your God, & ye shall be assured: beleeue his Prophets, & ye shall prosper.

21 And when he had consulted with the people, and appointed singers vnto the Lord, & them that should praise him that is in the beautiful Sanctuarie, in going forth before the men of armes, and saying, Praise ye the Lord, for his mercie lasteth for ever,

22 And when they began to shoute, and to praise, the Lord laied ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come against Iudah, and they slewe one another.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab rose against the inhabitants of mount Seir, to slay and to destroy them: & when they had made an end of y inhabitants of Seir, euery one helped to destroy another.

24 And when Iudah came toward Mizpah in the wilderness, they looked vnto y multitude: and behold, the carkeises were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Iehoshaphat and his people came to take away the spoile of them, they found among them in abundance both of substance and also of bodies laden with precious iewels, which they tooke for themselves, till they coulde carie no more: they were three dayes in gathering of y spoyle: for it was much.

26 And in the fourth daye they assembled them selues in the valley of Berachah: for there they blessed the Lord: therefore they called the name of that place, The valley of Berachah vnto this day.

27 Then euery man of Iudah and Ierusalem returned with Iehoshaphat their head, to goe agayne to Ierusalem with ioye: for the Lord had made them to reioyce ouer their enemies.

28 And they came to Ierusalem with viols and with harpes, and with trumpets, euery vnto the house of the Lord.

29 And the feare of God was vpon all the kingdomes of the earth, when they had heard that the Lorde had fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 So the kingdome of Iehoshaphat was quiet, and his God gaue him rest on euerie side.

31 And Iehoshaphat reigned ouer Iudah, and was fye and thirtie yere olde, when he began to reigne: and reigned fife & twentie yere in Ierusalem, & his mothers name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

32 And he walked in the way of Asa his father, and departed not therefrom, doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit the hie places were not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their hearts vnto the God of their fathers.

34 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehoshaphat first and last, beholde, they are written in the booke of Iehu the sonne of Hanani, which is mentioned in the booke of the Kings of Israel.

35 Yet after this did Iehoshaphat King of Iudah ioyne him selfe with Ahaziah King of Israel, who was giuen to do euil.

36 And he ioynd with him, to make ships to go to Tarshish: and they made y shippes in Ezion Gaber.

37 Then Elizeer the sonne of Dodauah of Maresah prophesied against Iehoshaphat saying, Because thou hast ioynd thy selfe with Ahaziah, the Lord hath broken thy workes, and the shippes were broken, that they were not able to go to Tarshish.

p Thus y Lord according to Iehoshaphats prayer declared his power, when he deliuered his by causing their enemies to kill one another.

To giue thanks to the Lord for the victorie: and therefore the valley was called Berachah, y is, blessing, or thanks giuing, which was also called the valley of Iehoshaphat, Ieiel, & c. because the Lord iudged y enemies according to Iehoshaphats prayer. He declareth hereby, that the workes of God bring euery comfort or deliuerance to his, and feare or destruction to his enemies.

promise. v. 17.

Meaning, in his vertues & those waies, wherein he folowed God.

If y great care and diligence of this good King was not able vnto to abolish superstition & idolatrie out of this people, but that they would stil retein their filth and idolatrie, how much lesse are they able to reforme euil, which either haue litle zeale, or not such as he had: though herein he was not to be excused.

1 Iehoshaphat then slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the cite of David: and Iehoram his sonne reigned in his steade.

2 And he had brethren the sonnes of Iehoshaphat, Azariah, and Iehiel, and Zechariah, and Azariah, & Michael, and Shephatiah. All these were the sonnes of Iehoshaphat King of Israel.

3 And their father gaue them great giftes of siluer & of gold, and of precious things, with strong cities in Iudah, but the kingdom gaue he to Iehoram: for he was the eldest.

4 And Iehoram rose vp vpon the kingdom of his father, and made him selfe strong, & slew all his brethren with the sword, and also of the princes of Israel.

5 Iehoram was two and thirtie yere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned eight yere in Ierusalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, as the house of Ahab had done: for he had the daughter of Ahab to wife, and he wrought euil in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit the Lord would, not destroy the house of Dauid, because of the covenant that he had made with Dauid, and because he had promised to giue a light to him, and to his sonnes for euer.

8 In his dayes Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah, and made a King ouer them.

9 And Iehoram went forth with his princes, and all his charers with him: and he rose vp by night, and smote Edom, which had compassed him in, and the captaines of the charers.

10 But Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah vnto this day. then did Libnah rebel at the same time from vnder his hâd, because he had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 Moreover he made hie places in the mountaines of Iudah, and caused the inhabitants of Ierusalem to commit fornication, and compelled Iudah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from Elijah the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Iehoshaphat thy father, nor in the wayes of Afa King of Iudah,

13 But hast walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, and hast made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to go a whoring, as the house of Ahab went a whoring, & hast also slaine thy brethré of thy fathers house, which were better then thou,

14 Beholde, with a great plague wil the Lord smite thy people, and thy children, and thy wiues, and all thy substance,

15 And thou shalt be in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntill thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day,

16 So the Lord stirred vp against Iehoram the spirit of the Philistims, and the Arabians that were beside the Ethiopians.

17 And they came vp into Iudah, and brake into it, and carried away all the substance that was found in the Kings house, and his sonnes also, and his wiues, so that there was not a sonne left him, saue Iehozabab, the yongest of his sonnes.

18 And after all this, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in processe of time, euen after the end of two yeres, his guttes fel out with his disease: so he dyed of sore diseases: and his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, he was two and thirtie yere olde, and reigned in Ierusalem eight yere, and liued without being desired: yet they buried him in the cite of Dauid, but not among the sepulchres of the Kings.

his sonne reigned 22 yeres (his father yet liuing) without honour, and after his fathers death he was confirmed to reigne still, as Chap. xii.

1 Ahaziah reigned after Iehoram. 2 Iehu King of Israel killeth Ahaziah. 10 Athaliah putteth to death all the Kings lineage. 11 Ieashosephath.

1 And y inhabitants of Ierusalem made Ahaziah his yongest sonne King in his steade: for the armie that came with the Arabians to the campe, had slaine all the eldest: therefore Ahaziah the sonne of Iehoram King of Iudah reigned.

2 Two and fourtie yere olde was Ahaziah when he began to reigne, and he reigned one yere in Ierusalem. and his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter of Omri.

3 He walked also in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother counseled him to do wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did euil in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Ahab: for they were his counsellors after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 And he walked after their counsel, and went with Iehoram the sonne of Ahab king of Israel to fight against Hazael King of Aram at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites smote Ioram.

6 And he returned to be healed in Izreel, because of the woundes wherewith they had wounded him at Ramah, when he fought with Hazael King of Aram. Nowe Azariah the sonne of Iehoram King of Iudah went downe to see Iehoram the sonne of Ahab at Izreel, because he was diseased.

7 And the destruction of Ahaziah came of God in that he went to Ioram: for when he was come, he went forth with Iehoram against Iehu the sonne of Nimshi, whom the Lord had anointed to destroy y house of Ahab.

8 Therefore when Iehu executed iudgement vpon the house of Ahab, and founde the princes of Iudah and the sonnes of the brethren brother of Ahaziah that waited on Ahaziah, he slew them also.

9 And he sought Ahaziah, & they caught him where he was hid in Samaria, and brought him to Iehu, and slew him, and buried him, because, said they, he is the sonne of Iehoshaphat, which sought the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziah was not able to reigne the kingdom.

ding to all things that Iehoiada the Priest had commanded, and tooke euerie man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that went out on the Sabbath: for Iehoiada the Priest did not discharge the courses.

9 And Iehoiada the Priest deliuered to the captaines of hundreths speares, & shields, and bucklers which had bene King Dauids, and were in the house of God.

10 And he caused all the people to stand (euerie man with his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the house, to the left side of the house by the altar and by the house round about the King.

11 Then they brought out the Kings sonne, and put vpon him the crowne and gave him the testimonie, and made him King. And Iehoiada and his sonnes anointed him, and said, God saue the King.

12 ¶ But when Athaliah heard the noyse of the people running and praising the King, she came to the people into the house of the Lord.

13 And when she looked, beholde, the King stood by his pillar at the entering in, the princes and the trumpets by the King, and all the people of the land reioyced, & blew the trumpets, and the fingers were instruments of musike, and they that could sing praise: then Athaliah rent her clothes, and said, Treason, treason.

14 Then Iehoiada the Priest brought out the captaines of hundreths that were gouernours of the hoste, & said vnto them, Hauē her forth of the ranges, and he that followeth her, let him dye by the sword: for the Priest had said, Slay her not in the house of the Lord.

15 So they layd hands on her: and when she was come to the entering of the horsegate by the Kings house, they slew her there.

16 ¶ And Iehoiada made a covenant betwene him, and all the people, and the King, that they would be the Lordes people.

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and destroyed it, and brake his altars, and his images, and slew Mattan the Priest of Baal before the altars.

18 And Iehoiada appointed officers for the house of the Lord, vnder the hands of the Priests and Leuites, whome Dauid had distributed for the house of the Lord, to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord, as it is written in the Lawe of Moses, with reioycing and singing by the appointment of Dauid.

19 And he set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none that was vn-cleane in any thing, should enter in.

20 And he tooke the captaines of hundreths, and the noble men, and the gouernours of the people, and all the people of the land, and he caused the King to come downe out of the house of the Lorde, and they went through the hie gate of the Kings house, and set the King vpon the throne of the kingdom.

21 And he tooke the captaines of hundreths, and the noble men, and the gouernours of the people, and all the people of the land, and he caused the King to come downe out of the house of the Lorde, and they went through the hie gate of the Kings house, and set the King vpon the throne of the kingdom.

22 And he tooke the captaines of hundreths, and the noble men, and the gouernours of the people, and all the people of the land, and he caused the King to come downe out of the house of the Lorde, and they went through the hie gate of the Kings house, and set the King vpon the throne of the kingdom.

23 And he tooke the captaines of hundreths, and the noble men, and the gouernours of the people, and all the people of the land, and he caused the King to come downe out of the house of the Lorde, and they went through the hie gate of the Kings house, and set the King vpon the throne of the kingdom.

24 And he tooke the captaines of hundreths, and the noble men, and the gouernours of the people, and all the people of the land, and he caused the King to come downe out of the house of the Lorde, and they went through the hie gate of the Kings house, and set the King vpon the throne of the kingdom.

25 And he tooke the captaines of hundreths, and the noble men, and the gouernours of the people, and all the people of the land, and he caused the King to come downe out of the house of the Lorde, and they went through the hie gate of the Kings house, and set the King vpon the throne of the kingdom.

But his sonnes, and the summe of the tax gathered by him, and the fundation of the house of God, behold, they are written in the story of the booke of the Kings. And Amaziah his sonne reigned in his steade.

C H A P. XXV.

Amaziah putteth them to death which slew his father. He sendeth backe them of Israel. He ouercommeth the Edomites. He falleth to idolatrie. And Ioash King of Israel ouercommeth Amaziah.

Amaziah was sixe and twenty yere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned nine and twentie yere in Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Jehoaddan, of Ierusalem.

And he did vprightly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfyre heart.

And when the kingdome was established vnto him, hee slew his seruants, that had slaine the King, his father.

But hee slew not their children, but did as it is written in the Law, & in the booke of Moses, where the Lord commaunded, saying, * The fathers shall not dye for the children, neither shal the children die for the fathers, but euery man shall dye for his owne sinne.

And Amaziah assembled Iudah, and made them captaynes ouer thousands, and captaynes ouer hundreths, according to y houses of their fathers, throughout all Iudah and Benjamin: and he nombred them from * twentie yere olde and aboue, and found among them three hundred thousand chosen men, to go forth to the warre, and to handle speare and shield.

He hyred also an hundred thousand valiant men out of Israel for an hundred talents of siluer.

But a man of God came to him, saying, O King, let not the armie of Israel go with thee: for the Lord is not * with Israel, neither with all the house of Ephraim.

If not, go thou on, do it, make thy selfe strong to the battel, but God shall make thee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

And Amaziah said to the man of God, What shal we do then for the hundred talents, which I haue giuen to the hoste of Israel? Then the man of God answered, The Lord is able to giue thee more then this.

So Amaziah separated them, so was the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly against Iudah, & they returned to their places with great anger.

Then Amaziah was encouraged, and led forth his people, and went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of * Seir, ten thousand.

And other ten thousand did the children of Iudah take aliue, and caryed them to the toppes of a rocke, and cast them downe from the toppes of the rocke, and they all burst to peeces.

But the men of the armie, which Amaziah sent away, that they should not go with his people to battel, fell vpon the cities of Iudah from Samaria vnto Beth-horon, and smote three thousand of them, and tooke much spoyle.

Now after that Amaziah was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, he brought the gods of the children of Seir, and set them vp: he his gods, and worshipped them, and burned incense vnto them.

Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziah, & sent vnto him a Prophet, which saide vnto him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which were not able to deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

And as he talked with him, * he said vnto him, Haue they made thee the Kings counseller? cease thou: why should they * smite thee? And the Prophet ceased, but said, I knowe, that God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, & hast not obeyed my counsel.

Then Amaziah King of Iudah tooke counsel, and sent to Ioash the sonne of Jehoahaz, the sonne of Iehu King of Israel, saying, Come, let vs see one another in the face.

But Ioash King of Israel sent to Amaziah King of Iudah, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, * Give thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and the wilde beast that was in Lebanon went and trode downe the thistle.

Thou thinkest: lo, thou hast smitten Edom, and thine heart listeth thee vp to bragge: abide now at home: why doest thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shouldest fall, and Iudah with thee?

But Amaziah would not heare: for it was of God, that he might deliuer them into his hand, because they had sought the gods of Edom.

So Ioash the King of Israel went vp: and he, and Amaziah King of Iudah, sawe one another in the face at Bethshemesh, which is in Iudah.

And Iudah was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled euery man to his tents.

But Ioash the King of Israel, tooke Amaziah King of Iudah, the sonne of Ioash, the sonne of Jehoahaz in Bethshemesh, and brought him to Ierusalem, & brake downe the wall of Ierusalem, from the gate of Ephraim vnto the corner gate, foure hundred cubites.

And hee tooke all the gold and the siluer, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with Obed Edom, and in the treasures of the Kings house, and the children that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

And Amaziah the sonne of Ioash King of Iudah liued after the death of Ioash sonne of Jehoahaz, King of Israel, fiftene yere.

Concerning the rest of the actes of Amaziah.

IThus where he should haue giuen the praise to God for his benefices, and great victorie, he fell from God, and did most vilely dishonour him in Heaproueth that what he could not see him self, nor his worshippers, is no god but an idle vaine thing. ziah first & last, are they not written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel?

17 Now after the time that Amaziah did turne away from the Lord, * they wrought treason against him in Ierusalem: and when he was fled to Lachish, they sent to Lachish after him, and slew him there.

18 And they brought him vpon horses, and buried him with his fathers in the citie of Iudah.

CHAP. XXVI.

1. Vzziah obeying the Lord, professeth his intent to prosper. 16 He waxeth proud, and usurpeth the Priests office. 19 The Lord plagueth him. 20 The Priests drive him out of the Temple, and exclude him out of the Lords house. 23 His burial, and his succession.

1 THEN * all the people of Iudah tooke Vzziah, which was sixtene yere olde, and made him King in the steade of his father Amaziah.

2 He buylt Eloth, and restored it to Iudah after that the King slept with his fathers.

3 * Sixtene yere olde was Vzziah, when he began to reigne, and he reigned two and fiftie yere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Iecoliah of Ierusalem.

4 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

5 And he sought God in the dayes of * Zechariah (which vnderstoode the visions of God) and when as <sup>d</sup> he sought the Lord, God made him to prosper.

6 For he went forth and fought against the Philistims and brake downe the wall of Gath, and the wall of Iabneh, and the wall of Ashdod, and buylt cities in Ashdod, and among the Philistims.

7 And God helped him against the Philistims, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal and Hammeunim.

8 And the Ammonites gaue * giftes to Vzziah, and his name spread to the entering in of Egypt: for he did most valiantly.

9 Moreover Vzziah buylt towres in Ierusalem at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, and at the * turning, and made them strong.

10 And he buylt towres in the wilderness, and digged manie * cisternes: for he had much catell both in the vallis and plaines, plowmen, and dressers of vines in the mountaines, and in * Carmel: for he loued husbandrie.

11 Vzziah had also an hoste of fighting men that went out to warre by bandes, according to the count of their number vnder the hand of Ieiel the scribe, and Maaseiah the ruler, and vnder * hand of Hananiah, one of the Kings captaines.

12 The whole * number of the chiefe of the families of the valiant men were two thousand and six hundred.

13 And vnder their hand was the armie for warre, three hundred & seven thousand, and fise hundred that fought valiantly to helpe the King against the enemies.

14 And Vzziah prepared them throughout all the hoste, shields, and speares, and helmetts, and brigandines, and bowes, and stones to sling.

15 He made also verie * artificiall engines in Ierusalem, to be vpon the towres and vpon the corners, to shoote arrowes and great stones: and his name spread farre abroad, because God did helpe him marueilously, til he was mightie.

16 * But when he was strong, his heart was lift vp to his destruction: for he transgressed against the Lord his God, and went in to * Temple of the Lord to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

17 And Azariah the Priest went in after him, & with him foure score Priests of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they withstood Vzziah the King, and said vnto him, * It pertaineth not to thee, Vzziah, to burne incense vnto the Lord, but to the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: * go forth of the Sanctuary: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none honour of the Lord God.

19 Then Vzziah was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it: and while he was wroth with the Priests, the leprosie rose vp in his forehead before the Priests in the house of the Lord beside the incense altar.

20 And when Azariah the chiefe Priest with all the Priests looked vpon him, behold, he was leprous in his forehead, and they caused him hastily to depart thence: and hee was euen compelled to go out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 * And Vzziah the King was a leper vnto * day of his death, and dwelt as a leper in an * house apart, because he was cut of fro the house of the Lord: and Iotham his sonne ruled ouer the Kings house, and iudged the people of the land.

22 Concerning the rest of the actes of Vzziah, first and last, did Isaiah the Prophet the sonne of Amoz write.

23 So Vzziah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in * field of the burial, which pertained to the Kings: for they said, He * is a leper. And Iotham his sonne reigned in his steade.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Iotham reigneth, and overcometh the Ammonites. 8 His reign and death. 9 Abaz, his sonne reigneth in his steade.

1 IOTHAM * was fise and twentie yere olde when he began to reigne, & reigned sixtene yere in Ierusalem, & his mothers name was Ierushah the daughter of Zadok.

2 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord according to all that his father Vzziah did, saue that hee entred not into the * Temple of the Lord, and the people did yet * corrupt their wayes.

3 He buylt the hie * gate of the house of * Lord, and he buylt verie much on the wall of the castel.

b They were not cleane purged from idolatrie. c Which was fise score cubites hie, and was for the heighe called Ophel: it was at * East gate, and mention is made of it, Chap. 3. 4.

Moreover he buyeth cities in the mountaines of Iudah, and in the forests he buyeth palaces and towers.
And he fought with the King of the children of Ammon, & prevailed against the. And the children of Ammon gave him the same yere an hundred talents of silver, & ten thousand measures of wheat, and ten thousand of barley: this did the children of Ammon give him both in the second yere and the third.
So Iotham became mighty because hee directed his way before the Lord his God.
Concerning the rest of the doings of Iotham, and all his warres, and his wayes, hee they are written in the booke of the doings of Iotham and Iudah.
He was sixe and twentie yere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned sixtene yere in Ierusalem.
And Iotham slept with his fathers, & they buried him in the citie of David: and Ahaz his sonne reigned in his stead.
Ahaz was twenty yere olde when hee began to reigne, and reigned sixtene yere in Ierusalem; and did not uprightly in the sight of the Lord, like David his father.
But he walked in the wayes of the Kings of Israel, and made even molten images for Ierusalem.
Moreover he burnt incense in the valley beof Ben-hinnom, and burnt his sonnes with fire, after the abominations of the heathen whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.
He sacrificed also and burnt incense in the high places, and on hillies, and in der trees in the greene tree.
Wherefore the Lord his God delivered him into the hand of the King of the Aramites, and they smote him, and tooke of his manie prisoners, and brought them to Damascus: and he was also delivered into the hand of the King of Israel, which smote him with a great slaughter.
For Pekah the sonne of Remalish slew in Iudah six score thousand in one day, all the valiant men, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.
And Zichri a mighty man of Ephraim beslew Maasiah the Kings sonne, and Azrikam the governour of the house, and Elkanah the second after the King.
And the children of Israel tooke prisoners of their brethren, two hundred thousand of women, sonnes and daughters, and carried away much spoyle of them, & brought the spoyle to Samaria.
But there was a Prophet of the Lordes, (whose name was Oded) and he went out before the hoste that came to Samaria, and said unto them, Behold, because the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Iudah, he hath delivered them into your hand, & ye have slain them in rage, & have reacht up to heaven.

And now ye purpose to keepe under the children of Iudah, and Ierusalem, as servants and handmaidens unto you; but are not you such as Iannes are with you before the Lord your God?
Now therefore heare me, and deliver the captives againe, which ye have taken prisoner of your brethren: for the feare of the Lord is toward you.
Wherefore certain of the chiefe of the children of Ephraim, Azariah the sonne of Ishobabab, Berechiah the sonne of Meshillemoth, and Iehiziah the sonne of Shallum, and Amasa the sonne of Hadlai, stood up against them that came from the warre.
And said vnto them, Bring not in the captives hither: for this shalbe a sinne vpon vs, and vpon the Lord: ye entend to adde more to our finnes and to our trespasse, though our trespasse be great, and the feare wrath of God is against Israel.
So the armie left the captives and the spoyle before the prisoners and all the congregation.
And the men that were named by name, arose vp and tooke the prisoners, and with the spoyle clothed all that were naked among them, and arayed them, and shod them, and gave them meat and gave them drinke, and anointed them; and carryed small that were feeble of them vpon asses, & brought the to Iericho the citie of Palmes, and to their brethren: so they returned to Samaria.
At that time did King Ahaz send vnto the Kings of Asshur, to helpe him, (for the Edomites came moreouer, and to slewe of Iudah, and carried away captives.)
The Philistims also invaded the cities in the lowe country, and towards the South of Iudah, and tooke Bethbenath and Aialon, and Gederoth, and Shochu, with the villages thereof, and Timnah, with her villages, and they dwelt there.
For the Lord had humbled Iudah, because of Ahaz King of Israel, for he had brought vengeance vpon Iudah and had grievously transgressed against the Lord.
And Tilgath Pilneer King of Asshur came vnto him who troubled him and did not strengthen him.
For Ahaz tooke a porcion out of the house of the Lorde and out of the Kings house and of the Princes, & gave vnto the King of Asshur: yet it helped him not.
And in the time of his tribulation did hee pay trespasse more against the Lord, (this is King Ahaz).
For he sacrificed vnto the gods of Damascus, which plagued him, and he said, Because the gods of the Kings of Aram helped them: I will sacrifice vnto them, and they will helpe me: yet they were his ruine, and of all Israel.

24 And Ahaz gathered the vessels of the house of God, and brake the vessels of the house of God; & shut vp the doore of the house of the Lord; and made him altars in euerie corner of Ierusalem.
25 And in euerie cite of Iudah he made his places, to burne incense vnto other gods, and prouoked to anger the Lord God of his fathers.
26 Concerning the rest of his actes, and all his wayes first and last, beholde they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah, and Israel.
27 And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the cite of Ierusalem, but brought him not into the sepulchre of the Kings of Israel: and Hezekiah his sonne reigned in his steade.
1 Hezekiah began to reigne, when he was seuen and twentie yeare olde, and reigned nine & twentie yere in Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Abijah the daughter of Zechariah.
2 And he did rightely in the sight of the Lord, according to all that David his father had done.
3 He opened the doores of the house of the Lord in the first yere, and in the first moneth of his reigne, and repaired them.
4 And he brought in the Priests, and the Levites, and gathered them into the East streete,
5 And saide vnto them, Heare me, ye Levites: sanctifie now your selues, and sanctifie the house of the Lord God of your fathers, and came forth the filthines out of the Sanctuary.
6 For our fathers haue trespassed, and done euill in the eyes of the Lord our God, and he haue forsaken him, and turned away their faces from the Tabernacle of the Lord, and turned their backs:
7 They haue also shut the doores of the porch, and quenched the lampes; & haue neither burnt incense, nor offered burnt offerings in the Sanctuary vnto the God of Israel.
8 Wherefore the wrath of the Lord hath bene on Iudah and Ierusalem: and he hath made them a scatering, a desolation; and an hissing, as ye see with your eyes.
9 For lo, our fathers are fallen by the sword, and our sonnes, and our daughters, and our wiues are in captiuitie for the same cause.
10 Now I purpose to make a covenant with the Lord God of Israel, that he may turne away his fierce wrath from vs.
11 Now my sonnes, be not deccited: for the Lord hath chosen you to stand before him, to serue him, and to be his ministers, and to burne incense.

12 Then the Levites arose, Mahathy sonne of Amathai, and ioel the sonne of Azariah of the sonnes of the Kohathites, and of the sonnes of Merari, Kili the sonne of Abdi, and Azariah the sonne of Ichalel, and of the Gersonites, took the sonne of Zimnah, and Eaten the sonne of Iosh:
13 And of the sonnes of Elieaphan, Shimri, and Iehi, and of the sonnes of Asaph, Zechariah, and Mattaniah:
14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Ichiel, and Shinnai, and of the sonnes of Ieduthan, Shemai, and Vzziah:
15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves, and came according to the commandement of the King, and by the word of the Lord, so to cleanse the house of the Lord.
16 And the Priests went into the inner parts of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, and brought out all the vntidneses that they found in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Levites tooke it, to carie it out vnto the brooke Kidron.
17 They began the first day of the first moneth to sanctifie it, and the eight daye of the moneth came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in the eight dayes, and in the sixtieth day of the first moneth they made an end.
18 Then they went in to Hezekiah the King, and said, We haue cleansed all the house of the Lord, the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof.
19 And all the vessels which King Ahaz had cast aside when he reigned, and transgressed, haue we prepared and sanctified: and beholde, they are before the altar of the Lord.
20 And Hezekiah the King rose early, and gathered the princes of the cite, and went vnto the house of the Lord.
21 And they brought seven bullockes, and seven rams, and seuen lambs, and seuen he goates, for a sinne offering for the kingdome, and for the Sanctuary, and for Iudah. And he commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.
22 So they slew the bullockes, and the Priests receiued the blood, and sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slew also the rams, & sprinkled the blood vpon the altar; and they slew the lambs, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.
23 Then they brought the he goates for the sinne offering before the King and the Congregation; and they layed their hands vpon them.
24 And the Priests slew them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar to reconcile Israel: for the King had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering and the sinne offering.

16 And they stood in their place after their manner, according to the Lawe of Moses the man of God: and the Priests sprinkled the blood, receyved of the handes of the Levites: and it was as the Lawe commanded.

17 Because there were many in the Congregation that were not sanctified, wherefore the Levites had the charge of the killing of the Passouer for all that were not cleane, to sanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, even a multitude of Ephraim, and Manasse, Issachar, and Zabulon had not cleansed themselves, yet did eate the Passouer, but not as it was written: wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The "good Lord be mercifull toward him, I know how sore he hath done."

19 That prepareth his whole heart to seeke the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleane, according to the purification of the Sanctuary.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, and healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Jerusalem, kept the feast of the unleavened bread seven dayes with great ioy, and the Levites, and the Priests prayed the Lord day by day, singing with loud instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah spake comfortably vnto all the Levites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: and they did eate in that feast seven daies, and offered peace offerings, & praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assembly tooke counsel to keepe it other seven daies. So they kept it seven dayes with ioy.

24 For Hezekiah King of Iudah had given to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, & seven thousand sheep: And the princes had given to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and ten thousand sheepe: and many Priests were sanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Iudah reioiced with the Priests and the Levites, & all the Congregation that came out of Israel, & the strangers that came out of the lande of Israel, and that dwelt in Iudah.

26 So there was great ioye in Ierusalem: for since the time of Salomon the sonne of David king of Israel there was nor y like thing in Ierusalem.

27 Then the Priests and the Levites arose, & blessed the people, and their voyce was heard, and their prayer came vnto heaven, to his holy habitation.

CHAP. XXXI.

The people desire holierie. Hezekiah appointeth Priests and Levites. And provideth for their living.

1 And when all these things were finished, all Israel that were found in the cities of Iudah, went out, and brake the images, & cut downe the groves, and brake down the high places, & the alters throughout all Iudah and Benjamin, in Ephraim also, and Manasse, vntill they had made an ende, afterward all the children of Israel returned every man to his possession, into their owne cities.

2 And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the Priests and Levites by their turnes, every man according to his office, both Priests and Levites, for the burnt offering and peace offerings, to minister and to give thanks, and to praise in the gates of the temple of the Lord.

3 (And the Kinges portion was of his owne substance for the burnt offerings, even for the burnt offerings of the morning and of the evening, & the burnt offerings for the Sabbaths, and for the new moones, and for the solemn feastes, as it is written in the Law of the Lord.)

4 He commaunded also the people that dwell in Ierusalem, to give a part to the Priests, and Levites, that they might be encouraged in the Law of the Lord.

5 And when the commaundment was spread, the children of Israel brought abundance of first fruites of corne, wine, & oyle, and hony, and of all the increase of the field, & the tithes of all things brought they abundantly.

6 And the children of Israel and Iudah that dwell in y cities of Iudah, they also brought the tithes of bullockes and sheepe, and the holy tithes which were consecrate vnto the Lord their God, and layd them on many heapes.

7 In the third month they began to lay the foundation of the heapes, and finished it in the seventh month.

8 And when Hezekiah and the princes came, and saw the heapes, they blessed the Lord and his people Israel.

9 And Hezekiah questioned with y Priests and the Levites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariah the chief Priest of the house of Zadok answered him, and sayd, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the Lord, we have eaten & have bene sanctified, and there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

11 And Hezekiah commaunded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: & they prepared them.

12 And caried in the first fruites, & the tithes, and the dedicate things faithfully: & over them y Conaniah the Leuite, the chiefe, and Shimei his brother the second.

13 And Ichiel, and Azariah, and Nahath, & Asabel, and Ierimoth, and Iozabad, & Eliel, and Ismachiah, and Mahath, and Benaiash were overseers" by the appointment of Conaniah, and Shimei his brother, and by the commaundment of Hezekiah the king, and of Azariah the chiefe of the house of God.

14 And Kore the sonne of Imnah the Leuite porter toward the East, was over y things that were willingly offered vnto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, and the holy things that were consecrate.

m To wit, of the lambe of the Passouer.

He knew that faith & symecie of heart was more agreeable to God, then the observation of the ceremonies: and therefore he praised vnto God to pardon his fault vnto those people, which did not offend of malice, but of ignorance.

o That is, did accept them as purified.

He spake to the heart.

Hezekiah spake comfortably vnto all the Levites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: and they did eate in that feast seven daies, and offered peace offerings, & praised the Lord God of their fathers.

For Hezekiah King of Iudah had given to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, & seven thousand sheep: And the princes had given to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and ten thousand sheepe: and many Priests were sanctified.

And all the Congregation of Iudah reioiced with the Priests and the Levites, & all the Congregation that came out of Israel, & the strangers that came out of the lande of Israel, and that dwelt in Iudah.

So there was great ioye in Ierusalem: for since the time of Salomon the sonne of David king of Israel there was nor y like thing in Ierusalem.

Then the Priests and the Levites arose, & blessed the people, and their voyce was heard, and their prayer came vnto heaven, to his holy habitation.

And when all these things were finished, all Israel that were found in the cities of Iudah, went out, and brake the images, & cut downe the groves, and brake down the high places, & the alters throughout all Iudah and Benjamin, in Ephraim also, and Manasse, vntill they had made an

ende, afterward all the children of Israel returned every man to his possession, into their owne cities.

15 And at his hand were Eden, & Miniamin, & Ieshua, and Shemaiah, Amariah, & Shechaniah, in the cities of the Priests, to distribute with fidelitie to their brethren by courses, both to the great and small.

16 Their daily portion: beside their generation being males: from three yere olde and aboue, euens to all that entred into the house of the Lord to their office in their charge, according to their courses:

17 Both to the generation of the Priests after the house of their fathers; & to the Levites from twentie yere olde & aboue, according to their charge in their courses:

18 And to the generation of al their childre, their wiues, & their sonnes & their daughters throughout all the Congregation: for by their fidelitie are they partakers of the holy things.

19 Also to the sonnes of Aaron, the Priests, which were in the fields & suburbs of their cities, in euery citie the men that were appointed by names, should giue portions to all the males of the Priests, and to all y generation of the Levites.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Iudah, and did wel, and vprightly, and truly before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the workes that he began for the seruice of the house of God, both in the Law and in the commandements, to seeke his God, he did it with all his heart, & prospered.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Sanherib invaded Iudah. 2 Hezekiah prepareth for the warre. 3 He exhorteth the people to put their trust in the Lord. 4 Sanherib blasphemeth God. 5 Hezekiah prayeth. 6 The Angel destroyeth the Assyrians, and the King is slain. 7 Hezekiah is not thankfull toward the Lord. 8 His death.

1 AFTER these things faithfully described, Sanherib King of Asshur came and entred into Iudah, and besieged the strong cities, and thought to winne them for him selfe.

2 When Hezekiah sawe that Sanherib was come, and that his purpose was to fight against Ierusalem,

3 Then he tooke counsell with his princes and his nobles, to stoppe the water of the fountaines without the citie: and they did helpe him.

4 So many of y people assembled theselues, and stopt al the fountaines, & the river that ran thorough the middes of the countrey, saying, Why should the Kinges of Asshur come, and finde much water?

5 And he tooke courage, and built all the broken wall, and made vp the towers, and another wall without, and repayed Millo in the citie of Dauid, & made many darses and shieldes.

6 And he set captaines of warre ouer y people & assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the citie, & spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

7 Be strong and courageous: feare not, neither be afraid for the King of Asshur, neither for all the multitude that is with him:

for there be mo with vs, then is with him.

8 With him is an arme of fleshe, but with vs is the Lord our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by y wordes of Hezekiah King of Iudah.

9 After this, did Sanherib King of Asshur sende his seruantes to Ierusalem (while he was against Lachish, & all his dominion w him) vnto Hezekiah King of Iudah & vnto all Iudah that were at Ierusalem, saying,

10 Thus saith Sanherib the King of Asshur: Wherein do ye trust, that ye wil remaine in Ierusalem, during the siege?

11 Doeth not Hezekiah entice you to giue ouer your selues vnto death by famine and by thirst, saying, The Lorde our God shall deliuer vs out of the hande of the King of Asshur?

12 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his hie places and his altars, and commanded Iudah and Ierusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, & burne incense vpon it?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countreies: were the gods of the nations of other lands able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

14 Who is he of al the gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) that could deliuer his people out of mine hande? that your God should be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceyue you, nor seduce you after this sort, neither beleue ye him: for none of al the gods of any nation or kingdome was able to deliuer his people out of mine hand and out of the hande of my fathers: how much lesse shall your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

16 And his seruants spake yet more against the Lord God, and against his seruant Hezekiah, 17 He wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lorde God of Israel and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other countreies could not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hande.

18 Then they cryed with a lowde voyce in the Iewes speache vnto the people of Ierusalem that were on the wall, to feare them, and to astonish them, that they might take the citie.

19 Thus they spake agaynst the God of Ierusalem, as agaynst the gods of the people of the earth, euens the workes of mans handes, 20 But Hezekiah the King, and the Prophet Hiaiah the sonne of Amoz, prayed against this and cryed to heauen.

21 And the Lorde sent an Angel which destroyed al the valiant men, and the princes & captaines of the hoste of the King of Asshur: so he returned with shame to his owne land. And when he was come into the house of his god: they that came forth of

2. King. St. J.

Dist. 18.9.

21 So the Lord saved Hezekiah and his inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hand of Sennacherib King of Assyria, and from the hand of all other, and maintained them on every side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto<sup>y</sup> Lord to Ierusalem, & presents to Hezekiah King of Iudah, so that he was<sup>9</sup> magnified in the sight of all nations from thenceforth.

24. In those dayes Hezekiah was sicke vnto the death, and prayed vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue him a signe.

23 But Hezekiah did not render according to the reward bestowed vpon him: for his heart was lift vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudah and Ierusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled him self (after that his heart was lifted vp) he & the inhabitants of Ierusalem, & the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in 5 daies of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had exceeding much riches and honour, and he gave him treasures of silver, and of gold, and of precious stones, & of sweete odours, and of shields, and of all pleasaunt vessels:

28 And of store houses for  $\frac{1}{2}$  increase of wheat and wine and oyle, and stables for all beasts, and "rowes for the "stables.

29 And he made him cities, and had possession of sheepe and oxen in abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the vpper water springs of Gihon, and led them streight vnderneath toward the citie of Dauid Westward. so Hezekiah prospered in al his workes.

31 But because of the ambassadours of the princes of Babel, which sent vnto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to <sup>tr</sup>ie him, & to know all that was in his heart.

33. Concerning the rest of the actes of Hezekiah, and his goodnes, beholde, they are written in y<sup>e</sup> vision of Ishaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz, in the booke of y<sup>e</sup> Kings of Iudah and Israel.

33 So Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the highest sepulchre of the tonnes of David: and all Iudah and the inhabitantes of Ierusalem did him honour at his death: and Manasse his sonne reigned in his stead.

And setteth up true religion. 20 He dyeth and Amen

MAnasseh was twelue yere olde, *when he began to reigne, & he reigned fife and fiftie yere in Ierusalem:

2 And he did evil in the sight of the Lorde, like the abominations of the heathē, *whō
the Lorde had cast out before the children of [Israel].

3 For he went backe and built the high places, * which Hezekiah his father had broken downe: * and he set vp altars for Baalim, and made groues, and worshipped all the hoste of the heauen, and serued them.

4 Also he builde altars in the house of the Lord, wherof the Lord had said, *In Ierusalem shall my Name be for euer.

5 And he built altars for all the hoste of the heauen in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 And he caused his ſons to paſſe through the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom : hee gave himſelf to witchcraft and to charming, and to ſorcerie, and he vſed them that had familiar ſpirites, and ſoothſayers : hee did very much euill in the ſight of the Lord to anger him.

7 He put also the karued image, which bee had made, in <sup>the</sup> house of God: wherof God had said to Dauid & to Salomon his sonne, * In this house and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for euer.

8 Neither will *I make the foote of Israello remoue any more out of the lande which I haue appointed for your fathers , so that they take heed, and do al that I haue commanded them, according to the Law and statutes and iudgements by the <sup>b</sup>hande of Moses.

9 So Manasseh made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, & to doe worse then the heathen, whom the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake to Manasseh and to his people, but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them the captains of the hoste of the King of As-sur, which tooke Manasseh and put him in fetters, and bound him in chaines, & caried him to Babel.

13 And when he was in tribulation, he prayed to the Lord his God, and humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers.

13 And prayed vnto him: and God was<sup>d</sup> entreated of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdom: then Manasseh knew<sup>y</sup> the Lord was God.

14. Now after this he built a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the Westside of<sup>e</sup> Gihon in the valley, euen at the entrie of the fifth gate, and compassed about Ophel, & raised it very hie, and put captains of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

25 And he tooke away the strange gods and the image out of the house of the Lord, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the house of the Lord, and in Ierusalem, and cast them out of the citie.

16 Also he prepared the altar of the Lord, & sacrificed thereon peace offerings, and of thanks, and commaunded Iudah to serue the Lord God of Israel.

17. Neuertheles the people did sacrifice still in the hie places, but vnto the <sup>b</sup>Lorde their 18 ¶ Concerning the rest of the actes of Manasseh, and his prayer vnto his God, and the words of the Seers, that spake to him in the Name of the Lorde God of Israel, behold, they are written in the booke of the King of Israel.

19 And his prayer & howe God was intreated of him, and all his sinne, and his trespassse, & the places wherein he built hie places, and set groues and images (before he was humbled) behold, they are written in the booke of the Seers.

20 So Manasseh slept with his fathers, & they buried him in his owne house: and Amon his sonne reigned in his stead.

21 ¶ Amon was two and twenty yere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned two yere in Ierusalem.

22 But he did euil in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasseh his father: for Amon sacrificed to all the images, which Manasseh his father had made, and serued them;

23 And he humbled not him selfe before the Lord, as Manasseh his father had humbled him selfe: but this Amon trespassed more and more.

24 And his seruants * conspired against him, and slewe him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the land slewe all them that had conspired against King Amon: and the people of the land made Iosiah his sonne King in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Iosiah doth reuoyce the idoles, & And restoreth the Temple. The booke of the Lawe is founde. He sendeth to Iudah the Prophets for counsel. God heareth his prayer. He maketh a covenant with God.

1 ¶ Iosiah * was eight yere olde when he began to reigne, & he reigned in Ierusalem one and thirtie yere.

2 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed neither to the right hand nor to the left.

3 And in the eight yere of his reigne (when he was yet a childe) he began to seeke after the God of Dauid his father: and in the twelfth yere he began to purge Iudah, and Ierusalem from the hie places, and the groues, and the karued images, and molten images:

4 And they brake downe * in his sight the altars of Baalim, & he caused to cut downe the images that were on hie vpon them: he brake also the groues, and the karued images, and the molten images, & stampd them to powder, and strowed it vpon the graues of them that had sacrificed vnto them.

5 Also he burnt the bones of the Priestes vpon their altars, and purged Iudah and Ierusalem.

6 And in the cities of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and Simeon, euen vnto Naphtali, with their maules they brake all round about.

7 And when hee had * destroyed the altars and the groues, and had broken and stampd to powder the images, & had cut down all the idoles throughout all the land of Irael, he returned to Ierusalem.

8 ¶ Then in y<sup>e</sup> eighteenth yere of his reigne, when he had purged the land & the Temple, he sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaliah, and Maaseiah the gouernour of the citie, and Iosiah the sonne of Iosahaz the recorder, to reparaire the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the hie Priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the doore, had gathered at the hand of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and of all the residue of Israel, and of all Iudah and Benjamin, and of the inhabitantes of Ierusalem.

10 And they put it in the hands of them that should doe the worke, and had the ouersight in the house of the Lorde; and they gaue it to the workemen that wrought in the house of the Lord, to reparaire & amend the house.

11 Euen to the workemen & to the builders gaue they it, to bye hewed stone & timber for couples and for beames of the houses, which the Kings of Iudah had destroyed.

12 And the men did the worke faithfully, and the ouersers of them were Iahaz and Obadiah the Leuites, of the childre of Merari, and Zechariah, and Meshullam, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Leuites all that could skill of instruments of musike.

13 And they were ouer the bearers of burdes, and them that set forward all the workmen in euery worke: & of y<sup>e</sup> Leuites were scribes, and officers and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiah the Priest found the booke of the Lawe of the Lord giuen by the hand of Moses.

15 Therefore Hilkiah answered and sayd to Shaphan the chaucealer, I haue found the booke of the Lawe in the house of the Lorde: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan.

16 And Shaphan caried the booke to the King, and brought the King worde agayne, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy seruants, that do they.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was founde in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the handes of the ouersers, & to the handes of y<sup>e</sup> workemen.

18 Also Shaphan the chaucealer declared to the King, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath giuen me a booke, and Shaphan read it before the King.

19 And when the King had heard the words of the Law, he tare his clothes.

20 And the King commanded Hilkiah, & Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, & Abdon the sonne of Micah, and Shaphan the chaucealer, and Asaiah the Kings seruant, saying,

21 Goe and enquire of the Lorde for me, and for the rest in Israel and Iudah, concerning the wordes of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lorde that is fallen len vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the worde of the Lord, to do after all that is written in this booke.

22 Then Hilkiah and they that the King had appointed, went to Huldah the propheteesse the wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tokhath, the sonne of Hafrah keeper of the wardrobe (and she dwelt in Ierusalem within the college) and they communed hereof with her.

23 And she answered them, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Tell ye the man that sent you to me,

24 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will bring euill vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants thereof, even all the curses, that are written in the booke which they haue read before the King of Iudah:

25 Because they haue forsaken me, and burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger me with all the workes of their handes, therefore shall my wrath fall vpon this place, and shal not be quenched.

26 But to the King of Iudah, who sent you to enquire of y Lord, so shall ye say vnto him, Thus saith y Lord God of Israel, The words which thou hast heard, shal come to passe.

27 But because thine heart did melt, & thou didest humble thy selfe before God, and thou heardest his wordes against this place and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thy selfe before me & tarest thy clothes, and wepest before me, I haue also heard it, sayth the Lord.

28 Behold, I wil gather thee to thy fathers, & thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shal not see all the euill, which I will bring vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants of the same. Thus they brought y King word againe.

29 Then the King sent and gathered all the elders of Iudah and Ierusalem.

30 And the King went vp into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and the Priests and the Leuites, and all the people from the greatest to the smallest, and he read in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the couenant that was found in the house of the Lord.

31 And the King stood by his pillar, & made a couenant before the Lord, to walke after the Lord, & to keepe his commandemens, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, & that he would accomplish the wordes of the couenant written in the same booke.

32 And he caused all that were found in Ierusalem, and Benjamin to stande to it: and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did according to the couenant of God, even the God of their fathers.

33 So Iosiah tooke away all the abominations out of all the countreys that pertained to y children of Israel, & compelled all y were found in Israel, to serue the Lord their God: so all his dayes they turned not backe from the Lord God of their fathers.

1 Iosiah kept the Passouer a He seteth forth Gods seruice.
20 He fighteth against the King of Egypt, and dyeth, &c.
The people bewaile him.

1 M oreouer Iosiah kept a Passouer vnto the Lord in Ierusalem, and they slewe the Passouer in the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

2 And he appointed the Priests to their charges, and encouraged them to the seruice of the house of the Lord,

3 And he sayde vnto the Leuites, y taught all Israel & were sanctified vnto the Lord, Put the holy Arke in the house which Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel did build: it shalbe no more a burden vpon your shoulders: serue nowe the Lord your God and his people Israel,

4 And prepare your selues by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as Dauid the King of Israel hath written, and according to the writing of Salomons sonne,

5 And stand in the Sanctuarie according to the deuision of the families of your brethren the children of the people, and after the deuision of the familie of the Leuites:

6 So kill the Passouer, & sanctifie your selues, and prepare your brethren that they may doe according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Iosiah also gaue to the people sheepe, lambs and kiddes, al for the Passouer, even to al that were present, to the number of thirtie thousand, and three thousand bullocks: these were of the Kings substance.

8 And his princes offered willingly vnto the people, to the Priests and to the Leuites: Hilkiah, and Zechariah, and Iehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the Priests for the Passouer, even two thousand & six hundred sheepe & three hundred bullocks.

9 Conaniah also and Shemaiah and Nathaneel his brethren, & Hahabiah & Ieiel, & Iozabad, chiefe of the Leuites gaue vnto the Leuites for the Passouer, six thousand sheepe, and five hundred bullocks.

10 Thus the seruice was prepared, and the Priests stoode in their places, also the Leuites in their orders according to y Kings commaundement:

11 And they slew the Passouer, & the Priests sprinkled the blood with their handes, and the Leuites slayed them.

12 And they tooke away from the burnt offering to giue it according to the diuisions of the families of the children of the people, to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moses, & so of the bullocks.

13 And they roasted the Passouer with fire, according to the custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pots, pannes, and cauldrons, and distributed them quickly to all the people.

14 Afterward also they prepared for them selues & for the Priests: for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offerings, & the fat vntil night: therefore for the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron.

25 And the fingers the sonnes of Alaph stood in their standing * according to the com-man, and Jeduthun the Kings<sup>b</sup> Secr: and the porters at every gate, who might not depart from their seruice: therefore their brethren the Leuites prepared for them:

16 So all the service of the Lord was prepared the same day, to keepe the Passecouer, & to offer burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lords, according to the commaundement of King Iosiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Pasſeouer the ſame time, and ſ feaſt of the vnleauened bread ſeuē dayes.

18 And there was no Passouer kept like that, in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel y. Prophet: neyther dyd all the Kings of Israel keepe such a Passouer as Iosiah kept, and the Priests and the Leuites, & al Iudah, & Israel that were<sup>n</sup> present, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

19 This Pafleouer was kept in the eighteenth yeare of the reigne of Iofiah.

10 ¶ After all this, when Iofiah had prepared the Tēple, Necho King of Egypt came vp to fight againſt * Carchemiſh by Perath, and Iofiah went out againſt him.

But he sent messengers to him, saying, What haue I to do with thee, thou King of Iudah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house of mine enemy, and God commanded me to make haste: leaue of to come against God, which is with me, lest he destroy thee.

25 But Iosiah would not turne his face from him, but<sup>1</sup> changed his apparel to fight with him, and hearkened not vnto the words of Necho, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

23 And the shooters shot at King Iosiah: then the King said to his seruants, Carry me away, for I am very sicke.

The prayer of Manasseh King of the Iewes.

This prayer is not in the Shewre, but is translated out of the Greeke.

Thou hast promised that repentance shall be the way for them to returne to thee. b He speaketh thus in comparison of himselfe & those holy fathers which haue their commendation in Scripture, so in respect of himselfe he calleth their sinnes nothing, but attribureth vnto the righteoulnesse.

O Lord almightie, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Iacob, and of their righteous seede, which hast made heauen & earth with all their ornament, which hast bounde the sea by the worde of thy commaundement, which hast shut vp the deepe and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whome all do feare and tremble before thy power: for the maiestie of thy glory cannot be borne, and thine angry threatning toward sinners is importable, but thy merciful promise is vnmeasurable & vnsearchable. For thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, and most mercifull, and repentest for mans miseries. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodnes hast promised repentance & forgiveness to them that sinne against thee, and for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners y they may be saued. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of y<sup>e</sup> iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, and Isaac and Iacob, which haue not sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner: for I haue sinned about the number of the sand of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of the heauens for the multitude of mine vnrighteousnes. I am bowed downe with many yron bandes, that I cannot lift vp mine head, neither haue any release. For I haue prouoked thy wrath & done euill before thee. I did not thy will, neyther kept I thy commandments. I haue set vp abominations & haue multiplied offences. Nowe therefore I bowe the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I haue sinned, O Lord, I haue sinned, and I acknowledge my transgressions: but I humbly beseech thee, forgive me: O Lord, forgive me, & destroy me not with my transgressions. Be not angry with me for euer by referring euill for me, neither condemne me into the lower partes of the earth. For thou art the God, even the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shewe all thy goodnesse: for thou wilt saue me that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercy: therefore I will prayse thee for euer al the dayes of my life, for all the power of the heauens prayse thee, and thine is the glory for euer and euer, Amen.

THE ARGUMENT.

As the Lord is ever mercifull vnto his Church, and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their owne miseries, & be exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the world and aspire vnto the heauen: so after that he had visited the Iewes and kept them now in bondage seuentie yeres in a strange countrey among infidels and idolaters, he remembered his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raised them vp a deliuerer, and moued both the heart of the chief ruler to pities them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding left they should growe into a contempt of Gods great benefite, he keepeth them still in exercise, and raiseth domestical enemies, which endeavour as much as they can to hinder their most worthy enterprise: yet by the exhortation of the Prophets they went forwards by little and little till their worke was finished.

The author of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest, and Scribe of the Lawes chap. 7. 6. He returned to Ierusalem the sixt yere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is more then fiftie yeres after the returne of the first under Zerubbabel, when the Temple was built. He brought with him a great compaign, and much wealth, with letters to the Kings officers for all such things as should be necessarie for the Temple: and as his comming he redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

CHAP. I.

1. Cyrus sendeth against the people that was in captiuitie, & comforteth them in their holy temple.

Owe * in * the first yere of Cyrus King of Persia (that y worde of the LORD, spoken by the mouth of Ieremiah, might be accomplished) y Lorde stirred vp the * spirit of Cyrus King of Persia, & he made a proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing, saying,

Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, The Lord God of heauen hath giuen me * all y kingdoms of the earth; and he hath commanded me to build him an house in Ierusalem, which is in Iudah.

Who is hee among you of all his people with whome his God is? let him goe vp to Ierusalem which is in Iudah; and build the house of the Lord God of Israel: he is the God, which is in Ierusalem.

And euery one that remaineth in any place (where he sojourneth) * let the men of his place relieue him with silver & with golde, and with substance, and with cattell, & with a willing offering, for the house of God that is in Ierusalem.

Then the chiefe fathers of Iudah and Benjamin, and the Priests and Levites rose vp, with all them whose spirit God had rayled to goe vp, to build the house of the Lorde which is in Ierusalem.

And all * they y were about them, strengthened their handes with vessels of silver, with golde, with substance and with cattell, and with precious thinges, besides all that was willingly offered.

Also the King Cyrus brought forth y vessels of the house of the Lord, * which Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of Ierusalem, and had put them in the house of his god.

Euen them did Cyrus King of Persia bring forth by the hande of Mithredath the treasurer, and counceined them vnto Sheshbazzar the Prince of Iudah.

And this is the number of them, thirtie basins of golde, a thousand basins of silver, nine and twentie * kniues, Thirtie boules of gold, & of silver boules of the second sort, foure hundredth and ten, and of other vessels, a thousand.

All the vessels of gold and silver were fixe thousand and foure hundredth. Sheshbazzar brought vp all * with them of the captiuitie that came vp from Babel to Ierusalem.

With y lewes that had bene kept captiues in Babylon.

CHAP. II.

The number of them that returned from the captiuitie.

THESE * also are the sonnes * of the prouince, that went vp out of the captiuitie (whome Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel had caried away vnto Babel) and returned to Ierusalem; and to Iudah, euery one vnto his citie,

Which came with Zerubbabel, to wit, Iehus, Nehemiah, Seraiah, Reeliah, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispar, Biguai, Rehum, Beaniah.

27 ¶ The King sent an answer vnto Rehun & chameclour, and Shimhai the scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other beyond the River, Shalam and Cheeth.

28 ¶ The letter which ye sent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before me, and I have commaunded and they haue searched, and founde, that this cite of olde tyme hath made insurrections against kings, and hath rebelled and rebellion hath bene committed therein.

29 There haue bene mightie kings also ouer Ierusalem, which haue ruled ouer al beyond the River, and telle, tribute, & custome was giuen vnto them.

30 Make ye now a decree, that those men may cease, and that the cite be not build, til I haue giuen another commaundement.

31 Take heed now that ye faile not to do this: why should damage grow to hurt the King?

32 ¶ When the copie of King Artabastres letter was read before Rehun & Shimhai the scribe, & their companions, they went vp in all the hast to Ierusalem vnto the Iewes, & caused them to cease by force and power.

33 Then ceased the worke of the house of God, which was in Ierusalem, & did stay vnto the second yere of Darius King of Persia.

¶ Haggai and Zechariah the prophets. ¶ The worke of the Temple hath bene contrary to the words of Talmi.

¶ Haggai a Prophet and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo a Prophet prophesied vnto the Iewes that were in Iudah, and Ierusalem, in the name of the God of Israel, thus vnto them.

34 ¶ Then Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Iesua the sonne of Iozadak arose, and began to buyde the house of God at Ierusalem, & with them were Prophets of God, which helped them.

35 ¶ At the same tyme came to this Tatnai, which was capteine beyond the River, and his brethren, bannai and their companions, & said vnto them, Who hath giuen you commaundements to build this house, and lay the foundations of these walles?

36 ¶ Then said we vnto them after this manner, What are all the names of the men that buyde this building?

37 ¶ But the eye of their God was vpon the Elders of the Iewes, that they coule not cease their worke, till the matter came to Darius King, then they answered by letter thus vnto him.

38 ¶ The copie of the letter, that Talmi capteine beyond the River, and Shebazzar, & his companions, Aphasethai, which were beynd the River, sent vnto King Darius.

39 ¶ They sent a letter vnto him, whiche it was written thus vnto Darius the King, all peace.

40 ¶ But known vnto the King, thus we went into the prouince of Iudaea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with great stones, and beames are layd in the walles, and this worke is wrought speedily, & prospereth in their handes.

¶ Then asked we those Elders, & said vnto them thus, Who hath giuen you commaundement to build this house, and to lay the foundation of these walles?

41 ¶ We asked their names also, that we might certifye thee, & that we might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

42 ¶ But they answered vs thus, & said, We are the seruants of the God of heauens & earth, and buyde the house that was buyd of olde & many yeeres ago, which a great King of Israel builded, and founded.

43 ¶ But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, his fure thei ouer into the handes of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel, the Caldean, and he destroyed this house, and carried the people away captiue vnto Babel.

44 ¶ But in the first yere of Cyrus King of Babel, King Cyrus made a decree to build this house of God.

45 ¶ And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of god, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the Temple, that was in Ierusalem, and brought them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the King take out of the Temple of Babel, and they gaue them vnto Sheshbazzar by his name, whome he had made capteine.

46 ¶ And he said vnto him, Take these vessels and go thy way, and put them in the Temple that is in Ierusalem, and let the house of God be build in his place.

47 ¶ Then came the same Sheshbazzar and layd the foundation of the house of God, which is in Ierusalem, and since that tyme euen vntill now, hath it bene in building, yet it is not finished.

48 ¶ Now therefore if it please the King, let there be searche made in the house of the Kings treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by King Cyrus, to buyde this house of God in Ierusalem, and let the King send his minde concerning this.

CHAP. VI

¶ At the commaundement of Darius King of Persia, after the Temple was builded and dedicated, the children of Israel kept the feast of tabernacles.

¶ Then King Darius gaue commaundement, & they made searche in the li-braries of the treasures, which were there layd vp in Babel.

¶ And there was found in a coffer (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, and therein was thus written.

Three orders of great stones, and the order of cymbre, and let the expenses be given of the Kings house. And also let them tender the vessels of the house of God (of gold and silver, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the Temple, which was in Jerusalem, and brought into Babel) and let him go into the Temple that is in Jerusalem to his place & put them in the house of God.

Therefore Tarnai captaine beyond the River, & Sathar Boznai, and their companions Apharsaica, which are beyond the River, let yefare from thence. Suffer yefare the marks of this house of God, and let the captaine of the Iewes and the Elders of the Iewes my build this house of God in his place.

For he hath given a commandment what ye shall do to the Elders of these Iewes, for the building of this house of God, that of the revenues of the King, which is of the tribute beyond the River, there be incontinently expenses given unto these men. They ceased not.

And that which they shall have need of, let him be given unto them day by day, whether it be young bullocks, or rams, or lambs for the burnt offerings of the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, and oyle, according to the appointment of the Priests that are in Jerusalem, that there be no fault. That they may have to offer freere and ours unto the God of heaven, and pray for the King also, and for his sonnes. And I have made a decree, that whosoever shall alter this sentence, the wood shall be pulled downe from his house, and shall be leaved, and he shall be hanged between his house and his house shall be made a dunghill for this. And the God that hath called his Name, the dwellers therein, destroy all kings and people that put to their hand to alter, and to destroy this house of God, which is in Jerusalem. I Darius have made a decree, let it be done with speede.

Then I went the captaine beyond the River, and Sathar Boznai, and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent in, they did speedily.

So the Elders of the Iewes builded, and they prepared by prophasy of Haggai the Prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo, and they builded and finished it, by the appointment of the God of Israel, and by the commandment of Cyrus, and Darius, and Artaxastive King of Persia.

And this house was finished the third day of the month of Adar, which was the first yere of the reigne of King Darius.

And the children of Israel, the Priests, and the Levites, and the residue of the children of the captivity kept, kept dedication of this house of God with joy.

And offered as a dedication of this house of God an hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs, and twelve goats, for the sinne of all Israel according to the number of the Tribes of Israel.

And dwelt the Priests in their order, and the Levites in their courses over the service of God in Jerusalem, as it is written in the booke of Moses.

And the children of the captivity kept kept the Passover on the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

(For the Priests and the Levites were purified altogether) and they killed the Passover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.

So the children of Israel which were come againe out of captivity, and all families had separated them selves from them, from the filthines of the Heathen of the land, to seek the Lord God of Israel, and esteem.

And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven dayes with joy, for the Lord had made them glad, and turned the heart of the King of Ashur unto them, so to encourage them in the works of the house of God, as in the God of Israel.

CHAP. VIII.

Now after these things, in the reigne of Artaxastive King of Persia,

Ezra the sonne of Seraiah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Hilkiyah,

The sonne of Shallum, the sonne of Zadok, the sonne of Ahitub,

The sonne of Amariah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Meraioth,

The sonne of Zeraiah, the sonne of Vzzi,

The sonne of Bakki, the sonne of Benai,

The sonne of Abihim, the sonne of Phinehas, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron, the chiefe Priest.

This Ezra came up from Babel, and was a scribe prompt in the Lawe of Moses, which the Lord God of Israel had given, and the King gave him all his request according to the hand of the Lord his God which was upon him.

And when he went up, he brought with him the children of Israel, and of the Priests, and the Levites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinims into Jerusalem, in the seventh yere of King Artaxastive.

And he came to Jerusalem in the first moneth, which was in the seventh yere of the King.

For upon the first day of the first moneth began he to go up from Babel, and on the first day of the first moneth came he to Jerusalem, according to the good hand of his God which was upon him.

For Ezra had prepared his heart to seeke the Law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teach the precepts & iudgements in Israel. And thus it the copie of the letter that King Artaxastive gave unto Ezra the Priest.

And Ezra was a writer of the words of the commandments of the Lord, & of his statutes.

30 And there at the River, by Ahana, I proclaimed a fast, that we might humble our selves before our God, and seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.

33 Then I separated twentie of the chiefe of the Priests, Sheriah, and Habbabiah, and seuen of their brethren with them.

34 And weighed them the silver & the gold, & the vessels, euer the offering of the house of our God, which the King and his counselors, and his Princes, and all Israel that were present had offered.

35 And I weighed vnto their hand six hundred and fiftie talents of silver, and in silver vessels, an hundredth talents, and in gold, an hundredth talents.

36 And twentie basins of gold, of a thousand drammes, and two vessels of shining brasie, verie good, and precious as golde.

37 And I said vnto them, Ye are consecrate vnto the Lord, and the vessels are consecrate, and the golde and the silver are freely offered vnto y Lord God of your fathers.

38 Watch ye, and keepe them vntil ye weigh them before the chiefe Priests and the Levites, and the chiefe fathers of Israel in Ierusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

39 So the Priests and the Levites received the weight of the silver and of the golde, and of the vessels to bring them to Ierusalem, vnto the house of our God.

40 Then we departed from the Ryuer of Ahana on the twelfth day of the first month, to go vnto Ierusalem, and the hande of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemy, and of such as layed waite by the waile.

31 And we came to Ierusalem, and abode there three daies.

32 And on the fourth daye was the silver weighed, and the golde and the vessel in the house of our God by the hande of Meremoth the sonne of Uriah the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehas, and with them was Iozabab the sonne of Ieshua, and Noziah the sonne of Binui the Levites.

33 By number and by weight of euerie one, and all the weight was written at the same time.

34 Also the children of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offered burnt offerings vnto the God of Israel, twelue bullockes for all Israel, sixtie and fixe rammes, seentie and seuen lambes, and twelue hee goats for sinne: all was a burnt offering of the Lord.

35 And they deliuered the Kings commission vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaines beyonde the Ryuer: and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

For they haue taken their daughters to themselves, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holy seede with the people of the land, and the hand of the princes and rulers hath bene chiefe in this trespass.

But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and plucked of the heare of mine head, and of my beard, and sat downe astonished.

5 And at the evening sacrifice I arose vp from mine hesuites, and when I had rent my clothes & my garment, I fel vpon my knees, and spread out mine hands vnto the Lorde my God.

6 And said, O my God, I am confounded & ashamed, to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee my God: for our iniquities are increased vnto our head, and our trespass is grown vnto vnto the heauen.

7 From the dayes of our fathers haue we bene in a great trespass vnto this day, and for our iniquities haue we, our Kings, and our Priests bene deliuered into the hande of the Kings of the land, vnto the sword, into captiuitie, into a spoyle, and into confusion of face, as appereth this day.

38 Watch ye, and keepe them vntil ye weigh them before the chiefe Priests and the Levites, and the chiefe fathers of Israel in Ierusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

39 So the Priests and the Levites received the weight of the silver and of the golde, and of the vessels to bring them to Ierusalem, vnto the house of our God.

40 Then we departed from the Ryuer of Ahana on the twelfth day of the first month, to go vnto Ierusalem, and the hande of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemy, and of such as layed waite by the waile.

8 And

8 And now for a little space grace hath bene shewed from the Lord our God, in causing us to remain to escape, and in giving vs a name in his holie place, that our God may lighten our eyes, and giue vs a little reuiuing in our seruitude.

9 For though we were bondme, yet our God hath not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hath enclined mercie vnto vs in the sight of the Kings of Persia, to giue vs life, and to erect the house of our God, and to redresse the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iudah and in Ierusalem.

10 And now, our God, what shall we say after this for we haue forsaken thy commandements,

11 Which thou hast commanded by thy seruants the Prophets, saying, The lande whereunto ye go to possesse it, is an vn-cleane land, because of the filthines of the people of the landes, which by their abominations, and by their vncleannes haue filled it from corner to corner.

12 Now therefore shall ye not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall ye take their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor seeke their peace nor welch for euer, that ye may be strong and eat the goodnes of the land, & leaue it for an inheritance to your sonnes for euer.

13 And after all that is come vpon vs for our euil decdes, and for our great trespasses (seeing that thou our God, hast stayed vs from being beneth for our iniquities, and hast giuen vs such delinences)

14 Should we returne to breake thy commandements, and ioyne in alliance with the people of such abominations? wouldst not thou be angry toward vs til thou haddest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant nor anie escaping?

15 O Lord God of Israel, thou art iust, for we haue bene referred to escape, as appeareth this day: behold, we are before thee in our trespasses: therefore we cannot stande before thee because of our

16 The people repented and turned, and put away their strange wiues.

17 Whiles Ezra prayed thus, and confessed him self weeping, and falling downe before the house of God, there assembled vnto him of Israel a vetie great Congregation of men and women & children: for the people wept with a great lamentation.

18 Then Shechaniah the sonne of Iehiel one of the sonnes of Elam, answered, and said to Ezra, We haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wiues of the people of the land, yet now there is hope in Israel concerning this.

19 Now therefore let vs make a couenant with our God, to put away all the wybes (and such as are borne of them) according to the counsell of the Lord, & of those that feare the commandements of our God; & let it be done according to the Lawe.

4 Arise: for the matter belongeth thus to thee: we also will be with thee of counsell, and do it according to the lawe of our God.

5 Then arose Ezra, and caused the chiefe Priests, the Levities, and all Israel, to sweare that they would do according to this word.

6 So they swore.

7 And Ezra rose vp from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Iohanan the sonne of Eliashib: he wente euen thither, but he did eate neither bread, nor drunke water: for he mourned, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie.

8 And they caused a proclamation to go throughout Iudah and Ierusalem, vnto all them of the captiuitie, that they should assemble them selues vnto Ierusalem.

9 And whosoever would not come within three dayes according to the counsell of the Princes and Elders, all his substance should be forfait, and he should be separate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

10 Then all the men of Iudah and Benjamin assembled them selues vnto Ierusalem within three daies, which was the twentieth day of the ninth moneth, and all the people fasted in the streets of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for y<sup>e</sup> frame.

11 And Ezra the Priest stood vpon, and saide vnto them, Ye haue transgressed, and haue taken strange wiues, to increase y<sup>e</sup> trespass of Israel.

12 Now therefore giue praise vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his will, and separate your selues from the people of the lande, and from the strange wiues.

13 And all the Congregation answered, and said with a loud voice, So will we do according to thy wordes vnto vs.

14 But the people are manie, and it is a raynie weather, and we are not able to stande without, neither is the worke of one day or two: for we are manie that haue offended in this thing.

15 Let our rulers stande therefore before all the Congregation, and let all them which haue take strange wiues in our cities, come at the time appointed, and with them the Elders of euerie cite and the judges thereof, til the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

16 Then were appointed Jonathan the sonne of Ashb-el, and Iahaziah the sonne of Tihuah ouer this matter, and Meshullam and Shabbethai the Leuites helped them.

17 And they of the captiuitie did so and departed, vnto Ezra the Priest, and the men that were chiefe fathers to the familie of their fathers by name, and sate downe in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

18 And vntil the first day of the first moneth they were finishing the busines with all the men that had taken strange wiues. And of the sonnes of the Priests there were men found, that had taken strange wiues, of the sonnes of Iehush, the sonne of Iozadak, & of his brethren, Mes-siah,

NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God doeth in all ages and at all times for worthy persons for the commoditie and profite of his Church, as now within the compasse of fower hundred yeeres he raysed up diuers excellent men for the reformation of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah. Whereof the first was their capitaine to bring them home, and provided that the Temple was buylded: the second reformed their manners and planted religion: and the third buylded up the walle, deliuered the people from oppression, and provided that the lawe of God was put in execution among them. He was a godlie man and in great auerisite with the King, so that the King fauoured him greatly, and gaue him most ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which he could desire. This booke is also called of the Latins the second of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

1 Nehemiah beyaileth the calamitie of Ierusalem. 2 He confesseth the finnes of the people, and prayeth God for thei.

1 HE words of Nehemiah sonne of Hachaliah in the moneth Chisleu, in the twetieth yere, as I was in the palace of Shushan,

2 Came Hanani, one of my brethren, he and the men of Iudah, and I asked them concerning the Iewes that were deliuered, which were of the residue of the captiuitie, and concerning Ierusalem.

3 And they said vnto me, The residue that are left of the captiuitie there in the province, are in great affliction and in reproch, & the wall of Ierusalem is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard these wordes, I sate downe & wept, and mourned certaine daies, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen,

5 And said, * O Lord God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that keepeth couen-nant and mercie for them that loue him, &
obserue his commandements,

6 I pray thee, let thine eares be attent, and thine eyes open, to heare the prayer of thy seruant, which I pray before thee daylie, day and night for the children of Israel thy seruants, and confesse the finnes of the children of Israel, which we haue sinned against thee, both I and my fathers house haue sinned:

7 We haue grievously sinned against thee, and haue not kept the commandements, nor the statutes, nor the iudgements, which thou commandedst thy seruant Moses.

8 I beseech thee, remember the word that thou commandedst thy seruant Moses, saying, Ye wil transgresse, and I will scatter you abroad among the people.

9 But if ye turne vnto me, and keepe my commandements, and do them, though your scattering were to the vttermost part of the heauen, yet will I gather you from thence and will bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen, to place my Name there.

10 Now

to pray on for ourselves and to confesse our

10 Now these are thy seruants and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mightie hand.

11 O Lord, I beseech thee, let thine eare now hearken to the prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruantes, who desire to <sup>d</sup>feare thy Name, and I pray thee, cause thy seruant to prosper this daye, and giue him fauour in the presence of <sup>e</sup>this man: for I was the Kings butler.

CHAP. II.

2 And the King said vnto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing, but sorowe of heart. Then was I sore afrayd,

3 And I said to the king, God saue the King for euer: why should not my countenance be sad, when the citie and house of the sepulchres of my fathers lyeth waste, and the gates thereof are deuoured with fire?

4 And the King said vnto me, For what thing doest thou require? Then I praied <sup>h</sup>to the God of heauen.

5 And said vnto the King, If it please <sup>i</sup>thy King, and if thy seruant haue found fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou wouldest send me to Iudah vnto the citie of the sepulchres of my fathers, that I may buylde it.

6 And the King said vnto me, (the Queene also sitting by him) How long thal thy iourney be? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the King, and he sent me, and I set him a time.

7 After I said vnto the King, If it please the King, let them giue me letters to the captaines beyond the <sup>j</sup>Riuier, that they maye conuay me ouer, til I come into Iudah,

8 And letters vnto Asaph the keeper of the Kings <sup>k</sup>parke, that he may giue me timber to build the gates of the palace (which apperteyned to the house) and for the walles of the citie, and for the house that I shall enter into. And <sup>l</sup>thy King gaue me according to <sup>m</sup>the good hand of my God vpon me.

9 <sup>n</sup>Then came I to the captaines beyonde the Riuier, and gaue them the Kings letters. And the King had sent captaines of the armie and horsemen with me.

10 But <sup>o</sup>Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, & it grieved them fore, that there was come a man which sought the welth of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Ierusalem, and was there three dayes.

12 And I rose in the night, I, and a fewe men with me: for I tolde no man, what God had put in mine heart to do at Ierusalem, and there was not a beast with me, saue the beast whereon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the draggon well, and to the dung porte, and vewed the walles of Ierusalem, how they were broken downe, and the portes thereof deuoured with the fire.

14 Then I went forth vnto the gate of the <sup>p</sup>fountainne, and to the Kings fishpoole, and there was no roume for the beast that was vnder me to passe.

15 Then wet I vp in the night by the brooke, and vewed the wall, and turned backe, and comming backe, I entered by the gate of the valley and returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tel it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward I said vnto them, Ye see the miserie that we are in, how Ierusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come and let vs buylde the wall of Ierusalem, that we be no more <sup>q</sup>a reproch.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God, (which was good ouer me) and also of the Kings words that he had spoken vnto me. And they said, Let vs ryse, and buylde. So they <sup>r</sup>strengthened their hand to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, & Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, and <sup>s</sup>Geshem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs and despised vs, and saide, What a thing is this that ye doe? Will ye <sup>t</sup>rebell against the King?

20 Then answered I them, and said to them, The God of heauen, he wil prosper vs, and we his seruants wil rise vp and buylde: but as for you, ye haue no portion nor right, nor <sup>u</sup>memorial in Ierusalem.

God, euer laye treason vnto their charge, both because it maketh them most odious to the worlde, and also <sup>v</sup>it stirreth the hatred of Princes against them. <sup>w</sup>Neither ye are of the number of the children of God (to whom he hath appointed this citie only) neither did any of your predecessours euer feare God.

CHAP. III.

1 Then arose Eliashib the hie Priest with his brethren the Priests, and they built the sheepegate: they <sup>y</sup>repaired it, and set vp the doores thereof: euen vnto the towre of Meah repaired they it, and vnto <sup>z</sup>the towre of Hananeel.

2 And next vnto him buylded the men of Iericho, and beside him Zaccur the sonne of Imri.

3 But the fish porte did the sonnes of Seanaah buylde, which also layed the beames thereof, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

4 And next vnto them fortified Merimoth, the sonne of Vrijah, the sonne of Hakkoz: and next vnto them fortified Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Me-sheazabel: and next vnto them fortified Zadok, the sonne of Baana:

And next vnto them fortified the Tekoites: but the great men of them <sup>aa</sup>put not their neckes to the worke of their lordes.

And the gate of the <sup>ab</sup>olde fishpoole fortified

13 The valley gate fortified Hanum, and the inhabitants of Zanuah: they built it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, euen a thousand cubites on the wall vnto the dung port.

14 But the dung porte fortified Malchiah, the sonne of Rechab, the ruler of the fourth part of Beth-haacrem: he buyld it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

15 But the gate of y fountaine fortified Shalun, the sonne of Col-hozeh, the ruler of the fourth part of Mizpah: he buylded it, and couered it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, and the wall vnto the fishpoole of Shehah by y Kings garden, & vnto the steppes that go downe from the cite of Dauid.

16 After him fortified Nehemiah the sonne of Azbuk, the ruler of the halfe parte of Beth-zur, vntil the other side ouer against the sepulchres of Dauid, and to the fishpoole that was repaired, & vnto the house of the mightie.

17 After him fortified the Leuites, Rehum the sonne of Bani, and next vnto him fortified Hahabiah the ruler of the halfe part of Keilah in his quarter.

18 After him fortified their brethren: Bauai, the sonne of Henadad the ruler of the halfe part of Keilah:

1 But when Sanballat heard that we buylded the wall, then was he wroth & foregriued, and mocked the Iewes.

11 Also our aduersaries had sayde, They shal not know, neither see, till we come into the middles of them & slay them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they told vs ten tymes, From all places whence ye shall returne, they will be vpon vs.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places be-hinde the wall vpon the toppes of the stones, and placed the people by their families, with their swordes, their speares & their bowes.

14 Then I beheld, and rose vp, & sayde vnto
the Princes, and to the rulers, & to the rest of the people, Be not afraid of them: remember the great Lord, & fearfull, & fight for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wyues, and your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was knowne vnto vs, then God brought their counsel to nought, & we turned all againe to the wall, euery one vnto his worke.

16 And from that day, halfe of the yong me did the labour, and the other halfe parte of them helde the speares, and shields, and bowes, and habergins: & the rulers stood behind all the house of Iudah.

17 They that buylded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, and they that laded, did the worke with one hand, and with the other held the sworde.

18 For euery one of the buylders had his sworde girde on his loynes, and so buyl-ded: and he that blew the trumpet, was beside me.

19 Then sayde I vnto the Princes, & to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, & we are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

20 In what place shal ye heare the found of the trumpet, I resort ye thither vnto vs:
our God shal fight for vs.

21 So we laboured in the woorke, & halfe of them held the speares, from the appearing of the morning, till the starres came forth.

22 And at the same time saide I vnto the people, Let euery one with his seruau lodge within Ierusalem, that they may be a watch for vs in the night, & labor in y day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethre, nor my ser-uants, nor y men of the ward, (which folo-wed me) none of vs did put of our clothes, fane euery one put them of for washing.

CHAP. V.

The people are oppressed and in necessitie. 6 Nehemiah remedied it. 14 He took not the portion of others that had ruled before, lest he should grieve the people.

NOW there was a great cry of the people, and of their wiues against their brethren the Iewes.

2 For there were that saide, We, our sonnes & our daughters are many, therefore wee take vp corne, that we may eate & liue.

3 And there were that sayde, We must gage our lands, & our vineyardes, & our houses, and take vp corne for the famine.

4 There were also that saide, We haue borowed money for the Kinges tribute vpon our lands & our vineyardes.

5 And nowe our fleshe is as the fleshe of our brethre, & our sonnes as their sonnes:
& lo, we bring into subiection our sonnes, & our daughters, as seruants, and there be of our daughters now in subiection, and there is no power in our hands: for other men haue our landes and our vineyardes.

6 Then was I very angry whē I heard their crye and these wordes.

7 And I thought in my minde, & I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, & saide vnto them, You lay burthens euery one vpon his brethren: and I set a great assembly against them,

8 And I sayd vnto them, We (according to our abilitie) haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were solde vnto the heathen: & will you sell your brethren againe, or shal they be sold vnto vs? Then helde they their peace, & could not answer.

9 I saide also, That which ye doe, is not good. Ought ye not to walke in the feare of our God, for the reproche of the heathen our enemies?

10 For euen I, my brethren, & my seruants do lend them money & corne: I pray you, let vs leaue of this burden.

11 Restore, I pray you, vnto them this daye their lands, their vineyardes, their oliues, and their houses, and remis the hundredth part of the siluer and of the corne, of the wine, & of the oile that ye exact of them.

12 Then said they, We will restore it, and wil not require it of them: we will do as thou hast said. Then I called the Priests, & caused them to sweare, that they should do according to this promes.

13 So I shooke my lappe, & saide, So let God shake our euery man that wil not performe this promise from his house, and from his labour: euen thus let him be shaken out, & emptied. And all the Congregation said, Amen, and praised the Lord: and the people did according to this promes.

CHAP. VIII.

<sup>a</sup> Ezra gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the Lawe. <sup>b</sup> They reioyce in Israel for the knowledge of the word of God. <sup>c</sup> They keepe the feast of Tabernacles or boothes.

¶ And all the people assembled themselves together, in the street that was before the watergate, and they spake vnto Ezra the <sup>e</sup>scribe, that he would bring the booke of the Lawe of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

¶ And Ezra the Priest brought the Law before the Congregation both of men and women, and of all that <sup>f</sup>could heare and vnderstand it, in the first day of the seuenth moneth,

3 And he read therein in the street that was before the watergate (from the morning vntil the midday) before men and women, and them that vnderstoode it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto the booke of the Lawe.

4 And Ezra the scribe stooode vpon a pulpit of wood, which he had made for the preaching, and beside him stooode Mattithiah, and Shema, and Ananiah, and Vrijah, and Halkiah, and Maaseiah on his right hande, and on his left hand Pedaiah, and Mithael, and Malchiah, and Hafsum, and Hathbadana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for he was <sup>g</sup>about all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stooode vp.

6 And Ezra praised the Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting vp their hands: and they bowed them selues, and worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Ieshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Iamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodijah, Maaseiah, Kelira, Azariah, Iozabad, Hanan, Pellaiah, and the Leuites caused the people to vnderstand the Lawe, and the people stooode in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the Lawe of God distinctly and gaue the sente, and caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirshatha) and Ezra the Priest and scribe, and the Leuites that instructed the people, said vnto all the people, This day is holie vnto the Lord your God: mourne not, neither weep: for all the people <sup>h</sup>wept, when they heard the words of the Law.

10 He said also vnto them, Go, and eate of the fat, and drinke the sweete, and sende part vnto them, for whome none is <sup>i</sup>prepared: for this day is holie vnto our Lord: be ye not sorie therefore: for the <sup>j</sup>ioye of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Leuites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Hold your peace: for the day is holie, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eate and to drinke, and to send away part, and to make great ioy, because they had vnderstand the words that they had taught them.

13 And on the second day the chiefe fathers of all the people, the Priests and the Leuites were gathered vnto Ezra the scribe, that he also might instruct them in the wordes of the Lawe.

14 And they found written in the Law, (that the Lord had commanded by Moses) that the children of Israel should dwell in <sup>k</sup>boothes in the feast of the seuenth moneth,

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captiuitie, made boothes, and sate vnder the boothes: for since the<sup>i</sup> time of Ieshua the sonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, & there was verie great ioy.

1 IN the foure and twentieth daye of this<sup>i</sup> moneth the children of Israel were assembled with<sup>a</sup> fasting, and with sackcloth, and earth vpon them.

2 (And they that were of the seede of Israel were separated from all the<sup>b</sup> strangers) and they stode and confessed their sinnes and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stode vp in their place and read in the booke of the Lawe of the Lord their God foure times on the day, & they<sup>b</sup> confessed and worshipped the Lord their God foure times.

4 Then stode vp vpon the staires of the Levites Ieshua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani and Chenani, and cryed with a loud voyce vnto the Lord their God.

5 And the Levites said, euen Ieshua and Kadmiel, Bani, Hathabiah, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Shebaniah and Pethahiah, stand vp, and praise the Lord your God for euer, and euer, & let them praise thy glorious Name, O God, which excelleth aboue all thanksgiving and praise.

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their hoste, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that are in them, and thou preferuest them all, and the hoste of the heauen worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lord, the God, that hast chosen Abram, and broughtest him out of<sup>a</sup> V<sup>r</sup> in Caldea,* and madest his name Abrahā,

8 And foundest his heart faithfull before thee,* and madest a couenant with him, to giue vnto his seede the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, & Perizzites, and Iebusites, and Girgashites, & hast performed thy wordes, because thou art iust.

9 * Thou hast also considered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their crye by the red Sea,

10 And shewed tokens and wonders vpon

Pharaoh, and on all his seruants, and on al the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against them: therefore thou madest thee a Name, as appeareth this day.

11 * For thou didest breake vp the Sea before them, & they went through y<sup>e</sup> mides of the Sea on drie lande: and those that pursued them, hast thou cast into the bot-toms as a stone, in the mightie waters: Exod. 14. 21.

12 And * leddest them in the day with a pil-ler of a cloude, and in the night with a pil-ler of fire to giue them light in the waye that they went. Exod. 13. 21.

13 * Thou camest downe also vpon mount Sinai, and spakest vnto them from heauen, and gauest them right iudgements, & true lawes, ordinances and good commande-ments, Exod. 20. 1.

14 And declaredst vnto them thine holie Sabbath, and comandedst them precepts, and ordinances, and lawes, by the hand of Moses thy seruaut:

15 * And gauest them bread from heauen for their hunger, * and broughtest forth water for them out of the rocke for their thirst: and * promisedst them that they should go in, and take possession of the lande: for the which thou haddest lift vp thine hand for to giue them. Exod. 16. 13. Exod. 17. 6. Deut. 1. 8.

16 But they and our fathers behaued them selues proudly, and hardened their neck, so that they hearkened not vnto thy com-mandements,

17 But refused to obey, & would not remem-ber thy marueilous works that thou hadest done for them, but hardened their neckes, and had in their heads to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracious and full of com-passion, of long suffering and of great mer-cie, yet forsookest them not.

18 Moreover when they made them a mol-ten calfe (and said, This is thy God that brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt) and committed great blasphemies,

19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forsookest them not in the wilderness: * the pillar of the cloude departed not from them by day to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to shew them light, & the way whereby they should go. Exod. 13. 21. Num. 14. 14. 1. Cor. 10. 1.

20 Thou gauest also thy good Spirit to in-struct them, and witheldest not thy MA<sup>n</sup> from their mouth, and gauest them water for their thirst.

21 Thou didest also feede them fourtie yeres in the wilderness: they lacked nothing: * their clothes waxed not olde, and their feete<sup>a</sup> swelled not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdomes and people, and * scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed<sup>a</sup> the land of Sihon & the land of the King of Heshbon, and the land of Og King of Bashan.

23 And thou didest multiplie their children, like the starres of y<sup>e</sup> heauen, & broughtest them into the lande, wherof thou hadest spoken

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, even the Canaanites, and gauest them into their handes, with their Kings and the people of the lād, that they might doe with them what they would.

25 And they tooke their strōg cities and the far lande, and possessed houses, full of all goodes, cisternes digged out, vineyardes, & oliues, and trees for foode in abundance, & they did eate, and were filled, and became fat, and liued in pleasure through thy great goodnes.

26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy Law behind their backes, and slew thy Prophets (which \ pro-* tested among the to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliueredst them into the hand of their enemies that vexed them: yet in the time of their afflictio, when they cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from the heauen, & through thy great mercies thou gauest them sauiours, who saued the out of the hand of their aduerfaries.

28 But when they had rest, they returned to do euil before thee: therefore ledest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer the, yet when they conuerted and cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from heauen, and deliueredst them according to thy great mercies many times,

29 And protestedst among them that thou mightest bring them againe vnto thy Law: but they behaued themselves proudly, and hearkened not vnto thy commaundements, but sinned against thy iudgements (* which a man should do & liue in them) and 8 pulled away the shoulder, and were stinnecked, and would not h heare.

30 Yet thou 9 didst forebare them many yerres, and protestedst among them by thy Spirit, even by the hand of thy Prophets, but they would not heare: therefore gauest thou them into the hand of y people of the lands.

31 Yet for thy great mercies thou hast not consumed them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and mercifull God.

32 Nowe therefore our God, \ thou* great God, mightie and terrible, that keepst couenant and \ mercie*, let not al the affliction that hath come vnto vs, seeme a litle before thee, that is, to our kings, to our princes, and to our Priests, and to our Prophets, and to our fathers, & to all thy people since the time of the Kings of 1 Asihur vnto this day.

33 Surely thou art iust in all that is come vpon vs: for thou h hast dealt truly, but we haue done wickedly.

34 And our Kings and our princes, our priests and our fathers haue not done thy Law, nor regarded thy commaundements nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast 1 protested among them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy greate goodnes that thou shewedst vnto them, and in y large & far land which thou settest before them, & haue not couerted from their euill workes.

36 Beholde, we are seruants this day, and the land that thou gauest vnto our fathers, to eate the m fruite thereof, and the goodnes thereof, behold, we are seruants therein.

37 And it yeldeth much fruite vnto y Kings whome thou hast set ouer vs, because of our sinnes: & they haue dominion ouer our bodies and ouer our cattel at their pleasure, and we are in great affliction.

38 Now because of all this we make \ a* sure couenant, and write it, and our princes, our Leuites and our Priests scale vnto it.

- 34 Iudah, Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Ie-

- 35 And of the Priests sonnes with trumpets, Zechariah the sonne of Ionathan, the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Michaiah, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph.
- 36 And <sup>k</sup> his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azaredah, Hanani, with the muscally instruments of Dauid the man of God: & Ezra y<sup>e</sup> scribe went before them.

- 37 And to the gate of the fountaine, euen ou-er against the went they vp by the staires of the citie of Dauid, at the going vp of the wall beyond the house of Dauid, euen vnto
the water gate Eastward.
- 38 And the second companie of them y<sup>e</sup> gaue thanks, went on the other side, and I after them, and the halfe of the people was vpon the wall, and vpon the towre of the furnaces euen vnto the broad wall.
- 39 And vpon the gate of Ephraim, and vpon the olde gate, and vpon the fishgate, & the towre of Hananeel, and the towre of Meah, euen vnto the sheepegate: and they stood in the gate of the ward.
- 40 So stood the two companies (of the that gaue thanks) in the house of God, and I & the halfe of the rulers with me.
- 41 The Priests also, Eliakim, Maseiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, Hana-niah, with trumpets.
- 42 And Maseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Vzzi, and Ichohanan, & Malchiah, and Elam, and Ezer: and the fingers <sup>l</sup> sang loude, hauing Izrahiah which was the ounerfeet.
- 43 And the same day they offered great sacrifices: & reioyced: for God had giuen them great ioy, so that both the women, and the children were ioyfull: and the ioy of Ierusalem was heard farre off.
- 44 Also at the same time were men appointed <sup>m</sup> ouer the chambers of the store for the offerings (for the first frutes, and for the tythes) to gather in to them out of y<sup>e</sup> fieldes of the citie, the portions of the Lawe for the Priestes and the Leuites: for Iudah reioyced for the Priestes and for the Leuites, that serued.
- 45 And both the fingers & the Leuites kept the ward of their God, & the warde of the purification according to the commaunde-ment of Dauid, & Salomon his sonne.
- 46 For in the dayes of Dauid and Asaph, of olde were chiefe fingers, and songs of praise and thanksgiuing vnto God.
- 47 And in the dayes of Zerubbabel, and in the dayes of Nehemiah did all Israel giue portions vnto the fingers and porters, eue-rie day his portion, and they gaue the holy things vnto the Leuites, and the Leuites gaue the holy things vnto the sonnes of of Aaron.

The Law is read. 1. They separate from them all strangers.
13. Nehemiah reprehendeth them that brake the Sabbath.

38 An ordinance to serue God.

- 1 And on that day did they reade in the booke of Moses, in the audience of the people, & it was found written therein, that the Ammonite, & the Moabite <sup>a</sup> should not enter into the Congregation of God,
- 2 Because they met not the children of Israel with bread & with water, <sup>b</sup> but hired Balaam agaynst them, that he should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.
- 3 Now when they had heard the Law, they separated from Israel <sup>a</sup> all those that were mixed.
- 4 And before <sup>b</sup> this had the Priest Eliahub the ouersight of the chamber of the house of our God, being <sup>c</sup> kinsman to Tobiah:
- 5 And he had made him a great chamber & there had they aforetime layd the offerings, the incense, and the vessels, & the tythes of corne, of wine, & of oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the fingers, & the porters) & the offerings of the Priests.
- 6 But in all this <sup>d</sup> time was not I in Ierusalem:
for in the two & thirtieth yeere of <sup>e</sup> Artahshashtre King of Babel, came I vnto y<sup>e</sup> King, and <sup>f</sup> after certaine dayes I obtained of the King.
- 7 And when I was come to Ierusalem, I vn-derstood <sup>g</sup> the euill that Eliahub had done for Tobiah, in that he had made him a chaber in the court of the house of God,
- 8 And it grieved me sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.
- 9 And I commaunded them to cleanse the chambers: & thither brought I agayne the vessels of the house of God with the meate offring and the incense.
- 10 And I perceiued that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, & that euery one was fled to his land, <sup>h</sup> euen the Leuites & fingers that executed the worke.
- 11 Then reprov'd I the rulers & sayd, Why is the house of God forsake? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.
- 12 Then brought all Iudah the tythes of corne and of wine, and of oyle vnto y<sup>e</sup> treasures.
- 13 And I made treasurers ouer the treasures, Shelemiah the Priest, and Zadok the scribe, and of the Leuites, Pedaiah, & vnder their hand Hanan the sonne of Zaccur the sonne of Mattaniah: for they were counted faith-full, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

which brought fish and all wares, and sold it on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudah euen in Ierusalem.

17 Then reproofed I the rulers of Iudah, and sayd vnto them, What euil thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers thus, & our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this cite? yet ye increase the wrath vpon Israel, in breakeing the Sabbath?

19 And when the gates of Ierusalem began to be darke before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, and charged, that they should not be opened til after the Sabbath, and some of my seruants set at the gates, that there should no burde be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chapmen & marchants of all marchandise remayned once or twice all night without Ierusalem.

21 And I protested among them, & sayd vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once againe, I will lay handes vpon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

22 And I sayd vnto the Leuites that they should cleanse themselves, and y they should come and keepe the gates, to sanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and pardon me according to thy great mercie.

23 In those dayes also I sawe Iewes that married wiues of Ahdod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

24 And their children spake halfe in the speach of Ahdod, and could not speake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the one people, and of the other people.

25 Then I reprooued them, and cursed the, and smote certeine of them, and pulled of their heare, and tooke an othe of them by God, Ye shall not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall ye take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your selues.

26 Did not Salomon the King of Israel sinne by these things? yet among many nations was there no King like him: for he was beloued of his God, and God had made him King ouer Israel: yet strange women caused him to sinne.

THE ARGUMENT.

BECAUSE of the diuersitie of names, whereby they used to name their Kings, & the supputation of yeres wherein the Ebreues, & the Grecians do varie, diuers authors write diuersely as touching this Ahastuerosh, but it seemeth Daniel 6.1. & 9.1. that he was Darius King of the Medes, and sonne of Astyages, called also Ahastuerosh, which was a name of honour, and signified great and chiefe, as chiefe head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God towards his Church: who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, he euer stirreth up some, by whome he sendeth comforte, and deliuerance. Herein also is described the ambition, pride and crueltie of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their sodeine fall when they are at highest: and how God preferreth, and preferreth them which are zealous of his glory, and haue a care and loue toward their brethren.

CHAP. I.

1 King Ahastuerosh maketh a royall feast, 10 Vnto the Queene Vashti will not come, 19 For which cause she is dethroned, 20 The Kings decree touching the preeminence of men.

IN the dayes of Ahastuerosh (this is Ahastuerosh that reigned, from India euen vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred, & seue & twenty prouinces)

2 In those dayes when the King Ahastuerosh sate on his throne, which was in the palace of Shushan,

3 In the third yere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his princes and his seruantes, euen the power of Persia and Media, and to the capitaines & gouernours of y prouinces which were before him,

4 That he might shew the riches and glory of his kingdom, & the honour of his great maiestie many dayes, euen an hundred and foure score dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the King made a feast to all y people that were found in the palace of Shushan, both vnto great and finall, seuen dayes, in the court of the garden of the Kings palace,

6 Vnder an hanging of white, greene, and blew clothes, fastened with cordes of fine linen & purple, in siluer rings, and pillars of marble: the beddes were of golde, and of siluer tables.

<sup>i</sup> Called also Darius, who was now y fouerth Monarch, & had the gouernment of the Medes, Persia & Chaldea. Some think he was Darius Hyaspis sonne, called also Artaxerxes. <sup>b</sup> Daniel chap. 6. maketh mention but of fixe score, leuing out the number that is superfluous, as y Scripture in diuers places witnesseth. <sup>c</sup> That is, had rest, & quietnes.

silver vpon a pavement of porphyre, and marble and alabaster, and blew colour.

7 And they gaue them drinke in vessels of golde, and changed vessel after vessel, and royall wine in abundance according to the power of the King.

e As was becoming for so magnificent a King.

f None might be compelled to drinke more than it pleased him.

8 And the drinke was by an order, none might compel: for so the King had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they should doe according to euerie mans pleasure.

9 The Queene Vashti made a feast also for the women in the royall house of King Ahashuerosh.

g Which was the last day of the feast that the King made for people, as vers. 5.

10 Vpon the seventh day when the King was merie with wine, he commaunded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, & Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seue eunuches (that serued in the presence of King Ahashuerosh)

11 To bring Queene Vashti before the King with the crowne royall, that he might shew the people and the princes her beautie: for she was sayre to looke vpon.

h That had experience of things as they had learned by diligent marking in continuance of time.

12 But the Queene Vashti refused to come at the Kings word, which he had giuen in charge to the eunuches: therefore the King was very angrie, and his wrath kindled in him.

i Which were his chiefe counsellors, that might haue alwayes access to him.

13 Then the King said to the wise men, that knewe the times (for so was the Kings manner towards all that knewe the lawe and the iudgement:

k By her disobedience she hath giuen an example to all women to do the like to their husbands.

14 And the next vnto him was Carshena, She-thar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marfena & Memucan the seuen princes of Persia & Media, which sawe the Kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome)

l That is, her disobedience.

15 What shall we do vnto the Queene Vashti according to the law, because she did not according to the worde of the King Ahashuerosh by the commission of the eunuches?

m Meaning, that they would take first occasion hereof to do the like, & that the rest of women would by continuance do the same.

16 Then Memucan answered before the King and the princes, The Queene Vashti hath not onely done euil against the King, but agaynst all the princes, and agaynst all the people that are in all the prouinces of King Ahashuerosh.

n Let her be diuorced & another made Queene.

17 For the sake of the Queene shal come a brode vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbandes in their owne eyes, & shal say, The King Ahashuerosh commaunded Vashti the Queene to be brought in before him, but she came not.

18 So shall the princesses of Persia and Media this day say vnto all the Kings Princes, when they heare of the acte of the Queen: thus shall there be much despitefulnessse and wrath.

19 If it please the King, let a royal decree proceede from him, & let it be written among the statutes of Persia, and Media (and let it not be transgressed) that Vashti come no more before King Ahashuerosh: and let the King giue her royal estate vnto her companion that is better then she.

20 And when the decree of the King which shalbe made, shalbe published throughout all his kingdome (though it be great) all the women shall giue their husbandes honour, both great and small.

21 And this saying pleased the King and the princes, and the King did according to the worde of Memucan.

22 For he sent letters into all the prouinces of the King, into euery prouince according to the writing thereof, and to euery people after their language, that euery man should beare rule in his owne house, and that he should publish it in the language of y same people.

CHAP. II.

After the Queene was put away, certaine yong maidens are brought to the King. 14 Ester pleaseth the King, and is made Queene. 21 Mordecai discovereth vnto the King those that would betray him.

1 After these things, when the wrath of King Ahashuerosh was appeased, hee remembered Vashti, & what she had done, and what was decreed against her.

2 And the Kings seruantes that ministred vnto him, said, Let them seeke for the King beautiful yong virgins,

3 And let the King appoint officers through all the prouinces of his kingdome, and let them gather all the beautiful yong virgins vnto the palace of Shushan, into the house of the women, vnder the hand of Hege the Kings eunuche, keeper of the women, to giue them their things for purification.

4 And the maid that shall please the King, let her reigne in the stead of Vashti. And this pleased the King, and he did so.

5 In the citie of Shushan, there was a certaine Iewe, whose name was Mordecai the sonne of Iair, y sonne of Shimei, the sonne of Kish a man of Iemini,

6 Which had bene caried away from Ierusalem with the captiuitie y was caried away with Iekoniah King of Iudah (whome Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel had caried away)

7 And he nourished Hadassah, that is Ester. His vnckles daughter: for she had neither father nor mother, and the mayd was sayre, and beautiful to looke on: and after the death of her father, and her mother, Mordecai tooke her for his owne daughter.

8 And when the Kings commandement, & his decree was published, and many maidens were brought together to the palace of Shushan, vnder the had of Hege, Ester was brought also vnto the Kings house vnder y hand of Hege the keeper of the women.

9 And the maid pleased him, and she found fauour in his sight: therefore he caused her things for purification to be giue her speedely, & her state, and seuen comely maidens to be giuen her out of the Kings house, and he gaue change to her and to her maidens of the best in the house of the women.

10 But Ester shewed not her people and her kinsred: for Mordecai had charged her, that she should not tell it.

11 And Mordecai walked euery day before the court of the womens house, to knowe if heare of her.

p That is, that the wife should be subject to the husband and in his commandement.

q That is, hee led the matter gaine into communication. b By the seuen wise men of his counsel.

c The abuses of these countries was so great, that they inuention many maner of prices, and therefore as they ordeined wicked lawes that the king might haue whole daughters be would, for they had diuers houses appointed, as one for them, while they were virgins, other while they were concubines, & for y Queen another.

d Reade what this purification was. vers. 13. e King 3. 4. 11. f For though she was taken away by a cruel law, yet hee considered not to haue a fatherly care vnto her, & therefore did restore oftentimes to if heare of her.

if Ester did well, and what ſhould be done with her.

12 And when the courſe of euery maid came, to go in to King Ahaſueruſh, after that ſhe had bene twelue monethes according to the maner of the women (for ſo were the dayes of their purifications accompliſhed, ſix monethes with oyle of myrrhe, & ſix monethes with ſweete odours and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the maids vnto the King) whatſoeuer ſhe required, was giuen her, to go with her out of the womens houſe vnto the Kings houſe.

14 In the euening ſhe went, and on the morrow ſhe returned into the ſecond houſe of the women vnder the hande of Shaſhagaz the Kings eunuſhe, which kept the concubines: ſhe came into the King no more, except he pleaſed the King, & that ſhe were called by name.

15 Now when the courſe of Ester y daughter of Abihail the vncle of Mordecai (which had taken her as his own daughter) came, that ſhe ſhould go in to the King, ſhe deſired nothing, but what Hege the Kings eunuſhe the keeper of the women ſayd: and Ester found fauour in the ſight of all them that looked vpon her.

16 So Ester was taken vnto King Ahaſueruſh into his houſe royal in the tenth moneth, which is the moneth Tebeth, in the ſeuenth yere of his reigne.

17 And the King loued Ester aboue all the women, & ſhe found grace & fauour in his ſight more then al the virgins: ſo that he ſet the crowne of the kingdom vpon her head, and made her Queene in ſtead of Vaſhti.

18 Then the King made a great feaſt vnto all his princes, and his ſeruants, which was the feaſt of Ester, and gaue reſt vnto the prouinces, and gaue giſtes, according to the power of a King.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the ſecond tyme, then Mordecai ſate in the Kings gate.

20 Ester had not yet ſhewed her kindred nor her people, as Mordecai had charged her: for Ester did after the word of Mordecai, as when ſhe was nourished with him.

21 ¶ In thoſe dayes when Mordecai ſate in y Kings gate, two of the Kings eunuſhes, Bigthan and Terſh, which kept the doore, were wroth, and ſought to lay hand on the King Ahaſueruſh.

22 And the thing was knowne to Mordecai, & he told it vnto Queene Ester, and Ester certified y King therof in Mordecais name: and when inquiſition was made, it was ſoud ſo: therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the booke of the Chronicles before the King.

CHAP. III.

1 Haman, after he was exalted, obtained of the King, that al the Lewes ſhould be put to death, becauſe Mordecai had not done him worſhip as other had.

2 After theſe thinges did King Ahaſueruſh promote Haman the ſonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, & exalted him, & ſet his ſeat aboue al the princes that were with him.

3 And all the Kings ſeruantes that were at the Kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman: for the King had ſo commaunded concerning him: but Mordecai bowed not the knee, neither did reuerence.

4 Then the Kings ſeruants which were at the Kings gate, ſaid vnto Mordecai, Why grefſeſt thou the Kings commaundement? And albeit they ſpake daily vnto him, yet he would not heare them: therefore they told Hamā, that they might ſee how Mordecais matters would ſtand: for he had told them, that he was a Jew.

5 And when Haman ſawe that Mordecai bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, then Haman was full of wrath.

6 Now he thought it to litle to lay handes onely on Mordecai: and becauſe they had ſhewed him the people of Mordecai, Hamā ſought to deſtroy all the Lewes, that were throughout the whole kingdome of Ahaſueruſh, even the people of Mordecai.

7 In the firſt moneth (that is the moneth Niſā) in the twelfth yere of King Ahaſueruſh, they caſt Pur (that is a lot) before Haman, from day to day, & from month to month, vnto the twelfth moneth, that is the moneth Adar.

8 Then Haman ſayd vnto King Ahaſueruſh, There is a people ſcattered, and diſperſed among the people in al the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they do not obſerue y Kings lawes: therefore it is not the Kings profite to ſuffer them.

9 If it pleaſe the King, let it be written that they may be deſtroyed, and I will pay ten thouſand talents of ſiluer by the handes of them that haue the charge of this buſineſſe to bring it into the Kings treaſurie.

10 Then the King tooke his ring fro his hand & gaue it vnto Haman the ſonne of Hammedatha the Agagite the Lewes aduerſarie.

11 And the King ſayd vnto Hamā, Let the ſiluer be thine, and the people to do with the as it pleaſeth thee.

12 Then were the Kinges ſcribes called on the thirteenth day of the firſt moneth, and there was written (according to all that Haman commaunded) vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaines that were ouer euery prouince, & to the rulers of euery people & to euery prouince according to the writing thereof, and to euery people according to their language: in the name of king Ahaſueruſh was it written, & ſealed with the Kings ring.

13 And the letters were ſent by poſtes into all the Kings prouinces, to roote out, to kill & to deſtroy all the Lewes, both yong and olde, children & women, in one day, vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, (w is the moneth Adar) and to ſpoyle them as a pray.

a The Perſians maner was to kneele downe and reuerence their kinges, and ſuch as he appointed in chiefe autoritie, which Mordecai would not doe to this ambitious and proude man. b Thus we ſee that there is none ſo wicked, but they haue their flatterers to accuſe the godly. c Eſt. deſpiſed in his eyes.

- 15 And the postes compelled by the Kings commandement went forth, and the commandement was giue in the palace at Shushan: and the King and Haman sate drinking, but the citie of Shushan was in perplexitie.

To wit, the Iewes, that were in Shushan.

CHAP. IIIII.

5 Mordecai giueth the Supreme knowledge of the cruell decree of the King against the Iewes. 16 She willet that they pray for her.

1 Now when Mordecai perceiued al that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and ashes, and went out into the middes of the citie, and cryed with a great cry, and a bitter.

Because he would aduertise Ester of this cru el proclamation.

2 And he came euē before the Kings gate, but he might not enter within the Kinges gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

3 And in euery prouince, & place, whither the Kings charge & his commission came, there was great sorow among the Iewes, & fasting, and weeping & mourning, and many lay in sackcloth and in ashes.

Ebr. sackcloth and ashes were spread for many.

4 ¶ Then Esters maides and her eunuches came & told it her: therefore the Queene was very heauy, & she sent raimēt to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth from him, but he receiued it not.

Ebr. had caused to stand before her.

5 Then called Ester Hatach one of the Kings eunuches, whome he had appointed to serue her, and gaue him a commandement vnto Mordecai, to knowe what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai vnto the street of the city, which was before the Kings gate.

Ebr. declaration.

7 And Mordecai tolde him of al that which had come vnto him, and of the summe of the siluer that Haman had promised to pay vnto the Kings treasures, because of the Iewes, for to destroy them.

Or, contents.

8 Also he gaue him the copy of the writing & commission that was giuen at Shushan, to destroy them that he might shew it vnto Ester and declare it vnto her, and to charge her that she should goe in to the King, and make petition and supplication before him for her people.

9 ¶ So when Hatach came, he tolde Ester the wordes of Mordecai.

10 Then Ester saide vnto Hatach, and commanded him, so say vnto Mordecai, 11 All the Kings seruants and the people of the Kings prouinces do know, that whoso- euer, man or woman, that commeth to the King into the inner court, which is not called, there is a law of his, that he shall dye, except him to whome the King holdeth out the golden rod, that he may liue. Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the King these thirtie dayes.

12 And they certified Mordecai of Esters wordes.

13 And Mordecai saide, that they should answer Ester thus, Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the Kings house, more then all the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, comfort and deliuerance shall appeare to the Iewes out of another place, but thou and thy fathers house shall perish: and who knoweth whether thou art come to y king- dome for such a time?

15 Then Ester commaunded to answer Mor- decai,

16 Goe, and assemble all the Iewes that are found in Shushan, & fast ye for mee, & eate not, nor drinke in three dayes, daye nor night. I also and my maydes will fast like- wise, and so will I go in to the King, which is not according to the lawe: & if I perish, I perish.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Ester had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

Ester entret in to the King, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 11 Haman prepareth a galles for Mor- decai.

1 And on the third daye Ester put on her royal apparel, & stood in the court of the Kings palace within, ouer agaynst the Kings house: and the King sate vpon his royal throne in the Kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King sawe Ester the Queene standing in the court, she founde fauour in his sight: & the King held out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Ester drew nere, and touched the toppe of the scepter.

3 Then said the King vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester? & what is thy request? it shalbe euen giuen thee to the halfe of the kingdome.

4 Then said Ester, If it please the King, let the King & Haman come this day vnto the banker, that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the King said, Cause Haman to make haste that he may do as Ester hath sayd. So the King and Haman came to the banker that Ester had prepared.

6 And the King said vnto Ester at the banker of wine, What is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? it shall euen be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

7 Then answered Ester, and sayd, My peti- tion and my request is,

8 If I haue found fauour in the sight of the King, and if it please the King to giue me my petition, and to perfourme my request, let the King and Haman come to the banker that I shall prepare for them, and I wil do to morow according to y Kings saying.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull and with a glad heart. But whē Haman sawe Mordecai in the Kings gate, that he stood not vp, nor moued for him, then was Haman full of indignatiō at Mordecai.

12 Haman saide moreouer, Yea, Efter the Queene did let no man come in with the King to the banker that she had prepared, saue me: and to morrow am I bidden vnto her also with the King.

And the thing pleased Haman, and he caused to make the tree.

CHAP. VI.

1 The King turneth ouer the Chronicles, and findeth the falsitie of Mordecai, 10 And commaundeth Haman to cause Mordecai to be had in honour.

1 The same night the King slept not, & he commaunded to bring the booke of the records & the chronicles: & they were read before the King.

2 Then it was found written that Mordecai had tolde of Bigrana, & Zereth two of the Kings eunuches, keepers of the dore, who sought to lay hands on y King Ahashueroth.

3 Then y King said, What honour & dignitie hath bene giuen to Mordecai for this? And the Kings seruants that ministred vnto him, said, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the King said, Who is in the court? (Now Haman was come into the inner court of the Kings house, that he might speake vnto the King to hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the Kings seruants sayd vnto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the King said, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the King said vnto him, What shalbe done vnto the man, whome the King will honour? Then Haman thought in his heart, To whome woulde the King doe honour more then to me?

7 And Haman answered the King, The man whome the King would honour,

8 Let the bring for him royal apparel, which the King useth to weare, & the horse that the King rideth vpon, and that the crowne royal may be set vpon his head.

9 And let the raiment and the horse be deliuered by the hande of one of the Kings moste noble princes, and let them apparel the man (whom the King will honour) and cause him to ride vpon the horse through the streete of the cite, & proclaime before him, Thus shall it be done vnto the man, whome the King will honour.

10 Then y King sayd to Haman, Make haste, take the raiment and the horse as thou hast saide, and doe fo vnto Mordecai the Iewe, that sitteth at the Kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

11 So Haman tooke the raiment & the horse, and arayed Mordecai, and brought him on horse backe through the streete of the cite, & proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done to y man whome y king wil honor.

12 And Mordecai came againe to the Kings gate, but Haman hastened home mourning and his head couered.

13 And Haman tolde Zereth his wife, and all his friendes all that had befallen him. Then saide his wife men, and Zereth his wife vnto him, If Mordecai be of y seed of y Iewes, before whome thou hast begonne to fall, thou shalt not preuaile against him, but shalt surely fall before him.

14 And whyle they were yet talking with him, came the Kings eunuches and hastened to bring Haman vnto the banker that Ester had prepared.

3 The Queene biddeth the King and Haman agayn to prayeth for her selfe and her people. 6 She accuseth Haman and he is hanged on the galows, which he had prepared for Mordecai.

1 So the King and Haman came to banker with the Queene Ester.

2 And the King said againe vnto Ester on the second daye at the banker of wine, What is thy petition, Queene Ester, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? It shalbe euen performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

3 And Ester the Queene answered, & said, If I haue founde fauour in thy sight, O King, and if it please the King, let my life be giuen me at my petition, & my people at my request.

4 For we are solde, I, and my people, to be destroyed, to be slayne and to perish: but if we were solde for seruants, & for handmaidens, I would haue held my tongue: although the aduerfarie could not recompense the Kings losse.

5 Then King Ahashueroth answered, and sayd vnto the Queene Ester, Who is he? & where is he that presumeth to do thus?

6 And Ester said, The aduerfarie and enemye is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afrayed before y King & the Queene.

7 And the King arose from the banker of wine in his wrath, and went into the palace garden: but Haman stode vp, to make request for his life to the Queene Ester: for he sawe that there was a mischief prepared for him of the King.

8 And when the King came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they dranke wine, Haman was fallen vpon the bed whereon Ester sat: therefore the King said, Will he force the Queene also before me in the house? As the word went out of the Kings mouth, they couered Hamans face.

he had prepared for Mordecai: the was the

CHAP. VIII.

1 After the death of Haman was Mordecai exalted. 14
Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Iewes.

1 The same daye did King Ahasuerosh giue the house of Haman the aduersarie of the Iewes vnto the Queene Ester.
And Mordecai came before the King: for Ester told what he was vnto her.

2 And the King tooke of his ring, which he had takē from Haman, & gaue it vnto Mordecai: and Ester set Mordecai ouer y house of Haman.

3 And Ester spake yet more before the King, and fell downe at his feet weeping, and be-fought him that he would put away y 'wickednes of Haman the Agagite, & his deuise that he had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the King held out the golden <sup>a</sup> scepter toward Ester. Then arose Ester, & stood before the King.

5 And sayd, If it please the King, & if I haue found fauour in his sight, and the thing be acceptable before the King, & I please him, let it be written, that the letters of the deuise of Haman the sonne of Ammedatha y Agagite may be called againe, which hee wrote to destroy the Iewes, that are in al the Kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the euill, that shall come vnto my people? Or how can I suffer & see the destruction of my kinred?

7 And the King Ahasuerosh sayd vnto the Queene Ester, & to Mordecai the Iew, Be-holde, I haue giuen Ester the house of Haman, whom they haue hanged vpon y tree, because he layd hand vpon the Iewes.

8 Write ye also for y Iewes, as it liketh you in the Kings name, and seale it with the Kings ring (for the writings written in the Kings name, and sealed with the Kings ring, may no man reuoke)

9 Then were the Kings scribes called at the same time, euen in the third moneth, that is the moneth <sup>f</sup> Sivan, on the three & twentieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecai commaunded vnto
the Iewes and to the princes, and captains, & rulers of the prouinces, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and seuen & twentie prouinces, vnto euery prou-ince, according to the writing thereof, & to the Iewes, according to their writing, & according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the King Ahasuerosh name, and sealed it with the Kings ring: & he sent letters by postes on horsebacke and that rode on <sup>a</sup> beastes of price, as dromeda-ries and coltes of mares.

11 Wherein the King graunted the Iewes (in what cities so euer they were) to gather theselues together, & to stand for their life, & to roote out, to slay and to destroy all the power of the people and of the prouince y vexed them, both children and women, and to spoyle their goodes:

12 Vpon one day in all the prouinces of King Ahasuerosh, euen in the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is the mo-neth <sup>i</sup> Adar.

13 The copie of the writing was, how there should be a commaundement giuen in al & euerie prouince, published among all the people, and y the Iewes should be ready against that day to <sup>k</sup> auenge themselves on their enemies.

14 So the postes rode vpon <sup>a</sup> beastes of price, & dromedaries, & went forth with speede, to execute the Kings commaundement, & the decree was giuen at Shushan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the King in royal apparel of blewe, and white, and with a great crowne of gold, and with a garment of fine linen and purple, & the city of Shushan reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Iewes was come light and <sup>i</sup> ioy and gladnes, and honour.

17 Also in all and euerie prouince, and in all and euerie city and place, where the Kings commaundement & his decree came, there was ioy and gladnes to the Iewes, a feast and good day, and many of the people of y land became Iewes: for the feare of the Iewes fell vpon them.

CHAP. IX.

1 At the commaundement of the King the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Iewes keepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

1 So in the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar, vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the Kings commaundement and his decree drew neere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer the (but it turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them)

2 The Iewes gathered themselves together into their cities throughout all the prouin-ces of the King Ahasuerosh, to lay hande on such as fought their hurte, and no man could withstand them: for the feare of the fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, & the princes and the capitaines, and the officers of the King exalted the Iewes: for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in y Kinges house, and the report of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their enemies with strokes of the sword and slaughter, & destruction, and did what they would vnto those that hated them.

11 On the same day came the number of those that were slayne, vnto the palace of Shushan before the King.

12 And the King said vnto the Queene Ester, The Iewes haue slayne in Shushan the palace and destroyed siue hundred men, and the ten sonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the rest of the Kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be given thee? or what is thy request moreover, that it may be performed?

13 Then sayd Ester, If it please the King, let it be graunted also to morowe to the Iewes that are in Shushan, to do according vnto this daies decree, that they may hang vpon the tree Hamans ten sonnes.

14 And the King charged to do so, & the decree was giuen at Shushan, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 So the Iewes that were in Shushan, assembled themselves vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, & slewe three hundred men in Shushan, but on y spoyle they layed not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Iewes that were in the Kings prouinces assembled themselves, and stode for their liues, & had rest from their enemies, and slue of them that hated them, seuenie and siue thousand: but they layed not their hand on the spoyle.

17 This they did on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, & rested the fourteenth day thereof, and kept it a day of feasting & ioye.

18 But the Iewes that were in Shushan assembled themselves on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth thereof, and they rested on the fiftenth of the same, & kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

19 Therefore the Iewes of the villages that dwelt in the vnwalled townes, kept the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with ioy and feasting, euen a ioyfull day, and euerie one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 And Mordecai wrote these wordes, & sent letters vnto al the Iewes that were thorough al the prouinces of the King Ahashueroh, both neere and farre,

21 Inioyning them that they should keep the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and the fiftenth day of the same, euerie yere.

22 According to the dayes wherein the Iewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them from sorow to ioy, and from mourning into a ioyful day, to keepe them the dayes of feasting, and ioye, and to sende presentes euery man to his neighbour, and giftes to the poore.

23 And the Iewes promised to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written vnto them,

24 Because Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite all y Iewes aduersarie, had imagined against the Iewes, to destroy the, and had cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroy them.

25 And when he came before the King, he commanded by letters, Let his wicked purpose (which he imagined against the Iewes) turne vpon his owne head, & let them hang him and his sonnes on the tree.

26 Therefore they called these dayes Purim, by the name of Pur, and because of all the wordes of this letter, & of that which they had seene besides this, & of that which had come vnto them.

27 The Iewes also ordeined, and promised for them & for their seede, and for al that ioyned vnto them, that they would not faile to obserue those two dayes euery yere, according to their writing, & according to their season,

28 And that these dayes should be remembered, and kept throughout euerie generation and euery familie, and euery prouince, and euery citie: euen these dayes of Purim should not fail among the Iewes, & the memoriall of them should nor perish fro their seede.

29 And the Queene Ester the daughter of Abihail & Mordecai the Iewe wrote with al autoritie (to confirme this letter of Purim the second tyme)

30 And he sent letters vnto all the Iewes to y hundred and seuen and twentie prouinces of the kingdome of Ahashueroh, w wordes of peace and truth,

31 To confirme these dayes of Purim according to their seasons, as Mordecai the Iewe & Ester the Queene had appointed them, & as they had promised for them selues & for their seede with fasting & prayer.

32 And the decree of Ester confirmed these words of Purim, & was writte in the booke.

IOB.

IOB.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this historie is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Iob was not onely extremely afflicted in outward things, & in his body, but also in his minde, and conscience by the sharpe remissions of his wife, and chiefe friends: which by their vehement wordes, and subtil dissimulations brought him almost to despair: for they set forth God as a severe iudge, and mortall enemy vnto him, which had cast him of therefore in vaine he should seeke vnto him for succour. These friends came vnto him vnder presence of consolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithstanding he did constantly resist them, and at length had good successe. In this story we haue to marke that Iob maintaineth a good cause, but handleth it euill: againe his aduersaries haue an euill matter, but they defend it craftily. For Iob held that God did not alway punish men according to their sinnes, but that he had secret iudgements, wherof man knew not the cause, and therefore man could not reason agaynst God therein, but he should be convicted. Moreover, he was assured that God had not reiected him, yet through his great torments, & affliction he brasteth forth into many inconueniences both of wordes & sentences, and sheweth himselfe as a desperate man in many things, and as one that would resist God: & this is his good cause which he doth not handle well. Againe the aduersaries maintein with many goodly arguments, that God punisheth continually according to the trespass, grounding vpon Gods providence, his iustice, & mans sinnes, yet their intention is euill: for they labour to bring Iob into despair, and so they mainueine an euill cause. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iust man, Ezek. 14. 14, & James setteth out his patience for an example, Iam. 5. 11.

2 And he had seuen sones, & three daughters. 3 His substance also was seuen thousand sheepe, and three thousand camels, & five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred shee asses, and his familie was very greate, so that this man was the greatest of all the men of the East.

4 And his sonnes went & banketted in their houses, euerie one his day, & sent, & called their three sisters to eate and to drink with them.

5 And when the dayes of their banketting were gone about, Iob sent, and sanctified the, & rose vp early in the morning, & offered burnt offerings according to y number of the all. For Iob thought, It may be y my sonnes haue sinned, & blasphemed God in their hearts: thus did Iob euery day.

6 ¶ Nowe on a day when the children of God came and stood before the Lord, Satan came and stood before the Lord, saying, ¶ That is, commaunded them to be sanctified: meaning, that they should consider the fautes, that they had committed, and reconcile themselves for the same. g That is, he offered for every one of his children an offering of reconciliation, which declared his religion toward God, and the care that he had toward his children. h In Ebrew it is, blessed God, which is sometime taken for blaspheming and cursing, as here, and 1. tan came also among them.

7 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, saying, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none is like him in y earth? an vpright & iust man, one that feareth God, & escheweth euill? 9 Then Satan answered the Lord, and said, Doeth Iob feare God for nought?

10 Hast thou not made an hedge about him and about his house, and about all that he hath on euerie side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But stretch out now thine hand & touch all y he hath, & see if he will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

12 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Lo, all that he hath is in thine hand: onely vpon himselfe shalt thou not stretch out thine hand. So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord.

13 ¶ And on a day, when his sonnes and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Iob, and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

15 And the Shabeans came violently, and rooke them: yea, they haue slayne the seruants with y edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 And whiles he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The syre of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the sheep and the seruants, & deuoured them: but I onely am escaped alone, to tell thee.

¶ God giueth not Satan power ouer mā to gratifie him, but to declare that he hath no power ouer man, but that which God giueth him. ¶ That is, went to execute that which God had permitted him to do: for if he can neuer go out of Gods presence. ¶ That is, y Arabians. y Which thing was also done by y craft of Satā to tēpt Iob y more vnto y sinne, as he might see, y not only me wer his ene mie, but that God made warre agaynst him.

- Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, & saide,
- 2 If wee assay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieved? but who can withhold himselfe from speaking?
  - 3 Behold, thou hast taught many, and hast strengthened the weake hands.
  - 4 Thy wordes haue confirmed him that was falling, and thou hast strengthened the weake knees.
  - 5 But now it is come vpon thee, & thou art grieved: it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.
  - 6 Is not this thy feare, thy confidence, thy patience, and the vprightnesse of thy wayes?
  - 7 Remember, I pray thee: who euer perished being an innocent? or where were the vpright destroyed?
  - 8 As I haue seene, they that plow iniquitie, and sowe wickednesse, reape the same.

<sup>a</sup> Seeing this thine impiencie. <sup>b</sup> Thou hast comforted others in their afflictions, & canst not now comfort thy selfe. <sup>c</sup> This he concludeth that Job was but an hypocrite, and had no true feare nor trust in God. <sup>d</sup> He concludeth that Job was reprobated, seeing that God handeled him so extremely, which is the argument that the carnall men make against the children of God. <sup>e</sup> They that do euil, cannot but receive euil.

Job. condemneth Job. The wicked punished

- 9 With the blast of God they perish, and with the breath of his nostrilles are they consumed.
  - 10 The roing of the Lyon, and the voice of the Lyonesse, and the teeth of Lyons whelps are broken.
  - 11 The Lyon perisheth for lack of praye, and the Lyons whelps are scatted abroad.
  - 12 But a thing was brought to me secretly, & mine ear hath receiued a litle thereof.
  - 13 In the thoughts of the visions of y night, when sleepe fallerh on men,
  - 14 Feare came vpon me, and dreade which made all my bones to tremble.
  - 15 And the winde passed before me, & made the heares of my flesh to stand vp.
  - 16 Then stode one, and I knew not his face: an image was before mine eyes, and in silence heard I a voyce, saying,
  - 17 Shall man be more iust then God? or shall a man be more pure then his maker?
  - 18 Behold, he found no stedfastnesse in his seruants, & layd folie vpon his Angels.
  - 19 How much more in them that dwell in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, which shall be destroyed before the moth?
  - 20 They be destroyed from the morning vnto the euening: they perish for euer, without regarde.
  - 21 Doth not their dignitie go away w them? do they not die, & that without wisdom?
- <sup>f</sup> He sheweth great preparedness to destroy his enemies: for he can do it with the blast of his mouth. <sup>g</sup> Though man according to their offences, not punish them, yet God both iustly, and his justice will punish them. <sup>h</sup> A thing that I knew not before, was declared vnto me by vision: that is, by the euil which he thought he found in his seruants, he founde a sinner, when he cometh before God. <sup>i</sup> In these visions which God sheweth to his creatures, there is euer a certaine feare ioynd, that is, a feare of the Lord. <sup>k</sup> When all things were quiet, or when the feare was somewhat awaged, as God appeared to Eliab. <sup>l</sup> King. 19. 12. I He proueth that it God did punish the innocent, & creature should be more iust then the Creator, which were a blasphemie. <sup>m</sup> If God finde imperfection in his Angels, when they are not maintained by his power, how much more shall he lay folie to man charge, when he would iustifie him selfe against God? <sup>n</sup> That is, in this mortal bodie, subject to corruption. <sup>o</sup> Cor. 5. 1. O they see death continually before their eyes, and daylie approaching toward them. <sup>p</sup> No man for all this doeth consider it. <sup>q</sup> That is, before that time of them were so wise as to thinke on death.

CHAP. V.

- 1, 2 Eliphaz, with the difference between the children of God and the wicked, 3 The fall of the wicked, 9 Gods power who destroyeth the wicked, & deliuereth him.

- Call nowe, if any will answer thee, and to which of the Saintes wilt thou turne?
- 2 Doublelesse anger killeth the foolish, and enuie slaieth the idiothe.
  - 3 I haue seene the foolish well rooted, and suddenly I cursed his habitation, saying,
  - 4 His children shalbe farre from saluation, & they shalbe destroyed in the gate, and none shall deliuer them.
  - 5 The hungrie shal eat vp his harvest: yea, they shall take it fro among the thornes, and the thirstie shall drinke vp their substance.
  - 6 For miserie cometh not forth of the dust, neither doth affliction spring out of the earth.
- <sup>a</sup> He willesh Job to consider the example of all them that haue liued or do liue godly, whether anie of them be like vnto him in raging against God as he doeth. <sup>b</sup> Murthering against God in afflictions. <sup>c</sup> That is, the sinner that hath created himselfe. <sup>d</sup> I was not moued with his prosperitie, but knew that God had cursed him and his. <sup>e</sup> That God sometime suffer the fathers to passe in this worlde, yet his iudgements will light vpon their wicked children. <sup>f</sup> By publique iudgement they shalbe condemned, and none shall pitee them. <sup>g</sup> Though there be but two or three eares left in the hedges, yet these shalbe taken from him. <sup>h</sup> That is, the earth is not the cause of barrennesse and mans miserie, but his owne sinne.

Mans miserie.

q Do you cauil at my wordes, because I should be thought to speak foolishly, which am now in miserie? r Consider whether I speake as one that is driue to this impacience through very sorowe, or as an hypocrite, as you cōdemne me.

a Hath not an hyred seruante some rest and ease? then in this my continual torment I am worse then an hyreling.

b My sorowe hath continued from moneth to moneth, and I haue looked for hope in vaine. c This signifieth that his discaise was rare & most horrible.

d Thus he speaketh in respect of the breuitie of mans life, which passeth without hope of returning: in consideration wherof he desireth God to haue compassion on him.

e If thou beholdest in mine anger, I shall not be able to stand in thy presence. f Shall no more enjoy this mortall life.

g Seeing I can by none other means comfort my selfe, I will declare my griefe by wordes. and thus he speaketh as one overcome with grief of minde.

h Am not I a poore wretch? what needest thou then to lay so much paine on me? i So that I can haue no rest, night nor daie. k He speaketh as one overcome with sorowe, and not of iudgement, or of the examination of his faith.

l Seeing my terme of life is so short, let me haue some rest and ease. m Seeing that man of him selfe is so vile, why doest thou giue him that honour to contend against him? Iob vieth all kindes of persuasions with God, that he might stay his hand.

reousnes? and what can anie of you iustly reprove?

26 Do ye imagine to reprove wordes, that the talke of the afflicted shoulde be as the winde?

27 Ye make your wrath to fall vpon the fatherles, and digge a pit for your friend.

28 Now therefore be content to looke vpon me: for I will not lye before your face.

29 Turne, I pray you, let there be none iniquitie: returne, I say, and ye shall see yet my righteousnes in that behalfe. Is there iniquitie in my tongue? doeth not my mouth feeble sorowes?

CHAP. VII.

Iob sheweth the shortnes and miserie of mans life.

1 I s here not an appointed time to man vpon earth? and are not his dayes as the daies of an hyreling?

2 As a seruant longeth for the shadowe, and as an hyreling looketh for the ende of his worke,

3 So haue I had as an inheritance the moneths of vanitie, and painefull nights haue bene appointed vnto me.

4 If I layed me downe, I said, When shall I arise? and measuring the euening I am euen full with tossing to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

5 My flesh is clothed with wormes and filthines of the dust: my skin is rent, and become horrible.

6 My daies are swifter then a weauers shuttle, and they are spent without hope.

7 Remember that my life is but a winde, and that mine eye shall not returne to see pleasure.

8 The eye that hath seene me, shall see me no more: thine eyes are vpon mee, and I shalbe no longer.

9 As the cloude vanisheth and goeth away, so he that goeth downe to the graue, shall come vp no more.

10 He shall returne no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I will not spare my mouth, but will speake in the trouble of my spirit, and muse in the bitterness of my minde.

12 Am I a sea? or a whales fish, that thou keepst me in ward?

13 When I say, My couche shall relieue me, and my bed shall bring comfort in my meditation, 14 Then fearest thou me with dreames, and astonishest me with visions.

15 Therefore my soule choseth rather to be strangled & to die, then to be in my bones.

16 I abhorre it, I shall not liue alway: spare me then, for my daies are but vanitie.

17 What is man, that thou doest magnifie him, and that thou testest thine heart vpon him?

18 And doest visite him euerie morning, and tryest him euerie moment?

Iob.

19 How long will it be, yet thou depart from me? thou wilt not let me alone whiles I may swallow my speale.

20 I haue sinned, what shall I do vnto thee? O thou preseruer of men, why hast thou let me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?

21 And why doest thou not pardon my trespass? and take away mine iniquitie? for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou seekest me in the morning, I shall not be found.

CHAP. VIII.

Bildad sheweth that Iob is a sinner, because God punisheth the wicked, and preserueth the good.

1 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,

2 How long wilt thou talke of these things? and how long shall the words of thy mouth be as a mightie winde?

3 Doeth God peruert iudgement? or doeth the almightie subuert iustice?

4 If thy sonnes haue sinned against him, & he hath sent them into the place of their iniquitie,

5 Yes if thou wilt early seeke vnto God, and pray to the Almighty,

6 If thou be pure and vpright, then surely he will awake vp vnto thee, and he will make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.

7 And though thy beginning be small, yet thy latter end shall greatly increase.

8 Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy selfe to search of their fathers.

9 (For we are but of yesterday, and are ignorant: for our dayes vpon earth are but a shadowe)

10 Shall not they teach thee and tel thee, and viter the wordes of their heart?

11 Can a rush growe without myre? or can the grass growe without water?

12 Though it were in Greene and not cut downe, yet shall it wither before any other herbe.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God, & the hypocrites hope shall perish.

14 His confidence also shalbe cut of, and his trust shalbe as the house of a spyder.

15 He shall leane vpon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall holde him fast by it, yet shall it not endure.

16 The tree is Greene before the sunne, and the branches spread ouer y garden therof.

17 The rootes thereof are wrapped about the fontaine, and are soulden about the house of stones.

18 If anie plucke it from his place, and it decline, saying, I haue not seene thee, 19 Beholde, it will reioyce by this meanes, that it may growe in another molde.

20 Beholde, God will not cast away an vpright man, neither will hee take the wicked by the Spirit.

h Which is to day, and to morowe swept away. i He compareth the iust to a tree, which although it be removed out of one place vnto another, yet flourisheth: so the affliction of the godly turneth to their profite. k That is, so that there remaine nothing there to proue whether y tree had growen there or no. l To be planted in another place, where it may growe at pleasure.

Bildads answer.

a After alterations faith breeth forth and leadeth Iob to repentance: yet he was not in such perfection, that he could bridle him selfe from reasoning w God, because he still tried his faith. o That is, I shalbe dead.

a He declareth that their word which would diminish my thing from the iustice of God, is but as a puffe of winde that vanissheth away. b That is, hath rewarded them according to their iniquitie: meaning, that Iob ought to be warned by the example of his children, that he offend not God. c That is, if thou turne betime.

d While God calleth thee to repentance. e Though the beginnings be not so pleasant, as thou wouldest desire, yet in the ende thou shalt haue sufficient occasion to content thy selfe. f He willeth Iob to examine al antiquities, and he shall finde it true which he here saith.

g As a rush can not growe without myre, so can not the hypocrite, because he hath not faith.

h Confirmed by the example of them that went before vs. i As a rush can not growe without myre, so can not the hypocrite, because he hath not faith.

ter, and thy lippes with ioye.

C H A P. IX.

1 Job declareth the mightie power of God, and that mans righteoufnes is nothing.

- 1 Then Iob answered, and said,
2 I knowe verely that it is so: for how should man compared vnto God, be <sup>a</sup> iusti-fied?

3 If he would dispute with him, he could not answer him one thing of a <sup>b</sup> thousand.

- 4 He is wise in heart, & mightie in strength:
who hath bene feare against him & hath prospered?

5 He remoueth the mountaines and they feele not when he ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

- 6 He <sup>c</sup> remoueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof do shake.

7 He commandeth the sunne, and it riseth not: he closeth vp the starres, as vnder a signer.

8 He him selfe alone spreadeth out the hea-uens and walketh vpon the height of the sea.

- 9 He maketh the starres <sup>d</sup> Arcturus, Orion, &
Pleiades, and the climates of the South.

10 He doth great things, and vnsceacheable:
yea, maruclous things without number.

- 11 Lo, when he goeth <sup>e</sup> by me, I see him not:
and whē he passeth by, I perceiue him not.

12 Behold, when he taketh a pray, <sup>f</sup> who can make him to restore it? who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

- 13 God <sup>g</sup> will not withdrawe his anger, and the most mightie helpe <sup>h</sup> do stoupe vnder
him.

14 How much lesse shall I answere him? or how shoulde I finde out my wordes with him?

- 15 For though I were iust, yet coulde I <sup>i</sup> not answere, <sup>j</sup> but I woulde make supplication to my Iudge.

16 If I <sup>k</sup> crye, and he answere me, <sup>l</sup> yet woulde
I not beleuee, that he heard my voyce.

- 17 For he destroyeth me with a tempest, and woundeth me <sup>m</sup> without cause.

18 He will not suffer mee to take my breath, but filleth me with bitterness.

- 19 If we <sup>n</sup> speake of strength, beholde, hee is <sup>o</sup> strong: if we <sup>p</sup> speake of iudgement, who shal bring me in to pleade?

20 If I woulde iustifie my selfe, mine owne mouth shal condemne me: <sup>q</sup> if I woulde be perfit, he shall iudge me wicked.

- 21 Though I were perfit, yet I knowe not my soule: therefore abhorre I my life.

22 This is one point: therefore I said, He de-stroyeth the <sup>r</sup> perfit and the wicked.

- 23 If the scourge should suddenly <sup>s</sup> slay, should God <sup>t</sup> laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

24 The earth is giuen into the hand of <sup>u</sup> wicked: he <sup>v</sup> couereth the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where <sup>w</sup> is he? or who is he?

- 25 My dayes haue bene more swift then a post: they haue fled, and haue scene no good thing.

26 They are passed as with the moste swift shippes, and as the eagle that flyeth to the pray.

- 27 If <sup>x</sup> I say, I will forget my complaint, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort me,

28 Then I am afraide of al my sorowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

- 29 If I be wicked, why <sup>y</sup> labour I thus in vaine?

30 If I wash my selfe with snowe water, and purge mine hands most cleane,

- 31 Yet shalt thou plunge me in the pit, and mine owne <sup>z</sup> clothes shall make me filthie.

32 For he is not a man as I am, that I shoulde answer him, if we come together to iudge-ment.

- 33 Neither is there anie vmpire <sup>a</sup> that might lay his hand vpon vs both.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, & let not his feare astonish me:

- 35 Then will I speake, and feare him not: <sup>b</sup> but because I am not so, I holde me stil.

According to the infirmities of the flesh. <sup>y</sup> Though I seeme neuer so pure in mine owne eyes, yet al is but corruption before God. <sup>z</sup> Whatsoever I wold vse to couer my filthines with, shal disclofe me so much more. <sup>a</sup> Which might make an accord betwene God and me, speaking of impacience, and yet confessing God to be iust in punishing him.

- b Signifying that Gods iudgements keepe him in awe.

C H A P. X.

1 Iob is wearie of his life, and setteth out his fragilitie before God. 20 He desireth him to slay his hand. 22 A description of death.

- 1 My soule is cut of <sup>a</sup> though I liue: I will leauie my <sup>b</sup> complaint vpon my selfe, ned

I As brittle as a pot of clay.

ned me wholly round about, and wilt thou destroy me?

9 Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made me as the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust againe?

10 Hast thou not powred me out as milke?
and turned me to cruds like cheefe?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, and ioyned me together with bones and sin-ewes.

12 Thou hast giuen me life, and grace: and thy visitation hath preferred my spirit.

13 Though thou hast hid these things in thine heart, yet I knowe that it is so with thee.

14 If I haue sinned, then thou wilt straightly looke vnto me, and wilt not holde me gileles of mine iniquitie.

15 If I haue done wickedly, wnto me: if I haue done righteously, I will not lift vp mine head, being full of confusion, because I see mine affliction.

16 But let it increase: hunt thou me as a lyon: returne and shew thy selfe maruiculous vpon me.

17 Thou renewest thy plagues against me, and thou increasest thy wrath against me: cha-ges and armies of sorowes are against me.

18 Wherefore then hast thou brought mee into the shadow of death, where is none order, but the light is there as darkenes.

CHAP. XI.

1 Job is vniuicly reprehended of Zophar. 7 God is incomprehensible. 14 He is mercifull to the repentant. 18 Their assurance that loue godly.

Then answered Zophar the Naamathite
and said,

Should not the multitude of wordes bee answered? or should a great talker be ius-tified?

Should men hold their peace at thy lies?
and when thou mockest others, shall none make thee ashamed?

For thou hast said, My doctrine is pure, &
I am cleane in thine eyes.

But oh, that God would speake and open his lippes against thee!

That he might shew thee the secrets of wisedome, how thou hast despised double, according to right: know therefore that God come, whiles he reasuneth with another, & therefore God must breake of the controuersie, and stop mans mouth.

hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

7 Canst thou by searching finde out God?
canst thou finde out the Almighty to his perfection?

8 The heauens are hie, what canst thou do?
it is deeper than hel, how canst thou know it?

9 The measure thereof is longer then the earth, and it is broader then the sea.

10 If he cut of and shut vp, or gather together, who can turne him backe?

11 For he knoweth vaine men, and seeth in-iquitie, & him that vnderstandeth nothing.

12 Yet vaine man would be wise, though man new borne is like a wilde asse colte.

13 If thou prepare thine heart, & stretch out thine hands toward him:

14 If iniquitie be in thine hand, put it farre away, and let no wickednes dwell in thy tabernacle.

15 Then truly shalt thou lift vp thy face without spot, and shalt be stable, and shalt not feare.

16 But thou shalt forget thy miserie, and remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shall appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou shalt shine and be as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be bolde, because there is hope: and thou shalt digge pittes, & shalt lye downe safely.

19 * For when thou takest thy rest, none shall make thee afraide: yea, manie shall make sute vnto thee.

20 But the eyes of the wicked shall faile, & their refuge shall perish, and their hope shalbe sorow of minde.

which turne to God by true repentance. Lewit. 16. 5. & He sheweth that contrarie things shall come vnto them that do not repen.

CHAP. XII.

1 Job accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 He declareth the might and power of God. 17 And how he chaungeth the course of things.

Then Job answered, and sayd,
In deede because that ye are the people onely, wisedome must dye with you.

But I haue vnderstanding as wel as you, & am not inferior vnto you: yea, who knoweth not such things?

* I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, & he heareth him:
the iust & the vpright is laughed to scorne.

He that is readie to fall, is as a lampe despised in the opinion of the riche.

The tabernacles of robbers do prosper, and they are in safetie, that prouoke God, whom God had enriched with his hand.

Aske now the beasts, & they shall teach thee, and the foules of the heauen, & they shall tell thee:

Or speake to the earth, and it shall shewe thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall that in steade of true consolation they did deride & despise their friend in his aduersitie. c The which neighbour being a mocker, and a wicked man, thinketh if no man is in Gods fauour but he, because he hath all things that he desireth. d As the riche esteeme not a light, so weeth that goeth out, so is he despised that falleth from prosperitie to aduersitie. e For to whom God hath brought in with his hand. e He declareth to them that did dispute against him, that their wisedome is common to all, and such as the verie brute beastes do daily teache.

That is this perfection of God, and if height of his uirtue, the depth of hel, the length of the earth, the

but creatures:
how can he attaine to the perfection of the Creator?

If God should turne the floure of things, and establish a new or-

9 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

10 In whose hande is the soule of euery liuing thing, and the breath of all mankind.

11 Doeth not the eares discern the words? and the mouth talke meate for it selfe?

12 Among the ancient is wisdom, and in the length of dayes is vnderstanding.

13 With him is wisdom and strength: he hath counsell and vnderstanding.

14 Beholde, he will breake downe, and it can not be buylt: he shitteth a man vp, and he can not be loosed.

15 Beholde, he withholdeth the waters, and they drie vp: but when hee sendeth them out, they destroy the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisdom: he is deceiued, and that deceiue, are his.

17 He causeth the counsellors to go as spoyled, and maketh the iudges fooles.

18 He looeth the colar of Kings, and girdeth their loynes with a girdle.

19 He leadeth away the princes as a pray, & ouerthroweth the mightie.

20 He taketh away the speache from the faithful counsellors, and taketh away judgement of the ancient.

21 He powreth contempt vpon princes, and maketh the strength of the mightie weake.

22 He discouereth the deepe places from their darkenes, and bringeth forth the shadowe of death to light.

23 He increaseth the people, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and bringeth them in againe.

24 He taketh away the hearts of them that are the chief ouer the people of the earth, and maketh them to wander in the wilderness out of the way.

25 They grope in the darke without light: & he maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iob compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16 The penitent shalbe saved, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 He prayeth vnto God that he would not handle him rigorously.

1 O, mine eye hath seene all this: mine eare hath heard, and vnderstand it.

2 I knowe also as much as you knowe: I am not inferior vnto you.

3 But I will speake to the Almighty, and I desire to dispute with God.

4 For in deede ye forge lyes, and all you are physicians of no value.

5 Oh, that you would holde your tongue, that it might be impured to you for wisdom!

6 Now heare my disputation, and giue eare to the arguments of my lips.

7 For although he kneweth that God had a iudice, which was manifest in his ordinarie working and another in his secret counsel, yet hee would vtter his affection to God, because he was not able to vnderstand the cause why he did thus punish him. b You do not well apply your medicine to the disease.

7 Wil ye speake wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

8 Will ye accept his person? or wil ye contend for God?

9 Is it well that he should seeke of you? will you make a lye for him, as onelyeth for a man?

10 He wil surely reprove you, if ye do secretly accept anie person.

11 Shal not his excellencie make you afraid? and his feare fall vpon you?

12 Your memories may be compared vnto althes, and your bodies to bodies of clay.

13 Holde your tongues in my presence, that I may speake, and let come vpon what will.

14 Wherefore do I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my soule in mine hand?

15 Lo, though he slay me, yet wil I trust in him, & I wil reprove my waies in his sight.

16 He shalbe my saluation also: for the hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 Heare diligently my wordes, and marke my talke.

18 Beholde now: if I prepare me to iudgement, I knowe that I shalbe iustified.

19 Who is he, that wil pleade with me? for if I now holde my tongue, I dye.

20 But do not these two things vnto me: then will I not hide my selfe from thee.

21 Withdrawe thine hand from me, and let not thy feare make me afraied.

22 Then call thou, and I will answer: or let me speake, and answer thou me.

23 How many are mine iniquities & sinnes: shew me my rebellion, and my sinne.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and takest me for thine enemie?

25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driuen to & fro? and wilt thou pursue the drye stubble?

26 For thou writest bitter things against me, and makest me to possesse the iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou putttest my feete also in the stocks, and lookest narrowly vnto all my paths, and makest the print thereof in the heeles of my feete.

28 Such one consumeth like a rotten thing, and as a garment that is motheaten.

29 He would know a cause of God why he did punish him. m Thou punishest me now for the fautes that I committed in my youth. n Thou makest me thy prisoner, and doest so presse me that I cannot stirre hand nor foote. ebr. rootes.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iob describeth the shortnes and miserie of the life of man. 14 Hope subtaineth the godly. 22 The condition of mans life.

1 MAn that is borne of a woman, is of a short continuance, and ful of trouble.

2 He shooteth forth as a flowre, and is cut downe: he vanisheth also as a shadow, & continueth not.

3 And yet thou openest thine eyes vpon such one, and causest me to enter into iudgement with thee.

4 Who can bring a cleane thing out of filthines? there is not one.

downe, that it wil yet sproute, and the branches thereof will not cease.

8 Though the roote of it waxe olde in the earth, and the stock thereof be dead in the ground,

9 Yet by the sent of water it wil bud, and bring forth boughes like a plant.

10 But man is sicke, and dyeth, and man perisheth, and where is he ?

11 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decayeth and dryeth vp,

12 So man sleepeth and riseth not: for he shal not wake againe, nor bee raised from his sleep vntill the heauen be no more.

13 Oh that thou wouldest hide mee in the grauē, & keepe me secret, vntill thy wrath were past, and wouldest giue me terme, and remember me.

14 If a man die, shall he liue againe ? All the dayes of mine appointed time will I waite, till my changing shall come.

15 Thou shalt call me, and I shall answer thee:
thou louest the worke of thine owne hands.

16 But now thou nombrest my steppes, and doest not delay my finnes.

17 Mine iniquitie is sealed vp, as in a bagge, and thou addest vnto my wicke dnes.

18 And surely as the mounaine that falleth, commeth to nought, and the rocke that is removed from his place:

thou ouerflowest the things which growe in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man.

20 Thou preuailest alway against him, so that he passeth away: he changeth his face whe thou caltest him away.

21 And he knoweth not if his sonnes shal be honorable, neither shall he vnderstand cocerning them, whether they shal be of lowe degree.

22 But while his flesh is vpon him, hee shall be sorrowfull, and while his soule is in him, it shall mourne.

CHAP. XV.

1 Eliphaz reprehendeth Job, because he ascribeth wisdom, and purporteth to him selfe. 16 He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, rekening Job to be one of the number.

1 Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite,
and said,

2 Shall a wife man speake wordes of the winde, and fill his bellie with the East winde ?

3 Shal he dispute with wordes not comely ?
or shal talke that is not profitable ?

7 Art thou the first man, that was borne ?
and wast thou made before the hills ?

8 Hast thou heard the secrete counsell of God, and doest thou restraine wisdom to thee ?

9 What knowest thou that we knowe not ?
and vnderstandest that is not in vs ?

10 With vs are both auncient and very aged men, farre older then thy father.

11 Seeme the consolations of God small vn-

12 Why doest thine heart take thee away, and what do thine eyes meane,

13 That thou answerest to God at thy pleasure, and bringest such words out of thy mouth ?

14 What is man, that he shoulde be cleane ?
and he that is borne of woman, that hee should be iust ?

15 Beholde, he found no stedfastnes in his Saintes: yea, the heauens are not cleane in his sight.

16 How much more is man abominable, and filthie, w<sup>h</sup> drinketh iniquitie like water ?

17 I will tel thee: heare me, and I will declare that which I haue seene:

18 Which wise men haue tolde, as they haue heard of their fathers, and haue not kept it secret:

19 To whome alone the land was giuen and no stranger passed through them.

20 The wicked man is continually as one that trauaileth of childe, and the number of yeres is hid from the tyrant.

21 A sound of feare is in his eares, and in his prosperitie the destroyer shall come vpon
him.

22 He beleueth not to returne out of darknenes: for he seeth the sword before him.

23 He wandreth to and fro for bread where he may: he knoweth that the day of darknenes is prepared at hand.

24 Affliction and anguish shall make him afraide: they shall preuaile against him as a King readie to the battell.

25 For he hath stretched out his had against God, and made him selfe strong against the Almightie.

26 Therefore God shall runne vpon him, euen vpon his necke, and against the most thicke part of his shielde.

fannes, and hath colloppes in his flanke.

houses which no man inhabiteth, but are flame shal drie vp his branches, and he shal

1 Job moued by the importunacie of his friends, 7 Counteth in what extremities he is, 19 And taketh God witness of his innocencie.

1 BUt Job answered, and said,
2 I haue oft times heard such things: miserable comforters are ye all.

3 Shall there bee none ende of wordes of winde? or what maketh thee bolde so to answer?

4 I could also speake as ye do: (but woulde God your foule were in my soules steade) I could keepe you companie in speaking, & could shake mine head at you,

5 But I woulde strengthen you with my mouth, and the comfort of my lips should deawage your sorowe.

6 Though I speake, my sorow can not be awaged: thogh I cease, what release haue I?

7 But now he maketh me wearie: O God, thou hast made all my congregation desolate,

8 And hast made me ful of wrinkles yfeth vp in me, testifying the same in my face.

9 His wrath hath torne me, and he hateth me, and gnasheth vpon me with his teeth: mine enemy hath sharpened his eyes against me.

10 They haue opened their mouthes vpon me, and smitten me on the cheek in reproch: they gather themselues together against me.

11 God hath deliuered me to the vnjust, and hath made me to turne out of the way by the hands of the wicked.

12 I was in welth, but he hath brought me to nought: he hath taken me by the necke, & beaten me, and set me as a marke for himselfe.

13 His archers compass me round about: he cutteth my reines, and doth not spare, and powreth my gall vpon the ground.

14 He hath broken me w one breaking vpon another, & runneth vpon me like a gyant.

15 I haue sowed a sackcloth vpon my skinne, and haue abased mine horne vnto the dust.

18 O earth, couer not thou my blood, and let my crying finde no place.

19 For lo, now my witness is in the heauen, and my record is on hie.

20 My friends speake eloquently against me: but mine eye powreth out teares vnto God.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Job saith that he consumeth away, and yet doeth patiently abide it. 10 He exhorteth his friends to repentance, 13 Shewing that he looketh but for death.

1 MY breath is corrupt: my dayes are cut of, and the graue is readie for me.

2 There are none but mockers with me, & mine eye continueth in their bitternes.

3 Lay downe nowe and put me in suretie for thee: who is he, that will touch mine hand?

4 For thou hast hid their heart from vnderstanding: therefore shalt thou not set them vpon hie.

5 For the eyes of his children shall sayle, that speaketh flatterie to his friends.

6 Hee hath also made me a byworde of the people, and I am as a tabret before them.

7 Mine eye therefore is dimme for griefe, and all my strength is like a shadowe.

8 The righteous shall be astonied at this, and the innocent shalbe moued against the hypocrite.

9 But the righteous wil holde his way, and he whose hands are pure, shall increace his strength.

10 All you therefore turne you, and come now, and I shall not finde one wise among you.

11 My dayes are past, mine enterprises are broken, and the thoughts of mine heart

12 Haue changed the night for the daye, and the light that approached, for darkenes.

13 Though I hope, yet the graue shalbe mine house, and I shall make my bed in the darke.

14 I shall say to corruption, Thou art my father, and to the worme, Thou art my mother and my sister.

15 Where is then now mine hope? or who shall consider the thing, that I hoped for?

16 They shall go downe into the bottome of the pit: surely it shall lye together in the dust.

17 That is, wil not be discouraged, considering that the godly are punished as well as the wicked. 1 Job speaketh to them three, that came to comfort him. m That is, haue brought me sorowe in steade of comfort. n Though I should hope to come from aduersitie to prosperitie as your discourse pretendeth. o I haue no more hope in father, mother, sister, or any worldly thing: for the dust and wormes shall be to me in stead of them. p All worldly hope, and prosperitie sayle, which you say, are onely signes of Gods fauour: but seeing that these things perish, I set mine hope in God, and in the life cuerlasting.

That is, vnfaired, and without hypocricie.
Let my sinne be knowne, if I be such a sinner as mine aduersaries accuse me, and let me finde no fauour.
Though man condemne me, yet God is witness of my cause.

7 The light shalbe darke in his dwelling, & his candle shalbe put out with him.

8 The steppes of his strength shalbe restrained, and his owne counsell shall cast him downe.

9 For he is taken in the net by his feete, and he walketh vpon the snares.

10 The grenne shall take him by the heele, & the theefe shall come vpon him.

11 A snare is layed for him in the ground, & a trappe for him in the way.

12 Fearefulness shall make him afraide on euery side, and shall driue him to his feete.

13 His strength shalbe as famine: and destruction shalbe readie at his side.

14 It shall deuoure the inner partes of his skinne, and the first borne of death shall deuoure his strength.

15 His hope shalbe rooted out of his dwelling, and shall cause him to go to the King of feare.

16 Feare shall dwell in his house (because it is not his) and brimstone shalbe scattered vpon his habitation.

17 His rootes shalbe dried vp beneath, and aboute shall his branche bee cut downe.

18 His remembrance shall perishe from the earth, and hee shall haue no name in the streete.

19 They shall driue him out of the light vnto darkenes, and chase him out of the worlde.

20 He shall neither haue sonne nor nephew among his people, nor anie posteritie in his dwellings.

21 The posteritie shalbe astonied at his day, and feare shall come vpon the ancient.

22 Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Job reprovveth his friends, 15 And reciteth his miseries & grievous paines. 25 He assureth him selfe of the generall resurrection.

1 But Job answered, and said,

2 How long will ye vex me my soule, and torment me with wordes?

3 Ye haue now ten times reproched me, and are not ashamed: ye are impudent toward me.

4 And though I had in deede erred, mine errour remaineth with me.

Job.

5 But in deede if ye wil aduance your selues against me, & rebuke me for my reproche,

6 Know now, that God hath ouerthrowen me, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 Beholde, I crie out of violence, but I haue none answer: I crie but there is no iudgement.

8 He hath hedged vp my way that I cannot passe, and hee hath set darkenes in my paths.

9 He hath spoyled me of mine honour, and taken the crowne away from mine head.

10 He hath destroyed me on euery side and I am gone: and hee hath remoued mine hope like a tree.

11 And hee hath kindled his wrath against me, & counteth me as one of his enemies.

12 His armies came together, and made their way vpon me, and camped about my tabernacle.

13 He hath remoued my brethren farre from me, & also mine acquaintance were strangers vnto me.

14 My neighbours haue forsaken me, & my familiars haue forgotten me.

15 They that dwell in mine house, and my maides tooke me for a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight.

16 I called my seruant, but he would not answer, though I prayed him with my mouth.

17 My breath was strange vnto my wife, though I prayed her for the childrens sake of mine owne bodie.

18 The wicked also despised me, and when I rose, they spake against me.

19 All my secret friends abhorred me, they whom I loued, are turned against me.

20 My bone cleaueth to my skinne and to my flesh, and I haue escaped with the skin of my teeth.

21 Haue pitie vpon me: haue pitie vpon me, (O ye my friends) for the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why do ye persecute me, as God? and are not satisfied with my flesh?

23 Oh that my wordes were now written! oh that they were written euen in a booke!

24 And grauen with an yron penne in lead, or in stone for euer.

25 For I am sure, that my Redemer liueth, and he shall stand the last on the earth.

26 And though after my skinne wormes destroye this bodie, yet shall I see God in my flesh.

27 Whom I my selfe shall see, and mine eyes shall beholde, and none other for me, though my reynes are consumed within me.

28 But ye said, Why is he persecuted? And there was a deepe matter in me.

29 Be ye afraied of the sword: for the sword will be auenged of wickednes, that ye may know that there is a iudgement.

fore the great iudge, who shall be my deliuerer and Saniour. I Heretofore I declareth plainly that he had a full hope, that both the soule & bodie should enioy the presence of God in the last resurrection. I Though his friends thought that he was but persecuted of God for his sinnes, yet he declareth that there was a deeper consideration: to wit, the will of his faith and patience, and so to be an example for others. I God will be reuenged of this hasty iudgement, whereby you condemn me.

Hope of the resurrection.

He brasheth out againe into his passion, & decrieth that his affliction cometh of God, though he be not able to see the cause in him selfe.

d Meaning, out of his affliction.

e Meaning, his children & what forer was done vnto him in this world.

CHAP. XX.

1 Zophar sheweth, that the wicked and the counsellors shall have a short end, 21 Though for a time they flourish.

1 Then answered Zophar the Naamathite and said,

2 Doubtles my thoughts cause mee to answer, and therefore I make haste.

3 I haue heard *the correction of my reproche: therefore the spirit of mine vnderstanding causeth me to answer.

4 Knowest thou not this of olde? and since God placed man vpon the earth?

5 That the reioicing of the wicked is short, and that the ioye of hypocrites is but a moment?

6 Though<sup>b</sup> his excellencie mount vp to the heauen, and his head reache vnto the cloudes,

7 Yet shall he perishe for euer, like his dung, and they which haue seene him, shall saye, Where is he?

8 He shall flee away as a dreame, and they shall not finde him, and shall passe away as a vision of the night.

9 So that the eye which had seene him, shall do so no more, and his place shall see him no more.

10 His children shall flatter the poore, and his hands shall restore his substance.

11 His bones are full of the sinne of his youth, and *it shall lie downe with him in the dust.

12 When wickednes<sup>c</sup> was sweet in his mouth, and he hid it vnder his tongue,

13 And fauoured it, and would not forsake it, but kept it close in his mouth, 14 Then his meat in his bowels was turned: the gall of Aspes was in the middes of him.

15 He hath deuoured substance, and he shall vomit it: for God shall drawe it out of his bellie.

16 He shall sucke the gall of Aspes, and the vipers tongue shall flay him.

17 He shall not see the ryuers, nor the floods and streames of honie and butter.

18 He shall restore the labour, & shall deuoure no more: even according to the substance shall be his exchange, and he shall enjoy it no more.

19 For he hath vndone manie: he hath forsaken the poore, and hath spoyled houses & he buylded not.

20 Surely he shall seele no quietnes in his bodie, neither shall he referue of that which he desired.

21 There shall none of his meate be left: therefore none shall hope for his goods.

22 When he shall be filled with his abundance, he shall be in paine, and the hand<sup>d</sup> of all the wicked shall assaile him.

23 He shall be about to fill his belly, but God shall send vpon him his feare wrath, and shall cause to raine vpon him, even vpon his meate.

24 He shall flee from the yron weapons, and they shall but for a time: for after God will take it from them and cause them to make restitution, so that it is but an exchange. k He shall leaue nothing to his posteritie. l The wicked shall neuer be in rest: for one wicked man shall seeke to destroy another. m Some reade, vpon his flesh, alluding to Iob, whose flesh was smitten with a scabbe.

the bowe of Steele shall strike him through.

25 The arrow is drawn out, and commeth forth of the<sup>n</sup> bodie, and thineeth of his gall, so feare commeth vpon him.

26 All darkenes shall be hid in his secreete places: the fire that is not<sup>p</sup> blowen, shall deuoure him, and that which remaineth in his tabernacle, shall be destroyed.

27 The heauen shall declare his wickednes, and the earth shall rise vp against him.

28 The increase of his house shall go away: it shall flowe away in the day of his wrath.

29 This is the porcion of the wicked man frō<sup>q</sup> God, and the heritage that he shall haue flow away like riuers & be dispersed in diuers places. r Thus God wil plague the wicked. f Against God, thinking to excuse him selfe and to escape Gods hand.

CHAP. XXI.

7 Iob declareth how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proude, 15 In so much that they blaspheme God.

16 Their destruction is at hand, 23 None ought to be iudged wicked for affliction, neither good for prosperitie.

1 But Iob answered, and said, 2 Heare diligently my wordes, and this shall be in stead of your consolations.

3 Suffer me, that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.

4 Do I direct my talke to man? If it<sup>b</sup> were so, howe should not my spirit be troubled?

5 Marke me, and be abashed, and lay your hand vpon your<sup>c</sup> mouth.

6 Euen when I remember, I am afraide, and feare taketh holde on my flesh.

7 Wherefore do the wicked<sup>d</sup> lye, and waxe olde, and growe in welth?

8 Their seede is established in their sight with them, and their generation before their eyes.

9 Their houses are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.

10 Their bullocke gendred, and faileth not: their cow calueth, & casteth not her calfe.

11 They send forth their childre<sup>e</sup> like sheep, and their sonnes dance.

12 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the sound of the organs.

13 They spend their daies in welth, and suddenly<sup>f</sup> they go downe to the graue.

14 They say also vnto God, Depart frō vs: for we desire not the<sup>g</sup> knowledge of thy waies.

15 Who is the Almighty, that we shoulde serue him? and what profit shoulde we haue, if we shoulde pray vnto him?

16 Lo, their welth is not in their hand: therefore let the counsell of the wicked<sup>h</sup> be farre from me.

17 How oft shall the candle of the wicked be put out? and their destruction come vpon them? hee will deuide their liues in his wrath.

18 They shall be as stubble before the wind, & as chaffe that the storme carrieth away.

19 God wil lay vp the sorowe of the father for his childre: when he rewardeth him, hee shall know it.

this Iob sheweth his aduersaries, that if they reasonably by which is seene by common experience, y wicked that hate God, are better dealt withall, then they that loue him. h It is not their owne, but God onely lendeth it vnto them. i God keepe me from their prosperitie.

M. iij.

n Some reade, of the quier.

o All feare & sorrow shall light vpon him, when he thinketh to escape.

p That is, fire from heauen, or the fire of Gods wrath.

q Meaning, the children of the wicked shall flow away like riuers & be dispersed in diuers places.

r Thus God wil plague the wicked.

f Against God, thinking to excuse him selfe and to escape Gods hand.

g They desire nothing more frō al subiection that they should beare to God:

h It is not their owne, but God onely lendeth it vnto them.

i God keepe me from their prosperitie.

a Your diligens marking of my wordes shall be to me a great consolation.

b As though hee would say, I do not talke w man, but w God, who wil not answer me, and therefore my mind must needs be troubled.

c He chargeth them as though they were not able to comprehend this feeling of Gods iudgement, and exhorteth them therefore to silence.

d Iob proueth against his aduersaries that God punisheth not straight wayes y wicked, but oft times giueth the long life, & prosperitie: so y we must not iudge God iust or vniust by y things that appeare to our eye.

e They haue store of childre, lusty & healthful, & in these points he answereth to y which Zophar alleaged before.

f Not being tormented w long sicknesses.

g They desire nothing more frō al subiection that they should beare to God:

The wicked kept to destruction.

Job.

Job exhorted to repentance.

k When God recompenseth his wickednes he shall knowe that his prosperitie was but vanitie. l Who sendeth to the wicked prosperitie, and punisheth the godly. m Meaning, the wicked. n To wit, the godly. o As concerning their bodies: and this he speaketh according to the common iudgement. p Thus they called Iobs house in derision, concluding that it was destroyed because he was wicked. q Which through long traueling haue experience and tokens hereof, to wit, that the wicked do prosper and the godly liue in affliction. r Though the wicked flourish here, yet God will punish him in the last day. s Though men do flatter him, and none dare reprove him in this world, yet death is taken, that God will bring him to an account. t He shall be glad to lie in a slimie pit, which before could not be content with a royal palace. u Saying, that the iust in this world haue prosperitie and the wicked aduersitie.

CHAP. XXII.

a Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his finnes. b He accuseth him of vniuersallnes. c And that he denied Gods providence. d He exhorteth him to repentance.

1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and said,

2 May a man be profitable vnto God, as he that is wise, may be profitable to himselfe?

3 * Is it anie thing vnto the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy wayes vpright?

4 Is it for feare of thee that he will accuse thee? or go with thee into iudgement?

5 Is not thy wickednes great, and thine iniquities innumerable?

6 For thou hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, & spoiled the clothes of the naked.

7 To such as were wearie, thou hast not giuen water to drinke, and hast withdrawn bread from the hungrie.

8 But the mighty man had the earth, and he that was in autoritie, dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast cast out widowes emptie, and the armes of the fatherles were broken.

10 Therefore snares are round about thee, and feare shall suddenly trouble thee:

11 Or darkeneth that thou shouldest not see, and abundance of waters shall couer thee. f That is, trouble. g That is, afflictions. h He accuseth Iob of impietie and contempt of God, as though he would say, li thou passest not for men, yet consider the height of Gods maiestie. i That so much the more by that excellencie worke thou maiest feare God and reuerence him. j He reproveth Iob as though he denied Gods providence, and that he could not see things that were done in this world. k How God hath punished them from the beginning. l He proueth Gods providence by the punishment of the wicked, whom he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe. m He answereth to that, which Iob had said Chap. xxi. that the wicked haue prosperitie in this world, desiring that he might not be partaker of the like. n The iust reioyce at the destruction of the wicked for two causes: first, because God sheweth himself iudge of the world, and by this means continueth his honor & glory: secondly, because God sheweth

12 Is not God on high in the heauen? and beholdeth the height of the starres how high they are.

13 But thou saiest, How should God knowe? can he iudge through the darke cloude?

14 The cloudes hide him that hee can not see, and he walketh in the circle of heauen.

15 Hast thou marked the way of the world, wherein wicked men haue walked?

16 Which were cut downe before the time, whose fundation was as a riuer that overflowed:

17 Which said vnto God, Depart from vs, and asked what the Almighty could do for them.

18 Yet he filled their houses with good things: but let the counsel of the wicked be farre from me.

19 The righteous shall see them, and shall reioyce, and the innocent shall laugh them to scorn.

20 Surely our substance is hid: but the fire hath deuoured the remnant of them.

21 Therefore acquaint thy selfe, I pray thee, with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt haue prosperitie.

22 Receiue, I pray thee, the lawe of his mouth, and laye vp his wordes in thine heart.

23 If thou returne to the Almighty, thou shalt be buylt vp, and thou shalt put iniquitie farre from thy tabernacle.

24 Thou shalt lay vp golde for dust, and the golde of Ophir, as the flintes of the riueres.

25 Yea, the Almighty shall be thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of siluer.

26 And thou shalt then delite in the Almighty, and lift vp thy face vnto God.

27 Thou shalt make thy praier vnto him, and he shall heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes.

28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shall establish it vnto thee, and the light shall shine vpon thy wayes.

29 * When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shall saue the humble person.

30 The innocent shall deliuer the yland, & it shall be preferred by the purenes of thine hands.

growing.

Would God yet I knew how to finde him,

I would enter vnto his place.

I would plead the cause before him, & fill my mouth with arguments.

I would know the wordes, that he would answer me, and would vnderstand what he would say vnto me.

Would he <sup>b</sup>plead against me with his great power? No, but he would <sup>c</sup>put strength in me.

<sup>d</sup>There the righteous might reason with him, so I should be deliuered for euer from my Iudge.

•Beholde, if I goe to the East, he is not there: if to the West, yet I cannot perceiue

him:

If to the North where he worketh, yet I cannot see him: he wil hide himselfe in the South, and I cannot behold him.

But he knoweth my way, and tryeth me, and I shall come forth like the gold.

My foote hath followed his steps: his way

haue I kept, and haue not declined.

Neither haue I departed from the commandement of his lips, & I haue esteemed the wordes of his mouth more then mine appointed foode.

Yet he is in one minde, & who can <sup>b</sup>turne him? yea, he doeth what his mynde desi-reth.

For he will performe that, which is decreed of me, and <sup>c</sup>many such things are with him.

Therefore I am troubled at his presence, & in considering it, I am affrayd of him.

For God hath softened mine heart, & the Almightie hath troubled me.

For I am not cut of in darkenes, but hee hath hid the darkenes from my face.

His word is more precious vnto me, then the meat wherewith the body is sustained. <sup>h</sup> Job confesseth that at this present he felt not Gods favour, and yet was assured, that he had appointed him to a good ende.

In many pointes man is not able to attaine to Gods iudgements.

That I should not be without feare. <sup>1</sup> He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that he bryng in trouble, feeth none ende, neyther yet knoweth the cause.

CHAP. XXIIII.

<sup>a</sup> Job describeth the wickednesse of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked. <sup>12</sup> How all things are gouerned by Gods providence, <sup>17</sup> And the destruction of the wicked.

How should not the tymes <sup>a</sup>be hid from the Almighty, seeing that they which know him, see not his dayes?

Some remoue the lande markes, that robbe

the flockes and feede thereof.

They lead away the asse of the fatherles:

and take the widowes oxe to pledge.

They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of y<sup>e</sup> earth hide the-selves together.

Beholde, others as wilde asses in the wil-dernes, go forth to their businesse, and rise early for a pray: the wildernes <sup>c</sup>giueth him and his children foode.

And for crueltie and oppression dare not shew their faces. <sup>d</sup> That is, spare no diligence. <sup>e</sup> He and his, liue by robbing and murdering.

They reape <sup>c</sup>his prouision in the field, but they gather the late <sup>a</sup>vintage of the wicked.

They cause the naked to lodge without garment, & without couering in the colde.

They are wet with the showres of the mountaines, <sup>b</sup> and they imbrace the rocke for want of a couering.

They plucke the fatherles <sup>i</sup> from y<sup>e</sup> breast, and take the pledge <sup>h</sup> of the poore.

They cause him to goe naked without clothing, and take the gleining from the hungrie.

They that make oile betwene their walles, and treade their wine presses, suffer thirst.

Men <sup>m</sup> crye out of the citie, & the soules of the slayne <sup>n</sup> crye out: yet God doeth <sup>n</sup> not charge them with follie.

These are they, that abhorre the <sup>p</sup> light:

they know not the wayes thereof, nor continue in the pathes thereof.

The murderer riseth early and killeth the poore and the needie: & in the night he is as a theefe.

The eye also of the <sup>q</sup> adulterer waiteth for the twilight, and sayeth, None eye shall see me, and disguiseth his face.

They digge through houses in the darke, which they marked for themselves in the day: they know not the light.

But the morning is euen to them as the shadow of death: if one knowe them, they are in the terrours of the shadow of death.

He is swift vp<sup>o</sup> the waters: their por-cion shalbe curled in the earth: he will not beholde the waye of the vineyardes.

As the drie ground & heate consume the snow waters, so <sup>u</sup>shal the graue the sinners.

The pitifull man shall forget him: the worme <sup>v</sup>shall feelee his sweetnes: he shalbe no more remembred, and the wicked shall be broken like a tree.

He doth euil intreat the baren, that doth not beare, neither doth he good to the widowe.

He draweth also the <sup>y</sup> mighty by his power,

& when he riseth vp, none is sure of life.

Though men giue him assurance to be in safetie, yet his eyes are vpon thei wayes.

They are exalted for a litle, but they are gone, & are brought low as all others: they are destroyed, and cut of as the top of an care of corne.

But if it be not <sup>z</sup> so, where is he? or who will prouee me a lyer, and make my wordes of no value?

As the drie ground is neuer full with waters, so will they neuer cease sinning, til they come to the graue. <sup>u</sup> Though God suffer y<sup>e</sup> wicked for a tyme, yet their end shalbe most vile destruction, and in this point Job commeth to himselfe, and sheweth his confidence. <sup>x</sup> He sheweth why the wicked shall not be lamented, because he did not pitie others. <sup>y</sup> He declareth that after y<sup>e</sup> wicked haue destroyed the weakest, they will do like to the stronger, & therefore are iustly prevented by gods iudge-ments. <sup>z</sup> That is, that contrary to your reasoning no man can giue a perfitte reason of Gods iudgements, let me be reprooued.

a His purpose is to proue, that albeit God trie & afflict the iust, yet loone after he sendeth prosperitie, and because he did not so to Iob, he cōcludeth that he is wicked.
b Who can hide him fro his presence?
c That is, be iust in respect of God: d If God shew his power, y moone and starres can not haue that light, which is giuen them, much lesse can man haue any excellencie, but of God.

* Power and feare is with him, that maketh peace in his hie places.
Is there any number in his armies? and vpon whom<sup>b</sup> shall not his light arise?
And how may a man<sup>c</sup> be iustified with God? or howe can he be cleane, that is borne of woman?
Behold, he wil giue no light to the moone, and the starres are vnclane in his sight.
How much more man, a worme, euen the sonne of man, which is but a worme?

CHAP. XXVI.

Iob sheweth that man can not helpe God, and proueth it by his miracles.

But Iob answered, and saide,
Whom helpest thou? him that hath no power? sauest thou the arme that hath no strength?
Whom counselest thou? him that hath no wisdom? thou<sup>b</sup> shewest right well as the thing is.
To whom doest thou declare these words? or whose spirite commeth out of thee?
The<sup>d</sup> dead things are formed vnder the waters, and neere vnto them.
The graue is naked before him, and there is no couering for destruction.
He stretcheth out the North ouer the emptie place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.
He bindeth the waters in his cloudes, & the cloude is not broken vnder them.
He holdeth backe the face of his throne: and spreadeth his cloude vpon it.
He hath set boundes about the waters, vntill the day and night come to an end.
The pillars of heauen tremble & quake at his reproofe.
The sea is calmed by his power, and by his vnderstanding he smiteth the pride thereof.
His Spirit hath garnished the heauens, and his hande hath formed the crooked serpent.
Lo, these are part of his wayes: but how little a portion heare we of him? & who can vnderstand his fearefull power?

CHAP. XXVII.

The confidence and perfines of Iob. 13 The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

Moreouer Iob proceeded and continued his parable, saying,
The liuing God hath take away my iudgement: for the Almighty hath put my soule in bitterness.
Yet so long as my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils,
My lips surely shall speake no wickednes,

Iob.

and my tongue shall vtter no deceit.
God forbid, that I should iustifie you: vntill I dye, I will neuer take away mine innocencie from my selfe.
I wil keepe my righteousnes, and will not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprocue me of my dayes.
Mine enemye shalbe as the wicked, & he that riseth against me, as the vnrighteous.
For what hope hath the hypocrite when he hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his soule?
Wil God heare his cry, when trouble cometh vpon him?
Will he set his desire on the Almighty? will he call vpon God at all times?
I will teache you what is in the hande of God, and I will not conceale that which is with the Almighty.
Behold, all ye your selues haue seene it: why then do you thus vanish in vanitie?
This is the portion of a wicked man with God, & the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receiue of the Almighty.
If his children be in great number, the sword shall destroy them, and his posteritie shall not be satisfied with bread.
His remnant shalbe buried in death, and his widowes shall not weepe.
Though he should heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare rayment as the clay,
He may prepare it, but the iust shall put it on, & the innocent shall deuide the siluer.
He buildeth his house as y<sup>m</sup> mothe, & as a lodge that the watchman maketh.
When the riche man slepeth, he shal not be gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.
Terrorours shal take him as waters, & a tempest shal cary him away by night.
The East wind shal take him away, and he shal depart: and he shal hurle him out of his place.
And God shal cast vpon him & not spare, though he would faine flee out of his hand.
Every man shall clap their hands at him, & hisse at him out of their place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Iob sheweth that the wisdoms of God is vnsearchable.

The siluer surely hath his wayne, & the gold his place, where they take it.
Yron is taken out of the dust, and brasse is molten out of the stone.
God putteth an ende to darkenes, and he tryeth the perfection of all things: he setteth a bonde of darkenes, & of the shadow of death.
The flood breaketh out against the inhabitant, and the waters<sup>d</sup> forgotten of the foot, beyng higher then man, are gone away.
Out of the same earth commeth bread, & vnder it, as it were fire is turned vp.
The stones thereof are a place of safety, which a man cannot wade through.
That is, come, & vnderneath is brimstone or cole, which easily conceiue fire.
He alledeth to the mines & secrets of nature, which are vnder the earth, wherinto neither foules nor beastes can enter.

The rewarde of the wicked.

Howfore men iudge of me, yet will I not speake contrary to that, which I haue sayd, and so do wickedly in betraying truth.
Which commeth of God, because the wicked man, because the hand of God is vpon me.
I will not confesse that God doeth thus vnto me for my finnes.
Of my life putt I what advantage hath the dilember to gaine neuer so much, seeing he shall lose his owne soule?
That is, what God reuerteth to himselfe, and wherof he giueth not the knowledge to all.
That is, these secret indgements of God, yet do not vnderstand them.
Why maintain you then this error?
Thus wil God order the wicked, and punish him, euen vnto his posteritie.
None shall lament him.
Which breedeth in another mans possession or garment, but is loone shaken out.
He meaneth that the wicked tyrants shal not haue a quiet death, nor be buried honorably.
His purpose is to declare that man may attaine in this worlde to diuers secrets of nature, but man is neuer able to comprehend the wisdom of God.
There is nothing but it is compassed with in certain limits, and hath an end, but Gods wisdom Meaning him that dwelleth thereby.
Which a man cannot wade through.
That is, come, & vnderneath is brimstone or cole, which easily conceiue fire.
He alledeth to the mines & secrets of nature, which are vnder the earth, wherinto neither foules nor beastes can enter.

10 He breaketh riuers in the rockes, and his eye seeth euery precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods, that they doe not ouerflow, & the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.

12 But where is wisdom found? and where is the place of vnderstanding?

13 Man knoweth not the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the liuing.

14 The depth saith, It is not in me: the sea also saith, It is not with me.

15 Gold shall not be giuen for it, neither shall siluer be weighed for the price thereof.

16 It shall not be valued with the wedge of golde of Ophir, nor with the precious onix, nor the saphir.

20 Whence then cometh wisdom? & where is the place of vnderstanding, 21 Seeyng it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, and is hidde from the foules of the heauen?

22 Destruction & death say, We haue heard the fame thereof with our eares.

23 But God vnderstandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he beholdeth the endes of the world, and seeth all that is vnder heauen,

25 To make the weight of the windes, and to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the raine, & a way for the lightening of the thunders, 27 Then did he see it, and counted it: he prepared it and also considered it.

28 And vnto man he said, Behold, * y * feare of the Lord is wisdom, and to depart from euill is vnderstanding.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Job complaineth of the prosperitie of the tyms past. 7. 21 His auaritie, 22 Iusticie and equitie.

2 So Job proceeded & continued his parable, saying,

3 Oh that I were as in times past, whē God preferred me!

4 When his light shined vpon mine head: and when by his light I walked through the darkenes,

5 As I was in the dayes of my youth: when Gods prouidence was vpo my tabernacle:

6 When the Almighty was yet with me, & my children round about me:

7 When I washed my paths with butter, and when the rocke powred me out riuers of oyle:

8 When I went out to the gate, then to the iudgement seat, and when I caused them to prepare my seate in the streete.

9 The yong men saw me, & hid themselves, and the aged arose, and stood vpon.

10 The princes stayed talke, and layed their hand on their mouth.

11 The veye of princes was hid, and their tongue cleaued to the roofof their mouth.

12 And when the eare heard me, it blessed me: and when the eye saw me, it gaue witness to me.

13 For I deliuered the poore that cryed, and the fatherlesse; and him that had none to helpe him:

14 The blessing of him that was redy to perish, came vpon me, & I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

15 I put on iustice, and it covered me: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.

16 I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the feete to the lame.

17 I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knewe nor the cause, I sought it out diligently.

18 I brake also the chawes of the vnrighteous man, and plucked the pray out of his teeth.

19 Then I said, I shall dye in my nest, & I shall multiply my dayes as the sand.

20 For my roote is spread out by the water, and the dew shall lye vpon my branche.

21 My glory shall renew toward me, and my bowe shall be restored in mine hand.

22 Vnto me men gaue eare, and waited, and held their tongue at my counsell.

23 After my wordes they replied nor, and my talke dropped vpon them.

24 And they waited for me, as for the raine, and they opened their mouth as for y later raine.

25 If I laughed on them, they beleueed it not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance to fall.

26 I appointed out of their way, and did siter as chiefe, and dwelt as a King in the army, and like him that comforteth the mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Job complaineth that he is contemned of the most contemptible, 21. 22 Because of his aduersitie and affliction. 23 Death is the house of all flesh.

2 But now they that are yonger then I, mocke me: yea, they whose fathers I haue refused to set with the dogges of my flockes.

3 For whereto should the strength of their hands haue serued me, seeyng age perished in them?

4 For pouertie and famine they were solitary, fleeing into the wilderness, which is darke, desolate and waste.

5 They cut vpon nettels by the bushes, & the juniper rootes was their meate.

6 They were chased forth from among men: they shouted at them, as at a theefe.

7 Or, malous. d Job sheweth y thefe y mocked him in his affliction, were liket to their fathers, wicked, & lewd fellows, such as he here describeth.

7 They roared among the bushes, and vnder the thistles they gathered themfelues.

8 They were the children of fooles and the childre of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

9 And nowe am I their song, and I am their talke.

10 They abhorre me, and flee farre from me, and spare not to spit in my face.

11 Because that God hath loosed my corde and humbled me, they haue loosed the bridel before me.

12 The youth rise vp at my right hand: they haue pulst my feete, and haue trode on me as on the paths of their destruction.

13 They haue destroyed my paths: they tooke pleasure at my calamitie, they had none helpe.

14 They came as a greate breache of waters, and vnder this calamitie they come on heapes.

15 Feare is turned vpon me: and they pursue my soule as the winde, & mine health passeth away as a cloud.

16 Therefore my soule is now powred out vpon me, and the dayes of affliction haue taken holde on me.

18 For the great vehemencie is my garment changed, which compasseth me about as y color of my coate.

19 He hath cast me into the myre, and I am become like ashes and dust.

20 When I cry vnto thee, thou doest not heare mee, neither regardest me, when I stand vp.

21 Thou turnest thy self cruelly against me, and art enemie vnto me with the strength of thine hand.

22 Thou takest me vp and causest me to ride vpon the winde, and makest my strength to faile.

23 Surely I knowe that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the house appointed for all the liuing.

24 Doubtles none can stretch his hand vnto the graue, though they crye in his destruction.

25 Did not I weepe with him that was in trouble? was not my soule in heauines for the poore?

26 Yet when I looked for good, euil came vnto me: & when I waited for light, there came darknes.

27 My bowels did boyle without rest: for the dayes of affliction are come vpon me.

28 I went mourning without sunne: I stode vp in the congregation and cryed.

29 I am a brother to the dragons, and a companion to the ostriches.

30 My skinne is blacke vpon me, & my bones are burnt with heat.

31 Therefore mine harpe is turned to mourning, and mine organs into the voyce of them that weepe.

2 Iob recites the innocencie of his liuing, and number of his vertues, which declare what ought to be the life of the saythfull.

1 I Made a couenant with mine eyes: why then should I thinke on a mayde?

2 For what porcion should I haue of God if I aboute? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on hie?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked & strange punishment to the workers of iniquitie?

4 Doeth not he beholde my wayes and tell all my steps?

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my foote hath made haste to deceite,

6 Let God weigh me in the iust balance, & he shall know myne vprightnes.

7 If my steppes hath turned out of the waye, or myne heart hath walked after myne eye, or if any blotte hath cleaued to myne handes,

8 Let me sowe, & let another eate: yea, let my plantes be rooted out.

9 If myne heart hath bene deceyued by a woman, or if I haue layd waite at the doore of my neighbour,

10 Let my wife grinde vnto another man, and let other men bow downe vpon her.

11 For this is a wickednes, and iniquitie to be condemned.

12 Yea, this is a fire that shall deuour to destruction, and which shall roote out all mine increase,

13 If I did contemne the iudgement of my seruant, and of my mayde, when they did contend with me.

14 What then shal I do when God standeth vp? and when he shall visite me, what shall I answer?

15 He hath made me in the wombe, hath he not made him? hath not he alone fashioned vs in the wombe?

16 If I restrained the poore of their desire, or haue caused the eyes of the widowe to faile,

17 Or haue eaten my morsels alone, and the fatherles hath not eaten thereof,

19 If I haue seene any perish for want of clothing, or any poore without couering, before men.

17 If mine heart did flatter me in secrete, or if my mouth did kisse mine hand, 18 (This also had bene an iniquitie to be condemned: for I had denyed the God aboute)
19 If I reioyced at his destruction that hated me, or was moued to say whē euill came vpon him, 20 Neither haue I suffred my mouth to sinne, by withing a curse vnto his soule, 21 Did not the men of my tabernacle say, Who shal giue vs of his flesh? we can not be sacrificed.
22 The stranger did not lodge in the streete, but I opened my doores vnto him, that wēt by the way.
23 If I haue hid my sinne, as Adam, concealing nine iniquitie in my bosome,
24 Though I could haue made afraid a great multitude, yet the most contemptible of the families did feare me: so I kept silence, & went not out of the doore.
25 Oh that I had some to heare me! beholde my signe that the Almighty will witness for me: though mine aduersary should write a booke against me, 26 Would not I take it vpon my shoulder, & binde it as a crowne vnto me?
27 I will tell him the number of my goings, and go vnto him as to a prince.
28 If my land cry against me, or the furrowes thereof complaine together, 29 If I haue eaten the fruites thereof without siluer: or if I haue griued the foules of the masters thereof,

THE WORDES OF IOB ARE ENDED.
extortioner. That is, I talke which he had with his three friends.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Elihu reproveth them of folly. 8 Age maketh not a man wise, but the Spirit of God.
1 SO these three men ceased to answer Iob, because he esteemed himselfe iust.
2 Then the wrath of Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, of the familie of Ram, was kindled: his wrath, I say, was kindled against Iob, because he justified himselfe more then God.
3 Also his anger was kindled against his three friends, because they could not find an answer, and yet condemned Iob.
4 (Now Elihu had waited till Iob had spoken: for they were more ancient in yecres then he)
5 So when Elihu sawe, that there was none answer in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.
6 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel, the Buzite answered, and sayde, I am yong in yecres, and ye are aunient: therefore I doubted, and was afraid to shew you mine opinion.
7 For I said, The dayes shall speake, and the multitude of yecres shall teach wisdome.
8 Surely there is a spirite in man, but the inspiration of the Almighty giueth vnderstanding.

9 Great men are not alway wise, neither doe the aged alway vnderstand iudgement.
10 Therefore I say, Heare me, and I will shew also mine opinion.
11 Behold, I did waite vpon your wordes, and hearkened vnto your knowledge, whiles you fought out reasons.
12 Yea, when I had considered you, lo, there was none of you that reprooued Iob, nor answered his wordes;
13 Left ye should say, We haue found wisdome: for God hath cast him downe, & no man.
14 Yet hath he not directed his wordes to me, neither will I answer him by your wordes.
15 Then they fearing, answered no more, but lest of their talke.
16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stode still and answered no more)
17 Then answered I in my turne, and I shewed mine opinion.
18 For I am full of matter, & the spirit within me compelleth me.
19 Beholde, my belie is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the new bottels that brast.
20 Therefore will I speake, that I may take breath: I will open my lippes, and will answer.
21 I will not now accept the person of man, neither will I giue titles to man.
22 For I may not giue titles, lest my Maker should take me away sodenly.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Elihu accuseth Iob of ignorance. 14 He sheweth that God hath diuers meanes to instruct man and to draw him from sinne. 19. 19 He afflicteth man and sodenly deliuereth him. 26 Man being deliuered giueth thanks to God.

1 WHEREFORE, Iob, I pray thee, heare my talke & hearken vnto all my wordes.
2 Beholde now, I haue opened my mouth: my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.
3 My wordes are in the vprightnes of mine heart, & my lippes shall speake pure knowledge.
4 The Spirit of God hath made mee, and the breath of the Almighty hath giuen me lyfe.
5 If thou canst giue me answer, prepare thy selfe and stand before me.
6 Beholde, I am according to thy wishe in Gods stead: I am also formed of the clay.
7 Behold, my terrour shal not feare thee, neither shal mine hand be heauie vpon thee.
8 Doubles thou hast spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voyce of thy wordes.
9 I am cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.
10 Lo, he hath found occasions against mee, and counted me for his enimie.
11 He hath put my feete in the stockes, and looketh narrowly vnto all my paths.

To proue that Iobs affliction came for his finnes.

And flatter your selues, as though you had overcome him. To wit, Iob. He vseth almost the lyke arguments, without tanning, & reproches.

I haue conceyued in my minde great store of reasons. I will neither haue regard to riches, credit, nor authority, but will speake the verie truth. The Ebrewe word signifieth, to change the name, as to call a foole a wise man: meaning that he would not cloye the truth to flatter men.

Because Iob had wished to dispute his cause with God, Chap 16. 21, so that he might do it with out feare, Elihu sayth, he will reason in Gods stead, whom he needeth not to feare, because he is a man made of the same matter that he is.

c I will not handle thee so roughly as these others haue done.
d He repeateth Iobs wordes, whereby he protested his innocencie in diuers places, but specially in the 13. 16. & 30 Chapter.

12 Behold,

He was iust in his own eyes.

A token of Gods mercie toward sinners.

Iob.

God is iust in his iudgements.

e The cause of his iudgements is not alwaies declared to man.
f Though God by sundry exam- ples of his iudgements speake vnto man, yet the reason thereof is not known: yea and though god should speake, yet he is not vnderstand.
g God, faith he, speake commonly, yet he by his messengers.

h That is, determined to send vpon them.
i He sheweth for what end God sendeth afflictions: to beat downe mans pride, & to turne from euil.
k That is, his painful & miserable lyfe.

m A man sent of God to declare his will.
n A singular man, and as one chosen out of a thousand, which is able to declare the great mercies of God vnto sinners: and wherein mans righteousness standeth, which is through yfjustice of Iesus Christ & faith therein.
o He sheweth yf it is a sure token of Gods mercie toward sinners, when he causeth his worde to be preached vnto them.
p That is, the minister shall by the preaching of the word pronounce vnto him the forgiveness of his finnes.

q He shall feele Gods fauour and reioyce: declaring hereby, wherein standeth the true ioy of the faithful: and that God will restore him to health of body, which is a token of his blessing.
r God will forgive his finnes & accept him as iust.
s That is, done wickedly.
t But my sinne hath bene the cause of Gods wrath toward me.
u God will forgive the penitent sinner.

Which are esteemed wife of the world.

- 12 Behold, in this hast thou not done right: I wil answer thee, that God is greater then man.
- 13 Why doest thou strue against him? for he doeth not giue account of all his matters.
- 14 For God speaketh once or twise, and one seeth it not.
- 15 In dreames & visions of the night, when sleepe falleth vpon men, & they sleep vpon their beds,
- 16 Then he openeth the eares of men, euen by their corrections, which he had sealed.
- 17 That he might cause man to turne away from his enterprise, and that he might hide the pride of man,
- 18 And keepe backe his soule from the pit, & that his life should not passe by the sword.
- 19 He is also stricken with sorow vpon his bed, and the griefe of his bones is sore,
- 20 So that his life causeth him to abhorre bread, and his soule daintie meat.
- 21 His flesh sayeth that it cannot be seene, & his bones which were not seene, clatter.
- 22 So his boult draweth to the graue, and his life to the buriers.
- 23 If there be a messenger with him, or an interpreter, one of a thousand to declare vnto man his righteousness,
- 24 Then will he haue mercy vpon him, & will say, Deliuier him, that he go not down into the pit: for I haue receyued a reconciliation.
- 25 Then shall his flesh be as fresh as a childes, & shall returne as in the dayes of his youth.
- 26 He shall pray vnto God, and he will be fauourable vnto him, and he shall see his face with ioy: for he will render vnto man his righteousness.
- 27 He looketh vpon men, and if one say, I haue sinned, and peruerterd righteousness, and it did not profit me,
- 28 He will deliuer his soule from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light.
- 29 Lo, all these things will God worke twice or thrise with a man,
- 30 That he may turne backe his soule from the pit, to be illuminate in the light of the liuing.
- 31 Marke well, O Iob, and heare me: keepe silence, and I will speake.
- 32 If there be matter, answer me, & speake: for I desire to iustifie thee.
- 33 If thou hast not, heare me: hold thy tongue, and I will teach thee wisdom.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Elihu chargeth Iob, that he could himselfe be righteous. 23 He sheweth that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God destroyeth the mighty. 30 By him the hypocrite reigneth.

1 Moreouer Elihu answered, and said, Heare my wordes, ye wife men, and

- hearken vnto me, ye that haue knowledge.
- 2 For the care tryeth the wordes, as the mouth tasteth meate.
- 3 Let vs seeke iudgement among vs, & let vs know among our selues what is good.
- 4 For Iob hath said, I am righteous, and God hath taken away my iudgement.
- 5 Should I lye in my right? my world of the arrowe is grieuous without my sinne.
- 6 What man is like Iob, y drinketh scornewfulness like water?
- 7 Which goeth in the companie of them that worke iniquitie, and walketh with wicked men?
- 8 For he hath said, It profiteth a man nothing that he should walke with God.
- 9 Therefore hearken vnto me, ye men of wisdom, God forbid that wickednes should be in God, and iniquitie in the Almighty.
- 10 For he will render vnto man according to his worke, and cause euery one to finde according to his way.
- 11 And certainly God wil not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty peruert iudgement.
- 12 Whome hath hee appointed ouer the earth beside him selfe? or who hath placed the whole worlde?
- 13 If he set his heart vpon man, and gather vnto him selfe his spirit, and his breath,
- 14 All flesh shall perish together, and man shall returne vnto dust.
- 15 And if thou hast vnderstanding, heare this, and hearken to the voyce of my wordes.
- 16 Shall hee that hateth iudgement, gouerne? and wilt thou iudge him wicked that is most iust?
- 17 Wilt thou say vnto a King, Thou art wicked? or to princes, Ye are vngodly?
- 18 How much lesse to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, and regardeth not riches, more then the poore? for they be all the worke of his handes.
- 19 They shall dye suddenly, and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and they shall passe forth and take away the mightie without hand.
- 20 For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man, & he seeth all his goings.
- 21 There is no darkenes nor shadow of death, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein.
- 22 For he will not lay on man so much, that he should enter into iudgement with God.
- 23 He shall breake the mightie without seeking, and shall set vp other in their stead.
- 24 Therefore shall he declare their workes: he shall turne the night, and they shall be destroyed.
- 25 He striketh them as wicked men in the places of the seers,
- 26 Because they haue turned backe fro him, and would not consider all his wayes:
- 27 So that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to come vnto him, & he hath heard the cry of the afflicted.
- 28 And when he giueth quietnes, who can make

g Meaning, that Iob was like to the wicked, because he seemed not to sinne with God, & thought himselfe to be iudged.

make trouble: and when he hideth his face, who can behold him: whether it be upon nations, or vpon a man onely?

30 Because the hypocrite doth reigne, and because the people are inared.

31 Surely it apperaineth vnto God: to say,
I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.

32 But if I see not reach thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I will do no more.

33 Will he performe the thing through thee?
for thou hast reprooued it, because thou hast chosen, and now I now speake what thou knowest.

34 Let men of vnderstanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken vnto me.

35 Job hath not spoken of knowledge, neither were his wordes according to wise-dome.

36 I desire that Iob may bee <sup>tried</sup> vnto the ende touching the answeres for wicked men.

37 For he addeth rebellion vnto his sinnes:
he doth plupp his hands among vs, & multi-plieth his wordes against God.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 <sup>Wicked</sup> doeth godlines <sup>professe</sup>, or <sup>ingodlynes</sup> hurt God, but man. 25 The wicked crye vnto God and are not heard.

2 Lihu spake moreover, and said,
Thinkest thou this right, that thou hast said, I am <sup>more</sup> righteous then God?

3 For thou hast said, What profitech it thee and what auaileth it me, to <sup>purge</sup> me fro my sinne?

4 Therefore will I answer thee, & thy companions with thee.

5 Looke vnto the heauen, & see and behold
the cloudes which are hier then thou.

6 If thou sinnest, what doest thou <sup>against</sup> him, yea, when thy sinnes be many, what doest thou vnto him?

7 If thou be righteous, what giuest thou vnto him? or what receiuech he at thine hand?

8 Thy wickednesse may hurt a man as thou art: & thy righteounes may profite the sonne of man.

9 They cause many that are oppressed, to crye, which cry out for the violence of the mighty.

10 But none sayth, Where is God that made me, which giuech songs in the night?

11 Which teacheth vs more then the beastes of the earth, and giuech vs more wisdom then the foules of the heauen.

12 Then they cry because of the violence of the wicked, but he answereth not.

13 Surely God will not heare vanitie, neither will the Almighty regard it.

14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regard it, byer iudgement is before him:
trust thou in him.

15 But now because his anger hath not visited, nor called to count she euil with great extremitie,

16 Therefore Iob <sup>openeth</sup> his mouth in vaine, & multiplieth wordes without knowledge.

Eliah sheweth the power of God, 6 And his iustice, 9 And wherefore he punisheth. 17 The prosperie of the wicked. 18 Iob doth saye, I will not be wise as thou art.

1 Lihu also proceeded and sayd, Suffer me a litle, & I will instruct thee:
for I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe.

2 I will fetch my knowledge afarre off, and will attribute righteounesse vnto my Maker.

3 For truly my wordes shall nor be false, he that is perfect in knowledge, speaketh with thee.

4 Behold, my mighty God casteth away none that is mighty and valiant of courage.

5 He maintaineth not the wicked, but he giueth iudgement to the afflicted.

6 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous, but they are with Kinges in the throne, where he placeth them: for euer thus they are exalted.

7 And if they be bound in fetters and tryed with the cordes of affliction,

8 There will he shewe them their worke and their sinnes, because they haue bene proude.

9 He openeth also their eare to discipline, & commandeth them that they returne from iniquitie.

10 If they obey and serue him, they shal end their dayes in prosperie, and their yerres in pleasures.

11 But if they will not obey, they shall passe by the worde, and perishe without knowledge.

12 But the hypocrites of heart increafe the wrath: for they call not when he byndeth
them.

13 Their soule dieth in youth, & their life among the whoremongers.

14 He deliuereth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.

15 Euen so would he haue taken thee out of the streight place into a broad place and not shut vp beneath: & that which refresheth vp-on thy table, had bene ful of fat.

16 But thou art ful of the iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement & equitie maintaine all things.

17 For Gods wrath is, least he should take thee away in shine abundance: for no multitude of giftes can deliuet thee.

18 Will he regarde thy riches? he regardeth not golde, nor all them that excell in strength.

19 Be not careful in the night, how he de-stroyeth the people out of their place.

20 Take thou heede: looke not to iniquitie:
for thou hast chosen it rather then afflic-tion.

21 Behold, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?

22 Who hath appointed to him his waye, or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

23 Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men behold.

c Meaning, the raine and thunders.

d So that neither small rayne nor great, snowe nor any thing els cometh without Gods appointment.

e By raynes and thunders God causeth men to kepe themselves within their houses.

f In Hebrew it is called the scattering winde, because it driueth away the clouds and purgeth the eyes.

g That is, is frozen vp and dried. h Gather the vapours, & mooue to and fro to water the earth. i That is, the cloud that hath lightning in it. k Raine, colde, heat, tempests and such like are sent of God, eyther to punish man, or to profite the earth, or to declare his fauour towards man, as Chap. 36. 31.

25 All men see it, and men beholde it a farre off.
26 Behold, God is excellent, and we knowe him not, neither can the nobel of his yerres be searched out.
27 When he restraineth the drops of water, the raine powreth downe by the vapour thereof.
28 Which <sup>is</sup> the cloudes do droppe & let fall abundantly vpon man.

32 He connecteth the light with the cloudes, & commandeth them to go against it.
33 His companion sheweth him thereof, & there is anger in rising vp.

2 Heare the s<sup>u</sup>ounde of his voyce, and the noyle that goeth out of his mouth.
3 He directeth it ynder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the endes of the world.
4 After it a noyle foundeth: he thundereth with the voyce of his maiestie, and he will not stay them when his voyce is heard.
5 God thundereth maruellously wyth his voyce: he worketh great things, which we know not.

6 For he sayth to the snowe, Be thou vpon the earth: likewise to the small rayne and to the great rayne of his power.

7 With the force thereof he shutteth vp euerie man, that all men may knowe his worke.

8 Then the beastes go into the denne, and remaine in their places.

9 The whirlewind commeth out of y<sup>e</sup> South, and the cold from the North winde.

10 At the breath of God the frost is giuen, & the breadth of the waters is made narrowe.

11 He maketh also the cloudes to labour, to water the earth, and scattereth the cloudes of his light.

12 And it is turned about by his gouernment, that they may do whatsoeuer he commandeth them vpon the whole world:

13 Whether it be for punishment, or for his lande, or of mercie, he causeth it to come.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob: stand and consider the wonderous workes of God.
15 Didest thou knowe when God disposed them? and caused the light of his cloud to shine?
16 Hast thou knowen the varieties of the cloudes, and the wonderous workes of him, that is perfis in knowledge?
17 Or how thy clothes are warme, when he maketh the earth quier through the South winde?
18 Hast thou stretched out y<sup>e</sup> heauens, which are strong, and as a molten glasse?
19 Tell vs what we shall say vnto him: for we cannot dispose our matter because of darknesse.
20 Shal it be told him when I speake? or shal man speake when he shalbe destroyed?
21 And now men see not the light, which shineth in the cloudes, but the wind pisseth and cleneth them.
22 The brightnesse commeth out of the North: the prayse thereof is to God, which is terrible.
23 It is the Almightye: we cannot finde him out: he is excellent in power & iudgement, & abundant in iustice: he afflicteth not.
24 Let men therefore feare him: for he will him not regarde any that are wise in their owne conceit.

God speaketh to Iob, and declareth the weakness of man in the consideration of his creatures, by whose excellen is the power, iustice and prouidence of the Creator known.

1 Then Iob answered the Lord, & said,
2 I know that thou canst doe all things, & that there is no <sup>a</sup> thought hidde from thee.
3 Who is hee that hideth counsell without <sup>a</sup> knowledge? therefore haue I spoken that I vnderstood not, <sup>a</sup>en things to wonderfull for me, & which I knew not.
4 Heare, I beseech thee, and I will speake: I will demaund of thee, & declare thou vnto me.
5 I haue <sup>a</sup> heard of thee by the hearing of <sup>a</sup> care, but now mine eye seeth thee.
6 Therefore I abhorre my self, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 ¶ Nowe after that the Lorde had spoken these wordes vnto Iob, the Lorde also said vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye haue not spoken of me the thing that is right, like my seruant Iob.
8 Therefore take vnto you now seuen bullocks, and seuen rams, and goe to my seruant Iob, & offer vp for your selues a burnt offering, and my seruant Iob shall pray for you: for I will accept him, least I should put you to shame, because ye haue not spoken of me the thing, which is right, like my seruant Iob.
9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, & Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord had said vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.
10 ¶ Then the Lord turned the captiuitie of Iob, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gaue Iob twife so much as he had before.

13 He had also seuen sonnes, & three daughters.

THE *PSALMES

of Dauid.

THE ARGUMENT.

This booke of Psalmes is set forth vnto vs by the holy Ghost to be esteemed as a most precious treasure, wherein all things are contained that appertayne to true felicitie: as well in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heavenly wisdom are here set open for vs, to take thereof most abundantly. If we would know the great, and his maiestie of God, here we may see the brightness thereof shine most clearly. If we would seeke his incomprehensible wisdom, here is the schole of the same profession. If we would comprehend his inestimable bountie, & approach neere thereto, & fill our hands with that treasure, here we may haue a most liuely, & comfortable taste thereof. If we would know wherein standeth our saluation, & how to attayne to life everlasting, here is Christ our only redeemer, & mediator most evidently described. The rich man may learne the true vse of his riches. The poore man may finde full contentation. He that wil reioyce, shall know the true ioy, and how to keepe measure therein. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shall see wherein standeth their comforte, and howe they ought to praise God when he sendeth them deliuerance. The wicked and the persecuters of the children of God shall see how the hand of God is euer against them: and though he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet he brideleth them, in so much as they can not touch an heere of ones head, except he permitt them, and how in the ende their destruction is most miserable. Briefly, here we haue most present remedies against all tentations, and troubles of minde and conscience, so that being well practised herein, we may be assured against all dangers in this life, liue in the true feare, and loue of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of glorie, which is layd up for all them that loue the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

PSALME I.

Whether it was Eliaz, or any other that gathered the Psalmes into a booke, it seemeth he did set this Psalm first in manner of a preface, to exhort all godly men to studie, and meditate the heavenly wisdoms. For the effect hereof is, That they bee blessed, which giue themselves wholly all their life to the holy Scriptures. And that the wicked, contempters of God, though they seeme for a while happy, yet at length shall come to miserable destruction.

A. 1.

Blessed is the man that doth not walke in the counsell of y wicked, nor stande in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seat of the scornfull: But his de-lite is in the Law of the Lorde, and in his Law doth he meditate day and night.

For he shalbe like a tree planted by the riuers of waters, that will bring forth her fruite in due season: whose lease shall not fade: so whatsoeuer he shall do, shall prosper.

The wicked are not so, but as the chaffe, which the wind drieth away.

Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the iudgement, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.

For the Lorde knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shall perish.

Though the wicked seeme to beare the swinge in this world, yet the Lord drieth them downe that they shall not rise nor stand in the company of the righteous. But tremble when they see Gods wrath. Doth approue and prosper, lyke as not to know, is to reprocue and reiect.

PSAL. II.

The Prophet Dauid reioyceth that notwithstanding his enemies rage, yet God will continue his kingdom for euer and aduance it euen to the ende of the world, so And therefore exhorteth Kings and rulers, that they would humbly submit themselves vnder Gods yoke, because it is in vaine to resist God. Herein is figured Christs kingdom.

Why do the heathen rage, and the people murmur in vaine?

The Kings of the earth band themselves, and the princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

Let vs breake their bandes, and cast their cordes from vs.

But he that dwelleth in the heauen shall laugh: the Lord shal haue them in derision.

Then shall hee speake vnto them in his wrath, & vex them in his sore displeasure, saying.

Euen I haue set my King vpon Zion mine holy mountaine.

I will declare the decree: that is, the Lord hath sayde vnto me, Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

Aske of me, and I shall giue thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the endes of the earth for thy possession.

Thou shalt crush them with a scepter of yron, and breake them in peeces like a potters vessell.

Be wise now therefore, ye Kings: be learned ye Iudges of the earth.

Serue the Lord in feare, and reioyce in trembling.

Kisse the Sonne, least he be angry, and ye perish in the way, when his wrath shall suddenly burne. blessed are all that trust in him.

all rulers to repent in tyme. In signe of homage. The wicked shall say, Peace and rest, seeming yet to be but in the midway of their purposes, then shall destruction suddenly come.

PSAL. III.

Dauid driuen forth of his kingdom, was greatly tormented in minde for his sinnes against God: And therefore calleth vpon God, and waxeth bold through his promission against the great raylings and terrours of his enemies, yet against death is selfe, which he saue present before his eyes. Finally he reioyceth for the good successe, that God gaue him, and all the Church.

A Psalm of Dauid, when he fled from his sonne Absalom.

Lord, how are mine aduersaries increased? how many rise against me?

Many say to my soule, There is no helpe for him in God. Selah.

But thou Lord art a buckler for me: my glory, and the lifter vp of mine head.

I did call vnto the Lord with my voyce, & he heard me out of his holy mountaine. Selah.

I layed me downe and slept, and rose vp againe: for the Lord susteyned me.

I will not be afraid for ten thousand of the people, that should beset me round about.

O Lord, arise: helpe me, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies vpon y cheke bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

Saluation belongeth vnto the Lord, & thy blessing is vpon thy people. Selah.

PSAL. IIII.

When Saul persecuted him, he called vpon God, trusting most assuredly in his promise, and therefore boldly reproacheth his enemies, who wilfully resisted his dominion, and finally preferreth the fauour of God before all worldly treasures.

To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalm of Dauid.

Psalm 10. And at length comforteth him selfe with hope of deliuerance.

1 Why standest thou farre of, O Lord, and hidest thee in a due time, euen in affliction?

2 The wicked with pride doeth persecute the poore: let them be taken in the craftes that they haue imagined.

3 For the wicked hath b made boast of his owne hearts desire, and the couetous bleseth himselfe: he contemneth the Lord.

4 The wicked is so proude that hee seeketh not for God: he thinketh alwayes, There is no God.

5 His wayes alway prosper: thy iudgements are hie about his sight: therefore c desistieth he all his enemies.

6 He faith in his heart, I shal neuer be moued, d nor be in danger.

7 His mouth is full of cursing and deceite and fraude: vnder his tongue is mischief and iniquitie.

8 He lieth in waite in the villages: in the secrete places doeth he murder the innocent: his eyes are bent against the poore.

9 Helyeth in waite secretly, e euen as a lyon in his denne: helyeth in waite to spoyle the poore: he doeth spoyle the poore, when he draweth him into his net.

10 Hee croucheth and boweth: therefore heapes of the f poore do fall by his might.

11 He hath said in his heart, God hath forgotten me, he hideth away his face, g and wil neuer see.

12 h Arise, O Lord God: lift vp thine hand: forget not the poore.

13 Wherefore doeth the wicked contemne God? he sayeth in his heart, Thou wilt not regard me.

14 i Yes thou hast seene it: for thou beholdest mischief & wrong, that thou mayest take it into thine hands: the poore committeth himselfe vnto thee: for thou art the helper of the fatherles.

15 Breake thou the arme of the wicked and malicious: seache his wickednes, and thou shalt finde none.

16 The Lord is King for euer & euer: k hea, then are destroyed forth of his land.

17 Lord, thou hast heard the desire of the poore: thou preparest their heart: thou benedict thine care to them.

18 l To iudge the fatherles and poore, that earthly man m causeth to feare no more.

PSAL. XI.

1 This Psalm contemeth two parties. In the first David sheweth how hard assaults of tentations he sustained, & in how great anguish of minde he was, when Saul did persecute him. 4. Then next he reuiceth that God sent him succour in his necessity: declaring his iustice: aswell in punishing the good, and also wicked men, as the whole world.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 In the Lord put I my trust: how saye I then to my soule, a Flee to your mountaine as a bird?

2 For lo, the wicked bend their bowes, and make readie their arrowes vpon the string, that they may secretly shoote at the, which are vpright in heart.

3 For the b fundations are cast downe: what hath the righteous done?

4 The Lord is in his holy palace: the Lords throne is in the heauen: his eyes wil consider: his eye lids will trie the children of men.

5 The Lord will trie the righteous: but the wicked and him that loueth iniquitie, doth his soule hate.

6 Vpon c wicked he shall raine snares, fire, and brimstone, and stormie tempest: this is the d portion of their cup.

7 For the righteous Lord loueth righteousnes: his countenance doeth beholde the iust.

PSAL. XII.

The Prophet lamenting the miserable estate of the people, and the decay of all good order, desireth God speedily to send succour to his children. 7. Then comforting himselfe and others with the assurance of Gods helpe, he commendeth the constant veritie that God obserueth in keeping his promises.

To him that excelleth vpon the eight tune. A Psalm of David.

1 Help Lord, for there is not a godlie man left: for the faithful are failed from among the children of men.

2 They speake deceitfully euerie one with his neighbour, b flattering with their lips, and speake with a double heart.

3 The Lord cut of all flattering lippes, and the tongue that speaketh proude things:

4 Which haue said, c With our tongue will we preuaile: our lippes are our owne: who is Lord ouer vs?

5 d Now for the oppression of the needie, and for the sighes of the poore, I wil vp saith the Lord, and will e set at libertie him, whom the wicked hath snared.

6 The wordes of the Lord are pure wordes, as the siluer, tryed in a fornaice of earth, f sined seven folde.

7 Thou wilt keepe g them, O Lord: thou wilt preserue him from this generation for euer.

8 The wicked walke on euerie side: when they are exalted, h it is a shame for i sonnes of men.

David as it were overcome with iudicie and new afflictions, fleeth to God as his onely refuge. 3. And so at the length being encouraged through Gods promises, he conceiveth most sure confidence against the extreme horrors of death.

2 How long shall I take b counsell within my selfe, c having wearines dayly in mine heart: how long shall mine enemy be exalted about me?

3 Behold, and heare me, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, d I sleepe not in death: lest mine enemy say, I haue e preuailed against him: and they that afflict me, reioyce when I slide.

Gods excellent workes. Thy day

Psalmes. M. 4 day.

To trust in God only

Thou hast giuen me the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroye them that hate me.
They cryed; but there was none to saue them, euen vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.
Then I did beate them small as the dust before the winde, I did treade them flat as the clay in the streetes.
Thou hast deliuered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast made me the head of the heathen: a people, whome I knewe not, knowen, shall serue me.
As soone as they heare, they shall obey me: the strange shall be in subiection to me.
Strangers shall drinke away, and feare in their pittie chambers.
Let the Lord liue, and blessed bee my strength, and the God of my saluation be exalted.
It is God that giueth me power to auenge mine, and subdueth the people vnder me.
O my deliuerer from mine enemies, euen thou hast feru'd from them; that rose against me: thou hast deliuered me from the cruel hand.
Therefore I will praise thee, O Lord, among the nations, and will sing vnto thy Name.
Great deliuerances giueth hee vnto his king; and sheweth mercie to his anoynted, euen to David, and to his seede for euer.

ioyce the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.
The feare of the Lord is cleane, and indureth for euer: the iudgements of the Lord are truth: they are righteous, all together,
And more to be desired then golde, yea, then much fine gold: sweeter also then honye and the honye combe.
Moreouer by them is thy seruant made circumspect, and in keeping of them there is great reward.
Who can vnderstand his fautes? cleanse me from secrete fautes.
Keep thy seruant also from presumptuousnes: let them not reigne ouer me: so shall I be vpright, and made cleane from wickednes.
Let the wordes of my mouth, and the meditation of mine heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer.

So that all men may see, and knowe, that it is God that doeth these things, and not we. For God is our Father, and we are his children. Therefore let us not be ashamed to call him Father. For as much as he hath loved us, and hath sent his Sonne to die for us, we ought to love him, and to keep his commandments. For this is the love of God, that we should do what he hath commanded us. And he that doeth these things, shall abide in him, and he shall see the Father, and the Father shall see him, and they shall be one.

PSAL. XX.

A prayer of the people vnto God, that it would please him to heare their King, and recite his sacrifice, which he offered before he went to battell against the Ammonites.
To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.
The Lord heare thee in the day of trouble: the Name of the God of Iakob defend thee.
Send thee helpe from the Sanctuary, and strengthen thee out of Zion.
Let him remember all thine offerings, and turne thy burnt offerings into ashes. Selah.
And grant thee according to thine heart, and fulfil all thy purpose.
That we may reioyce in thy saluation, and set vp the banner in the Name of our God, when the Lord shall performe all thy petitions.
Now knowe I that the Lord will helpe his anoynted, and will heare him from his Sanctuary, by the mightie helpe of his right hand.
Some trust in chariots, and some in horses: but we will remember the Name of the Lord our God.
They are brought downe and fallen, but we are risen, and stand vpright.
Sawe Lord: let the King heare vs in the day that we call.

Hersey daye is alwaies spent in the service of God. He is alwaies ready to do the will of his Father, and to suffer for him. He is alwaies ready to be crucified for him, and to be buried with him. He is alwaies ready to rise againe for him, and to be glorified with him. He is alwaies ready to be with him, and to be one with him. He is alwaies ready to be in him, and to be of him. He is alwaies ready to be for him, and to be by him. He is alwaies ready to be in him, and to be of him. He is alwaies ready to be for him, and to be by him.

O my God, I crye by day, but thou hearest not, and by night, but<sup>h</sup> haue no audience.

But thou art holy, and dost inhabit the prayeres of Israel.

Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didest deliuer them.

They called vpon thee, and were deliue-red: they trusted in thee, and were not co-founde.

But I am as<sup>h</sup> a worme, & not a man: a shame of men, and the contempt of the people.

All they that see me, haue me in derision: they make a mowe and nod the head, saying,

He trusted in the Lord, let him deliuer him: let him saue him, seeing he loueth him.

But thou didest drawe me out of the wombe: thou gauest me hope, euen at my mothers breasts.

I was cast vpon thee, euen from<sup>h</sup> the wombe: thou art my God from my mothers belly.

Be not farre from me, because trouble is nere: for there is none to helpe me.

Many yong bulles haue compassed me:
mightie<sup>h</sup> bulles of Bashan haue closed me about.

They gape vpon me with their mouthes, as a ramping and roaring lyon.

I am like<sup>h</sup> water powred out, and all my bones are out of ioynt: mine heart is like waxe: it is molten in the middes of my<sup>h</sup> bowels.

My strength is dried vp like a potheard, & my tongue cleaueth to my iawes, & thou hast brought me into the dust of death.

For dogges haue compassed me, & the assemblie of the wicked haue inclosed me:
they<sup>h</sup> perced mine handes and my seete.

I may tell all my bones: yet they behold, & looke vpon me.

They part my garments among them, & cast lottes vpon my vesture.

But be not thou farre of, O Lord, my strength: hasten to helpe me.

Deliuier my soule from the sworde: my desolate soule from the power of the dog.

Saue me from the lyons mouth, and answere me in<sup>h</sup> saving me from the hornes of the vnicornes.

I will declare thy Name vnto my brethren: in the middes of the Congregation will I praise thee, saying,

Praise the Lord, ye that feare him: magnifie ye him, all the seede of Iaakob, and feare ye him, all the seede of Israel.

For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the poore: neither hath he hid his face from him, but when he called vnto him, he heard.

My praise shall be of thee in the great Cogregation: my<sup>h</sup> vowe will I performe before them that feare him.

The poore shall eate and be satisfied:
they that seek after the Lord, shall prayse him: your hearts shall liue for euer.

All the ends of the world shall remember themselves, and turne to the Lord: and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee.

For the kingdom is the Lordes, and he ruleth among the nations.

All they that be far<sup>h</sup> in the earth, shall eate and worship: all they that go downe into the dust, shall bowe before him, euen he that can not quicken his owne soule.

Their seede shall serue him: it shall be counted vnto the Lord for a generation.

They shall come, and shall declare his righteousnes vnto a people that shall be borne, because he hath done it.

Meaning the posteritie, which the Lord keepeth as a seede to the Church to continue his praye among men. u That is, God hath fulfilled his promises.

For except Gods prouidence preserue the infants, they should perish a thousand times in the mothers wombe.

He meaneth, that his enemies
were so fatte,
proude & cruel,
that they were rather beastes
then men.

Before, he spake of the crueltye of his enemies, and now he declareth the inward griefe of his minde, so that Christ was tormented, both in soule and bodye.

Thou hast suffered me to be out all hope of lyfe.

Thus David complaineeth although he were nailed by his enemies both hands and feete:
but this was accomplished in Christ.

My life that is solitarie, left alone & forsaken of al, Psal. 35. 17.
& 25. 16.

Christ is deli-uered a more mightie deliue-rance by othe-comming death,
then if he had not tasted death at al.

He promisseth to exhort the Church, they by his example might praise the Lord.

The poore afflicted are comforted by this example of Da-uid, or Christ.

Which were sacrifices of thanksgiving, which they offered by gods co-mandement whi-
they were deli-uered out of any great danger.

Hedoneth allude still to the sacrifice.

Though the poore be first afflicted, as yet, so yet the wealthie are not forgotten.

In whom there is no hope that he shall resourse life, so as the poore man shall be rejected from his kingdom.

P S A L. XXIII.

Because the Prophet had proude the great mercies of God as diuers times, and in sundrie maners, he gathereth a certain assurance, fully perswading him selfe that God will continue the verie same goodnes towards him for euer.

¶ A Psalm of David.

1 The Lord is my * shepheard, I shal not want.

2 He maketh me to rest in greene pasture, and leadeth me by the stil waters.

3 He * restoreth my soule, and leadeth me in the * paths of righteousness for his Names sake.

4 Yes, though I should walke through the valley of the * shadow of death, I wil feare no euil: for thou art with me: thy rod and thy staffe, they comfort me.

5 Thou doest prepare a * table before me in the sight of mine aduersaries: thou doest * anoint mine head with oyle, and my cup runneth ouer.

6 Doubtles kindnes, and mercie shal folow me all the dayes of my life, and I shal remaine a long season in the * house of the Lord.

7 As was the manner of great feasts. g He setteth not his felicity in the pleasures of this worlde, but in the feare and seruice of God.

P S A L. XXIII.

Albeit the Lord God hath made, and governeth all the worlde, yet towards his chosen people his gracious goodnes doeth most abundantly appeare, in that among them he wil haue his dwelling place. VVhich though it was appointed among the children of Abraham, yet only they do enter aright into this Sanctuarie, which are the true worshippers of God, purged from the sinful filth of this worlde. Finally he magnifieth Gods grace for the building of the Temple, to the end he might surer vp all the faithful to the true seruice of God.

¶ A Psalm of David.

1 The earth * is the Lords, and all that therein is: the worlde and they that dwell therein.

2 For he hath founded it vpon the * seas, and established it vpon the floods.

3 Who shall ascend into the mountaine of the Lord? and who shall stand in his holie place?

4 Eluen he that hath innocent handes, and a pure heart: which hath not lift vp his mind vnto vanitie, nor sworne deceitfully.

5 He shal receiue a blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his saluation.

6 This is the * generation of them * I seeke him, of them that seeke thy face, this is Iacob. Selah.

7 * Lift vp your heads ye gates, and be ye lift vp ye euerglasting doores, and the King of glorie shall come in.

8 Who is this King of glorie? the Lord, strôg & mightie, even the Lord mightie in battell.

9 Lift vp your heads, ye gates, and lift vp your euerglasting doores, and the King of glorie shall come in.

10 Who is this King of glorie? the Lord of hostes, he is the King of glorie. Selah.

The Prophet touched with the consideration of his sinnes, and also grieved with the cruel malice of his enemies, Preyeth to God most firmly to haue his sinnes forgiven, Especially such as he had committed in his youth. He beginneth euery verse according to the Ebrew letters two or three except.

¶ A Psalm of David.

1 Vnto thee, * O Lord, lift I vp my soule. a I put not my trust in mine enemies: b I trust in thee: let me not be confounded: let not mine enemies reioyce ouer me.

2 c So all that hope in thee, shall not be ashamed: d but let them be confounded, that transgresse without cause.

3 e Shew me thy wayes, O Lord, and teach me thy pathes.

4 f Leade me forth in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my saluation: in thee do I trust * all the day.

5 Remember, O Lord, thy tender mercies, & thy louing kindnes: for they haue bene for euer.

6 Remember not the * sinnes of my youth, nor my rebellions, but according to thy kindnes remember thou me, even for thy goodnes sake, O Lord.

7 Gracious and righteous * is the Lord: therefore wil he * teach sinners in the way.

8 Them that be meeke, will hee * guide in iudgement, and teach the humble his way.

9 All the paths of the Lord are mercie and truth vnto such as keepe his couenant & his testimonies.

10 For thy * Names sake, O Lord, be mercifull vnto mine iniquitie, for it is great.

11 What * man is he that feareth the Lord? him wil hee teach the waye, that hee shall chuse.

12 His soule shall dwell at ease, and his seede shal inherit the land.

13 The * secretes of the Lord are reueiled to them, that feare him: and his couenant to giue them vnderstanding.

14 Mine eyes are euer towards the Lord: for he will bring my feete out of the net.

15 Turne thy face vnto me, and haue mercie vpon me: for I am desolate and poore.

16 The sorowes of mine heart * are enlarged: drawe me out of my troubles.

17 Looke vpon mine affliction, and my trouble, and forgie all my sinnes.

18 Behold mine * enemies, for they are manie, and they hate me with true hatred.

19 Keepe my soule, and deliuer me: let me not be confounded, for I trust in thee.

20 Let * mine vprightnes and equitie preserue me: for mine hope is in thee.

21 Deliuer Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

more that his enemies increased, the more neere felt he Gods helpe.

For as much as I haue behaued my selfe vprightly towards mine enemies, let them know that thou art the defender of any iust cause.

P S A L. XXVI.

*David oppressed with manie iniuries, finding no helpe in the worlde, callith for aide from God: and assured of his integritie towards God, desireth God to be his iudge, and to defend his innocencie. b Though circumcision separate the carnal seede of Iacob from I gentiles, yet he that feareth God, is the true Iacob, and Ieremy Israelite.

c David desireth the building vp of the temple, wherein the glory of God shal appeare, & vnder the figure of this temple he also prayeth for I spiritual temple, which is eternal, because of I promises which was made to I temple, as it is writtē, Psal. 132. 14.

¶ A Psalm of Dauid.

1 Iudge me, O Lord, for I haue walked in mine innocencie: my trust hath bene also in the Lord: therefore shall I not slide.
2 Proue me, O Lord, and trie me: examine my <sup>b</sup>reines, and mine heart.

3 For thy <sup>b</sup>louing kindnes is before mine eyes: therefore haue I walked in thy trueth.

4 I haue not <sup>d</sup>hanted with vaine persons, neither kept companie with the dissemblers.

5 I haue hated the assemblie of the euil, & haue not companied with the wicked.

6 I wil <sup>w</sup>ash mine hands in innocencie, O Lord, and compasse thine altar,

7 That I maye declare with the voyce of thanksgiving, and set forth all thy wonderous workes.

8 O Lord, I haue loued the habitation of thine house, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.

9 Gather not my soule with the sinners, nor my life with the bloodie men:

10 In whose hands is <sup>w</sup>ickednes, and their right hand is full of bribes.

11 But I will walke in mine innocencie: redeme me <sup>therefore</sup>, & be merciful vnto me.

12 My foote standeth in <sup>b</sup>vprightnes: I will praise thee, O Lord, in the Congregations.

I am preserued from mine enemies by the power of God, and therefore will praise him openly.

PSAL. XXVII.

Dauid maketh this Psalm being deliuered from great perils, as appeareth by the praises & thanksgiving annexed: 6 Wherein wee maye see the constant faith of Dauid against the assaults of all his enemies, 7 And altho the ends wherfore he desireth to lue & to be deliuered, only to worships God in his Congregation.

¶ A Psalm of Dauid.

1 The Lord is my <sup>a</sup>light and my saluation, whome shall I feare: the Lorde is the strength of my life, of whome shall I be afraide?

2 When the wicked, <sup>euen</sup> mine enemies & my foes came vpon me to eate vp my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

3 Though an host pitched against me, mine heart should not be afraide: though warre be raised against me, I wil trust in <sup>b</sup>this.

4 One thing haue I desired of the Lorde, that I will require, <sup>euen</sup> that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to beholde the beautie of the Lord, & to visite his Temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his Tabernacle: in the secrete place of his pavilion shall he hide me, and set me vp vpon a rocke.

6 And now shall he lift vp mine head aboue mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifices of ioye: I will sing and praise the Lord.

7 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lord, when I crye: haue mercie also vpon me and heare me.

8 When thou saidest, <sup>e</sup>Seeke ye my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lord, I will seeke thy face.

9 Hide not <sup>therefore</sup> thy face from me, nor cast thy seruant away in displeasure: thou hast bene my succour: leaue me not, neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.

10 Though my father and my mother should forsake me, yet the Lord wil gather me vp.

11 Teache me thy waye, O Lord, and leade me in a right path, because of mine enemies.

12 Giue me not vnto the <sup>s</sup>lust of mine aduerfaries: for there are false witnessen vp against me, and such as speake cruelly.

13 I should haue fainted, except I had beleued to see the goodnes of the <sup>b</sup>Lord in the land of the liuing.

14 Hope in the Lord: be strong, & he shall comfort thine heart, and trust in the Lord.

PSAL. XXVIII.

Being in great feare and heavines of heart to see God dishonored by the wicked, he desireth to be rid of the, 4 And cryeth for vengeance against them: and as length assures him selfe, that God hath heard his prayer. 9 Vnto whose tuition he commendeth all the faithfull.

¶ A Psalm of Dauid.

1 Vnto thee, O Lord, do I crie: O my strength, be not deafe toward me, lest, if thou answer mee not, I be <sup>a</sup>like them that go downe into the pit.

2 Heare the voyce of my petitions, when I crie vnto thee, when I hold vp mine hands toward thine <sup>b</sup>holy Oracle.

3 Drawe me not away with the wicked, & with the workers of iniquitie: which speake friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearres.

4 Reward them according to their deeds, and according to the wickednes of their inuentions: recompence them after the worke of their hands: render them their rewarde.

5 For they regarde not the workes of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore <sup>b</sup>breake them downe, and buylde them not vp.

6 Praised be the Lord, for hee hath heard the voyce of my petitions.

7 The Lord is my strength and my shield: therefore mine heart shall reioyce, and with my song will I praise him.

8 The Lord is <sup>s</sup>their strength, and he is the strength of <sup>y</sup>deliuerances of his anointed.

9 Saue thy people, and blesse thine inheritance: feede them also, and exalte them for euer.

g Meaning, his souldiers, who were as meanes, by whom God declared his power.

PSAL. XXIX.

The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the world, (which for the most part thinke there is no God) 2 As the least to feare him for the sounders and tempests, for feare wherof all creatures tremble. 11 And though thereby God threateneth sinners, yet is he alwayes mercifull to his, and moueth them thereby to praise his Name.

A Psalme of David.

Glue vnto the Lord, ye <sup>a</sup>sonnes of the mightie: giue vnto the Lord glorie and strength.
 Giue vnto the Lord glorie <sup>b</sup>due vnto his Name: worship the Lorde in the glorious Sanctuarie.
 The <sup>c</sup>voice of the Lord is vpon the waters: the God of glorie maketh it to thunder: the Lord is vpon the great waters.
 The voice of the Lord is mightie: the voice of the Lord is glorious.
 The <sup>d</sup>voice of the Lord breaketh the ceders: yea, the Lorde breaketh the ceders of Lebanon.
 He maketh them also to leape like a calfe: Lebanon also and <sup>e</sup>Shirion like a yong vnicorne.
 The voice of the Lord deuiceth the <sup>f</sup>flames of fire.
 The voice of the Lord maketh the wilderness to tremble: the Lord maketh the wilderness of <sup>g</sup>Kadesh to tremble.
 The voice of the Lord maketh the hinds to <sup>h</sup>calue, & <sup>i</sup>discouereth the forests: therefore in his <sup>j</sup>Temple doth euerie man speake of his glorie.
 The Lord sitteth vpon the <sup>k</sup>flood, and the Lord doeth remaine King for euer.
 The Lord shall giue strength vnto his people: the Lord shall blesse his people with peace.
 Though the wicked are nothing moued with these sights, yet the faithful praise God.
 To moderate the rage of the tempest and waters, that they destroy not all.

P S A L. XXX.

When David was deliuered from great danger, he rendered thanks to God, exhorting others to do the like, and to learne by his example, that God is rather mercifull then severe and rigorous towards his children, & also that the fall from prosperitie to aduersitie is sudden. & This done, he returneth to prayer, promising to praise God for euer.

A Psalme or song of the dedication of the house of David.

I wil magnifie thee, O Lord: <sup>a</sup>for thou hast exalted mee, and hast not made my foes to reioyce ouer me.
 O Lord my God, I cried vnto thee, and thou hast <sup>b</sup>restored me.
 O Lord, thou hast brought vp my <sup>c</sup>soule out of the graue: thou hast reuiued me from them that go downe into the pit.
 Sing praises vnto the Lord, ye <sup>d</sup>his Saints, and giue thanks <sup>e</sup>before the remembrance of his Holines.
<sup>f</sup>For he endureth but a while in his anger: but in his fauour is life: weeping may abide at euening, but ioy <sup>g</sup>cometh in the morning.
 And in my <sup>h</sup>prosperitie I said, I shall neuer <sup>i</sup>be moued.
 For thou Lord of thy goodnes hadest made my <sup>j</sup>mountaine to stand strong: but thou didest hide thy face, and I <sup>k</sup>was troubled.
 I put too much confidence in my quiet state, as Iere. 37.
 I thought thou hadest established me in Zion.
 After that thou hadest withdrawn thine helpe, I

8 Then cryed I vnto thee, O Lord, & praied to my Lord.
9 What profit is there in my blood, when I go downe to the pit? shall the dust <sup>a</sup>giue k David meeth that the dead are not profitable to the Congregation of the Lord here in earth: therefore he would liue to praise his Name which is the end of mans creation.
 or shall it declare thy truth?
10 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercie vpon me: Lord, be thou mine helper.
11 Thou hast turned my mourning into ioy: thou hast loosed my sacke and girded mee with gladnes.
12 Therefore shall my <sup>b</sup>tongue praise thee & not cease: O Lorde my God, I will giue of thanks vnto thee for euer.
 I haue preferred me, that my tongue should praise thee, I will not be mindefull of my dutie.

P S A L. XXXI.

David deliuered from some great danger, first rehearseth what meditation hee had by the power of faith, when death was before his eyes, his enemy being ready to take him. 15 Then he affirmeth that the fauour of God is alwayes ready to those that feare him. 20 Finally he exhorteth all the faithful to trust in God and to loue him, because he preferreth and strengtheneth them, as they may see by his example.

A Psalme of David.

IN <sup>a</sup>thee, O Lord, haue I put my trust: let me neuer be confounded: deliuer me in thy <sup>b</sup>righteousnes.
 Bow downe thine care to me: make haste to deliuer me: be vnto me a strong rocke, and an house of defence to saue me.
 For thou art my rocke and my fortress: therefore for thy Names sake direct me & guide me.
 Draw me out of the <sup>c</sup>net, that they haue layde priuily for mee: for thou art my strength.
 Into thine <sup>d</sup>hande I commend my spirit: mine enemies for thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth.
 I haue hated them that giue themselves to deceitfull vanities: for I <sup>e</sup>trust in the Lord.
 I wil be glad and reioyce in thy mercie: for thou hast seene my trouble: thou hast known my soule in aduersities,
 And thou hast not shur me vp in <sup>f</sup>the hand of the enemy, but hast set my feete at <sup>g</sup>large.
 Haue mercie vpon me, O Lord: for I am in trouble: mine <sup>h</sup>eye, my soule and my bellic are consumed with griefe.
 For my life is wasted with heauines, and my yeres with mourning: my strength faileth for my payne, and my bones are consumed.
 I was a <sup>i</sup>reproch among all mine enemies: but specially among my neighbours: and a feared to mine acquaintance, <sup>j</sup>who seeing me in the streete, fled from me.
 I am forgotten, as a dead man out of mind: I am like a broken vessel.

PSALM XXXII.

David punished with grievous sickness for his sinnes, counsell them blessed, to whom God doeth not impute their transgressions. 5 And after that he had confessed his sinnes and obtained pardon, 6 He exhorteth the wicked men to lue godly, 11 And the good to reioyce.

A Psalm of David to giue instruction.

Blessed is he whose wickednes is forgiven, and whose sinne is couered.

Blessed is the man, vnto whome the Lord imputeth not iniquitie, and in whose spirit there is no guile.

When I helde my tongue, my bones consumed, or when I roared all the day,

(For thine hand is heauie vpon me, day and night: and my moysture is turned into the drought of summer. Selah)

Then I acknowledged my sinne vnto thee, neither hid I mine iniquitie: for I thought, I wil confesse against my selfe my wickednes vnto the Lord, and thou forgavest the punishment of my sinne. Selah.

Therefore shall euerie one, that is godly, make his praiser vnto thee in a time, when thou mayest be found: surely in the flood of great waters: they shall not come nere him.

Thou art my secrete place: thou preferuest me from trouble: thou compassdest me about with ioyfull deliuerance. Selah.

I will instruct thee, and teach thee in the way of faith.

way, that thou shalt go, and I wil guide thee with mine eye.

9 Be ye not like an horse, or like a mule, which vnderstand not: whose mouthes thou doest binde with bit and bridle, least they come neere thee.

10 Manie sorowes shall come to the wicked: but he, that trusteth in the Lorde, mercie shall compass him.

11 Be glad ye righteous, and reioyce in the Lord, and be ioyfull all ye, that are vpriight in heart.

PSALM XXXIII.

He exhorteth good men to praise God for that he hath not only created all things, and by his providence governeth the same, but also is faithfull in his promises, 10 He understandeth mans heart, and scattereth the counsel of the wicked, 16 So that no man can be preferred by any creature or mans strength: but they, that put their confidence in him mercie, shalbe preserved from all aduersities.

Reioyce in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it becommeth vpriight men to bee thankfull.

2 Praise the Lord with harpes: sing vnto him with viole and instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing vnto him a new song: sing cheerefully with a loude voyce.

4 For the word of the Lord is righteous, and all his workes are faithful.

5 He loueth righteousness and iudgement: the earth is full of the goodnes of the Lord.

6 By the word of the Lord were the heauens made, and al the hoste of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 He gathereth the waters of the sea together as vpon an heape, and layeth vp the depths in his treasures.

8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: let all them, that dwell in the world, feare him.

9 For he spake, and it was done: he commanded, and it stood.

10 The Lord breaketh the counsel of the heathen, and bringeth to nought the desires of the people.

11 The counsel of the Lord shall stand for euer, & the thoughts of his heart throughout all ages.

12 Blessed is that nation, whose God is the Lord: euen the people, that he hath chosen for his inheritance.

13 The Lord looketh downe from heauen, and beholdeth all the children of men.

14 From the habitation of his dwelling hee beholdeth all them, that dwel in the earth.

15 He facioneth their hearts euerie one, & vnderstandeth all their workes.

16 The King is not saued by the multitude of an hoste, neither is the mightie man deliuered by great strength.

17 A horse is a vaine helpe, and shall not deliuer any by his great strength.

PSAL. XXXVL

1 The Prophet grievously vexed by the wicked, doeth complaints of their malicious wickednes. 2 Then he turneth to consider the vnspokeable goodnes of God towards all creatures. 3 But specially towards his children, that by the faith thereof he may be comforted and assured of his deliuerance by the ordinary course of Gods worke. 13 VVho in the ends deserveth the wicked and saue the iust.

¶ To him that excellen. A Psalm of David, the seruant of the Lord.

- Wickednes sayeth to the wicked man, as euen in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.
- For he flattereth himselfe in his owne eyes, while his iniquitie is found worthy to be hated.
- The wordes of his mouth are iniquitie & deceit: he hath left of to vnderstand & to do good.
- He imagineth mischief vpon his bed: he setteth himself vpon a way, that is not good and doth not abhorre euil.
- Thy mercy, O Lorde, reacheth vnto the heauens, and thy faithfullnesse vnto the cloudes.
- Thy righteousnesse is lyke the mightie mountains: thy iudgements are like a great deepe: thou, Lord, doest saue man & beast.
- How excellent is thy mercy, O God! therewith godly to beware of these vices. e Though wickednes semeth to ouerthrowe all y world, yet by thine heauely prouidence thou gouernest heaue & earth. For the mountains of God: for what seruic is excellent, is thus called. f The depth of thy prouidence gouerneth all things, & disposeth them, albeit the wicked seeme to ouerwhelme the world.

- fore the children of men trust vnder y shadow of thy wings.
- They shalbe satisfied with the fatnesse of thine house, & thou shalt giue them drinke out of the riuier of thy pleasures.
- For with thee is the well of life, and in thy light shall we see light.
- Extend thy louing kindnes vnto the that know thee, and thy righteousnes vnto the that are vpright in heart.
- Let not the foote of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked moue me.
- There they are fallen that worke iniquitie: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to rise.

¶ That is, in their pride wherein they flatter themselves.

PSAL. XXXVII.

1 This Psalm containeth exhortation and consolation for the weakes, that are grieved at the prosperitie of the wicked, and the affliction of the godly. 7 For how prosperously soeuer the wicked do line for the time, he doth assure their felicitie to be vaine and transitorie, because they are not in the fauour of God, but in the ends they are destroyed as his enemies. 11 And how miserably that the righteous semeth to line in the world, yet his end is peace, & hee is in the fauour of God, he is deliuered from the wicked & persecuted.

¶ A Psalm of David.

- Freat not thy selfe because of the wicked men, neither be enuious for the euill doers.
- For they shall soone be cut downe like graspe, & shall wither as the greene herbe.
- Trust thou in the Lord & do good: dwell in the lande, and thou shalt be fed assuredly.
- And delite thy selfe in the Lord, and hee shall giue thee thine hearts desire.
- Commit thy way vnto the Lord, & trust in him, and he shall bring it to passe.
- And he shall bring forth thy righteousnes as the light, & thy iudgement as the noone day.
- Waite patiently vpon the Lord and hope in him: freat not thy selfe for him which prospereth in his way: nor for the man that bringeth his enterprises to passe.
- Cease from anger, & leaue of wrath: freat not thy selfe also to do euill.
- For euill doers shalbe cut of, and they that waite vpon the Lord, they shal inherite the land.
- Therefore yet a litle while, and the wicked shall not appeare, & thou shalt looke after his place, and he shal not be found.
- But meeke men shall possesse the earth, and shall haue their delite in the multitude of peace.
- The wicked practiseth against the iust, & gnatheth his teeth against him.
- But the Lord shal laugh him to scorne: for he seeth, that his day is coming.
- The wicked haue drawn their sword, & haue bent their bowe, to cast downe the poore and needie, and to slay such as be of vpright conuersation.

g Ouely Gods children haue y enough of all things both concerning this life and the life to come.

36 Yet he passed away, and lo, he was gone, & I sought him, but he could not be found.

37 Marke the vpright man, and behold the iust: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the transgressours shall bee destroyed together, and the end of the wicked shall be cut off.

39 But the saluation of the righteous men shall be of the Lord: he shall be their strength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Lord shall helpe them, and deliuer them: he shall be their strength, and deliuer them: he shall be their strength, and deliuer them.

41 He shall be their strength, and deliuer them: he shall be their strength, and deliuer them: he shall be their strength, and deliuer them.

P S A L. XXXVIII.

David hying sicke of some grievous disease, acknowledgeth himselfe to be chastised of the Lord for his sinnes, and therefore prayeth God to turne away his wrath. s He uttereth the greatnes of his griefe by many wordes and circumstances, as wounded with the arrowes of Gods ire, forsaken of his friends, euill intreated of his enemies. 22 But in the ende with firme confidence he commendeth his cause to God, and hopeth for speedie helpe at his hand.

A Psalm of David for remembrance.

1 O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 For thine arrowes haue light vpon me, and thine hand lyeth vpon me.

3 There is nothing found in my flesh, because of thine anger: neither is there rest in my bones because of my sinne.

4 For mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head, and as a weightie burden they are to heaue for me.

5 My woundes are purified, and corrupted because of my foolishnes.

6 I am bowed, and crooked very sore: I go mourning all the day.

7 For my reines are full of burning, & there is nothing found in my flesh.

8 I am weakened & sore broken: I roar for the very griefe of mine heart.

9 Lord, I powre my whole desire before thee, and my sighing is not hid from thee.

10 Mine heart panteth: my strength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, euē they are not mine owne.

11 My louers and my friends stande aside from my plague, and my kinsmen stande farre off.

12 They also, that seeke after my lyfe, laye snares, and they that goe about to doe me euill, talke wicked thinges and imagine deceit continually.

13 But I as a deafe man heard not, and as a dumme man, which openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofes.

15 For on thee, O Lord, do I waite: thou wilt heare me, my Lord, my God.

16 For I said, Heare me, least they reioyce ouer me: for when my foote slippeth, they extoll themselves against me.

17 Surely I am ready to halke, and my sorrow is euer before me.

18 When I declare my paine, and am sorry for my sinne,

19 Then mine enemies are aliue and are mightie, and they that hate me wrongfully are many.

20 They also, that reward euill for good, are mine aduersaries, because I follow goodnesse.

David uttereth with what great griefe and bitternesse of mynde he was druen to these outrageous complaints of his infirmities. 2 For he confesseth that when he had determined silence, that he brast forth yet into wordes that he would not, through the greatnes of his griefe. 4 Then he rehearseth certaine requests which table of the infirmities of man, 8 And mixeth with them many prayers: but all do shew a mind wonderfully troubled, that is may plainly appeare how he did strive mightily against death & desperation.

¶ To the excellens musician. A Psalm of David.

I Thought, I will take heede to my wayes, that I sinne not with my tongue: I will keepe my mouth bridle, while the wicked is in my sight.

I was dumme and spake nothing: I kept silence even from good, and my sorow was more stirred.

Mine heart was hote within me, while I was musing, the fire kindled, and I spake with my tongue, saying,

Lord, let me know mine end, & the measure of my dayes, what it is: let me knowe how long I haue to liue.

Beholde, thou hast made my dayes as an hand breadth, and mine age as nothing in respect of thee: surely euery man in his best state is altogether vanitie. Selah.

Doubles man walketh in a shadowe, and disquieteth himselfe in vaine: he heapeth vp riches, and can not tell who shall gather them.

And now Lord, what waite I for? mine hope is euen in thee.

Deliuere me from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke vnto the foolishe.

I should haue bene dumme, and not haue opened my mouth, because thou didest it.

Take thy plague away from me: for I am consumed by the stroke of thine hand.

When thou wilt rebukes dost chastise man for iniquitie, thou as a mothe makest his beautie to consume: surely euery man is vanitie. Selah.

Hear my prayer, O Lord, & hearken vnto my cry: keepe not silence at my teares, for I am a stranger with thee, & a sojourner as all my fathers.

Stay shine anger from me, that I may recover my strength, before I go hence and be not.

¶ The worde signifieth al that he desireth, as health, force, strength, beautie, and in whatsoeuer he hath desired, so that the rod of God taketh away all that is desired in this world. For his sorow caused him to think that God would destroy him utterly: whereby we see how hard it is for the very Saints to keepe a measure in their wordes, when death and despaire attayle them.

PSAL. XL.

David deliuered from great danger, doeth magnifie and prayes the grace of God for his deliuerance, and commendeth his providence towards all mankind. 3 Then doeth he promise to giue himselfe wholly to Gods seruice, and so declareth how God is truly worshipped. 14 Afterward he giueth thanks and prayeth God, and hauing employed of his enemies, with good courage he calleth for ayde and succour.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

I Waited patiently for the Lorde, and he inclined vnto me, and heard my cry. He brought me also out of horrible pit, out of the myrie claie, and set my feete vpon the rocke, and ordred my goings.

And he hath put in my mouth a newe song of praise vnto our God: many shall see it and feare, and shall trust in the Lord.

Blessed is the man that maketh the Lord his trust, and regardeth not the proude, nor such as turne aside to lyes.

O Lord my God, thou hast made thy wonderfull workes so many, that none can couit in order to thee thy thoughts toward vs: I would declare, and speake of them, but they are mo then I am able to expresse.

Sacrifice & offering thou didest not desire: for mine eares hast thou prepared) burnt offering and sinne offering hast thou not required.

Then said I, Lo, I come: for in the rolle of the booke it is written of me,

I desired to do thy good will, O my God: yea, thy Law is within mine heart.

I haue declared thy righteousness in the great Congregation: loe, I will not refraine my lippes: O Lord, thou knowest.

I haue not hid thy righteousness within mine heart, but I haue declared thy truth and thy saluation: I haue not concealed thy mercy and thy truth from the great Congregation.

Withdraw not thou thy tender mercy from me, O Lord: let thy mercy and thy truth alway preserue me.

For innumerable troubles haue compassed me: my sinnes haue taken such hold vpon me, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are mo in number then the heares of mine head: therefore mine heart hath failed me.

Let it please thee, O Lord, to deliuere me: make haste, O Lord, to helpe me.

Let the be confounded & put to shame together, that seeke my soule to destroy it: let them be druen backward & put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.

Let them be destroyed for a reward of their shame, which say vnto me, Aha, aha.

Let all them, that seeke thee, reioyce and be glad in thee: and let them, that loue thy saluation, say alway, The Lord be praised.

Though I be poore and needy, the Lord thinketh on me: thou art mine helper and my deliuerer: my God, make no taryng.

That is, a speciall occasion to prayse him: for Gods benefites are so manie occasions for vsto to follow their example, which he must needs do, that trusteth not only in the Lord. c David goeth from one kinde of Gods fauour to the contemplation of his providence ouer al, & confesseth that his counsels towards vs are farre aboue our capacities: we can not so much as tel the in order.

Thou hast opened mine eares to vnderstand the spiritual meanig of the sacrifices: and here David esteemeth the ceremonies of the Law nothing in respect of the spiritual seruice.

When thou hadst opened mine eares and heart, I was ready to obey thee being assured that I was written in the booke of thine elect for this ende. h In the Church assembled in the Sanctuarie.

By this I know that thou fauourest mee, because mine enemy doth not triumph against me.

A song of triumph or thanksgiving for the deliuerance of Ierusalem, after Sennacherib with his armie was drinen away, or some other like sodaine and maruelous deliuerance by the mighty hand of God. A VVherely the Prophete commending this great benefite, doth exhort the iustfull to giue themselves wholly vnto the hands of God, doubting nothing but that vnder his protection they shall be safe against all the assaults of their enemies, because this is his delite to assuage the rage of the wicked, when they are most busie against the iust.

To him that excelleth vpon a Alamorh a song committed to the somes of Korah.

God is our hope and strength, & helpe in all troubles, readie to be found.

Therefore will not we feare, though the earth be moued, and though the mountaines fall into the middes of the sea.

Though the waters thereof rage and be troubled & the mountaines shake at the surges of the same, Selah,

Yes there is a Riuer, whose streames shall make glad the cite of God: euen the Sanctuary of the Tabernacles of the most High.

God is in the middes of it: therefore shal it not be moued: God shall helpe it very earely.

When the nations raged, and the kingdoms were moued, God thundred, and the earth melted.

The Lord of hostes is with vs: the God of Iaakob is our refuge. Selah.

Come, & behold the workes of the Lord, what desolations he hath made in the earth.

He maketh warres to cease vnto the ends of the world: he breaketh the bowe and curteth the speare, & burneth the chariots with fire.

Be still and knowe that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, and I will be exalted in the earth.

The Lord of hostes is with vs: the God of Iaakob is our refuge. Selah.

He hath chosen our inheritance for vs: euen the glorie of Iaakob whome he loued. Selah.

God is gone vp with triumph, euen the meekness of the Gentiles: they should with gladnes obey them. God hath chosen vs above all other nations to enioy a most glorious inheritance.

Sing praises to God, sing prayles: sing prayles vnto our King, sing prayles.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm committed to the sonnes of Korah.

HEARE this, all ye people: giue care, all ye that dwell in the world,
As well lowe as he, both riche and poore.
My mouth shall speake of wisdom, & the meditation of mine heart is of knowledge.
I will incline mine care to a parable, & vtter my graue matter vpon the harpe.
Wherefore should I feare in the euill daies, when iniquitie shall compasse me about, as mine heeles?
They trust in their goods, & boast themselves in the multitude of their riches.
Yet a man can by no meanes redeeme his brother: he can not giue his raunsome to God,
(So precious is the redemption of their soules, & the continuance for euer)
That he may liue still for euer, and not see the graue.
For he seeth that wise men dye, & also that the ignorant and foolish perish, and leaue their riches for others.
Yet they thinke, their houses, & their habitations shall continue for euer, even from generation to generation, & call their lands by their names.
But man shall not continue in honour: he is like the beastes that dye.
This their way vttereth their foolishnes: yet their posteritie delite in their talke. Selah.
Like sheepe they lie in graue: death deuoureth them, and the righteous hath haue domination ouer them in the morning: for their beautie shall consume, while they shall go from their house to graue.
But God shall deliuer my soule from the power of the graue: for he wil receiue me. Selah.
Be not thou afrayed when one is made riche, & when the glorie of his house is increased.
For he shall take nothing away when he dyeth, neither shall his pompe descend after him.
For while he liued, he reioyced himself: & men will praye thee, when thou makest much of thy selfe.
He shall enter into the generation of his fathers, and they shall not liue for euer.
Man is in honour, & vnderstandeth not: he is like to beastes that perish.

He will intreat how God gouerneth the world by his promise which can not be perjured by the iudgement of the flesh. b Though wicked men reign & exult, yet God will execute his iudgements against the wicked in time convenient. c To trust in riches is more madnes, seeing they can neither rescue life nor bring it. d That is, for as much as they are not to be found, as the promise was precious in the dayes of Eli. Sam. 1. e Meaning, it is impossible to liue for euer: al- (b) life & death are only in Gods hands. f That is, that death maketh no difference between the persons. g That is, not to their children, but to strangers. Yet the wicked profit not by their examples, but still dream of immortalitie. h Or, I know that their name may be famous in earth. i Approaching the death of the body. j They speake and do the same thing that their fathers dyd. k As there are gathered into folds, so shall they be brought to the graue. l Because they haue no part of life everlasting. m Christs coming is as the morning, when the elect shall reigne & Christ their head ouer the wicked. n Or, because he hath receiued me. Job 37. 19. 23. m. 8. y. o He believeth his soule. p The flatterers praise them: that liue in deluges and pleasures. q Or, his soule. o And not passe the terme appointed for life. p Both they and their fathers shall liue here but a while, and at length dye for euer. q He condemneth man's ingratitude, who having receiued excellent gifts of God, abuseth them like a beast to his owne condemnation.

PSAL. L.

Because the Church is alway full of hypocrites, 8 VVhich do imagine that God wil be worshipped with outward ceremonies onely, without the heart: and especially the Iewes were of this opinion, because of their figures and ceremonies of the law, thinking that their sacrifices were sufficient, 21 Therefore the Prophet doth reprove this grosse error, and pronounceth the Name of God to be blasphemed, where he liues in ceremonies. 23 For he declareth the worship of God to be spiritual, wherof are two principall partes, inuocation, and thanksgiving.

A Psalm of Asaph.

THE God of gods, euen the Lorde hath spoken and called the earth from the rising vp of the sunne vnto the going down thereof.
Out of Zion, which is the perfection of beautie, hath God shined.
Our God shall come and shall not keepe silence: a fire shall deuour before him, and a mighty tempest shall be moued round about him.
He shall call the heauen above, and the earth to iudge his people.
Gather my Saintes together vnto mee, those that make a couenaut with me with sacrifice.
And the heauens shall declare his righteousness: for God is iudge himselfe. Selah.
Hear, O my people, & I will speake, heare, O Israel, and I will testifie vnto thee: for I am God, euen thy God.
I wil not reprove thee for thy sacrifices, or thy burnt offerings, that haue not bene continually before me.
I will take no bullocke out of thine house, nor goates out of thy folds.
For all the beasts of the forest are mine, and the beasts on a thousand mountaines: and the wilde beasts of the field are mine.
If I be hungrie, I wil not tell thee: for the world is mine, and all that therein is.
Wil I eate the flesh of bulles? or drinke the blood of goates?
Offer vnto God praise, & pay thy vowes vnto the most High,
And call vpon me in the day of trouble: so will I deliuer thee, and thou shalt glorifie me.
But vnto the wicked saide God, What hast thou to do to declare mine ordinances, that thou shouldest take my couenaut in thy mouth,
Seeing thou hatest to be reformed, and hast cast my wordes behind thee?
For when thou seest a theefe, thou runnest with him, and thou art partaker wyth the adulterers.
Thou giuest thy mouth to euill, and with thy tongue thou forgetst deceit.
Thou art fittest, and speakest against thy brother, and slanderest thy mothers sonne.

¶ When David was rebuked by the Prophete Nathan, for his great offences, he did not onely acknowledge the same to God with protestation of his naturall corruption and iniquitie, but also left a memoriall thereof to his posteritie.

7 Therefore first he desireth God to forgive his finnes, 10 And to reue in him his holy Spirit, 12 VVith promises that he will not be vniuersall of those great graces. 18 Finally fearing leaſt God would punish the whole Church for his fault, he requireth that he would rather increase his graces towards the same.

The wicked described.

b He sheweth that it is either now time, or neuer, that God helpe him: for all the world is against him and ready to deuour him. c He stayeth his conscience vpon Gods promises, though he see not present helpe. d All my counsels haue euill successe & turne to mine owne sorrowe. e As all the worlde against one man, & can not be faciat, except they haue my life. f They think not onely to escape punishment, but the more wicked they are, y more impudent they waxe. g If God kepe teares of his Saintes in store, much more will he remember their blood to avenge it: and though tyrants burne the bones, yet can they not blot the teares & blood out of Gods register. h Having receyued that which I required, I am bounde to pay my vovyes of thanksgiuing, as I promised. i As mindfull of his great mercies, and giuing him thanks for the same. k That is, in this life & light of the sunne.

David being in the desert of Ziph, where the inhabitants did betray him, & at length in the same case with Saul, called most earnestly vnto God with full confidence, that he will performe his promises & take his cause in hand: Also that he will shew his glory in the heauens and the earth against his cruell enemies. Therefore doth he render laude and prayse.

HAue mercie vpon mee, O God, haue mercy vpon me: for my soule trusteth in thee, and in the shadowe of thy winges will I trust, till these afflictions ouerpass. 2 I will call vnto the most high God, euen to the God, that performeth his promises toward me. 3 He will send from heauen, and saue me from the reproofe of him that would swallow me. Selah. God will send his mercy, and his truth. 4 My soule is among lions: I lie among y childre of men, that are set on fire: whose teeth are speares and arrowes, and their tongue a sharpe sword. 5 Exalt thy selfe, O God, aboute the heauen, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth. 6 They haue layd a net for my steppes: my soule is pressed downe: they haue digged a pit before me, and are fallē into the middes of it. Selah. 7 Mine heart is prepared, O God, myne heart is prepared: I will sing and giue prayse. 8 Awake my tongue, awake viole & harpe: I will awake early. 9 I wil prayse thee, O Lord, among the people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations. 10 For thy mercy is great vnto the heauens, and thy truth vnto the cloudes. 11 Exalt thy selfe, O God, aboute the heauens, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth.

To him that excelleth. Destroy not. A Psalm of David on Michsam.

Is it true? O Congregation, speake ye iustly? O sonnes of men, iudge ye vprightly? 2 Yea, rather ye imagine mischief in your heart: your handes execute crueltie vpon the earth. 3 The wicked are strangers from the wōbe: euen from the belly haue they erred, and speake lies. 4 Their payson is euen like the payson of a serpent: like the deafe adder thus stoppeth his eare. 5 Which heareth not the voyce of the inchanter, though he be most expert in charming. 6 Breake their teeth, O G O D, in their mouthes: breake the iawes of the yong lions, O Lord. 7 Let them melt like the waters, let them passe away: when he shooteth his arrowes, let them be as broken. 8 Let him consume lyke a snayle that melteth, and like the vntimely fruit of a womā, that hath not seene the sunne. 9 As raw flesh before your pottes feelee the fire of thornes: so let him cary them away as with a whirlwinde in his wrath. 10 The righteous shall reioyce when he seeth the vengeance: he shal wash his feete in the bloud of the wicked. 11 And men shal say, Verily there is fruit for the righteous: doubtles there is a God that iudgeth in the earth.

O My God, deliver me from mine enemies: defend me from them that rise vp against me.

Deliver me from the wicked doers, & save me from the bloody men.

For lo, they haue laied waite for my soule: the mightie men are gathered against me, not for mine offence, nor for my sinne, O Lord.

A Psalme or song.

1 God be merciful vnto vs, & blesse vs, and cause his face to shine among vs. Selah.

2 That they may know thy way vpon earth, and thy sauing health among all nations:

3 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.

4 Let the people be glad and reioyce: for y shalt iudge the people righteously, and gouerne the nations vpon the earth. Selah.

5 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all
the people praise thee.

6 Then shall the earth bring forth her increase, & God, euen our God shall blesse vs.

7 God shall blesse vs, and all the ends of the earth shall feare him.

¶ That they shall receiue vnder the kingdome of Christ: d He sheweth that where God fauoureth, there shall be abundance of all other things.

¶ When they feele his great benefites both spirituall and corporall to-wardes them.

c He toucheth
the fleshful dul-
nes of man, who is colde in the consideration of Gods workes.

d His prouidence is wonderfull in maintaining their estate.

e He proueth that God wil extend his grace
also to the Gentiles, because hee punisheth among them such as wil not obey his calling.

f He signifyeth
some special benefit, that God had shewed to his Church of y Iewes, in deliuering them from some great danger: whereof or of the like he promisseth that y Gentiles shall be partakers.

g The condicioof the Church is here described, which is to be led by gods pro-uidence into troubles, to be subiect vnder tryalls, & to enter into manifold dangers.

h The dutie of the faithfull is here defended,
which are neuer
vniuersally
reder God praise for his benefites.

i It is not ynough to haue receiued Gods benefites & to be mindfull thereof, but also we are bound to make others to profit thereby, and prayse God. k If I delite in wickednes, God wil not heare me: but if I confesse it, he wil receiue me.

k If I delite in wickednes,
God wil not heare me: but if I confesse it, he wil receiue me.

l The dutie of
the faithfull is
here defended,
which are neuer
vniuersally
reder God praise for his benefites.

m That is, moue
our hearts with his holy Spirit, that we may feele his fauour toward vs.

n That both Iewes and Gentiles may knowe Gods couenant made with the.

o By these oft repetitions he sheweth, that y people can neuer reioyce sufficiently, and giue
thanks for the great benefites

p He sheweth
that where God fauoureth, there shall be abundance of all other things.

PSAL. LXVIII.

In this Psalme David setteth forth as in a glasse the wonderful mercies of God toward his people: VVho by all meanes and most strange sortes declared him selfe to them. 13 And therefore Gods Church by reason of his promises, graces and victories doeth excell without comparison all worldly things. 24 He exhorteth therefore all men to praye for ever.

M: 13

To him that excelleth. A Psalme or song of David.

a The Prophet sheweth that albeit God suffreth the wicked tyrants to oppress his Church for a time, yet at length he will be reuenged of them.

b He sheweth that when God declareth his power against the wicked, that it is for the commodity and saluation of his Church, which praise him therefore.

c Iah & Iehouah are the names of God, which do signify his essence and maiestie incōprehensible, so that hereby is declared, that all idols are but vanitie, and that the God of Israel is the only true God.

d He giueth childre to them that be childles, and increaseth their families. e Which is barren of Gods blessings, which before they had abused.

f He teacheth that gods fauour peculiarly belongeth to his Church, as appeareth by their wonderfull deliuerance out of Egypt. g God blessed the land of Canaan because he had chosen that place for his Church.

h The facion then was y women sang songs after y victorie, as Miriam, Deborah, Iudith & others.

i The pray was so great that not only the soldiers, but women also had parte thereof. k Though God suffer his Church for a time to lie in blacke darkenes, yet he will restore it, and make it most shining & white. 1 In the land of Canaan, where his Church was. m Zion the Church of God doth excel all worldly things, not in pomp & outward shew, but by y inward grace of God, which there remaineth because of his dwelling therein.

n Why boast ye of your strength & beautie against this Mountaine of God? o As God ouercame y enemies of his Church, took the prisoners, and made them tributaries: so Christ, which is God manifested in flesh, subdued Satan & sinne vnder vs, and gaue vnto his Church most liberrall gifts of his spirit, Eph. 4.8.

*G*od wil arise, and his enemies shalbe scattered: they also that hate him, shal flee before him.

As the smoke vanisheth, so shalt thou driue them away: and as waxe melteth before the fire, so shall the wicked perish at the presence of God.

But the righteous shalbe glad, and reioice before God: yea, they shall leape for ioye. Sing vnto God, and sing praises vnto his name: exalt him, y rideth vpō the heauens, in his Name Iah, and reioyce before him.

He is a Father of y fatherles, & a ludge of y widowes, euen God in his holy habitatio. God maketh the solitarie to dwell in families, and deliuereth them that were prisoners in stockes: but the rebellious shall dwell in a drie lande.

O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people: when thou wentest through the wilderness, (Selah)

The earth shooke, and the heauens dropped at the presence of this God: euen Sinai was moued at the presence of God, euen the God of Israel.

Thou, O God, sendest a gracious raine vpon thine inheritance, and thou didest refresh it when it was wearie.

Thy Congregation dwelled therein: for thou, O God, hast of thy goodnes prepared it for the poore.

The Lord gaue matter to the women to tel of the great armie.

Kings of the armies did flee: they did flee and the that remained in the house, deuided the spoyle.

Though ye haue lien among pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a doue that is couered with bluer, and whose fethers are like yellow golde.

When the Almighty scattered Kings in it, it was white as the snow in Zalmon.

The mountaine of God is like the mountaine of Bashan: it is an high Mountaine, as mount Bashan.

Why leape ye, ye high mountaines? as for this Mountaine, God deliteth to dwell in it: yea, the Lord wil dwell in it for euer.

The charers of God are twentie thousand thousand Angels, and the Lord is among them, as in the Sanctuarie of Sinai.

Thou art gone vp on high: thou hast led to great that not only the soldiers, but women also had parte thereof.

captiuitie captiue, and received gifts for men: yea, euen the rebellious haue thou led, that the Lord God might dwell there.

19 Prayed be the Lord, euen the God of our saluation, which ladeth vs daily with benefis. Selah.

20 This is our God, euen the God that saueth vs: and to the Lord God belonge the issues of death.

21 Surely God will wound the head of his enemies, and the heary pate of him that walketh in his sinnes.

22 The Lord hath said, I will bring my people againe from Bashan: I will bring them againe from the depths of the Sea:

23 That thy foote may be dipped in blood, & the tongue of thy dogges in the blood of the enemies, euen in it.

24 They haue seene, O God, thy goings, the goings of my God, and my King, which are in the Sanctuarie.

25 The singers went before, the plaiers of instruments after: in the middes were the maides playing with timbrels.

26 Prayse ye God in the assemblies, and the Lord, ye that are of the fountaine of Israel.

27 There was a litle Benjamin with their ruler, and the princes of Iudah with their assemblie, the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali.

28 Thy God hath appointed thy strength: stablish, O God, that, which y haue wrought in vs, 29 Out of thy Temple vpon Ierusalem: and Kings shall bring presents vnto thee.

30 Destroy the companie of the spearmen, and multitude of the mightie bulles w the calues of the people, that tread vnder feet pieces of siluer: scatter the people that delight in warre.

31 Then shall the princes come out of Egypt: Ethiopia shal haste to stretch her handes vnto God.

32 Sing vnto God, O ye kingdomes of the earth: sing praise vnto the Lord, (Selah)

33 To him that rideth vpon the most high heauens, which were from the beginning: beholde, he will sende out by his voyce a mightie found.

34 Ascribe the power to God: for his maiestie is vpon Israel, and his strength is in the cloudes.

35 O God, thou art terrible out of thine holie places: the God of Israel is he that giueth strength and power vnto the people: praised be God.

PSAL. LXIX.

The complaints, prayers, feruent zeale and great anguish of David is set forth as a figure of Christ and all his members: 21 The malicious crueltie of the enemies, 22 And their punishment also, 26 VVhere Iudas and such traitours are accused. 30 He gathereth courage in his affliction, and offereth praises vnto God, 32 VVhich are more acceptable then all sacrifices: whereof all the afflicted may take comfort. 35 Finally he doeth proue all creatures to praisse, prophesying of the kingdome of Christ, and the preservation of the Church, where all the faithfull, 37 And their seeds shall dwell for euer.

Of Sholhan-am, read
Psalm 45.

To him that excelleth upon Shofhamim.
A Psalm of David.

1 SAUE me, O God: for the waters are entered euen to my soule.
2 I sticke fast in the deepe myre, where no stay is: I am come into deepe waters, and the streames runne ouer me.
3 I am wearie of crying: my throte is drie:
mine eyes faile, whiles I waite for my God.
4 They that hate me without a cause, are mo-then the hearers of mine head: they that would destroy me, and are mine enemies falsly, are mightie, so that I restored that which I tooke not.
5 O God, thou knowest my foolishnes, & my fautes are not hid from thee.
6 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord God of hostes, bee ashamed for me: let not those that seeke thee, be confounded through me, O God of Israel.
7 For thy sake haue I suffered reproofe: shame hath couered my face.
8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren, euen an aliant vnto my mothers sonnes.
9 For the zeale of thine house hath eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.
10 I wept and my soule fasted, but that was to my reproofe.
11 I put on a sacke also: and I became a pro-uerbe vnto them.
12 They that fate in the gate, spake of me,
and the drunkardes sang of me.
13 But Lord, I make my prayer vnto thee in an acceptable time, euen in the multitude of thy mercie: O God, heare me in the truth of thy saluation.
14 Deliuer me out of the myre, that I sinke not: let me be deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters.
15 Let not the water flood drowne me, neither let the deepe swallowe me vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.
16 Heare me, O Lord, for thy louing kindnes is good: turne vnto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.
17 And hide not thy face from thy seruant, for I am in trouble: make haste & heare me.
18 Draw neere vnto my soule and redeme it:
deliuer me because of mine enemies.
19 Thou hast known my reproofe and my shame, and my dishonour: all mine aduer-saries are before thee.
20 Rebuke hath broken mine heart, and I am full of heauines, and I looked for some to haue pitie on me, but there was none: and for comforters, but I found none.
21 For they gaue me gall in my meat, and in my thirste they gaue me vineger to drinke.
22 Let their table be a snare before them, &
their prosperitie their ruine.
23 Not that he feared that God would not heare him, but that care made him to thinke that God deferred long. p Thou seest that I am beset as a sheepe among manie wolues. q He sheweth that it is in vaine to put our trust in me in our great necessities, but that our comfort onely dependeth of God: for man rather increaseth our sorowes, then diminisheth them. John 19. 29. r He desireth God to execute his iudgements against the reprobate, which cannot by anie means be turned. Rom. 11. 9.

23 Let their eyes be blinded that they see not:
and make their ioyes alway to tremble.
24 Powre out thine anger vpon them, & let thy wrathful displeasure take them.
25 Let their habitation be voyde, and let none dwell in their tents.
26 For they persecute him, whome thou hast smitten: and they adde vnto the sorowe of them, whome thou hast wounded.
27 Lay iniquitie vpon their iniquitie, and let them not come into thy righteousnes.
28 Let them be put out of the booke of life, neither let them be written with the righteous.
29 When I am poore and in heauines, thine helpe, O God, shall exalt me.
30 I wil praise the Name of God with a song, and magnifie him with thankesgiuing.
31 This also shall please the Lord better then a yong bullocke, that hath hornes and hoofes.
32 The humble shall see this, and they y seeke
God, shall be glad, and your heart shall liue.
33 For the Lord heareth the poore, and despiseth not his prisoners.
34 Let heauen and earth praise him: the seas and all that moueth in them.
35 For God will saue Zion, and buyld the cities of Iudah, that men may dwell there and haue it in possession.
36 The seede also of his seruants shall inherit it: and they that loue his Name, shall dwell therein.

4 But let all those that seeke thee, be ioyfull

e He strengtheneth his faith by the experience of Gods benefites, who did not onely preferre him in his moethers belly, but toke him thence and euer since hath preferred him.

f All the worlde wondereth at me because of my miseries, as well they in authority, as the common people, yet being assured of thy fauour I remained stedfast.

g Thou y didest helpe me in my youth, whē I had more strength, helpe me now so much y more in mine old age and weakenes.

h Thus the wicked both blaspheme God and triumph against his Saintes, as though he had forsaken them, if he suffer them to fall into their hands.

i In calling him his God, he putteth backe the false reportes of the aduersaries, that said, God had forsake him.

k Because thy benefites toward me are innumerable, I cannot but continually meditate and rehearse them.

5 For thou art mine hope, O Lord God, eue my trust from my youth.

9 Cast me not of in the time of age: forsake me not when my strength faileth.

10 For mine enemies speake of me, and they that lay waite for my soule, take their counsel together, 11 Saying, b God hath forsake him: pursue & take him, for there is none to deliuer him.

12 Go not farre from me, O God: i my God, haste thee to helpe me.

13 Let them bee confounded and consumed that are against my soule: let them be couered with reproofe and confusion, that seeke mine hurt.

14 But I wil waite continually, and wil praise thee more and more.

15 My mouth shall daily rehearse thy righteousness, thy saluation: k for I know not the number.

16 I wil go forward in the strength of the Lord God, and will make mention of thy righteousness, euen of thine onely.

17 O God, thou hast taught me fro my youth euen vntil now: therefore wil I tell of thy wonderous workes, 18 Yea, euen vnto mine olde age and graye head, O God: forsake me not, vntil I haue declared thine arme vnto this generation, and thy power to all them, that shall come.

19 And thy righteousness, O God, I wil exalt on high: for thou hast done great things: o O God, who is like vnto thee!

20 Which hast shewed me great troubles & aduersities, but thou wilt returne and reuiue me, and wilt come againe, and take me vp from the depth of the earth.

21 Thou wilt increase mine honour, and returne and comfort me.

22 Therefore wil I praise thee for thy faithfulness, O God, vpon instrument and viole: vnto thee wil I sing vpon the harpe, O Holie one of Israel.

23 My lips wil reioyce when I sing vnto thee, & my soule, which thou hast deliuered.

24 My tongue also shall talke of thy righteousness dayly: for they are confounded and brought vnto shame, that seeke mine hurt.

A Psalm of Salomon.

1 Glue thy iudgements to the King, O God, and thy righteousness to y Kings sonne.

2 Then shall he iudge thy people in righteousness, and thy poore with equitie.

3 The mountaines & the hilles shal bring peace to the people by iustice.

4 He shall iudge the poore of the people: he shall saue the children of the needie, & shall subdue the oppressor.

5 They shal feare thee as long as the sunne and moone endureth, from generation to generation.

6 He shal come downe like the rayne vpon the mowen grasse, and as the showres that water the earth.

7 In his dayes shall the righteous florish, & abundance of peace shalbe so long as the moone endureth.

8 His dominion shalbe also from sea to sea, and from the Riuer vnto the endes of the land.

9 They that dwell in the wildernes, shall kneele before him, and his enemies shall like the dust.

10 The Kings of Tarshish and of the yles shal bring presents: the Kings of Sheba and Seba shal bring gifts.

11 Yea, all Kings shal worship him: all nations shal serue him.

12 For he shall deliuer the poore when he cryeth: the needie also, and him that hath no helper.

13 He shalbe merciful to the poore and needie, and shal preferue the foules of the poore.

14 He shall redeeme their soules from deceit and violence, and deare shall their blood be in his sight.

15 Yea, he shall liue, and vnto him shall they giue of the golde of Sheba: they shall also pray for him continually, and daily blesse him.

16 An handfull of corne shall be sown in the earth, euen in the toppes of the mountaines, and the fruite thereof shal shake like the trees of Lebanon: and the children shal florish out of the citie like the grasse of the earth.

17 His name shalbe for euer: his name shall indure as long as the sunne: al nations shal blesse him, and be blessed in him.

1 Though tyrants passe not to shed blood, yet this godly King shal preferue his subiects from all kinde of wrong. m God wil both prosper his life, and also make the people most willing to obey him. n Vnder such a King shalbe most great plentie, both of fruite and also of increase of mankind. o They shall pray to God for his continuance, and know that God doeth prosper them for his sake.

For there are no bandes in their death, but they are lustie and strong.

They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued with other men.

Therefore pride is as a chayne vnto them, and crueltie couereth them as a garment.

Their eyes stand out for fatnes: they haue more then heart can with.

They are licentious, and speake wickedly of their oppression: they talke presumptuously.

They set their mouth against heauen, & their tongue walketh through the earth.

Therefore his people turne hither: for waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

And they say, How doeth God knowe it? or is there knowledge in the masse High?

Lo, these are the wicked, yet prosper they alway, and increase in riches.

Certainely I haue clenfed mine heart in vaine, and washed mine handes in innocencie.

For daylie haue I bene punished, and chastened euery morning.

If I say, I will iudge thus, beholde the generation of thy children: I haue trespassed.

Then thought I to know this, but it was to painefull for me.

Vntill I went into the Sanctuary of God: when vnder stood I their end.

Surely thou hast set them in slipperie places, and castest them downe into desolation.

How suddenly are they destroyed, perished and horribly consumed,

As a dreame when one awaketh! O Lord, the godly to dispute with God touching their poore estate and the prosperitie of the wicked.

If I giue place to this wicked thought, I offend against thy providence, seeing thou disposest all things most wisely, and preseruest thy children in their greatest dangers.

Vntill I entered into thy schoole and learned by thy word and holie Spirit, that thou orderest all things most wisely and iustly.

By thy fearfull iudgements.

when thou raisest vs vp, thou shalt make their image despised.

Certainely mine heart was vexed, and I was pricked in my reins:

So foolish was I and ignorant: I was a beast before thee.

Yet I was alway with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

Thou wilt guide me by thy counsel, and afterward receiue me to glorie.

Whome haue I in heauen but thee? and I haue desired none in the earth with thee.

My flesh sayeth and mine heart also: but God is the strength of mine heart, and my portion for euer.

For lo, they that withdrawe themselves from thee, shall perish: thou destroyest all them that go a whoring from thee.

Read Psalm.

The Prophet vnder the Name of a teacher calleth the people his, and the doctrine his, as Paul calleth y<sup>e</sup> Gos.

1 A Psalm to give instruction committed to Asaph.

2 Heare my doctrine, O my people: incline vpon eares vnto the words of my mouth.

3 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare high sentences of olde.

4 pel his, whereof he was but y<sup>e</sup> preacher, as Rom. 2. 16. & 16. 25.

Which we haue heard and knowne, and our fathers haue tolde vs.

2 We will not hide them from their children, but to the generation to come we will shew the praises of the Lord, his power also, & his wonderful workes that he hath done:

3 How he established a testimonie in Iaakob, & ordeined a Law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they should teache their children:

4 That the posteritie might know it, and the childre, which should be borne, should stand vp, and declare it to their children:

5 That they might set their hope on God, & not forget the workes of God but keepe his commandmentes:

6 And not to be as their fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generation: a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not faithful vnto God.

7 The children of Ephraim being armed and shooting with the bowe, turned backe in the day of battell.

8 They kept not the covenant of God, but refused to walke in his Lawe, 9 And forgate his Actes, and his wonderful workes that he had shewed them.

10 He did marueilous things in the sight of their fathers in the land of Egypt: euen in the fieldes of Zoan.

11 He deuised the Sea, and led them through: he made also the waters to stand as an heape.

12 In the day time also he led them with a cloude, and at the night wth a light of fire.

13 He claued the rockes in the wilderness, and gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

14 He brought floods also out of the stony rocke, so that he made the waters to descend like the riuers.

15 Yet they sinned still against him, and prouoked the Highest in the wilderness, 16 And tempted God in their hearts in requiring meat for their lust.

17 They spake against God also, saying,

18 Can God prepare a table in wilderness?

19 Beholde, he smote the rocke, that the water gushed out, and the streames ouerflowed: can he giue bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

20 Therefore the Lord heard and was angrie, and the fire was kindled in Iaakob, and also wrath came vpon Israel, 21 Because they beleecued not in God, and trusted not in his helpe.

22 Yet he had commanded the cloudes to bring him rain, and opened the doores of heauen, & had denied them.

Which were the people of God.

By the testimonie and lawe, he meaneth the lawe written, which they were commanded to teache their children, Deut. 6. 7.

He sheweth wherein the children should be like their fathers that is, in maintaining Gods pure religion.

He sheweth wherein the vice of this doctrine standeth: in faith in the meditation of Gods benefites and in obedience.

Though these fathers were the seedes of Abraham and the chosen people, yet he sheweth by their rebellion, prouocation, falshode, & hypocrisie, that the children ought not to followe their examples.

By Ephraim he meaneth also the rest of the tribes, because they were most in number: whose punishment declareth that they were vnfaitfull to God, and by their multitude and autoritie had corrupted also others.

He proueth that not only the posteritie, but also their forefathers were wicked and rebellious to God.

32 For all this, they sinned still, & beleued not his wonderous workes.

33 Therefore their daies did he consume in vanitie, and their yeres hastily.

34 And when he slewe them, they fought him and they returned, and sought God early.

35 And they remembered that God was their strength, and the most high God their redeemer.

36 But they flattered him with their mouth & dissembled with him with their tongue.

37 For their heart was not vpriht with him: neither were they faithful in his couenant.

38 Yet he being mercifull forgave their iniquitie, and destroyed them not, but oft times called backe his anger, and did not stirre vp all his wrath.

39 For he remembered that they were flesh: yea, a wind that passeth and commeth not againe.

56 Yet they tempted, and prouoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies,

57 But turned backe & delt falsely like their fathers: they turned like a deceitful bow.

58 And they prouoked him to anger with their high places, and moued him to wrath with their grauen images.

59 God heard this and was wroth, & greatly abhorred Israel,

60 So that he forsoke the habitation of Shilo, euen the Tabernacle where he dwelt among men, 61 And deliuered his power into captiuitie, and his beautie into the enemies had.

62 And he gaue vp his people to the sword, and was angrie with his inheritance.

63 The fire deuoured their chosen men, & their maidens were not praised.

64 Their Priests fel by the sword, and their widowes lamented not.

65 But the Lord awaked as one out of sleepe, and as a strong man that after his wine crieth out, 66 And smote his enemies in the hinder partes, and put them to a perpetual shame.

67 Yet he refused the tabernacle of Ioseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:

68 But chose the tribe of Iudah, and mount Zion which he loued.

69 And he built his Sanctuarie as an high palace, like the earth, which he stablished for euer.

70 He chose Dauid also his seruant, & tooke him from the shepefolds.

71 Euen from behinde the ewes with yong brought he him to feed his people in Iacob, and his inheritance in Israel.

72 So he fed them according to the simplicitie of his heart, and guided them by the discretion of his hands.

PSAL. LXXIX.

The Israelites complain to God for the great calamities & oppression that they suffered by Gods enemies: 1. And confessing their sinnes, see to Gods mercies with full hope of deliverance. 10 Because their calamities were ioynd with the contempt of his Name. 13 For the which they promise to be thankfull.

A Psalm committed to Asaph.

O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance: thine holy Temple haue they defiled, and made Ierusalem heapes of stones.

The dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen to be meate, vnto foules of the heauen: and the flesh of thy Saintes, vnto the beastes of the earth.

Their blood haue they shed like waters round about Ierusalem, & there was none to burie them.

We are a reproche to our neighbours, euen a scorn and derision vnto them: that are round about vs.

Lord, how long wilt thou be angry, for euery shall thy gelousie: burne like fire?

Powre out thy wrath vpon the heathen that haue not known thee, and vpon the kingdomes that haue not called vpon thy Name.

For they haue deuoured Iakob & made his dwelling place desolate.

Remember not against vs the former iniquities, but make haste and let thy tender mercies preuent vs: for we are in great miserie.

Helpe vs, O God of our saluation, for the glorie of thy Name, and deliuer vs, & be merciful vnto our finnes for thy names sake.

Wherefore should y heathen say, Where is their God? let him be knowne among the heathen in our sight by the vengeance of the blood of thy seruants that is shed.

Let the sighing of the prisoners come before thee: according to thy mightie arme preserue the children of death,

And render to our neighbours seven folde into their bosome their reproche, wherewith they haue reproched thee, O Lord.

So we thy people, and sheepe of thy pasture shal praise thee for euer: and from generation to generation we wil set forth thy praise.

Who though in respect of God they were iustly punished for their sinnes, yet in consideration of their cause, were vniuilly murdered. k Which were captiues among their enemies, and could looke for nothing but death. l We ought to desire no benefite of God, but on this condition to praise his name. (Isa. 44. 21.)

Alamentable prayer to God to helpe the miseries of his Church. 3 Desiring him to consider their first estate, wher his fauour shined towards them, to the intent that he might finish that worke which he had begonne.

To him that excelleth on Shophanim Eduth. A Psalm committed to Asaph.

Hearc, O thou Shephard of Israel, thou that ledest Ioseph like sheepe: shewe thy brightnes, thou that sittest betwene the Cherubims.

Mouue their hearts that they may returne to worship God aright: that is, in the place where thou hast appointed.

Before Ephraim and Beniamin and Manasse stirre vp thy strength, and come to helpe vs.

Turne vs againe, O God, and cause thy face to shine that we may be saued:

O Lord God of hostes, how long wilt thou be angry against the prayer of thy people?

Thou hast fed them with the bread of teares, and giuen them teares to drinke: w great measure.

Thou hast made vs a strife vnto our neighbours: and our enemies laugh at vs among them selues.

Turne vs againe, O God of hostes: cause thy face to shine, and we shal be saued.

Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.

Thou madest boume for it, & didst cause it to take roote, and it filled the land.

The mountaines were couered with the shadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like the goodly ceders.

She stretched out her branches vnto the Sea, and her boughes vnto the Riuer.

Why hast thou then broken downe her hedges, so that all they, which passe by the way, haue plucked her?

The wilde bore out of the wood hath destroyed it, and the wilde beastes of the fildes haue eaten it vp.

Returne we beseech thee, O god of hosts: looke downe from heauen and beholde and visite this vine,

And the vineyard, that thy right hande hath planted, & the yong vine, which thou madest strong for thy selfe.

It is burnt with fire and cut downe: and they perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

Let thine hand be vpon the man of thy right hand, and vpon the sonne of man, whome thou madest strong for thine owne selfe.

So wil not we go backe from thee: reuiue thou vs, and we shall call vpon thy Name.

Turne vs againe, O Lord God of hostes: cause thy face to shine and we shal be saued.

of the burntashes. m. Onely when thou art angry, and not with the sword of the enemie. n. That is, vpon this vine, or people, whom thou hast planted with thy right hand, that they shuld be as one man or one bodie. o For none can call vpon God, but such as are raised vp, as it were, from death to life and regenerate by the holy Spirit.

Take the long and bring forth the timbrel, the pleasant harpe with the viole.

Assemblies of the people, to whome for a time these ceremonies were ordeined, but now vader the Gospell are abolished.

Loyne thy whole people & al thy tribes together againe.

The faithful feare Gods anger, when they perseue: their prayers are not forthwith heard.

Our neighbours haue continual strife and warre against vs.

Because that repentance onely cometh of God: they must instantly and oft times call to God for it as a means, whereby they shal be saued.

Seeing that of thy mercie thou hast made vs a most deare possession to thee, & we through our finnes are made open for wyld beasts to deuour vs, declare againe thy loue and finish thy work that thou hast begun.

Our Ceders of God.

To wit, Ephraim.

That is, as wel they that hate our religion as they that hate our persons.

They gaue not place to temptation, knowing that albeit there were no helpe in earth, yet God was able to succour them from heauen.

4 For this is a statute for Israel, and a Lawe of the God of Iakob.

5 He set this in Ioseph for a testimonie, when he came out of the land of Egypt, where I heard a language, that I understood not.

6 I haue withdrawn his shoulder from the burden, & his hands haue left the pots.

7 Thou calledst in affliction & I deliuered thee, and answered thee in the secretes of the thunder: I proued thee at the waters of Meribah Selah.

8 Heare, O my people, and I wil protest vnto thee: O Israel, if thou wilt hearken
vnto me,

9 Let there be no strange god in thee, neither worship thou any strange god.

10 For I am y Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt: open thy mouth wide and I wil fill it.

11 But my people would not heare my voice, and Israel would none of me.

12 So I gaue them vp vnto the hardnes of their heart, and they haue walked in their owne counsels.

13 Oh that my people had hearkened vnto me, and Israel had walked in my wayes.

mies, and turned mine hand against their

To him that excelleth upon Gittith. A Psalm committed to the sonnes of Korah.

O Lord of hostes, how amiable are thy Tabernacles!

My soule longeth, yea, & fainteth for the courts of the Lord: for mine heart and my flesh reioyce in the living God.

Yea, the sparrow hath found her an house, and the swallow a nest for her, where she may lay her yong: even by thine altars, O Lord of hostes, my King and my God.

Blessed are they that dwell in thine house: they will euer praise thee. Selah.

Blessed is the man, whose strength is in thee, and in whose heart are thy wayes.

They going through the vale of Baca, make welles therein: the raine also couereth the pooles.

They go from strength to strength, till enuie appeare before God in Zion.

O Lord God of hostes, heare my prayer: hearken, O God of Iasakob. Selah.

Beholde, O God, our shield, and looke vpon the face of thine Anointed.

For a day in thy courts is better then a thousand other where: I had rather be a doore keeper in the House of my God, then to dwell in the Tabernacles of wickednes.

For the Lord God is the sunne & shield vs: the Lord will giue grace & glorie, and no good thing wil he withhold from them that walke vprightly.

O Lord of hostes, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

That is, for Christs sake, whose figure I represent. h He would wish to be but one day rather in Gods Church, then a thousand among the worldings. i But will from time to time increase his blessings towards his more and more.

PSAL. LXXXV.

Breasts God withdrew not his hands from his Church after they returned from Babylon, shall they put him in mind of their deliuerance, to the intent shew he should not loose the work of his grace vnperfected. i Next they complaine of their long affliction: ii And thirdly they reioyce in hope of speedy redemption. iii For their deliuerance was a figure of Christs kingdom, vnder the which should be perfect felicity.

To him that excelleth upon Gittith. A Psalm committed to the sonnes of Korah.

Lord, thou hast bene fauourable vnto thy hand: thou hast brought againe y captiuitie of Iasakob.

Thou hast forgien the iniquitie of thy people, & couered all their sinnes. Selah.

Thou hast withdrawn all thine anger, & hast turned backe from the fiercenes of thy wrath.

Turne vs, O God of our saluation, and relesse thine anger towards vs.

Wilt thou be angrie with vs for euer? & wilt thou prolong thy wrath from one generation to another?

Wilt thou not turne againe and quicken vs, that thy people may reioyce in thee?

Shew vs thy mercie, O Lord, and graunt vs thy saluation.

As in times past they had felt Gods mercie: so now being oppressed by the long continuance of euils, they pray vnto God, that according to his nature he would be merciful vnto them. c He confesseth that our saluation cometh onely of Gods mercie.

I wil hearken what the Lord God wil say: for he wil speake peace vnto his people, and to his Saintes, that they turne not againe to folie.

Surely his saluation is nere to them that feare him, that glorie maye dwell in our lande.

Mercie and trueth shall meete: righteousness and peace shall kisse one another.

Trueth shall bud out of the earth, and righteousness shall looke downe fro heauē.

Yea, the Lord shall giue good things, and our land shall giue her increase.

Righteousnes shall go before him, and shall set her steppes in the way.

Iustice shall then sorow & haue free course & passage in euery place.

PSAL. LXXXVI.

David sore afflicted and forsaken of all, prayeth earnestly for deliuerance: sometimes rehearsing his miseries, 3 Sometimes the mercies received, 11 Desiring also to be instructed of the Lord, that he may feare him and glorifie his Name. 14 He complaineth also of his many sorowes, and requesteth to be deliuered from them.

A prayer of David.

Incline thine eare, O Lord, and heare me: for I am poore and needie.

Preferre thou my soule, for I am merciful: my God, saue thou thy seruant, that trusteth in thee.

Be mercifull vnto me, O Lord: for I crie vpon thee continually.

Reioyce the soule of thy seruant: for vnto thee, O Lord, do I lift vp my soule.

For thou, Lord, art good and merciful, and of great kindnes vnto all them, that call vpon thee.

Giue eare, Lord, vnto my prayer, & hearken to the voyce of my supplication.

In the day of my trouble I will call vpon thee: for thou hearest me.

Among the gods there is none like thee, O Lord, and there is none that can do like thy workes.

All nations, whome thou hast made, shall come and worship before thee, O Lord, & shall glorifie thy Name.

For thou art great and doest wonderous things: thou art God alone.

Teach me thy way, O Lord, and I will walke in thy trueth: knir mine heart vnto thee, that I may feare thy Name.

I wil praise thee, O Lord my God, with al mine heart: yea, I wil glorifie thy Name for euer.

For great is thy mercie toward me, and thou hast deliuered my soule from the lowest graue.

O God, the proude are risen against me, and the assemblies of violent men haue sought my soule, & haue not set mee before them.

Barthou, O Lord, art a pitiful God and mercifull, slow to anger and great in kindnes and trueth.

He couldest himself ignorant til God hath taught him, & his heart variable & feparatefro God, til God ioyne it to him & confirme it in his obedience.

That is, from most great danger of death: out of the which none, but onely by his hand of God, could deliuer him. c He sheweth there can be no moderation nor equitie, where proud tyrants reigne: and that the lacke of Gods feare is as a priuledge to al vice & crueltie.

f He wil send all prosperitie to his church, when he hath fully corrected them, also by his punishment the faithful shall learne to beware they return not to like offences.

g Though for a time God thus exercise them with his rods, yet vnder his kingdom of Christ they should haue peace and ioye.

h Iustice shall then sorow & haue free course & passage in euery place.

i Desiring also to be instructed of the Lord, that he may feare him and glorifie his Name.

14 He complaineth also of his many sorowes, and requesteth to be deliuered from them.

a David persecuted of Saul, thus praised, leaving the same to the church as a monument, how to seeke redresse against their miseries.

b I am not enuie to them, but pite the, though they be cruel toward me.

c Which was a sure token that he beleued that God would deliuer him.

d He doeth confesse that God is good to all, but onely merciful to poore sinners.

e By crying and calling continually, he sheweth how we may not be weary, though God grant not forthwith our request, but that we must earnestly, and often call vpon him.

f He condemneth al doctes, forasmuch as they can do no workes to declare that they are gods.

g This proueth that David praised in the name of Christ the Messiah, whose kingdom he sought in this prophetic.

h He couldest himself ignorant til God hath taught him, & his heart variable & feparatefro God, til God ioyne it to him & confirme it in his obedience.

The holie Ghost promisseth that the edition of the church, which was in miserie after the captiuitie of Babilon, should be restored to great excellencie. 4 So that there should be nothing more comfortable, then to be numbered among the members thereof.

A Psalm or song committed to the sonnes of Korah.

God laid his foundations among the holie mountaines.
2 The Lord loueth the gates of Zion about all the habitations of Iakob.
3 Glorious things are spoken of thee, O citie of God. Selah.
4 I will make mention of Rahab and Babel among them that know me: beholde Palestina & Tyrus with Ethiopia, There is he borne.
5 And of Zion it shalbe said, Manie are borne in her: and he, even the most High shall stablish her.
6 The Lord shall count, when he writeth the people, He was borne there. Selah.
7 Aswell the fingers as the players on instruments shall praise thee: all my springs are in thee.
8 Out of all quarters they shall come into the Church, and be counted as citizens. f When he calleth by his worde them into the Church, whom he had elected and written in his booke.
g The Prophet setteth his whole affections and comfort in the church.

PSAL. LXXXVIII.

A grievous complaint of the faithful, sore afflicted by sickness, persecutions and aduersitie: 7 Being as it were left of God without aie consolation, 12 Yet he calleth on God by faith and strength against desperation, 18 Complaining him selfe to be forsaken of all earthly helpe.

A song or Psalm of Heman the Ezrahite to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah for him that excelleth vpon Malath Leannoth.

Lord God of my saluation, I crie day and night before thee.
2 Let my praier enter into thy presence; incline thine eare vnto my crie.
3 For my soule is filled with euils, and my life draweth nere to the graue.
4 I am counted among them y go down vnto pit, and am as a man without strength:
5 Free among the dead, like the slaine lying in the graue, whom thou rememberest no more; and they are cut of from thine hand.
6 Thou hast layed me in the lowest pit, in darkness, and in the deepe.
7 Thine indignation lyeth vpon me, and thou hast vexed me with all thy waues. Selah.
8 For as much as I was cut of from this world, d That is, from thy providence and care, which is more according to the iudgement of the flesh. e The stormes of thy wrath haue ouerwhelmed me.

Thou hast put away mine acquaintance farre from me, and made me to be abhorred of them: I am shut vp, and cannot get forth.
9 Mine eye is sorrowful through mine affliction: Lord, I call daily vpon thee: stretch out mine hands vnto thee.
10 Wilt thou shew a miracle to the dead? or shall the dead rise & praise thee? Selah.
11 Shall thy louing kindnes be declared in graue? or thy faithfulness in destruction?
12 Shall thy wonderous workes be known in the darke? and thy righteousnes in the land of obliuion?
13 But vnto thee haue I cryed, O Lord, and early shall my praier come before thee.
14 Lord, why doest thou reiect my soule, and hidest thy face from me?
15 I am afflicted and at the point of death: from my youth I suffer thy terrors, doubting of my life.
16 Thine indignations go ouer me, and thy feare hath cut me of.
17 They came round about me daily like water, and compassed me together.
18 My louers & friends hast thou put away from me, and mine acquaintance hideth his felus.

PSAL. LXXXIX.

Vnto manie wardes doth the Prophet praise the goodness of God, 23 For his testament and covenant, that he had made betwene him and his eldēt by Iesus Christ the sonne of Dauid. 38 Then doth he complaine of the great ruine, and desolation of the kingdome of Dauid, so that so the outward appearance the promise was broken. 46 Finally he praith to be deliuered from his afflictions, making mention of the stormes of mans life, and confirming himselfe by Gods promises.

A Psalm to giue instruction, of Heman the Ezrahite.

I will sing the mercies of the Lorde for euer: with my mouth will I declare thy truth from generation to generation.
2 For I said, Mercie shalbe set vp for euer: thy truth shalke thou stablish in the verie heauens.
3 I haue made a couenant with my chosen: I haue sworne to Dauid my seruant,
4 Thy seede will I stablish for euer, and set vp thy throne from generation to generation. Selah.
5 O Lord, euen the heauens shall praise thy wonderous worke: yea, thy truth in the Congregation of the Sainres.
6 For who is equal to the Lord in the heauen? and who is like the Lord among the sonnes of the gods?
7 God is verie terrible in the assemblie of the Sainres, and to be reuerenced about al, that are about him.
8 O Lord God of hostes, who is like vnto thee, which are a mightie Lord, and thy truth is about thee?
9 Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when thou shalt praise thy power & faithfulness in deliuering thy Church, f That is, in the heauens. g Meaning, the Angels. h If the Angels tremble before Gods maiestie and infinite iustice, what earthly creature by oppressing the Church, dare set himselfe against God? i For as he deliuered the church by the red Sea, and by destroying Rahab, that is, the Egyptians: so will he esteeme deliuer it, when the dangers be great.

PSAL. XCII.

This Psalme was made to be song on the Sabbath, to stirre up the people to acknowledge God and to praise him in his workes: the Prophet reueryeth therein. 6 But the wicked is not able to consider that the vngodly, when he is most flourishing, shal most speedily perish. 12 In the ende is described the felicitie of the iust, planted in the house of God to praise the Lord.

A Psalme or song for the Sabbath day.

1 T is a good thing to praise the Lord, and to sing vnto thy Name, O most High,

2 To declare thy louing kindnes in the morning, and thy truth in the night,

3 Vpon an instrument of ten strings, and vpon the viole with the song vpon the harpe.

4 For thou, Lord, hast made me glad by thy workes, & I will reioyce in the workes of thyne hands.

5 O Lord, how glorious are thy workes! & thy thoughts are very deepe.

6 An vnwise man knoweth it not, and a foole doeth not vnderstande this.

7 (When the wicked grow as the grasie, & all the workers of wickednes do flourish) that they shalbe destroyed for euer.

8 But thou, O Lord, art most high for euermore.

9 For lo, thine enemies, O Lord: for lo, thine enemies shall perish: all the workers of iniquitie shalbe destroyed.

10 But thou shalt exalt mine horne, lyke the vnicorne, & I shalbe anointed with fresh oyle.

1 Though the faithful seeme to wither & be cut down by the wicked yet they shall grow againe and flourish in the Church of God as Ceders do in mount Lebanon. 11 Mine eye also shall see my desire agaynst mine enemies: and mine eares shall heare my wishe against the wicked, that rise vp agaynst me. 12 The righteous shal flourish like a palme tree, and shall growe like a cedar in Lebanon. 13 Such as be platted in the house of y Lord, shal flourish in the courtes of our God. 14 They shall still bring forth fruite in their age: they shalbe fat and flourishing. 15 To declare that the Lorde my rocke is righteous, and that none iniquitie is in him.

PSAL. XCIII.

He prayeth the power of God in the creation of the world, and beareth downe all people which lift them vp against his maiestie, s And pronouketh to consider his promyses.

The Lord reigneth, & is clothed with maiestie: the Lord is clothed, and girded with power: the worlde also shall be established, that it cannot be moued. Thy throne is established of olde: thou art from euerlasting. The floods haue lifted vp, O Lord: the floods haue lifted vp their voice: the floods lift vp their waues. The waues of y sea are marueilous through the noyse of many waters, yet the Lord on high is more mighty. Thy testimonies are very sure: holynes becommeth thine Houle, O Lord, for euer. He sheweth wherin thy great mercy also appeareth in that he hath giuen his people his word and couenant.

PSAL. XCIII.

He prayeth vnto God against the violence and arrogancie of tyrants, 10 VVarning them of Gods iudgements. 11 Then doeth he comfort the afflicted by the good issue of their afflictions, as he felt in himselfe, and did see in others, and by the ruine of the wicked, 12 VVhose the Lord will destroy.

Lord God the aduenger, O God the aduenger, shew thy selfe clearely. Exalt thy selfe, O Iudge of the world, and render a reward to the proude. Lord, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph? They prate and speake fiercely: all the workers of iniquitie vaunt themselves. They smite downe thy people, O Lord, and trouble thine heritage. They slay the widow and the stranger, & murder the fatherles. Yet they say, The Lord shal not see: neither will the God of Isakob regard it. Vnderstand ye vnwise among the people: and ye fooles, when wil ye be wise? He that planted the care, shall he not heare? or he that formed the eye, shall he not see? Or he that chastiseth the nations, shall he not correct? he y teacheth man knowledge, shall he not know?

a whole office it is to take vengeance on the wicked. b shew by effect y shew art Iudge of the world to punish the wicked. c That is, brag of their crueltie & oppression: or etime themselves above al other. d Seeing the Church was the so fore oppressed it ought not to faine strange to vs, if we see it so now, & therefore we must call to God to take our cause in hand. e He sheweth y they are desperate in malice, for as much as they feared not God, but gaue them selves wholly to wickedly. f He sheweth that it is impossible, but God should heare, see & vnderstand their wickednes. g If God punish whole nations for they times, it is mere folly for any one man, or els a few to think that God will spare them.

The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanitie. Blessed is the man, whome thou chastisest, O Lord, and teachest him in thy Law, that thou maiest giue him rest from the dayes of euill, whiles the pit is digged for the wicked. Surely the Lord wil not faile his people, neither wil he forsake his inheritance. For iudgement shall returne to iustice, and all the vpriht in heart shall follow after it. Who will ryse vp with me against the wicked? or who will take my part agaynst the workers of iniquitie? If the Lorde had not holpen me, my soule had almost dwelt in silence. When I said, My foote slideth, thy mercy, O Lord, stayed me. In the multitude of my thoughts in mine heart, thy comfortes haue reioyced my soule. Hath the throne of iniquitie fellowship with thee, which forgeth wrong for a Law? They gather them together against the soule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood. But the Lord is my refuge, and my God is the rocke of mine hope. And he wil recompence the their wickednes, & destroy them in their own malice: yea, the Lord our God shal destroy them. iudgement, when the purpose of the wicked is broken, but most, when they are destroyed in theyr owne malice.

PSAL. XCV.

An earnest exhortation to prayse God. 4 For the gouernment of the worlde, and the election of his Church. 8 An admonition not to follow the rebellion of the olde fathers, that tempted God in the wilderness: 11 For the which they might not enter into the land of promises.

Come, let vs reioyce vnto the Lord: let vs sing aloude vnto the rocke of our saluation. Let vs come before his face with praise: let vs sing loude vnto him with Psalmes. For the Lord is a great God, and a great King about all gods. In whose hand are the deepe places of the earth, and the heights of the mountaines are his: To whom the Sea belongeth: for he made it, and his handes formed the dry land. Come, let vs worship and fal downe, and kneele before the Lord our maker. For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, & the sheepe of his hand: to day, if ye will heare his voyce, Harden not your heart, as in Meribah, and as in the day of Massah in the wilderness. Where your fathers tempted me, proued me, though they had seene my worke. Fourtie yeres haue I contended with this generation, & sayd, They are a people that h God hath care ouer his & chastiseth them for their wealth, y they should not perish for euer the wicked. i God wil restore the state & gouernment of things to their right vse, & then the godly shal follow him cherefully. k He complaineth of them, which would not help him to resist the enemies: yet was assured that Gods helpe would not fayle. l Whe I thought there was no waie but death. m In my trouble & distresse I euer found thy present helpe. n Though the wicked iudges pretend iustice in oppressing the Church, yet they haue not that authority of God. o It is a great token of Gods iudgement, when the purpose of the wicked is broken, but most, when they are destroyed in theyr owne malice.

to this godly, the Lord chastiseth them for their wealth, y they should not perish for euer the wicked.

An exhortation both to the Iewes & Gentils to praise God for his mercy. And this specially ought to bee referred to the kingdom of Christ.

1 Sing vnto the Lorde a new song: sing
vnto the Lorde, al the earth.
2 Sing vnto the Lorde, and praise his Name:
declare his saluation from day to day.
3 Declare his glorie among al nations, and his wonders among al people.
4 For the Lorde is great and much to bee prayed: he is to be feared aboue all gods.
5 For al the gods of the people are idoles:
but the Lorde made the heauens.
6 Strength & glory are before him: power and beaunie are in his Sanctuarie.
7 Giue vnto the Lorde, ye families of the people: giue vnto the Lorde glorie and power.
8 Giue vnto the Lorde the glory of his Name: bring an offering, and enter into his courtes.

9 Worship the Lorde in the glorious Sanctuarie: tremble before him al the earth.
10 Say among the nations, The Lorde reigneth: surely the world shal be stable, & not moue, and he shall iudge the people in righteousnes.
11 Let the heauens reioyce, & let the earth be glad: let the sea roare, & all that therein is.
12 Let the field be ioiufull, and all that is in it: let all the trees of the woode then re-ioyce.
13 Before the Lorde: for he commeth, for he commeth to iudge the earth: he will iudge the world with righteousness, & the people in his truth.

1 The Lord reigneth: let the earth re-ioyce: let the multitude of the yles be glad.
2 Cloudes and darkenes are round about him: righteousness and iudgement are the foundation of his throne.
3 There shal go a fire before him, & burne vp his enemies round about.
4 His lightnings gaue light vnto y world:
the earth saw it and was afraid.
5 The mountaines melted like waxe at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.
6 The heauens declare his righteousness, &

8 Zion heard of it, and was glad: and the daughters of Iudah reioyced, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.

all gods.

An earnest exhortation to al creatures to praise the Lord for his power, mercy and fidelitie in his promises by Christ, to. By whom he hath communicated his saluation to all nations.

A Psalme.

1 Sing vnto the Lorde a new song: for he hath done maruelous things: his right

the victorie.
2 The Lord declared his saluation: his

1 I Will sing mercy and iudgement: vnto thee, O Lord, wil I sing.
2 I will doe wisely in the perfit way: till thou comest to mee: I will walke in the vprightnes of mine heart in the middes of mine house.
3 I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the worke of them that fall away: it shall not cleaue vnto me.
4 A froward heart shall depart from mee: I will know none euil.
5 Him, that prouidly slandereth his neighbour, wil I destroy: him that hath a proude look and high heart, I cannot suffer.
6 Mine eyes shall be vnto the faithful of the lande, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfit way, he shall serue me.
7 There shall no deceitfull person dwell within mine house: he y relieth lies, shall not remaine in my sight.
8 Betimes wil I destroy all the wicked of the land, that I may cut off all the workers of iniquitie from the Citie of the Lord.

PSAL. CII.

It seemeth that this prayer was appointed to the faithful to pray in the captiuitie of Babylon. 10 A consolation for the building of the Church: 18 VVhereof followeth the praise of God to be published vnto all posteritie. 23 The conversion of the Gentiles, 28 And the stabilitie of the Church.

A prayer of the afflicted, when he shall be in a wherey is distressed, and poure forth his meditation before the Lord.

1 O Lord, heare my prayer, and let my crye come vnto thee.
2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: incline thine eares vnto me: when I call, make haste to heare me.
3 For my daies are consumed like smoke, and my bones are burnt like an herth.
4 Mine heart is smitten and withereth like grasse, because I forgate to eat my bread.
5 For the voice of my groning my bones do cleaue to my skinne.
6 I am like a pelican of the wildernes: I am like an owle of the deserts.
7 I watch and am as a sparrow alone vpon the house toppe.
8 Mine enemies reuile me dayly, and they y rage against me, haue sworn against me.
9 Surely I haue eaten ashes as bread, and mingled my drinke with weeping.
10 Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast heaued me vp, and cast me downe.
11 My daies are like a shadowe that fadeth, and I am withered like grasse.
12 But thou, O Lord, doest remain for euer, and thy remembrance from generation to generation.
13 Thou wilt arise & haue mercie vpon Zion: for the time to haue mercie thereon, for the appointed time is come.
14 For thy seruants deleyte in the stones thereof, and haue pitie on the dust therof.
15 Then the heathen shall feare the Name of the Lord, and all the Kings of the earth thy glorie.
16 When the Lord shall build vp Zion, and shall appeare in his glory.
17 And shall turne vnto the prayer of the desolate, and not despise their prayer.
18 This shalbe written for the generation to come: and the people, which shalbe created, the Church is in misery and desolation, the more ought the faithful to loue and pity it. m That is, when he shall haue drawne his Church out of the darkness of death. n The deliuerance of the Church is a most excellent benefite, and therefore he compareth it to a new creation: for in their banishment the body of the Church seemed to haue bene dead, which by deliuerance was as it were created anew.

Magistrates must immediately punish vice, lest it growe to farther incontinence: & if he then Magistrates are bound to do this, how much more they than haue the charge of the Church of God.

ted,

o Who now in their banishment could looke for nothing but death.

p He sheweth y Gods Name is neuer more praised then whe religio flourisheth & y Church increaseth: which thing is chiefly accomplished vnder y kingdome of Christ.

q The Church lamet that they see not y time of Christ, which was promised, but haue but fewe yeres and short daies.

r If heauen and earth perish, much more man shall perish: but the Church by reason of Gods promes endureth for euer. s Seeing thou hast chose thi church out of y world, and ioined it to thee, it cannot but continue for euer: for thou art euerlasting.

ted, shal praye the Lord.

19 For he hath looked down fro the height of his Sanctuarie: out of the heauen did the Lord behold the earth,

20 That he might heare the mourning of the prisoner, and deliuer the children of death:

21 That they may declare the name of the Lorde in Zion, and his prayse in Ierusalem, 22 When the people shal be gathered together, and the kingdomes to serue the Lord.

23 He abated my strength in the way, and shortened my daies.

24 And I said, O my God, take me not away in y middes of my daies: thy yeres endure from generation to generation.

25 Thou hast aforetime laid the foundation of the earth, and the heauens are y worke of thine hands.

26 We thal perish, but thou shalt endure: euen they al shal waxe olde as doth a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change the, and they shalbe changed.

27 But thou art the same, and thy yeres shal not faile.

28 The children of thy seruants shal continue, and their seede shal stand fast in thy light.

PSAL CIII.

He prouoketh also praise the Lord, which hath pardoned his finnes, deliuered him from destruction, and giuen him sufficient of al good things. Then he addeth the tender mercies of God, which he sheweth like a most tender Father towards his children. 14 The frailtie of mans life. 20 An exhortation to man and Angels to prayse the Lord.

A Psalme of David.

MY soule, prayse thou the Lord, and all that is within me, praise his holie Name.

My soule, prayse thou the Lord, and forget not al his benefices.

Which forgiveth al thine iniquitie, and healeth al thine infirmities.

Which redemeth thy life fro the graue, and crowneth thee with mercy and compassions.

Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy youth is renewed like the egles.

The Lord executeth righteousnesse and iudgement to al that are oppressed.

He made his wayes known vnto Moses, & his workes vnto the children of Israel.

The Lord is full of compassion and mercy, slow to anger and of great kindnes.

He wil not alway chide, neither keepe he anger for euer.

He hath not dealt with vs after our finnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

As to his chief minister and next to his people. He sheweth first his seuerer iudgement, but so soone as the sinner is humbled, he receiveth him to mercy. g We haue proved by continual experience, that his mercy hath euer prevailed against our offences.

11 For as high as the heauen is aboute the earth, so great is his mercy towards them that feare him.

12 As farre as the East is from the West: so farre hath he remoued our finnes fro vs.

13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: he remembereth that we are but dust.

15 The dayes of man are as grasse: as a flower of the field, so flourisheth he.

16 For the winde goeth ouer it, & it is gone, and the place thereof shall knowe it no more.

17 But the louing kindenes of the Lord endureth for euer & euer vpo them that feare him, & his righteousnes vpon childrens children, 18 Vnto them that keepe his couenant, and thinke vpon his commandements to do them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heauen, and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.

20 Praise the Lord, ye his Angels, that excel in strength, y do his commandemets in obeying the voyce of his worde.

21 Praise the Lord, al ye his hostes, ye his seruants that do his pleasure.

22 Praise the Lord, al ye his workes, in all places of his dominion: my soule, prayse thou the Lord.

PSAL CIIII.

An excellent Psalme to praise God for the creation of the world, and the gouernance of the same by his maruallous providence. 35 VVherein the Prophet prayeth against the wicked, who are occasions that God diminisheth his blessings.

MY soule, praise thou the Lord: O Lord my God, thou art exceeding great, thou art clothed with glory and honour.

Which couereth himselfe with light as with a garment, & spreadeth the heauen like a curtaine.

Which layeth y beames of his chambers in the waters, and maketh the cloudes his charior, & walketh vpon the wings of the winde.

Which maketh the spirits his messengers, and a flaming fire his ministers.

He set the earth vpon her foundations, so that it shal neuer moue.

Thou coueredst it with the deep, as with a garment: the waters would stand about the mountains.

But at thy rebuke they flee: at y voyce of thy thunder they haste away.

And the mountains ascend, and the vallis descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

But thou hast set the a bounde, which they shall not passe: they shal not returne to couer the earth.

He sendeth the springs into the vallis, which runne betweene the mountaines.

elf God provide for the very beasts, much more will he extend his providence care to man. There is no part of this world so barren, where most evident signes of Gods blessings appear not. From the clouds he describeth Gods providence over man, who doeth not only provide necessary things for him, as herbs and other meates: but also things to comfort him, as wine & oyle or oymments. For, Deus, Deus, and such like. As to separate the night from the day, and to note dayes, monethes & yeeres. That is, by his course, either faire or deepe, either soother, winter & other seasons. That is, they only finde meane according to Gods providence, who can reth even for the brute beasts. To wit, when the day springeth: for light it is: where shield to defend him against the tyrannie and fiercenes of beasts. He confesseth that no tongue is able to expresse Gods works, nor mind to comprehend them. For, Psalm. God is a most nourishing Father, who provideth for all creatures their daily food. As by thy presence all things have life: so, if thou withdraw thy blessings, they all perish. As the death of creatures sheweth that we are nothing of our selves: so their generatio declareth thy receive all things of our Creator. Gods mercifull face giueth strength to the earth, but his severe countenance burneth the mountaynes. Who infect the world, and so cause God that he cannot reioyce in his workes.

11 They shall giue drinke to all the beasts of the field, and the wild asses shall quench their thirst.
12 By these springs shall the foules of the heauen dwell, & sing among the braches.
13 He watereth the mountaynes from his chambers, and the earth is filled with the fruit of thy workes.
14 He causeth grasse to grow for the cattel, and herbe for the vse of man, that he may bring forth bread out of the earth,
15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oyle to make the face to shine, & bread that strengtheneth mans heart.
16 The high trees are satisfied, even the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted, 17 That the birdes may make their nestes there: the stork dwelleth in the firre trees.
18 The high mountains are for the goates: the rockes are a refuge for the conies.
19 He appoynted the moone for certayne seasons: the sunne knoweth his goyng downe.
20 Thou makest darkenes, and it is night, wherein all the beasts of the forest creepe forth.
21 The lions roare after their pray, & seeke their meat at God.
22 When the sunne riseth, they retire, and couche in their dennes.
23 Then goeth man forth to his worke, and to his labour vntill the euening.
24 O Lord, how manifolde are thy workes! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.
25 So is this sea great and wide: for therein are things creeping innumerable, both small beasts and great.
26 There go the ships, yea, that Leviathan, whome thou hast made to play therein.
27 All these waite vpon thee, that thou mayest giue them food in due season.
28 Thou giuest it to them, and they gather it: thou openest thine hand, and they are filled with good things.
29 But if thou hide thy face, they are troubled: if thou take away their breath, they dye and returne to their dust.
30 Again if thou send forth thy spirit, they are created, & thou renewest the face of the earth.
31 Glory be to the Lord for euer: let the Lord reioyce in his workes.
32 He looketh on the earth & it trembleth: he toucheth the mountaynes, & they smoke.
33 I will sing vnto the Lord all my life: I will praye my God, while I liue.
34 Let my wordes be acceptable vnto him: I will reioyce in the Lord.
35 Let the sinners be consumed out of the earth, & the wicked till there be no more: O my foule, praye thou the Lord. Praye ye the Lord.

He prayeth the singular grace of God, who hath of all the people of the world chosen a peculiar people to himself, and having chosen them, neuer ceaseth to do them good. For his promises sake.
1 Praye the Lord, & call vpon his Name: declare his workes among the people.
2 Sing vnto him, sing praye vnto him, and talke of all his wonderous workes.
3 Reioyce in his holy Name: let the heart of them that seeke the Lord, reioyce.
4 Seeke the Lord and his strength: seeke his face continually.
5 Remember his maruailous workes, that he hath done, his wonders & the iudgements of his mouth.
6 Ye seede of Abraham his seruante, ye children of Iakob, which are his elect.
7 He is the Lord our God: his iudgements are through all the earth.
8 He hath alway remembered his couenant and promes, that he made to a thousand generations,
9 Even that which he made with Abraham and his othe vnto Izhak:
10 And since hath confirmed it to Iakob for a law, & to Israel for an euerlasting couenant, 11 Saying, Vnto thee will I giue the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.
12 Albeit they were fewe in number, yea, very few and strangers in the land, 13 And walked about from nation to nation, from one kingdome to another people, 14 Yet suffred he no man to do them wrong, but reprocued Kings for their sakes, saying,
15 Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harme.
16 Moreouer he called a famine vpon the land, & utterly brake the staffe of bread.
17 But he sent a man before them: Ioseph was solde for a slaue.
18 They held his feete in the stockes, & he was layed in yrons, 19 Vntill his appointed time came, & the counsel of the Lord had tryed him.
20 The King sent and loosed him: even the Ruler of the people deliuered him.
21 He made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance, 22 That he should binde his princes vnto his will, and teach his Ancientes wisdom.
23 Then Israel came to Egypt, and Iakob was a stranger in the land of Ham.
24 And he increased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger then their oppressours.
25 He turned their heart to hate his people, and to deale craftily with his seruants.
26 Then sent he Moses his seruante, and Aaron whome he had chosen.

As the Israelites were exempted from the common condemnation of the worlde, & were elected to be Gods people, & Prophet willett them to shewe themselves mindful by thanksgiving.
By the strength & face, he meaneth the Arke where God declared his power & his presence.
Which he hath wrought in the deliuerance of his people.
Because his power was thereby as liuely declared, as if he should haue declared it by mouth.
The promises which god made to Abraham to be his God, and the God of his seede after him, he renewed & repeated it agayne to his seede after him.
He sheweth that they should not enioy the land of Canaan by any other means, but by reason of his couenant made with their fathers.
That is, the King of Egypt & the King of Gerar, Gen. 17. & 20.3.
Those whom I haue sanctified to be my people I meaning the olde fathers, to whom God shewed himselfe playnly, & who were setters forth of his worde.
k Either by sending scarcitie, or by taking away the strength and nourishment thereof.
I So long he suffered aduersitie, as God had appointed, and till he had tryed sufficiently his patience.
m That the very princes of the country should be at Iosephs commandement and learne wisdom at him.
n So it is in God, either to moue the hearts of the wicked to loue or to hate Gods children.

27 They shewed among them the message of his signes, and wonders in the lande of Ham.

29 * He turned their waters into blood, and slew their fish.

30 * They also brought forth frogs, euem in their Kings chambers.

31 He spake, and there came swarmes of flies and lice in all their quarters.

32 He gaue the<sup>a</sup> haile for raine, and flames of fire in their land.

33 He smote their vines also and theyr fig trees, and brake downe the trees in their coastes.

35 And did eate vp all the grasse in theyr lande, and deuoured the fruite of theyr ground.

36 * He smote also al the first borne in their lande, euem the beginning of all theyr strength.

37 He brought them forth also with siluer and golde, and there was none feeble among their tribes.

38 Egypt was glad at their departing: for the feare of them had fallen vpon them.

39 He spred a cloude to be a couering, and fire to giue light in the night.

40 They<sup>a</sup> asked, and he brought quails, and he filled them with the bread of heauen.

41 Hee opened the rocke, and the waters flowed out, and ran in the dry places like a riuer.

in their deliuerance forth of Egypt, and the great ingrato be gathered frō among the heathen, so the intent they may ¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

exhorteth the people to praise God for his be-that thereby their minde may be strengthened

3 Blessed are they that<sup>b</sup> keep iudgement, & do righteousnes at all tymes.

4 Remember me, O Lord, with thy fauour of thy people: vilitate me with thy saluation,

5 That I may see the felicitie of thy chosen, and reioyce in the ioye of thy people, and glory with thine inheritance.

6 We haue<sup>c</sup> sinned with our fathers: wee haue committed iniquitie, and done wickedly.

7 Our fathers vnderstoode not thy wonders in Egypt, neither remembered they<sup>d</sup> multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, euem at the red Sea.

8 Neuertheles he<sup>e</sup> saued the<sup>f</sup> for his Names sake, that he might make his power to be 9 And he rebuked the red Sea, and it was dried vp, and he led them in the deepe, as in the wilderness.

10 And he saued them from the aduersaries hand, & deliuered them frō the hande of the enemy.

11 * And the waters couered their oppressours: not one of them was left.

12 Then<sup>g</sup> beleued they his wordes, & sang prays vnto him.

13 But incōtinently they forgate his works:
they waited not for his<sup>h</sup> counsell,

14 But lusted with cōcupiscence in the wil-dernes, and tempted God in the desert.

15 Then he gaue them their desire: but he sent<sup>i</sup> leannes into their soule.

16 They eniued Moses also in the tents, &
Aaron the holy one of the Lord.

17 Therefore the earth opened and<sup>j</sup> swal-owed vp Dathan, and couered the company of Abiram.

18 And the fire was kindled in their assembly: the flame burnt vp the wicked.

19 They made a calfe in Horeb, & worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their<sup>k</sup> glory into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth grasse.

21 They forgate God their Sauour, which had done great things in Egypt,

22 Wonderous workes in the land of Ham, and fearefull things by the red Sea.

23 Therefore he minded to destroy them, had<sup>l</sup> not Moses his chosen stande in the breache before him to turne away his wrath, least he should destroy them.

24 Also they contemned that<sup>m</sup> pleasaunt land, and beleued not his worde,

25 But murmured in their tents, & hearkned not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

26 Therefore<sup>n</sup> he lifted vp his hand<sup>o</sup> against them, to destroy them in the wilderness,

27 And to destroy their seede among the 29 Thus they prouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions, & the plague brake in vpon them.

30 But Phinchas stood vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was stayed.
31 And it was imputed vnto him for righteousness from generation to genera- tion for euer.
32 They angered him also at the waters of Meribah, so that Moses was punished for their fakes, 33 Because they vexed his spirit, so that he spake vnadvisedly with his lippes.
34 Neither destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commanded them, 35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their workes, 36 And serued their idoles, which were their ruine.
37 Yea, they offered their sonnes, and their daughters vnto deuils, 38 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sonnes, and of their daughters, whome they offered vnto the idoles of Canaan, & the land was defiled with blood.
39 Thus were they steined with their owne workes, and went a whoring with their owne inuentions.
40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he abhorred his owne inheritance, 41 And he gaue them into the hand of the heathen: and they that hated them, were lords ouer them.
42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were humbled vnder their hand.
43 Many a tyme did he deliuer them, but they prouoked him by their counsels: there- fore they were brought downe by their iniquitie.
44 Yet he sawe when they were in afflictio, and he heard their crye.
45 And he remebred his couenant toward them, & repented according to the mul- titude of his mercies, 46 And gaue them fauour in the sight of al them, that lead them captiues.
47 Saue vs, O Lord our God, and gather vs from among the heathen, that we may praye thine holy Natie, and glorie in thy praise.
48 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for euer and euer, and let all the people say, So be it. Prayse ye the Lord.

1 Prayse the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth for euer.
2 Let them, which haue bene redeemed of the Lord, shew how he hath deliuered them from the hand of the oppressour,
3 And gathered them out of the lands, fro the East & from the West, from the North and from the South.
4 When they wandered in the desert & wil- dernes out of the way, and found no city to dwell in,
5 Both hungry & thirstie, their soule faint- ed in them.
6 Then they cryed vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he deliuered them from their distresse,
7 And led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a citie of habitation.
8 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnes, & his wonderful workes before the sonnes of men.
9 For he satisfied the thirstie soules, and fil- led the hungry soule with goodnes.
10 They that dwell in darkenes and in the shadow of death, being bound in misery & yron, 11 Because they rebelled against his wordes of the Lorde, and despised the counsell of the most High,
12 When he humbled their heart with hea- uines, then they fell downe & there was no helper.
13 Then they cryed vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he deliuered them from their distresse.
14 He brought them out of darkenes, and out of the shadowe of death, & brake their bandes asunder.
15 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnes, and his wonder- full workes before the sonnes of men.
16 For he hath broken the gates of brasie, and brast the barres of yron asunder.
17 Fooles by reason of their transgression & because of their iniquities are afflicted, their soule abhorreth all meate, & they are brought to deaths doore.
18 Then they crye vnto the Lorde in their trouble, & he deliuereth them from their distresse.
19 He sendeth his worde & healeth them, and deliuereth them from their graues.
20 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnes, and his wonder- full workes before the sonnes of men,
21 And let them offer sacrifices of prayse, and declare his workes with reioicing.
22 They that go downe to the sea in ships, and occupy by the great waters, 23 They see the workes of the Lord, & his wonders in the deepe.

d He sheweth that there is no affliction so grie- uous, out of the which God will not deliuer his, and also exhor- teth them, that are deliuered, to be mindful of his great benefite.
e Then the true way to obey God, is to fol- low his expresse commandment: also hereby all are exhorted to descend into the- selues, for as much as none are punished, but for their sinnes.
f He sheweth that the cause why God doeth punish vs ex- tremely, is be- cause we can be brought vnto him by none o- ther meane.

The Prophet exhorteth all those that are redeemed by the Lord, & gathered vnto him, to giue thanks for his merciful promises of God, governing all things as his good pleasure, so sending good and euil, prosperitie and aduer- sity to bring men vnto him. 42 Therefore as the righteous shew reioyce, so shall the wicked haue their mouths stopped.

stormie winde, and it listeth vp the waues thereof.

26 They mount vp to the heauen, and descend to the deep, so that their soule melteth for trouble.

27 They are tossed to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and all their cunning is gone.

28 Then they crye vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distresse.

29 He turneth the storme to calme, so that the waues thereof are still.

30 When they are quieted, they are glad, and hee bringeth them vnto the haue, where they would be.

31 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnes, & his wonderfull workes before the fonnnes of men.

32 And let them exalt him in the Congregation of the people, and praise him in the assemblie of the Elders.

33 He turneth the floods into a wilderness, and the springs of waters into drienesse, 34 And a fruitfull land into barrennes for the wickednes of them that dwell therein.

35 Again he turneth the wilderness into pooles of water, & the drie land into water springs.

36 And there he placeth the hungrie, and they build a citie to dwell in,

37 And sowe the fields, and plant vineyards, which bring forth fruitfull increase.

38 For he blesteth them, and they multiply exceedingly, and he diminisheth not their cattel.

39 Again men are diminished, & brought low by oppression, euill and sorrow.

40 He powreth contempt vpon princes, & causeth them to erre in desert places out of the way.

41 Yet he raiseth vp the poore out of misery, and maketh him families like a flocke of sheepe.

42 The righteous shall see it, and reioyce, and all iniquitie shall stop her mouth.

43 Who is wise that he may obserue these things: for they shall vnderstand the louing kindnes of the Lord.

PSAL. CIII.

This Psalm is composed of two or three Psalmes before, the seven and fiftieth and the sixtieth. The matter here contained is, That David giueth himselfe with heart and voyce to praise the Lord, 7 And assureth himselfe of the promises of God concerning his kingdom ouer Israel, & his power against other nations: 11 Vnto though he seeme to forsake vs for a tyme, yet he alone will in the ende cast downe our enemies.

A song or Psalm of David.

1 O God, mine heart is prepared, so is my tongue: I will sing & giue praise.

2 Awake viole & harpe: I will awake early, I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

Or my glory, because chiefly streath forth the glory of God. b He prophesieth of the calling of the Gentiles: for except they were called, they could not heare the goodnes of God.

4 For thy mercy is great about thy haues, and thy truth vnto the cloudes.

5 Exalt thy selfe, O God, about the heaues, and let thy glorie be vpō all the earth.

6 That thy beloued maye be deliuered: helpe with thy right hande and heare mee.

7 God hath spoken in his holines: therefore I will reioyce, I shall deuide Shechem and measure the valley of Succoth.

8 Gilead shall be mine, and Manasseh shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be the strength of mine head: Iuda is my lawgiuer.

9 Moab shall be my washpot: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina will I triumph.

10 Who will leade me into the strong city: who will bring me vnto Edom?

11 Wilt not thou, O God, which hadest forsaken vs, and didest not go forth, O God, with our armies?

12 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for wayne is the helpe of man.

13 Through God we shall do valiantly: for he shall tread downe our enemies.

PSAL. CIX.

David being falsly accused by flatterers vnto Saul, prayeth God to help him and to destroy his enemies. 1 And vnder them he speaketh of Iudas the traitor vnto Iesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God: 27 And desireth so to be deliuered, that his enemies may know the worke to be of God. 30 Then doeth he promise to giue prayse vnto God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 Holde not thy tongue, O God of my prayer.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceit are opened vpon me: they haue spoken to me with a lying tongue.

3 They compassed me about also with wordes of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.

4 For my friendship they were mine aduersaries, but I gaue my selfe to prayer.

5 And they haue rewarded me euil for good, and hatred for my friendship.

6 Set thou the wicked ouer him, & let the aduersarie stand at his right hand.

7 When he shall be iudged, let him be condemned, and let his prayer be turned into sinne.

8 Let his dayes be few, and let another take his charge.

9 Let his children be fatherles, & his wyfe a widow.

10 Let his children be vagabonds & begges, and seeke bread, coming out of their places destroyed.

11 Let the extortioner catche all that hee hath, & let the strangers spoyle his labour.

This was chiefly accomplished in Iudas, Act. 1. 20. f He declareth that the curse of God lyeth vpon the extortioners: who thinking to enrich their children by their vnlawful gotten goods, are by Gods iust iudgement deprived of all.

wicked.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy vnto him: neither let there be any to shewe mercy vpon his fatherles children.

13 Let his posteritie be destroyed, & in the generation following let their name bee put out.

14 Let the iniquitie of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lorde: and let not the sinne of his mother be done away.

15 But let them alway be before the Lorde, that he may cut of their memoriall from the earth.

16 Because he remembered not to shewe mercie, but persecuted the afflicted and poore man, & the sorrowfull hearted to slay him.

17 As he loued cursing, so shal it come vnto him, & as he loued not blessing, so shall it be farre from him.

18 As he clothed himselfe with cursing like a rayment, so shall it come into his bowels lyke water, and like oyle into his bones.

19 Let it be vnto him as a garment to couer him, and for a girdle, wherewith he shal be alway girded.

20 Let this be the reward of myne aduersarie from the Lorde, & of them, that speake euil against my soule.

21 But thou, O Lorde my God, deale with me according vnto thy Name: deliuer me, (for thy mercie is good)

22 Because I am poore and needie, & myne heart is wounded within me.

23 I depart lyke the shadow that declineth, and am shaken of as the grasshopper.

24 My knees are weake through fasting, and my flesh hath lost all fatnes.

25 I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon me, shaked theiir heads.

26 Helpe me, O Lorde my God: o faue me according to thy mercie.

27 And they shall knowe, that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lorde, hast done it.

28 Though they curse, yet thou wilt blesse: they that arise and be confounded, but thy seruant shall reioyce.

29 Let mine aduersaries bee clothed with shame, & let them couer themselues with their confusion, as with a cloke.

30 I will giue thanks vnto the Lorde greatly with my mouth, and prayse him among the multitude.

31 For he wil stand at the right hand of the poore, to faue him from them that would condemne his soule.

32 Hereby he sheweth that he had nought to do with them, that were of little power, but with the iudges and princes of the world.

1 An exhortation to prayse the Lord for his prouidence, 7 In that that contrary to the course of nature he worketh in his Church.

Prayse ye the Lord.

1 Praise, O ye seruants of the Lord, praise the Name of the Lord.

2 Blessed be the Name of the Lord from hence forth and for euer.

3 The Lords Name is praised from the rising of the sunne vnto the going downe of the same.

4 The Lord is high above all nations, & his glorie above the heauens.

5 Who is like vnto the Lord our God, that hath his dwelling on high?

6 Who abaseth himselfe to beholde things in the heauen and in the earth.

7 He raiseth the needie out of the dust, and lifteth vp the poore out of the dung,

8 That he may set him with the princes, even with the princes of his people.

9 He maketh the baren woman to dwell in a familie, and a ioyfull mother of children.

1 A prayer of the faithfull oppressed by idolatrous tyrants, against whom they desire that God would succour them, 9 Trusting most constantly that God will preserve them in this their neede, seeing that he hath adopted and receiued them to his seruice, 13 Promising finally that they will not be vnmindfull of so great a benefite, if it would please God to heare their prayer, and deliuer them by his omnipotent power.

1 Not vnto vs, O Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name giue the glorie, for thy louing mercie and for thy truethe sake.

2 Wherefore shall the heathen say, Where is now their God?

3 But our God is in heauen: he doth what he will.

4 Their idoles are siluer and gold, even the worke of mens hands.

5 They haue a mouth and speake not: they haue eyes and see not.

6 They haue eares & heare not: they haue noses and smell not.

7 They haue handes and touch not: they haue feete and walke not: neither make they a sound with their throte.

8 They that make them are like vnto them: so are all that trust in them.

9 O Israel, trust thou in the Lord: for he is their helpe and their shield.

10 O house of Aaron, trust ye in the Lord: for he is their helpe and their shield.

11 Ye that feare the Lord, trust in the Lord: for he is their helper and their shield.

12 The Lord hath bene mindfull of vs: he will blesse, he will blesse the house of Israel, he will blesse the house of Aaron.

13 He will blesse them that feare the Lord, both small and great.

14 The Lord will increase his graces toward you, even toward you and toward your children.

15 Ye are blessed of the Lord, which made the heauen and the earth.

P S A L. CXVI.

David being in great danger of Saul in the desert of Ma-an, perceiving the great and inestimable love of God toward him, magnifieth such great mercies, 13 And pro-testeth that he will be thankful for the same.

I Loue the Lord, because he hath heard my voyce and my prayers.
For he hath inclined his eare vnto mee, when I did call vpon him in my dayes.
When the snares of death compassed me,
and the griefes of the graue caught mee:
when I found trouble and sorow,
Then I called vpon the Name of the Lord, saying, I beseech thee, O Lord, deli-uer my soule.
The Lord is merciful and righteous, and our God is full of compassion.
The Lord preserueth the simple: I was in miserie and he saved me.
Returne vnto thy rest, O my soule:
for the Lord hath bene beneficiall vnto
thee,
Because thou hast deliuered my soule fro death, mine eyes from teares, and my feete from falling.
I shall walke before the Lord in the land of the liuing.
I beleueed, therefore did I speake: for I was fore troubled.
I said in my feare, All men are liers.
What shall I render vnto the Lord for all his benefices toward me?
I will take the cup of saluation, and call vpon the Name of the Lord.
I will pay my vowes vnto the Lord, *eu-
en* now in the presence of all his people.
Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his Saintes.
Beholde, Lord: for I am thy seruant, I am thy seruant, and the sonne of thine handmaide: thou hast broken my bonds.
I will offer to thee a sacrifice of praise, & will call vpon the Name of the Lord.
I will pay my vowes vnto the Lord, *eu-
en* now in the presence of all his people,
In the courtes of the Lords house, eu-en in the middes of thee, O Ierusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

P S A L. CXVII.

He exhorteth the Gentiles to praise God, because hee hath accomplished as well to them as to the Iewes, the promises of life everlasting by Iesus Christ.

A L nations, praise ye the Lord: all ye people, praise him.
For his louing kindnes is great toward vs, and the truth of the Lord endureth for euer. Praise ye the Lord.

P S A L. CXVIII.

*David reuelled of Saul and of the people, at the time appointed obtained the kingdom. 4 For the which he biddeth all them, that feare the Lord, to bee thankfull.
And vnder his person in all this was Christ lively set forth, who should be of his people reuelled.*

Praise ye the Lord, because he is good:
for his mercie endureth for euer.
Let Israel now say, That his mercie endureth for euer.
Let the house of Aaron now say, That his mercie endureth for euer.
Let them, that feare the Lord, now saye,
That his mercie endureth for euer.
I called vpon the Lord in trouble, and the Lord heard me, and set me at large.
The Lord is with me: therefore I will not feare what man can do vnto me.
The Lord is with me among them that helpe me: therefore shall I see my desire vpon mine enemies.
It is better to trust in the Lorde, then to haue confidence in man.
It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence in princes.
All nations haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lorde shall I destroye
them.
They haue compassed me, yea they haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord I shall destroy them.
They came about me like bees, but they were quenched as a fyre of thornes: for in the Name of the Lord I shall destroye
them.
Thou hast thrust sore at me that I might fall: but the Lord hath holpen me.
The Lord is my strength, and song: for he hath bene my deliuerance.
The voyce of ioye and deliuerance shall be in the tabernacles of the righteous, saying, The right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.
The right hand of the Lorde is exalted:
the right hande of the Lord hath done
valiantly.
I shall not dye, but liue, and declare the workes of the Lord.
The Lord hath chastened me sore, but he hath not deliuered me to death.
Open ye vnto me the gates of righte-ousnes, that I may go into them, and praise
the Lord.
This is the gate of the Lord: the righteous shall enter into it.
I will praise thee: for thou hast heard me,
and hast bene my deliuerance.

to haue man e-uer to be his ene-mie. Yet he

He sheweth that he had trusted in vaine, if he had put his confidence in man, to haue bene preferred

and therefore he deliuered, it came out of him

selfe, not of the power of man, but onely of Gods fauour:
therefore he will praise him.

He promitteth both to render graces himselfe, and to cause others to do the same, because that in his person
the Church was restored.

PSAL. CXIX.

The Prophet exhorteth the children of God to frame their lives according to his holie word. 123. Also he sheweth wherin the true fruite of God standeth: that is, when we sturme him according to his word, and not after our owne fantastie.

iudgement, nor which imagine conuersation is without hypo-

Spirit and im-

Lord.
2 Blessed are they that keepe his testimonies, & seeke him with their whole heart.
3 Surely they worke none iniquitie, that walke in his waies.
4 Thou hast commanded to keepe thy precepts diligently.
5 O that my wayes were directed to keepe thy statutes.
6 Then should I not be confounded, when I haue respect vnto all thy commaundements.
7 I will praise thee with an vpriight heart, when I shall learne the iudgements of thy righteousness.
8 I will keepe thy statutes: forsake me not ouerlong.

a Becauie youth

licentiousnes, because they want thei to frame

come to Gods word.

begraue in our hearts, we shal be more able to resist the assaies of Satan: and therefore the Prophet exhor-teth God to instruct him daily
more and more therein.
c The Prophet doeth not boast of his vertues, but setteth forth an example for others to follow Gods word & leaue worldly vanities.

- Wherewith shall a yong man redresse his way? in taking heede thereto according to thy word.
10 With my whole heart haue I sought thee: let me not wander from thy commaundements.
11 I haue hid thy promes in mine heart, that I might not sinne against thee.
12 Blessed art thou, O Lord: teach mee thy statutes.
13 With my lippes haue I declared all the iudgements of thy mouth.
14 I haue had as great delight in the waye of thy testimonies, as in all riches.

The Prophet doeth not boast of his vertues, but setteth forth an example for others to follow Gods word & leaue worldly vanities.

- I will meditate in thy precepts, and confider thy waies.
16 I will delite in thy statutes, and I will not forget thy word.

GIMEL.

- 17 Be beneficial vnto thy seruant, as I may * iust and keepe thy word.
18 Open mine eyes, that I may see the wonders of thy Lawe.
19 I am a stranger vpon earth: hide not thy commandements from me.
20 Mine heart breaketh for the desire to thy iudgements alway.
21 Thou hast destroyed the proud: cursed are they that doe erre from thy commaundements.
22 Remoue from me shame and contempt:
for I haue kept thy testimonies.
23 Princes also did sit, and speake against me: but thy seruant did meditate in thy statutes.
24 Also thy testimonies are my delite, & my counselers.

When the powers of the worlde gaue false testimony against me, thy word was a guide and counsellor to teach me what to do, and to comfort me.

DALETH.

- 25 My soule cleaueth to the dust: quicken me according to thy word.
26 I haue declared my waies, and thou heardest me: teache me thy statutes.
27 Make me to vnderstand the waye of thy precepts, and I will meditate in thy won-derous workes.
28 My soule melteth for heauines: raise me vp according vnto thy word.
29 Take from me the waye of lying, and grant me graciously thy Lawe.
30 I haue chosen the way of truth, and thy iudgements haue I layed before me.
31 I haue cleaued to thy testimonies, O
Lord: confound me not.
32 I will runne the way of thy commaundements, when thou shalt enlarge mine heart.

e By this he sheweth that we can neyther chiose good, cleaue to Gods word, nor runne forward in his way, except he make our hearts large to receiue his grace, and willing to obey.

HE.

- 33 Teache me, O Lord, the way of thy statures, and I will keepe it vnto the end.
34 Giue me vnderstanding, and I will keepe thy Law: yea, I wil keepe it with my whole heart.
35 Direct me in the path of thy commaundements: for therein is my delite.
36 Incline mine heart vnto thy testimonies, and not to couetousnes.
37 Turne away mine eyes from regarding vanitie, and quicken me in thy way.
38 Stablish thy promes to thy seruant, because he feareth thee.
39 Take away my rebuke that I feare: for thy iudgements are good.
40 Beholde, I desire thy commandements:
quicken me in thy righteousness, honour, but let mine heart fill delite in thy gracious word. f Giue me strength to continue in thy word euen to the ende.

a He sheweth
we ought to desire to know but to know
God, and thereby cannot serue him aright, except he open our eyes & minde.
b Seeing man-
life in this worlde is but a passing what though he come of himself thy work with not his guide
c In al aggression hath plagued al
such, which undoubtedly & depart from thy truth. d When the powers of the worlde gaue false testimony against me, thy word was a guide and counsellor to teach me what to do, and
to comfort me.

a That is, it is almost brought to the grave, & without thy word I cannot liue.
b I haue confessed mine offe-ces, and now depend wholly on
thee.
c If God did not maintaine vs by his word, our life would drop away like water.
d Instruct me in thy word, whereby my minde
may be purged from vanitie and taught to obey thy wil.

e By this he sheweth that we can neyther chiose good, cleaue to Gods word, nor runne forward in his way, except he make our hearts large to receiue his grace, and willing to obey.

- 93 I will neuer forget thy precepts: for by them thou hast quickened me.
- 94 I am thyne, saue me: for I haue sought thy precepts.
- 95 The wicked haue waited for mee to destroye me: but I wil consider thy testimonies.
- 96 I haue seene an ende of all perfection: but thy commadement is exceeding large.

- 114 Thou art my refuge & shield, and I trust in thy word.
- 115 Away from me, ye wicked: for I will keepe the commandements of my God, not to keepe the law of the Lord.
- 116 Stablish me according to thy promises, that I may liue, and disappoint me not of mine hope.
- 117 Stay thou me, and I shalbe safe, and I will delite continually in thy statutes.
- 118 Thou hast troden downe all them that depart from thy statutes: for their deccit practises of them is vaine.
- 119 Thou hast taken away all the wicked of the earth like drosse: therefore I loue thy testimonies.
- 120 My flesh trembleth for feare of thee, & I am afraide of thy iudgements.

a He sheweth that we cannot loue Gods word except we exercise our selues therein and practise it. b Whosoever doeth submit himselfe onely to Gods word, that not onely be safe against the practises of his enemies, but also learne more wisdom, then they that professe it, and are men of experience. c So then of our selues we can do nothing, but when God doeth inwardly instruct vs with his Spirit, we feelee his graces sweeten then honie.

- 97 Oh how loue I thy Law! it is my meditation continually.
- 98 By thy commandements thou hast made me wiser then mine enemies: for they are euer with me.
- 99 I haue had more vnderstanding then all my teachers: for thy testimonies are my meditation.
- 100 I vnderstoode more then the ancient, because I kept thy precepts.
- 101 I haue refrayned my feete from euerie euil way, that I might keepe thy word.
- 102 I haue not declined from thy iudgements: for thou didest teach me.
- 103 How sweete are thy promises vnto my mouth! yea, more then honie vnto my mouth.
- 104 By thy precepts I haue gotten vnderstanding: therefore I hate all the wayes of falsehoode.

- 121 I haue executed iudgement and iustice: leaue me not to mine oppressours.
- 122 Answere for thy seruant in that, which is good, and let not the proude oppress me.
- 123 Mine eyes haue failed in waing for thy saluation, and for thy iust promises.
- 124 Deale with thy seruant according to thy mercie, and teache me thy statutes.
- 125 I am thy seruant: grant me therefore vnderstanding, that I may knowe thy testimonies.
- 126 It is time for thee Lord to worke: for they haue destroyed thy Law.
- 127 Therefore loue I thy commandements aboute golde, yea, aboute moste fine golde.
- 128 Therefore I esteeme all thy precepts most iust, and hate all false wayes.

1 They that trust in the Lord, shall be as mount Zion, which can not be remo- ued, but remaineth for euer. 2 As the mountaynes are about Ierusalem: so is the Lord about his people fro hence forth and for euer. 3 For the rod of the wicked shall not rest on y lot of the righteous, lest y righteous put forth their hand vnto wickednes. 4 Do wel, O Lord, vnto those that be good and true in their hearts. 5 But these that turne aside by their crooked wayes, them shall the Lord leade with the workers of iniquitie: but peace shall be vpon Israel. hope. c He desireth God to purge his Church from hypocrites and such as haue no zeale of the truth.

PSAL. CXXVI.

A Song of degrees or Psalm of David.

1 When the Lord brought againe the captiuitie of Zion, we were like the that dreame. 2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with ioye: then sayd they among the heathen, The Lord hath done great things for them. 3 The Lord hath done great things for vs, whereof we reioyce. 4 O Lord, bring againe our captiuitie, as ought to be the riuers in the South. Church or deliuereth it. c If the infidels confesse gods wonderfull worke, the faithful can neuer shew themselves sufficiently thankfull. d It is no more impossible to God to deliuey his people, then to caule the riuers to runne in the wilderness and barren places.

1 He sheweth that the whole estate of the worlde, both domesticall and politickall standeth by Gods mere providence and blessing. 2 And that to haue children well nurried is an especiall grace and gift of God.

A song of degrees or Psalm of Salomon.

1 He admonisheth the Church to reioyce though it be afflicted. 4 For by the righteous Lord it shall be deliuered. 6 And the enemies for all their glorious shew, shall suddenly be destroyed.

b Because the chiefe charge of the King was to set forth Gods glorie, he sheweth, that he could take no rest, neither would go about anie worldly thing, were it neuer so necessarie, before he had executed his office.

c That is, the Arke, which was a signe of Gods presence. d The common brute was that the Arke should remaine in Ephrathah: that is, in Beth-lehem a plentiful place: but after we percieued that thou wouldest place it in Ierusalem, which was barren as a forest, and compassed about onely with hilles.

e That is, Ierusalem, because that afterward his Arke should remoue to none other place.

f Let the effect of thy grace both appeare in the Priests and in the people. g As thou first madeest promises to Dauid, so continue it to his posteritie, that whatsoever they shall aske for their people, it may be granted.

h Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promises were spiritual. i Meaning, for his owne sake, and not for the plentifulnes of the place: for he promisseth to blesse it, declaring before, that it was barren. k That is, with my protection, whereby they shalbe safe.

1 I will not enter into the tabernacle of mine house, nor come vpon my pallet or bed,

3 Vntill I finde out a place for the Lord, an habitation for the mightie God of Iacob.

4 Lo, we heard of it in Ephrathah, and found it in the fieldes of the forest.

5 We will enter into his Tabernacles, and worship before his footestool.

6 Arise, O Lord, so come into thy rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength.

7 Let thy Priests be clothed with righteousness, and let thy Saintes reioyce.

8 For thy seruant Dauids sake refuse not the face of thine Anointed.

9 The Lord hath sworne in trueth vnto Dauid, and he will not shrinke from it, saying, Of the fruite of thy bodie will I set vpon thy throne.

10 If thy sonnes keepe my couenant, and my testimonies, that I shall teach them, their sonnes also shall sit vpon thy throne for euer.

11 For the Lord hath chosen Zion, & loued to dwell in it, saying,

12 This is my rest for euer: here will I dwell, for I haue a delight therein.

13 I will surely blesse her vitayles, and will satisfie her poore with bread,

14 And will clothe her Priests with salvation, and her Saintes shall ioye.

15 There will I make the horne of Dauid to bud: for I haue ordeyned a light for mine Anointed.

16 His enemies will I clothe with shame, but on him his crowne shall flourish.

17 This Psalm containeth the commendation of brotherly amitie among the seruants of God.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

A song of degrees or Psalme of Dauid.

1 Beholde, how good and how comely a thing it is, brethren to dwell euen together.

2 It is like to the precious ointment vpon the head, that runneth downe vpon the beard, euen vnto Aarons beard, which went downe on the border of his garments:

3 And as the dewe of Hermon, which falleth vpon the mountaines of Zion: for there the Lord appointed the blessing & life for euer.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

He exhortheth the Leuites, watching in the Temple, to praise the Lord.

a Because the greatest part were against Dauid, though some fauored him, yet when he was established King, at length they ioyed all together like brethren: & therefore hee sheweth by these similitudes the commoditie of brotherly loue.

b The oymment was a figure of the graces, which come from Christ the head vnto his Church.

c By Hermon and Zion he meaneeth the plentiful countrey about Ierusalem.

d Where there is such concord.

Beholde, praise ye the Lord, all ye seruants of the Lord, ye that by night stand in the house of the Lord.

2 Lift vp your hands to the Sanctuarie, & prayse the Lord.

3 The Lord, that hath made heauen and earth, blesse thee out of Zion.

to giue God thanks. c And therefore hath all power, blesse thee with his Fatherly loue declared in Zion. Thus the Leuites vsed to praise the Lord, and blesse the people.

PSAL. CXXXV.

He exhortheth all the faithfull, of what estate soeuer they be, to praise God for his marvellous works, 12 And specially for his graces toward his people, wherein he hath declared his maiestie, 15 To the confusion of all idolaters, and their idoles.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise the Name of the Lord: ye seruants of the Lord, praise him.

2 Ye that stand in the House of the Lord, and in the courtes of the House of our God,

3 Prayse ye the Lord: for the Lord is good: sing praises vnto his Name: for it is a comely thing.

4 For the Lord hath chosen Iacob to him selfe, and Israel for his chiefe treasure.

5 For I knowe that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is aboue all gods.

6 Whatsoeuer pleased the Lord, that did he in heauen and in earth, in the sea, and in all the depths.

7 He bringeth vp the cloudes from the ends of the earth, and maketh the lightnings with the raine: he draweth forth the wind out of his treasures.

8 He smote the first borne of Egypt both of man and beast.

9 He hath sent tokens and wonders into the middes of thee, O Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his seruants.

10 He smote manie nations, & slew mighty Kings:

11 As Sihon King of the Amorites, and Og King of Bashan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

12 And gaue their lande for an inheritance, euen an inheritance vnto Israel his people.

13 Thy Name, O Lord, endureth for euer: O Lord, thy remembrance is from generation to generation.

14 For the Lord will iudge his people, and be pacified towards his seruants.

15 The idoles of the heathen are siluer & golde, euen the worke of mens hands.

16 They haue a mouth, and speake nothing: haue eyes and see not.

17 They haue eares and heare not, neither is there anie breath in their mouth.

18 They that make them, are like vnto the: so are all that trust in them.

19 Praise the Lord, ye house of Israel: praise the Lord, ye house of Aaron.

20 Prayse

a Ye that are Leuites and chiefly appointed to this office. b For their charge was onely to keepe the Temple, but to pray there & to praise the Lord, and blesse the people.

a Ye Leuites that are in his Sanctuarie. b Meaning the people: for the people and Leuites had their courtes, which were places of rest separate. c That is, hath freely loued the posteritie of Abraham.

d He ioyneth Gods power & his will, to the intent that we should not separate them: and hereby he wil leth Gods people to depend on his power, which he confirmeth by examples.

1. Ier. 1. 13. Exod. 12. 29. Num. 1. 14. & 34.

e He sheweth what fruit the godly conceits of Gods power, whereby they see how he destroyeth his enemies, and deliuereth his people. f That is, to endure and defend his people. g By shewing what punishment God appointed for the heathen idolaters, he willeth his people to beware of like offence, seeing that idoles haue neither power nor life, and that their deliuerance came not by idoles, but by the mightie power of God.

h Psalms. viii. 4.

- 20 Praise the Lord, ye house of Leui: ye that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.
21 Praised be the Lord out of Zion, which dwelleth in Ierusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

P S A L. CXXXVI.

1 A most earnest exhortation to give thanks vnto God for the creation and gouernance of all things which stand in confirming that he giueth vs all of his mere liberality.

1 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his <sup>a</sup>mercie endureth for euer.

2 Praise ye the God of gods: for his mercie endureth for euer.

3 Praise ye the Lord of lords: for his mercie endureth for euer:

6 Which hath stretched out the earth vpon the waters: for his <sup>b</sup>mercie endureth for euer:

7 Which made great lights: for his mercie endureth for euer:

8 As the sunne to rule the day: for his mercie endureth for euer:

17 Which smote great Kings: for his mercie endureth for euer.

18 And slew <sup>f</sup> mightie Kings: for his mercie endureth for euer:

22 Euen an heritage vnto Israel his seruant: for his mercie endureth for euer:

23 Which remembered vs in our <sup>g</sup> base estate: for his mercie endureth for euer:

24 And hath rescued vs from our oppressours: for his mercie endureth for euer:

25 Which giueth foode to all <sup>h</sup> flesh: for his mercie endureth for euer.

26 <sup>i</sup> Praise ye the God of heauen: for his mercie endureth for euer.

a By this repetition he sheweth that the least of Gods benefites haue vs to thanksgiving: but chiefly his mercie, which is principally directed towards his Church.

b This was a common kind of thanksgiving, which whole people vied, when they had receiued any benefite of God as 2. Chro. 7. 6. & 20. meaning that God was not onely merciful to their fathers, but also continued the same to their posterity. c Gods merciful prouidence towards man appeareth in all his creatures, but chiefly in that he deliuered his church from the thraldome of their enemies. d In doing such a worke as was neuer done before, nor that any other could do. e Where for the space of fourtie yeres he shewed minde and most strange wonders f Declaring thereby that no power nor authority was so dore vnto him, as the loue of his Church. g In our greatest affliction and steruice, when we looked for nothing lesse than to haue had any succour. h Seeing that God prouideth them for the better: much more hath he care ouer his. i Seeing that all ages haue had most plaine testimonies of Gods benefites.

1 The people of God in their banishment seeing Gods true religion decaye, lined in great anguish and sorrow of heart: the which grieft the Chaldeans did so liste pite, 2 That they rather increased the same dayly with taunts, reproches and blasphemies against God. 7 VV herefore the Israelites desire God, first to punish the Edomites, who provoked the Babylonians against them, 8 And moued by the Spirit of God, prophesie the destruction of Babylon, where they were handled so tyrannously.

1 BY the riuers of Babel we <sup>a</sup> sate, and there we wept, when we remembered Zion.

2 We hanged our harpes vp<sup>b</sup> the willowes in the middes <sup>c</sup> thereof.

3 Then they that led vs captiues, required of vs songs and mirth, when we had hanged vp our harpes, saying, Sing vs one of the songs of Zion.

4 How shal we sing, said we, a song of the Lord in a strange land?

5 <sup>d</sup> If I forget thee, O Ierusalem, let my right hand forget to play.

6 If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleaue to the roofof my mouth: yea, if I preferre not Ierusalem to my <sup>e</sup> chiefe ioye.

7 Remember the children of <sup>f</sup> Edom, O Lord, in the <sup>g</sup> daye of Ierusalem, which said, Rase it, rase it to the foundation thereof.

8 O daughter of Babel, worthie to be destroyed, blessed <sup>h</sup> shall he be that rewardeth thee, as thou hast serued vs.

9 <sup>i</sup> Blessed <sup>j</sup> shall he be that taketh & dasheth thy children against the stones.

a That is, we abode a long time: and albeit that country was pleasant, yet could it not stay our teares, nor turne vs from the true seruice of our God. b To wit, of that country. c The Babylonians spake thus in mocking vs, as though by our silence we should signifie that we hoped no more in God. d Albeit the faithfull are touched with their particular griefs yet the common sorowe of the Church is most grievous vnto them, and are such as they can not but remember and lament. e The decaye of Gods religion in their country was so grievous, that no ioye could make them glad, except it were restored. f According as Ezekiel 25. 13, and Ieremie. 49. 7. ver. prophesied: and Abdias ver. 10. sheweth that the Edomites, which came of Esau, conspired with the Babylonians against their brethren and kinsfolke. g When thou didst visite Ierusalem. h He alludeth to Isaies prophesie chap. 13. & 16. ver. promising good successe to Cyrus and Darius, whome ambition moued to fight against Babylon: but God vsed them as his rods to punish his enemies.

¶ A Psalm of David.

PSAL. CXLI.

1 O Lord, I call vpon thee: haste thee vnto me: heare my voyce, when I cry vnto thee.

1 An earnest prayer for remission of sinnes, acknowledging that the enemies did thus cruelly persecute him by Gods iust iudgement. 2 He desireth to be restored to grace, 10 To be governed by his holie Spirit, that hee may spend the remanens of his life in the true feare and seruice of God.

¶ A Psalm of David.

1 Heare my prair, O Lord, and hearken vnto my supplication: answer me in thy<sup>a</sup> truth and in thy<sup>b</sup> righteousnes.

a That is, as thou hast promised to be faithful in thy promises to all that trust in thee.

no man shall iustified in Gods sight.

2 (And enter not into iudgement with thy seruant: for in thy<sup>c</sup> sight thal none that liueth, be iustified)

b That is, according to thy free goodnes, whereby thou defendest thine.

3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soule: he hath smitten my life downe to y<sup>d</sup> earth: he hath layed me in the darkenes, as they that haue bene dead<sup>e</sup> long ago:

c He knew that his afflictions were Gods messengers to call him to repentance for his sinnes, though toward his enemies he was innocent, and that in Gods sight all men are sinners.

4 And my spirit was in perplexitie in me, and mine<sup>f</sup> heart within me was amased.

d He acknowledged that God is the onely and true physician to heale him: and that he is able to raise him to life, though he were dead long ago, and turned to ashes.

5 Yet do I remember the time<sup>g</sup> past: I meditate in all thy workes, yea, I do meditate in the workes of thine hands.

e So that onely by faith, and by grace of Gods spirit he was uphelden.

6 I stretch forth mine hands vnto thee: my soule desireth after thee, as the thirstie land. Selah.

f To wit, thy great benefices of olde, and the manifold examples of thy fauour toward thine.

7 Heare me speedily, O Lord, for my spirit fayleth: hide not thy face from me, else I shalbe like vnto them that go downe into the pit.

g That is, speedily and in due season. h Lea thine holie Spirit counsel me how to come forth of these great cares & troubles. i I hid my self vnder the shadow of thy wings, that I might be defended by thy power. k He confesseth that both the knowledge and obedience of Gods will cometh by the Spirit of God, who teacheth vs by his word, giueth vnderstanding by his Spirit, and frameth our hearts by his grace to obey him.

8 Let me heare thy louing kindnes in the morning, for in thee is my trust: h<sup>i</sup> shewe me the way, that I should walke in, for I lift vp my soule vnto thee.

l That is, iustly and a right: for so soone as we decline from Gods wil, we fall into error.

9 Deliuier me, O Lord, from mine enemies: for I hid me with thee.

m Which shalbe a signe of thy Fatherly kindnes toward me. n Resigning my selfe wholly vnto thee, and trusting in thy protection.

10 Teache me to<sup>o</sup> do thy will, for thou art my God: let thy good Spirit leade me vnto the land of<sup>p</sup> righteousnes.

o He praiseth the Lord with great affection and humilitie for his kingdom restored, and for his victories obtained.

11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy Names sake, and for thy righteousnes bring my soule out of trouble.

p Demanding helpe and the destruction of the wicked.

12 And for thy mercie<sup>q</sup> slay mine enemies, and destroye all them that oppresse my soule: for I am thy<sup>r</sup> seruant.

q Promising to acknowledge the same with songs of praises. r And declareth wherein the felicitie of anis people consisteth.

PSAL. CXLI.

¶ A Psalm of David.

1 Blessed be the Lord my strength, which teacheth mine hands to fight, and my fingers to battell.

a Who of a poore shepheard hath made me a valiant warrior and my deliuerer, my shield, and in him I conquerour.

2 He is my goodnes & my fortres, my towre and my deliuerer, my shield, and in him I conquerour. b For my deliuerer vnto me: for the Prophet can not satisfie himselfe with any wordes.

S. liij. trust,

L: 29.

1 The Prophet neither asisted with feare, nor caried away with anger, nor forced by desperation, would kill Saal, but with a quiet minde directed his earnest prayer to God, who did preserve him.

¶ A Psalm of David, to giue instruction, and a prair, when he was in the cause.

1 Cryed vnto the Lord with my voyce: w<sup>a</sup> my voyce I<sup>b</sup> prayed vnto the Lord.

2 I powred out my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his presence.

3 Though my spirit<sup>c</sup> was in perplexitie in me, yet thou knewest my path: in the way, wherein I walked, haue they priuily layed a snare for me.

4 I looked vpon my right hande, and behelde, but there was none that would knowe me: all refuge fayled me, and none<sup>d</sup> cared for my soule.

5 Then cryed I vnto thee, O Lord, and said, Thou art mine<sup>e</sup> hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.

6 Hearken vnto my crye, for I am brought verie lowe: deliuer me from my persecuters, for they are to strong for me.

7 Bring my soule out of<sup>f</sup> prison, that I may praise thy Name: then shall the righteous come about me, when thou art beneficial vnto me.

David pacified and instant prayer to God commendeth their wicked rage, which in their troubles either despaire against God, or dislike to o them, then to God, so haue redde in their miseries. b For was folded as wrapped in me: meaning, as a thing that could haue none issue. c Or, sought for my soule. d Though all meanes fayled him, yet he knew that God would neuer forsake him. e For he was on all sides beset with his enemies, as though hee had bene in a most straight prison. f Either to reioyce at my wonderful deliuerance, or to set a crowne vpon mine head.

b He confesseth that neither by his owne autoritie, power nor policie his kingdom was quiet, but by the secret grace of God. c To giue vnto God iust praise is to confesse our felues to be vnworthie of so excellent benefites, and that he bestoweth them vpon vs of his free mercie. d He desireth God to continue his graces and to send helpe for the present necessitie. e By these manner of speeches he sheweth that all the lets in the worlde can not hinder Gods power, which he apprehended by faith. f That is, deliuer me from the tumults of the that should be my people, but are corrupt in their iudgement and enterprises, as though they were strangers. g For though they shake hds, yet they keepe not promises. h That is, a rare & excellent song, as thy great benefites deserue. i Though wicked kings be called Gods seruants, as Cyrus, Isai. 45. 1, forasmuch as he vseth them to execute his iudgements: yet Dauid because of Gods promises, and they, that rule godly, are properly so called, because they serue not their owne affections, but set forth Gods glorie. k He desireth God to continue his benefites toward his people, counting the procreation of children and their good education among the chiefest of Gods benefites. l That the verie corners of our houses may be full of store for the great abundance of thy blessings. m He attributeth not onely the great commodities, but euen the least also to Gods fauour. n And if God giue not to all his children all these blessings, yet he recompenseth them with better things.

trust, which subdueth my people vnder me. Lord, what is man that thou regardest him! or the sonne of man that thou thinkest vpon him! Man is like to vanitie: his dayes are like a shadow, that vanisheth. Bow thine heauens, O Lord, and come downe: touch the mountaines and they shall smoke. Cast forth the lightening and scatter them: shoote out thine arrowes, and consume them. Send thine hande from aboue: deliuer me, and take me out of the great waters, and from the hand of strangers, Whose mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood. I will sing a new song vnto thee, O God, and sing vnto thee vpon a viole, and an instrument of ten strings. It is he that giueth deliuerance vnto Kings, and rescueth Dauid his seruant from the hurtfull sword. Rescue me, and deliuer me from the hande of strangers, whose mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hand is a right hande of falsehood: That our sonnes may be as the plantes growing vp in their youth, and our daughters as the corner stones, grauen after the similitude of a palace: That our corners may be full, and abounding with diuers sorts, and that our sheepe may bring forth thousands and ten thousand in our streetes: That our oxen may be strong to labour: that there be none inuasion, nor going out, nor no crying in our streetes. Blessed are the people, that be so, yea, blessed are the people, whose God is the Lord. This Psalm was composed, when the kingdom of Dauid flourished. VV herein he describeth the wonderful providence of God, asuel in governing man, as in preserving all the rest of his creatures. 17 He praiseth God for his iustice and mercie, 18 But especially for his loving kindness toward those that call vpon him, that feare him, and loue him: 21 For the which he promisseth to praise him for euer.

A Psalm of Dauid of praise.

He sheweth what sacrifices are pleasant and acceptable vnto God: euen praise and thanksgiving, and seeing that God still continueth his benefites towardes vs, we ought neuer to be wearie in praising him for the same.

Great is the Lord, and most worthie to be praised, and his greatnes is incomprehensible. Generation shall praise thy workes vnto generation, and declare thy power. I will meditate of the beautie of thy glorious maiestie, and thy wonderful workes, And they shall speake of the power of thy fearful Actes, & I will declare thy greatnes. They shall breake out into the mention of thy great goodnes, and shal sing aloud of thy righteousness. The Lord is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great mercie. The Lord is good to all, and his mercies are ouer all his workes. All thy workes praise thee, O Lord, and thy Saintes blesse thee. They shew the glorie of thy kingdom and speake of thy power, To cause his power to be knowne to the sonnes of men, and the glorious renoume of his kingdom. Thy kingdom is an euertlasting kingdom, & thy dominion endureth throughout all ages. The Lord vpholdeth all that fall, and lifeth vp all that are ready to fall. The eyes of all waite vpon thee, and thou giuest them their meate in due season. Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all things liuing of thy good pleasure. The Lord is righteous in all his wayes, and holie in all his workes. The Lord is neere vnto all that call vpon him: yea, to all that call vpon him in truth. He will fulfil the desire of them that feare him: he also will heare their crie, & will saue them. The Lord preserveth all them that loue him: but he will destroy all the wicked. My mouth shall speake the praise of the Lord, and all flesh shall blesse his holie Name for euer and euer.

PSAL. CXLVI.

David declareth his great zeale that hee hath to praise God, 3 And teacheth, not to trust in man, but onely in God almightie, 7 VVhich deliuereth the afflicted, 9 Defendeth the strangers, comforteth the fatherles, and the widowes, 10 And reigneth for euer.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe wonderfull love of God towards his Church is declared in this booke: forasmuch as the summe & effect of the whole Scriptures is here set forth in these brieue sentences, which partly containe doctrine, & partly maners, & also exhortations to both. Where of the nine first chapters are as a preface full of graue sentences, & deepe mysteries, to allure the heauens of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow: which are left as a most precious iewel to the Church, of those three thousand parables mentioned 1. King. 4. 32. and were gathered and committed to writing by Salomons seruants and indited by him.

8 My sonne, heare thy fathers instruction,

12 We will swallowe them vp aliuelye like a 13 We shall find all precious riches, & fill our houses with spoyle:

14 Cast in thy lot among vs: we will all haue
one purpose:

15 My sonne, walke not thou in the waye with them: refraine thy foote from their path.

16 For their feete runne to euill, and make

17 Certeinly as without cause the net is 24 Because I haue called, and ye refused: I haue stretched out mine hand, and none would regard.

25 But ye haue despised all my counsel, and would none of my correction.

26 I will also laugh at your destruction, and mocke, when your feare commeth.

27 When your feare commeth like sudden desolation, & your destruction shal come, like a whirle winde: when affliction and anguish shal come vpon you,

28 Then shall they call vpon me, but I will not answer: they shall seeke me early, but they shall not finde me,

29 Because they hated knowledge, and did not chuse the feare of the Lord.

30 They would none of my counsel, but de-

CHAP. III.

The words of God giueth life. 5 Trust in God. 7 Feare him. 9 Honour him. 11 Suffer his correction. 22 To them that followe the words of God, all things shall succede well.

Dim. 1. 1 & 20. 16.

a Long life is blessing of God which he giueth to his, so farre forth as it is expedient for the. b By mercie and truth, he meaneth the commandments of the first & second table: or els mercie & faithfulness. c Keep them as a most precious jewel. d Hauethem ever in remembrance. e By thispart he comprehendeth the whole body, as by health he meaneeth all the benefites promised in the Lawe both corporall & spiritual. f As was commanded in the Law, Exod. 23. 19. Deut. 26. 2. & by this they acknowledged & God was the giuer of all things, and y they were readie to bestow all at his commandement. g For to y faithful distributor God giueth in greater abidance. Ebr. 12. 5. rom. 2. 19.

h Meaning, that he that seeketh wisdom: that is, suffreth himselfe to be gouerned by the worde of God, shall haue all prosperitie both corporall & spiritual. i Which bringeth forth such fruite that they that eate thereof, haue life: and he alludeth to the tree of life in paradise.

k Hereby he sheweth y this wisdom, wherof he speaketh, is euerslasing, be cause it was before all creatures, & that all things, even the whole worlde were made by it.

Or, sheweth, read Chap. 1. 9.

l Promise to such as will be wise. c. 4. 5. 6. 8. 9.

m Great benefit of this wisdom is freedom.

n Or, sheweth, read Chap. 1. 9.

My sonne, forget not thou my Law, but let thine heart keepe my commandments.

For they shall increase the length of thy dayes & the yeres of life, and thy prosperitie.

Let not <sup>b</sup> mercie and truth forsake thee: binde them on thy <sup>c</sup> necke, & write them vpon the table of thine <sup>d</sup> heart:

So shalt thou finde fauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of GOD and man.

Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisdom.

In all thy waies acknowledge him, & he shal directe thy wayes.

Be not wife in thine owne eyes: but feare the Lord, and depart from euill.

So health shal be vnto thy <sup>e</sup> naue, & marrowe vnto thy bones.

Honour the Lord with thy riches, & with the first frutes of all thine increase.

So shall thy barnes be filled with abundance, & thy pressess shal <sup>f</sup> burst with newe wine.

My sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neither be grieued with his correction.

For the Lord correcteth him, whom he loueth, euen as the father doeth the childe in whom he delieth.

Blessed is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth vnderstanding.

For the marchandise thereof is better then y marchandise of siluer, & the gaine thereof is better then golde.

It is more precious then pearles: and all things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her.

Length of dayes is in her right hand, & in her left hande riches and glorie.

Her wayes are wayes of pleasure, and all her pathes prosperitie.

She is a tree of life to them that laye holde on her, and blessed is he that retayneth her.

The Lorde by wisdom hath layed the <sup>g</sup> fundation of the earth, and hath stablished the heauens through vnderstanding.

By his knowledge the depths are broken vp, and the cloudes droppe downe the dewe.

My sonne, let not these things depart from thee: but obserue wisdom, and counsell.

So they shal be life to thy soule, and grace vnto thy <sup>h</sup> necke.

Then shalt thou walke safely by thy way: and thy foote shal not stumble.

If thou sleepest, thou shalt not be afayed, and when thou sleepest, thy sleepe shal be sweete.

Thou shalt not feare for any suddē feare, neither for the destruction of the wicked, when it commeth.

For the Lord shal be for thine assurance, and shal preferre thy foote from taking.

Withholde not the good frō the owners thereof, though there be power in thine hand to do it.

Say not vnto thy neighbour, Go & come againe, & to morow will I giue thee, if thou now haue it.

Intende none hurt against thy neighbour, seeing he doth dwell without feare by thee.

Strive not with a man causeles, when he hath done thee no harme.

Be not enuious for the wicked man, neither chuse any of his wayes.

For the froward is abomination vnto the Lord: but his <sup>i</sup> secrete is with the righteous.

The curse of the Lorde is in the house of the wicked: but he blessing the habitation of the righteous.

With the scornfull <sup>j</sup> he scorneth, but he giueth grace vnto the humble.

The wise shal inherite glory: but fooles dishonour, though they be exalted.

CHAP. IIII.

VVifedome and her frutes ought to be searched. 14 The way of the wicked must be refused. 20 By the words of God the heart, eyes and course of life must be guided.

Hear, O ye children, the instruction of a father, and giue care to learne vnderstanding.

For I do giue you a good doctrine: shewe fore forsake ye not my law.

For I was my fathers sonne, tender and deare in the sight of my mother,

When he taught me, and sayd vnto me, Let thine heart holde fast my wordes:

keep my commandments, and thou shalt liue.

Get wisdom: get vnderstanding: forget not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.

Forsake her not, and she shall keepe thee: lose her and she shall perserue thee.

Wisdom is the beginnyng: get wisdom therefore: and aboue all thy possession get vnderstanding.

Exalt her, and she shall exalt thee: she shal bring thee to honour, if thou embrace her.

Shee shall giue a comely ornament vnto thine head, yea, she shal giue thee a crowne of glorie.

Hear, my sonne, & receiue my wordes, and the yeres of thy life shalbe many.

I haue taught thee in the waye of wisdom, and led thee in the paths of righteousness.

When thou goest, thy gate shall not be strait, and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.

For when God destroyeth the wicked, he will saue his, as he did Lot in Sodom.

Nor out of from them to whom the passion belongeth, but also those that not have need of the same.

That is, puerit that his trust is in the.

Desire to be like vnto him.

That is, his affection which is hid and secrete from the world.

He will shew by his plagues y their scorn shall turne to their owne destruction, as Chap. 1. 26.

He speaketh this in the person of a preacher, a minister which is as a father vnto the people, read Chap. 1. 1.

In Ebrew it is Only: for though she had three children by Vriah, yet Salomō was only her first by David.

Meaning, David his father, c He sheweth y we must first begin at Gods word, if so be we will that other things prosper with vs, contrary to y judgement of the worlde, which make it their last study, or els, care not for it at all.

Salomōs death, reth what care his father had to bring him vp in the true feare of god: for this was David's promission.

Thou shalt walke at libertie without offence.

- 13 Take hold of instruction, and leaue not: keepe her, for she is thy life.
- 14 Enter not into the way of the wicked, and walke not in the way of euill men.
- 15 Auoid it, & go not by it: turne from it, and passe by.
- 16 For they can not sleepe, except they haue done euill, & their sleepe departeth, except they cause some to fall.
- 17 For they eate the bread of wickednes, and drinke the wine of violence.
- 18 But the way of the righteous shineth as the light, that shineth more & more vnto the perfite day.
- 19 The way of the wicked is as the darkenes: they know not wherein they shall fall.
- 20 My sonne, hearken vnto my wordes, incline thine eare vnto my sayings.
- 21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them in the middes of thine heart.
- 22 For they are life vnto those that finde them, and health vnto all their flesh.
- 23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for thereout commeth life.
- 24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, & put wicked lips far from thee.
- 25 Let thine eyes behold the right, and let thine eyeliddes direct thy waye before thee.
- 26 Ponder the path of thy feete, and let all thy wayes be ordred aright.
- 27 Turne not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remouue thy foote from euill.

- 12 And say, How haue I hated instruction, and mine heart despised correction!
- 13 And haue not obeyed the voyce of the that taught me, nor enclined mine eare to them that instructed me!
- 14 I was almost brought into all euill in the middes of the Congregation and assemblie.
- 15 Drinke the water of thy cisterne, and of ryuers out of the middes of thine own well.
- 16 Let thy fountaines flow forth, and the ryuers of waters in the streetes.
- 17 But let them be thine, even thine onely, and not the strangers with thee.
- 18 Let thy fountaine be blessed, & reioyce with the wife of thy youth.
- 19 Let her be as the louing hinde & pleasant roe: let her breasts satisfie thee at all times, and delite in her loue continually.
- 20 For why shouldest thou delite, my sonne, in a strange woman, or embrace the bosome of a stranger?
- 21 For the wayes of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his paths.
- 22 His owne iniquities shal take the wicked himselfe, and he shal be holden with the cordes of his owne sinne.
- 23 He shall die for faule of instruction, and shal go astray through his great folly.

Or go astray with a stranger? m He declareth that except man do ioyne to his wife both in heart and in outward conuersation, that he shall not escape the iudgements of God. n Because he wil not giue care to Gods word and be admonished.

g Although I was faithfully instructed in the truth, yet had I almost fallen to utter shame and destruction, notwithstanding my good bringing up in the assembly of godly. h He teacheth vs sobriety, exhorting vs to liue of our own labours and to be beneficiall to godly that want. i Distribute the not to the wicked & infidelles, but reserve the for thy selfe, thy familie and them that are of the household of faith. k Thy children which shal come of thee in great abundance, shewing God blessing thy marriage & curseth whoredome. l Which thou diddest marrie in thy youth.

- 1 My sonne, hearken vnto my wisdom, & incline thine eare vnto my knowledge,

CHAP. VI.

- 1 My sonne, if thou be suretie for thy neighbour, & hast striked hands with the stranger,
- 2 Thou art snared with the wordes of thy mouth: thou art taken with the wordes of thine owne mouth.
- 3 Do this now, my sonne, and deliuer thy selfe: feeling thou art come into the hande of thy neighbour, go, and humble thy selfe, and sollicite thy friends.
- 4 Giue no sleepe to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyeliddes.
- 5 Deliuer thy selfe as a doe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.
- 6 Go to the pismire, O sluggard: behold her wayes, and be wise.
- 7 For the hauing no guide, gouernour, nor ruler,

- 9 Howe long wilt thou sleepe, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleepe?

n Meaning, that she will neuer cease, till she haue brought thee to beggerie, & then seeketh destruction.

o He approueth not theft, but sheweth that it is not so abominable as whoredom, forasmuch as theft might be redeemed: but adulterie was a perpetual infamie, & death by the law of God.

p Meaning, for very needfullie.

q That is, death appointed by Law.

r He sheweth that man by nature seeketh his death, that hath abused his wife, and so concludeth that neither Gods Law nor the law of nature admitteth a. my raunfome for the adulterie.

that <sup>a</sup>trauaileth by the way, and thy necessity like <sup>c</sup>an armed man.

12 The vnthristie man <sup>e</sup>& the wicked man walketh with a froward mouth.

13 He maketh a signe with his eyes: he <sup>f</sup>signifieth with his feete: he instructeth with his fingers.

14 Lewde things <sup>g</sup>are in his heart: he imagineth euill at all times, and raiseth vp contentions.

15 Therefore shall his destruction come speedily: he shall be destroyed suddenly without recoverie.

16 <sup>h</sup>These fixe things doeth the Lord hate: yea, his soule abhorreth <sup>i</sup>seuen:

17 The haucie eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shed innocent blood.

18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, <sup>k</sup>feete that be swift in running to mischief.

19 A false witnes that speaketh lyes, & him that raiseth vp contentions among <sup>l</sup>brethren.

20 <sup>m</sup>My sonne, keepe thy fathers commandement, and forsake not thy mothers instruction.

21 Binde them alway vpon thine <sup>n</sup>heart, and tye them about thy necke.

22 It shall leade thee, when thou walkest: it shall watch for thee, when thou sleepest, & when thou wakest, it shall talke with thee.

23 For the <sup>o</sup>commandement is a lanterne, and instruction a light: and <sup>p</sup>corrections for instruction are the way of life.

24 To kepe thee from the wicked woman, and from the flatterie of the tongue of a strange woman.

25 Desire not her beautie in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her <sup>q</sup>eye lids.

26 For because of the whorish woman, a man <sup>r</sup>is brought to a moriel of bread, & a woman will hunt for the precious life of a man.

27 <sup>s</sup>Can a man take fire in his bosome, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Or can a man go vpon coles, & his feete not be burnt?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife, shall not be innocent, whosoever toucheth her.

30 Men do not <sup>t</sup>despise a thiefe, when he stealeth, to satisfie his <sup>u</sup>soule, because he is hungrie.

31 But if he be found, he shall restore <sup>v</sup>seuen folde, or he shall giue all the substance of his house.

32 But he that committeth adulterie with a woman, he <sup>w</sup>is destitute of vnderstanding: he that doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33 He shall finde <sup>x</sup>a wound and dishonour, and his reproch shall neuer be put away.

34 For ielousie <sup>y</sup>is the rage of a man: therefore he will not <sup>z</sup>spare in the daye of vengeance.

35 He can not beare the sight of any raunfome: neither will he consent, though thou augment the giftes.

That man by nature seeketh his death, that hath abused his wife, and so concludeth that neither Gods Law nor the law of nature admitteth a. my raunfome for the adulterie.

<sup>l</sup> As I was in the window of mine house, I looked through my window, <sup>m</sup> And I saw among the fooles, and considered among the children a yong man destitute of vnderstanding.

<sup>n</sup> Who passed through the streete by her corner, and went toward her house,

<sup>c</sup> Therefore came I forth to meet thee, that I might seeke thy face: and I haue founde thee.

<sup>g</sup> Come, let vs take our fil of loue vntil the morning: let vs take our pleasure in dalliance.

16 By me princes rule and the nobles, and al
the iudges of the earth.

17 I loue them that loue me: and they that seeke me<sup>e</sup> earely shall finde me.

18 Riches and honour are with me: <sup>euen</sup> durable riches and righteousnes.

19 My fruite is better then golde, <sup>euen</sup> then fine golde, and my reuenues better then fine siluer.

20 I cause to walke in the waye of righte ousnes, and in the middes of the paths of iudgement,

21 That I may cause them that loue me, to inherit substance, and I will fill their trea sures.

22 The Lord hath possessed me in the be ginning of his way: I was<sup>e</sup> before his works of olde.

23 I was set vp from cuerlasting, from the beginning and before the earth.

24 When there were no depths, was I be gotten, when there were no fountaines a bunding with water.

25 Before the mountaines were seled: and before the hilles, was I begotten.

26 He had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the dust in the worlde.

27 John calleth the wordes that was in the beginning. John 1. 1.

27 When he prepared the heauens, I was there, when he set the compas vpon the deepe.

28 When he established the clouds aboue, when he confirmed the fountaines, of the deepe,

29 When he gaue his decree to the sea, that the waters shoulde not passe his comman dement: when he appointed the founda tions of the earth,

30 Then<sup>e</sup> was I with him as a nouwiser, &
I was daily his delight reioycing alway be fore him,

31 And tooke my<sup>e</sup> solace in the compas of his earth, and my delight is with the chil dren of men.

32 Therefore now hearken, O children, va to me: for blessed are they that keepe my wayes.

33 Heare instruction, and be ye wise, and refuse it not: blessed is the man that hea reth mee, watching dayly at my gates, and giuyng attendance at the postes of my doores.

34 For he that findeth me, findeth lyfe, and shal obtaine fauour of the Lord.

35 But he that sinneth against me, hurte
th his owne soule: and all that hate me, loue death.

word, which is the true light of the world.
The foolish woman is the chiefe

By the foolish woman, some vn
derstand the wic ked preachers, who counterfai
t the words of God, as appea
reth ver. 26, which were the words of the true preachers as ver. 25, but theirs doctrine is but a floure wa ter, that they are but mens traditi ons, which are more pleasant to the fleshe than the wordes of God, and therefore they themselves boast thereof.

of the Lorde, and the knowledge of holie things, & vnderstanding.

11 For thy dayes shalbe multiplyed by me, and the yerres of thy life shalbe augmen ted.

12 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for thy selfe, and if thou be a corner, thou a lone shalt suffer.

13 A foolish woman is troublesome: she is ignorant, and knoweth nothing.

14 But she sitteth at the doore of her house on a seat in the hie places of the cite.

15 To call them that passe by the way, that go right on their way, saying,

16 Who so is simple, let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisdom,
she saith also,

17 Stollen waters are sweete, and hid bread is pleasant.

18 But he knoweth not, that the dead are there, and that her ghestes are in the depth of hell.

19 But mens traditi

thereof.

for the back of him that is destitute of wi

14 Wise men lay vp knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is a present destructi o.

15 The riche mans goodes are his strong city: but the feare of the needy is their po uerty.

16 The labour of the righteous sendeth to lyfe: but the reuenues of the wicked to sinne.

17 He that regardeth instruction, is in the way of life: but he that refuseth correction, goeth out of the way.

18 He that dissembleth hatred with lying lippes, and he that inuenteth slander, is a foole.

19 In many wordes there cannot want in iquite: but he that refraineth his lippes, is wise.

20 The tongue of the iust man is as a finer siluer: but the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lippes of the righteous doe feed ma ny: but fooles shall dye for want of wi sdom.

22 The blessing of the Lorde, it maketh riche, and he doeth adde no sorowes k with it.

23 It is as a pastyme to a foole to doe wic kedly: but wisdom is vnderstanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shall come vpon him: but God wil graunt the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whirlewind passeth, so is the wic ked no more: but the righteous is as an e uerlasting foundation.

26 As vineger is to the reeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the slouthful to them that send him.

27 The feare of the Lord increaseth the dayes: but the yerres of the wicked shall be diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shall be gladnes: but the hope of the wicked shal perish.

29 The way of the Lord is strength to the vpright man: but feare shall be for the workers of iniquitie.

30 The righteous shal neuer be remooued: but the wicked shall nor dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the iust shall be fruitfull in wisdom: but the tongue of the froward shal be cut out.

32 The lippes of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wic ked speaketh froward things.

In this chapter, and al that folowe vnto the thirtieth, the

THE PARABLES OF SALOMON.

1 A Wise sonne maketh a glad father:
but a foolish sonne is an heauinesse to his mother.

2 The treasures of wickednesse profit nothing: but righteousness deliuereth from death.

3 The Lord wil not famish the soule of the righteous: but he casteth away the sub stance of the wicked.

4 A foolish hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh riche.

5 He that gathereth in sommer, is the sonne of wisdom: but he that sleepeth in har uest, is the sonne of confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of the right eous: but iniquitie shal couer the mouth of the wicked.

7 The memorial of the iust shal be blessed:
but the name of the wicked shal rotte.

8 The wise in heart wil receyue commaun dements: but the foolish in talk shall be beaten.

9 He that walketh vprightly, walketh bold ly: but he that peruerteth his waies, shal be known.

10 He that winketh with the eye, wor keth forrowe: & he that is foolish in talke, shal be beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a wel spring of lyfe: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Haired fireth vp contentions: but loue couereth all trespasses.

13 In the lippes of him that hath vnder

4 * Riches auail not in the day of wrath: but righteousness deliuereth from death.

5 The righteousness of the vpright shal direct his way: but the wicked shall fall in his owne wickednes.

6 The righteousness of the iust shal deliuer them: but the transgressors shal be taken in their owne wickednes.

7 * When a wicked man dieth, his hope perisheth, and the hope of the vniuſt shall perish.

8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, & the wicked shall come in his stead.

9 An hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but the righteous shall be deliuered by knowledge.

10 In the prosperitie of the righteous the citie reioyceth, and when the wicked perish, there is ioy.

11 By the blessing of the righteous, the citie is exalted: but it is subuerted by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that despiseth his neighbour, is destitute of wisdom: but a man of vnderstanding will keepe silence.

13 He that goeth about as a slanderer, discovereth a secret: but he that is of a saythful heart, concealeth a matter.

14 Where no counsel is, the people fall: but where many counsellors are, there is health.

15 He shal be sore vexed, that is suretie for a stranger, and he that hateth suretyship, is sure.

16 A gracious woman attaineth honour, & the strong men attayne riches.

17 He that is merciful, rewardeth his owne soule: but he that troubleth his owne flesh, is cruel.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitful worke: but he that soweth righteousness, shall receive a sure reward.

19 As righteousness leadeh to life: so he that followeth euil, seeketh his owne death.

20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lorde: but they that are vpright in their way, are his delire.

21 Though hand ioyne in hand, the wicked shal not be vn Timer: but the seede of the righteous shal escape.

22 As a iewel of golde in a swines snout: so is a fayre woman, which lacketh discretion.

23 The desire of the righteous is only good: but the hope of the wicked is indignation.

24 There is that scattereth, and is more increased: but he that spareth more, then is right, surely cometh to povertie.

25 The liberal person shal haue plenty: & he that watereth, shal also haue rayne.

26 He that withdraweth the corne, the people wil curse him: but blessing shalbe vpon the head of him that selleth corne.

27 He that seeketh good things, getteth fauour: but he that seeketh euil, it shal come to him.

28 He that trusteth in his riches, shall fall: but the righteous shal flourish as a lease.

29 He that troubleth his owne house, shal inherite the wind, & the foole shalbe seruuant to the wise in heart.

30 The fruit of the righteous is as a tree of life, and he that winneth soules, is wise.

31 Behold, the righteous shalbe recompensed in the earth: how much more y wicked and the sinner?

CHAP. XII.

1 HE that loueth instruction, loueth knowledge: but he that hateth correction, is a foole.

2 A good man getteth fauour of the Lord: but the man of wicked imaginations will he condemne.

3 A man cannot be established by wickednes: but the roote of the righteous shall not be mooued.

4 A vertuous woman is the crowne of her husband: but she that maketh him ashamed, is as corruption in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the iust are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceitful.

6 The talking of the wicked is to lie in waite for blood: but the mouth of the righteous wil deliuer them.

7 God ouerthroweth the wicked, and they are not: but the house of the righteous shal stand.

8 A man shalbe commended for his wisdom: but the frowarde of heart shal be despised.

9 He that is despised, and his owne seruunt, is better then he that boasteth himselfe and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast: but the mercies of the wicked are cruel.

11 He that tilleth his land, shal be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth the idle, is destitute of vnderstanding.

12 The wicked desireth the net of euils: but the roote of the righteous giueth fruit.

13 The euil man is snared by the wickednes of his lips, but the iust shal come out of aduersitie.

14 A man shalbe satiate with good things by the fruite of his mouth, and the recompence of a mans hands shal God giue vnto him.

15 The way of a foole is right in his owne eyes: but hee that heareth counsell, is wise.

16 A foole in a day shall be known by his anger: but he that couereth shame, is wise.

17 He that speaketh truth, will shewe righteousness: but a false witness sheweth deceit.

18 * There is that speaketh words like the pricking of a sworde: but the tongue of wife men is health.

19 The lippe of truth shalbe stable for euer: but a lying tongue varieth continually.

21 There shall none iniquitie come to the iust: but the wicked are full of euil.

22 The lying lippes are an abomination to the Lord: but they that deal truly are his delite.

23 A wise man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of the fooles publisheth foolishnes.

24 The hande of the diligent shall beare rule: but the idle shall be vnder tribute.

25 Heauines in the heart of man dorth bring it downe: but a good worde reioy- ceth it.

26 The righteous is more excellent then his neighbour: but the way of the wicked wil deceiue them.

27 The deceitfull man roseth not, that hee trooke in hunting: but y<sup>e</sup> riches of the diligent man are precious.

28 Life is in the way of righteousness, and in that pathway there is no death.

CHAP. XIII.

1 A Wife sonne wil obey the instruction of his father: but a scorner will heare no rebuke.

2 A man shall eat good things by the fruite of his mouth: but the soule of the trespassers shall suffer violence.

3 He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but he that openeth his lips, destruction shall be to him.

4 The fluggard is lustre, but his soule hath nought: but the soule of the diligent shall haue plenty.

5 A righteous man hateth lying words: but the wicked causeth slander and shame.

6 Righteousnes preferueth the vpright of life: but wickednes overthroweth the sinner.

7 There is that maketh himselfe rich, and hath nothing, and that maketh himselfe poore, hauing great riches.

8 A man wil giue his riches for the raunsome of his life: but the poore can not heare the reprove.

9 The light of the righteous reioyeth: but the candle of the wicked shall be put out.

10 Onely by pride doth man make contention: but with the wel aduised is wisdom.

11 The riches of vanitie shall dimnish: but he that gathereth with the hand, shall increase them.

12 The hope that is deferred, is the fainting of the heart: but when y<sup>e</sup> desire commeth, it is as a tree of life.

13 He that despiseth the worde, he shall be destroyed: but he that feareth the commandement, he shall be rewarded.

14 The instruction of a wise man is as the welpring of life, to turne away from the snares of death.

15 Good vnderstanding maketh acceptable:

but the way of the disobedient is hated.

16 Euery wise man wil worke by knowledge: but a foole will spread abroad folly.

17 A wicked messenger falleth into euil: but a faithfull ambassadour is preseruati- on.

18 Pouttie and shame is to him that refuseth instruction: but he that regardeth correction, shall be honoured.

19 A desire accomplished deliveth y<sup>e</sup> soule: but it is an abomination to fooles to depart from euil.

20 He that walketh with the wise, shall be wise: but a companion of fooles shall be afflicted.

21 Affliction followeth sinners: but vnto the righteous God wil recompense good.

22 The good man shall giue inheritance vnto his childrens children: and the riches of the sinner is layd vp for the iust.

23 Much food is in the field of the poore: but the field is destroyed without discreti- on.

24 He that spareth his rodde, hateth his sonne: but he that loweth him, chasteneth him betime.

25 The righteous eateth to the contenta- tion of his minde: but the belly of the wicked shall want.

CHAP. XIII.

1 A Wise woman buyldeth her house: but the foolish destroyeth it with her owne handes.

2 He that walketh in his righteousness, feareth the Lord: but he that is lewde in his wayes, despiseth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish is the rod of pride: but the lippes of the wise preferue them.

4 Where none oxen are, there the crib is empty: but much increase commeth by the strength of the ox.

5 A faithfull witness wil not lye: but a false recorde wil speake lyes.

6 A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easie to him that wil vnderstand.

7 Depart from the foolish man, when thou perceiuest not in him the lippes of know- ledge.

8 The wisdom of the prudent is to vnder- stand his way: but the foolishnes of the fooles is deceit.

9 The foole maketh a mocke of sinne: but among the righteous there is fauour.

10 The heart knoweth the bitterness of his soule, and the stranger shall not medle with his ioye.

11 The house of the wicked shall be destroy- ed: but the tabernacle of the righteous shall flourish.

12 There is a way that seemeth right to a man: but the issues thereof are the wayes of death.

18 The foolish do inherite follie: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

22 Do not they erre that imagine euil: but to them that thinke on good things, shal be talke of the lippes bringeth onely want.

dome: but he that is of an hasty minde, exalteth folie.

death.

shame to the people.

35 The pleasure of a King is in a wise seruant: but his wrath shalbe towarde him that is lewde.

CHAP. XV.

1 A "Soft answer putteth away wrath: but agrieuous wordes stirre vp anger.

2 The tongue of the wise vseth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fooles "babeleth out foolishnes.

3 The eyes of the Lord in euerie place be-holde the euil and the good.

4 A wholesome tongue is as a tree of life: but the frowardnes thereof is the breaking of the minde.

5 A foole despiseth his fathers instruction:
but he that regardeth correction, is prudent.

6 The house of the righteous hath much treasure: but in the reuenues of the wicked is "trouble.

7 The lippes of the wise do spread abroad knowledge: but the heart of the foolishne doeth not so.

8 The "sacrifice of the wicked is abomination to the Lorde: but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable vnto him.

9 The way of the wicked is an abomination vnto the Lord: but he loueth him that fol-loweth righteousness.

10 Instruction is euil to him that "forsaketh the way, & he that hateth correction, shal dye.

11 "Hel & destruction are before the Lord:
how much more the heartes of the onnes of men?

12 A scorner loueth not him that rebuketh him, neither wil he go vnto the wise.

13 "A ioyful heart maketh a chereful countenance: but by the sorow of the heart the minde is heavy.

14 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is fed with foolishnes.

15 Al the dayes of the afflicted are euill: but a good "conscience is a continual feast.

Lord, then greates treasure and trouble therewith.

loue is, then a stalled oxe & haired there-hee that is slowe to wrath, appealeth strife.

19 The way of a slothful man is as an hedge is plaine.

20 "A wise sonne reioyceth the father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.

21 Foolishnes is ioy to him that is destitute of vnderstanding: but a man of vnderstanding walketh vprightly.

22 Without counsell thoughtes come to lers there is stedfastnes.

23 A ioy commeth to a man by the answer of his mouth: and how good is a word in due season?

24 The way of life is on high to "y prudent, proud men: but he wil stablish the borders sant wordes.

27 He that is griedie of gaine, troubleth his owne house: but he that hateth gifts, shal

28 The heart of the righteous studieth to Vnderstanding is a wellspring of life vnto them that haue it: and the instruction of fooles is folie.

The heart of the wise guideth his mouth wisely, and addeth doctrine to his lippes.
Fayre wordes are as an honie combe, sweetenes to the soule, and health to the bones.

CHAP. XVI.

He derideth the presumption of mā, who dare attribute to him selfe any thing, as to prepare his heart or such like, seeing he is not able to speak a worde, except God giue it him.
He sheweth hereby, that mā flattereth himselfe in his doings: calling that vertue which God termeth vice.

- 1 The preparations of the heart are in man: but the answer of the tongue is of the Lord.
2 All the waies of man are cleane in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the spirits.
3 Commit thy workes vnto the Lord, and thy thoughts shalbe directed.
4 The Lord hath made all thinges for his owne sake: yea, euen the wicked for the day of euil.
5 All that are proude in heart, are an abomination to the Lord: though hand ioyne in hand, he shal not be unpunished.
6 By the mercie and trueth iniquitie shalbe forgiven, & by the feare of the Lord they departe from euil.
7 When the wayes of a mā please the Lord, he wil make also his enemies at peace with him.
8 Better is a litle with righteousness, then great reuenues without equitie.
9 The heart of man purpoeleth his way: but the Lord doeth direct his steppes.
10 A diuine sentence shalbe in the lippes of the King: his mouth shal not transgresse in iudgement.
11 A true weight and balance are of the Lord: all the weights of the bagge are his worke.
12 It is an abomination to Kinges to commit wickednes: for the throne is stablished by iustice.
13 Righteous lippes are the delite of Kinges, and the King loueth him that speaketh right things.
14 The wrath of a King is as messengers of death: but a wise man wil pacifie it.
15 In the light of the Kinges countenance is life: and his fauour is as a cloude of the latter raine.

- 25 There is a way that seemeth right vnto man: but the yssue thereof are the waies of death.
26 The persone that traueileth, traueileth for himselfe: for his mouth craughth it of him.
27 A wicked man diggeth vp euil, and in his lippes is like burning fyre.
28 A frowarde person soweth strife: and a tale teller maketh deuision among princes.
29 A wicked man deceiueth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the waye that is not good.
30 He shutteth his eyes to deuise wickednes: he moueth his lippes, and bringeth euil to passe.
31 Age is a crowne of glorie, when it is found in the way of righteousness.
32 He that is slow vnto anger, is better then the mightie man: and he that ruleth his owne mynd, is better then he that winneth a citie.
33 The lot is cast into the lappe: but the whole disposition thereof is of the Lord.

Peace CHAP. XVII.

So that the iustice of God shal appeare to his glorie, euen in the destruction of the wicked.
Their vpright and repenting life shalbe a token that their sinnes are forgiven.
He sheweth folie of man which thinketh that his waies are in his owne hand: and yet is not able to remove one foote except God giue force.
If they be true & iust, they are Gods worke, & he delieth therein, but otherwise if they be false, they are the worke of the diuel, & to their condemnation that vse them.
They are appointed by God to rule according to equitie and iustice.
That is, he findeth out many meanes to execute his wrath.
Which is most comfortable to the drie ground, Deut. 1. 14.

- 1 Better is a dry morsell, if peace be with it, then an house full of sacrifices with strife.
2 A discrete seruant shall haue rule ouer a lewde sonne, and he shal deuide the heritage among the brethren.
3 As is the fining potte for siluer, and the furnace for golde, so the Lord tryeth the hearts.
4 The wicked giueth heede to false lippes, and a lyer hearkeneth to the naughty tongue.
5 He that mocketh the poore, reprocheth him, that made him: and he that reioyceth at destruction, shal not be unpunished.

25 Id.

To do iustice.

15 It is a destruction for a man to deuoure that which is sanctified, & after the vowes to inquire.

16 A wife King scattereth the wicked, and causeth the wheele to turne ouer them.

17 The light of the Lord is the breath of man, and searcheth all the bowels of the bellie.

18 Mercie and truth preferue the King: for his throne shalbe established with mercie.

19 The beaurie of yong me is their strength, and the glorie of the aged is the greye head.

20 The blowes of the wound search to purge the euil, and the stripes within the bowels of the bellie.

21 The beaurie of yong me is their strength, and the glorie of the aged is the greye head.

22 The thoughtes of the diligent do surely bring abondance: but whofoeuer is hasty, commeth surely to povertie.

23 The gathering of treasures by a deceitful tongue is vanitie: rifled to, and fro of them that seeke death.

24 The robberie of the wicked shall destroy them: for they haue refused to execute iudgement.

25 The way of some is perturbed & strange: but of the pure man, his worke is right.

26 It is better to dwell in a corner of the house poor, then with a contentious woman in a wide house.

27 The soule of the wicked withereth: and his neighbour hath no fauour in his eyes.

28 When the corner is punished, the foolish is wise: and when one instructeth the wife, he will rectifie knowledge.

29 The righteous teacheth the house of the wicked: but God ouerthroweth the wicked for their euill doings.

30 He that stoppeth his eare at the crying of the poore, he shall also crye and come be heard.

31 A gift in secret pacifieth anger, and a gift in the boosome great wrath.

32 It is ioye to the iust to do iudgement: but destruction shalbe to the workers of iniquitie.

33 A man that wandereth out of the way of wisdom, shall remaine in the congregation of the dead.

34 He that loueth pastime, shall be a poore man: and he that loueth wine and oyle, shall not beriche.

18 The wicked shall be a ranfome for the iust, and the transgressor for the righteous.

19 It is better to dwell in the wilderness, then with a contentious and angrie woman.

20 In the house of the wife is a pleasant treasure and oyle: but a foolish man deuoureth it.

21 He that followeth after righteousness and mercie, shall haue life, righteousness, and glorie.

22 A wise man goeth vp with the title of the night, and taster downe strength of the confidence thereof.

23 He that keepeth his mouth, shall keep his tongue: he that keepeth his looke, shall keep his sin.

24 Proude, haucie and conceited, his name shall be hated: and his name shall be hated.

25 The hands of the wicked shall be refused: for his hands refuse to worke.

26 The righteous giueth, and his hands shall be strong: he shall be strong.

27 The righteous shall be strong: he shall be strong: he shall be strong.

28 A false witness shall perishe: but the righteous shall be strong.

29 A wicked man hardeneth his face: but the righteous will be strong.

30 There is no wisdom in the mouth of the wicked: nor counsel against the Lord.

31 The heart is prepared against the day of battle: but the hand of the Lord.

32 A good man is not to be envied: but a wicked man is to be envied.

33 The rich and the poore shall be together: the Lord is the maker of them all.

34 A prudent man seeth the snares of the Lord: and he hideth himselfe: but the foolish go on, and are punished.

35 The reward of humility is the feare of God: riches and glorie is the feare of the Lord.

36 Thornes & snares are in the way of the froward: but he that represseth his soule, will depart farre from them.

37 To chide a child in the way of his way, and when he is olde, he shall not depart from it.

38 The righteous ruleth the poore, and the borrower is seruaunt to the lender.

39 He that soweth iniquitie, shall reape affliction, and the rodde of his anger shall faile.

40 He that hath a good eye, hee shall be blessed: for he giueth of his bread vnto the poore.

41 Cast out the corner, and the strife shall go out: so contention and reproche shall cease.

42 He that loveth purenes of heart, shall be the grace of his lippe, the King shall be his friend.

43 The eyes of the Lord are present knowledge: but he ouerthroweth the words of the CHAP. XXIII.

- 1 BE * not thou enuious against euil men, neither desire to be with them.
- 2 For their heart imagineth destruction, & their lippes speake mischief.
- 3 Through wisdom is an house builded, & with vnderstanding it is established.
- 4 And by knowledge shall the chambers be filled with all precious, and pleasant riches.

5 A wise man is strong: for a man of vnderstanding encreaseth his strength.

6 * For with counsel thou shalt enterprise thy warre, and in the multitude of them that can giue counsell, is health.

7 Wisdom is hie to a foole: therefore he can not open his mouth in the gate.

8 He that imagineth to do euil, men shall call him an autor of wickednes.

9 The wicked thought of a foole is sinne, & the scorner is an abomination vnto men.

10 If thou be faint in the day of aduersitie, thy strength is small.

11 Deliuer them that are drawn to death: and wilth thou not preserue them that are led to be slaine?

12 If thou say, Beholde, we knew not of it: he that pondereth the hearts, doeth not he vnderstand it? and he that keepeth thy soule, knoweth he it not? wil not hee also recompense euery man according to his workes?

13 My sonne, eate <sup>h</sup> honie, for it is good, & the honie combe, for it is sweete vnto thy mouth.

14 So shall the knowledge of wisdom be vnto thy soule, if thou finde it, and there shalbe an end, and thine hope shall not be cut off.

15 Lay no waite, O wicked man, against the house of the righteous, and spoyle not his resting place.

16 For a iust man <sup>f</sup>alleth seuen times, and riseth againe: but the wicked fal into mischief.

17 Be thou not glad when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart reioyce when he stumbleth, 18 Least the Lord see it, & it displease him, and he turne his wrath <sup>f</sup>rom him.

19 * Fret not thy selfe because of the malicious, neither be enuious at the wicked.

20 For there shalbe none end of <sup>p</sup>lagues to the euil man: * the light of the wicked shall be put out.

21 My sonne, feare the Lord, and the King, and meddle not with them that are sedicious.

22 For their destruction shall rise suddenly, and who knoweth the ruine of the both?

23 ALSO THESE THINGS PERTEINE TO THE WISE, It is not good to haue respect of anie person in iudgement.

24 He that faith to the wicked, * Thou art righteous, him shall the people curse, and the multitude shall abhorre him.

25 But to them that rebuke him, shall be pleasure, and vpon them shall come the blessing of goodnes.

26 They shall kisse the lippes of him that answereth vpriht wordes.

27 Prepare thy worke without, and make readie thy things in the field, and after, buyld thine house.

28 Be not a witnes against thy neighbour without cause: for wilt thou deceiue with thy lippes?

29 * Say not, I will do to him, as hee hath done to me, I wil recompence euery man according to his worke.

30 I passed by the hield of the slouthful, and by the vineyard of the man destitute of vnderstanding.

31 And lo, it was all growen ouer with thornes, and nettles had couered the face thereof, and the stone wall thereof was broken downe.

32 Then I behelde, and I considered it well: I looked vpon it, and I receiued instructi- on.

33 Yea a litle sleepe, a litle slumber, a litle folding of the hands to sleepe, 34 So thy pouertie commeth as one that traueileth by the waye, and thy necessitie like an armed man.

3 The heauens in height, and the earth in deepenes, and the Kings heart can no man search out.

4 Take the drosse from the siluer, and there shall proceede a vessel for the finer.

5 Take away the wicked from the King, and his throne shalbe established in righteousness.

6 Boast not thy selfe before the King, and stand not in the place of great men.

* For it is better, that it be said vnto thee, Come vp hither, the thou to be put lower in the presence of the prince whom thine eyes haue seene.

8 Go not forgh hastily to strife, least thou knowe not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.

9 Debate thy matter with thy neighbour, and discouer not the secret to another.

10 Left he that heareth it, put thee to shame, and thine infamie do not cease.

- 11 A word spoken in his place, is like appels of golde with pictures of siluer.
12 He that reprobeth the wife, and the obedi-

ornament of fine golde.
13 As the colde of the snow in the time of haruest, so is a faithful messenger to them that fend him: for he refresheth the soule of his masters.
14 A man that boasteth of false liberalitie, is like clouds and winde without raine.
15 A Prince is pacified by staying<sup>1</sup> of anger, and a soft tongue breaketh the<sup>m</sup> bones.
16 If thou haue founde honie, eate that is sufficient for thee, least thou be ouerful, and vomit it.
17 Withdraw thy foote from thy neighbours house, least he be wearie of thee, and hate
thee.
18 A man that beareth false witnes against his neighbour, is like an hammer and a sword, and a sharpe arrowe.
19 Confidence in a vnfaithfull man in time of trouble is like a broken tooth and a fly-ding foote.
20 He that taketh away the garment in the colde season, is like vineger poured vpon nitre, or like him that singeth songs to an heauie heart.
21 * If he that hateth thee be hungrie, giue him bread to eate, & if he be thirstie, giue him water to drinke.
22 For thou shalt lay <sup>p</sup> coles vpon his head, and the Lord shall recompense thee.
23 As the Northwinde driueth away y<sup>e</sup> raine, so doeth an angrie countenance the slandering tongue.
24 * It is better to dwell in a corner of the houle toppe, then with a contentious woman in a wide houfe.
25 As are the colde waters to a wearie soule, so is good newes from a farre country.
26 A righteous man falling downe before the wicked, is like a troubled well, and a corrupt spring.
27 It is not good to eate much honie: * so to searche their owne glorie is not glorie.
28 A man that refraineth not his appetite, is like a citie which is y<sup>e</sup> broken downe, and without walles.

CHAP. XXVI.

- 1 As the snowe in the sommer, and as the raine in the haruest are not meete, so is honour vnseemely for a foole.
2 As the sparowe by flying, and the swalow by flying escape, so the curse that is causeless, shall not come.
3 Vnto the horse belongeth a whip, to the asse a bridle, & a rodde to the fooles back.
4 * Answer not a foole according to his foolishnes, least thou also be like him.
5 Answer a foole according to his foo-lishnes, lest he be wise in his owne con-ceite.
6 He that sendeth a message by the hande of a foole, is as he that cutteth of y<sup>e</sup> feete,

- and drinketh iniquitie.
7 As they that lift vp the legges of y<sup>e</sup> lame, so is a parable in a fooles mouth.
8 As the closing vp of a precious stone in an heape of stones, so is he that giueth glory to a foole.
9 As a thorne standing vpon in the hande of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fooles.
10 The excellent that formed all things, both rewardeth the foole and rewardeth
the transgressors.
11 * As a dogge turneth againe to his owne vomit, so a foole turneth to his foolishnes.
12 Seest thou a man wise in his owne con-ceite? * more hope is of a foole then of
him.
13 The slouthfull man saith, A Lyon is in the way: a Lyon is in the streetes.
14 As the doore turneth vpon his hinges, so doeth the slouthfull man vpon his bed.
15 * The slouthfull hideth his hande in his bosom, and it griueth him to put it againe to his mouth.
16 The sluggarde is wiser in his owne con-ceite, then seuen men that can render a reason.
17 He that passeth by and medleth with the strife that belongeth not vnto him, is as one that taketh a dogge by the eares.
18 As he that faineth himselfe mad, casteth fire brandes, arrowes and mortall things, 19 So dealeth the deceitfull man with his friend and faith, Am not I in sport?
20 Without word the fire is quenched, and without a talebearer strife ceaseth.
21 * As the cole maketh burning coles, and wood a fire, so the contentious man is apt to kindle strife.
22 * The wordes of a tale bearer are as flat-terings, and they go downe into y<sup>e</sup> bowels of the bellie.
23 As siluer drosse overlaid vpon a potsheard, so are burning lippes, and an euil heart.
24 He that hateth, will counterfait with his lippes, but in his heart he layeth vp deceite.
25 Though he speake fauourably, beleue him not: for there are seuen abominations in his heart.
26 Hatred may be couered by deceite: but the malice therof shall be discovered in the congregation.
27 * He that diggeth a pit, shall fall therein, and he that roleteth a stone, it shall returne vnto him.
28 A false tongue hateth the afflicted, and a flattering mouth causeth ruine.

13 There is a generation y are pure in their owne conceit, and yet are not washed from their filthines.

13 There is a generation, whose eyes are haue, and their eye liddes are lited vp.

14 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swordes, and their chawes as kniues to eat vp the afflicted out of the earth, and the poore from among men.

15 The horse leache hath two daughters which crye, Giue, giue. There be three things that will not be satisfied: yea, foure that say not, It is ynough.

16 The graue, and the baren wombe, the earth that cannot be satisfied with water, and the fire that saith not, It is ynough.

17 The eye that mocketh his father and despiseth the instruction of his mother, let the rauens of the valley picke it out, and the yong eagles eat it.

18 There be three things hid from me: yea, foure that I know not.

19 The way of an eagle in the aire, the way of a serpent vpon a stone, the way of a ship in the middes of the sea, and the way of a man with a maide.

20 Such is the waye also of an adulterous woman: shee eateth and wipeth her mouth, and faith, I haue not committed iniquitie.

21 For three things the earth is moued: yea, for foure it cannot susteine it selfe:

22 For a seruant when he reigneth, and a foole when he is filled with meat,

23 For the hateful woman, when she is married, and for a handmaide that is heire to her mistres.

24 These be foure small things in the earth, yet they are a wife and full of wisedome:

25 The pismires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meate in sommer:

26 The conies a people not mightie, yet make they their houses in the rocke:

27 The grasshopper hath no King, yet go they forth all by bandes:

28 The spider taketh holde with her hands, and is in Kings palaces.

29 There be three things that order well their going: yea, foure are comelie in going,

30 A lyon which is strong among beasts, & turneth not at the sight of anie:

31 A lustie grayhounde, and a goate, and a King against whome there is no rising vp.

32 If thou hast bene foolish in lifting thy self vp, and if thou hast thought wickedly, lay thine hand vpon thy mouth.

1 THE WORDES OF KING LE-muel: The prophesie which his mother taught him.

2 What my sonne! and what the sonne of my wombe! and what, O sonne of my desires!

3 Giue not thy strength vnto women, nor thy wayes, which is to destroy Kings.

4 It is not for Kings, O Lemuel, it is not for Kings to drinke wine, nor for princes strong drinke, 5 Left he drinke, and forget the decree, & change the iudgement of all the children of affliction.

6 Giue ye strong drinke vnto him, that is readie to perishe, and wine vnto them that haue grieue of heart.

7 Let him drinke, that he may forget his pouertie; and remember his miserie no more.

8 Open thy mouth for the domme in the cause of all the children of destruction.

9 Open thy mouth: iudge righteously, and iudge the afflicted, and the poore.

13 She seeketh wool and flaxe, and labourereth cheerefully with her hands.

14 She is like the shippes of marchants: she bringeth her foode from asfarre.

16 She considereth a field, & getteth it: with the fruite of her hands she planteth a vineyarde.

17 She girdeth her loines with strength, & strengthneth her armes.

18 She feeleth that her marchandise is good: her candle is not put out by night.

19 She purereth her hands to the wherue, & her hands handle the spindie.

20 She stretcheth out her hand to the poore, & putteth forth her hands to the needie.

21 She feareth not the snowe for her familie: for al her familie is clothed with skarlet.

22 She maketh her selfe carpets: fine linen and purple is her garment.

23 Her husbande is knowne in the gates, when he sitteth with Elders of the land.

24 She maketh sheetes, and selleth them, and giueth girdels vnto the marchants.

25 Strength and honour is her clothing, and in the latter day she shall reioyce.

26 She openeth her mouth with wisdom, & the lawe of grace is in her tongue.

27 She ouerleeth wayes of her housholde, and eateth not the bread of ydlenes.

28 Her children rise vp, and call her blessed: her husband also shall praise her, saying,

ECCLESIASTES, OR the Preacher.

THE ARGUMENT.

Salomon, as a preacher and one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the deceivable vanities of this world, that man should not be addicted to anie thing vnder the sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heavenly life: therefore he confuseth their opinions, which see their felicitie, either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie & riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is vnited with God and shall inioye his presence: so that al other things must be reiected, save in as much as they further vs to attaine to this heavenly treasure, which is sure and permanent, and can not be found in anie other save in God alone.

CHAP. I.

All things in this world are full of vanitie, and of none enduranc. 13 All mans wisdom is but folie and griefe.

I He wordes of y<sup>e</sup> Preacher, the sonne of Dauid King in Ierusalem. b Vanitie of vanities, saith y<sup>e</sup> Preacher: vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie.

3 What remaineth vnto man in all his t<sup>r</sup>auaile, which he suffreth vnder the sunne? One generation passeth, and another generation succedeth: but the earth remaineth for euer.

5 The sunne riseth, and the sunne goeth downe, and draweth to his place, where he riseth.

6 The winde goeth toward the South, & compasseth toward the North: the winde goeth round about, and returneth by his circuits.

7 Al the riuers go into the sea, yet the sea is not full: for the riuers go vnto the place, whence they returne, and go.

All things are ful of labour: man can not vtter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.

9 What is it, that hath bene? that that shalbe: and what is it that hath bene done? that which shalbe done: and there is no new thing vnder the sunne.

10 Is there any thing, whereof one may say, Beholde this, it is new? it hath bene alreadie in the olde time that was before vs.

11 There is no memorie of the former, neither shall there be a remembrance of the later that shalbe, with them that shal come after.

12 ¶ The Preacher haue bene King ouer can be no felicitie in this world. Eccles. 4. 11. f The few which compasseth all the earth, filleth the veynes thereof, the which powre out springs and riuers into the sea againe.

g He speaketh of times and seasons and things done in them, which as they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe. h He proueth that if aie could haue attained to felicitie in this worlde by labour and studie, he chiefly should haue obtained it, because he had giftes and aides of God thereunto aboue al other.

Iracl in Ierusalem:

13 And I haue giuen mine heart to searche and finde out wisdom by all things that are done vnder the heauen: (this fore t<sup>r</sup>auaile hath God giuen to y<sup>e</sup> sonnes of men, to humble them thereby)

14 I haue considered all the workes that are done vnder the sunne, and beholde, all is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

15 That which is crooked, can none make straight: and that which faileth, can not be nombred.

16 I thought in mine heart, and said, Behold, I am become great, and excel in wisdom all them that haue bene before mee in Ierusalem: and mine heart hath seene much wisdom and knowledge.

17 And I gaue mine heart to know wisdom and knowledge, madnes and foolishnes: I knew also that this is a vexation of the spirit.

18 For in the multitude of wisdom is much griefe: and hee that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorowe.

serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but griefe and trouble of conscience. m Wisdom and knowledge cannot become by without great paine of bodie and minde: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this worlde is no true felicitie.

CHAP. II.

Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches and possessions are but vanitie. 14 The wise and the fool haue both one and touching the bodily death.

1 Said in mine heart, Go to now, I will proue thee with ioye: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: and beholde, this also is vanitie.

2 I said of laughter, Thou art mad: and of ioye, What is this that thou doest?

3 I thought in mine heart to giue myselfe to wine, & to lead mine heart in wisdom, pleasures, and to take holde of folie, til I might see where is that goodnes of the children of men, which they enioy vnder the sunne: the whole number of the daies of their life.

4 I haue made my great works: I haue built me houses: I haue planted me vineyards. I haue made me gardens and orchards, and planted in them trees of all fruite.

6 I haue made mee cisternes of water, to water therewith the woods that growe with trees.

i Man of nature hath a desire to know, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of sinne, to humble man, and to teach him to depend only vpon God. k Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to goe otherwise than they do: neither can he number faults that are committed, much lesse remedie them. l That is, vaine things, which were contentation in ease and pleasures. m Elie drew my heart to wine. n Albeit I gaue myselfe to pleasures, yet I thought to kepe wisdom and the fraye of God in mine heart, and gouerne mine affayres by the same. o Elie. ds. p Elie. paradisa.

7 I haue gotten seruants & maids, and had children borne in the house: also I had great possession of beues & sheepe about all that were before me in Ierusalem.

8 I haue gathered vnto me also siluer and golde, and the chiefe treasures of Kings & prouinces: I haue prouided me men singers and women fingers, and the delicies of the sonnes of men, as a woman. taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was great, and increased about all that were before me in Ierusalem: also my wisdom remained with me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from them: I withdrew not mine heart from anie ioye: for mine heart reioyced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my trauaile.

11 Then I looked on all my works that mine hands had wrought, and on the trauaile that I had laboured to do: and behold, all is vanitie and vexation of the spirit: and there is no profite vnder the sunne.

12 And I turned to behold wisdom, and madnes and folie: (for who is the mā that wil come after the King in things, which men now haue done?)

13 Then I sawe that there is profite in wisdom, more then in folie: as the light is more excellent then darkenes.

14 For the wise mans eyes are in his head, but the fooles walketh in darkenes: yet I know also that the same condition falleth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth vnto mee as it befalleth to the fooles. Why therefore do I the labour to be more wise? And I said in mine heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For there shalbe no remembrance of the wife, nor of the fooles: for euer: for that that now is, in the daies to come shal be forgotten. And how dyeth the wife mā, as doeth the fooles?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne is grieuous vnto me: for all is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne, which I shall leaue to the man that shalbe after me.

19 And who knoweth whether hee shalbe wise or foolish? yet shal he haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue trauailed, & wherein I haue shewed my selfe wise vnder the sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne.

21 For there is a man whose trauaile is in wisdom, and in knowledge & in equitie: yet to a man that hath not trauailed herein, shall hee giue his portion: this also is vanitie and a great griefe.

22 For what hath man of all his trauaile and griefe of his heart, wherein he hath trauailed vnder the sunne?

23 For al his dayes are sorrowes, and his trauaile griefe: his heart also taketh not rest in the night: which also is vanitie.

24 There is no profite to man: but that he eat, and drinke, and delight his soule with the profite of his labour: I sawe also this, that it was of the hand of God.

25 For who could eat, and who could haue to outward things more then I?

26 Surely to a man that is good in his sight, God giueth wisdom, and knowledge, and ioye: but to the sinner he giueth paine, to gather, and to heape to giue to him that is good before God: this is also vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

CHAP. III.

1 All things haue their time. 14 The workes of God are perfect, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shall iudge both the iust, and vnjust.

1 TO all things there is an appointed time, and a time to euerie purpose vnder the heauen.

2 A time to be borne, and a time to dye: a time to plant, and a time to plucke vp that which is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to build.

4 A time to weepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to dance.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time to be farre from embracing.

6 A time to seeke, and a time to lose: a time to keepe, and a time to cast away.

7 A time to rent, and a time to sowe: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What profit hath he that worketh, of the thing wherein he trauaileth?

10 I haue seene the trauaile that God hath giuen to the sonnes of men: to humble them thereby.

11 He hath made euerie thing beautifull in his time: also hee hath set the world in their heart, yet can not man finde out the worke that God hath wrought fro the beginning euen to the end.

12 I know that there is nothing good in the, but to reioyce, and to do good in his life.

13 And also that euery man eateth & drinketh, and seeth the commoditie of all his labour. this is the gift of God.

14 I know that whatsoever God shall do, it shalbe for euer: to it can no man adde, & from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they should feare before him.

15 What is that that hath bene: that is now: and that that shalbe, hath none bene: for God requireth that which is past.

16 And moreover I haue seene vnder the sunne the place of iudgement, where was wickednes, and the place of iustice where was iniquitie.

17 I thought in mine heart, God wil iudge the iust and the wicked: for time is there for euerie purpose and for euerie worke.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the

Of man and beast.

h And made the pure in their first creation.

i Man is notable by his reason, & judgement to put difference between man & beast, as touching those things wherunto both are subject: for the eye cannot iudge a man being dead, then of a beast, which is dead: yet by the word of God and faith we safely know the diuerſitie, as verſ. 21.

k Meaning, that reason cannot comprehend which faith beleaueth herein. l By the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap. 2. 24. and Chap. 3. 12. & 22. Chap. 5. 17. & Chap. 8. 15. he declareth that man by reason can comprehend nothing better in this life then to vie & giue of God ſoberly and comfortably: for to know farther is a ſpecial gift of God reueiled by his Spirit.

the children of men that God had<sup>h</sup> purged them: yet to ſee to, they are in themselves as beaſtes.

19 For the condition of the children of me, & the condition of beaſts are euen as one condition vnto them. As the one dieth, ſo dyeth the other: for they haue all one breath, and there is no excellencie of man about the beaſt: for al is vanitie.

20 Al go to one place, & al was of the duſt, and al ſhall returne to the duſt.

21 Who<sup>k</sup> knoweth whether the ſpirit of man aſcend vpward, and the ſpirit of the beaſt deſcend downward to the earth?

22 Therefore I ſee that there is nothing better then that a man ſhould reioyce in his affaires, becauſe that is his portion. For who ſhal bring him to ſee what ſhal be after hi?

CHAP. III.

1 The innocents are oppreſſed. 4 Men's labours are full of abuſe and vanitie. 9 Man's ſocietie is neceſſarie. 12 A young man poore, and wiſe is to be preferred to an old King that is a foole.

1 SO<sup>a</sup> I turned, and conſidered all the oppreſſions that are wrought vnder the ſunne, and beholde, the teares of the oppreſſed, & none comforteth them: and lo, the ſtrength is of the hande of them that oppreſſe them, & none comforteth them.

2 Wherefore I praized the<sup>b</sup> dead which now are dead, about the liuing, which are yet aliue.

3 And I couent him<sup>c</sup> better then them both, which hath not yet bene: for he hath not ſeene the euill workes which are wrought vnder the ſunne.

4 Alſo I behelde al trauaile, and al<sup>d</sup> perfection of workes that this is the enuie of a man againſt his neighbour: this alſo is vanitie and vexation of ſpirit.

5 The foole foldeth his hands, and<sup>e</sup> eateth vp his owne fleſh.

6 Better is an handfull with quietnes, then two handfulls with labour and vexation of ſpirit.

7 Again I returned, and ſaw vanitie vnder the ſunne.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a ſecond, which hath neither ſonne nor brother, yet is there none end of al his trauaile, neither can his eye be ſatiſfied with riches: neither doth he thinke, For whom do I trauaile and defraude my ſoule of pleaſure? this alſo is vanitie, and this is an euill trauaile.

9 Two are better then one: for they haue better wages for their labour.

10 For if they fal, the one will liſt vp his fellowe: but wo vnto him that is alone: for he ſalleth, and there is not a ſeconde to liſt him vp.

11 Alſo if two ſleepe together, then ſhal they haue heat: but to one how ſhould there be heat?

Eccleſiaſtes.

12 And if one ouercome him, two ſhal ſtand againſt him: and a threefold<sup>g</sup> coard is not eaſily broken.

13 Better is a poore and wiſe child, then an olde and fooliſh King, which wil no more be admoniſhed.

14 For out of the<sup>h</sup> priſon he commeth forth to reigne: when as he that is borne in his kingdome, is made poore.

15 I behelde al the liuing, which walke vnder the ſunne, with the ſeconde child, which ſhall ſtand vp in his place.

16 There is none<sup>i</sup> end of all the people, moe of al that were before them, and they that come after, ſhal not reioyce in him: ſurely this is alſo vanitie and vexation of ſpirit.

17 Take heede to thy<sup>j</sup> foote when thou en-treſt into the Houſe of God, and be more neere to heare then to giue the ſacrifice of<sup>k</sup> foolles: for they know not that they do euill.

the owners thereof; but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

11 The slepe of him that traueileth, is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the <sup>a</sup> facie of the riche will not suffer him to sleepe.

12 There is an euil sicknes <sup>a</sup> that I haue seene vnder the sunne: so wis, riches <sup>a</sup> referred to the owners thereof for their euill.

13 And these riches perish by euil traueil, & he begetteth a sonne, and in his hande is nothing.

14 <sup>a</sup> As he came forth of his mothers belly, he shal returne naked to go as he came, and shall beare away nothing of his labour, which he hath caused to passe by his hand.

15 And this also is an euil sicknes <sup>a</sup> that in all pointes as he came, so shal he go, & what profite hath he that he hath traueiled for the <sup>a</sup> winde?

16 Also all his dayes he eateth in <sup>a</sup> darkenes with much griefe, and in his sorow and anger.

17 Beholde then, what I haue seene good, that it is comely to <sup>a</sup> eat, & to drinke, and to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein he traueileth vnder the sunne, the whole number of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

18 Also to euery man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eat thereof, and to take his part, and to enjoy his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 Surely he will not much remember the dayes of his <sup>a</sup> life, because God answereth to the ioye of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable estate of him to whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them.

1 There is an euill, which I sawe vnder the sunne, and it is much among men:

2 A man to whome God hath giuen riches and treasures and honour, and he wanteth nothing for his soule of al that it desireth: but <sup>a</sup> God giueth him not power to eate thereof, but a strange man shal eate it vp: this is vanitie, and this is an euil sicknes.

3 If a man beget an hundreth children and liue many yeres, and the daies of his yeres be multiplied, and his soule be not <sup>a</sup> satisfied with good things, & he be not <sup>a</sup> buried, I say that an vnimely frute is better then he.

4 For <sup>a</sup> he commeth into vanitie and goeth into darkenes: & his name shalbe couered with darkenes.

5 Also he hath not seene the sunne, nor knowen it: therefore this hath more rest then the other.

6 And if he had liued a thousand yeres twise tolde, and had sene no good, shal not al go to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the <sup>a</sup> soule is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise man more then the fool? what hath the poore that <sup>a</sup> knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

9 The <sup>a</sup> sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lustes: this also is vanitie, and vexation of spirit.

10 What is that that hath bene? the name thereof is now named: and it is known that it is man: and he can not striue with him that is <sup>a</sup> stronger then he.

CHAP. VII.

Diuers precepts to followe that which is good, and to auoide the contrarie.

1 Surely there bee many things that increase vanitie: and what auaileth it ma?

2 For who knoweth what is <sup>a</sup> good for man in the life and in the number of the dayes of the life of his vanitie, seeing he maketh them as a <sup>a</sup> shadow? For who can shew vnto man what shalbe after him vnder the sunne?

3 <sup>a</sup> A good name is better then a good ointment, and the day of <sup>a</sup> death, then the day that one is borne.

4 It is better to go to the house of <sup>a</sup> mourning, then to go to the house of feasting: because this is the end of al men: and the liuing shal say it to his heart.

5 Anger is better then laughter: for by a sad looke the heart is made better.

6 The heart of the wyfe is in the house of mourning: but the heart of foolles is in the house of mirth.

7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wyfe for a while and man, then that a ma should heare the song of foolles.

8 For like the noyse of the <sup>a</sup> thornes vnder the pot, so is the laughter of the foolle: this also is vanitie.

9 Surely oppression maketh a wise man <sup>a</sup> mad: & the reward destroyeth the heart.

10 The end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, and the patient in spirit is better then the proud in spirit.

11 Be not thou of an hasty spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosome of foolles.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former dayes were better then these? for thou doest not enquire wisely of this thing.

13 Wisdome is good with an <sup>a</sup> inheritance, and excellent to them that see the sunne.

14 For man shal rest in the shadowe of wisdom, & in the shadowe of siluer: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wisdom giueth life to the possessers thereof.

15 Beholde the worke of God: for who can make <sup>a</sup> straight that which he hath made crooked?

16 In the day of welth be of good comfort, and in the day of affliction <sup>a</sup> consider: God also hath made this contrarie to that, to the intent that man should find <sup>a</sup> nothing after him.

17 I haue seene al things in the daies of my vanitie: there is a iust man that perisheth

ment.
6 For to euerie purpose there is a time and iudgement because the<sup>g</sup> miserie of man is great, vpon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which shalbe: for who can tel him when it shal be?

8 Man is not lord<sup>h</sup> ouer the spirite to re-teine the spirite: neither hath he power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battel, neither hath wickednes deliuer the possessors thereof.

9 All this haue I sene, and haue giuen mine heart to euerie worke, which is wrought vnder the sunne, and I saw a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne<sup>i</sup> hurt.

10 And likewise I sawe the wicked buried, and<sup>j</sup> they returned, and they that came from the holie<sup>k</sup> place, were yet forgotten in<sup>l</sup> citie where they had done right: this also is vanitie.

11 Because sentence against an euil worke is not<sup>m</sup> executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to doe euil.

12 Though a sinner do euil an hundreth times, and God prolongeth his dayes, yet I knowe that it shal be wel with them that feare the Lord, and doe reuerence before him.

13 But it shal not be wel to the wicked, neither shall he prolong his dayes: he shalbe like a shadowe, because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanitie, which is done vpo<sup>n</sup> the earth, that there be righteous men to who<sup>o</sup> it cometh according to the<sup>p</sup> worke of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whome it cometh according to the worke of the iust: I thought also that this is va-nitie.

15 And I prayed ioy: for there is no goodnes to man vnder the sunne, saue<sup>q</sup> to eate<sup>r</sup> and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is adioynd to his labour, the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the sunne.

16 When I applyed mine heart to knowe wisdome, & to beholde the busines that is done on earth, that neither daye nor night
the eyes of man take sleepe,

17 Then I beheld the whole worke of God, that man can not finde out the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne: for the which man laboreth to seeke it, and cannot finde it: yea, and though the wise man thinke to knowe it, he cannot finde it.

4 Surely whosoever is ioyned to all the liuing, there is hope: for it is better to a liuing dog, then to a dead lyon.

8 At all times let thy garments be white, and let not oyle bee lacking vpon thine head.

9 Reioyce with the wife whom thou hast loued all the dayes of the life of thy vanitie, which God hath giuen thee vnder the sunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for this is thy portion in the lyfe, and in thy trauaile wherein thou labourest vnder the sunne.

10 At all that thine hand shall finde to do, do it with al thy power: for there is neither worke nor inuention, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the graue whither thou goest.

11 I returned, & I saw vnder the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the battell to the strong, nor yet bread to y wyse, nor also riches to me of vnderstanding, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and chance cometh to them all.

12 For neither doth man know his tyme, but as the fishes which are taken in an euil net, & as the birdes that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euill tyme when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also seen this wisdom vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A litle cite and few men in it, & a great King came against it, and compassed it about, and builded fortres against it.

15 And there was found therein a poore, and wise man, and he deliuered the cite by his wisdom: but none remembered this poore man.

16 Then sayd I, Better is wisdom then strength: yet the wisdom of the poore is despised, and his wordes are not heard.

17 The wordes of the wise are more heard in quietnes, then the cry of him that rureth among foolles.

18 Better is wisdom then weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

The difference of foolishnes and wisdom. 11 A slanderer is like a serpent that cannot be charmed. 16 Of foolish King, and drunken princes, 17 And of good Kings and princes.

Dead flies cause to stinke, and putrifie the ointment of the apotary: so doeth a litle folie him that is in estimation for wisdom, and for glorie.

2 The heart of a wise man is at his right hand: but the heart of a foole is at his left hand. 3 And also when the foole goeth by the way, as the foole doeth the contrary. b By his doings he bewrayeth himselfe.

4 If the spirit of him that ruleth, rise vp against thee, leaue not thy place: for gentlenes pacifieth great finnes.

5 There is an euil that I haue sene vnder the sunne, as an error that procedeth fro the face of him that ruleth.

6 Follie is set in great excellencie, and the riche set in the low place.

7 I haue sene seruants on horses and princes walking as seruants on the ground.

8 He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it, and he that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 He that remoueth stones, shall hurt himselfe thereby, & he that cutteth wood, shall be in danger thereby.

10 If the yron be blunt, and one hath not whet the edge, he must then put to more strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisdom.

11 If the serpent bite, when he is not charmed: no better is a babler.

12 The wordes of the mouth of a wise man haue grace: but the lips of a foole deuoure himselfe.

13 The beginning of the wordes of his mouth is foolishnes, and the latter end of his mouth is wicked madnes.

14 For the foole multiplieth words, saying, Man knoweth not what shall be: and who can tel him what shall be after him?

15 The labour of the foolish doth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the cite.

16 Wo to thee, O lande, when thy King is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy King is the sonne of nobles, and thy princes eat in tyme, for strength and not for drunkennes.

18 By slouthfulness the rooof of y house goeth to decay, and by the ydleness of the hands the house droppeth through.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, & wine comforteth the liuing, but siluer answereth to all.

20 Curse not the King, no nor in thy thought, neither curse the rich in thy bed chamber: for the foule of the heauen shall carry the voice, & that which hath wings, shall declare the matter.

so that hee doeth all things wel & iustly, where as the foole doeth the contrary.

By his doings he bewrayeth himselfe.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be liberal to the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods providence. 8 All worldly prosperitie is but vanitie. 9 God will iudge all.

3 When the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bowe them before the grinders, & the grinders shall cease, because which keepers they are fewe, and they waxe darke that looke out by the windowes;

4 And the doores shall be shut without by the safe founde of the grinding, and he shall rise vp at the voyce of the byrds: and all the daughters of singing shall be abased.

5 Also they shall be afrayde of the thing, and feare shall be in the way, and the almonde tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and the pilsence shall be driuen away: for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourners go about in the streete.

6 Whiles the silver coarde is not lengthened, nor the golden ewer broken, nor the pitcher broken at the well, nor the whele broken at the cisterne:

7 And dust returne to the earth as it was, & the spirit returne to God that gaue it. Vanitie of vanities, sayth the Preacher, all is vanitie.

9 And the more wise the Preacher was, the more he taught the people knowledge, & caused them to heare, and searched forth, and prepared many parables.

10 The Preacher fought to finde out pleasant wordes, and an vpright writing, the wordes of truth.

11 The wordes of the wife are like goads, & like nayles fastened by the masters of the assemblies, which are giue by one pastour.

12 And of other thinges besides these, my sonne, take thou heede: for there is none reading in making many bookes, and much reading is a wearines of the flesh.

13 Let vs heare the end of all: feare God & keepe his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man.

14 For God will bring euery worke vnto iudgement, with euery secret thing, whether it be good or euil.

heart, out of the which the head draweth the powers of life. In the soule incontinently either goeth to ioy or torment, & slepeeth but as wicked imagine. x Which are wel applied by the ministers, who beareth masters. y That is, by God. z These things cannot be comprehended in books, or learned by studie, but God must instruct the heart: thou maiest onely knowe that wiselome is the true felicitie, and thereunto is to feare God.

1 Cast thy bread vpon the waters: for after many dayes thou shalt find it.

2 Giue a portion to leuen, & also to eight: for thou knowest not what euil shall be vpon the earth.

3 If the cloudes be full, they will poure forth raine vpon the earth: and if the tree do fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shall be.

4 He that obserueth the winde, shall not sow, & he that regardeth the cloudes, shall not reape.

5 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones do grow in the wombe of her that is with childe: so thou knowest not the worke of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning sowe thy seede, and in the euening let not thine hand rest: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, this or that, or whether both shall be alike good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the sun.

8 Though a man liue many yeres, and in the day he reioyce, yet he shall remember the dayes of darkenesse, because they are many, all that commeth is vanitie.

9 Reioyce, O yong man, in thy youth, and let thine heart cheere thee in the daies of thy youth, and walke in the waies of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know that for all these thinges, God will bring thee to iudgement.

10 Therefore take away griefe out of thine heart, and cause euil to depart from thy flesh: for childhood and youth are vanitie.

CHAP. XII.

1 To thinke on God in youth and not to deferre till age. 7 The soule returneth to God. 11 Vifidom is the gift of God, and consisteth in fearing him and keeping his commandments.

1 Remember now thy Creator in the daies of thy youth, whiles the euill dayes come not, nor the yeres approche, wherein thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them:

2 Whiles the sunne is not darke, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the starres, nor the cloudes returne after the raine;

AN "EXCELLENT SONG

which was Salomons,

THE ARGVMENT.

In this Song, Salomon by most sweete and comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfect loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon and King of peace, and the faithful soule or his Church, which be hath sanctified & appointed to be his spouse, holy, chaste & without reprehension. So that here is declared the singular loue of the bridegrome toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefices: with which he doth enriche her of his pure boūtie & grace without any of her desertings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ desiring to bee more and more ioyned to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

a That is, be liberal to the poore, & though it seme to be as a thing ventred only sea, yet it shall bring thee profite. b As the cloudes are full, poure out raine, so the rich that haue abundance, must distribute it liberally. c He exhorteth to be liberal, while we liue: for after there is no power. d He that feareth inconueniences, when need shal require, shal neuer do his dutie. e Be not weary of wel doing. f That is, which of thy workes are most agreeable to God. g That is, of affliction & trouble.

Man is not able to understand the works of God.

In death the spirit immediately returneth to God that gaue it. As small libby aush purgatory. c. n. y.

Death followeth the longest life.

Part. youth must in the end come to iudgement.

Part.

Remember thy maker in thy youth before these things come to iudgement.

a Before thou comest to a continual miserie: for when the cloudes remaine after rain, mans grief is increased.

CHAP. I.

The familiar talk and myſtical communication of the ſpiritual loue betwene Ieſus Chriſt & his Church. 6 The demerſel enemies that perſecute the Church.

This is ſpoken in the perſon of the Church, or of the faithful ſoule inflamed with the deſire of Chriſt who ſhe loueth. & The feeling of thy great benefices.

They that are pure in heart and conuerſation.

The faithful ſoule that they cannot come to Chriſt except they be drawne.

A ſweetening of the ſecret joy that is not known to the world.

The Church confeſſeth her ſpots & ſinnes, but hath confidence in the fauour of Chriſt.

A ſingular was ſilmaſ ſonne, of whom came the Arabians that dwelt in tents.

Which within were ſet with precious ſtones and iuwels.

Conſider not the church by the outward appearance.

The corruption of nature through ſinne, and afflictions.

Miner own brethren, which ſhould haue moſt favoured me.

She confeſſeth her owne negligence.

The ſpouſe feeling her fault, ſleeth to her husband onely for ſuccour.

Whom thou haſt called to the dignitie of paſtors, & they ſet forth their own dreames in ſtead of thy doctrine.

Chriſt ſpeaketh to his church, bidding them be ignorant, not to go to the paſtors to learne.

For thy ſpiritual beauty and excellency there was no worldly treaſure to be compared vnto thee.

The Church reioyceth & ſhe is admitted to the company of Chriſt. f He ſhalbe moſt deare vnto me.

Chriſt accepteth his Church and commendeth her beautie. u That is the heart of the faithful wherein Chriſt dwelleth by his ſpirit.

CHAP. II.

The Church deſireth to reſt vnder the ſhadowe of Chriſt. 8 She heareth his voyce. 14 She is compared to the doone, 15 And the enemies to the foxes.

I Am the roſe of the field, and the lilie of the vallics.

Et him kiſſe me with the kiſſes of his mouth: for thy loue is better then wine.

Because of the <sup>b</sup> ſauour of thy good ointments thy name is as an ointment powdered out: therefore the <sup>c</sup> virgines loue thee.

<sup>d</sup> Draw me: we will runne after thee: the King hath brought me into his <sup>e</sup> chambers: we will reioyce and be glad in thee: we will reme<sup>b</sup>ber thy loue more then wine: the righteous do loue thee.

Regard ye me not because I am <sup>j</sup> blacke: for the <sup>k</sup> ſunne hath looked vpon me. The <sup>l</sup> ſonnes of my mother were angrie againſt me: they made me the keeper of the vines: but I <sup>m</sup> kept not mine owne vine.

<sup>r</sup> I haue compared thee, O my loue, to the troupe of horſes in the <sup>s</sup> charrets of Pharaoh.

Thy cheekes are comely with rowes of ſtones, and thy necke with chaines.

We will make thee borders of gold with ſtuddes of ſiluer.

My welbeloued is as a bundle of myrrhe vnto me: he ſhall lie betwene my <sup>u</sup> breaſtes.

My welbeloued is as a cluſter of <sup>v</sup> eſphire vnto me in the vines of Engedi.

The beames of our houſe are cedars, our rafters are of ſirre.

<sup>c</sup> Like the apple tree among the trees of the foreſt, ſo is my welbeloued among the ſonnes of men: vnder his ſhadow had I delight, and ſate downe: & his fruites was ſweete vnto my mouth.

<sup>d</sup> He brought me into the wine celler, and loue was his banner ouer me.

<sup>h</sup> Is it the voyce of my welbeloued: behold, he commeth leaping by the mountaines, and ſkipping by the hilles.

<sup>o</sup> The flowers appeare in the earth: the time of the ſinging of birds is come, & the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.

<sup>u</sup> My welbeloued is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lilies, <sup>v</sup> Vntill the day breake, & the ſhadowes flee away: returne, my welbeloued, & be like a <sup>w</sup> roe, or a yong hart vpon the mountaines of Bether.

CHAP. III.

The Church deſireth to be iyned inſeparably to Chriſt her husband. 5 Her deliuerance out of the wilderness.

<sup>a</sup> IN my bed by <sup>b</sup> night I ſought him that my ſoule loued: I ſought him, but I found him not.

<sup>c</sup> I will reſt ſherefore now, and go about in the citie, by the ſtreets & by the open places, & will <sup>d</sup> ſeek him that my ſoule loueth: I ſought him, but I found him not.

<sup>h</sup> When I had paſt a litle from them, then I found him who my ſoule loued: I tooke holde on him and left him not, till I had brought him vnto my mothers houſe into the chamber of her that conceiued me.

<sup>i</sup> I charge you, O daughters of Ieruſalem, by the roes and by the hundes of the field, that

<sup>c</sup> Chriſt chargeh the which haue to do in y church as it were by a ſolene oath, y they trouble not the quietnes thereof.

<sup>d</sup> This is ſpoken of Chriſt, who tooke vpon him our nature to come to helpe his Church.

<sup>e</sup> For almuſh as his diuinitie was hid vnder the cloke of our fleſh.

<sup>f</sup> So that we can not haue ful knowledge of him in this life.

<sup>g</sup> That is, ſin & error is driven backe by the coming of Chriſt, which is here deſcribed by the ſpring time, where al things flouriſh.

<sup>h</sup> Thou that art aſhamed of thy ſinnes, come and ſhew thy ſelf vnto me.

<sup>i</sup> I ſuppreſſe y he- retikes whiles they are yong, & is, whē they begin to ſhew their malice & deſtroy the vine of the Lord.

<sup>b</sup> Shewing that although we be not heard at the firſt, yet we muſt ſtil continue in prayer till we feel comfort.

<sup>c</sup> Which declarereth, that we muſt ſeek vnto al, of whom we hope to haue any ſuccour.

Beholde his bed, which is Salomons: threescore strong men are round about it, of the valiant men of Israel.

8 They all handle the sword, and are expert in warre, euery one hath his sword vpon his thigh for the feare by night.

9 King Salomon made himselfe a palace of the trees of Lebanon.

10 He made the pillars thereof of siluer, & the pauement thereof of golde, the hangings thereof of purple, whose middes was paved with the loue of the daughters of Ierusalem.

11 Come forth, ye daughters of Zion, and behold the King Salomon with the crowne, wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladnes of his heart.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The praises of the Church. 2 She is without blemish in his sight. 3 The loue of Christ towards her.

Behold, thou art faire, my loue: behold, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the dooues: among thy lockes thine heare is like the flocke of goates, which looke downe from the mountaine of Gilead.

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep in good order, which goe vp from the washing: which euery one bring out twinnes, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lippes are like a threde of scarlet and thy talke is comely: thy temples are within thy lockes as a piece of a pomegranate.

4 Thy necke is as the tower of Dauid built for defense: a thousand shields hang therein, and all the targates of the strong men.

5 Thy two breastes are as two yong roes that are twinnes, feeding among the lilies.

6 Vntill the day breake, and the shadowes flie away, I wil goe into the mountaine of myrrhe and to the mountaine of incense.

7 Thou art all faire, my loue, and there is no spot in thee.

8 Come with me fro Lebanon, my spouse, euen with me from Lebanon, and looke from the top of Amanah, from the top of Shenir and Hermon, from the denues of the Lyons and from the mountaines of the leoparides.

9 My sister, my spouse, thou hast wounded mine heart: thou hast wounded mine heart with one of thine eyes, and with a chaine of thy necke.

10 My sister, my spouse, how faire is thy loue? how much better is thy loue then wyne? and the sauour of thine oyntments then all spices?

11 Thy lippes, my spouse, droppe as honie combs: honie and milke are vnder thy tongue, and the sauour of thy garments is as the sauour of Lebanon.

12 My sister my spouse is as a garden inclosed, as a spring shut vp, and a fountaine sealed vp.

13 Thy plantes are as an orchard of pomegranates with sweete fruites, as camphire, spikenarde, 14 Euen spikenarde, and saffran, calamus, and cynamon with all the trees of incense, myrrhe and aloes, with all the chief spices.

15 O fountaine of the gardens, O well of liuing waters, and the springs of Lebanon.

16 Arise, O North, and come O South, and blowe on my garden that the spices thereof may flowe out: let my welbeloued come to his garden, and eat his pleasant frute.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ calleth his Church to the participation of all his treasures. 2 She heareth his voice. 3 She confesseth her nakednes. 4 She prayeth Christ her husband.

I Am come into my garden, my sister, my spouse: I gathered my myrrhe with my spice: I late myne honie combe with myne honie, I dranke my wyne with my milke: eat, O friendes, drinke, & make you merry, O welbeloued.

2 I sleepe, but myne heart waketh, it is the voyce of my welbeloued that knocketh, saying, Open vnto me, my sister, my loue, my doue, my vndefiled: for mine head is ful of dewe, & my lockes with the droppes of the night.

3 I haue put of my coate, how shall I put it on? I haue washed my feete, how shall I defile them?

4 My welbeloued put in his hande by the hole of the doore, and mine heart was affectioned toward him.

5 I rose vp to open to my welbeloued, and mine hands did droppe downe myrrhe, & my fingers pure myrrhe vpon the handels of the barre.

6 I opened to my welbeloued: but my welbeloued was gone, and past: mine heart was gone when he did speake: I fought him, but I could not find him: I called him, but he answered me not.

7 The watchmen that went about the citie, found me: they smote me & wounded me: the watchmen of the walles tooke away my vaile from me.

8 I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, if you finde my welbeloued, that you tell him that I am sicke of loue.

9 O the fairest among women, what is thy welbeloued more then other welbeloued? what is thy welbeloued more then another louer, that thou doest so charge vs?

10 My welbeloued is white and ruddy, the chiefeft of ten thousand.

11 His head is as fine gold, his lockes curled, and blacke as a rauen.

12 His eyes are like dooues vpon the riuers of waters, comelines.

15 His legges are as pillars of marble, set vpon sockets of fine golde: his countenance as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16 His mouth is as sweet things, and he is wholly delectable: this is my welbeloued, and this is my louer, O daughters of Ierusalem.

17 O the fairest among women, whither is thy welbeloued gone? whither is thy welbeloued turned aside, that wee may seeke him with thee?

CHAP. VI.

The Church assureth herselfe of the loue of Christ: 3 The prayes of the Church. 8 She is but one and vndefiled.

1 My welbeloued is gone downe into his garden to the beddes of spices, to feede in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

2 I am my welbeloued, and my welbeloued is mine, who feedeth among the lilies.

3 Thou art beautifull, my loue, as Tirzah, comely as Ierusalem, terrible as an armie with banners.

4 Turne away thine eyes from me: for they overcome me: * thine heare is like a flock of goats, which looke downe from Gilead.

5 Thy teeth are like a flocke of sheep, which go vp from the washing, which euerie one bring out twins, and none is baren among them.

6 Thy temples are within thy lockes as a piece of a pomegranate.

7 There are * threescore Queenes & fourescore concubines, and of the damels without number.

8 But my doue is alone, and my vndefiled, she is the onely daughter of her mother, and she is deare to her that bare her: the daughters haue seene her & counted her blessed: euen the Queenes and the concubines, and they haue prayed her.

9 Who is she that loketh forth as the morning, faire as the moone, pure as y sunne, terrible as an armie with banners!

10 I went downe to the garden of nuttes, to see the fruites of the valley, to see if y vine budded, and if the pomegranates florished.

11 I knewe nothing, my soule set me as the charrets of my noble people.

12 Returne, returne, O Shulamite, returne: returne that we may behold thee. What shall you see in the Shulamite, but as the companie of an armie?

CHAP. VII.

The beautie of the Church in all her members. 10 She is assured of Christ's loue towards her.

1 Howe beautifull are thy goings with shoes, O princes daughter! the ioyntes of thy thighs are like iewels: the worke of the hand of a cunning workman.

2 Thy navel is as a round cup that wanteth not licour: thy belly is as an heap of wheat compassed about with lilies.

3 Thy two brestes are as two yong roes that are twinnes.

4 Thy necke is like a towre of yuorie: thine eyes are like the fish pooles in Heshbon by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose is as the towre of Lebanon, that looketh toward Damascus.

5 Thine head vpon thee is as skarlet, & the bush of thine head like purple: the King is tyed in the rafters.

6 How faire art thou, and how pleasant art thou, O my loue, in pleasures!

7 This thy stature is like a palme tree, and thy brests like clusters.

8 I said, I wil go vp into the palme tree, I wil take hold of her boughes: thy brestes shall now be like the clusters of the vine: & the sauour of thy nose like apples.

9 And the rouse of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth straight to my welbeloued, & caueth the lippes of the ancient to speake.

10 I am my welbeloued, and his desire is toward me.

11 Come, my welbeloued, let vs goe forth into the field: let vs remayne in the villages.

12 Let vs get vp early to the vines, let vs see if the vine florish, whether it hath budded the small grape, or whether the pomegranates florish: there will I giue thee my loue.

13 The mandrakes haue giuen a smel, and in our gates are all sweete things, new & olde: my welbeloued, I haue kept them for thee.

2 I will leade thee and bring thee into my mothers house: there thou shalt teach me: and I will cause thee to drinke spiced wine, and new wine of the pomegranate.

3 His left hand shall be vnder mine head, & his right hand shall embrace me.

4 I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, that you stirre not vp, nor waken my loue, vntill the please.

5 (Who is this that commeth vp out of the wilderness, leaning vpon her welbeloued?) I raised thee vp vnder an apple tree: there thy mother conceived thee: there she couched that bare thee.

ISAIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God, according to his promes Deut. 18. 15. that he would neuer leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath frō time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not only to declare vnto the people the things to come, whereof they had a speciall reuelation, but also to interpret & declare the Law, & to applie particularly the doctrine, contained briefly therein, to the vilitie & profits of those, so who they thought is chiefly to appertayne, & as the time & state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Law they had respect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: first to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables: secondly to the promises & threatnings of the Law: & thirdly, to the covenant of grace & reconciliation, grounded vpon our Saviour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Law. Vnto them neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderstanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, & also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for any care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their sauagard by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they haue more clerely increased it then Moses, & set forth more lively Iesus Christ, in whom this covenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell al the Prophets, & was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehemens admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: neuer applying the doctrine, as he saw that the disafe of the people required. He declareth also many notable prophetes which he had receiued of God, as touching the promes of the Messiah, his office, & his kingdom. Also of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, & their vniō with the Iewes. Which are as most principal points contained in this booke, and a gathering of his sermons that he preached. Which after certaine dayes that they had stand vpon the Temple doore (for the manner of the Prophets was to set up the summe of their doctrine for certaine dayes that the people might the better marke it, as Isa. 8. 1. & Habak. 2. 2.) the Priests toke it downe & referred it among their registers: & so by Gods providence these booke were preserved as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his person & time, he was of the Kings stocke (for Amoz his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best writers agree) & prophesied more then 64. yeres from the time of Vzziah vnto the reigne of Manasse, whose father in law he was (as the Ebreues write) & of whō he was put to death. And in reading of the Prophets this one thing among other is to be obserued, that they speake of things to come as though they were now past, because of the certaintie thereof, & that they could not but come to passe, because God had ordeyned them in his secret counsell, and so reueiled them to his Prophetes.

Wherefore shoulde ye bee smitten any more? for ye fall away more and more: the whole h head is sicke, and the whole heart is heauie.

6 Fro the sole of the foote vnto the head, there is nothing whole therein, but wounds, and swelling, and sores full of corruption: they haue not bene wrapped, nor bound vp, nor mollified with oyle.

7 Your land is waste: your cities are burnt with fire: strangers deuoure your land in your presence, and it is desolate like the ouerthrow of strangers.

8 And the daughter of Zion shal remaine like a cottage in a vineyard, like a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, and like a besieged citie.

9 Except the Lord of hostes had reserued vnto vs, euen a small remnant: we should haue bene as Sodom, and shoulde haue bene like vnto Gomorah.

10 Heare the word of the Lord, O princes of Sodom: hearken vnto the Lawe of our God, O people of Gomorah.

11 What haue I to do with the multitude of your sacrifices, sayth the Lorde? I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, & of the fat of fed beastes: and I desire not the blood of bullockes, nor of lambes, nor of goates.

12 Whe ye come to appeare before me, who required this of your hands to tread in my courtes?

13 Bring no mo oblations, in vaine: incense is an abomination vnto me: I can not suffer your newe moones, nor sabbaths, nor solemne dayes (is is iniquitie) nor solemne assemblies.

14 My soule hateth your newe moones & your appointed feastes: they are a burden vnto me: I am weary to beate them.

15 And when you shall stretch out your hands, I will hide mine eyes fro you: and though ye make many prayers, I will not heare: for your hands are full of blood.

16 With you, make you cleane: take away the euill of your workes from before mine eyes: cease to doe euill.

17 Learne to do well: seeke iudgement, relieue the oppressed: iudge the fatherles & defende the widow.

18 Come now, and let vs reason together, saith the Lord: though your sinnes were as crimsin, they shalbe made white as snow: though they were red like skarlet, they shalbe as wooll.

19 If ye consent and obey, ye shall eat the good things of the land.

20 But if ye refuse & be rebellious, ye shalbe deuoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

21 How is the faithfull citie become an harlot? it was full of iudgement, and iustice lodged therein, but now they are murderers.

22 Thy siluer is become drossie: thy wine is mixt with water.

23 Thy princes are rebellious and companions of the eues: euerie one loueth gifts, & followeth after rewards: they iudge not the fatherles, neither doeth the widowes cause come before them.

24 Therefore saith the Lord God of hostes, the mightie one of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine aduersaries, and auenge me of mine enemies.

25 Then I will turne mine hand vpon thee, and burne out thy drossie, till it be pure, & take away all thy tinne.

26 I And I will restore thy iudges as at the first, & thy counsellers as at the beginning: afterwarde shalt thou be called a citie of righteousness, and a faithfull citie.

For the sinne of the people God will take away the wisdome, and giue them foolish princes. 14 The counsel of the governors. 16 The pride of the women.

1 Nowe will <sup>a</sup> I sing to my <sup>b</sup> beloued a <sup>a</sup> The Prophecy song of my beloued to his vineyard, by this song doth set before the peoples eyes their ingratitude, & Gods mercy.

2 And he hedged it, and gathered out the stones of it, and he planted it with the best plants, <sup>e</sup> & he buylt a towre in the middes thereof, and made a wine presse therein: <sup>f</sup> then he looked that it shoulde bring forth grapes: but it brought <sup>a</sup> fourth wilde grapes. <sup>g</sup> Mat. 21.33.

3 Now therefore, O inhabitants of Ierusalem and men of Iudah, iudge, I praye you, betwene me, and my vineyard.

4 What coulde I haue done any more to my vineyard that I haue not done vnto it? why haue I looked that it shoulde bring forth grapes, and it bringeth forth wilde grapes?

5 And nowe I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, & it shall be eaten vp: I will breake the wall thereof, and it shall be troden downe.

6 And I will lay it wast: it shall not be cut, nor digged, but briars, and thornes shall growe vp: I will also commande the cloudes that they raine no raine vpon it.

7 Surely the vineyard of the Lorde of hostes is the house of Israel, & the men of Iudah are his pleasant plant, and he looked for <sup>a</sup> iudgement, but beholde oppression: for righteousness, but beholde crying.

of the flame: so their roote shalbe as rottennes, and their budde shal rise vp like dust, because they haue cast of the Law of the Lord of hostes, and contemned the worde of the holie one of Israel.
25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he hath stretched out his hande vpon them, and hath smitten them that the mountaines did tremble: and their carcases were torne in the middes of the streetes, and for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hande was stretched out still.
26 And he will lift vp a signe vnto the nations afarre, and will hiife vnto them from the end of the earth: & behold, they shall come hastily with speede.
27 None shall faint nor fall among them: none shal slumber nor sleepe, neither shal the girdle of his loynes be loosed, nor the latchet of his shooes be broken:

30 And in that daye they shall roare vpon them, as the roaring of the sea: & if they looke vnto the earth, beholde darkenes, & sorowe, and the light shalbe darkened in their skie.

CHAP. VI.

Isaiah sheweth his uocation by the vision of the diuine manifest. 9 He sheweth the obstinacie of the people. 11 The destruction of the lande. 13 The remnant referred.

In the yere of the death of king Vzziah, I sawe also the Lorde sitting vpon an high throne, and lifted vp, and the lower partes thereof filled the temple.
The Seraphims stode vpon it: euery one had sixe wings: with twaine he couered his face, & with twaine he couered his feet, and with twaine he did flye.
And one cryed to another, & saide, Holy, holy, holie is the Lord of hostes: the whole worlde is full of his glorie.
And the lintels of the doore checks motion ready to giue sentence. Of his garment, or of his throne. d They were Angels (so called, because they were of a fiery colour, to signifye that they burnt in the loue of God, or were light as fyre to execute his will. e Signifying, that they were not able to endure the brightness of Gods glory. f Whereby was declared that man was not able to see the brightness of God in them. g Which thing declareth the prompt obedience of the Angels to execute Gods commandement. h This oft repeated signifieth, that the holy Angels cannot satisfie theiues in propounding God, to teach vs that in all our lyues we should giue our glory to the continual praise of God. i His glory doth not only appeare in the heauens, but through all the worlde, and therefore all creatures are bound to praise him. k Which things were to confirme the Prophet, that it was not the voyce of man: and by the smoke was signified the blindness that should come vpon the Iewes.

5 Then I said, Wo is me: for I am vndone, because I am a man of polluted lippes, & I dwell in the middes of a people of polluted lippes: for mine eyes haue seene the King and Lord of hostes.

6 Then slewe one of the Seraphims vnto me with an hote cole in his hande, which hee had taken from the <sup>m</sup> altar with the tongs:

7 And he touched my mouth, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lippes, and thine iniquitie shalbe taken away, and thy <sup>m</sup> sinne shalbe purged.

8 Also I heard the voyce of the Lord, saying, Whome shall I send? and who shal go for vs? Then I said, Here am I, send me.

9 And he said, Go, and say vnto this people, * Ye shall heare in deede, but ye shall not vnderstand: ye shall plainly see, and not perceiue.

10 Make the heart of this people fatte, make their eares heauie, and shut their eies, lest they see with their eies, & heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, & conuert, and he heale them.

11 Then sayd I, Lord, how long? And hee answered, Vntill the cities be wasted without inhabitant, & the houses without ma, and the land be vtterly desolate, 12 And the Lord haue remoued men farre away, and there be a great desolation in the middes of the lande.

13 But yet in it <sup>shall be</sup> a tenth, and shall returne, and shalbe eaten vp as an elme: or as an oke, which haue a substance in them, when they cast <sup>their leaues</sup>: so the holy seed shalbe the substance thereof.

As he was moued with the zeale of Gods glorie, so was hee touched with a charitable affection towards the people. q Meaning, the tenth part: or as some write, it was reuelled to Ilsaiah for the confirmation of his prophesie, that ten Kinges shoulde come before their captiuitie, as were from Vzziah to Zedekiah.

r For the fewer they shall seeme to be eaten vp: yet they shall after flourish as a tree, which in winter loseth his leaues, and seemeth to be dead, yet in sommer is fresh, and greene.

1 Ierusalem besieged. 4 Ilsaiah comforteth the King. 14 Christ is promised.

1 ANd in the daies of * Ahaz, the sonne of Iotham, the sonne of Vzziah King of Iudah, Rezin the King of * Aram came vp, & Pekah the sonne of Remaliah King of Israel, to Ierusalem to fight against it, but he could not overcome it.

2 And it was tolde the house of <sup>b</sup> Daud, saying, Aram is ioynd with <sup>c</sup> Ephraim: therefore his heart was <sup>d</sup> moued, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moued by the winde.

3 ¶ Then saide the Lord vnto Ilsaiah, Go forth now to meete Ahaz (thou and * Shear-iashub thy sonne) at the ende of the conduit of the vpper poole, in the path of the fullers fieldes,

4 And say vnto him, Take heede, & be still: f Which haue feare not, neither be faint hearted for the two tailles of these smoking <sup>g</sup> firebrandes, & shall quickly be quenched. g Which was an Israelite and as semeth, enemie to the house of Daud.

5 Because Aram hath taken wicked counsel against thee, & Ephraim, & Remaliahs sonne, saying,

6 Let vs go vp against Iudah, and let vs waken them vp, and make a breache therein for vs, and set a King in the middes thereof, <sup>h</sup> euen the sonne of * Tabeal.

7 Thus saith the Lord God, It shal not stand, neither shall it be.

8 For the head of Aram <sup>i</sup> is Damascus, and the head of Damascus <sup>j</sup> is Rezin: and within fue and <sup>k</sup> threescore yere, Ephraim shal be destroyed from being a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim <sup>l</sup> is Samaria, & the head of Samaria <sup>m</sup> is Remaliahs sonne. If ye beleue not, surely ye shall not be established.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake againe vnto Ahaz, saying,

11 Aske <sup>n</sup> a signe for thee of the Lorde thy God: aske it, <sup>o</sup> either in the depth or in the height aboue.

12 But Ahaz sayd, I will not aske, neither will I <sup>p</sup> tempt the Lord.

13 Then he said, Heare you now, O house of Daud, Is it a small thing for you to grieve <sup>q</sup> men, that ye will also grieve my God?

14 Therefore the Lord <sup>r</sup> himselfe will giue you a signe. Beholde, the virgine shal conceiue and beare a sonne, and she shal call his name <sup>s</sup> Immanuel.

18 And in that day shall the Lord hisse for the <sup>y</sup> flie that is at the vttermost part of the floods of Egypt, and for <sup>z</sup> y bee which is in the land of Asshur,

19 And they shall come and shall light all in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rockes, and vpon all thorny places, & vpon all bushie <sup>a</sup> places.

The people that walked in darkenes, haue seene a great light: they that dwelled in the land of the shadow of death, vpon them hath the light shined.

Thou hast multiplied the nation, and not increased their ioye: they haue reioyced before thee according to the ioye in harvest, and as men reioyce when they deuide a spoyle.

For the yoke of their burthen, and the staffe of their shoulder, & the rod of their oppressour hast thou broken as in the day of Midian.

Surely euery battell of the warrior is with noyse, and with rumbling of garments in blood: but this shalbe with burning and deuouring of fire.

For vnto vs a Child is borne, and vnto vs a sonne is giuen; and the gouernment is vpon his shoulder, and hee shall call his name Wonderful Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The prince of peace.

The increase of his gouernement & peace shall haue none end: he shall sit vpon the throne of David, and vpon his kingdome, to order it, and to stablish it with iudgement and with iustice, from henceforth, euen for euer: the zeale of the Lord of hostes will performe this.

The Lord hath sent a word into Iaakob, and it hath lighred vpon Israel.

And all the people shall knowe, euen Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that lay in the pride and presumption of the heart.

For the people turneth not vnto him that smiteth them, neither do they seeke the Lord of hostes.

Therefore will the Lord cut off from Israel head & taile, branch & ruff in one day.

The ancient and the honorable man, he is the head: and y Prophet that teacheth lies, he is the taile.

For the leaders of the people cause them to erre: and they that are led by them, are deuoured.

Therefore shall the Lord haue no pleasure in their yong men, neither will hee haue compassion of their fatherles and of their widowes: for euerie one is an hypocrite & wicked, and euery mouth speaketh folie: yes for al this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

For wickednes burneth as a fire: it deuoureth the briers and the thornes & will kinde in the thicke places of the forest: and they shall mount vp like the lifting vp of smoke.

By the wrath of the Lord of hostes shall the land be darkened, and the people shall be as the meate of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.

And he shall snatche at the right hande, and be hungrie: and he shall eat on the left hand, and shall not be satisfied: euerie one shall eate the flesh of his owne arme.

Manasseh, Ephraim: and Ephraim Manasseh, and they both shalbe against Iudah: yes for al this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

Wickednes as a bellowe kindeth the fire of Gods wrath, which consumeth all his obstinate enemies.

10 Like as mine hand hath found the kingdoms of the idoles, seeing their idoles were about Ierusalem, and about Samaria:

11 Shall not I, as I haue done to Samaria, & to the idoles thereof, so do to Ierusalem & to the idoles thereof?

12 ¶ But when the Lord hath accomplished <sup>a</sup> all his worke vpon mount Zion and Ierusalem, I will visit the fruites of the proude heart of the King of Asshur, and his glorious and proude lookes.

13 Because he saide, By the power of mine owne hand haue I done it, and by my wisdom, because I am wise: therefore I haue removed the borders of the people, and haue spoyled their treasures, & haue pulled downe <sup>y</sup> inhabitants like a valiant mā.

14 And mine hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people, and as one gathereth egges that are left, so haue I gathered all the earth: and there was none to moue the wing or to open the mouth, or to whistle.

15 Shall the <sup>a</sup> axe boast it selfe against him that heweth therewith? or shall the sawe exalt it selfe against him that moueth it? as if the rod should lift vp it selfe against him that raketh it vp, or the staffe should exalt it selfe, as is were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord God of hostes send among his fat men, leanenes, and vnder his glorie he shall kindle a burning, like the burning of fire.

17 And the light of Israel shall be as a fire, and the Holie one thereof as a flame, and it shall burne, and deuoure <sup>a</sup> his thornes and his briars in one day:

18 And shall consume the glorie of his forest, and of his fruitfull fieldes both soule <sup>a</sup> and flesh: and he shall be as the <sup>a</sup> fainting of a stander bearer.

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a childe may tell them.

20 ¶ And at that day shall the remnant of Israel, & such as are escaped of the house of Iakob, stay no more vpon him that smote them, but shall <sup>a</sup> stay vpon the Lorde, the holie one of Israel in trueth.

21 The remnant shall returne, <sup>a</sup> even the remnant of Iakob vnto the mightie God.

22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sand of the sea, yet shall the remnant of them returne. The consumption <sup>a</sup> decreed shall ouerflow with righteousness.

23 For the Lord God of hostes shall make the consumption, <sup>a</sup> euen determined, in <sup>y</sup> middes of all the lande.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, O my people, that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of Asshur: he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift vp his staffe against thee after the manner of <sup>a</sup> Egypt:

25 But yet a verie litle time, and the wrath shall be consumed, and mine anger in their destruction.

26 And the Lord of hostes shall raise vp a scourge for him, according to the plague of <sup>a</sup> Midian in the rocke Oreb: and as his staffe was vpon the <sup>a</sup> Sea, so he will lift it vp after the maner of Egypt.

27 And at that day shall his burden be taken away from of thy shoulder, and his yoke from of thy necke: and the yoke shall be destroyed because of <sup>a</sup> the anointing.

28 He is come <sup>a</sup> to Aiath: he is passed into Migron: at Michmash shall he lay vp his armour.

29 They haue gone ouer the soorde: they lodged in the lodging at Geba: Ramah is affraide: Gibeah of Saul is fled away.

30 Lift vp thy voyce, O daughter Gallim, cause Laish to heare, O poore Anathoth.

31 Madmenah is removed: the inhabitants of Gebim haue gathered themselves together.

32 Yet there is a time that hee will staye at Nob: he shall lift vp his hand toward the mount of the daughter Zion, the hill of Ierusalem.

33 Beholde, the Lord God of hostes shall reduce of the <sup>a</sup> bough with seare, and they of high stature shall be cut of, and the hie shall be humbled.

34 And he shall cut away the thicke places of the forest with yron, and Lebanon shall haue a mightie fall.

He shal go vp to the temple, and to Dibon to the hie places to weepe: for Nebo and for Medeba shall Moab howle: vpon all their heads shalbe baldnes, and euerie beard shauen.
 In their streetes shall they be girded with sackcloth: on the tops of their houses, and in their streetes euerie one shall howle, & come downe with weeping.
 And Hehbon shall crye, & Elealeh: their voyce shalbe heard vnto Iahaz: therefore the warriors of Moab shal showe the soule of euerie one shall lament in him selfe.
 Mine heart shall crie for Moab: his fugitiues shall flee vnto Zoar, an heiffer of three yere olde: for they shall go vp with weeping by the mounting vp of Lubith: and by the way of Horonaim they shall raise vp a crie of destruction.
 For the waters of Nimrim shalbe dried vp: therefore the grasie is withered, the herbes consumed, & there was no greene herbe.
 Therefore what euerie man hath left, and their substance shall they beare to the brooke of the willowes.
 For the crie went round about the borders of Moab: and the howling thereof vnto Eglaim, and the skriking thereof vnto Beer Elim,

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

End ye a lambe to the ruler of the worlde from the rocke of the wilderness, vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zion.

make thy shadowe as the night in the midday: hide them that are chased out: bewray not him that is fled.
 Let my banished dwell with thee: Moab be thou their couert from the face of the destroyer: for the extortioner shall end: the destroyer shalbe consumed, and the oppressour shall cease out of the land.
 And in mercy shall thy throne be prepared, and he shal sit vpon it in stedfastnes, in y tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and seeking iudgement, and hastening iustice.
 We haue heard of the pride of Moab (he is verie proude) euen his pride, & his arrogancie, and his indignation, but his lies shall not be so.
 Therefore shal Moab howle vnto Moab: euerie one shall howle: for the fundacions of Kir-harefeth shall ye mourne, yet they shalbe stricken.
 For the vineyardes of Heshbon are cut downe, & the vine of Sibmah: the lords of the heathen haue broken the principal vines thereof: they are come vnto Iazer: they wandred in the wildernes: her goodly branches stretched out them selues, and went ouer the sea.
 Therefore wil I weepe with y weeping of Iazer, and of the vine of Sibmah, O Heshbon: and Elealeh, I will make thee drunke with my teares, because vpon thy sommer fruite, and vpon thy haruest showing is fallen.
 And gladnes is taken away, and ioye out of the plentiful field: and in the vineyardes shalbe no singing nor shouting for ioy: the treader shal not tread wine in y wine presses: I haue caused the rcioicing to cease.
 Wherefore, my bowels shall sound like an harpe for Moab, & mine inward partes for Ker-harefeth.
 And when it shal appeare that Moab shal be wearie of his hie places, then shall hee come to his temple to pray, but he shall not preuaile.
 This is the word that the Lorde hath spoken against Moab since that time.
 And now the Lorde hath spoken, saying, In three yeres, as y yeres of a hyreling, and the glorie of Moab shalbe condemned in all the great multitude, and the remnant shalbe verie small and feeble.
 And when it shal be as if they were able to helpe them. o He appointed a certaine time to punish the enemies in. p Who wil obserue iustly the time, for the which he is hyred, and serue no longer, but wil euer long for it.

4 And in that daye the glorie of Iacob shall be impoudered, and the farnes of his flesh shall be made leane.

5 And it shall be as when the harvest man gathereth the corne, and reapeth the eares with his arme, and he shall be as he that gathereth the eares in the valley of Rephaim.

¶ Yet a gathering of grapes shall be left in it, as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries are in the top of the vpmost boughs, and foure or fve in the hyc branches of the fruite thereof, saith the Lorde God of Israel.

7 At that day shall a man looke to his maker, and his eyes shall looke to the holie one of Israel.

8 And he shall not looke to the altars, the workes of his owne hands, neither shall he looke to those things, which his owne fingers haue made, as groues and images.

9 In y day shall the cities of their strength be as the forsaking of boughs & branches, which they did forsake, because of the childer of Israel, & there shall be desolatiō.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not remembered the God of thy strength, therefore shalt thou set pleasant plantes, & shalt graffe strange vine branches:

11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant to grow, and in the morning shalt thou make thy leede to Horilh: but the harvest shall be gone in the day of possession, and there shall be desperate sorow.

12 Ah, the multitude of many people, they shall make a sound like the noyse of the sea: for the noyse of the people shall make a sound like the noyse of mightie waters.

13 The people shall make a sound like the noyse of manie waters: but God shall rebuke them, and they shall flee farre of, and shall be chafed as the chaffe of the mountaines before the winde, and as a rolling thing before the whirlewinde.

14 And lo, in the euening there is trouble: but afore the morning it is gone. This is y portion of them that spoyle vs, and the lot of them that robbe vs.

¶ As the Lord threatneth the wicked in his Law, Levit. 26. 16.

¶ The Prophet lamenteth, considering the horrible plague that was prepared against Israel by the Assyrians, which were infinite in number, & gathered of many nations.

¶ He addeth this for consolation of the faithful, which were in Israel. ¶ He compareth the enemies of Assyrians to a tempest, which riseth over night, & in the morning is gone.

ing. ¶ Go, ye swift messengers, to a nation that is scattered abroad, and spoyled, vnto a terrible people from their beginning euen hitherto: a nation by litle and litle, euen troden vnder foote, whose land the floods haue spoyled.

3 All ye the inhabitants of the world and dwellers in the earth, shall see whe he setteth vp a signe in the mountaines, & when he bloweth the trumpe, ye shall heare.

4 For so the Lord said vnto me, I will rest and beholde in my tabernacle, as I heate drying vp the raine, and as a cloude of dew in the heate of harvest.

5 For afore the harvest when the floure is finished, and the fruite is riping in the floure, then he shall cut downe the branches with hookes, and shall take away, and cut of the boughs:

6 They shall be lett together vnto foules of the mountaines, and to the beastes of the earth: for the foule shall sommer vpon it, and euerie beast of the earth shall winter vpon it.

7 At that time shall a present be brought Affyrians, as vnto the Lord of hostes, (a people that is scattered abroad, and spoyled, & of a terrible people from their beginning hitherto, a nation, by litle and litle euen troden vnder foot, whose land the riuers haue spoyled) to the place of the Name of the Lord of hostes, euen the mount Zion.

¶ Seasons are most profitable for the riping of fruites: whereby he meaneth, that he will seeme to fauour them, and giue them abundance for a time, but he will suddenly cut them off. ¶ Not onely men shall contemne them, but the brute beasts. ¶ Meaning, that God will pte his Church, and receiue that litle remnant as an offering vnto himselfe.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The destruction of the Egyptians by the Assyrians. 18 Of their conversion to the Lord.

1 The burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord rideth vpon a swift cloude, and shall come into Egypt, and the idoles of Egypt shall be moued at his presence, & the heart of Egypt shall melt in the middes of her.

2 And I wil set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: so euerie one shall fight against his brother, and euerie one against his neighbour, citie against citie, & kingdome against kingdome.

3 And the spirit of Egypt shall faile in the middes of her, and I wil destroy their counsel, and they shall seeke at the idoles, & at the forcerers, and at them that haue spirits of diuination, and at the southsayers.

4 And I will deliuer the Egyptians into the hand of the cruel lordes, and a mightie King shall rule ouer them, saith the Lord God of hostes.

5 Then the waters of the sea shall fayle, & the riuer shall be dried vp, and wasted.

6 And the riuers shall go farre away: the riuers of defence shall be emptied & dried

¶ This may be taken that they sent other comforters to the leues, and to promise them helpe against their enemies, and so the Lord did threaten to take away their strength that the leues should not tread therein: or that they did follow the Egyptians, and promised them aide to go against Israh.

The fall of Babylon.

¶ This the Prophet speaketh in the person of the Babylonians.

g He propheseth the death of Belshazzar, as Dan. 5. 30, who in the middes of his pleasures was destroyed. h Whiles they are eating, and drinking they shalbe commanded to runne to their weapons.

i To wit, in a vision by the Spirit of prophesie.

k Meaning charrets of men of warre, and others that carried the baggage.

l Meaning, Darius which ouercame Babylon.

3 Therefore are my <sup>f</sup> loynes filled with sorrowe: forrowes haue taken me as the sorrowes of a woman that trauaileth: I was bowed downe when I heard it, and I was amazed when I ſawe it.

4 Mine heart failed: fearefulnes troubled me: the night <sup>s</sup> of my pleasures hath been turned into feare vnto me.

5 Prepare thou the table: watch in <sup>y</sup> watch towre: eate, drinke: <sup>h</sup> arise, ye princes, anoint the shielde.

6 For thus hath the <sup>i</sup> Lord ſaide vnto mee, Go, ſet a watchman, to tel what hee ſeeth.

7 And he ſawe a charret with two horsemen: <sup>h</sup> a charret of an aſſe, & a charret of a camel: and he hearkened & tooke diligent heede.

1 A prophesie against Tyrus. 17 A promise that it shall be restored.

THe burden of Tyrus. Howle, ye shippes of Tarshish: for it is destroyed, so that there is none house: none shall come from the land of Chittim: it is reuiciled vnto them.

2 Be still, ye that dwell in the yles: the marchants of Zidon, and such as passe ouer the sea, haue replenished thee.

3 The seede of Nilus growing by the abundance of waters, and the haruest of the riuer was her reuenues, and she was a marte of the nations.

4 Be ashamed, thou Zidon: for the sea hath spoken, euen the strength of the sea, saying, I haue not trauailed, nor brought forth children, neither nourished yong men, nor brought vp virgins.

5 When the same commeth to the Egyptians, they shall be forie, concerning the rumour of Tyrus.

6 Go you ouer to Tarshish: howle, ye that dwell in the yles.

7 Is not this that your glorious cite? her antiquitie is of ancient dayes: her owne feete shall leade her as farre of to be a sojourner.

8 Who hath decreed this against Tyrus (that crowneth men) whole marchants are princes? whose chapmen are y nobles of the world?

9 The Lord of hostes hath decreed this, to staine the pride of all glorie, and to bring to contempt all them that be glorious in the earth.

10 Passe through thy land like a flood so the daughter of Tarshish: there is no more strength.

11 He stretched out his hand vpon the sea: he shooke the kingdomes: the Lord hath giuen a commandement concerning the place of marchandise, to destroy the power thereof.

12 And he said, Thou shalt no more reioyce when y art oppressed: O virgin daughter of Zidon: rise vp, go ouer vnto Chittim: yet there thou shalt haue no rest.

13 Beholde the lande of the Caldeans: this was no people: Ashur founded it by the inhabitants of the wilderness: they set vp the towres thereof: they raised the palaces thereof and he brought it to ruine.

14 Howle ye shippes of Tarshish, for your strength is destroyed.

A curse for sinnes.

b Because this was a name of dignitie, it was also applied to the, which were not of Aarons familie, & so signifieth also a man of dignitie, as 2. Sam. 8. 18. & 20. 25. 1. chro. 18. 17. and by these wordes the Prophet signifieth an horrible confusion, where there shalbe neither religion, order nor policie, Hosea. 4. 9. c That is, rendereth not her fruit for y<sup>e</sup> sune of y<sup>e</sup> people, who y<sup>e</sup> earth deceiued of their nouriture, because they deceiued God of his honour.

d Written in the Law, as Leui. 26 14. deui. 28. 16. thus y<sup>e</sup> Prophets vied to apply particularly the menaces, & promises which are general in the Law.

e With heate & drought, or els, that they were consumed with the fire of Gods wrath.

f Which as was wout order brought confusion: & this was not only men of Ierusalem, but of all the other wicked cities. g Because they did not vse Gods benefits aright, their pleasures should faile, and they fall to mourning.

h He comforteth the faithfull, declaring that in this great defolation y<sup>e</sup> Lord will assemble his Church, which shall praise his name, as chap. 20. 22.

i From the vtmost coastes of y<sup>e</sup> world, where the Gospel shall be preached, as ver. 16. k Meaning, to God, who will publish his Gospel through all the world. l I am consumed with care, considering the affliction of the church, both by foren enemies, and domestical. Some reade, my secret, my secret: that is, it was reueiled to the Prophet, that the good should be preferred & the wicked destroyed. m Meaning, that Gods wrath, and vengeance should be ouer and vnder them: so that they should not escape no more then they did at Noahs flood.

2 And there shalbe like people, like b Priest, and like seruant, like master, like maid, like mistresse, like byer, like seller, like lender, like borower, like giuer, like taker to vsurie.

3 The earth shalbe cleane emptied, and vtterly spoyled: for the Lorde hath spoken this worde.

4 The earth lamenteth and fadeth away: the world is feeble & decayed: the proud people of the earth are weakened.

5 The earth also deceiue, because of the inhabitants thereof: for they trasgressed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the euerlasting covenant.

6 Therefore hath the d curse deuoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are desolate. Wherefore the inhabitants of the land are b burned vp, and few men are left.

7 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might: all that were of mery heart, do mourne.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth: the noise of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioye of the harpe ceaseth.

9 They shall not drinke wine with mirth: strong drinke shalbe bitter to them that drinke it.

10 The cite of f vanitie is broken downe: euerie house is shut vp, that no man maye come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the streets: all ioye is darkened: the mirth of the worlde is gone away.

12 In the cite is left defolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 Surely thus shall it be in the middes of the earth, among the people, b as the shaking of an olue tree, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended.

14 They shall lift vp their voyce: they shall shoute for the magnificence of the Lord: they shall reioyce from the sea.

15 Wherefore praise ye the Lord in the valleys, euene the Name of the Lord God of Israel, in the yles of the sea.

16 From the uttermost part of the earth we haue heard praises, euene glorie to y<sup>e</sup> iust, and I said, My leanesse, my leanesse, wo is me: the transgressours haue offended: yea, the transgressours haue grievously offended.

17 Feare, and the pit, and the snare are vp to thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And he that fleeth from the noyse of the feare, shall fall into the pit, and he that climeth vp out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for the m windows are open, and the foundations of the earth do shake.

19 The earth is vtterly broken downe: the earth is cleane dissolued: the earth is mooued exceedingly.

k Meaning, to God, who will publish his Gospel through all the world. l I am consumed with care, considering the affliction of the church, both by foren enemies, and domestical. ## Isaiah.

20 The earth shall reele to and fro like a drunken man, and shalbe removed like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof shalbe heauie vpon it: so that it shall fall, and rise no more.

21 And in that day shall the Lord v<sup>e</sup> visit the hosts about that is on hie, euene the Kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they shalbe gathered together, as the prisoners in the pit: and they shalbe rodded, shut vp in the prison, & after manie daies shall they be v<sup>e</sup> visited.

23 Then the moone shalbe abashed, and the sunne ashamed, when the Lord of hostes shall reigne in mount Zion and in Ierusalem: and glorie shall be before his ancient men.

shine & his ministers: (which are called his ancient men) and the moone shalbe darke in comparison thereof.

CHAP. XXV.

A thanksgiving to God in that that he sheweth him selfe iudge of the world, by punishing the wicked and maintaining the godly.

1 O Lord, thou art my God: I wil exalt thee, I wil praise thy Name: for thou hast done wonderfull things, according to the counsels of olde, with a stable truth.

2 For thou hast made of a b cite an heape, of a strong cite, a ruine: euene y<sup>e</sup> palace of rectitude, & male strangers of a cite, it shall neuer be built.

3 Therefore shall the d mightie people giue glorie vnto thee: the cite of the strong nations shall feare thee.

4 For thou hast bene a strength vnto the poore, euene a strength to the needy in his trouble, a refuge against the tempest, a shadowe against the heate: for the blasse

* of the mightie is like a storme against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring downe the noyse of the strangers, f as the heate in a drie place: he wil bring downe the song of the mightie, as the heat in the shadow of a cloude.

6 And in this b mountaine shall the Lords of hostes make vnto all people a feast of fat things, euene a feast of fined wines, and of fat things full of marowe, of wines fined and purified.

7 And he wil destroye in this mountaine the couering that couereth all people, the vaile that is spred vpon all nations.

8 He wil destroy death for euer: and the Lord God wil wipe away y<sup>e</sup> teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people wil he take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

And in that day shall men say, Lo, this is our God: we haue waited for him, and he wil saue vs. This is the Lord, we haue waited for him: we wil reioyce and be ioyfull in his saluation.

10 For in this mountaine shall the hand of the Lord rest, and Moab shalbe threshed neth his Church, which should vnder Christ be assembled of y<sup>e</sup> Iewes and the Gentiles, & is here described vnder the figure of a collybacter, as Mat. 23. 2. i Meaning, that ignorance & blindness, whereby we are kept backe from Christ. k He wil take away all occasions of sorrow and fill his with perfect ioye, Reuel. 7. 17. & 21. 4. l By Moab we mentall the enemies of his Church.

Death shalbe destroyed.

There is no power to high or might, but God wil visit him with his rodde.

o Not with his rods, as vnder, but shalbe one when God shal reuel his Church, & they thereof shall be the same.

a Thus the Prophet giueth thanks to God, because he wil bring vnder subiection these nations by his corrections, the of which which before were his enemies.

b God shal be praised for v<sup>e</sup> visitation, which hee doth to the wicked, as hee doth to the good.

c That is, a place where as alwaies without danger, & as it were, safe, as in the palace of the mightie, & proud, which before would not knowe the reidions feare & glorie thereof.

d The rage of the wicked in furious, till God breake the same thereof.

f Meaning, that as the heat is based by y<sup>e</sup> rain, so shal god bring downe the rage of the wicked.

g As a cloude shadoweth from the heate of the sunne, so shal God alwaies be reioicing of the wicked against the godly.

h To wit, in Zion, whereby hee mentall the enemies of his Church.

CHAP. XXVI.

A song of the faithful, wherein is declared, in what confession the saluation of the Church, and wherein they ought to trust.

This song was made to comfort
the faithful,
wher their captiuities should come, assuring the also of their deliuerance, for the which they should sing this song.

Gods proce-dion & defence shall be sufficient for vs.
He assuredly godly to returne
after the captiuities to Ierusalem.
Thou shalt deceit, and thy purpose can not be changed.

There is no
power to him,
that can let god,
when he will deliver his.

God will set poore afflicted ouer the power of the wicked.
We haue constantly abid in the desertuities wherewith thou hast afflicted vs.
Meaning, that
by afflictions men shall learne to feare God.

The wicked
though God
showe the euident signes of his grace, shall become the better.
Through en-
uie and indignation against thy people.

The fire & ve-gance, wherwith thou dost destroy thine enemies.

The Babylonians, which haue not gouerned according to thy word.

Meaning, that they prostrate, euen in this life shall haue the beginning of euertlasting death.

13 That daye shall this song be sung in the lande of Iudah, We haue a strong city: saluation shall God set for walles & bulwarkes.

14 Open ye the gates that the righteous nation, which keepeth the truth, may enter in.

15 By an assured purpose wilt thou preferue perfect peace, because they trusted in thee.

16 Trust in the Lorde for euer: for in the Lorde God is strength for euermore.

17 For he will bring downe them that dwell on hie: the hie citie he will abase: euen vnto the grounde will he cast it downe, and bring it vnto duft.

18 The foote shall treade it downe, euen the feete of the poore, and the steppes of the needie.

19 The waye of the iust is righteousness:
thou wilt make equall the righteous path of the iust.

20 Also we, O Lorde, haue waited for thee in the way of thy iudgements: the desire of our soules is to thy Name, and to the remembrance of thee.

21 With my soule haue I desired thee in the night, and with my spirit within me will I leeke thee in the morning: for seeing thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world shall learne righteousness.

22 Let mercy be shewed to the wicked, yet he wil not learne righteousness: in the land of vprightnes wil he do wickedly, and wil not beholde the maiestie of the Lorde.

23 O Lorde, they will not beholde thine hie hand: but they shall see it, & be confounded with the zeale of the people, and the fire of thine enemies shall deuoure them.

24 Lorde, vnto vs thou wilt ordeine peace:
for thou also hast wrought all our workes
for vs.

25 O Lorde our God, our lords beside thee haue ruled vs, but we will remember thee onely, and thy Name.

26 The dead shall not liue, neither shall the dead arise, because thou hast visited and scattered them, and destroyed all their memorie.

27 Thou hast increased the paine, O Lorde, of euertlasting death. To wit, the company of the Gentiles.

thou hast encreased the nation: thou art made glorious: thou hast enlarged all the coasts of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble haue they visited thee:
they powred out a prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with child, that draweth nere to the travail, is in sorow, and cryeth in her paines, so haue we bene in thy sight, O Lorde.

18 We haue conceived, we haue borne in paine, as though we should haue brought forth wynde: there was no helpe in the earth, neither did the inhabitantes of the world fall.

19 Thy dead men shall liue: euen with my body shall they rise. Awake, & sing, ye that dwell in dust: for thy dew is as the dewe of herbes, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 Come, my people: enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores after thee:
hide thy selfe for a very litle while, vntill
the indignation passe ouer.

21 For lo, the Lorde cometh out of his place, to visite the iniquitie of the inhabitantes of the earth vpon them: and the earth shall disclose her blood, and shal no more hide her slaine.

spring tyme: so they that lye in the dust shall rise vp to ioy when they feele the dewe of Gods grace. x He exhorteth the faithful to be pacient in their afflictions, & to wait vpon Gods worke. y The earth shall vomit and cast out the innocent blood, which is hath drunke, & it may cry for vengeance against the wicked.

CHAP. XXVII.

A prophesie against the kingdom of Satan, and of the ioy of the Church for their deliuerance.

1 In that day the Lorde with his sore and great and mighty sword shall visite Liuathian, that peering serpent, euen Liu-athian, that croked serpent, & he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyarde of red wine.

3 The Lorde do keepe it: I will water it eue-rie moment: lest any assaile it, I will keepe it night and day.

4 Anger is not in me: who would set the briers & the thornes against me in battell?
I would go through them, I would burne them together.

5 Or wil he feele his strength, that he may make peace with me, & be at one with me?

6 Hereafter, Iakob shall take roote: Israel shall florish and grow, and the worlde shall be filled with fruite.

7 Hath he smitten him as he smote those that more him? or is he slaine according to the slaughter of them that were slayne by him?

vpon the wicked infidels, whom he meaneth by briers and thornes.
e He maruaileth, that Israel wil not come by gentleness, except God make them to feele his rods, and so bring them vnto him. f Though I afflict and diminish my people for a tyme, yet shal the roote spring againe & bring forth in great abundance. g He sheweth that God pu-nisheth his in mercy, and his enemies in iustice.

p That is, the faithful by thy rods were mou-
ed to pray vnto thee for deliue-rance.

neither did we enjoy the comfort, that we loked for.

f The wicked & men without religion were not

g He comforteth
the faithful in their afflictions, shewing them
eue in death they shal haue life: &
that they should most certainly rise to glory: the contrary should come to the wicked, as ver. 14.

h That is, thou wilt not destroy the roote of thy Church though y branches ther-offe me to perih by y sharpe wind of affliction.
i Heweth y there is no true repentance nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged fro all idolatry, and y monuments therof destroyed.
k Notwithstanding his fauour that he will shew the after, yet Ierusalem shall be destroyed, and graffe for cattel shal grow in it.
l God shal not haue neede of mighty enemies: for the very women shal do it, to their gret shame.
m He shal destroy al from Euphrates to Nilus: for some fled toward Egypt, thinking to haue escaped.
n In the time of Cyrus, by who they should be deliuered: but this was chiefly accomplished vnder Christ.

8 In measure in the branches thereof wilt thou contende with it, when he bloweth with his rough winde in the daye of the East winde.

9 By this therefore shal the iniquitie of Iacob be purged, and this is all the fruite, the taking away of his sinne: when he shall make al the stones of the altars, as chalke stones, broken in pieces, shal the groues & images may not stand vp.

10 Yet the defended citie shalbe desolate, & the habitation shalbe forsaken, and left like a wilderness. There shal the calfe feed, and there shal he lie, & consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughes of it are dry, they shalbe broken: the women come, and set them on fire: for it is a people of none vnderstanding: therefore he that made them, shal not haue compassion of them, and he that formed them, shal haue no mercy on them.

12 And in that day shal the Lord thresh fro the channell of the Riuer vnto the riuer of Egypt, and ye shalbe gathered, one by one, O children of Israel.

13 In that day also shal the great trumpe be blown, and they shal come, which perished in the land of Asshur: and they that were chased into the lande of Egypt, and they shal worship the Lorde in the holy Mount at Ierusalem.

And in that day shal the Lord thresh fro the channell of the Riuer vnto the riuer of Egypt, and ye shalbe gathered, one by one, O children of Israel.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against the pride & drunkenness of Israel. 9 The vnderwardens of them that should learne the worde of God, 24 God doeth all things in time and place.

Woe to the crowne of pride, the drunkardes of Ephraim: for his glorious beautie shall bee a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and are ouercome with wyne.

Beholde, the Lorde hath a mightie and strong hofte, like a tempest of hayle, and a whirlwinde that ouerthroweth, like a tempest of mighty waters that ouerflow, which throwe to the ground mightily.

They shalbe troden vnder foote, even the crowne and the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.

For his glorious beauty shall be a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and as the haiste fruite afore sommer, which when he that looketh vpon it, seeth it, while it is in his hand, he eateth it.

In that day shal the Lord of hostes be for a crowne of glory, and for a diademe of beautie vnto the residue of his people:

And for a spirite of iudgement to him that sitteth in iudgement, & for strength vnto the that turne away the battel to the gace.

made God their glorie, shalbe preferred. f He will giue counsell to the gouernour, and strength to the captain, to driue the enemies in at their owne gates.

But they haue erred because of wine, & are out of the waye by strong drinke: the Priest & the Prophet haue erred by strong drinke: they are swallowed vp with wine: they haue gone astray thorough strong drinke: they faile in vision: they stumble in iudgement.

For al their tables are full of filthy vomiting: no place is cleane.

Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whome shall he make to vnderstande the things that he heareth: them that are weened from the milke and drawn from the breasts.

For a precept must be vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle, and there a litle.

For with a stammering tongue & with a strange language shal he speake vnto this people.

Vnto whom he sayd, This is the rest: giue rest to him that is weary: and this is the refreshing, but they would not heare.

Therefore shall the worde of the Lorde be vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle and there a litle, that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken and be snared and be taken.

Wherefore, heare the worde of the Lorde, ye scornfull men that rule this people, which is at Ierusalem.

Because ye haue sayd, We haue made a couenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement: though a scourge runne ouer, & passe through, it shal not come at vs: for we haue made falsehood our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid,

Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will laye in Zion a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation. He that beleeueth, shall not make haste.

Iudgement also will I lay to the rule, and righteousnes to the balance, & the hayle shal sweep away the vayne confidence, and the waters shall ouerflow the secrete place.

And your couenant with death shall be disanulled, and your agreement with hell shal not stand: when a scourge shall runne ouer and passe through, then shall ye be trod downe by it.

When it passeth ouer, it shall take you away: for it shall passe through euery morning in the day, and in the night, and there shalbe onely seare to make you to vnderstand the hearing.

For the bed is streight, it cannot suffice, and the couering narrow that one can not wrap himselfe.

et, and seeke none other remedies, but be content with Christ: & the restitution of his Church, iudgement, and iustice shall reigne. a Gods corrections and affliction x Affliction shal discover their vayne confidence, which they kept secrete to themselves. y Terror and destruction shal make you to learn that, which exhortations & gentleness could not bring you vnto. z Your affliction shalbe so sore, that you are not able to endure it.

Meaning, the hypocrites, which were among the, & were altogether corrupt in life & doctrine, which is here ment by drunkennes & vomiting.

For there was none that was able to vnderstand any good doctrine: but were foolish, & as vaine as yong babes. If they must haue one thing offered to them, I that is, y Prophet, who God should send. In this y doctrine, whereup y ought to stay and rest.

Shew to them that are weary & haue need of rest, what is the true rest.

Because they will not receive the word of god, which is offered, it cometh of their owne malice, if after their hearts be so hardened, that they care not for it, as before Chap. 6. 9

They thought they had shutes to auoid Gods iudgements, and that they could escape though al other perished.

q Though y Prophets conuicted their idoles, and vain trust of fall hope, & vayne thought in the felmes that they would be true in the things.

Now therefore be no mockers, lest your bondes increase: for I haue heard of the Lord of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.

Hearken ye, and heare my voyce: hearken ye, and heare my speache.

Doeth the plowe man plowe all the day, to sow? doeth he open, & breake the clots of his ground?

When he hath made it plaine, will he not then sowe the fitches, and sowe cummin, and cast in wheat by measure, and the appointed barley and rie in their place?

For his God doeth instruct him to haue discretion, and doeth teach him.

For fitches shall not be threshed with a threshing instrument, neither shall a cart wheele be turned about vpon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staffe, and cummin with a rod.

Bread come when it is threshed, he doth not alwaye thresh it, neither doth the wheele of his cart fill make a noise, neither will he breake it with the teeth thereof.

This also commeth from the Lorde of hostes, which is wonderfull in counsel, and excellent in workes.

As the plowe man hath his appointed tyme, & diuers instruments for his labour, so hath the Lorde for his vengeance: for he punisheth some at one time, and some at another, some after one sort, and some after another, so that his chosen feele is beaten, & tried, but not broken, as are the wicked.

meth, and beholde; he eateth: and when he awaketh, his soule is empty: or like as a thirstie man dreameth, and lo, he is drinking, and when he awaketh, behold, he is faint, and his soule longeth: so shall the multitude of all nations be that fight against mount Zion.

Stay your selues, and wonder: they are blinde, & make you blind: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

For the Lorde hath couered you with a spirit of slumber, & hath shut vp your eyes: the Prophetes, and your chiefe Seers hath he couered.

And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can read, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. Then shall he say, I can not: for it is sealed.

And the booke is giuen vnto him that cannot read, saying, Read this, I pray thee. And he shall say, I can not read.

Therefore the Lorde sayde, Because this people come neere vnto me with their mouth, and honour me with their lippes, but haue remoued their heart farre from me, and their feare toward me was taught by the precept of men,

Therefore beholde, I will againe do a maruailous worke in this people, euen a maruailous worke, and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

Wo vnto them that seeke deepe to hide their counsel fro the Lorde: for their workes are in darkenes, and they say holie one of Iakob, & shall feare the God of Israel.

24 Then they that erred in spirit, shall haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shall learne doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

He reproveth the Iewes which in their aduersitie used their owne counsells, and sought helpe of the Egyptians, to despising the Prophets. 16 Therefore he sheweth what destruction shall come upon them, 18 But offereth mercy to the repentant.

a Who contrary to their promises, take not me for their protector, and contrarie to my commandment, seeke helpe at strangers. b They seeke shifts to cloke their doings, and not godly means

WO to the rebellious children, faith the Lord, that take counsel, but not of me, and couer with a couering, but not by my spirit, that they may lay sinne vpon sinne:

Which walke forth to go downe into Egypt (and haue not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadowe of Egypt.

But the strength of Pharaoh shall be your shame, & the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

For his princes were at Zoan, and his Ambassadors came vnto Hanes.

They shall be all ashamed of the people that cannot profite them, nor helpe nor do them good, but shall be a shame and also a reproche.

The burden of the beasts of the South, in a lande of trouble and anguise, from whence shall come the yong & olde lyon, the viper & fierie flying serpent against the that shall beare their riches vpon y shoulders of the coltes, and their treasures vpon the bounces of the camels, to a people that cannot profite.

For the Egyptians are vanitie, and they shall helpe in vaine. Therefore haue I cryed vnto her, Their strength is to sit still.

Now go, & write it before them in a table, & note it in a booke that it may be for the last day for euer and euer:

That it is a rebellious people, lying children, and children that would not heare the Law of the Lord.

Which say vnto the Seers, See not: and to the Prophets, Prophesie not vnto vs right things: but speake flattering things vnto vs: prophesie errors.

Depart out of the waye: go aside out of the path: cause the holie one of Israel to cease from vs.

Therefore thus faith the holie one of Israel, Because you haue cast of this worde, but delisted to be flattered, & led in error,

Therefore this iniquitie shall be vnto you as a breach that falleth, or a swelling in an he wall, whose breaking commeth suddenly in a moment.

And the breaking thereof is like the breaking of a potters pot, which is broke without pitie, and in the breaking thereof is not founde a shearde to take fyre out of the hearth, or to take water out of the pit.

Meaning, in their stubbnes against God and the admonitions of his Prophets.

For thus sayd the Lord God, the holie one of Israel, In rest and quietnes shall ye be saued: in quietnes and in confidence shall be your strength, but ye would not.

For ye haue sayd, No, but we will flee away vpon horses. Therefore shall ye flee. We will ride vpon the swiftest. Therefore shall your persecuters be swifter.

A thousand as one shall flee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of fise shall ye flee, till ye be left as a ship mast vpon the top of a mountaine, and as a beaken vpon an hill.

Yet therefore will the Lord waite, that he may haue mercy vpon you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may haue compassion vpon you: for the Lord is the God of iudgement. Blessed are all they that wait for him.

Surely a people shall dwell in Zion, & in Ierusalem: thou shalt weepe no more: he will certainly haue mercy vpon thee at the voice of thy crye: when he heareth thee, he will answere thee.

And when the Lord hath giuen you the bread of aduersitie, and the water of affliction, thy rayne shall be no more kept backe, but thine eyes shall see thy raine.

And thine eares shall heare a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walke ye in it, whe thou turnest to the right had, and when thou turnest to the left.

And ye shall pollute the couering of the images of siluer, and the riche ornament of thine images of gold, and cast the away as a menstruous cloth, and thou shalt saye vnto it, Get thee hence.

Then shall he giue raine vnto thy feede, when thou shalt sow the ground, & bread true increase, of the encrease of the earth, and it shall be fat and as oyle: in that day shall thy cattel be fed in large pastures.

The oxen also and the yong asses, that till the ground, shall eate cleane prouender, which is winowed with the shoemel and with the fanne.

And vpon euery hie mountaine, and vpon euery hie hill shall there bee riuers and streames of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers shall fall.

Moreover, the light of the moone shall be as the light of the sunne, and the light of the sunne shall be seven folde, and lyke the light of seven dayes in the day that the Lord shall bynde vp the breache of his people, and heale the stroke of theyr wound.

Beholde, the Name of the Lord cometh from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heauy: his lippes are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a deuouring fire.

And his spirit is as a riuier that ouerfloweth.

This threatening is agaynst the Assyrians, the chiefe enemies of the people of God.

29 But there shall be a song vnto you as in the night, when a solemne feast is kept: and gladnes of heart, as he that commeth with a pipe to go vnto the mount of the Lord, to the mightie one of Israel.

30 And the Lorde shall cause his glorious voyce to be heard, & shal declare the lighting downe of his arme with the anger of his countenance, and flame of a deuouring fire, with scattering & tempest, and hayle stones.

31 For with the voyce of the Lorde shall Ashur be destroyed, which smote with the rodde.

32 And in euerie place that the staffe shall passe, it shal cleaue fast, which the Lorde shal lay vpon him with tabrets and harpes: and with battels, & lifting vp of hands shal he fight against it.

33 For Tophet is prepared of olde: it is euen prepared for the King: he hath made it deepe & large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood: the breth of the Lorde, like a riuer of brimstone, doeth kinde it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 He cureseth them that forsake God, and seeke for the helpe of men.

1 WO vnto them that go downe into Egypt for helpe, and stay vpon horses, and trust in charrets, because they are manie, and in horsemen, because they are very strong: but they looke not vnto the holy one of Israel, nor seeke vnto the Lorde.

2 But he yet is wisest: therefore he will bring euil, and not turne backe his worde, but he will arise against the house of the wicked, and against the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, & not God, and their horses fleshe and not spirit: and when the Lorde shall stretch out his hand, the helper shall fall, and he that is holpe shall fall, and they shall altogether fayle.

4 For thus hath the Lorde spoken vnto me, As the lyon or lyons whelpes roareth vpon his praye, against whom if a multitude of shepherds be called, he wil not be afraide at their voyce, neither wil humble himselfe at their noife: so shall the Lorde of hostes come downe to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birdes that flie, so shall the Lorde of hostes defend Ierusalem by defending & deliuering, by passing through and preferring it.

6 Oye children of Israel, turne againe, in asmuch as ye are sunken deepe in rebellion.

7 For in that day euery man shall cast out his idoles of siluer, and his idoles of gold, which your handes haue made you, euen a sinne.

8 Then shall Ashur fall by the sworde, not of man, neither shal the sword of man deuoure him, & he shall flee from the sword, and his yong men shall faint.

9 And he shall go for feare to his towre, & his princes shal be afraid of the standart, saith the Lorde, whose fire is in Zion, and his fornaie in Ierusalem.

10 This was accomplished soone after when Saneherib his armie was discomfited, and he fled to his castel in Nineueh for succour. k To destroy his enemies.

CHAP. XXXII.

The conditions of good rulers and officers described by the gouernment of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

1 BEholde, a King shall reigne in iustice, and the princes shall rule in iudgement.

2 And that man shalbe as an hiding place from the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest: as riuers of water in a dry place, and as the shadowe of a great rocke in a weary land.

3 The eyes of the seeing shall not be shut, and the eares of them that heare, shall hearken.

4 And the heart of the foolish shall vnderstande knowledge, and the tongue of the stutters shalbe ready to speake distinctly.

5 A nigarde shal no more be called liberal, nor the churle riche.

6 But the nigarde will speake of nigardnes, and his heart will worke iniquitie, and do wickedly, and speake falsely against the Lorde, to make emptie the hungrye soule, and to cause the drinke of the thirstie to fayle.

7 For the weapons of the churle are wicked: he deuiseeth wicked counsels, to vndo the poore with lying wordes: & to speake against the poore in iudgement.

8 But the liberall man will deuise of liberall things, and he will continue his liberalitie.

9 Rise vp, ye women that are at ease: heare my voyce, ye careles daughters: hearken to my wordes.

10 Ye women, that are careles, shalbe in feare aboute a yere in dayes: for the vintage shal fayle, & the gathering shal come no more.

11 Ye women, that are at ease, be astonied: feare, Oye careles women: put of the clothes: make bare, and gird sackcloth vpon the loines.

12 Men shall lament for the teates, euen for the pleasant fieldes, & for the fruitefull vine.

13 Temne him: to wit, abundance of worldly goods. i By the teates hee meaneth the plentiful fields, wherby men are nourished, as childre with the teate: or the mothers for sorow, and lemmes shall lacke milke.

f He toucheth their conscience that they might earnestly feeble their grievous sinnes, & so truly repent, for as much as now they are almost drowned & past recouerie.

g By these fruits your repentance shalbe known, as Chap. 2. 18.

h When your repentance appeareth. i This was accomplished soone after when Saneherib his armie was discomfited, and he fled to his castel in Nineueh for succour. k To destroy his enemies.

CHAP. XXXIII.

The destruction of them, by whome God hath punished his Church.

1 WO to thee that<sup>a</sup> spoylest, and wast not spoyled: and doest wickedly, & they did not wickedly against thee: when thou shalt<sup>b</sup> cease to spoile, thou shalt be spoyled: when thou shalt make an ende of doing wickedly, they shall do wickedly against thee.
2 O Lord, haue mercie vpon vs, we haue waited for thee: be thou, which wast<sup>c</sup> their arme in the morning, our help also in time of trouble.
3 At the noyse of the tumult, the<sup>d</sup> people fled: at thine<sup>e</sup> exalting the nations were scattered.
4 And your spoyles shalbe gathered like the gathering of<sup>f</sup> caterpillers: and<sup>g</sup> he shall go against him like<sup>h</sup> leaping of grasshoppers.
5 The Lord is exalted: for he dwelleth on hie: he hath filled Zion with iudgement & iustice.
as the chief refuge of the faithful when troubles come, to pray and seeke help of God. e Which helped our fathers so soone as they called vpon thee. f That is, the Assyrians fled before the arme of the Calde-ans, or the Caldeans for feare of the Medes & Persians. g When thou, O Lord, diddest lift vp thine arme to punish thine enemies. h Ye that as caterpillers destroyed with your number the whole world, shall haue no strength to resist your enemies: the Caldeans, but shalbe gathered on an heape and destroyed. i Meaning the Medes and Persians against the Caldeans.

6 And there shalbe stabilitie of<sup>k</sup> thy times, k That is, in the strength, saluation, wiselome and knowledge: for the feare of the Lord shalbe his treasure.
7 Behold, their messengers shall cry without, and the<sup>m</sup> ambassadours of peace shall weepe bitterly.
8 The<sup>n</sup> pathes are waste: the wayfaring man ceaseth: he hath broke the couenant:
he hath contemned the cities: he regarded no man.
9 The earth mourneth and fainteth: Lebanon is ashamed, and hewen downe: <sup>o</sup> Sharon is like a wildernes, and Basan is shaken and Carmel.
10 Now will I<sup>p</sup> aryse, sayth the Lorde: now will I be exalted, now will I lift vp my selfe.
11 Ye shall conceiue chaffe, & bring forth stubble: the fire of your breath shall deu-oure you.
12 And the people shalbe as the burning of lime: & as the thornes cut vp, shal they be burnt in the fire.
13 Heare, ye that are<sup>q</sup> farre of, what I haue done, and ye that are nere, knowe my power.
14 The<sup>r</sup> sinners in Zion are afraide: a feare is come vpon the hypocrites: who among vs shall dwell with the deuouring fire: who among vs shall dwell with the euermolting burnings?
15 He that walketh in iustice, and speaketh righteous things, retuning game of oppression, taking his handes from taking of giftes, stopping his eares from hearing of bloode, and shutting his eyes from seeing euill.
16 He shall dwell on<sup>s</sup> hie: his defence shal be the munitions of rockes: breade shalbe giuen him, and his waters shalbe sure.
17 Thine eyes shal<sup>t</sup> see the king in his glorie: they shall beholde the lande<sup>u</sup> farre of.
18 Thine heart<sup>v</sup> shal meditate feare, Where is the scribe? where is the receiuer? where is he that counted the towres?
19 Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a darke speache, that thou canst not perceiue, & of a stammering tongue that thou canst not vnderstand.
20 Looke vpon Zion the cite of our solemne feastes: thine eyes shall see Ierusalem a quiet habitation, a Tabernacle that can not be remoued: and the stakes ther-of can neuer be taken away, neither shall any of the cordes thereof be broken.
21 For surely there the mighty Lorde wilbe vnto vs, as a place<sup>w</sup> of floods and broad riuers, whereby shall passe no shippe with oares, neither shal greate shippe passe ther-by.
22 For the Lorde is our iudge, the Lord is

CHAP. XXXIII.

He sheweth that God punisheth the wicked for the lone that he beareth toward his Church.

1 Come nere, ye nations and heare, and hearkē, ye people: let the earth heare and all that is therein, the worlde and all that proceedeth thereof.

2 For the indignation of the Lord is vpon al nations, and his wrath vpon all their armies: he hath<sup>b</sup> destroyed them & deliuered them to the slaughter.

3 And their slaine shalbe cast out, and their stincke shal come vp out of their bodies, and the mountaines shalbe melted with their blood.

4 And al the host of heauen<sup>c</sup> shalbe dissolved, and the heauens shalbe folden like a booke: and all their hostes shall fall as the leafe falleth from the vine, and as it falleth from the figtree.

5 For my sword shalbe<sup>d</sup> drunken in the heauen: beholde, it shal come downe vpon Edom, euen vpon the people of<sup>e</sup> my curse to iudgement.

6 The sworde of the Lord is filled with blood: it is made fat with the fat and with the blood of the<sup>f</sup> lambes and the goates, with the fat of the kidneis of the rams: for the Lord hath a sacrifice in<sup>g</sup> Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

7 And the<sup>h</sup> vicornes shall come downe with them & the heiffers with the bulles, & their land shalbe drunken with blood, and their dust made fat with farnes.

8 For it is the day of the Lords vengeance, and the yere of recompence for the iudgement of Zion.

9 And the riuers thereof shalbe turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into<sup>i</sup> brimstone, and the land thereof shalbe burning pitch.

10 It shal not be quēched night nor day: the smoke thereof shal go vp euermore: it shall be desolate from generation to generation: none shal passe through it for euer.

a This history is reherſed, becauſe it is as a ſeale and confirmation of the doctrine afore, both for the threatnings and promiſes: to wit, that God would ſuffer his church to be afflicted, but at length would ſend deliuerance.

b When he had aboliſhed ſuperſtition, and idolatry, and reſtored religion, yet God would exerce hiſ church to trye their faith & pacifice.

c For he was now reſtored to his office, as Iſaiah had prophesied, Chap. 22. 20.

d This declareth that there were fewe godly to be found in the Kinges houſe, when he was drinen to ſend this wicked man in ſuch a weightie matter.

e Sanherib chief captain.

f He ſpeaketh this in the perſon of Hezekiah falſely charging him, that he put his truſt in his witte and eloquence, whereas his onely confidence was in the Lord.

g Satan labour to pull the godly King fro one vaine confidence to another: to wit, from truſt in the Egyptians, whoſe power was weak and would deceiue them: to yelde him ſelfe to the Aſſyrians and fo not to hope for any helpe of God.

h Or, turne backe.

i Thus the wicked to deceiue vs, will pretend the Name of the Lord: but we muſt trie the ſpirits, whether they be of God or no. k They were afraid, leſt by his wordes he ſhoulde haue ſtirred the people againſt him, and alſo pretended to growe to ſome appoyntment with him. Ebr, the water of their ſets.

NOW in the fourteenth yere of King Hezekiah, Sanherib King of Aſſhur came vp againſt the ſtrong cities of Iudah, and tooke them.

2 And the King of Aſſhur ſent Rabshakeh from Lachiſh toward Ierusalem vnto King Hezekiah, with a great hoſte, and he ſtood by the conduite of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers field.

3 Then came forth vnto him Eliakim the ſonne of Hilkiah the ſteward of the houſe, and Shebna the chancellor, and Ioah the ſonne of Aſaph the recorder.

4 And Rabshakeh ſaid vnto them, Tel you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus ſaith the great King, the King of Aſſhur, What confidence is this, wherein thou truſteſt?

5 I ſay, Surely I haue eloquence, but counſel and ſtrength are for the warre: on who then doeſt thou truſt, that thou rebelleſt againſt me?

6 Lo, thou truſteſt in this broken ſtaffe of reede on Egypt, wherupon if a man leane, it wil goe into his hand, and pearce it: ſo is Pharaoh King of Egypt, vnto al that truſt in him.

7 But if thou ſay to me, We truſt in the Lord our God. Is not that he, whoſe hie places and whoſe altars Hezekiah tooke downe, and ſaid to Iudah and to Ierusalem, Ye ſhal worſhippe before this altar?

8 Now therefore giue hoſtages to my lord the King of Aſſhur, & I wil giue thee two thouſand horſes, if thou be able on thy part to ſet riders vpon them.

9 For how canſt thou deſpiſe any captain of the leaſt of my lordes ſeruants? and put thy truſt on Egypt for charrets and for horſemen?

10 And am I now come vp without ſe Lord to this land to deſtroy it? The Lord ſaid vnto me, Go vp againſt this land and deſtroy it.

11 ¶ Then ſaid Eliakim, and Shebna and Ioah vnto Rabshakeh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy ſeruants in the Aramites language, (for we vnderſtand it) and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wal.

12 Then ſaid Rabshakeh, Hath my maſter ſent me to thy maſter, & to thee to ſpeake theſe wordes, and not to the men that ſit on the wal? that they may eate their owne dounge, and drinke their owne piſſe with you?

13 So Rabshakeh ſtood, & cryed with a loud voice, He reprocheeth to Hezekiah his ſmall power, which is not able to reſiſt one of Sanheribs leaſt captains, I Thus the wicked to deceiue vs, will pretend the Name of the Lord: but we muſt trie the ſpirits, whether they be of God or no. k They were afraid, leſt by his wordes he ſhoulde haue ſtirred the people againſt him, and alſo pretended to growe to ſome appoyntment with him. Ebr, the water of their ſets.

voice in the Iewes language, and ſaid, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Aſſhur.

14 Thus ſaith the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he ſhal not be able to deliuer you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to truſt in the Lord, ſaying, The Lord wil ſurely deliuer vs: this cite ſhal not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Aſſhur.

16 Harken not to Hezekiah: for thus ſaith the King of Aſſhur, Make appointment with me, and come out to me, that euery man may eat of his owne vine, and euery man of his owne figtree, and drinke euery man the water of his owne wel,

17 Till I come and bring you to a lande like your owne land, euen a land of wheat and wine, a land of bread and vineyardes, 18 Leſt Hezekiah deceiue you, ſaying, The Lord wil deliuer vs. Hath any of the gods of the nation deliuered his land out of the hand of the King of Aſſhur?

19 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuaim? or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

20 Who is he among al the gods of theſe lands, that hath deliuered their countrey out of mine hand, that the Lord ſhould deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hand?

21 Then they kept ſilence, and answered him not a word: for the Kings commandement was, ſaying, Answer him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the ſonne of Hilkiah the ſteward of the houſe, and Shebna the chancellor, and Ioah the ſonne of Aſaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and told him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

of the Egyptians and Ethiopians, that shall come against him. Which was a city toward Egypt, thinking thereby to have stayed the force of his enemies.

Thus God would have him to utter a most horrible blasphemy before his destruction: to call the author of all truth, a deceiver: some gather hereby that Seneb had disclosed unto Seneb the answer of Isaiah sent to the King. Which was a city of the Medes. Called also Chereacy in Mesopotamia, whence Abraham came after his fathers death.

If he groundeth his prayer on Gods promise, who promised to heare them from between the Cherubims.

In Meaning of the ten tribes.

He declareth for what cause he prayed, that they might be deliuered: to wit, that God might be glorified thereby through all the world.

the wordes of Rabshakeh, whom the King of Asshur his master hath sent to raile on the liuing God, and to reprove him with wordes which the Lord thy God hath heard, then lift thou vp thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the seruants of the King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 And Isaiah said vnto them, Thus say vnto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the wordes that thou hast heard, wherewith the seruants of the King of Asshur haue blasphemed me.

7 Beholde, I will send a blast vpon him, and he shall heare a noise, and returne to his owne land, and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his owne land.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the King of Asshur fighting against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed fro Lachish.

9 He heard also men say of Tirhakah, King of Ethiopia, Behold, he is come out to fight against thee: and when he heard it, he sent other messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speake to Hezekiah King of Iudah, saying, Let not thy God deceive thee, in whome thou trustest, saying, Ierusalem shall not be giuen into the hand of the King of Asshur.

11 Beholde, thou hast heard what the Kings of Asshur haue done to all lands in destroying them, & shalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the nations deliuered them, which my fathers haue destroyed: as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Telassar?

13 Where is the King of Hamath, and the King of Arpad, and the King of the citie of Sepharuaim, Hena and Iuah?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the messengers and read it, and he went vp into the House of the Lord, and Hezekiah spread it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed vnto the Lord, saying,

16 O Lord of hostes, God of Israel, which dwellest betwene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made the heauen and the earth.

17 Encline thine eare, O Lord, and heare: open thine eyes, O Lord, and see, and heare all the wordes of Saneherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the liuing God.

18 Truth it is, O Lorde, that the Kings of Asshur haue destroyed all lands, & their country, 19 And haue cast their gods in the fire: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hands, euen wood or stone: therefore they destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O Lorde our God, saue thou vs out of his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may knowe, that thou onely art the Lord.

21 ¶ Then Isaiah the sonne of Amoz sent vnto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Because thou hast prayed vnto me, concerning Saneherib King of Asshur, 22 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against him, O virgine, daughter of Zion, he hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorne: O daughter of Ierusalem, he hath shaken his head at thee.

23 Whome hast thou railed on & blasphemed? & against whome hast thou exalted thy voyce, and lifted vp thine eyes on him? euen against the holie one of Israel.

24 By thy seruants hast thou railed on the Lord, and said, By the multitude of my charrets I am come vp to the toppes of the mountaines to the sides of Lebanon, and will cut downe the hie ceders thereof, and the faire fire trees thereof, and I will go vp to the heightes of his toppes and to the forest of his fruitfull places.

25 I haue digged, and drunke the waters, & with the plant of my feete haue I dried all the riuers closed in.

26 Hast thou not heard how I haue of olde time made it, and haue formed it long ago? and shoulde I now bring it, that it should be destroyed, and layed on ruinous heapes, as cities detensed?

27 Whose inhabitants haue smal power, & are afraid and confounded: they are like the grasse of the field and greene herbe, or grasse on the house toppes, or corne blasted afore it be growen.

28 But I know thy dwelling, and thy going out, and thy comming in, and thy furie against me.

29 Because thou ragest against me, and thy tumult is come vp vnto mine eares, therefore will I put mine hooke in thy nostrils, and my bridle in thy lippes, and will bring thee backe againe the same way thou camest.

30 And this shall be a signe vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt eare this yere such as groweth of it selfe: and the second yere, such things as growe without sowing: and in the third yere, sowe ye & reape, & plant vineyards, and eat the fruite thereof.

31 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudah, shall againe take roote downward and beare fruite vpwarde.

32 For out of Ierusalem shall go a remnant, & they that escape out of mount Zion: the zeale of the Lord of hostes shall do this.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lord, concerning the King of Asshur, He shall not enter into this citie, nor shoote an arrow there, counsell and enterprises. u Because Saneherib shewed himselfe, as a deuouring fish and furious beast, he vseth these similitudes, to teach how he will take hym and guide him. x Thou shalt loose thy labour. y God giueth signes after two sortes: some goe before the thing, as the signes that Moses wrought in Egypt, which were for the confirmation of their sayth: and some goe after the thing, as the sacrifice, which they were commaunded to make three dayes after their departure: & these latter are to keep the benefices of God in our remembrance, of the which sort this here is. z He promisseth that for two yeres the ground of it self should feede them. a They whom God had deliuered out of the handes of the Assyrians, shall prosper: & this properly belongeth to the Church.

Whom God had chosen to himselfe, as a chaste virgine, & ouer whom he had care to preserve her from the lusts of the tyrant, as a father would haue ouer his daughter.

Declaring hereby that the enemies of godd church, fight against him whose quarel his Church onely mainteineth.

He boasteth of his policy, in that that he can finde means to nourish his army: and of his power, in that that his army is so great that it is able to dry vp whole riuers, & to destroy the waters, which the Iewes had closed in.

Signifying, that God made not his Church to destroye it, but to preserve it, and therefore he saith that he formed it of olde, euen in his eternal counsell, which can not be changed.

Ebr. are short in hand.

He sheweth that the state and power of most flourishing cities endureth but a moment in respect of the Church, which shall remaine for ever, because God is the maintainer thereof.

of Gods Spirit. e Read, 2. King. 20. 10. f He left this song of his lamentation and thanksgiving to al posteritie, as a monument of his owne infirmities and thankfull heart for Gods benefices, as David did, Psalme. 51.

- 1 About<sup>a</sup> that tyme was Hezekiah sicke vnto the death, and the Prophet Isaiah sonne of Amoz came vnto him, and sayd vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, Put thine house in an order, for thou shalt die, and not liue.
- 2 Then Hezekiah<sup>b</sup> turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord,
- 3 And said, I beseech thee, Lord, remember now how I haue walked before thee in truth, & with a perfite heart, & haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept fore.
- 4 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah, saying,
- 5 Go, and say vnto Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, & seene thy teares: beholde, I will adde vnto thy dayes fiftene yerres.
- 6 And I will deliuer thee out of the hande of the King of Asshur, and this citie: for I wil defend this citie.
- 7 And<sup>d</sup> this signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord will do this thing that he hath spoken,
- 8 Beholde, I will bring againe the shadowe of<sup>e</sup> degrees (whereby it is gone down in the diall of Ahaz by<sup>f</sup> sunne) ten degrees backward: so the sunne returned by ten degrees, by the which degrees it was gone downe.
- 9 ¶ The writing of Hezekiah King of Iudah, when he had bene sicke, and was recouered of his sickness.

- 10 I said in the cutting of my dayes, I shal go to the gates of the graue: I am depriued of the residue of my yerres.
- 11 I said, I shal not see the Lord, euen the Lord in the land of the liuing: I shal see man no more among the inhabitants of the worlde.
- 12 Mine habitation is departed, and is remooued from me, like a shepheards tent: I haue cut off like a weauer my life: he will cut me off from the height: from day<sup>h</sup> to night, thou wilt make an end of me.
- 13 I reckoned<sup>i</sup> to the morning: but he brake all my bones, like a lion: from day to night wilt thou make an end of me.
- 14 Like a crane or a swallow, so did I<sup>j</sup> chatter: I did mourne as a dove: mine eyes were lift vp on high: O Lord, I hath<sup>k</sup> oppressed me, comfort me.
- 15 What shall I say? for he hath said it to me, and he hath done it: I shall walke weakely all my yerres in the butternes of my soule.
- 16 O Lord, I to them that ouerliue them, and to al that are in them, the life of my spirit shal be knowne, that thou causedst me to sleepe and hast giuen life to me.
- 17 Beholde, for<sup>l</sup> felicitie I had bitter grief, but it was thy pleasure to deliuer my soule from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast al my<sup>m</sup> sinnes behind thy backe.
- 18 For<sup>n</sup> the graue can not colesse thee: death cannot praise thee: they that go downe into the pit, can not hope for thy truth.
- 19 But the liuing, the liuing, he shal confesse thee, as I do this day: the father to the children shal declare thy truth.
- 20 The Lord was ready to saue me: therefore we wil sing my song, al the dayes of<sup>o</sup> our life in the House of the Lord.
- 21 Then said Isaiah, Take a lump of drye figges and lay it vpon the boyle, and he shal recover.
- 22 Also Hezekiah<sup>p</sup> had said, What is the signe, that I shal go vp into the House of the Lord?
- no release, but continual sorowes whiles I liue. q They that shall ouerliue the men that are now alieue, and all they that are in their yerres shall acknowledge this benefice. r That after that thou hadst condemned me to death, thou restoredst me to life. s Where as I thought to haue liued in rest and ease, being deliuered from mine enemy, I had griefe vpon griefe. t Heesteemeth more the remission of his sinnes, and Gods fauour then a thousand liues. u For as much as God hath placed man in this world to glorifie him, the godlike take it as a signe of his wrath when their dayes were shortened, either because that they seemed vnworthie for their sinnes to liue longer in his seruice, or for their zeale to Gods glorie, seeing that those are so fewe in earth, that do regard it, as Psalm. 6. 3. and 115. 17. x Al posteritie shall acknowledge, and the fathers according to their dutie toward their children shal instruct them in thy graces, and mercies toward me. y He sheweth what is the vse of the Congregation and Church: to wit, to giue the Lord thanks for his benefices, as Read 2. King. 20. 7. a As vers. 7.

Babel, sent letters, & a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had bene sicke, and was recovered.

And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of the treasures, the siluer, and the golde, and the spices, & the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, & all that was founde in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his kingdome that Hezekiah shewed them not.

Then came Maiah the Prophet vnto King Hezekiah, and said vnto him, What said these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a farre countrey vnto me, from Babel.

Then said he, What haue they scene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they scene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

And Iſaiah said to Hezekiah, Heare the word of the Lord of hostes, Beholde, the dayes come that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers haue layed vp in store vntil this day, shall be carryed to Babel: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.

And of thy sonnes, that shall procede out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shall be eunuches in the palace of the King of Babel.

Then said Hezekiah to Iſaiah, The word of the Lorde is good, which thou hast spoken: and he said, Yet let there be peace, & truth in my dayes.

CHAP. XL.

Remission of finnes by Christ. 2 The coming of Iohn Baptift. 18 The Prophet reproveth the idolaters and them that trust not in the Lord.

Comforte ye, comfort ye my people, wil your God say.

Speake comfortably to Ierusalem, & crye vnto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquitie is pardoned: for she hath receiued of the Lords hand double for all her finnes.

A voice cryeth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make streight in the desert a path for our God.

Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountaine and hill shall be made lowe: & the crooked shall be streight, and the rough places plaine.

And the glory of the Lord shall be reueiled, & all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

A voice said, Cry. And he said, What shall

I crye? All flesh is grasse, and all the flesh thereof is as the floure of the field.

The grasse withereth, the floure fadeth, because the Spirit of the Lord bloweth vpon it: surely the people is grasse.

The grasse withereth, the floure fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for euer.

O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee vp into the high mountaine: O Ierusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift vp thy voice with strength: lift it vp, be not afraid: say vnto the cities of Iudah, Beholde your God.

Beholde, the Lord God will come with power, and his arme shall rule for him: beholde, his reward is with him, and his worke before him.

He shall feede his flocke like a shepherd: he shall gather the lambes with his arme, & cary them in his bosome, and shall guide them with young.

Who hath measured the waters in his fist? & counted heauen with the spanne, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure: & weighed the mountaines in a weight, and the hills in a balance?

Who hath instructed the Spirit of the Lord? or was his counseler or taught him?

Of whom tooke he counsel, and who instructed him and taught him in the way of iudgement? or taught him knowledge, & shewed vnto him the way of vnderstanding?

Beholde, the nations are as a droppe of a bucket, and are counted as the dust of the balance: beholde, he taketh away the yles as a little dust.

And Lebanon is not sufficient for fire, nor the beastes thereof sufficient for a burnt offering.

All nations before him are as nothing, and they are counted to him, lesse then nothing, and vanitie.

To whome then wil ye liken God? or what similitude wil ye set vp vnto him?

The workman melteth an image, or the golde smith beareth it out in golde, or the golde smith maketh siluer plates.

Doeth not the poore chuse out a tree that wil not rot, for an oblation? he seeketh also vnto him a cunning workman, to prepare an image, that shall not be moued.

Know ye nothing? haue ye not heard? it hath it not bene tolde you from the beginning? haue ye not vnderstand it by the foundation of the earth?

He sitteth vpon the circle of the earth, & the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers, he stretcheth out the heauens, as a curtain, and spreadeth them out, as a tent to dwell in.

He bringeth the princes to nothing, and he sheweth the rage of the idolaters seeing that the poore that haue not to suffice their owne necessities, wil defraud themselves to serue their idols. Haue ye not the word of God, which plainly condemneth idolatry? Can you not learne by the visible creatures whome God hath made to serue your vse, that you should not serue them nor worship them?

Meaning, all mans wisdom & natural powers, Iohn. 1. 10. 1. pet. 1. 24.

The Spirit of God shall discover the vanitie in all that seeme to haue an excellency of themselves.

Though considering the frailty of mans nature many of fewes should perish and so not be partakers of this deliuerance, yet Gods promises should be fulfilled, and they that remained, should see the fruit thereof.

To publish this benefite through all the world.

He sheweth as one word the perfection of all mans felicitie, which is to haue Gods presence.

His power shall be sufficient without help of any other, and shall haue all meanes in himselfe to bring his will to passe. He shall shew his care and fauour ouer them that are weak, and tender.

Declaring that as God onely hath all power, so doth he vse the same for the defence & maintenance of his Church.

He sheweth Gods infinite wisdom for the same end and purpose.

He speaketh al this to the intent that they should neither feare man nor put their trust in any, saue only in God.

Hereby he armeth them against the idolatry, wherewith they should be tempted in Babylon. He sheweth the rage of the idolaters seeing that the poore that haue not to suffice their owne necessities, wil defraud themselves to serue their idols. Haue ye not the word of God, which plainly condemneth idolatry? Can you not learne by the visible creatures whome God hath made to serue your vse, that you should not serue them nor worship them?

13 For I the Lord thy God will holde thy right hand, saying vnto thee, Feare not, I will helpe thee.

¶ He shall not cry, nor lift vp, nor cause his voice to be heard in the streete.

3 A bruised reede shall he not breake, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth iudgement in truth.

¶ He shall not faile nor be discouraged till he haue set iudgement in the earth: and the yles shall waite for his law.

¶ Thus sayth God the Lord (he that created the heauens and spred them abroad: he that stretched forth the earth, and the budde thereof: he that giueth breath vnto the people vpon it, and spirit to them that walke therein)

I the Lord haue called thee in righteousness, & will hold thee by thine hand, & I will keepe thee, and giue thee for a covenant of the people, and for a light of the Gentiles, That thou mayest open the eyes of the blinde, and bring out the prisoners from the prison: and them that sit in darkenes, out of the prison house.

8 I am the Lord, this is my Name, and my glorie will I not giue to another, neither my praise to grauen images.

9 Beholde, the former things are come to passe, and new things do I declare: before they come forth, I tell you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lord a newe song, and his praise from the end of the earth: ye that go downe to the sea, and al that is therein: the yles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift vp their voyce, the rownes that Kedar doeth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rockes sing: let them shoute from the top of the mountaines.

12 Let them giue glory vnto the Lord, and declare his praise in the ylandes.

13 The Lord shall go forth as a gyant: he shall stirre vp his courage like a man of war: he shall shout and crie, and shall preuaile against his enemies.

14 I haue a long time holden my peace: I haue bene stil and refrained my selfe: now will I crie like a traouling woman: I will destroy and deuoure at once.

15 I will make waste mountaines, and billes, and drie vp all their herbes, & I will make the floods ylandes, and I will drie vp the pooles.

¶ And I will bring the blinde by a way, that they knew not, and lead the by paths that they haue not known: I will make their darkenes light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I do vnto them, and not forsake them.

17 They shall be turned backe: they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in grauen images, and say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 ¶ Heare, ye deafe: and ye blinde, regarde, that ye may see.

19 Who is blinde but my seruant? or deafe as my messenger, that I sent? who is blind as the perfit, and blind as the Lords seruant?

20 Seeing many things, but thou keepest them not: opening the eares, but he heareth not?

21 The Lord is willing for his righteousness sake that he may magnifie the Lawe, and exalt it.

22 But this people is robbed and spoyled, and shalbe al snared in dongons, & they shalbe hid in prison houses: they shalbe for a pray, and none shall deliuer: a spoile, and none shall say, Restore.

3 For I wil powre water vpon the <sup>c</sup> thirstie, and floods vpon the drie ground: I wil powre my Spirit vpon thy seede, and my blessing vpon thy buddes.

5 One shall say, I am the Lordes; another <sup>f</sup> shall be called by the name of Iakob: and another shall subscribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and name him selfe by the name of Israel.

6 Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel & his redeemer, the Lord of hostes, <sup>g</sup> I am the first, and I am the last, and without me is there no God.

7 And who is like me, that shall <sup>h</sup> call, and shall declare it, and set <sup>i</sup> it in order before me, since I appointed the <sup>j</sup> ancient people? and what is at hand, and what thinges are to come? let <sup>k</sup> them shewe vnto them.

8 Feare ye not, neither be afraide: haue not tolde thee of olde, and haue declared it? <sup>l</sup> you are euen my witness, whether there be a God beside me, and that there is no God that I know not.

9 All they that make an image, are vanitie, and <sup>m</sup> their delectable thinges shall nothing profit: and they are their owne witnesses, <sup>n</sup> that they see nor nor knowe: therefore they shall be confounded.

10 Who hath made <sup>o</sup> a god, or molten an image, that is <sup>p</sup> profitable for nothing?

11 Beholde, all that are of the <sup>q</sup> fellowshipp thereof, shall be confounded: for the workmen them selues are men: let them all be gathered together, and <sup>r</sup> stand vp, yet they shall feare, and bee confounded together.

12 The smith <sup>s</sup> taketh an instrument, and worketh in the coles, and facioneth it with hammers, & worketh it with the strength of his armes: yea, he is an <sup>t</sup> hungred, and his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out a line: he facioneth it with a red thread, he planeth it, and he putteth it with the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man, <sup>u</sup> according to the beautie of a man that it may remaine in <sup>v</sup> an house.

14 He wil hew him downe cedars, and take the pine tree and the oke, and taketh courage among the trees of the forest: hee planteth a firre tree, and the raine doeth nourish it.

15 And man burneth thereof: for he will take thereof and <sup>w</sup> warme him selfe: he also kindleth it & baketh bread, yet he maketh a god, and worshippeth it: he maketh it an idole and boweth vnto it.

16 He burneth the half thereof euen in the fyre, and vpon the halfe thereof he <sup>x</sup> eateth fleshe: he roseth the roste and is satisfied: also hee warmeth him selfe and saith, Aha, I am warme, I haue bene at the fyre.

17 And the residue therof he maketh a god, <sup>y</sup> euen his idole: he boweth vnto it and worshippeth and prayeth vnto it, and sayeth, Deliuer me: for thou art my god.

18 They haue not knowen, nor vnderstand: <sup>z</sup> for God hath shut their eyes that they can not see, and their heartes, that they cannot vnderstand.

19 And none <sup>a</sup> considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor vnderstanding to say, I haue burnt halfe of it, euen in the fire, and haue baked bread also vpon the coles thereof: I haue roasted fleshe, and eaten it, and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I bowe to the stocke of a tree?

20 He feedeth <sup>b</sup> of ashes: a seduced heart hath deceiued him, that he can not deliuer his soule, nor say, Is there not a lye in my right hand?

21 <sup>c</sup> Remember these (O Iakob and Israel) for thou art my seruant: I haue formed thee: thou art my seruant: O Israel forget me not.

22 I haue put away thy transgressions like a cloude, and thy sinnes, as a mist: turne vnto me, for I haue redeemed thee.

24 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer and he that formed thee from <sup>g</sup> y<sup>e</sup> wombe, I am the Lord, that made all thinges, that spread out the heauens alone, and stretched out the earth by my selfe.

25 I destroye the <sup>h</sup> tokens of the south sayers and make them that coniecture, fooles, & turne the wise men backward, and make their knowledge foolishnes.

26 <sup>i</sup> He confirmeth the worde of his <sup>j</sup> seruant and performeth the counsel of his shalbe moued messengers, saying to Ierusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited: and to the cities of Iudah, ye shall be built vp, and I wil repaire <sup>k</sup> y<sup>e</sup> decayed places thereof.

z That is, he either maketh a table or trenchers.

y The Prophetes grieve here an answer to all them that wonder how it is possible that any should be so blinde to commit such abomination, saying, that God hath blinded their eyes and hardened their hearts.

He is abused as one y<sup>e</sup> would eat ashes, thinking to satysfie his hunger.

a Shewing that mans heart is most inclined to idolatrie, and therefore he warmeth his people by these examples, that they should not cleaue to anie but to the liuing God when they should be among the idolaters.

f To assure them of their deliuerance, he nameth the person, by whome it should be, more then an hundred yere before he was borne.

28 He saith to Cyrus, Thou art my shepherd: and he shall performe al my desire, saying also to Ierusalem, Thou shalt be built: and to the Temple, Thy foundation shall be surely layed.

CHAP. XLV.

1 The deliuerance of the people by Cyrus. 9 God is iust in al his workes. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

a To assure the Iewes of their deliuerance against the great tentations that they should abide, he nameth the person and the means.

b Because Cyrus should execute the office of a deliuerer, God called him his anointed for a time, but after another sort the he called Dauid.

c To guide him in y deliuerance of my people.

d I will take away all impediments & less.

e Not that Cyrus did know God to worship him aright, but he had a certaine particular knowledge, as profane men may haue, of his power, & so was compelled to deliuer Gods people.

f Not for any thing, that is in thee, or for thy worthines.

g I haue giuen thee strength, power and autoritie.

h I send peace and warre, prosperitie and aduersitie, as Amos 3. 6.

i He comforteth the Iewes, as if he would say, though when ye looke to the heauens & earth for succour, ye see nothing now but signes of Gods wrath, yet I will cause them to bring forth most certayne tokens of your deliuerance, and of the performance of my promises, which is ment by righteousness.

k I haue appointed Cyrus to this vse and purpose. I hereby he brideleth their impaciencie, which in aduersitie and trouble murmure against God and will not tarie his pleasure: willing that man should marche with his like and not contend against God.

m That is, it is not perfectly made. n In steade of murmuring, humble your selues and aske what ye will for the consolation of my children, and you shall be sure of it, as ye are of these thinges which are at your commandement. Some read it with an interrogation, and make it the application of the similitude.

1 Thus saith the Lord vnto Cyrus his anointed, whose right hand I haue holden to subdue nations before him: therefore will I weaken the loines of Kings and open the doores before him, and the gates shall not be shut.

2 I will go before thee & make the crooked straight: I will breake the brazen doores, and burst the yron barres.

3 And I will giue thee the treasures of darknes, and the thinges hid in secret places, that thou maist know that I am the Lord which call thee by thy name, euen the God of Israel.

4 For Iakob my seruants sake, and Israel mine elect, I will euen call thee by thy name and name thee, though thou hast not known me.

5 I am the Lord and there is none other: there is no God besides me: I girded thee though thou hast not known me.

6 That they may know from the rising of the sunne and from the West, that there is none besides me. I am the Lord, and there is none other.

7 I forme the light and create darknes: I make peace and create euil: I the Lord do all these thinges.

8 Ye heauens, send the dewe from aboue, and let the cloudes drop downe righteousness: let the earth open, and let saluation and iustice growe forth: let it bring them forth together: I the Lorde haue created him.

9 Wo be vnto him that striueth with his maker, the potsherd with the potsherds of the earth: shal the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy worke, what hath none hands?

10 Wo vnto him that saith to his father, What hast thou begotten? or to his mother, What hast thou brought forth?

11 Thus saith the Lord, the holie one of Israel, and his maker, Aske me of thinges to come concerning my sonnes, and concerning the workes of mine handes: commande you me.

12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: I, whose handes haue spread out the heauens, I haue euen commaunded all their armie.

13 I haue raised him vp in righteousness, I will direct all his wayes: he shall builde my citie, and he shall let go my captiues, by him the iust shall not for price nor rewarde, saith the Lord of hostes.

14 Thus saith the Lord, The labour of Egypt, and the marchandise of Ethiopia, & the Sabeans, men of stature shall come vnto thee, and they shall be thine: they shall follow thee, and shall go in chains: they shall fall downe before thee, and make supplication vnto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none other God besides.

15 Verely thou, O God, hidest thy selfe, O God, the Sauour of Israel.

16 All they shall be ashamed and also confounded: they shal go to confusion together, that are the makers of images.

17 But Israel shall be saued in the Lorde, with an euerlasting saluation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded worlde without ende.

18 For thus saith the Lord (that created heauen, God himselfe, that formed the earth, and made it: he that prepared it, he created it not in vaine: he formed it to be inhabited) I am the Lorde, and there is none other.

19 I haue not spoken in secrete, neither in a place of darkenes in the earth: I sayd not in vaine vnto the seede of Iakob, Seke you me: I the Lorde do speake righteousness, and declare righteous thinges.

20 Assemble your selues, and come: drawe neere together, yee abiect of the Gentiles: they haue no knowledge, that set vp the wood of their idole, and pray vnto a god, that cannot saue them.

21 Tell ye and bring them, & let them take counsel together, who hath declared this from the beginning? or hath tolde it of olde: Haue not I the Lord? and there is none other God beside me, a iust God, & a Sauour: there is none beside me.

22 Looke vnto me, and ye shall be saued: all the ends of the earth shall be saued: for I am God, and there is none other.

23 I haue sworne by my selfe: the worde is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shal not returne. That euery knee shall bow vnto me, and euery tongue shall sweare by me.

24 Surely he shall say, In the Lorde haue I righteousness and strength: he shall come vnto him, and all that prouoke him, shall be ashamed.

25 The whole seede of Israel shall be iustified, and glorie in the Lord.

and the true worshipping shall be through all the worlde. Rom xii. 1. 2. Phil. 2. 10. whereby he signifieth that we must not onely seru Gods heart, but declare the same also by outward profession.

t Whereas before they were their enemies, they shall now honour thee, and thou shalt rule them: which was accomplished in the time of Christ.

u Herely he reuolth Iewes to pacience, though their deliuerance be deferred for a time: shewing that they should not repen their long pacience.

v But the wicked and idolaters shall be destroyed.

w To wit, of a man, but chiefly of his Church.

x As do the false gods, which giue vncertaine answers.

y Al ye idolaters, which though you seeme to haue power so much worldly dignitie, yet in Gods sight you are vile and abiect.

Judah : which sweare by the Name of the Lord, & make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness.

For they are called of the holy citie, and staye themselves vpon the God of Israel, whose Name is the Lord of hostes.

I haue declared the former thinges of olde, and they went out of my mouth, & I shewed them : I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

Because I knew, that thou art obstinate, and thy necke is an yron sinewe, and thy browe brasie,

Therefore I haue declared it to thee of olde : before it came to passe, I shewed it thee, lest thou shouldest saye, Mine idole hath done them, & my carued image, and my molten image hath commided them.

Thou hast heard, beholde al this, and wil not yet declare it : I haue shewed thee newe thinges, euen now, and hid thinges, which thou knewest not.

They are created now, and not of olde, & euen before this thou heardest them not, lest thou shouldest say, Beholde, I knewe them.

Yet thou heardest them not, neither diddest knowe them, neyther yet was thine eare opened of olde : for I knew that thou wouldest grievously transgresse : therefore haue I called thee a transgressour from the wombe.

For my Names sake will I deferre my wrath, and for my praise will I restraîne it from thee, that I cur thee not of.

Beholde, I haue sined thee, but not as sluer : I haue chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake will I do it : for howe should my Name be polluted ? surely I wil not giue my glorie vnto another.

Hear me, O Iakob & Israel, my called, I am, I am the first, and I am the last.

Surely mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heauens : when I call them, they stand vp together.

All you, assemble your selues, and heare : which among them hath declared these thinges ? The Lorde hath loued him : hee wil do his wil in Babel, and his arme shall be against the Chaldeans.

I, euen I haue spoken it, and I haue called him : I haue brought him, and his way shall prosper.

Come neere vnto me : heare ye this : I haue not spoken it in secret from the beginning : from the time that the thing was, I was there, and nowe the Lorde God and his Spirit hath septe me.

Thus saith the Lorde thy redeemer, the Holy one of Israel, I am the Lord thy God, which teach thee to profit, & leade thee by the way, that thou shouldest go.

Oh that thou haddest hearkened to my commandementes, then had thy prosperitie bene as the floud, and thy righteousness as the waues of the sea.

Thy feede also had bene as the sand, and the fruite of thy body like the grauel thereof : his name should not haue bene cut off, nor destroyed before me.

Goye out of Babel : flee ye from the Chaldeans, with a voyce of ioye : tell and declare this : shewe it forth to the ende of the earth : saye ye, The Lord hath redeemed his seruant Iakob.

And they were not thirly : he led them through the wilderness : he caused the waters to flow out of the rocke for them : for he claue the rocke, and the water gushed out.

There is no peace, saith the Lord, vnto the wicked.

Thus he speaketh that the wicked hypocrites should not abuse Gods promises, in whome was neither faith nor repentance, Chap. 57. 21.

CHAP. XLIX.

The Lord exhorteth all nations to beleue his promise. Christ is the saluation of all that beleue, and will deliver them from the tyrannie of their enemies.

Hear ye me, O yles, & hearkē ye people from faere. The Lord hath called me from the wombe, and made mentio of my name from my mothers bellie.

And he hath made my mouth like a sharpe sword : vnder the shadowe of his hand hath he hid me, & made me a chosen shafte, and hid me in his quiuer,

And said vnto me, Thou art my seruant, Israel, for I wil be glorious in thee.

And I said, I haue labored in vaine : I haue spent my strength in vaine & for nothing : but my iudgement is with the Lord, and my worke with my God.

And now saith the Lord, that formed me from the wombe to be his seruant, that I may bring Iakob againe to him (though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord : and my God shall be my strength)

And he said, It is a small thing that thou shouldest be my seruant, to raise vp the tribes of Iakob, and to restore the desolations of Israel : I wil also giue thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my saluation vnto the end of the world.

Thus saith the Lord the redeemer of Israel, and his Holie one, to him that is despised in soule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a seruant of rulers, Kings shall see, and arise, and princes shall worship, because of the Lord, that is faithful : and the Holie one of Israel, which hath chosen thee.

In his members complaineth, that his labour, and preaching take no effect, yet he is contented that his doings are approved of God. Though the Iewes refuse my doctrine, yet God will approve my ministerie. To declare my Gospel to the Gentiles, Chap. 4. 6. 13. 27. Iuk. 1. 31. Meaning, the Iewes whome tyrants kept in bondage. The benefite of their deliuerance shall be so great, that great & small shall acknowledge it, and reuerence God for it.

g He forewarneth them of the horrible changes and mutations of all things, and how he will preserue his Church in mides of all these dangers.

h He putteth them in remembrance of his great benefite for their deliuerance out of Egypt, that thereby they might learne to trust in him constantly. i Meaning Egypt, Psal. 87. 4. k To wit, Pharaoh, Ezek. 29. 3.

1 Hear me, ye that followe after righteousness, and ye that seeke the Lord: looke vnto the <sup>b</sup> rocke, whence ye are hewen, and to the hole of the pit, whence ye are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him.

3 Surely the Lord shall comfort Zion: he shall comfort all her desolations, and hee shall make her desert like Eden, and her wilderness like the garden of the Lord: ioy and gladnes shall be found therein: praise, and the voyce of singing.

4 Harken ye vnto me, my people, & giue care vnto me, O my people: for a <sup>d</sup> Lawe shall proceede from me, and I will bring forth my iudgement for the light of the people.

5 My <sup>e</sup> righteousness is neere: my saluation goeth forth, and mine <sup>e</sup> armes shall iudge the people: the yles shall waite for me, and shall trust vnto mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and looke vpon the earth beneath: for the <sup>g</sup> heauens shall vanishe away like smoke, and the earth shall waxe olde like a garment, and they that dwell therein, shall perish in like manner: but my saluation shall be for euer, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

7 Harken vnto me, ye that knowe righteousness, the people in whose heart is my Lawe. Feare ye not the reproche of men, neither be ye afraid of their rebukes.

8 For the mothe shall eate them vp like a garment, and the worme shall eate them like wooll: but my righteousness shall be for euer, and my saluation from generation to generation.

9 Rise vp, rise vp, and put on strength, O arme of the Lord: rise vp, as <sup>h</sup> in the olde time in the generations of the worlde. Art not thou the fame, that hath cut <sup>i</sup> Rahab, and wounded the <sup>i</sup> dragon?

10 Art not thou the same, which hath dried the Sea, <sup>h</sup> even the waters of the great deep, making the depth of the Sea a waye for the redeemed to passe ouer?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall

1 returne, and come with ioy vnto Zion, & I From Babylon euerlasting ioye shall be vpon their head: they shall obtaine ioy, and gladnes: and sorowe and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, <sup>i</sup> even I am he, that comfort you. Who art thou, that thou shouldest feare a mortal man, and the sonne of man, which shall be made as grasse?

13 And forgettest the Lord thy maker, that hath spread out the heauens, and layde the foundations of the earth: and hast feared continually al the day, because of the rage of the oppressour, which is readie to destroy? Where is now the rage of the oppressour?

14 The captiue = hasteneth to be loosed, & that he should not dye in the pit, nor that his bread should fayle.

15 And I am the Lord thy God that deuised the Sea, when his waues roared: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

16 And I haue put my words in thy <sup>n</sup> mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the <sup>n</sup> heauens, and lay the foundation of the earth, and say vnto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and stand vp, O Ierusalem, which hast drunke at the hand of the Lord the <sup>o</sup> cup of his wrath: thou hast drunken the dregges of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among al the sonnes, whome the hath brought forth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of al the sonnes that she hath brought vp.

19 These two things are come vnto thee: who will lament thee? desolation and destruction, and famine, and the sword: by whome shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy sonnes haue fainted, and lie at the head of all the streetes as a wilde bull in a net, and are full of the wrath of the Lord, and rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heare now this, thou miserable and drunken, but <sup>q</sup> not with wine.

22 Thus saith thy Lord God, <sup>q</sup> euen God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I haue taken out of thine hand the cuppe of trembling, <sup>q</sup> euen the dregges of the cuppe of my wrath: thou shalt drinke it no more.

23 But I wil put it into their hand that spoile thee: which haue said to thy soule, Bowe downe, that we may go ouer, & thou hast layd thy bodie as the ground, and as the streete to them that went ouer.

workes, and they shall not profite thee.

- 13 When thou cryest, let them that thou hast gathered together deliuer thee: but the winde shall take them all away: vanitie shall pul them away: but he that trusteth in me, shall inherit the land, and shall possesse mine holie Mountaine.

14 And he shall say, Cast vp, cast vp: prepare the way: take vp the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

15 For thus faith he, that is his & excellēt, he that inhabiteth the eternitie, whose Name is the Holie one, I dwell in the hye and holie place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirite to reuiue the spirit of the humble, & to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I will not contend for euer, neither will I be alwayes wroth, for the spirite should sayle before me: and I haue made the breath.

17 For his wicked & couerousnes I am angrie with him, and haue smitten him: I hid me and was angrie, yet he went away, and turned after the way of his owne heart.

18 I haue seene his wayes, and will heale him: I will leade him also, & restore cōfort vnto him, and to those that lament him.

19 I create the fruite of the lippes, to be peace: peace vnto them that are farre of, & to them that are neere, faith the Lord: for I will heale him.

20 But the wicked are like the raging sea, that can not rest, whose waters cast vp myre and dirt.

21 There is no peace, faith my God, to the wicked.

CHAP. LVIII.

1 The office of Gods ministers. 2 The works of the hypocrites. 3 The fast of the faithful. 4 Of the true Sabbath.

1 Rye a loude, spare not: lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and shewe my people their transgression, & to the house of Iakob, their sinnes.

2 Yet they seeke me daylie, and wil know my wayes, euen as a nation that did righteously, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they aske of me the ordinances of iustice: they wil draw neere vnto God, saying,

Wherefore haue we fasted, & thou seest it not? we haue punished our selues, and thou regardest it not. Behold, in the day of your fast you will seeke your will, and require all your dettes.

Beholde, ye fast to strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickednes: ye shal not fast as ye do to day, to make your voyce to be heard aboue.

Is it such a fast that I haue chosen, that a man should afflict his soule for a day, and to bowe downe his head, as a bull rush, & to lie downe in sackcloth and ashes? wilt thou cal this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

Is not this the fasting, that I haue chosen, to loose the bands of wickednes, to take of the heauie burdens, & to let the oppressed go free, and that ye breake euery yoke? Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, & that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine house? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy selfe from thine owne flesh?

8 Then shall thy light breake forth as the morning, and thine health shall grow speedily: thy righteousness shall go before thee, and the glorie of the Lord shall embrace thee.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shall answer: thou shalt crie and he shall saye, Here I am: if thou take awaye from the middes of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou powre out thy soule to the hungry, and refreth the troubled soule: then shall thy light spring out in the darkenes, and thy darkenes shall be as the noone day.

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in drought, and make far thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters sayle not.

12 And they shall be of thee, that shall build the olde waste places: thou shalt raise vp the foundations for manie generations, & thou shalt be called the repayer of the breache and the restorer of the pathes to dwell in.

13 If thou turne away thy foote from the Sabbath, from doing thy will on mine holie day, and cal the Sabbath a delite, to consecrate it, as glorious to the Lord, and shalt honour him, nor doing thine owne waies, nor seeking thine owne will, nor speaking a vaine word,

14 Then shalt thou delite in the Lord, and I will cause thee to mount vpon the hye places of the earth, and feede thee with the heritage of Iakob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

3 The Gentiles shall come to the knowledge of the Gospell. 4 They shall come to this Church in abundance. 16 They shall haue abundance though they suffer for a time.

1 A Rise, O Ierusalem: be bright, for thy light is come, and the glorie of the Lord is risen vpon thee.

2 For behold, darknesse shall couer the earth, and grosse darknesse the people: but the Lord shall arise vpon thee, and his glory shalbe seene vpon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shal walke in thy light, and Kinges at the brightnesse of thy rising vp.

4 Lift vp thine eyes round about, and behold: all these are gathered, and come to thee: thy sonnes shall come from farre, and thy daughters shalbe nourished at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see & shine: thine heart shalbe astounded & enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shalbe conuerted vnto thee, & the riches of the Gentiles shall come vnto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shall couer thee: and the dromedaries of Midian and of Ephah: they of Sheba shal come: they shal bring golde & incense, and shew forth the prayes of the Lorde.

7 All the sheepe of Kedar shalbe gathered vnto thee: the rams of Nebaioth shal serue thee: they shall come vp to bee accepted vpon mine altar: and I will beautifie the house of my glory.

8 Who are these that flee like a cloude, & as the dooues to their windowes?

9 Surely the yles shal wayte for me, and the shippes of Tarshish, as at the beginning that they may bring thy sonnes from far, & their siluer, and their golde with them: vnto the Name of the Lorde thy God, and to the holy one of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sonnes of strangers shal buyld vp thy walles, and their Kinges shall minister vnto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercy I had compassion on thee.

1 The<sup>e</sup> Spirit of the Lord God is<sup>e</sup> vpon me, therefore hath the Lord anointed me: he hath sent me to preach good tidings vnto the poore, to bind vp the<sup>e</sup> broken hearted, to preach liberty to the<sup>e</sup> captiues, & to them that are bounde, the opening of the prison,

3 And the strangers shall stande & seeke<sup>e</sup> your shepe, & the sonnes of the strangers shall be your plowmen & dressers of your vines.

4 But ye shall be named<sup>e</sup> the Priests of the Lord, & men shal say vnto you, The ministers of our God, Ye shall eate the<sup>e</sup> riches of the Gentiles, and shalbe exalted with their glorie.

6 For I the Lorde loue iudgement & hate robbery for burnt offering, and I wil direct their worke in truth, & wil make an euermolde covenant with them.

7 And their seede shal be knowne among the Gentiles, and their buddes among the people. All that see them, shal know them, that they are the seede which the Lorde hath blessed.

8 I will greatly reioyce in the Lorde, and my soule shal be ioyfull in my God: for he hath clothed me with the garments of saluation, and covered mee with the robe of righteoufnes: he hath decked mee like a bridegrome, and as a bride tureth her selfe with her iewels.

9 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth to growe that which is sown in it: so the Lord God will they seeke this cause righteoufnes to grow and prayle before all the heathen.

dom, with red garments from Bozrah: he is glorious in his apparel and walketh in his great strength: I speake in righteousnes, and am mighty to saue.

2 Wherefore is thine apparel red, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine presse?

3 I haue troden the wine presse alone, and of all people there was none with me: for
I will treade them in mine anger, & treade them vnder foote in my wrath, and their blood shall be sprinkled vpon my garments, and I will stayne all my rament.

4 For the daye of vengeance is in mine neither was there any to susteine them:

therefore I was angry, and hated the true worshippers, Psalme

it is for the profit and deliueraunce of his Church.

and I wondered that there was none to vpholde: therefore mine owne arme helped me, and my wrath it selfe sustained me.

6 Therefore I wil treade downe the people in my wrath, and make them drunken in mine indignatiō, & wil bring downe their strength to the earth.

7 I wil remember the mercies of the Lord
& the prayes of the Lord according vnto all that the Lord hath giuen vs, & for the great goodnes toward the house of Israel, which he hath giuen them according to his tender loue, & according to his great mercies.

8 For he saide, Surely they are my people, children that shall not lye: so he was their sauour.

9 In all their troubles he was troubled, and the Angel of his presence saued them: in his loue and in his mercie he redeemed them, and he bare them and caryed them alwayes continually.

10 But they rebelled & vexed his holy Spirit: therefore was he turned to be their e-nemie and he fought against them.

11 Then he remembered the olde time of Moses and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them vp out of the Sea with the shepheard of his sheepe? where is he that put his holy Spirit within him?

12 He led them by the right hand of Moses with his owne glorious arme, deuiding

CHAP. LXXIII.

The Prophet prayeth for the sinnes of the people. & Man-righteousnes is like a filthy cloth.

a The Prophet continueth his prayer, desiring God to declare his loue toward his Church by miracles, and mighty power as he did in Mount Sinai.

b Meaning, the raine, haile, fire, thunder, & lightnings.

c S. Paul vseth the same kinde of admiration, 2. Cor. 2.9. maruelling at Gods great benefice shewed to his Church by the preaching of the Gospel.

d Thou shewest favour towarde our fathers, when they trusted in thee, & walked after thy commandments.

e They considered thy great mercies.

f That is, in thy mercies, which he calleth the wayes of the Lord.

g Thou wilt haue pity vpon vs.

h We are iustly punished and brought into captiuitie, because we haue prouoked thee to anger, and though we wold excuse our selues, yet our righteousness, & best vertues are before thee as vile cloutes, or, (as some read) like filthy clothes of a woman.

i Albeie, O Lord by thy iust iudgement thou mayest vuerly destroye vs, as the potter may his pot, yet we appeale to thy mercies, whereby it hath pleased thee to adopt vs to be thy children.

k For so the flesh iudgeth when God doeth not immediately send succour.

l Which were dedicate to thy seruice and to call vpon thy Name.

m Wherein we reioyced & worshipped thee.

n That is, at the contempt of thine owne glorie, though our sinnes haue deferred this, yet thou wilt not suffer thy glorie thus to be diminished.

The vocation of the Gentiles and the reiection of the Iewes. 13 The joy of the elect and the punishment of the wicked.

1 I haue bene sought of them that asked: Inor: I was founde: of them that sought me not: I saide, Beholde me, beholde me, vnto a nation that called not vpon my Name.

2 I haue spread out mine handes al the day vnto a rebellious people, which walked in a waye that was not good, euen after their owne imaginations:

3 A people that prouoked me euer vnto my face: that sacrificeth in gardens, & burneth incense vpon bricks.

4 Which remaine among the graues, and lodge in the desertes, which eate swines flesh, and the broth of things pollured are in their vessels.

5 Which say, Stand apart, come not nere to me: for I am holier then thou: these are a smoke in my wrath and a fire that burneth al the day.

6 Beholde, it is written before me: I will not kepe silence, but will render it and recompense it into their bosome.

7 Your iniquities and the iniquities of your fathers shalbe together (sayth the Lord) which haue burnt incense vpon the mountaines, and blasphemed me vpon the hillles: therefore wil I measure their olde worke into their bosome.

8 Thus saith the Lord, As the wine is found in the cluster, & one saith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it, so will I doe for my seruants sakes, that I may not destroye the whole.

9 But I will bring a seede out of Iakob, and out of Iudah, that shall inherit my mountaine: and mine elect shall inherit it, and my seruantes shal dwell there.

10 And Sharon shall be a shepe folde, and the valley of Achor shalbe a resting place for the cattell of my people, that haue sought me.

11 But ye are they that haue forsaken the Lorde & forgotten mine holy Mountaine, and haue prepared a table for the multitude, and furnish the drinke offrings vnto the nomber.

12 Therefore will I number you to the sworde, and all you shall bowe down to the slaughter, because I called, and ye did not answer: I spake, and ye heard not, but did euil in my sight & did chuse that thing which I would not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, my seruants shall eate, & ye shalbe found in them.

That is, in their profitableness, that God wil not destroye the faithful branches of his vineyard, which he destroyeth the rotten stocks, that is, the hypocrites.

a Which was a plentiful place in Iudea to feede sheepe, as Achor was for camels.

b By the multitude & nomber he meaneth their innumerable idoles, of whom they thought they could neuer haue ynough.

c Seeing you can not nomber your gods, I will number you with the sworde.

d By my Prophets, whom ye would not obey.

e By these words, Eate & drinke, he meaneth the blessed life of the faithful, which haue alwayes consolation, and full contentment of all things in their God, though sometimes they lacke these corporall things.

18 But be you glad & reioyce for euer in the things that I shall create: for beholde, I will create Ierusalē as a reioycing & her people as a ioye.

4 Therefore will I<sup>a</sup> chuse out their delusions, and I will bring their feare vpon them, because I called, and none woulde answer: I spake and they woulde not heare: but they did euill in my sight, and chose the things which I would not.

IEREMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Prophet Ieremiah borne in the citie of Anathoth in the countrey of Benjamin, was the sonne of Hilkiah, whome some thinke to be he that founde out the booke of the Law, & came to Iosiah. This Prophet had excellent giftes of God, and most euident revelations of prophesie, so that by the commandement of the Lorde he began verie yong to prophesie, that is, in the thirteenth yere of Iosiah, & continued eightene yere vnder the saide King, and three monethes vnder Ichoahaz, & vnder Ichoiakim eleuen yeres, and three monethes vnder Ichoiachin, and vnder Zedekiah eleuen yeres: vnto the time that they were caried away into Babylon. So that this time amounteth to aboue fortie yeeve, besides the time that he prophesied after the captiuitie. In this booke he declareth with seares, & lamentation the destruction of Ierusalem, and the captiuitie of the people, for their idolatrie, couerousnes, subtiltie, crueltie, excesse, rebellion, and contempt of Gods worde, and for the consolation of the Church, reneweth the iust time of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to be considered three things. First the rebellion of the wicked, which waxe more stubburne & obstinate, when the Prophets do admonish them most plainly of their destruction. Next howe the Prophets & ministers of God ought not to be discouraged in their vocation, though they be persecuted and rigorously handled of the wicked for Gods cause. And thirdly, though God shewe his iust iudgement against the wicked, yet will he euer shewe himselfe a preserver of his Church, and when all means see me to mans iudgements to be abolished, then will he declare himselfe victorious in preserving his.

CHAP. I.

In what time Jeremiah prophesied. 6 He acknowledgeth his imperfection, & is strengthened of the Lord. 11 The Lord sheweth him the destruction of Ierusalem. 17 He commandeth him to preach his worde without feare.

He words of Jeremiah the sone of Hilkiah one of the Priests that were at Anathoth in the land of Beniamin.

The word of the Lord came in the dayes of Iosiah the sonne of Amon King of Iudah in the thirteenth yere of his reigne:

And also in the dayes of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah vnto the end of the eleventh yere of Zedekiah, the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, even vnto the carying away of Ierusalem captiue in the fift moneth.

Then the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Before I formed thee in the wombe, I knew thee, and before thou camest out of the wombe, I sanctified thee, and ordained thee to be a Prophet vnto the nations.

Then said I, Oh, Lord God, behold, I can not speake, for I am a child.

But the Lord said vnto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, & whatsoever I command thee, shalt thou speake.

Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

Then the Lord stretched out his hande and touched my mouth, and the Lorde saide vnto me, Behold, I haue put my wordes in thy mouth.

Behold, this day haue I set thee ouer the nations & ouer the kingdomes to plucke vp, and to roote out, and to destroye and throw downe, to build, and to plant.

After this the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seekest thou? And I saide, I see a rod of an almonde tree.

Then said the Lord vnto me, Thou hast seene aright: for I will hasten my worde

For Jeremiah did not onely prophesie against the Iewes, but also against the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites, and other nations.

Considering the great iudgements of God, which according to his threatnings should come vpon the worlde, he was moued with a certaine compassion on the one side to pitee them that should thus perishe, and on the other side by the infirmities of mans nature, knowing howe harde a thing it was to enterprise such a charge, as Isa. 6. 11. Exod. 3. 11. and 4. 1.

Which declareth, that God maketh them meete, and assureth them, when he calleth to set forth his glorie: giuing them all meanes necessary for the same, Exod. 4. 12. Isa. 6. 7.

He Heweth, what is the authoritie of Gods true ministers, which by his worde haue power to beat downe whatsoever lieth it selfe vp against God: and to plante and assure the humble, and such as giue them felues to the obediencie of Gods worde, 2. Cor. 10. 4. ebre. 4. 12. and these are the keyes which Christ hath left to loose and binde, Matth. 18. 18.

He Ioyne the signe with the worde for a more ample confirmation: signifying by the rod of the almonde tree, which first buddeth, the hastie conuining of the Babylonians against the Iewes.

to performe it.

Again the worde of the Lord came vnto me the second time, saying, What seekest thou? And I said, I see a seething pot looking out of the North.

Then said the Lord vnto me, Out of the North shall a plague be spread vpon all the inhabitants of the land.

For lo, I will call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, saith the Lord, & they shall come, and euery one shall set his throne in the entring of the gates of Ierusalem, and on all the walles thereof round about, and in all the cities of Iudah.

And I wil declare vnto the my iudgements touching all the wickednes of them that haue forsake me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, and worshipped the workes of their owne hands.

Thou therefore trusse vp thy loynes, and arise and speake vnto them al that I command thee: be not afraide of their faces, lest I destroy thee before them.

For I, behold, I this day haue made thee a defenced cite, and an yron pillar and walles of brasse against the whole lande, against the Kings of Iudah, & against the princes thereof, against the Priests therof and against the people of the land.

For they shall fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile against thee: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

that the more that Satan, and the worlde rage against Gods ministers, the more present will he be to helpe them, Iosh. 1. 9. ebre. 13. 5. and on the other parte, that they are vnto vnto me to serue God, and his Church, which are afraide, and do not resist wickednes, whatsoever danger depend thereon, Isa. 50. 7. Ezek. 3. 8.

CHAP. II.

God rehearseth his benefites done vnto the Iewes. 8 A gainst the Priests and false Prophets. 12 The Iewes are destroyed, because they forsake God.

Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Go, and cry in the eares of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lorde, I remember thee, with the kindenes of thy youth and the loue of thy marriage, when thou wast after me in the wilderness in a lande that was not sowed.

Heare ye the word of the Lord, O house of Iakob, and al the families of the house of Israel.

Thus saith the Lord, What iniquitie haue your fathers founde in me, that they are gone farre from me, and haue walked after vanitie, and are become vaine?

Syria & Assyria were Northward in respect of Ierusalem, which were the Caldeans dominion.

And I brought you into a plentiful country, to eat the fruit thereof, and the commodities of the same: but when ye entred, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

The Priests said not, Where is the Lord? and they that should minister the Lawe, knewe me not: the Pastours also offended against me, & the Prophets prophesied in Baal, and went after things that did not profite.

Wherefore I wil yet plead with you, saith the Lord, and wil plead with your childrens children.

10 For go ye to the yles of Chitim, & behold, and send vnto Kedar, and take diligent heede, and see whether there be such things.

11 Hath any nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people haue changed their glory, for that which doeth not profite.

12 O ye heauens, be astonied at this: be afraid and vtterly confounded, saith the Lord.

13 For my people haue comitted two euils: they haue forsaken me the fountaine of liuing waters, to dig them pittes, euen broken pittes, that can holde no water.

14 Is Israel a seruant, or is he borne in the house? why then is he spoiled?

15 The lions roared vpon him and yelled, & they haue made his land waste: his cities are burnt without an inhabitant.

16 Also the children of Noph and Tahapanes haue broken thine head.

18 And what hast thou now to do in the way of Egypt? to drinke the water of Nilus? or what makest thou in the way of Asihur? to drinke the water of the Ruer?

19 Thine owne wickednes shall correct thee, and thy turnings backe shal reprove thee: know therefore and behold, that it is an euil thing, and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my feare is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hosts.

20 For of old time I haue broken thy yoke, & burst thy bondes, & thou saydest, I wil no more trasgresse, but like an harlot thou runnest about vpon al hie hilles, and vnder al greene trees.

21 Yet I had planted thee, a noble vine, whose plants were al natural: how then art thou turned vnto me into the plants of a strange vine?

22 Though thou wath thee with nitre, and take thee much sope, yet thine iniquitie is marked before me, saith the Lord God.

23 Howe canst thou say, I am not polluted, neither haue I folowed Baalim? beholde thy waies in the valley, & know, what thou hast done: thou art like a swift dromedarie, that runneth by his waies.

26 As the theefe is ashamed, when he is founde, so is the house of Israel ashamed, they, their kings, their princes, and their Priests, and their Prophets,

27 Saying to a tree, Thou art my father, & to a stone, Thou hast begotten me: for they haue turned their backe vnto me, & not their face: but in the time of their trouble they wil say, Arise, and helpe vs.

28 But where are thy gods, that thou hast made thee? let the arise, if they can helpe thee in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Iudah.

29 Wherefore wil ye pleade with me? ye al haue rebelled against me, sayeth the Lord.

30 I haue smitten your children in veine, they receiued no correction: your owne sworde hath deuoured your Prophets like a destroying lyon.

34 Also in thy wings is founde the blood of foules of the poore innocents: I haue not found it in holes, but vpon all these places.

35 Yet thou saist, Because I am gildes, surely his wrath shal turne from me: beholde, I will enter with thee into iudgement, because thou sayest, I haue not sinned.

36 Why runnest thou about so much to change thy wayes? for thou shalt be confounded of Egypt, as thou art confounded of Asihur.

37 For thou shalt go forth from thence, and thine handes vpon thine head, because the Lord hath reiected thy confidence, & thou shalt not prosper thereby.

CHAP. III.

God calleth his people vnto repentance. 14 He promisseth the restitution of his Church. 20 He reproveth Iudah and Israel, comparing them to a woman disobedient to her husbande.

1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and the go from him, and become another mans, shal he returne againe vnto her? shal not this land be polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many louers: yet turne againe to me, saith the Lord.

2 Lift vp thine eyes vnto the hie places, & beholde, where thou hast not played the harlot: thou hast sit waiting for them in the wayes, as the Arabian in the wilderness: and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredomes, and with thy malice.

3 Therefore the showres haue bene restrained, and the latter raine came not, and thou haddest as whores forehead: thou wouldst not be ashamed.

4 Didest thou not stil cry vnto me, Thou art my father, & the guide of my youth?

5 Wil he keepe his anger for euer? wil he reserve it to the end? thus hast thou spoken, but thou doest euill, euen more and more.

6 The Lord said also vnto me, in the dayes of Iosiah the King, Hast thou seene what this rebel Israel hath done? for she hath gone vp vpon euery high mountaine, and vnder euery greene tree, and there plaied the harlot.

7 And I saide, when she had done all this, Turne thou vnto me: but she returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudah saue.

8 When I saw, how that by al occasions rebellious Israel had plaied y harlot, I cast her away, and gaue her a byl of diuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iudah was not afraied, but she went also, and played the harlot.

9 So that for the lightnes of her whoredome she hath euen defiled the land: for she hath committed fornicatio with stones and stockes.

10 Neuertheles for all this, her rebellious sister Iudah hath not returned vnto me with her whole heart, but fainedly, saith the Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto me, The rebellious Israel hath iustified her selfe more then the rebellious Iudah.

12 Go and cry these wordes towarde the North and saye, Thou disobedient Israel, returne, saith the Lord, & I wil not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am mercifull, saith the Lorde, & I wil not alway keepe mine anger.

13 But know thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God, & hast scattered thy wayes to the strange gods vnder euery greene tree, but ye would not obey my voice, saith the Lord.

14 O ye disobedient children, turne againe, saith the Lorde, for I am your Lorde, and I will take you one of a citie, and two of a tribe and wil bring you to Zion,

15 And I wil giue you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feede you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 Moreouer, when ye be increased & multiplied in the lād, in those dayes, saith the Lorde, they shal say no more, The Arke of the couenant of the Lorde: for it shall come no more to mind, neither shall they remember it, neither shal they visite it, for that shalbe no more done.

17 At that time they shall call Ierusalem, The throne of the Lorde, and all the nations shalbe gathered into it, euen to the Name of the Lord in Ierusalem: & thence forth they shal follow no more the hardnes of their wicked heart.

18 In those dayes the house of Iudah shall walke with the house of Israel, and they shal come together out of the land of the North, into the lande, that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I said, How did I take thee for children & giue thee a pleasant land, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and saide, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shalt not turne from me?

20 But as a woman rebelleth against her husband: so haue ye rebelled against me, O house of Israel, saith the Lord.

21 A voice was heard vpon the hie places, weeping & supplications of the children of Israel: for they haue peruered their way, and forgotten the Lorde their God.

22 O ye disobedient children, returne, and I wil heale your rebellions. Beholde, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

CHAP. II. III.

1 True repentance. 4. He exhorteth to the circumcision of the heart. 5. The destruction of Iudah is prophesied, for the malice of their hearts. 19. The Prophet lamenteth it.

1 O Israel, if thou returne, I returne vnto me, saith the Lord: and if thou put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remoue.

2 And thou shalt sweare, The Lord lieth in trueth, in iudgement, and in righteousness, & the nations shall be blessed in him, and shall glory in him.

3 For thus saith the Lord to the men of Iudah, and to Ierusalem,

4 Breake vp your fallow ground, and sowe not among the thornes: be circumcised to the Lord, and take away the foreskinnes of your heartes, ye men of Iudah, and inhabitants of Ierusalem, lest my wrath come forth like fire, and burne, that none can queneche it, because of the wickednes of your inuentions.

5 Declare in Iudah, and shew forth in Ierusalem, and say, Blow the trumpet in the land: cry, and gather together, and say, Assemble your selues, & let vs go into strong cities.

6 Set vp the standart in Zion: prepare to flee, & staye not: for I will bring a plague from the North, and a great destruction. The Lyon is come vp from his denne, & the destroyer of the Gentiles is departed, & gone forth of his place to lay thy land waste, & thy cities shall be destroyed without an inhabitant.

8 Wherefore gird you with sackcloth: lament, and howle, for the fierce wrath of the Lord is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, saith the Lord, the hart of the King shal perishe, and the hart of the princes and the Priests shall be astonished, and the Prophets shal wonder.

10 Then saide I, Ah, Lord God, surely thou hast deceived this people & Ierusalem, saying, Ye shall haue peace, and the sword perceeth vnto the heart.

11 I haue looked vpon the earth, and lo, it was without forme and void: and to the heauens, and they had no light. I beheld the mountaines: & lo, they were desolate, and al the hills shooke. I behelde, and lo, there was no man, and all the birdes of the heauen were departed. I beheld, & lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and al the cities therof were broken downe at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

12 For thus hath the Lord said, The whole land shall be desolate: yet will I not make it a full ende.

11 At that time shall it be said to this people and to Ierusalem, A dry winde in the high places of the wilderness cometh toward the daughter of my people, but neither to fanne, nor to cleanse.

12 A mightie winde shall come vnto me from those places, & now will I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 Behold, he shall come vp as the clouds, & his charres shall be as a tempest: his horses are lighter then egles. Wo vnto vs, for we are destroyed.

14 O Ierusalem, wash thine heart from wickednes, that thou maiest be sau'd: how long shall thy wicked thoughtes remaine within thee?

15 For a voyce declareth from Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount Ephraim.

16 Make ye mention of the heathen, & publish in Ierusalem, Beholde, the skouts come from a farre country, & crye out against the cities of Iudah.

17 They haue compassed her about as the watchmen of the field, because it hath prouoked me to wrath, saith the Lord.

18 Thy waies & thine inuentions haue procured thee these things, such is thy wickednes: therefore it shall be bitter, therefore it shall perce vnto thine heart.

19 My bely, my bely, I am pained, euen at the verie heart: mine heart is troubled within me: I cannot be still: for my soule hath heard the sounde of the trumpet, & the alarme of the battel.

20 Destruction vpon destruction is cryed, for the whole land is wasted: suddenly are my tents destroyed, & my curtaines in a moment.

21 Howe long shall I see the standart, and heare the found of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they haue not knowne me: they are foolish children, & haue none vnderstanding: they are wise to doe euil, but to doe well they haue no knowledge.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and lo, it was without forme and void: and to the heauens, and they had no light.

houses full of deceit: thereby they are beouerpasse the deedes of the wicked: they execute no iudgement, no not the iudgement of the fatherles: yet they prosper, though they execute no iudgement for the poore.

29 Shall not I visite for these things, saith the Lord: or shal not my soule beaueged on such a nation as this?

30 An horrible & filthy thing is committed in the land.

31 The Prophets prophesie lies, and the Priests receiue gifts in their hands, and my people delite therein. What will ye then do in the end thereof?

CHAP. VI.

The coming of the Assyrians and Caldeans. 18 He exhorteth the Iewes to repentance.

Ye children of Benjamin, prepare to flee out of the middes of Ierusalem and blow the trumpet in Tekoa: set vp a standart vpon Beth-hacceri: for a plague appeareth out of the North and great destruction.

I haue compared the daughter of Zion to a beautiful and daintie woman.

The pastors with their flocks shal come vnto her: they shal pitch their tents round about by her, & euery one shall feede in his place.

Prepare warre against her: arise, & let ye go vp toward the South: wo vnto vs: for the day declineth, & the shadowes of the euening are stretched out.

Arise, and let vs go vp by night, and destroy her palaces.

For thus hath the Lord of hostes sayde, Hewe downe wood, and cast a mounte against Ierusalem: this citie must be visited:
all oppression is in the middes of it.

As the fountaine casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her malice: crueltie & spoyle is continually heard in her before me with sorow and strokes.

Be thou instructed, O Ierusalem, lest my soule depart from thee, lest I make thee desolate as a land, that none inhabiteth.
Thus saith the Lord of hostes, They shall gather as a vine, y residue of Israel: turne backe thine hand as the grape gatherer into the baskets.

Vnto whom shal I speake, & admonishe that they may heare? beholde, their eares are vncircumcised, & they cannot hearken: beholde, the word of the Lord is vnto them as a reproche: they haue no delite in it.

Therefore I am full of the wrath of the Lord: I am weary with holding it: I will powre it out vpon the children in the street, & likewise vpon the assembly of the yong men: for the husband shal euen be taken with the wife, & the aged with him that is full of dayes.

None shall be spared.

And their houses with their landes, and wiues also shalbe turned vnto strangers:
for I wil stretch out mine hande vpon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord.

For from the least of the, euen vnto the greatest of them, euery one is giuen vnto couctousnes, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, they al deale falsely.

They haue healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweet words, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

Were they ashamed whē they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, no neither could they haue any shame: therefore they shal fall among the flaine: when I shal visit them, they shalbe cast downe, saith the Lord.

Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the wayes and behold; and aske for the olde waye, which is the good way and walke therein, and ye shal finde rest for your soules: but they said, We wil not walke therein.

Also I set watchmen ouer you, which said, Take heed to the sound of the trumpet: but they said, We wil not take heede.

Hear therefore, ye Gentiles, and thou Congregation knowe, what is among them.

Heare, O earth, beholde, I will cause a plague to come vpon this people, euen the fruit of their owne imaginings: because they haue not taken heed vnto my words, nor to my Law, but cast it of.

To what purpose bringest thou me in censel from Sheba, & sweet calamus from a farre country? Your burnt offerings are not pleasant, nor your sacrifices sweete
vnto me.

Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Beholde,
I will laye stumbling blockes before this people, and the fathers and the sonnes together shal fall vpon them: the neighbour and his friend shal perish.

Thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, a people commeth from the North country, & a great nation shal arise from the sides of the earth.

With bowe and shield shal they be wea-poned: they are cruel and wil haue no cōpassion: their voyce roareth like the sea, and they ride vpon horses, wel appointed, like men of warre against thee, O daughter Zion.

We haue heard their fame, & our hands waxe feeble: sorowe is come vpon vs, as the sorow of a woman in traualle.

Go not forth into the field, nor walke
by the way: for the sworde of the enemy & feare is on euery side.

O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallowe thy selfe in the ashes: make lamentation, and bitter mounning as for thine onely sonne: for the destroyer shal suddenly come vpon vs.

I haue set thee for a defence & fortres among my people, that thou mayest know and try their wayes.

CHAP. VII.

Jeremiah is commanded to shew vnto the people the word of God, which trusteth in the outward service of the Temple. 13 The evils that shal come to the Iewes for the despising of their Prophets. 21 Sacrifices doth not the Lord chiefly require of the Iewes, but that they should obey his worde.

- 1 The wordes that came to Ieremiah fro the Lord, saying,
- 2 Stand in the gate of the Lords house and cry this worde there, and saye, Heare the worde of the Lord, al ye of Iudah that enter in at these gates to worship the Lord.
- 3 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Amende your wayes and your works, and I wil let you dwell in this place.

4 Trust not in lying wordes, saying, The Temple of the Lorde, the Temple of the Lord: this is the Temple of the Lord.

5 For if you amend & redresse your wayes & your workes: if you execute iudgement betweene a man and his neighbour,

6 And oppresse not the stranger, the fatherlesse and the widow & shed no innocent blood in this place, neither walke after other gods to your destruction,

7 Then will I let you dwell in this place in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers, for euer and euer.

8 Behold, you trust in lying wordes, that can not profit.

9 Wil you steale, murder, and commit adulterie and sweare falsely and burne incense vnto Baal, & walke after other gods who ye know not?

10 And come and stand before me in this House, whereupon my Name is called, & saye, We are deliuered, though wee haue done al these abominations?

11 Is this House become a den of theeues, whereupon my Name is called before your eyes? Beholde, euen I see it, saith the Lord.

12 But go ye now vnto my place which was in Shilo, where I set my Name at the beginning, and beholde, what I did to it for the wickednes of my people Israel.

13 Therefore now because ye haue done al these workes, saith the Lord, (& I rose vp early and spake vnto you: but when I spake, ye would not heare mee, neither when I called, would ye answer)

14 Therefore will I doe vnto this House, wherupon my Name is called, wherein also ye trust, euen vnto the place that I gaue to the Priests flaine and the people miserably discomfited, 1 Sam. 4. chap. 26. 6. e That is, I neuer ceased to warne you, as Isa. 65. 2. proeb. 1. 3. f He sheweth what is the onely remedie to redresse our sinnes: to suffer God to leade vs into the waye, and to obey his calling. Isa. 66. 4.

to you & to your fathers, as I haue done vnto Shilo.

15 And I will cast you out of my sight, as I haue cast out all your brethren, even the whole seede of Ephraim.

16 Therefore thou shalt not praye for this people, neither lift vp crye or prayer for them neither intreate mee, for I wil not heare thee.

17 Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Iudah and in the streets of Ierusalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, & the women kneede the dough to make cakes to the Quene of heauen & to powre out drinke offerings vnto other gods, that they may prouoke me vnto anger.

19 Do they prouoke me to anger, saith the Lord, and not themselves to the confusion of their owne faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, mine anger & my wrath shalbe powred vpon this place, vpon man and vpon beast, & vpon the tree of the field and vpon the fruit of the ground, & it shal burne and nor be quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Put your burnt offerings vnto your sacrifices, and eat the fleshe.

22 For I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, & I will be your God, and ye shalbe my people: and walke ye in all the wayes which I haue commanded you, that it may be wel vnto you.

24 But they would not obey, nor incline their eare, but went after the counsels & the stubbernes of their wicked heart, and went backward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came vp out of the lande of Egypt, vnto this day, I haue euen sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising vp earlye euery day, and sending them.

26 Yet would they not heare mee nor incline their eare, but hardened their necke & did worse then their fathers.

27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these wordes vnto them, but they will not heare thee: thou shalt also crye vnto them, but they wil not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt saye vnto them, This is a nation that heareth not the voyce of the Lord their God, nor receiveth discipline: truth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut of thine heare, O Ierusalem, & cast it away, and take vp a complaint on the hie places: for the Lord hath reiected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the childre of Iudah haue done euil in my sight, saith the Lord: they haue set their abominations in the House, wherupon my Name is called, to pollute it.

31 And they haue built the hie place of Topheth, & Bbb. iiii. pheth, 32.

I wil send you into captiuitie as I haue done Ephraim, that is the ten tribes.

h To assure the that God had determined with himselfe to punish their wickednes, he sheweth that vprais of the godly can nothing awaye the whiles they remaine in their obstinacie against God, and wil not vlethe means that he wish to call the to repentance. Chap. 11. 14. & 14. 11.

pheth, which is in the valley of Ben-Hinnom to burne their sones & their daughters in the fire, which I<sup>r</sup> commanded the not, neither came it in mine heart.

32 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lorde, that it shal no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in Topheth til there be no place.

33 And the carkeises of this people shalbe meat for the foules of the heauen and for the beasts of the earth, & none shall fraye them away.

34 * Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Iudah & from the streets of Ierusalem the voice of mirth and the voice of gladnes, the voice of the bridegrome and the voyce of the bride: for the land shalbe desolate.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The destruction of the Iewes. 4 The Lord moueth the people to amendment. 10 He reprehendeth the lying doctrine and the couetousnes of the Prophets and Priests.

1 AT that time, saith the Lord, they shal bring out the bones of the Kings of Iudah, & the bones of their princes, and the bones of the Priests and the bones of the Prophets, & the bones of the inhabitants of Ierusalem out of their graues.

2 And they shal spread them before the sun & the moone, & al the host of heaue, who they haue loued, and whome they haue serued, and whome they haue followed, & whom they haue sought, and whom they haue worshiped: they shal not be gathered nor be buried, but shalbe as doung vpon the earth.

3 And death shalbe desired<sup>b</sup> rather the life of all the residue that remaineth of this wicked family, which remaine in all the places where I haue scattered them, sayth the Lord of hostes.

Thou shalt saye vnto them also, Thus saith the Lord, Shal they<sup>c</sup> fal & not arise? shal he turne away and not turne againe?

4 Wherefore is this people of Ierusalem turned backe by a perpetual rebellion? they gaue the selues to deceit, & would not returne.

5 I hearkened & heard, but none spake a right: no man repeted him of his wickednes, saying, What haue I done? euery<sup>d</sup> one turned to their race, as the horse rusheth into the battell.

6 Euē the storcke in the aire knoweth her appointed times, & the turtle & the crane and the swallow obserue the time of their comming, but my people knoweth not the<sup>e</sup> iudgement of the Lord.

7 How do ye say, We are wise, & the Lawe<sup>f</sup> of the Lorde is with vs? Lo, certainly in vaine made he it, the pen of the scribes is in vaine.

8 The<sup>g</sup> wise men are ashamed: they are a afraid & taken. lo, they haue reiected the word of the Lord, and what wildome is in them?

afflictions that

c Is there no

will returne?

they are more

g They that seeme wise, may be ashamed of their ignorance:
for al wildome consisteth in Gods worde.

10 Therefore will I giue their wiues vnto others, & their fields to the that shal possesse them: * for euery one from the leaste euē vnto the greatest is giue to couetousnes, & from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, euery one dealeth falsely.

11 For they haue healed the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweet words, the peris of the people, who when the em- mic cometh, will runne about to hide them- selues, and ac- knowledge that it is Gods hand. k That is, hath brought vnto extreme affliction, & thus they shal not at- tige on the figtree, & the leafe shal fade, & bute this plague the things that I haue giuen them, shal depart from them.

12 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, neither coulde they haue any shame: therefore shal they fall among the slaine: when I shal visit them, they shalbe cast downe, saith the Lord.

13 I wil surely cōsume them, saith the Lord: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the figtree, & the leafe shal fade, & bute this plague the things that I haue giuen them, shal depart from them.

14 Why do we stay? assemble your selues, & let vs enter into the strong cities, & let vs be quiet there: for the Lord our God hath put vs to silence and giuen vs water with<sup>l</sup> gal to drinke, because we haue sinned against the Lord.

15 * We looked for peace, but no good came, & for a time of health, and behold troubles.

16 The neying of his horses was heard fro<sup>m</sup> Dan, the whole lande trembled at the noise of the neying of his strong horses: for they are come, & haue deuoured the land with al that is in it, the citie, & those that dwell therein.

17 For behold, I wil send serpents, & cockatrices amōg you, which wil not be charmed, & they shal sting you, saith the Lord.

18 I would haue comforted my selfe against sorow, but mine heart is heauie in me.

19 Behold, the voice of y cry of the daughter of my people for feare of them of a farre country. Is not the Lord in Zion? is not her king in her? Why haue they prouoked me to anger with their grauen images, & with the vanities of a strange god?

20 The<sup>p</sup> haruest is past, the sommer is ended and we are not holpen.

21 I am<sup>q</sup> sore vexed for the hurt of the daughter of my people: I am heauie, & astonishment hath taken me.

22 Is there no balme<sup>r</sup> at Gilead? is there no Physitiō there? Why the is not the health of the daughter of my people recouered? Hos. 6. 8.

1 Oh, that I had in the wilderness a<sup>b</sup> cottage of wayfaring men, that I might leaue my people, and go from them: for they be all<sup>c</sup> adulterers & an assemblie of rebels,

2 And they be<sup>d</sup> liars: but they haue no courage for the truth vpon the earth: for they proceede from euil to worse, & they haue not knowne me, saith the Lord.

3 Let euery one take heed of his neighbour, & trust you not in any<sup>e</sup> brother: for euery brother wil vlie deceite, and euery friend wil deale deceitfully,

4 And euery one wil deceiue his friende, & will not speake the truth: for they<sup>f</sup> haue taught their tongues to speake lies, and take great paines to do wickedly.

5 Thine habitation is in the middes of deceiuers: because of their deceite they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I wil<sup>g</sup> melt them, & trie them: for what shoulde I els do for the daughter of my people?

7 Their tongue<sup>h</sup> is as an arrow shot out, & speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth wait for him.

8 Shall I not visit the for these things, saith the Lord? or shal not my soule be aduenged on such a nation as this?

9 Vpon the<sup>i</sup> mountaines will I take vp a weeping and a lamentation, and vpon the faire places of the wilderness a mourning, because they are burnt vp: so that none can passe through the, neither can me heare the voice of the flocke: both the foule of the aire, and the beaste are fled away and gone.

10 And I wil make Ierusalem an heape, and a den of dragons, & I wil make the cities of Iudah waite, without an inhabitant.

11 Who is<sup>k</sup> wise, to vnderstand this, and to whom the mouth of the Lord hath spokē, euē he shal declare it. Why doth the land perish, & is burnt vp like a wilderness, that none passeth through?

12 And the Lord saith, Because they haue forsaken my Law, which I set before them, & haue not obeyed my voice, neither walked there after,

13 But haue walked after the stubbornnes of their owne heart, & after Baalims, which their fathers taught them,

14 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feede this people with worme woode, and giue them waters of gal<sup>l</sup> to drinke:

15 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers haue knowne, & I wil sende a sword after them, til I haue consumed them.

16 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Take heed, & cal for<sup>l</sup> the mourning women, that they may come, and sende for skilful women that they may come,

17 And let the make haste, & let them take vp a lamentation for vs, that our cies may cast out teares and our eye liddes gush out of water.

18 For a lamentable noyse is hearde out of Zion, Howe are we destroyed, & vterly confounded, for we haue forsake the land, and our wellings<sup>m</sup> haue cast vs out.

19 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O ye women, & let your eares regard the wordes of his mouth, and<sup>n</sup> teache your daughters to mourne, and euery one her neighbour to lament.

20 For death is come vp into our<sup>o</sup> windowes, and is entred into our palaces, to destroy the children without, & the yong men in the streetes.

21 Speake, thus saith the Lorde, The carkeies of men shal lie, euen as the dounge vpon the fild, & as the handfull after the mower, and none shal gather them.

22 Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wife make glory in his wildome, nor the strong man glorie in his strength, neyther the rich man glory in his riches.

23 But let him that glorieth, glory in this, that he vnderstandeth, and knoweth me: for I am the Lord, which<sup>p</sup> shewe mercie, iudgement, & righteoufnes in the earth: for in these things I delire, saith the Lord.

24 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I wil visit al them, which are<sup>q</sup> circumcised with the vncircumcised:

25 Egypt and Iudah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, & al the vtmost corners of them that dwell in the wilderness: for al these nations are vncircumcised, & al the house of Israel are vncircumcised in the heart.

¶ These three points are necessary to know aright: his mercy, wherein consisteth our saluation: his iudgement, which he executeth continually against the wicked, and his iustice, whereby he defendeth, & maintaineth the faithfull. ¶ Meaning, both Iewes and Gentiles, as in the next verse he sheweth the cause, reade Chap. 4. 4.

CHAP. X.

¶ The constellations of the starres are not to be feared. ¶ The weaknes of idoles, & of the power of God. ¶ Their passions are become brute beastes.

1 HEARE ye the worde of the Lorde that he speaketh vnto you, O house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Learne not the way of the heathen, and be not afraid for the<sup>a</sup> signes of heauen, though the heathen be afraid of such.

3 For the<sup>b</sup> customes of y people are vaine: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest (which is the worke of the handes of the carpenter) with the axe,

4 And another decketh it<sup>c</sup> with siluer, and with golde: they fasten it with nailles, and hammers, that it fal not.

and therefore there can be no certeine iudgement thereof, Deut. 18. 9. b Meaning not onely in the obseruation of the starres, but their Laws & ceremonies whereby they confirme their idolatry, which is forbidden, Deut. 12. 30. c The Prophets vse thus plainly and simple to set forth the vile absurditie of the idolaters, that men might learn to be ashamed of that, wherunto their corrupt nature is most subiect, read Isa. 44. 12.

o As though they were weary of vs, because of our iniquities Leu. 18. 28. & 20. 22.

p He derideth the superstition of the women, which made an arte of mourning, & taught to weep with fained teares.

q Signifying, that there is no meanes to deliuer the wicked from Gods iudgements: but when they think to be most sure, and most farre off, then are they soonest taken.

r Forasmuch as none can saue him selfe by his owne labour or any worldly meanes, he sheweth that it is in vaine to put our trust therein, but that we trust in the Lord, and reioyce in him, who onely can deliuer vs, 1. Cor. 1. 31. 2. Cor. 10. 17.

5 The idoles stand vp as the palme tree, but speake not: they are borne because they cannot go: feare the not, for they cannot do euil, neither can they do good.

6 There is none like vnto thee, O Lorde:
thou art great, and thy name is great in power.

Who would not feare thee, O King of nations: for to thee apperteineth the dominio:
for among al the wise me of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdomes there is none like thee.

But altogether they dote, and are foolish:
for the stocke is a doctrine of vanitie.

Siluer plates are brought fro Tarshish, & golde from Vphaz, for the worke of the workman, and the hands of the founder:
the blew silke, & the purple is their clothing: al these thinges are made by cunning men.

10 But the Lord is the God of truth: he is the liuing God, and an euertlasting King:
at his anger the earth shal tremble, & the nations cannot abide his wrath.

11 (Thus shal you say vnto them, The gods that haue not made the heauens & the earth, shal perishe from the earth, & from vnder these heauens)

12 He hath made the earth by his power, & established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

13 He giueth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and he causeth the cloudes to ascende from the endes of the earth: he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the winde out of his treasures.

14 Euerie man is a beast by his owne knowledge: euery foulder is confounded by the grauen image: for his melting is but falsihood, and there is no breath therein.

15 They are vanity, & the work of errorours:
in the time of their visitation they shal perish.

16 The portion of Iaakob is not like them:
for he is the maker of al thinges, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

17 Gather vp thy wares out of the land,
O thou that dwellest in the strong place.

18 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, at this time I will throw as with a sling the inhabitants of the land, and wil trouble them, and they shal finde it so.

19 Wo is me for my destruction, and my griuous plague: but I thought, Yet it is little profit their religion against the idolaters, & how to answer the to their shame which should exhort the to idolatry, & therefore he writeth this sentence in the Caldeans tongue for a memorial, whereas al the rest of his writing is Ebrew. h The more that man thinketh to do any thing well by his owne wisdom, & not as God instructeth him, the more doth he proue himself to be a vile beast. i By these words, Portion & rod, he signifieth their inheritance: meaning, God should be al sufficient for the, & that their felicitie consisted in him alone, & therefore they ought to renounce al other helpees, & succours as of idoles, & c. Deut. 32. 9. psal. 16. 5. k The Prophet willett the Iewes to prepare themselves to this captiuitie, shewing that it was now at hand, that they should feel the things, wherof he had told them. l It is my iust plague & therefore I wil take it patiently: whereby he teacheth the people how to behaue themselves toward God.

20 My tabernacle is destroyed, and all my coards are broken: my children are gone fro me, & are not: there is none to spread out my tent anye more, and to set vp my courtaines.

21 For the Pastors are become beastes, & haue not fought the Lord: therefore haue they none vnderstanding: and al the stocke of their pastures are scattered.

22 Behold, the noise of the brute is come, & a great commotion out of the North countrie to make the cities of Iudah desolate, & a denne of dragons.

23 O Lorde, I know, that the way of man is not in him selfe, neither is it in man to walke and to direct his steps.

24 O Lorde, correct me, but with iudge-ment, not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.

25 Powre out thy wrath vpon the hea-the, that know thee not, & vpon the families that call not on thy Name: for they haue eaten vp Iaakob & deuoured him & consumed him, & haue made his habitation desolate.

as much as God can not only be known and glorified by his mercy, that he vseth toward his Church, but also by his iustice in punishing his enemies, he prayeth that his glorie may fully appeare both in the

CHAP. XI.

A curse of them that obey not the words of Gods cou-enant. 10 The people of Iudah following the steps of their fathers, worship strange gods. 15 The Lorde furbiddeth Jeremiah to pray for them.

1 The word that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Heare ye the wordes of this couenant, & speake vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem,

3 And saye thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, a Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the wordes of this couenant,

4 Which I commanded vnto your fathers, felicitie whē I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the yron fornaice, saying, Obey my voyce, and do according to all these things, which I command you: so shal ye be my people, and I will be your God,

5 That I may confirme the othe, that I haue sworne vnto your fathers, to giue them a land, which floweth with milke and hony, as appeareth this day. Then answered I & said, So be it, O Lord.

6 Then the Lorde saide vnto me, Crye all these wordes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, saying, Heare ye the wordes of this couenant, and do them.

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, whē I brought them vp out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, rising early & pro-resting, saying, Obey my voyce.

8 Neuertheles they woulde not obey, nor encline their eare: but euerye one walked in the stubbernes of his wicked heart: therefore I will bring vpon them all the words of this couenant, which I comanded them to do, but they did it not.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, A conspiracie is found among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words: and they went after other gods to serue them: thus the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue broken my couenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon them, which they shal not be able to escape, & though they cry vnto me, I wil not heare them.

12 Then shal the cities of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem go, and cry vnto the gods vnto whome they offer incense, but they shal not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Iudah, and according to the number of the streets of Ierusalem haue ye set vp altars of confusion, euen altars to burne incense vnto Baal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift vp a cry, or prayer for them: for when they cry vnto me in their trouble, I will not heare them.

15 What shoulde my beloved say in mine house, seeing they haue committed abomination with many? and the holy fleshe goeth away from thee: yet when thou doest euil, thou reioycest.

16 The Lord called thy name, A greene olive tree, faire, & of goodly fruit: but with noise and great tumult he hath set fyre vpon it, & the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hostes that planted thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee, (for the wickednes of the house of Israel, & of the house of Iudah) which they haue done against themselves to prouoke mee to anger in offering incense vnto Baal.

18 And the Lord hath taught mee, and I knowe it, euen then thou shewedst mee their practises.

19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is brought to the slaughter, and I knewe not y they had deuised thus against me, saying, Let vs destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and cut him out of the land of the liuing, that his name maye bee no more in memorie.

20 But O Lord of hostes, that iudgeth righteously, and triest the reynes & the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

21 The Lord therefore speaketh thus of the men of Anathoth, (that seeke thy life, & the rest of the people: for this towne was the Priests, and they dwelt in it, say, Prophecie not in the Name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hands)

22 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I wil visit them: the yong men shal die by the sword: their sonnes and their daughters shal die by famine,

23 And none of them shal remaine: for I will bring a plague vpon the men of Anathoth, euen the yere of their visitation.

CHAP. XII.

The Prophet marueylth as the prosperitie of the wicked, although hee confesse God to be righteous. 7 The leues are forsaken of the Lord. 10 He speaketh against pastors and preachers, that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threateth destruction vnto the nations, that troubled Iudah.

1 O Lorde, if I dispute with thee, thou art righteous: yet let mee talke with thee of thy iudgements: wherefore doeth the way of the wicked prosper? why are al they in wealth that rebelliouslye transgressed?

2 Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken roote: they growe, and bring forth fruit: thou art neere in their mouth, and farre from their reines.

3 But thou, Lord, knowest mee: thou hast seen me, & tried mine heart toward thee: pul them out like shepe for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shal the land mourne, and the herbes of euerie field wither, for the wickednesse of them that dwel therein? the beasts are consumed & the birds, because they said, He wil not see our last ende.

5 If thou hast runne with the footmen, & they haue wearied thee, then howe canst thou match thy selfe with horses? and if thou thoughtest thy selfe safe in a peaceable lande, what wilt thou do in the swelling of Iorden?

6 For euen thy brethren, and the house of thy father, eue they haue delt vnfaithfully with thee, and they haue cried out altogether vpon thee: but belecue them not, though they speake faire to thee.

7 I haue forsaken mine house: I haue left mine heritage: I haue giuen the dearely beloued of my soule into the hands of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is vnto me, as a Lyon in the forest: it crieth out against me, therefore haue I hated it.

9 Shal mine heritage be vnto me, as a bird

Not that they could not abide to heare God named: (for here in they would shew themselves most holy) but because they could not abide to be sharply reprovved and therefore desired to be a The Prophet confesseth God to be iust in all his doings, although man be not able to giue a reason of all his adies. b This question hath bene alwayes a great temptation to the godly, to see the wicked enemies of God in prosperitie, and his deare children in aduersitie, as Job. 21. 7. psal. 37. 1. & 73. 1. Hab. 1. 3. c They professe God in mouth, but denie him in heart, which is here ment by the reines, Isa. 29. 13. mat. 15. 8. d The Ebrewe word is, Sanctifie them, meaning, that God would be sanctified in the destruction of the wicked, to whom God for a while giueth prosperitie, that afterwarde they shoulde the more feeble his heauy iudgement when they lacke their riches, which were a signe of his mercie. e Abusing Gods lenitie and his promises, they flattered them selues as though God would euer be mercifull, and not vterly destroye them: therefore they hardned them selues in sinne, till at length the beastes and insensible creatures felt the punishment of their stubborne rebellion against God. f Some thinke that God reprooueth Ieremiah in that, that he would reason with him, saying, that if he were not able to match with men, that he were farre vnable to dispute with God. Others, by the foote men, meane them of Anathoth, and by the horsemen of Ierusalem, which shoulde trouble the Prophet worse then his owne countrey men did. g God willett the Prophet to denounce his iudgements against Ierusalem, notwithstanding that they shall both by threatnings and flatteries labour to put him to silence. h Euer ramping and raging against me and my Prophets.

CHAP. XIII.

The destruction of the Iewes is prophesied. In y which I shall be to the people of God, & why they were forsaken. He exhorteth them to repentance.

1 Thus saith the Lord vnto me, Go, and bie thee a linen girdle, and put it vpon thy loynes, and put it not in water.

2 So I bought the girdle according to the commandement of the Lorde, and put it vpon my loynes.

3 And the word of the Lord came vnto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is vpon thy loynes, and arise, go toward Perath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.

5 So I went, & hid it by Perath, as the Lorde had commanded me.

6 And after many dayes, the Lorde said vnto me, Arise, go toward Perath, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Perath, and digged, and tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and behold, the girdle was corrupt, and was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lord, After this maner will I destroy the pride of Iudah, and the great pride of Ierusalem.

10 This wicked people haue refused to heare my word, & walke after the stubbrenes of their owne heart, & walke after other gods to serue them, and to worship them: therefore they shal be as this girdle, which is profitable to nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaueth to the loynes of a man, so haue I tyed to me the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iudah, sayth the Lorde, that they might be my people: that they might haue a name and praise, and glorie, but they would not heare.

12 Therefore thou shalt say vnto them this word, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Euery bottel shalbe filled with wine, and they shall saye vnto thee, Do we not know that euery bottel shalbe filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou saye vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, eue the Kings that sitte vpon the throne of Dauid, and the Priests and the Prophets and al the inhabitants of Ierusalem with drunkenness.

14 And I will dash them one against another, euen the fathers and the sonnes together, saith the Lorde: I will not spare, I will not pitie nor haue compasion, but destroy them.

15 Heare and giue care, be not proude: for the Lorde hath spoken it.

16 Giue glory to the Lord your God before he bring darkness, and or euer your feete stumble in the darke mountaines, and whiles you looke for light, hee turne it into the shadowe of death and make it as darkness.

17 But if ye will not heare this, my soule shall weepe in secret for your pride, & mine eie shal weepe & drop downe teares, because the Lordes flocke is carried away captiue.

18 Say vnto the King and to the Queene, Humble your selues, sit downe; for the crowne of your glorie shall come downe from your heades.

19 The cities of the South shalbe shut vp, and no man shal open them: al Iudah shal be carried away captiue: it shalbe whollye caryed away captiue.

20 Lift vp your eies and beholde them that come from the North, where is the flocke that was giuen thee, euen thy beautifull flocke.

21 What wilt thou saye, when he shall visite thee? (for thou hast taught the to be captaines & as chiefe ouer thee) shal not followe thee as a woman in trauaile?

22 And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon me? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts discouered against thee.

b Euery one of you shalbe filled with spiritual drunkenness, and be without all helpe to your selues.

c It shall be as easie for me to destroy the great, as it is for a man to breake cartchen bonde.

d That is, as if you shall surely be led away captiue, and I according to mine affection towards you, shall weepe and lament for your stubbornnes.

e Meaning, for helpe & support of the Egyptians.

f You shall surely be led away captiue, and I according to mine affection towards you, shall weepe and lament for your stubbornnes.

CHAP. XIII. XV.

2 Of the death that ſhould come. 7 The prayer of the peo- ple asking merſie of the Lord. 10 The prayer of the people are not heard. 13 Of prayer, faſting, & of falſe prophets that ſeduce the people.

1 The worde of the Lord that came vnto Ieremiah, concerning the death. Iudah hath mourned, and the gates ther- of are deſolate, they haue bene brought to heauines vnto the grounde, and the cry of Ieruſalem goeth vp.

a Which came for lacke of raie, a as verſe 4. b Or, ybrin. c The word ſi- gnifyeth to be made blacke, and ſo is here taken for extreme ſor- rowe.

And their nobles haue ſent their inferi- ours to the water, who came to the welles, and founde no water: they returned with their veſſels emptie: they were aſhamed & confounded, and couered their heads.

For the grounde was deſtroied, becauſe there was no raine in the earth: the plow- men were aſhamed, and couered their heads.

Yea, the hinde alſo calued in the ſieldes, and forlooke it, becauſe there was no graſſe.

And the wilde aſſes did ſtand in the high places, and drewe in their winde like dragons: their eyes did faile, becauſe there was no graſſe.

O Lord, though our iniquities teſtifie a- gainſt vs, deale with vs according to thy Name: for our rebellions are manie, we ſinned againſt thee.

O the hope of Iſrael, the ſauour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a ſtranger in the land, as one that paſſeth by to tarie for a night?

Why art thou as a man aſtonied, and as a ſtrong man that canot helpe? yet thou, O Lord, art in the middes of vs, and thy Name is called vpon vs: forſake vs not.

Thus ſaith the Lorde vnto this people, Thus haue they delited to wander: they haue not refrained their feet, therefore the Lord hath no delite in the: but he wil now remember their iniquitie, and viſit their ſinnes.

Then ſaide the Lord vnto me, Thou ſhalt not pray to do this people good.

When they faſt, I wil not heare their cry,

a To wit, with aſhes in token of ſorrowe.

d Meaning, that brute beaſts for drought were compell'd to for- ſake their yong, contrary to na- ture, and to go ſeeke water, which they could not finde.

e Which are ſo hote of nature, that they cannot be cooled with drinking of wa- ter, but ſtill gape for the aire to re- freſh them.

f He ſheweth the onely way to remedie Gods plagues, which is by viſcerall cōſiſſion of our ſinnes, & return- ing to him by repentance.

g That taken no care for vs. h At one that hath ſtrength to helpe, and yet is aſtonied to put to his hand.

and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I wil not accept them: but I wil conſume them by the ſworde, and by the famine and by the peſtilence.

13 Then answered I, Ah Lord God, behold, the Prophets ſay vnto them, Ye ſhall not ſee the ſworde, neither ſhall famine come vpon you, but I will giue you aſſured peace in this place.

14 Then the Lord ſaid vnto me, The Pro- phets prophesie lies in my Name: I haue not ſent them, neither did I command the, neither ſpoke I vnto them, but they pro- pheſie vnto you a falſe viſion, and diuina- tion, and vnitie, and deceiſures of their owne heart.

15 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Concern- ing the Prophets that prophesie in my Name; whom I haue not ſent, yet they ſay, Sworde and famine ſhall not be in this land, by ſworde & famine ſhall thoſe Pro- phets be conſumed.

16 And the people to whom theſe Prophets do prophesie, ſhall I caſt out in the ſtreets of Ieruſalem, becauſe of the famine, & the ſworde, & there ſhall be none to bury the, both they, and their wives, & their ſonnes, and their daughters; for I will powre their wickednes vpon them.

17 Therefore thou ſhalt ſay this worde vnto them, Bee mine eies drop downe teares night and day without ceaſing: for the vir- gine daughter of my people is deſtroied with a great deſtruction, and with a ſore grieuous plague.

18 For if I go into the field, behold the ſlaine with the ſworde: and if I enter into the ci- tie, beholde them that are ſicke for hunger alſo: moreover the Prophet alſo and the Priest go a wandring into a land that they know not.

19 Haſt thou viterly reieſted Iudah, or haſt thou ſoule abhorred Zion? why haſt thou ſmiten vs, that we cannot be healed? We looked for peace, & there is no good, and for the time of health, and behold trouble.

20 We acknowledge, O Lord, our wickednes & the iniquitie of our fathers: for we haue ſinned againſt thee.

21 Do not abhorre vs: for thy Names ſake caſt not downe the throne of thy glory: remember and breake not thy covenant with vs.

22 Are there any among the vanities of the Gentiles, that can giue raine? or can the heauens giue ſhowres? is it not thou, O lord our God? therefore we wil wait vpon thee: for thou haſt made al theſe things.

23 Though the Prophet knew God had caſt of multitude, which were hy- pocrites, & baſtard childre, yet he was aſſured that for his pro- miſe ſake he would haue ſtill Church, for the which he praied.

24 He teacheth Church a forme of prayer, to hu- ble themſelues to God by true repentance, which is onely meane to auoid this fa- mine, which was the beginning of Gods plagues.

25 Meaning, their idols, reade Chap. 10. 15.

26 A Meaning, that if therewere any man liuing mo- ued w ſo great zeale toward the people, as were theſe two, yet that he woulde not grant this requieſt, for as much as he had determined the contrary, Ezck. 14. 14.

27 Then ſaid the Lord vnto me, Though Moſes and Samuel ſtoode before me, yet mine affection could not be toward this people, as were theſe two, yet that he woulde not grant this requieſt, for as much as he had determined the contrary, Ezck. 14. 14.

28 Then ſaid the Lord vnto me, Thou ſhalt not pray to do this people good.

29 When they faſt, I wil not heare their cry,

30 And when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I wil not accept them: but I wil conſume them by the ſworde, and by the famine and by the peſtilence.

31 Then answered I, Ah Lord God, behold, the Prophets ſay vnto them, Ye ſhall not ſee the ſworde, neither ſhall famine come vpon you, but I will giue you aſſured peace in this place.

32 Then the Lord ſaid vnto me, The Pro- phets prophesie lies in my Name: I haue not ſent them, neither did I command the, neither ſpoke I vnto them, but they pro- pheſie vnto you a falſe viſion, and diuina- tion, and vnitie, and deceiſures of their owne heart.

people: cast them out of my sight, and let them depart.

2 And if they say vnto thee, Whither shall we depart? then tell them, Thus saith the Lord, Such as are appointed to death, vnto death: & such as are for the sword, to the sword, and such as are for the famine, to the famine, and such as are for the captiuitie, to the captiuitie.

3 And I wil appoint ouer the foure Kindes, saith the Lord, the sword to slay, and the dogs to teare in pieces, and the fowles of the heauen, and the beasts of the earth to deuoure, and to destroy.

4 I wil scatter them also in all kingdomes of the earth, because of Manasseh y sonne of Hezekiah King of Iudah, for that which he did in Ierusalem.

5 Who shal then haue pitie vpon thee, O Ierusalem? or who shal be sorie for thee? or who shal goe to pray for thy peace?

6 Thou hast forsaken me, saith the Lord, and gone backward: therefore will I stretch out mine hand against thee, and destroy thee: for I am weary with repenting.

7 And I wil scatter them with the fanne in the gates of the earth: I haue wasted, and destroyed my people, yet they would not returne from their waies.

8 Their widdowes are increased by me aboue the sand of the sea: I haue brought vpon them, & against the assembly of the yong men a destroyer at noone day: I haue caused him to fall vpon thee, and the cite suddenly, and speedily.

9 She that hath borne seven, hath bene made weake: her heart hath failed; the sun hath failed in her, whiles it was daye: she hath bene confounded, and ashamed, and the residue of them will I deliuer vnto the sword before their enemies, sayth the Lord.

10 Wo is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me, a contentious man, and a man that striueth with the whole earth: I haue neither lent on vsurie, nor men haue lent vnto me on vsury: yet euery one doth curse me.

11 The Lord said, Surely thy remnant shall haue wealth: surely I will cause thine enemy to intreat thee in the time of trouble, and in the tyme of affliction.

12 Shal the yron breake the yron, and the brasie that commeth from the North?

13 Thy substance & thy treasures will I giue to be spoiled without gaine, and that for all thy finnes euen in all thy borders.

14 And I will make thee to go with thine enemies into a land that thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burne you.

15 O Lord, thou knowest, remember me, & enemy he meaneth here, Nebuzardā captain of Nebuchad-nezzar, who gaue Ieremiah the choice either to remaine in his country, or to go whither he wold: or by the enemy he meaneth the Iewes, which should afterward knowe Ieremiah's fidelitie, & therefore fauour him. As for the people though they seemed strong as yron, yet should they not be able to resist the hard iron of Babylon, but should be led captiues.

Zac. 11. 9.

b The dogges, birdes & beasts should deuoure them, that were slaine.

c The word signifieth to runne to & fro for feare & inquietnes of conscience, as did Cain.

d Not that the people was punished for kings sinne onely, but for their owne finnes also, because they consented to his wickednes, 2. King. 21. 9.

e That is, I wil not call backe my plagues, or spare thee any more.

f Meaning, the cities.

i She that had many, lost al her children.

j She was destroyed in the middes of her prosperitie.

k These are the prophets words, complaining of obstinacie of the people, and he was referred to so wicked a time wherein al so he sheweth what is the condition of Gods ministers: to wit, to haue al the world against them, though they giue done occasion.

l Which is an occasion of contention & hatred.

m In this perplexitie y Lord comforted me, & said that my last dayes should be quiet: and by the enemy he meaneth here, Nebuzardā captain of Nebuchad-nezzar, who gaue Ieremiah the choice either to remaine in his country, or to go whither he wold: or by the enemy he meaneth the Iewes, which should afterward knowe Ieremiah's fidelitie, & therefore fauour him.

o Or, vanities.

visit me, and reuenge me of my persecutors: take me not away in the continuance of thine anger: knowe that for thy sake I haue suffred rebuke.

16 Thy words were founde by me, and I did eat them, and thy worde was vnto me the ioy and reioicing of mine heart: for thy Name is called vpon me, O Lord God of hostes.

17 I fate not in the assemble of the mockers, neither did I reioyce, but fate alone because of thy plague: for thou hast filled me with indignation.

18 Why is mine heauines continual? & my plague desperate & cannot be healed? why art thou vnto me as a lyer, and as waters that faile?

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord, If thou returne, then will I bring thee againe, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take away the precious from the vile, thou shalt be according to my word: let them returne vnto thee, but returne not thou vnto them.

20 And I will make thee vnto this people a strong brasen wal, and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile against thee: for I am with thee to saue thee, and to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

The Lord forbidding Ieremiah to marrie, sheweth him what should be the afflictions vpon Iudah. 12 The captiuitie of Babylon. 13 Their deliuerance. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

1 The worde of the Lord came also vnto me, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take a thee a wife, nor haue sonnes nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sonnes, & concerning the daughters that are borne in this place, & concerning their mothers that beare them, & concerning their fathers, that beget them in this land.

4 They shal die of deaths & diseases: they shal not be lamented, neither shal they be buried, but they shal be as dongue vpon the earth, & they shal be consumed by the sword, and by famine, and their carkeises shal be meate for the fowles of the heauen, and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the Lord, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament, nor be moued for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, saith the Lord, euen mercie and compassion.

6 Both the great, & the smal shal dye in this land: they shal not be buried, neither shal men lamet for them nor cut themselves, nor make themselves balde for them.

7 They of mourning.

o He saitheth not this for doore of reuenge, but withing God wold deliuer his Church of them who knew to be hardened, and incorrigible.

p I received the word as great ioy as he that is afflicted eateth meat.

q I had nothing to do with the wicked contentment of thy word, but I am bidden bitterly for thy plague: shewing what faithful should do when they see tokens of Gods anger.

r And hast not afflicted me according to thy promise where I have sinned?

s In the faith of Gods impenetrable faith, which through rough importunacie is not times.

10 And when thou shalt shewe this people

Wherefore hath the Lord pronounced all this great plague against vs? or what is dayes come that it shall no more be saide,

The Lord liueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

15 But the Lord liueth, that brought vp the children of Israel <sup>f</sup> from the lande of the North, and from al the landes where he had scattered them, and I wil bring them

18 And first I wil recompence their iniquitie and their sinne double, because they haue defiled my land, and haue filled mine inheritance with their filthie carions & their abominations.

9 O Lord, show us thy<sup>i</sup> force, & my strength & my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shall come vnto thee fro the ends of the worlde, and shal fay, Surely our fa-

19 Thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Go & stande in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the Kings of Iudah come in, and by the which they go out, and in al the gates of Ierusalem,

20 And say vnto them, Heare the worde of the Lord, ye Kings of Iudah, and all Iudah, and all the inhabitantes of Ierusalem, that enter in by these gates.

21 Thus saith the Lord, Take heed to your soules, and beare no burden in the Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Ierusalem.

22 Neither cary forth burdens out of your houses in the Sabbath day: neither do ye any worke, but sanctifie the Sabbath, as I commaunded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their eares, but made their neckes stiffe & would not heare, nor receiue correction.

24 Neuertheles if ye will heare me, saith the Lord, & beare no burden through y gates of the city in the Sabbath day, but sanctifie the Sabbath day, so that ye doe no worke therein,

25 Then shal the Kings and the princes enter in at the gates of this citie, and shall sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and shall ride vpon charets, and vpon horses, both they and their princes, the men of Iudah, and the inhabitantes of Ierusalem: and this city shal remaine for euer.

26 And they shal come from the cities of Iudah, and from about Ierusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, & from the plaine, and from the mountaines, and from the South, which shal bring burnt offerings, & sacrifices, and meat offerings, and incense, and shall bring sacrifice of prayse into the House of the Lord.

27 But if ye wil not heare me to sanctifie the Sabbath day, and not to beare a burden nor to go through the gates of Ierusalem in the Sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shal deuour the palaces of Ierusalem, and it shal not be quenched.

CHAP. XVIII.

God sheweth by the example of a potter, that it is in his power to destroy the despisers of his word. 18 The conspiracy of the Iewes against Ieremiah. 19 His prayer against his aduersaries.

1 The worde which came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Arise, & go down into the potters house, and there shal I shew thee my wordes.

3 Then I went down to the potters house, and beholde, he wrought a worke on the wheeles.

4 And the vessell that he made of claye, was broken in the hand of the potter: so he returned, & made it another vessell, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

6 O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter, sayth the Lord? beholde, as the clay is in the potters hande, so are you in myne hand, O house of Israel.

7 I will speake sodenly against a nation or against a kingdome to plucke it vp, and to roote it out apd to destroy it.

8 But if this nation, against whome I haue pronounced, turne from their wickednes, I will repent of the plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

9 And I will speake sodenly concerning a nation, & concerning a kingdome to builde it and to plant it.

10 But if it do euil in my sight and heare not my voyce, I will repent of the good that I thought to do for them.

11 Speake thou now therfore vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitantes of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: returne you therfore euerly one from his euill way, and make your wayes and your workes good.

12 But they said desperately, Surely we will walke after our owne imaginations, and do euery man after the stubburnnes of his wicked heart.

13 Therfore thus saith the Lord, Aske now among the heathen, who hath heard such things: the virgin of Israel hath done very filthily.

14 Will a man forsake the snow of Lebanon, which commeth from the rocke of the field? or shal the cold flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, & haue burnt incense to vanitie, and their Prophets haue caused them to stumble in their wayes from the auncient wayes to walke in the paths and way that is not troden,

16 To make their land desolate & a perpe- and leaue God, which was present with them. e That is, the way of truth, which God had taught by his Law, read Chap. 6. 16.

a As the potter hath power to alter the clay to make what pot he wil, or to brake it, while he hath made it: so haue I power ouer you to do w. you as seemeth good to me. (Isai. 45. 9. 22. 12. 7. rom. 9. 20.)

b When y scripture attributeth repentance vnto God: it is not y he doeth contrary to that which he hath ordered in his secret counsell: but while he threateth, it is a calling to repentance, and when he giueth man grace to repent, the threatening (which threateth a condition in it) takerh no place.

c As men that had no remorse, but were altogether bent to rebellion, & to their owne selfe will: As no man hath thirsted, refresheth fresh cold waters which he hath at home, he go & seeketh waters abroad to quench his thirst: so they ought not to seeke for helpe & succour at strangers.

rual derision, so that euery one that passeith thereby, shalbe astonished and wagge his head, 17 I will scatter them with an East winde before the enemy: I will shewe them the backe, and not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then sayde they, Come, and let vs imagine some deuise against Ieremiah: for the Law shall not perishe from the Priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the worde from the Prophet: come, & let vs smite him with the tongue, and let vs not giue heede to any of his wordes.

19 Hearken vnto me, O Lord, and heare the voice of them that contend with me.

20 Shal euill be recompensed for good? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: remember that I stood before thee, to speake good for them, and to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore, I deliuer vp their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the sword, and let their wiues be robbed of their childre, and be widdowes: and let their husbands be put to death, & let their yong men be slaine by the sword in the battell.

22 Let the crye be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring an hoste suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feete.

23 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsell against me: sendeth to death: forgiue not their iniquitie, neither put out their sinne from thy sight, but let them be ouerthrowen before thee: deale thus with them in the time of thine anger.

24 And thou shalt prayeth for their destruction, because he knewe that it should tend to Gods glorie, and profit of his Church.

CHAP. XIX.

He prophesieth the destruction of Ierusalem for the contempt and despising of the worde of God.

1 Thus said the Lord, Go, and by an earthen bottell of a potter, and sake of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Priests,

2 And go forth vnto the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is by the entrie of the East gate: & thou shalt preach there y wordes, that I shall tell thee,

3 And shalt say, Heare ye the word of the Lord, O Kings of Iudah, and inhabitants of Ierusalem, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring a plague vpon this place, the which who soeuer heareth, his eares shal tingle.

4 Because they haue forsaken me, & prophaned this place, and haue burnt incense in it vnto other gods, whome neither they, nor their fathers haue knownen, nor the Kings of Iudah (they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

And they haue built the hie places of Baal, to burne their sonnes with fire for burnt offerings vnto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my minde)

6 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that this place shal no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7 And I will bring the counsel of Iudah and Ierusalem to nought in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, & by the hand of them that seke their liues: & their carkeises will I giue to be meat for the foules of the heauen, & to the beasts of the field.

8 And I will make this citie desolate: & an hissing, so that euery one that passeth thereby, shalbe astonished & hisse because of all the plagues thereof.

9 And I will feede them with the flesh of their sonnes and with the flesh of their daughters: & euery one shal eat the flesh of his friend in the siege & streynes, wherewith their enemies that seke their liues, shal holde them streit.

10 Then shalt thou breake the bottell in the sight of the men that goe with thee,

11 And shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Euen so will I breake this people & this citie, as one breaketh a porters vessel, that cannot be made whole againe; and they shal bury them in Topheth til there be no place to burie.

12 Thus will I doe vnto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I will make this citie like Topheth.

13 For the house of Ierusalem, and the houses of the Kings of Iudah shalbe defiled as the place of Topheth, because of al the houses vpon whose roofes they haue burnt incense vnto all the host of heauen, and haue powred out drinke offerings vnto other gods.

14 Then came Ieremiah from Topheth, where y Lord had sent him to prophesie, and he stode in the court of the Lords house, and said to al the people,

15 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring vpon this citie, & vpon al her townes, al the plagues that I haue pronounced against it, because they haue hardened their necks, & would not heare my wordes.

CHAP. XX.

Ieremiah is smitten & cast into prison for preaching of the word of God. He prophesieth the captivity of Babylon. He complaineth that he is a mocking stocke for the word of God. He is compelled by the spirit to preache the word.

1 When Pashur, the sonne of Immer, the Priest, which was appointed gouernour in the house of the Lord, hearde that Ieremiah prophesied these things,

2 Then Pashur smote Ieremiah the Prophet, & put him in the stocks that were in the hie gate of Benjamin which was by 14 But I wil visite you according to the fruite of your workes, saith the Lord, and I will kindle a fire in the forest thereof, and it shall deuoure round about it.

CHAP. XXII.

He exhorteth the King to iudgement and righteousness.
By Ierusalem is dring into captiuitie. The death of Shallum the sonne of Iosiah is prophesied.

1 Thus said the Lord, Go downe to the House of the King of Iudah, & speake there this thing,

2 And say, Heare the wordes of the Lord, O King of Iudah, that sittest vpon the throne of Dauid, thou and thy seruants, and thy people that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus saith the Lord, Execute ye iudgement and righteousness, and deliuer the oppressed from the hand of the oppressor, and vex not the stranger, the fatherlesse, nor the widow: do no violence, nor shed innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye do this thing, then shall the Kings sitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this House, and ride vpon charets, & vpon horses, both hee and his seruants and his people.

5 But if ye will not heare these wordes, I swear by my selfe, saith the Lord, that this House shall be waste.

6 For thus hath the Lord spoken vpon the Kings house of Iudah, Thou art as Gilead vnto me, & the head of Lebanon: surely I will make thee a wilderness and as cities not inhabited,

7 And I will prepare destroyers against thee, euerie one with his weapons, & they shall cut downe thy chiefe cedar trees, & cast them in the fire.

8 And many nations shall passe by this citie, & they shall say euery man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus vnto this great citie?

9 Then shall they answer, Because they haue forsaken the couenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods & serued them.

10 Weepe not for the dead, & be not moued for them, but weepe for him that goeth out: for he shall returne no more, nor see his natie countrey.

11 For thus saith the Lorde, As touching Shallum the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, which reigned for Iosiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not returne thither, 12 But he shall die in the place, whither they haue led him captiue, & shall see this lande no more.

13 ¶ Who vnto him that buildeth his house by wrighteousnes, & his chambers without equitie: he with his neighbour without wages and giueth him nor for his worke.

14 He saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so he will make himselfe large windows, and sieling with cedar and paint them with vermelon.

15 Shalt thou reigne, because thou closest thy selfe in cedar? did not thy father eat and drinke and prosper, when he executed iudgements and iustice?

16 When he iudged the cause of the afflicted and the poore, he prospered: was not this because he knew me, saith the Lord?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but only for thy courtpousnes, and for to feede innocent blood, and for oppression, & for destruction, euen to do this.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord against Iehoiakim, the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, Thy shall nor lament him, saying, Ah, my brother, or ah, sister: neither shall they mourne for him, saying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glorie.

19 He shall be buried as an asse: he is buried, euen drawn, and cast forth without the gates of Ierusalem.

20 ¶ Go vp to Lebanon, and crye: shewre in Baftian and crye by the passages: for all thy louters are destroyed.

21 I spake vnto thee when thou wast in prosperitie: but thou saidst, I will not heare: this hath bene thy maner from thy youth, that thou wouldest not obey my voyce.

22 The winde shall feede all thy pastors, & thy louters shall go into captiuitie: & then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednes.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the cedars, how beautiful shalt thou be when sorowes come vpon thee, as the sorow of a woman in trauaile?

24 As I liue, saith the Lord, though Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, were the signet of my right hande, yet would I plucke thee thence.

25 And I wil giue thee into the hand of them that seeke thy life, and into the hande of them, whose face thou fearest, euen into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 And I will cause them to carie thee away, and thy mother that bare thee, into another countrey, where ye were not borne, and there shall ye dye.

27 But to the land, whereunto they desire to returne, they shall not returne thither.

28 Is not this man Coniah as a depised and broken idole? or as a vessel, wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they caried away, he and his seede, and cast out into a lande that they know not?

CHAP. XXIII.
Against false Pastors. & A prophesie of the great Pastor
Iesus Christ.

1 WO be vnto the Pastours that destroy and scatter the sheepe of my pasture, saith the Lord.

2 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel vnto the Pastors that feede my people, Ye haue scattered my flocke & thrust them out, and haue not visited them: be-holde, I will visite you for the wickednes of your workes, saith the Lord.

3 And I will gather the remnant of my sheepe out of all countreys, whither I had driven them, and will bring them againe to their foldes, and they shall growe and encrease.

4 And I will set vp shepherdes ouer them, which shall feede them: and they shal dread no more nor be afraid, neither shall anie of them be lacking, saith the Lord.

Behold, The dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will raise vnto David a righteous branche, and a King shal reigne, and proper, and shal execute iudgement, & iustice in the earth.

In his dayes Iudah shal be saued, and * Israel shal dwell safely, and this is the Name whereby they shall call him, * The Lorde our righteousnes.

7 Therefore beholde, the dayes come,
saith the Lord, that they shal no more say,
The Lord liueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the lande of Egypt,

8 But the Lord liueth, which brought vp & ledde the seed of the house of Israel out of the North countrey & from all countreys where I had scattered them, and they shal dwell in their owne land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within me, because of the Prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man (and like a man whome wine hath ouercome) for the presence of the Lorde and for his holie wordes.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, and because of this the lande mourneth, the pleasant place of the wilderness are dried vp, and their course is euil, & their force is not right.

11 For both the Prophet and the Priest do wickedly: and their wickednesse haue I found in mine House, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shalbe vnto them as slippery wayes in the darknes: they shalbe driven forth and fall therein: for I will bring a plague vpon them, euen the yere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I haue seene foolishnes in the Prophets of Samaria, that prophesied in Baal and caused my people Israel to erre.

14 I haue seene also in the prophetes of Jerusalem filthines: they commit adulterie and walke in lies: they strengthen also the handes of the wicked that none can returne from his wickednes: they are as vnto me as Sodom, and the inhabitantes thereof as Gomorah.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes concerning the prophets, Beholde, I will feede them with wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the Prophets of Ierusalem is wickednes gone forth into al the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Heare not the wordes of the prophets that prophesie vnto you, and teach you vanitie:
they speake the vision of their owne heart and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say stil vnto them that despise me,
The Lord hath said, Ye shal haue peace:
and they say vnto euery one that walketh after the stubbernes of his owne heart, No euil shall come vpon you.

18 For who hath stand in the counsell of the Lord that he hath perceiued & heard his word? Who hath marked his word & heard it?

19 Beholde, the tempest of the Lord goeth forth in his wrath, and a violent whirlwind shall fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shall not returne vntill he haue executed, and till he haue performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter dayes ye shall vnderstand it plainly.

21 * I haue not sent these prophets, saith the Lord, yet they ranne: I haue not spoken to them, and yet they prophesied.

CHAP. XXIII.

The vision of the baskets of figges. Signifieth that part of the people should be brought againe from captiuitie, and that Zedekiah and the rest of the people should be carryed away.

The Lord shewed me, and beholde, two baskets of figges were set before the Temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel had carryed away captiue Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, and the princes of Iudah with the workemen, and cunning men of Ierusalem, & had brought them to Babel. which were yet subiect to the sword, famine and pestilence.

One basket had verie good figges, euen like the figges that are first ripe: and the other basket had verie naughtie figges, which could not be eaten, they were so euil.

Then said the Lord vnto me, What seest thou, Ieremiah? And I said, Figges: the good figges verie good, and the naughtie verie naughtie, which cannot be eaten, they are so euil.

Againe the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Thus faith the Lord, the God of Israel, Like these good figges, so will I knowe them that are carryed away captiue of Iudah to be good, whome I haue sent out of this place, into the lande of the Caldeans.

For I will set mine eyes vpon them for good, and I will bring them againe to this lande, and I will buyde them, and not destroye them, and I wil plant them, and not roote them out,

And I will giue them an heart to knowe me, that I am the Lord, and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shal return vnto me with their whole heart.

As and as the naughtie figges which can not be eaten, they are so euil (surely thus faith the Lord) so will I giue Zedekiah the King of Iudah, and his princes, and the residue of Ierusalem, that remains in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt:

I wil euen giue them for a terrible plague to al the kingdomes of the earth, and for a reproche, and for a prouerbe, for a common talke, and for a curse, in all places, where I shall cast them.

And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they bee consumed out of the land, that I gaue vnto them and to their fathers.

Neuertheless ye would not heare me, saith with the workes of your handes to your owne hurt.

Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes,
Because ye haue not heard my wordes,

Beholde, I will send and take to me all the families of the North, saith the Lord, & Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my seruant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, & against all these nations round about, and will destroy them, and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and a continual desolation.

Moreover I will take from them the voyce of mirth and the voyce of gladnes, the voice of the bridegrome and the voice of the bride, the noyle of the millstones, and the light of the candle.

And this whole land shalbe desolate, and an astonishment, & these nations shal serue the King of Babel seuentie yeres.

And when the seuentie yeres are accomplished, I will visite the King of Babel and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquities, euen the land of the Caldeans, & will make it a perpetual desolation.

And I will bring vpon that land all my wordes which I haue pronounced against it, euen all that is written in this booke, which Ieremiah hath prophesied against all nations.

For manie nations, and great Kings shall cuen serue themselves of them: thus wil
I recompence them according to their deedes, and according to the workes of their owne hands.

For thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken vnto me, Take the cup of wine of this mine indignation at mine hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drinke it.

And they shall drinke, and be moued & be made, because of the sword, that I will send among them.

Then tooke I the cup at the Lords hand, and made all people to drinke, vnto whom the Lord had sent me:

Euen Ierusalem, and the cities of Iudah, and the Kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them desolate, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse, as appeareth this day:

Pharaoh also, King of Egypt, and his ser-uants, and his princes, and all his people:

And all sortes of people, and all the Kings of the land of VZ: and all the Kings of the land of the Philistims, and Ashkelon, and Azzah, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod:

Edom, and Moab, and the Ammo-
nites,

And all the Kings of Tyrus, and all the Kings of Zidon, and the Kings of the Yles, that are beyond the Sea,

And Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that dwell in the vttermost corners,

And all the Kings of Arabia, and all the Kings of Arabia, that dwell in the desert,

And all the Kings of Zimri, and all the Kings of Elam, and all the Kings of the Medes.

And all the Kings of the North, farre and neere one to another, & all the kingdomes of the world, which are vpon the earth, & the King of Seshach shall drinke after them.

Therefore say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Drink and be drunken, and spew and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword, which I will send among you.

But if they refuse to take the cuppe at thine hand to drinke, then tel them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Ye shall certainely drinke.

For lo, I begin to plague the citie, where my Name is called vpon, and should you go free? Ye shall not go quite: for I will call for a sword vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the Lord of hostes.

Therefore prophesie thou against them all these wordes, and say vnto them, The Lord shal roare from aboue, and thrust out his voice from his holie habitation: he shal roare vpon his habitation, and crie aloud, as they that presse the grapes against all the inhabitants of the earth.

The sound shall come to the ends of the earth: for the Lord hath a controuersie with the nations, and wil enter into iudge-ment with all flesh, and he will giue them that are wicked, to the sword, saith the Lord.

Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, a plague shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlewinde shalbe raised vp from the coastes of the earth,

And the slaine of the Lord shalbe at that day, from one end of the earth, euen vnto the other end of the earth: they shal not be mourned, neither gathered nor buried, but shal bee as the dongue vpon the

CHAP. XXVI.

a Jeremiah moueth the people to repentance. 7 He is taken of the falsi Prophets and Priests and brought to iudgement. 23 Vriah the Prophet is killed of Iehoiakim contrary to the will of God.

1 IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, came this word from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the "court of the Lords House, and speake vnto all the cities of Iudah, which come to worship in the Lordes House, all the wordes that I commande thee to speake vnto them: keepe not "a word backe,

3 If so be they wil hearken, and turne euery man from his euill way, that I may "repent me of the plague, which I haue determined to bring vpon them, because of the wickednes of their workes.

4 And thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, If ye will not heare me to walke in my Lawes, which I haue set before you,

5 And to heare the wordes of my seruants the Prophets, whom I sent vnto you, both rising vp early, and sending them, and will not obey them,

6 Then wil I make this House like "a Shiloh, and will make this citie "a curse to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these wordes in the House of the Lord.

8 Now when Ieremiah had made an end of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speake vnto all the people, then the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people tooke him, and said, Thou shalt dye the death.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in the Name of the Lord, saying, This "House shall be like Shiloh, and this citie shal be desolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered against Ieremiah in the House of the Lord.

10 And when the princes of Iudah heard of these things, they came vp from the Kings house into the House of the Lord, and fate downe in the entrie of the "newe gate of the Lords House.

11 Then spake the Priests, and the Prophets vnto the princes, and to all the people, saying, "This man is worthie to die: for hee hath prophesied against this citie, as ye haue heard with your eares.

12 Then spake Ieremiah vnto al the princes, and to all the people, saying, The Lorde hath "sent me to prophesie against this house and against this citie all the things that ye haue heard.

13 Therefore now amend your wayes and your workes, and heare the voyce of the Lord your God, that the Lord may repent him of the plague, that he hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your handes: do with me as ye thinke good and right.

15 But knowe ye for certaine, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood vpon your selues, and vpon this citie, and vpon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the Lorde hath sent mee vnto you, to speake all these wordes in your eares.

16 Then said the princes and al the people vnto the Priests, and to the Prophets, This man is not worthie to dye: for hee hath spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lorde our God.

17 ¶ Then rose vp certaine of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assemblie of the people, saying,

18 Michah the Morashite "prophesied in the dayes of Hezekiah King of Iudah, and spake to all the people of Iudah, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Zion shalbe plowed like a fildes, and Ierusalem shalbe an heape, & the mountaine of the "House shalbe as the high places of the forest.

19 Did Hezekiah King of Iudah, and al Iudah put him to death? did hee not feare the Lord, and prayed before the Lord, and the Lorde repented him of the "plague, that he had pronounced against them? thus might we procure great euill against our soules.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the Lord, one Vriah the sonne of Shemaiah, of Kiriath-iarem, who prophesied against this citie, and against this land, according to al the wordes of Ieremiah.

21 Now when Iehoiakim the King with all his men of power, & all the princes heard his wordes, the King sought to slaye him. But when Vriah heard it, he was afraide and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Then Iehoiakim the King "sent men into Egypt, euen Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certaine with him into Egypt.

23 And they set Vriah out of Egypt, and brought him vnto Iehoiakim the King, who slew him with the sword, and "cast his dead bodie into the graues of the children of the people.

24 But the hand of Ahikam "the sonne of Shaphan was with Ieremiah that they should not giue him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

Iehoiakims acte is to be abhorred: for Gods plague did light on him, and his householde. n Which declareth that nothing could haue appeared their furie, if God had not moued this noble man to stande valiantly in his defence.

h He both sheweth the cause of his doings plainly, and also threatneth them that they should nothing auail, though they should put him to death, but heape greater vengeance vpon their heads.

1 Jeremiah at the commandment of the Lord sendeth bonds to the King of Iudah and to the other Kings that were neere, whereby they are monished to be subiectes vnto Nebuchad-nezzar. 6 He warneth the people & the Kings and rulers that they beleeue not false prophets.

a As touching the disposition of these prophetes, they that gathered them into a booke, did not altogether obserue the order of times, but did set some afore, which should be after, & contrariwise: which if the reader marke wel, it shal auoid manie doubtes, and make reading much more easie. b By such signes the Prophets vsed sometimes to confirme their prophetes, which notwithstanding they could not do of themselves, but in as much as they had a reuelation for the same, Isa. 20.2, and therefore the false prophets to get more credit did vse also such visible signes, but they had no reuelation, 1. King. 22.11.

For the Creator of all things

1 In the beginning of the reigne of Ichoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah came this word vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,
2 Thus saith the Lord to me, Make thee bondes, and yokes, and put them vpon thy necke,
3 And send them to the King of Edom, and to the King of Moab, and to the King of the Ammonites, & to the King of Tyrus, and to the King of Zidon, by the hande of the messengers which come to Ierusalem vnto Zedekiah the King of Iudah,
4 And commande them to saue vnto their masters, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say vnto your masters,

5 I haue made the earth, the man, and the beast that are vpon the grounde, by my great power, & by my outstretched arme, & haue giuen it vnto whom it pleased me. But now I haue giuen al these landes into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my seruant, & the beastes of the field haue I also giuen him to serue him.
6 And all nations shall serue him, and his sonne, and his sonnes sonne vntil the verie time of his land come also: then many nations and great Kings shall serue them selues of him.

7 And the nation and kingdome which will not serue the same Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and that will not put their necke vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, the same nation will I visite, saith the Lord, with the sword, & with the famine, and with the pestilence, vntil I haue wholly giuen them into his hands.

8 Therefore heare not your Prophets nor your fouthlayers, nor your dreamers, nor your inchanters, ne your forcerers, which saue vnto you thus, Ye shall not serue the King of Babel.

9 For they prophesie a lie vnto you to cause you to go farre from your lande, and that I should cast you out, and you shoulde perish.

10 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, & serue him, those will I let remaine still in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupie it, and dwel therein.

11 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah King of Iudah according to all these wordes, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

12 Why wil ye dye, thou, and thy people by the sworde, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lorde hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the King of Babel?

13 Therefore heare not the wordes of the Prophets, that speake vnto you, saying, Ye shall not serue the King of Babel: for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

14 For I haue not sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophesie a lie in my name, that I might cast you out, & that ye might perish, both you, & the Prophets that prophesie vnto you.

15 ¶ Also I spake to the Priestes, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lorde, Heare not the wordes of your Prophets that prophesie vnto you, saying, Beholde, the vessels of the House of the Lord shal now shortly be brought againe from Babel, for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

16 Heare them not, but serue the King of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore shoulde bel this cite be desolate?

17 But if they be Prophets, and if the wordes of the Lord be with them, let them treat the Lord of hostes, that the vessels, which are left in the House of the Lord, & in the house of the King of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, go not to Babel:

18 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bates, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this cite,

19 Which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke not, when he caried away captiue Iecooniah the sonne of Ichoiakim King of Iudah from Ierusalem to Babel, with al the nobles of Iudah and Ierusalem.

20 For thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remaine in the House of the Lord, and in the house of the King of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, 21 They shalbe brought to Babel, and there they shalbe vntil the day that I visite the, saith the Lord: then will I bring them vp, and restore them vnto this place.

the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the King of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Ieremiah said vnto the Prophet Hananiah in the presence of the Priests, & in the presence of all the people that stood in the House of the Lord.

6 Euen the Prophet Ieremiah said, So be it: the Lord so do, the Lord confirme thy wordes which thou hast prophesied to restore the vessels of the Lords House, and all that is caried captiue from Babel into this place.

7 But heare thou now this word that I will speake in thine eares and in the eares of all the people.

8 The Prophets that haue bene before me and before thee in time past, prophesied against many countreys, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

9 And the Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the Prophet shal come to passe, then shall the Prophet be known that the Lorde hath truly sent him.

10 Then Hananiah the Prophet tooke the yoke from the Prophet Ieremiahs necke, and brake it.

11 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Euen so will I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, fro the necke of all nations within the space of two yerres: and the Prophet Ieremiah went his way.

12 Then the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the Prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Ieremiah) saying,

13 Go, and tel Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of yron.

14 For thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, I haue put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all these nations, that they may serue Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel: for they shall serue him, and I haue given him the beasts of the field also.

15 Then said the Prophet Ieremiah vnto the Prophet Hananiah, Heare now Hananiah, the Lord hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lye.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will cast thee from of the earth: this yere thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Ieremiah writeth vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babilon. 10 He prophesieth their returne after seuentie yerres. 16 He prophesieth the destruction of the King and of the people that remaine in Ierusalem. 21 He threatneth the prophets that seduce the people. 25 The death of She-maiah is prophesied.

Now these are the words of the "book" Or letter.

that Ieremiah the Prophet sent from Ierusalem vnto the residue of the Elders which were caried away captiues, and to the Priests, and to the Prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchad-nezzar had caried away captiue from Ierusalem to Babel,

2 (After that Ieconiah the King, and the Queene, and the eunuches, the princes of Iudah, and of Ierusalem, and the workemen, and cunning men were departed from Ierusalem)

3 By the hande of Elafah the sonne of Shaphan and Gemariah the sonne of Hilkiah (whome Zedekiah King of Iudah sent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel) saying,

4 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken vnto all that are caried away captiues, whome I haue caused to be caried away captiues from Ierusalem vnto Babel:

5 Buylde you houses to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eat the fruites of them.

6 Take you wiues, and beget sonnes, and daughters, and take wiues for your sonnes, & giue your daughters to husbands, that they may beare sonnes & daughters, that ye may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seeke the prosperitie of the citie, whither I haue caused you to be caried away captiues, and pray vnto the Lorde for it: for in the peace thereof shall you haue peace.

8 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Let not your prophets, and your southsayers that be among you, deceiue you, neither giue eare to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophesie you a lie in my Name: I haue not sent them, saith the Lord.

10 But thus saith the Lord, That after seuentie yerres be accomplished at Babel, I will visite you, and performe my good promes towarde you, and cause you to returne to this place.

11 For I knowe the thoughtes, that I haue thought towards you, saith the Lord, euen the thoughtes of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an end, and your hope.

12 Then shall you crie vnto me, and ye shall go and pray vnto me, and I will heare you, because ye shall seeke me with all your heart.

13 And ye shall seeke mee and finde me, because ye shall seeke me with all your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and I will turne away your captiuitie, and I will gather you from all the nations and from all the places, whither I haue cast you, saith the Lord, and will bring you againe vnto the place, whence I caused you to be caried away captiue.

15 Because ye haue said, The Lord hath raised vs vp Prophets in Babel,

18 And I will persecute the with the sword, with the famine, & with the pestilence: and I will make them a terror to all kingdomes of the earth, & <sup>a</sup> a curse, and astonishment and an hissing, and a reproche among all the nations whither I haue cast them,

19 Because they haue not heard my wordes, saith the Lord, which I sent vnto them by my seruants the Prophets, <sup>i</sup> rising vp care- ly, & sending <sup>them</sup>, but ye would not heare, saith the Lord.

20 Hear ye therefore the wordes of the Lord al ye of the captiuitie, whom I haue sent from Ierusalem to Babel.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, of Ahab the sonne of Kolaiah, & of Zedekiah the sonne of Maaseiah, which prophesie lyes vnto you in my Name, Be- hold, I will deliuer them into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and he shall slay them before your eyes.

22 And all they of the captiuitie of Iudah, that are in Babel, shall take vp this curse against them, & say, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whome the King of Babel burnt <sup>m</sup> in the fire, 23 Because they haue committed <sup>n</sup> vilenie in Israel, and haue committed adulterie with their neighbours wiues, and haue spoken lying wordes in my Name, which I haue not commanded them, euen I knowe it, & re- sist it, saith the Lord.

24 Thou shalt also speake to Shemaiah the <sup>o</sup> Nehelamite, saying,

25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy Name vnto all the peo- ple, that are at Ierusalem, and to Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for <sup>o</sup> Ichoiada the Priest, that ye should be of- ficers in the House of the Lord, for euerie man y<sup>r</sup> raueth and maketh himselfe a Pro- phet, to put him in prison & in the stocks.

27 Now therefore why hast not thou repro- ued Ieremiah of Anathoth, which pro- phesieth vnto you?

28 For, for this cause he sent vnto vs in Ba- bel, saying, This captiuitie is long: buylde houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eat the fruites of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest red this letter in the eares of Ieremiah the Prophet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captiuitie, saying,

Thus saith the Lord of Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied vnto you, and I sent him not, & he caused you to trust in a lye, 32 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will visite Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: he shall not haue a man <sup>p</sup> to dwell among this people, neither shall hee behold the good, that I wil do for my peo- ple, saith the Lord, because he hath spo- ken rebelliously against the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

The returne of the people from Babylon, 16 He menaceth the enemies, 18 And comforteth the Church.

THe word, that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

1 Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the wordes, that I haue spoken vnto thee in <sup>a</sup> a booke.

2 For lo, the daies come, saith the Lord, that I wil bring againe the captiuitie of my people Israel and Iudah, saith the Lord: for I will restore them vnto the lande, that I this deliue- rance gaue to their fathers, and they shall pos- sess it.

3 Again, these are the wordes that the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concerning Iudah.

4 For thus saith the Lord, We haue heard a <sup>b</sup> terrible voice, of feare & not of peace. Demand now and behold, if man trauaile with childe? wherefore do I behold euery man with his hands on his loines as a wo- man in trauaile, and all faces are turned into palenes?

5 Alas, for this <sup>c</sup> day is great: none hath bene like it: it is euen the time of Iakobs trou- ble, yet shall he be deliuered from it.

6 For in that <sup>d</sup> day, saith the Lord of hostes, I wil breake <sup>e</sup> his yoke from of thy necke, and breake thy bondes, and strangers shall no more serue thee selues <sup>f</sup> of him.

7 But they shall serue the Lord their God, and <sup>g</sup> Dauid their King, whome I will raise vp vnto them.

8 Therefore feare not, O my seruant Iaa- kob, saith the Lord, neither be afraide, O Israel: for lo, I wil deliuer thee from a farre country, and thy seede from the lande of their captiuitie, and Iakob shall turne a- gaine, and shalbe in rest and prosperitie & none shall make him afraide.

9 For I am with thee, saith the Lord, to saue thee: though I utterly destroy all the na- tions where I haue scattered thee, yet wil I not utterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by iudgement, and not <sup>h</sup> utterly cut thee of.

10 For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, and <sup>i</sup> thy wound is dolorous.

11 There is none to iudge thy cause, or to lay a plaister: there are no medicines, nor helpe for thee.

12 Al thy <sup>j</sup> louers haue forgotten thee: they seeke thee not: for I haue stricken thee with the wound of an enemy, and with a sharpe chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy sinnes were increa- sed.

CHAP. XXXI.

Here rehearse Gods benefites after their returne from Babylon, 23 And the spirittuall ioye of the faithfull in the Church.

AT the same time, saith the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shalbe my people.

2 Thus saith the Lord, The people which escaped the sword, found grace in the wilderness: he walked before Israel to cause him to rest.

3 The Lord hath appeared vnto me of old, say they: Yea, I haue loued thee with an euertlasting loue, therefore with mercie I haue drawn thee.

4 Again I will build thee, and thou shalt be builded, O virgine Israel: thou shalt stil be adorned with thy timbrels, and shalt go forth in the dance of them that be ioyful.

5 Thou shalt yet plant vines vpon the mountaines of Samaria, and the planters that plant them, shall make them common.

6 For the dayes shal come that the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shal cry, Arise, and let vs go vp vnto Zion to the Lord our God.

7 For thus saith the Lorde, Reioyce with gladnes for Iakob, and shoute for ioye among the chiefe of the Gentiles: publish praise, & say, O Lord, saue thy people, the remnant of Israel.

8 Behold, I wil bring them from the North country, & gather them from the coastes of the world, with the blinde and the lame among them, with the woman with childe, and her that is deliuered also: a great company shall returne hither.

9 They shall come weeping, and with mercie will I bring them againe: I wil lead them by the riuers of water in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my first borne.

10 Heare the word of the Lord, O ye Gentiles, and declare in the yles afarre of, and say, He that scattered Israel, will gather him & will keepe him, as a shepheard doth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Iakob, and ransomed him from the hand of him, that was stronger then he.

12 Therefore they shall come, and reioyce in the height of Zion, and shall runne to the bountifulnes of the Lord, euen for the wheat and for the wine, and for the oyle, and for the increase of sheepe, and bullocks: and their soule shalbe as a watered garden, & they shal haue no more sorowe.

13 Then shall the virgine reioyce in the dance, and the young men, and the olde men together: for I will turne their mourning into ioye, and will comfort them, and giue them ioye for their sorowes.

14 And I wil replenishe the soule of the Priests with fatnes, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodnes, sayth the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, A voyce was heard on hie, a mourning and bitter weeping. Rahel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Refrayne thy voyce from weeping, and thine eies from teares: for thy worke shalbe rewarded, saith the Lord, and they shall come againe from the land of the enemy:

17 In the company of the faithful, which euer praise God for his benefites. f Meaning the spirit of wisdom, knowledge and zeale.

19 Surely after that I conuerted, I repented: & after that I was instructed, I smote vpon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, euen confounded, because I did beare the reproche of my youth.

20 Is Ephraim my deare sonne or pleasant childe? yet since I spake vnto him, I still remembered him: therefore my bowels are troubled for him: I will surely haue compassion vpon him, saith the Lord.

21 Set thee vp signes: make thee heapes: set thine heart toward the path and waye, that thou hast walked: turne againe, O virgin of Israel: turne agayne to these thy cities.

22 How long wilt thou go astraye, O thou rebellious daughter? for the Lorde hath created a newe thing in the earth: a woman shall compasse a man.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Yet shall they saye this thing in the lande of Iudah, and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring agayne their captiuitie, The Lord blesse thee, O habitation of iustice & holy mountaine.

24 And Iudah shall dwell in it, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen & they that go forth with the flocke.

25 For I haue faciate the wearie soule, and I haue replenished euery sorrowful soule.

26 Therefore I awaked and beheld, and my sleepe was sweete vnto me.

27 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lorde, that I will sowe the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah with the seede of man and with the seede of beast.

28 And like as I haue watched vpon them, to plucke vp and to roote out, & to throwe downe, and to destroy, and to plague them, so will I wathe ouer them, to buylde and to plant them, saith the Lorde.

29 In those dayes shall they saye no more, The fathers haue eaten a fowre grape, & the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 But euery one shall dye for his owne iniquitie: euery man that eateth the fowre grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 Behold, the daies come, saith the Lorde, that I will make a newe covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Iudah, made with their fathers, when I tooke the by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, the which my couenaunt they brake, although I was an husband vnto them, saith the Lorde.

33 But this shall be the couenaunt that I will make with the house of Israel, After those dayes, saith the Lorde, I will put my Lawe in their inward partes, and write it in their heartes, and wil be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall teach no more euery man his neighbour and euery man his brother, saying, Knowe the Lord: for they shall all knowe me from the least of them vnto the greatest of them, saith the Lorde: for I will forgive their iniquitie, and will remember their finnes no more.

35 Thus saith the Lorde, which giueth the sunne for a light to the day, and the courses of the moone and of the starres for light to the night, which breaketh the sea when the waues thereof roare: his Name is the Lorde of hostes.

36 If these ordinances departe out of my sight, saith the Lorde, then shall the seede of Israel cease from being a nation before me, for euer.

37 Thus saith the Lorde, If the heauens can be measured, or the foundations of the earth be searched out beneath, then will I cast off all the seede of Israel, for all that they haue done, saith the Lorde.

38 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lorde, that the citie shall be buylt to the Lorde fro the tower of Hananeel, vnto the gate of the corner.

39 And the line of the measure shall go forth in his presence vpon the hill Gareb, and shall compasse about to Goath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fieldes vnto the brooke of Kidron, and vnto the corner of the horsegate toward the East, shall be holie vnto the Lorde, neither shall it be plucked vp nor destroyed anie more for euer.

CHAP. XXXII.

Jeremiah is cast into prison because he prophesied that the citie should be taken of the King of Babylon. 7 He sheweth that the people should come againe to their owne possession. 38 The people of God are his seruants, and he is their Lord.

1 The worde that came vnto Jeremiah from the Lorde, in the tenth yere of Zedekiah King of Iudah, which was the eighteenth yere of Nebuchad-nezzar.

2 For then the King of Babels hoste besieged Ierusalem: and Ieremiah the Prophet Zedekiahs reigne, which was almost fourtie yeres.

u That is, the people that were led captiue.

x Which was wanton & could not be subiect to the yoke.

y He sheweth how the faithful vnto pray: that is, desire God to turne them, for as much as they can not turne of themselves.

z In signe of repentance, and detestation of my sinne.

a As though hee would say, No: for by his iniquitie he did what lay in him to cast me off.

b To wit, in pitying him for my promises fake c Marke by what way thou diddest go into captiuitie, and thou shalt turne againe by the same.

d Because their deliuerance from Babylon was a figure of their deliuerance fro sinne, he sheweth how this should be procured, to wit, by Iesus Christ whome a woman should conceiue, and beare in her wombe. Which is a strange thing in earth, because he should be borne of a virgin without man: or, he meaneth, that Ierusalem which was like a barren woman in her captiuitie, should be fruitful as she, that is ioyned in marriage, and whom God blesseth with children.

e Hauing vnderstand this vision of the Messiah to come, in whome the two houses of Israel and Iudah should be ioyned, I reioyced.

f I wil multiplie, and enrich the with people and catell.

g The wicked vsed this prouerbe, when they did murmur against Gods iudgements pronounced by the Prophets, saying, That their fathers had committed the faute, and that the children were punished, Ezek. 18. 3.

h Though the couenaunt of redemption made to the fathers, and this which was giuen after, seeme diuers, yet they are all one, and grounded on Iesus Christ, saue that this is called new because of the manifestation of Christ, and the abundant graces of the holie Ghost giuen to his Church vnder the Gospel.

i And so the people of God are his seruants, and he is their Lord.

k In the time of Christ my law shall in stead of tables of stone be written in their heartes, mine holy Spirit, Ebr. 8. 2.

l Vnder the shadowe of Christ, there shall be none blinded with ignorance, but I will giue them faith, and knowledge of God for redemption of their finnes & daily increase the same: so that it shall not seeme so come so much by the preaching of my ministers, altho I instruct them in my holy spirit, Ila. 43. 10.

m A full accomplishment hereof is referred to the kingdome of Christ, where we shall be ioyned with our brethren in the same, moone, and starres can not but giue light according to mine ordinance, so long as this world lasteth, so shall my Church neuer faile, neither shall any thing hinder it: and so n According to the promise, I will leave them my word for euer to gouerne them with.

o As it was performed, Nehemiah. 3. 1. By this description he sheweth that the citie should be as ample, and beautiful as ever it was: but he alludeth to the spiritual Ierusalem, whose beautie should be incomparable.

p So that Ieremiah had now prophesied the thirtieth yere of Iosiah vnto the last yere Iereme came out of their deliuerance.

was shut vp in the court of the prison, which was in the King of Iudahs house.

3 For Zedekiah King of Iudah had shut him vp, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will giue this citie into the hands of the King of Babel, and he shall take it?

4 And Zedekiah the King of Iudah shall not escape out of the hande of the Caldeans, but shall surely be deliuered into the hands of the King of Babel, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall beholde his face,

5 And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babel, and there shall he be, vntill I visite him, saith the Lord: though ye fight with the Caldeans, ye shall not prosper.

6 ¶ And Ieremiah said, The worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

7 Behold, Hanameel, the sonne of Shallum thine vncle, shall come vnto thee and say, Bye vnto thee my felde, that is in Anathoth: for the title by kindred appertaineth vnto thee to buy it.

8 So Hanameel, mine vncles sonne, came to me in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, and said vnto me, Bye my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the countrey of Benjamin: for the right of the possession is thine, and the purchase belongeth vnto thee: bye it for thee. Then I knew that this was the word of the Lord.

9 And I bought the felde of Hanameel, mine vncles sonne, that was in Anathoth and weighed him the siluer, even seven shekels, and ten pieces of siluer.

10 And I writ it in the booke and signed it, and rooke witnessess, & weighed him the siluer in the balances.

11 So I tooke the booke of the possession, being sealed according to the Lawe, and custome, with the booke that was open.

12 And I gaue the booke of the possession vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, y<sup>e</sup> sonne of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine vncles sonne, and in the presence of the witnessess, written in the booke of the possession, before all the Iewes that sate in the court of the prison.

13 And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

14 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Take the writings, even this booke of the possession, both that is sealed, and this booke that is open, and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue a long time.

15 For the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel saith thus, Houses and feldes, and vineyards shall be possessed againe in this land.

16 ¶ Now when I had deliuered the booke of the possession vnto Baruch, the sonne of Neriah, I prayed vnto the Lord, saying,

17 Ah Lord God, beholde, thou hast made the heauen & the earth by thy great power, and by thy stretched out arme, & there is nothing hard vnto thee.

18 Thou shewest mercie vnto thousandes, and recompensett the iniquitie of the fathers into the bosome of their children after them: O God the great and mightie, whose Name is the Lord of hostes,

19 Great in counsel, and mightie in worke, (for thine eyes are open vpon all the waies of the sonnes of men, to giue to euery one according to his wayes, and according to the fruite of his workes)

20 Which hast set signes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this day, and in Israel, and among all men, and hast made thee a Name, as appeareth this day,

21 And hast brought thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signes, and with wonders, and with a strong hande, with a stretched out arme, and with great terror,

22 And hast giuen them this lande, which thou didst sweare to their fathers to giue them; even a land, that floweth with milke and honie,

23 And they came in, and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy Lawe: all that thou commandedst them to do, they haue not done: therefore thou hast caused this whole plague to come vpon them.

24 Beholde, the mounts, they are come into the citie to take it, & the citie is giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, that fight against it by meanes of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken, is come to passe, & beholde, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast said vnto me, O Lord God, Bye vnto thee the field for siluer, and take witnessess: for the citie shall be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

27 Beholde, I am the LORD GOD of all flesh: is there anie thing too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will giue this citie into the hande of the Caldeans, and into the hande of Nebuchad-nezzar, King of Babel, and he shall take it.

29 And the Caldeans shall come and fight against this citie, and set fire on this citie and burne it, with the houses, vpon whose roofes they haue offered incense vnto Baal, and powred drinke offerings vnto other gods, to prouoke me vnto anger.

30 For the children of Israel, and the children of Iudah haue surely done euil before mee from their youth: for the children of Israel haue surely prouoked me to anger with the workes of their hands, saith the Lord.

31 Therefore this citie hath bene vnto mee as a prouocation of mine anger, and of my wrath, from the day, that they built it, even vnto this day, that I should remoue it out of my sight,

Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah y<sup>e</sup> second time (while he was yet shut vp in the * court of the prison) laying,

Thus saith the Lord, the maker<sup>b</sup> thereof, the Lord that formed it, and established it, the Lord is his Name.

Call vnto me, and I wil answer thee, and shew thee great & mightie things, which thou knowest not.

For thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, concerning the houses of this citie, and concerning the houses of the Kings of Iudah, which are destroyed by the * mounte, and by the sword,

They come to * fight with the Caldeans, but it is to fill them selues with the dead bodies of men, whome I haue slaine in mine anger and in my wrath: for I haue hid my * face from this citie, because of all their wickednes.

* Beholde, I will giue it health & amendment: for I will cure them, and will reueile vnto them the abundance of peace, and truth.

And I will cause the captiuitie of Iudah, and the captiuitie of Israel to returne, and will buyld them as at the first.

And I wil * clesne them from al their iniquitie, whereby they haue sinned against me: yea, I wil pardon all their iniquities, whereby they haue sinned against me, and whereby they haue rebelled against me.

And it shalbe to me a name, a * hioye, a praise, & an honour before al the nations of the earth, which shal heare al the good that I do vnto them: and they shall feare, and tremble for al the goodnes, and for al the wealth, that I shew vnto this citie.

Thus saith the Lord, Againe there shalbe heard in this place (which ye say shalbe desolate, without man, and without beast, even in the cities of Iudah, & in the streets of Ierusalem, that are desolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast)

The voyce of ioy and the voice of gladnes, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that shal say, * Praise the Lorde of hostes, because the Lord is good: for his mercie endureth for euer, and of them that offer the sacrifice of praise in the House of the Lord, for I wil cause to returne the captiuitie of the land, as at the first, saith the Lord.

15 In those daies & at that tyme, will I cause the branche of righteouſnes to grow vp vnto Dauid, & he ſhall execute iudgement, and righteouſnes in the land.

16 In thoſe dayes ſhall Iudah be ſaued, and Ieruſalem ſhall dwell ſafely, and he that ſhall call her, is the Lord our righteouſnes.

17 For thus ſaith the Lord, Dauid ſhall neuer want a man to ſit vpon the throne of the houſe of Iſrael.

18 Neither ſhall the Priests & Leuites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to offer meat offerings, & to do ſacrifice continually.

19 And the worde of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah, ſaying,

20 Thus ſaith the Lord, If you can breake my couenant of the 7 day, & my couenant of the night, that there ſhould not be day, and night in their ſeaſon,

21 Then may my couenant be broken with Dauid my ſeruant, y he ſhould not haue a ſonne to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Leuites, and Priests my miniſters.

22 As the army of heauen can not be nombred, neither the ſand of the ſea meaſured: ſo will I multiply the ſeed of Dauid my ſeruant, & the Leuites, that miniſter vnto me.

23 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah, ſaying,

24 Conſiderſt thou not what this people haue ſpoken, ſaying, The two families, which the Lord hath choſen, he hath euen caſt them off: thus they haue deſpiſed my people, that they ſhould be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus ſaith the Lord, If my couenant be not with day and night, and if I haue not appointed the order of heauen and earth,

26 Then will I caſt away the ſeede of Iaakob and Dauid my ſeruant, and not take of his ſeede to be rulers ouer the ſeede of Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob: for I will cauſe their captiuitie to returne, and haue compaſſion on them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

He threatneth that the citie, & the King Zedekiah ſhall be giuen into the hands of the King of Babylon. 11 He rebuketh their cruelty toward their ſeruants.

1 The worde which came vnto Ieremiah fro the Lord (when Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel, and all his hoſte, and all the kingdoms of the earth, that were vnder the power of his hand, & al people fought againſt Ieruſalem, and againſt all the cities thereof) ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, Goe, and ſpeake to Zedekiah King of Iudah, and tel him, Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I wil giue this citie into the hande of the King of Babel, and he ſhall burne it with fire,

3 And thou ſhalt not eſcape out of his hand, but ſhalt ſurely be taken, and deliuered into his hand, and thine eyes ſhall beholde the face of the King of Babel, and he ſhall ſpeake with thee mouth to mouth, & thou ſhalt go to Babel.

4 Yet heare the word of the Lorde, O Zedekiah, King of Iudah: thus ſaith the Lorde of thee, Thou ſhalt not dye by the ſword,

5 But thou ſhalt dye in peace: & according to the burning for thy fathers the former violent death, Kings which were before thee, ſo ſhall they burne odours for thee, and they ſhall lament thee, ſaying, Oh lord: for I haue pronounced the word, ſaith the Lord.

6 Then Ieremiah the Prophet ſpake al theſe words vnto Zedekiah King of Iudah in Ieruſalem,

7 (When the King of Babels hoſte fought againſt Ieruſalem, and againſt all the cities of Iudah, that were left, euen againſt Lachish, & againſt Azekah: for theſe ſtrong cities remained of the cities of Iudah)

8 This is the word that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, after that the King Zedekiah had made a couenant with all the people, which were at Ieruſalem, to proclaim liberty vnto them,

9 That euery man ſhould let his ſeruant go free, & euery man his handmaid, which was an Ebreue or an Ebrueſſe, & that none ſhould ſerue him ſelfe of them, ſo was, of a lewe his brother.

10 Now when al the princes, & all the people which had agreed to the couenant, heard that euery one ſhould let his ſeruant goe free, and euery one his handmaid, & that none ſhould ſerue themſelues of them any more, they obeyed and let them go.

11 But afterward they repented & cauſed the ſeruants and the handmaidens, whome they had let go free, to returne, and helde them in ſubiection as ſeruantes and handmaidens.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, ſaying,

13 Thus ſaith the Lorde God of Iſrael, I made a couenant with your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the houſe of ſeruants, ſaying, 14 At the terme of ſeuene yerres let ye go, euery man his brother an Ebrewe which hath bene ſold vnto thee: & when he hath ſerued thee fixe yerres, thou ſhalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers obeyed me not, neither inclined their eares.

15 And ye were now turned, and had done right in my ſight in proclaiming liberty, euery man to his neighbour, & ye had made a couenant before me in the houſe, whereupon my name is called.

16 But yee repented, and polluted my Name: for ye haue cauſed euery man his ſeruant, & euery man his handmaid, whom yee had ſet at libertie at their pleaſure, to returne, and holde them in ſubiection to be vnto you as ſeruants & as handmaidens.

17 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Ye haue in, neither haue we vineyard, nor field, nor 10 But we haue remained in tentes, & haue obeyed, & done according to all that Iona-

11 But when Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel came vp into the lande, we ſayde, Come, & let vs go to Ieruſalem, from the hoſte of the Caldeans, and from the hoſte of Aram: ſo we dwell at Ieruſalem.

12 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, ſaying, of Iſrael, Go, and tel the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ieruſalem, Wil ye not 14 The commandement of Ionadab the ſonne of Rechab that he commanded his ſonnes, that they ſhould drinke no wine, is ſurely kept: for vnto this daye they drinke none, but obey their fathers commandment: notwithstanding I haue ſpoken vnwould not obey me.

15 I haue ſent alſo vnto you all my ſeruants and go not after other gods to ſerue them, and ye ſhal dwell in the land which I haue giuen vnto you, and to your fathers, but ye would not encline your eare, nor obey mee.

16 Surely the ſonnes of Ionadab the ſonne of Rechab, haue kept the commandement of their father, which he gaue the, but this people hath not obeyed me.

17 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes,

CHAP. XXXVI.

Baruch writeth, as Jeremiah inditeth, the booke of the curses against Iudah and Israel. 9 He is sent with the booke unto the people and readeth it before them al. 14 He is called before the rulers & readeth it before them also. 23 The King casteth it in the fire. 28 There is another written at the commandement of the Lord.

AND in the fourth <sup>4</sup> yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, came this worde vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

Take thee a roule or booke, and write therein all the wordes that I haue spoken to thee against Israel, & against Iudah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spake vnto thee, even <sup>b</sup> from the dayes of Iosiah vnto this day.

It may be that the House of Iudah will heare of all the euill, which I determined to do vnto them that they maye returne euerie man from his euil waye, that I maye forgiue their iniquitie and their sinnes.

Then Ieremiah called Baruch the sonne of Neriah, & Baruch wrote <sup>c</sup> at the mouth of Ieremiah all the wordes of the Lord, which he had spoken vnto him, vpon a roule or booke.

And Ieremiah comanded Baruch, saying, I am <sup>d</sup> shut vp, and can not go into the House of the Lord.

Therefore go thou, and read the roule wherein thou hast written at my mouth the wordes of the Lord in the audience of the people in the Lords House vpon the <sup>e</sup> fasting day: also thou shalt reade them in the hearing of al Iudah, that come out of their cities.

It may be that they wil praye before the Lord, and euerie one returne from his euil way, for great is the anger & the wrath, that the Lord hath declared against this people.

So Baruch the sonne of Neriah did according vnto all, that Ieremiah the Prophet commanded him, reading in the booke the wordes of the Lord in the Lordes House.

And in the fift <sup>f</sup> yere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, in the ninth moneth, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Ierusalem, & to all the people that came from the cities of Iudah vnto Ierusalem.

Then red Baruch in the booke the wordes of Ieremiah in the house of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan the secretary, in the hier court at the entrie of the <sup>g</sup> new gate of the Lords house, in the hearing of al the people.

When Michaiah the sonne of Gemariah, the sonne of Shaphan had heard out of the booke al the wordes of the Lord,

Then he went downe to the Kings house into the Chancellours chamber, and lo, al the princes sate there, even Elishama the Chancellour, & Delaiah the sonne of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, & Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the princes.

Then Michaiah declared vnto them all the wordes that he had heard when Baruch red in the booke in the audience of the people.

Therefore al the princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Chushti, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roule, wherein thou hast red in the audience of the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah, tooke the roule in his hand, and came vnto them.

And they sayd vnto him, Sit downe now, and read it, that we may heare. So Baruch read it in their audience.

Now when they had heard all the wordes, they were <sup>i</sup> afraide both one and other, and said vnto Baruch, We will certifie the King of al these wordes.

And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs now, how diddest thou write all these wordes at his mouth.

Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these wordes vnto mee with his mouth, and I wrote them with ynke in the booke.

Then said the princes vnto Baruch, Go, <sup>k</sup> hide thee, thou and Ieremiah, and let no man knowe where ye be.

And they went in to the King to the court, but they laid vp the roule in <sup>l</sup> y<sup>e</sup> chamber of Elishama the Chancellour & tolde the King all the wordes, that hee might heare.

So the King sent Iehudi to fet the roule, & he tooke it out of Elishama the Chancellours chamber, & Iehudi red it in the audience of the King, & in the audience of al <sup>m</sup> y<sup>e</sup> princes, which stood beside the King.

Now the King sate in the winter House, in the <sup>n</sup> ninth moneth, and there was a fire burning before him.

And when Iehudi had red three, or foure sides, he cut it with the penknife and cast it into the fire, that was on the hearth vntil al the roule was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.

Yet they were not afraid, nor rent <sup>o</sup> their garments, neither the King, nor any of his seruants, that heard al these wordes.

Neuertheles, Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had besought the King, that he would not burne the roule: but he would not heare them.

But the King commanded Ierahmeel the sonne of Hammelech, & Seraiah the sonne of Azriel, and Shelemiah the sonne of Abdiel, to take Baruch the scribe, and Ieremiah the Prophet, but the Lord <sup>p</sup> hid them.

Then the worde of the Lord came to Ieremiah (after that the King had burnt the roule and the wordes which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah) saying,

28 Take thee againe * another roule & write in it al the former words that were in the first roule which Ichoiakim the King of Iudah hath burnt,
29 And thou shalt saye to Ichoiakim King of Iudah, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast burnt this roule, saying, * Why hast thou written therein, saying, that the King of Babel shal certainly come & destroy this land, and shal take thence both man and beast?
30 Therefore thus saith the Lord of Ichoiakim King of Iudah, He shal haue none to sit vpon the throne of David, & his dead body shal be cast out in the daye to the heat, and in the night to the frost.
31 And I wil visite him and his seede, and his seruants for their iniquitie, & I wil bring vpon them, & vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem, & vpon the men of Iudah all the euil that I haue pronounced against the: but they would not heare.
32 Then toke Ieremiah another roule, and gaue it Baruch the scribe the sonne of Neriah, which wrote therein at the mouth of Ieremiah al the words of y booke which Ichoiakim King of Iudah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides them many like wordes.

1 AND * King Zedekiah the sonne of Iosiah reigned for * Coniah the sonne of Ichoiakim, whom Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel <sup>b</sup> made King in the land of Iudah.
2 But neither he, nor his seruants, nor the people of the land would obey the wordes of the Lord, which he spake by the * ministerie of the Prophet Ieremiah.
3 And Zedekiah the King <sup>c</sup> sent Iehucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest to the Prophet Ieremiah, saying, Pray now vnto the Lord our God for vs.
4 (Now Ieremiah <sup>d</sup> went in and out among the people: for they had not put him into the prison.
5 Then Pharaohs hoste was * come out of Egypt: and when the Caldeans that besieged Ierusalem, heard tidings of them, they departed from Ierusalem.)
6 Then came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremiah, saying,
7 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Thus shal ye say to the King of Iudah, that sent you vnto me to inquire of me, Beholde, Pharaohs hoste, which is come forth to help you, shall returne to Egypt into their owne land.
8 And the Caldeans shal come againe, and fight against this citie, and take it & burne it with fire.
9 Thus sayth the Lord, * Deceiue not your selues, saying, The Caldeans shal surely depart from vs: for they shal not depart.

10 For though ye had smitten y whole hoste of the Caldeans that fight against you, & there remained but wounded men among them, yet should euery man ryse vp in his tent, and burne this citie with fire.
11 ¶ When the hoste of the Caldeans was broken vp from Ierusalem, because of Pharaohs armie, 12 Then Ieremiah went out of Ierusalem to go into the <sup>e</sup> land of Benjamin, separating himself thence from among the people.
13 And when he was in the <sup>f</sup> gate of Benjamin, there was a chief officer, whose name was Iriiah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and he toke Ieremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou <sup>g</sup> sleepest to the Caldeans.
14 Then said Ieremiah, That is false, I flee not to y Caldeas: but he would not heare him: so Iriiah tooke Ieremiah, & brought him to the princes.
15 Wherefore the princes were angry with Ieremiah, & smote him, and laide him in prison in the house of Iehonathan the scribe: for they had made that the <sup>h</sup> prison.

16 When Ieremiah was entered into the dungeon, & into the prisons, & had remayned there a long time,
17 Then Zedekiah the King sent, and tooke him out, and the King asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any worde fro the Lord? And Ieremiah said, Yea: for, said hee, thou shalt be deliuered into the hand of the King of Babel.
18 Moreouer, Ieremiah said vnto King Zedekiah, What haue I offered against thee, or against thy seruants, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison?
19 * Where are now your prophetes, which prophesied vnto you, saying, The King of Babel shal not come against you, nor against this land?
20 Therefore heare now, I praye thee, O my lord the King: let my prayer <sup>i</sup> be accepted before thee, that thou cause me not to returne to the house of Iehonathan y scribe, lest I dye there.
21 Then Zedekiah the King commanded, that they should put Ieremiah in the court of the prison, & that they should giue him dayely a piece of bread out of the bakers street vntil all the <sup>j</sup> bread in the citie were eaten vp. Thus Ieremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

By the motion of the rulers Ieremiah is put into a dungeon. 14 At the request of Ebed-melech the King commaunded Ieremiah to be brought forth of the dungeon. 17 Ieremiah sheweth the King how he might escape death.

1 THEN Shephatiah the sonne of Mattan, & Gedaliah the sonne of Pashhur, and Iucal the sonne of Shelemiah, & Pashhur the sonne of * Malchiah, heard the wordes that Ieremiah had spoken vnto all the people, saying,

Or, disparagingly.
Thus we see how the wicked when they can not abide to hear the truth of Gods word, seek to put the minister to death as a traitor & a false prophet.

Where the King had set him before to be at more liberty, as Chap. 27. 22.

2 Thus saith the Lord, He that remaineth in this citie, shall dye by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Caldeans, shall liue: for he shall haue his life for a pray, and shall liue.

3 Thus saith the Lord, This citie shall surely bee giuen into the hand of the King of Babels army, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the Princes said vnto the King, We beseech you, let this man be put to death: for thus he<sup>e</sup> weakeneth the hands of the men of warre<sup>e</sup> that remaine in this citie, and the hands of al the people, in speaking such wordes vnto them: for this man seeketh not the wealth of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the King saide, Beholde, he is in your hands, for the King can denie<sup>e</sup> you nothing.

6 Then tooke they Ieremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the sonne of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let downe Ieremiah with coardes: and in the dungeon there was no water but myre: so Ieremiah sticke fast in the myre.

7 Now when Ebed-melech the "black More one of the Eunuches, which was in the Kings house, heard that they had put Ieremiah in the dungeon (then the King fate in the gate of Benjamin)

8 And Ebed-melech went out of the Kings house, and spake to the King, saying,

9 My Lord the King, these men haue done euil in all that they haue done to Ieremiah the Prophet, whome they haue cast into the dungeon, & he dyeth for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the citie.

10 Then the King commaunded Ebed-melech the blacke More, saying; Take from hence thirtie men with thee, and take Ieremiah the Prophet out of the dungeon before he dye.

11 So Ebed-melech toke the men with him and went to the house of the King vnder the treasure, and tooke there olde rotten ragges, and old worne clothes, and let them downe by coardes into the dungeon to Ieremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the blacke More said vnto Ieremiah, Put now these olde rotten ragges and worne, vnder thine arme holes, betwene the coardes. And Ieremiah did so.

13 So they drew vp Ieremiah with coardes & tooke him vp out of the dungeon, and Ieremiah remained in the court of the prison.

14 ¶ Then Zedekiah the King sent, and toke Ieremiah the Prophet vnto him, into the thirde entrie that is in the House of the Lord, and the King said vnto Ieremiah, I wil aske thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Ieremiah said to Zedekiah, If I declare it vnto thee, wilt not thou slaye me?

and if I giue thee counsell, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the King sware secretly vnto Ieremiah, saying, As the Lord liueth, that made vs these soules, I wil not slay thee, nor giue thee into the hands of those men that seeke thy life.

17 Then saide Ieremiah vnto Zedekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of hosts, the God of Israel, If thou wilt go forth vnto the King of Babels<sup>e</sup> princes, then thy soule shall liue, and this citie shall not be burnt selfe vnto them. vp with fire, and thou shalt liue, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not go forth to the King of Babels princes, then shall this citie bee giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, and they shall burne it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands.

19 And Zedekiah the King said vnto Ieremiah, I am careful for the Iewes that are fled vnto the Caldeans, lest they deliuer me into their hands, and they<sup>e</sup> mocke me.

20 But Ieremiah said, They shall not deliuer thee: hearken vnto the voice of y Lord, I beseech thee, which I speake vnto thee: so shall it be wel vnto thee, & thy soule shall liue.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to go forth, this is the word that the Lord hath shewed me.

22 And behold, al the women that are left in the King of Iudahs house, shall bee brought forth to the King of Babels princes: and those women shall say, Thy friends haue perswaded thee, and haue preuailed against thee: thy feete are fastened in the myre, and they are turned backe.

23 So they shall bring out al thy wiues, and thy children to the Caldeans, & thou shalt not escape out of their hands, but shalt be taken by the hand of the King of Babel: and this citie shalt thou cause to bee burnt with fire.

24 Then said Zedekiah vnto Ieremiah, Let no man know of these wordes, and thou shalt not dye.

25 But if the princes vnderstand that I haue talked with thee, & they come vnto thee, and say vnto thee, Declare vnto vs now, what thou hast sayd vnto the King, hide it not from vs, and we wil not slay thee: also what the King said vnto thee,

26 Then shalt thou say vnto them, I humbly besought the King that he would not cause me to returne to Ichonathans house, to dye there.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Ieremiah and asked him. And he tolde them according to al these wordes that the King had commaunded: so they left of speaking with him, for the matter was not perceyued.

28 So Ieremiah abode still in the court of the prison, vntill the day that Ierusalem was taken: and he was there, when Ierusalem was taken.

1 IN* the ninth yere of Zedekiah King of Iudah in the tenth moneth, came Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel and al his host against Ierusalem, and they besieged it.

2 And in the eleuenth yere of Zedekiah in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the citie was broken * vp.

3 And all the princes of the King of Babel came in, and fate in the middle gate, euen Neregal, Sharezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarfchim, Rab-faris, Neregal, Sharezer, Rabmag with all the residue of the princes of the King of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the King of Iudah saw them, and al the men of warre, then they fled, & went out of the citie by night, through the Kinges garden, and by the gate betwene the two walles, & he went toward the wilderness.

5 But the Caldeans host pursued after them, and ouertooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel vnto Riblah in the lande of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

6 Then the King of Babel slewe the sonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the King of Babel slewe all the nobles of Iudah.

7 Moreouer he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him in chaines, to carye him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the Kings house, and the houses of the people with fyre, and brake downe the walles of Ierusalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caryed away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people, that remained in the citie, & those that were fled and fallen vnto him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left the poore that had nothing in the lande of Iudah, & gaue them vineyards & fields at the same time.

11 Now Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel gaue charge concerning Ieremiah vnto Nebuzar-adan the chiefe stewarde, saying,

12 Take him, and looke wel to him, & do him no harme, but do vnto him* euen as he shal say vnto thee.

13 So Nebuzar-adan the chief steward sent and Nebushazban, Rabfarris, and Neregal, Sharezar, Rab-mag, and all the King of Babels princes:

14 Euen they sent, and tooke Ieremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, that he should cary

15 Now the worde of the Lorde came vnto Ieremiah, while he was shut vp in the court of the prison, saying,

16 Go and speake to Ebed-melech the black More, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Irael, Beholde, I will bring my wordes vpon this citie for euil, and not for good, and they shalbe accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliuer thee in that daye, sayth the Lord, and thou shalt not be giuen into the hande of the men whome thou fearest.

18 For I will surely deliuer thee, and thou shalt not fal by the sword, but thy life shalbe for a praye vnto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

1 Ieremiah hath licence to go whither he wil. 6 He dwelleth with the people that remaine with Gedaliah.

1 THe word which came to Ieremiah fro the Lord after that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had let him goe fro Ramath, when he had taken him being bound in chaines among all that were caryed away captiue of Ierusalem and Iudah, which were caryed away captiue vnto Babel.

2 And the chiefe steward tooke Ieremiah, and sayd vnto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

Now the Lord hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because ye haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come vpon you.

3 And now behold, I loofe thee this daye from the chaines which were on thine handes, if it please thee to come with me into Babel, come, and I will looke well vnto thee: but if it please thee not to come with me into Babel, tary still: beholde, all the land is before thee: whither it seemeth good, and conuenient for thee to go, thither go.

4 For yet he was not returned: therefore he saide, Returne to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, whome the King of Babel hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudah, and dwell with him among the people, or go whersoouer it pleaseth thee to go. So the chiefe steward gaue him vitales and a reward, & let him go.

5 Then went Ieremiah vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, to Mizpah, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

6 Now when al the captaines of the host, which were in the fields, euen they & their men hearde, that the King of Babel had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam gouernour in the land, and that he had committed

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan sware vnto them, and to their men, saying, Feare not to serue the Caldeans: dwell in the land, and serue the King of Babel, and it shalbe well with you.

10 As for me, beholde, I will dwell at Mizpah to serue the Caldeans, which will come vnto vs: but you, gather you wine, and sommer fruites, and oyle, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities, that ye haue taken.

11 Likewise when all the Iewes that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, & that were in all the countreis, hearde that the King of Babel had left a remnant of Iudah, & that he had let ouer them Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, 12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places where they were driuen, and came to the lande of Iudah to Gedaliah vnto Mizpah, and gathered wine and sommer fruites, very much.

13 Moreouer Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste, that were in the fieldes, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah,

14 And sayde vnto him, Knowest thou not that Baalis the King of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam beleued them not.

15 The Iohanan the sonne of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let mee go, I praye thee, and I will slay Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and no man shall knowe it. Wherefore should he kill thee, that all the Iewes, which are gathered vnto thee, should be scattered, and the remnant in Iudah perish?

16 But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam saide vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

CHAP. XLII.

Ishmael killeth Gedaliah guilfully, and many other with him. 11 Iohanan followeth after Ishmael.

1 Vt in the seventh moneth came Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Elishama of the feede royal, and the princes of the King, and ten men with him, vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah, & there they did eate bread together in Mizpah.

Then arose Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah with these ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan with the sworde, and slewe him, whome the King of Babel had made gouernour ouer the lande.

3 Ishmael also slewe all the Iewes that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, & all the Caldeans that were founde there, & the men of warre.

4 Now the seconde day that he had slaine Gedaliah, and no man knewe it,

5 There came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, & from Samaria, euen fourescore men, hauing their bearded shauen, and their clothes rent and cut, with offerings and incense in their hands to offer in the House of the Lord.

6 And Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah wet forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping as he went: & when he met them, he saide vnto them, Come to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the middes of the cite, Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah slewe them, and cast them into the middes of the pit, he & the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were founde among them, that said vnto Ishmael, Slay vs not: for we haue treasures in the field, of wheat, & of barley, and of oyle, and of honie: so he stayed, and slewe them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Ishmael had cast the dead bodies of the men (whome hee had slaine because of Gedaliah) is it, which Asa the King had made because of Baasha King of Israel, & Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slaine.

10 Then Ishmael caryed away captiue all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, euen the Kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whome Nebuzar-adan the chiefteward had committed to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah carried them away captiue, & departed to go ouer to the Ammonites.

11 But when Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, & all the captaines of the host that were with him, hearde of all the euill that Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah had done,

12 Then they al tooke their men, & went to fight with Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, & found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Nowe when all the people whome Ishmael caryed away captiue, sawe Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the host, that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people, that Ishmael had caryed away captiue from Mizpah, returned and came againe, and went vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah.

d For they thought that the Temple had not bene destroyed, and therefore came vp to the feast of Tabernacles. but hearing of the burning thereof in the waye, they shewed these signes of sorowe.

e For his death was kept secret, and he fained that he lamented for the destruction of Ierusalem and the Temple: but after slewe them when they seemed to fauour Gedaliah.

a The captaines aske counsell of Jeremiah what they ought to do. 7 He admonisheth the remnant of the people not to go into Egypt.

2 And saide vnto Jeremiah the Prophet, "Hearc our prayer, we beseeche thee, and pray for vs vnto the Lorde thy God, euen for al this remnant (for we are left, but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold)

3 That the Lorde thy God may shew vs the way wherein we may walke, and the thing that we may<sup>a</sup> do.

4 Then Ieremiah the Prophet saide vnto them, I haue heard you: behold, I will pray vnto the Lorde your God according to your wordes, and whatsoever thing the Lorde shal answere you, I will declare it vnto you: I wil keepe nothing backe from you.

5 Then they said to Ieremiah, <sup>b</sup> The Lorde be a witnes of trueth, and faith betweene vs, if we do not, euē according to al things for the which the Lorde thy God shal send thee to vs.

6 Whether it be good or euil, we wil obey the voyce of the Lorde God, to whome we sende thee that it may be well with vs, when we obey the voyce of the Lorde our God.

7 <sup>c</sup> And so after ten dayes came the word of the Lorde vnto Ieremiah.

8 Then called he Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste, which were with him, and all the people from the least to the most,

9 And said vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, vnto whome ye sent me to present your prayers before him,

10 If ye will dwell in this lande, then I will build you, and not destroye you, and I will plant you, and not root you out: for I<sup>d</sup> repent me of the euil that I haue done vnto you.

11 Feare not for the King of Babel, of whome ye are a fraide: be not afraid of him, saith the Lorde: for I am with you, to saue you, and to deliuer you<sup>e</sup> from his hand, 12 And I wil grant you mercie that he may haue compassion vpon you, and he shall cause you<sup>e</sup> to dwell in your owne land.

13 But if ye saye, Wee will not dwell in this land, neither heare the voyce of the Lorde your God,

14 Saying, Nay, but we wil go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no warre, nor heare the found of the trumpet, nor haue hunger of bread, and there will we dwell,

15 (And now therefore heare the wordes of the Lorde, ye remnant of Iudah: thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, If ye set your faces to enter into Egypt, & go to dwell there)

16 Then the sworde that ye feared, shall f<sup>e</sup> Thus God will take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which ye care, shall there hang vpon you in Egypt, and there shall ye dye.

17 And all the men that set their faces to enter into Egypt to dwell there, shall dye by the sworde, by the famine & by the pestilence, & none of them shall remaine nor escape from the plague, that I wil bring vpon them.

18 For thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel: As mine anger and my wrath hath bene powred forth vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem: so shal my wrath be powred forth vpon you, when ye shal enter into Egypt, and ye shal be a detestation, and an astonishment, & a curse, and a reproche, and ye shal see this place no more.

19 O ye remnant of Iudah, the Lorde hath said concerning you, Go not into Egypt: certainly that I haue admonished you this day.

20 Surely ye<sup>h</sup> dissembled in your heartes whē ye sent me vnto the Lorde your God, saying, Pray for vs vnto the Lorde our God, and declare vnto vs euen according vnto al that the Lorde our God shal saye, and we wil do it.

21 Therefore I haue this daye declared it you, but you haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lorde your God, nor any thing for the which he hath sent me vnto you.

22 Now therefore, knowe certainly that ye shal die by the sworde, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go and dwell.

15 Then al the men which knew that their wiues had burnt incense vnto other gods and al the women that stood by, a great multitude, euen all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt in Pathros, answered Ieremiah, saying,

16 The word that thou hast spokē vnto vs in the Name of the Lorde, we will not heare it of thee,

17 But we will doe whatsoever thing goeth out of our owne mouth, as to burne incense vnto the Queene of heauen, & to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, as we haue done, both we and our fathers, our Kings and our princes in the cite of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem: for then had we plentie of vitayles and were wel and felt none euil.

18 But since we left of to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to powre our drinke offerings vnto her, wee haue had scarcenes of al thinges, and haue bene consumed by the sword & by the famine.

19 And whē we burnt incense to y<sup>e</sup> Queene of heauen & powred out drinke offerings vnto her, did we make her cakes to make her glad, and powre out drinke offerings vnto her without our husbands?

20 Then said Ieremiah vnto al the people, to the men, and to the women, and to al the people which had giuen him that answer, saying,

21 Did not the Lord remember the incense, that ye burnt in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem, both you, & your fathers, your Kings, and your princes, and the people of the land, and hath he not considered it?

22 So that the Lorde could no longer forbear, because of the wickednes of your inuentions, and because of the abominations, which ye haue committed therefore is your land desolate & an astonishment, & a curse & without inhabitant, as appeareth this day.

23 Because ye haue burnt incense & because ye haue sinned against the Lorde, & haue not obeyed y<sup>e</sup> voyce of the Lord, nor walked in his Lawe, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come vpon you, as appeareth this day.

24 Moreover Ieremiah said vnto al the people and to al the women, Heare the word of the Lord, al Iudah that are in the land of Egypt.

25 ¶ Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Ye and your wiues haue both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hand, saying, We will performe our vowes that we haue vowed to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, & to powre out drinke offerings to her: ye will performe your vowes & do the things that ye haue vowed.

26 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, al Iudah that dwell in the land of Egypt. Beholde, I haue sworn by my great Name, saith the Lorde, that my Name shall no more be called vpon by the mouth of any man of Iudah, in al the land of Egypt, saying, The Lord God liueth.

27 Beholde, I wil wathe ouer them for euil and not for good, and all men of Iudah that are in the land of Egypt, shall be consumed by the sworde, and by the famine, vntill they be utterly destroyed.

28 Yet a smal nūber that escape the sword, shall returne out of the land of Egypt into the land of Iudah: and al the remnant of Iudah that are gone into the lande of Egypt to dwell there, shall knowe whose wordes shall stand, mine or theirs.

29 And this shall be a signe vnto you, saith the Lorde, when I visite you in this place, that ye may knowe that my wordes shall surely stand against you for euil.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil giue Pharaoh Hophra King of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seeke his life: as I gaue Zedekiah King of Iudah into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel his enemy, who also sought his life.

4 Thus shalt thou say vnto him, The Lorde saith thus, Beholde, that which I haue built, wil I destroy, and that which I haue planted, wil I plucke vp, euen this whole lande.

5 And sekest thou great things for thy self? seeke them not for beholde, I will bring a store this plague vpon al flesh, saith the Lorde: but thy life wil I giue thee for a praye in all places, whither thou goest.

The worde that the Lord spake to Ieremiah the Prophet, howe Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel should come and smite the land of Egypt.

Publishe in Egypt and declare in Migdol, and proclaime in Noph, and in Tahpanhos, and say, Stande still, and prepare thee: for the sworde shall deuoure rounde about thee.

Why are thy valiant men put back: they coulde not stande, because the Lorde did driue them.

He made many to fall, and one fel vpon another: and they said, Arise, let vs goe againe to our owne people, & to the land of our natiuitie from the sworde of the violent.

They did crye there, Pharaoh King of Egypt, & of a great multitude of hatr passed the time appointed.

As I liue, saith the King, whose Name is the Lorde of hostes, surely as Tabor is in the mountaines, and as Carmel is in the sea: so shall it come.

O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, make thee geare to go into captiuitie: for Noph shall be waste and desolate, without an inhabitant.

Egypt is like a faire calfe, but destruction commeth out of the North it commeth.

Also her hired men are in the middes of her like fat calves: they are also turned backe and fled away together: they coulde not stand, because the day of their destruction was come vpon them, & the time of their visitation.

The voyce thereof shall goe forth like a serpent: for they shall march with an armie, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood.

They shall cut downe her forest, saith the Lord: for they cannot be counted, because they are more then the grasshoppers, & are innumerable.

The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded: she shall be deliuered into the handes of the people of the North.

Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will visite the common people of No & Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their gods & their Kings, euen Pharaoh, and al them that trust in him,

And I will deliuer them into the handes of those, that seeke their liues, and into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and into the handes of his seruants, & afterward she shall dwell as in the old time, saith the Lord.

But feare not thou, O my seruant Iakob, and be not thou afraide, O Israel: for behold, I will deliuer thee from a farre countrey, & thy feed from the land of their captiuitie, and Iakob shall returne and be in rest, and prosperitie, and none shall make him afraid.

Feare thou not, O Iakob my seruant, saith the Lord: for I am with thee, and I will vterly destroy all the nations, whiche I haue driuen thee: but I will not vterly destroy thee, but correct thee by iudgement, and not vterly cut thee off.

The worde of the Lord against the Philistims.

The wordes of the Lorde that came to Ieremiah the Prophet, against the Philistims, before that Pharaoh smote Azzah.

Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, waters rise vp out of the North, & shall be as a swelling flood, and shall ouerflowe the land, & al that is therein, and the cities with them that dwell therein: then the men shall crye, and all the inhabitants of the lande shall howle,

CHAP. XLVII.

The words of the Lord against the Moabites, 26. Because of their pride and cruelty.

Concerning Moab, thus saith the Lord
Of hostes, the God of Israel, Wo vnto Nebo: for it is wasted: Kiriaihaim is confounded & taken: Misgab is confounded and afraied.

2 Moab shal boast no more of Hethbon: for they haue deuised euil against it. Come, and let vs destroy it, that it be no more a nation: also thou shalt be destroyed. O
Madmen, and the sword shal pursue thee.

3 A voice of crying shalbe from Horonaim with destruction and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed: her little ones haue caused their crye to be heard.

5 For at the going vp of Luhith, the mourner shal goe vp with weeping: for in the going downe of Horonaim, the enemies haue heard a cry of destruction.

6 Flee and saue your liues, and be like vnto
the heath in the wilderness.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thy workes and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, & Chemosh shal go forth into captiuitie with his Priests & his prices together.

8 And the destroyer shal come vpon all cities,
& no cite shal escape: the valley also shal perish and the plaine shalbe destroyed as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Giue wings vnto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities therof shalbe desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 Cursed be he that doeth the worke of the Lord negligently, & cursed be he that keepeth backe his sword from blood.

11 Moab hath bene at rest from his youth, and he hath seded on his lees, & hath not bin powred from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captiuitie: therefore his raffe remained in him and his sent is not changed.

12 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will send vnto him such as destroye the Egyptians and that with a courage, and callth this executing of his vengeance against his enemies his worke:

though the Caldeans fought another ende, Isa. 10. 12. "Or, desperately."

i Hath not bene remitted as the lawes house, but hath liued at ease and as a wine that feedeth him selfe on his house.

shal cary him away, and shal empte his vessels, and breake their bottels.

13 And Moab shalbe ashamed of Chemosh as the house of Israel was ashamed of Beth-el their confidence.

14 Howe thinke you thus, We are mightie & strong men of warre?

15 Moab is destroyed, and his cities burnt vp, & his chosen yong me are gone down to slaughter, saith the King, whose name is, the Lord of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab is readie to come, and his plague hasteth fall.

17 All ye that are about him, mourne for him, and al ye that knowe his name, saie, Howe is the strong staffe broken, & the beautiful rod.

18 Thou daughter that doest inhabite Di-bon, come, downe from thy glorye, and sit in thirst: for the destroyer of Moab shal come vpon thee, & he shal destroy thy strong holdes.

19 Thou that dwellest in Aroer, stand by the way, and behold: aske him that fleeth and that escapeth, & say, What is done?

20 Moab is confounded: for it is destroyed: howle, and crye, tel ye it in Arnon, that Moab is made waste.

21 And iudgement is come vpon the plaine countrie, vpon Holan & vpon Iahazah, & vpon Mephath.

22 And vpon Dibon, and vpon Nebo, and vpon the house of Diblahaim,

23 And vpon Kiriaihaim, and vpon Bethgamul, and vpon Beth-meon,

24 And vpon Kerioth, & vpon Bozrah, and vpon all the cities of the lad of Moab farre or neere.

25 The home of Moab is cut of, and his arme is broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make ye him drunk: for he magnified himself against the Lord: Moab shal wal-lowe in his vomite, and he also shal be in derision.

27 For didest not thou deride Israel, as though he had bin found among the heeues; for when thou speakest of him, thou art moued.

28 O ye that dwell in Moab, leaue the cities, and dwell in the rockes, & be like the dove, that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth.

29 We haue heard the pride of Moab (he saith), exceeding proud his stoutnes, and his ar-rogancie, and his pride, and the hauines of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, saith the Lord, but it shal not be for his dissimulation, for they do not right.

31 Therefore will I howle for Moab, and I will crye out for all Moab: mine heares shal mourne for the men of Kir-heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I wil weepe for thee, as I wept for Iazer: thy plants are gone ouer
the sea, they are come to the sea of Iazer:
the destroyer is fallen vpon thy sommer fruites, and vpon thy vineage,

33 And ioye, and gladnes is taken from the people.

34 From the cry of Heshbon vnto Elaleh & vnto Iahaz haue they made their noyse from Zoar vnto Horonaim, the heiffer of three yere olde shal go lowing: for the waters also of Nimrim shalbe wasted.

35 Moreover, I wil cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that offred in the high places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shal sound for Moab like a thauime, & mine heart shal sound like a thauime for the me of Kir-heres, because the riches that he hath gotte, is perished.

38 And mourning shalbe vpon al the house tops of Moab and in al the streetes thereof: for I haue broken Moab like a vessel wherein is no pleasure, sayeth the Lord.

39 They shal howle, saying, Howe is he destroyed? howe hath Moab turned thee backe with thame? so shal Moab be a derision, and a feare to al them about him.

40 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, hee shal see as an eggle, and shal spread his wings ouer Moab.

41 The cities are taken & the strong holdes are wonne, and the mightie mens heartes in Moab at that daye shalbe as the heart of a woman in trauaile.

42 And Moab shalbe destroyed from being a people, because he hath set vp himselfe against the Lorde.

43 Feare, and pit & snare shalbe vpon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord.

44 He that escapeth from the feare, shal fall in the pitte, and he that getteth vp out of the pit, shalbe taken in the snare: for I wil bring vpon it, even vpon Moab, the yere of their visitation, sayth the Lord.

45 They that fled, stood vnder the shadow of Heshbon, because of the force: for the fire came out of Heshbon, & a flame from Sihon, & deuoured the corner of Moab, and the top of the seditious children.

46 Wo be vnto thee, O Moab: the people of Chemosh perisheth: for thy sonnes are taken captiues, and thy daughters led into captiuitie.

47 Yet wil I bring againe the captiuitie of Moab in the latter dayes, saith the Lord. Thus saith the Lord of the iudgement of Moab.

their king possessed Gad? and his people dwelt in his cities?

Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I wil cause a noyse of warre to be heard in Rabbah of y Ammonites, & it shalbe a desolate heap, & her daughters shalbe burnt with fire: then shal Israel possesse those that possessed him, saith the Lord.

Howe, O Heshbon, for Ai is wasted: crye daughters of Rabbah: girde you with sackcloth: mourne and runne to & fro by the hedges: for their King shal go into captiuitie, & his Priests, and his princes likewise.

Wherefore gloriest thou in the valles? thy valley floweth awaye, O rebellious daughter: thee trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shal come vnto me?

Beholde, I wil bring a feare vpon thee, sayth the Lord God of hostes, of all those that be about thee, and ye shalbe scattered euery man right forth, & none shal gather him that fleeth.

And afterwarde I wil bring againe the captiuitie of the children of Ammon.

To Edom thus saith the Lord of hostes, Is wisdom no more in Teman? is counsel perished from their children? is their wisdom vanished?

Flee ye inhabitants of Dedan (they are turned backe, and haue consulted to dwell) for I haue brought the destruction of Esau vpon him, & the time of his visitation.

If the grape gatherers come to thee, would they not leaue some grapes? if Esau theecomes come by night, they wil destroye til they haue ynough.

For I haue discovered Esau: I haue vncovered his secrets, and he shal not be able to hide him selfe: his seede is wasted, and his brethren and his neighbours, & there shalbe none to say,

Leaue thy fatherles children, and I will prelerue them al iue, and let thy widowes trust in me.

For thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, they whose iudgement was not to drink of the cuppe, haue assuredly drunken, & art thou he that shal escape free? thou shalt not go free, but thou shalt surely drinke of it.

For I haue sworne by my selfe, sayth the Lord, that Bozrah shalbe waste, and for a reproch, & a desolation, and a curse, and al the cities thereof shalbe perpetual desolations.

I haue heard a rumour from the Lorde, & an ambassador is sent vnto the heathen, saying, Gather you together, and come against her, and rise vp to the battel.

For lo, I wil make thee but small among the heathen, and despised among men.

Thy feare, & the pride of thine heart hath deceiued thee: thou that dwellest in the cleftes of the rocke, and keepest the height of the hill: though thou shouldst make thy nest as hig as y eggle, I wil bring

2 Declare among the nations, and publish it, & set vp a standart, proclaime it & cōcele it not: say, Babel is taken, Bel is cōfounded, Merodach is broken down: her idols are confounded, & their images are burst in pieces.

3 For out of the North there commeth vp a nation against her, which shal make her lande waste, and none shal dwell therein: they shal flee, & depart, both man and beast.

4 In those daies, and at that time, sayth the Lord, the children of Israel shal come, they, and the children of Iudah together, going, and weeping shal they go, & seeke the Lord their God.

5 They shal aske the waye to Zion, with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, & let vs cleaue to the Lord in a perpetual cōuenant that shal not be forgotten.

flocke.
9 For lo, I wil raise, and cause to come vp agaynst Babel a multitude of mightie nations from the North countrey, and they shal set them selues in aray agaynst her, whereby shee shalbe taken: their arrowes shalbe as of a strong man, which is expert, for none shal returne in vaine.
10 And Caldea shalbe a spoile: al that spoile her, I shalbe satisfied, sayth the Lord.
11 Because ye were glad & reioyced in destroying mine heritage, & because ye are grown fat, as the calves in the grasie, <sup>m</sup> &
neyed like strong horses, 12 Therefore your mother shalbe sore confounded, and she that bare you, shalbe ashamed: behold, the vttermost of the nations shalbe a desert, a drie land, and a wil-dernes.
13 Because of the wrath of the Lord it shall not be inhabited, but shalbe wholy desolate: euery one that goeth by Babel, shal bee astonished, <sup>n</sup> and hisse at all her places.
14 Put your selues in aray agaynst Babel round about: ye that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrowes: for she hath <sup>o</sup> sinned against the Lord.
15 Crie against her round about: she hath giuen her hand: her foundations are fallen, & her walles are destroyed: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance vpon her: as she hath done, do vnto her.
16 Destroy the <sup>p</sup> tower from Babel, & him that handleth the sitch in the time of her uict: because of the sward of the oppressor they shal tyme: euery one to his people, and they shal flee euery one to his owne land.
17 Israel is like scattered sheepe: the Lyons haue dispersed them: first the King of As-sur hath deuoured him, & last this Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel hath broke his bones.
18 Therefore thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I wil visite the King of Babel, and his land, as I haue visited the King of Asshur.
19 And I wil bring Israel again to his habitation: he shal feede on Carmel and Bashan, & his soule shalbe satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Gilead.
20 In those dayes, and at that time, sayeth the Lord, the iniquitie of Israel shal bee sought for, and there shalbe none: and the sinnes of Iudah, & they shal not be found:
for I wil be merciful vnto them, whome I resterue.
21 Go vp against the land of the <sup>q</sup> rebelles, even against it, and against the inhabitants of Pekod: destroy, and lay it waste after them, sayth the Lord, and do according to al that I haue commanded thee.

22 A crye of battell in the land, & of great destruction.
23 How is the <sup>r</sup> hammer of the whole worlde destroyed, and broken! howe is Babel become desolate among the nations!
24 I haue snared thee, and thou art taken,
O Babel, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striuen against the Lord.
25 The Lord hath opened his treasure, and hath brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the worke of the Lord God of hostes in the lande of the Calde-ans.
26 Come against her from the vtmost border: open her store house: tread on her as on theaues, and destroy her vnderyle: no thing of her shal be left.
27 Destroy al her bullockes: let them goe downe to the slaughter. Wo vnto them, for their day is come, & the time of their visitation.
28 The voyce of them that flee, & escape out of the land of Babel to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, and the vengeance of his Temple.
29 Cal vp the archers against Babel: all ye that bend the bow, bringe it round about:
let none thereof escape: recompence her according to her worke, & according to al that she hath done, do vnto her: for she hath bene proud against the Lord, & en-against the holy one of Israel.
30 Therefore shal her young men fall in the streets, and all her men of warre shal be destroyed in that day, sayth the Lord.
31 Beholde, I come into thee, O proud man, sayth the Lord: God of hostes: for thy day is come, euen the time that I wil visite thee.
32 And the proud shal stumble and fall, and none shal raise him up: and I wil kinde a fire in his cities, and it shal deuoure all round about him.
33 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, The children of Israel, and the children of Iudah were oppressed together, and al that toke them captiues, held them, and would not let them go.
34 But their strong citie, whos Name land, & disquiet the inhabitants of Babel.

39 Therefore the Zims with the Iims shal dwell there, and the oltriches shal dwell therein: for it shalbe no more inhabited, neither shal it be inhabited from generation vnto generation.

40 As God destroyed Sodom and Gomorah with the places thereof neere about, saith the Lord: so shal no man dwell there, neither shall the sonne of man remaine therein.

41 Beholde, a people shal come from the North, and a great nation, & many kings shal be raysed vp from the coastes of the earth.

42 They shal holde the bow and the bucke-ler: they are cruel and vnmmerciful: their voice shal roare like the sea, and they shal ride vpon horses, and bee put in aray lyke men to the battell against thee, O daughter of Babel.

43 The King of Babel hath heard the report of them, and his hands waxed feeble: for he came vpon him, as sorowe as of a woman in trauaile.

44 Beholde, he shal come vp like a lyon fro the swelling of Iorden vnto the strong habitation: for I will make Israel to rest, &
I will make them to haue away from her:
and who is a chosenu man that I may lap-pointe against her: for who is lyke mee, and who wil appoynt me the time: who is the shepheard that wil stand before me?

45 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lord that he hath deuised against Babel, & his purpose that he hath conceyued against the land of the Caldeans: surely the least of the flocke shal drawe them out: surely he shal make their habitation desolate with them.

46 At the noyse of the winning of Babel the earth is moued, and the crye is heard among the nations.

47 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will raise up against Babel, and against the inhabitants that liue vpon their heart, agaynst me, a destroying winde.

48 And wil send vnto Babel fanners that shal fanne her, and shal empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shalbe agaynst her on euery side.

49 Also to the bender that bendeth his bow, and to him that stretcheth himselfe vp in his brigandine, will I say, Spare not her yong men, but destroye at her host.

50 Thus the slaine shal fall in the lande of the Caldeans: and they that are thrust through in her streets.

51 For Israel hath bene no widow, nor Iudah from his God, fro the Lord of hostes, though their land was filled with sinne against the holy one of Israel.

6 Flee out of the middes of Babel, & de-luer euery man his soule, be not destroyed in her iniquitie: for this is the time of the Lords vengeance: he wil render vnto her a recompence.

7 Babel hath bene as a golden cuppe in the Lords hand, that made al the earth drunken: the nations haue drunken of her wine, therefore do the nations rage.

8 Babel is suddenly fallen, and destroyed:
howle for her, bring balm for her sore, if she may be healed.

9 We woulde haue cured Babel, but shee could not be healed: forsake her, and let vs go euery one into his owne country:
for her iudgement is come vp vnto heauen, and is lifted vp to the cloudes.

10 The Lord hath brought fourth ou-righteousnes: come and let vs declare in Zion the woork of the Lord our God.

11 Make bright the arrowes: gather the shields: the Lord hath raised vp the spirit of the King of the Medes: for his purpose is against Babel to destroy it, because it is the vengeance of the Lord, & the vengeance of his Temple.

12 Set vp the standart vpon the wall es of Babel, make the watch strong: set vp the watchmen: prepare the skouts: for the Lord hath botie deuised, and done that which he spake agaynst the inhabitants of Babel.

13 O thou that dwellest vpon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come,
own the end of thy couerousnes.

14 The Lord of hosts hath sworne by himselfe, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with caterpillers, and they shal crie and shoute agaynst thee.

15 He hath made the earth by his power,
and established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

16 He hath by his voice the multitude of waters in the heauen, and he causeth the cloudes to ascende from the endes of the earth: he turneth lightnings to raine, and
bringeth forth the winde out of his trea-mountaine, sayeth the Lorde, which de-stroyest al the earth: and I wil stretch out mountaine.

26 They shal not take of thee a stone for a thou shalt be destroyed for euer, sayth the 27 Set vp a standart in the lande: blowe the trumpets among the nations: prepare the nations against her: cal vp the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Afchenaz against her: appoint the prince against her: cause horses to come vp as the rough cater-pillers.

28 Prepare against her the nations with the Kings of the Medes, the dukes therof, and the princes therof, and al the lande of his dominion.

29 And the lande shal tremble & forow for the deuile of the Lorde shalbe performed against Babel, to make the lande of Babel waste without an inhabitant.

30 The strong men of Babel haue ceased to fight: they haue remained in their holdes:
their strength hath fayled, & they were like women: they haue burnt her dwelling places, and her barres are broken.

31 A post shal runne to meete the post, & a messenger to meet the messenger, to shew the King of Babel, that his cite is taken on a side thereof.

32 And that the passages are stopped, & the reeds burnt with fire, and the men of war troubled.

33 For thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, The daughter of Babel is lyke a threshing floore: the time of hir threshing is come: yet a litle while, and the time of her haruett shal come.

34 Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel hath deuoured me, and destroyed me: he hath made me an empty vessel: he swal-owed mee vp like a dragon, and filled his belly with my delicates, and hath cast mee out.

35 The spoyle of me, & that which was left of me, is brought vnto Babel, shal the inhabitant of Zion say: & my blood vnto the inhabitants of Caldea, shal Ierusalem say.

36 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde,

I wil mainteine thy cause, and take vengeance for thee, and I wil drie vp the sea, and drie vp her springs.

37 And Babel shalbe as heapes, a dwelling place for dragons, an astonishment, & an hissing, without an inhabitant.

38 They shal roare together like lyons, and yel as the lions whelpes.

39 In their heart I wil make them feastes, and I wil make them drunken, that they may reioice, and sleepe a perpetual sleepe, and not wake, saith the Lord.

40 I wil bring them downe like lambes to the slaughter, and like rams and goates.

41 How is Shehach taken I and how is the glorie of the whole earth taken! how is Babel become an astonishment among the nations!

42 The sea is come vp vpon Babel: she is co-uered with the multitude of the waues thereof.

43 Her cities are desolate: the land is drie and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth the sonne of man passe thereby.

44 I wil also visit Bel in Babel, & I wil bring out of his mouth, that which hee hath swallowed vp, and the nations shal runne no more vnto him, and the wal of Babel shal fal.

45 My people, go out of the middes of her, and deliuer ye every man his soule from the fierce wrath of the Lord.

46 Left your heart enen faint, and ye feare
the rumour, that shalbe heard in the land:
the rumour shal come this yere, and after that in the other yere shal come a rumour, and cruckie in the land, and ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore behold, the dayes come, that I wil visit the images of Babel, & the whole land shalbe confounded, and al her slaine shal fal in the middes of her.

48 Then the heauen and the earth, and al that is therein, shal reioyce for Babel: for the destroyers shal come vnto her frō the North, sayth the Lord.

49 As Babel caused the slaine of Israel to fal, so by Babel the slaine of al the earth did fal.

50 Ye that haue escaped the sworde, goe away, stande not stil: remember the Lord afarre of, & let Ierusalem come into your minde.

51 We are confounded because wee haue heard: reproch: shame hath couered our faces, for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of the Lordes House.

52 Wherefore behold, the dayes come, sayth the Lord, that I wil visit her grauen images, and through al her lande the wounded shal grone.

53 Though Babel should mount vp to heauen, and though thee shoulde defend her strength on hie, yet from me shal her destroyers come, sayth the Lord.

55 Because the Lord hath laid Babel waste and destroyed from her the great voice, & her waues shall roare like great waters, & a sound was made by their noyse.

56 Because the destroyer is come vpon her, even vpon Babel, and her strong men are taken, their bowes are broken: for the Lord God that recompenceth, shall surely recompence.

57 And I will make drunke her princes, & her wise men, her dukes, & her nobles, & her strong men: & they shall sleepe a perpetual sleepe, and not wake, saith the King, whose Name is the Lord of hostes.

58 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The thick wal of Babel shall be broken, and her hye gates shall be burnt with fire, and the people shall labour in vaine, and the folke in the fire, for they shall be wearie.

59 The worde which Jeremiah the Prophet commanded Sheraiah the sonne of Neiriah, the sonne of Maaseiah, when he wet with Zedekiah the king of Iudah into Babel, in the fourth yeere of his reigne: & this Sheraiah was a peaceable prince.

60 So Jeremiah wrote in a booke al the euil that should come vpon Babel: even al these things, that are written against Babel.

61 And Jeremiah sayde to Sheraiah, When thou comest vnto Babel, and shalt see, and shalt read al these wordes, 62 Then shalt thou say, O Lorde, thou hast spokē against this place, to destroy it, that none should remaine in it, neither man nor beast, but it should be desolate for euer.

63 And when thou hast made an end of reading this booke, thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it in the middes of Euphrates.

64 And shalt saye, Thus shall Babel be drowned, and shall not rise from the euil, that I will bring vpon her: & they shall be weary. Thus farre are the wordes of Jeremiah.

CHAP. LII.

1 Jerusalem is taken. 10 Zedekiahs sonnes are killed before his face, and his eyes put out. 13 The citie is burned. 21 Libniachin is brought forth of prison, and sed like a King.

1 Zedekiah was one & twentie yere old when he began to reigne, & he reigned cleuen yeres in Ierusalem, & his mothers name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did euil in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Iehoiakim had done.

3 Doubles because the wrath of the Lord was against Ierusalem and Iudah, til hee had cast them out fro his presence, therefore Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babel.

4 But in the ninth yere of his reigne, in the tenth month the tenth day of the moneth came Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, he and al his host agaynst Ierusalem, and pitched against it, and built fortes against it round about.

5 So the citie was besieged vnto the eleuenth yere of the king Zedekiah.

6 Now in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the famine was sore in the citie, so that there was no more bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the citie was broken vp and al the men of warre fled, and went out of the citie by night, by the way of the gate betweene the two walles, which was by the kings garden: (now the Caldeans were by the citie rounde about) and they went by the way of the wilderness.

8 But the armie of the Caldeans pursued after the king, and tooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho, and al his host was scattered from him.

9 Then they tooke the king & caried him vp vnto the king of Babel to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

10 And the king of Babel slewe the sonnes of Zedekiah, before his eyes: he slewe also al the princes of Iudah in Riblah.

11 Then hee put out the eyes of Zedekiah, & the king of Babel bound him in chaines and caried him to Babel, and put him in prison til the day of his death.

12 Now in the fift moneth in the tenth day of the moneth (which was the nineteenth yere of the king Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) came Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward which stood before the king of Babel in Ierusalem.

13 And burnt the House of the Lorde, and the kings house, and al the houses of Ierusalem, and al the great houses burnt he with fire.

14 And al the armie of the Caldeans that were with the chiefe steward, brake down al the walles of Ierusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue certeine of the poore of the people, & the residue of the people that remayned in the citie, and those that were fled, and fallen to the King of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left certeine of the poore of the land, to dreffe the vines, and to til the land.

17 Also the pillars of brasie that were in the House of the Lord, & the bases, & the brasen Sea, that was in the House of the Lord, the Caldeans brake, and caried al the brasie of them to Babel.

18 The portes also and the sheshomes, and the instruments of musike, and the basins, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasie wherewith they ministred, tooke they away.

19 And the bowles, and the ashpannes, and the basins, & the pots, & the candlesticks, and the incense dishes, & the cuppes, and all that was of gold, & that was of siluer, tooke the chiefe steward away,

22 And a chapter of brasie was vpon it, and the height of one chapter was fise cubits with networke, & pomegranates vpon the chapters round about, al of brasie: the second pillar also, & the pomegranates were like vnto these.

23 And there were ninetie and fixe pomegranates on a side: & al the pomegranates vpon the nette worke were an<sup>h</sup> hundredth round about.

flew them in Riblah, in<sup>y</sup> land of Hamath: thus Iudah was caried away captiue out of his owne land.

31 And in the seuen and thirtieth yere of the captiuitie of Ichoiachin King of Iudah, in the twelfth moneth, in the fise and twentieth day of the moneth, Evil-merodach King of Babel, in the<sup>o</sup> first yere of his reigne, <sup>o</sup> lifted vp the head of Ichoiachin King of Iudah, and brought him out of prison.

32 And spake kindly vnto him, and set his throne about the throne of the Kings, that were with him in Babel,

LAMENTATIONS.

CHAP. I.

1 The Prophet bewayleth the miserable estate of Ierusalem, & sheweth that they are plagued because of their sinnes. The first and second chapter begin euery verse according to the letters of the Hebrew Alphabet. The third hath thre verses for euery letter, and the fourth is as the first.

NOW doeth the city remaine solitary<sup>y</sup> in the night, & she is as a widow: she that was great among the nations, & prince among the prouinces, is made tributary.

2 She wepeth continually in the night, and her teares run downe by her cheeks: among all her<sup>d</sup> louers, she hath none to comfort her: all her friendes haue delt vnfaithfully with her, and are her enemies.

3 Iudah is caried away captiue, because<sup>e</sup> of her affliction, and because of great seruitude: she dwelleth among the heathen, & findeth no rest: all her persecuters tooke her in the straites.

4 The wayes of Zion lament, because no man commeth to the solemne feastes: all her gates are desolate: her Priests sigh: her virgins are discomfited, and she is in<sup>f</sup> heauinesse.

5 Her aduersaries are the chiefe, & her enemies prosper: for the Lord hath afflicted her, for the multitude of her transgressions, and her children are gone into captiuitie before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beuty is departed: her princes are become like hartes that find no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Ierusalem remembered the daies of her affliction, and of her rebellion, and all her pleasant things, that she had in times past, when her people<sup>i</sup> fell into the hand of the enemy, had lost.

Fff. j.

<sup>i</sup> The Prophet bewayleth at<sup>y</sup> great indignement of God, seeing Ierusalem, which was strong & full of people, to be now destroyed and desolate.

ſcene the heathē enter into her Sanctuary, ſhould not enter into thy Church.

11 Al her people ſigh and ſeeke their bread:
they haue giuen their pleaſant things for conſider: for I am become vile.

12 Hauē ye no regard, alſo ye that paſſe by this way: behold, & ſee, if there be any rowe like vnto my rowe, which is done vnto me, wherewith the Lord hath afflic-

13 From about hath hee ſent fire into my bones, which preuayle againſt them: he hath ſpred a net for my feet, & turned me backe: he hath made me deſolate, & daily in heauines.

14 The yoke of my tranſgreſſions is bound vp vpon my necke: hee hath made my ſtrength to fall: the Lord hath deliuered me into their handes, neither am I able to 15 The Lord hath troden vnder foote all my valiant men in the middes of me: he hath called an aſſembly agaynſt mee to deſtroy my yong men: the Lord hath tro-den the wine preſſe vpon the virgine the daughter of Iudah.

16 For theſe things I weepe: mine eye, mine eye caſteth out water, becauſe the comforter that ſhould reſreſh my ſoule, is farre from mee: my children are deſolate, becauſe the enemy preuayled.

17 Zion ſtretcheth out her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath appointed the enemies of Iakob rounde about him: Ieruſalem is as a menſtruous woman in the middes of them.

18 The Lord is righteous: for I haue rebelled againſt his commandement: heare, I pray you, all people & behold my ſorowe:
my virgins & my yong men are gone into captiuitie.

19 I called for my louers, but they deceiued me: my Prieſtes and mine Elders periſhed in the citie while they ſought their meat to reſreſh their ſoules.

20 Behold, O Lord, howe I am troubled: my bowels ſwel: mine heart is turned within mee, for I am full of heauines: the ſworde ſpoyleth abroad, as death doeth at home.

21 They haue heard that I mourne, but there haue heard of my trouble, & are glad, that thou haſt done it: thou wilt bring the day,

CHAP. II.

1 Howe hath the Lorde darkened the daughter of Zion in his wrath: and hath caſt downe from heauen vnto the earth the beautie of Iſrael, and remembered not his footſtoole in the day of his wrath!

2 The Lorde hath deſtroyed all the habitations of Iakob, and not ſpared: he hath throwne downe in his wrath the ſtrong holdes of the daughter of Iudah: he hath caſt them downe to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdome and the princes thereof.

3 He hath cut off in his fierce wrath all the horne of Iſrael: he hath drawn backe his right hande from before the enemy, and there was kindled in Iakob like a flame of fire, which deuoured rounde about.

4 He hath bent his bow like an enemy: his right hand was ſtretched vp as an aduer-ſarie, and ſlewe all that was pleaſant to the eye in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he powred out his wrath like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hath deu-oured Iſrael, & conſumed all his palaces:
he hath deſtroyed his ſtrong holdes, and hath increaſed in the daughter of Iudah lamentation and mourning.

6 For he hath deſtroyed his tabernacle, as a garden, he hath deſtroyed his congregation: the Lord hath cauſed the feaſtes and Sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, & hath deſpised in the indignation of his wrath
the King and the Priſt.

7 The Lord hath forſaken his altar: he hath abhorred his Sanctuary: he hath giuen into the hand of the enemy the walles of her palaces: they haue made a noyſe in the Houſe of the Lord, as in the daye of ſolemnitie.

8 The Lorde hath determined to deſtroye the wal of the daughter of Zion: he ſtretched out a line: he hath not withdrawn his hande from deſtroying: therefore he made the rampart & the wall to lament:
they were deſtroyed together.

9 Her gates are ſunke to the ground: he hath deſtroyed & broken her barres: hee King and her princes are among the Gentiles: the Law is no more, neither can her Prophetes ſee any viſion from the Lord.

garded themselves with sackcloth: the virgines of Ierusalem hang downe their heads to the ground.

11 Myne eyes do faile with teares: my bowels swell: my liuer is powred vpon y<sup>e</sup> earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children & sucklings swoone in the streetes of the citie.

12 They haue said to their mothers, Where is bread and drinke? when they swooned as the wounded in the streetes of the city, and when they gaue vp the ghost in their mothers bosome.

13 What thing shall I take to witnes for thee? what thing shall I compare to thee, O daughter Ierusalem? what shall I liken to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgine daughter Zion? for thy breache is great like the sea: who can heale thee?

14 Thy Prophets haue looked out vayne, and foolish things for thee, and they haue not discovered thine iniquitie, to turne away thy captiuitie, but haue looked out for thee false prophesies, & causes of banishment.

15 All that passe by the waye, clappe their handes at thee: they hisse and wagge their head vpon the daughter Ierusalem, saying, Is this the city that men call, The perfection of beautie, & the ioye of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies haue opened their mouth against thee: they hisse and gnash the teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure it: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we haue found and scene it.

17 The Lord hath done that which he had purposed: he hath fulfilled his worde that he had determined of olde tyme: he hath throwne downe, and not spared: he hath caused thine enemy to reioyce ouer thee, & set vp the horne of thine aduersaries.

18 Their heart cryed vnto the Lord, O wal of the daughter Zion, let teares runne downe like a riuer, daye and night: take thee no rest, neither let the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, cry in the night: in the beginning of the watches powre out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift vp thine hands toward him for the life of thy yong children, that faint for hunger in the corners of all the streetes.

20 Behold, O Lord, and consider to whom thou hast done thus? shal the women eate their fruit, and children of a spanne long? shall the Priest and the Prophet be slayne in the Sanctuarie of the Lord?

21 The yong and the olde lie on the ground in the streets: my virgins & my yong men are fallen by the sworde: thou hast slayne them in the day of thy wrath: thou hast killed and not spared.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemne day thy terrours round about, so that in the day of the Lords wrath none escaped nor remained: those that I haue nourished & brought vp, hath mine enemy consumed.

I Am the man, that hath scene affliction in the rod of his indignation:

He hath ledde me, and brought me into darkenes, but not to light.

Surely he is turned against me: he turneth his hand against me all the day.

My flesh and my skinne hath he caused to waxe olde, & he hath broken my bones.

He hath builded against me, & compassed me with gall, and labour.

He hath set me in darke places, as they that be dead for euer.

He hath hedged about me, that I cannot get out: he hath made my chaines heauy.

Also when I crye and shewte, he shutteth out my prayer.

He hath stopped vp my waies with hewen stone, and turned away my pathis.

Hee was vnto me as a beare lying in wait, & as a Lion in secret places.

He hath stopped my waies, & pulled me in pieces: he hath made me desolate.

He hath bent his bowe and made me a marke for the arrow.

He caused, the arrowes of his quier to enter into my reins.

I was a derision to al my people, & their song all the day.

He hath filled me with bitterness, & made me drunken with wormewood.

He hath also broke my teeth with stones, and hath couered me with ashes.

Thus my soule was far of from peace: I forgate prosperitie,

And I said, My strength & mine hope is perished from the Lord,

Remembre mine affliction, & my mourning, the wormewood and the gall.

My soule hath them in remembrance, & is humbled in me.

I consider this in mine heart: therefore haue I hope.

It is the Lordes mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions faile not.

They are renewed euery morning: great is thy faithfulness.

The Lord is my portion, saith my soule: therefore will I hope in him.

The Lord is good vnto them, that trust in him, & to the soule that seeketh him.

It is good both to trust, and to waite for the saluation of the Lord.

It is good for a man that he beare the yoke in his youth.

He sitteth alone, & keepeth silence, because he hath borne it vpon him.

He putteth his mouth in the dust, if there may be hope.

He giueth his cheek to him that smiteth him: he is filled ful with reproches.

For the Lord will not forsake for euer.

But though he send affliction, yet will he confidence in God, & therefore loke for none other inheritance, as Psal. 16. 5.

He murmureth not against God, but is patient. o. He humbleth himselfe as they that fall downe with their face to the ground, and so with patience waiteth for succour.

a The Prophet complaineth of punishments & afflictions: he endured by the false prophets & hypocrites, while he declared the destruction of Ierusalem, as Iere. 20. 2.

b He speaketh this as one that felt Gods heavy iudgements, which he greatly feared, and therefore setteth them out wth this diuersitie of words.

c This is a great temptation to the godly, when they see not the truth of their prayers, & cannot see to think y<sup>e</sup> they are not heard, which thing God voucheth to do, that they might praye more earnestly & the oftener. d And keepeth me in holde, as a prisoner.

e He hath no pitie on me. f With great anguish & sorowe he hath made me to lose my sense.

g Thus wth payne he was driven to & fro between hope & despaire, as the godly oft times are, yet in the end the Lord reueth the victory.

h He sheweth that God thus voucheth to exercise his to the intent that hereby they may know themselves & feeble his mercies.

i Considering the wickednes of man, it is maruel if any remaineth aliue: but onely that God for his owne mercies sake & for his promises wileuer haue his church to remaine though they be better so fewe in number, Isa. 1. 9.

k We feeble thy benefites daily.

CHAP. V.

The prayer of Ieremiah.

1 Remember, O Lord, what is come vpon vs: consider, and behold our reproche.

2 Our inheritance is turned to the strangers, our houses to the alians.

3 We are fatherles, euen without father, & our mothers are as widowes.

4 We haue drunke our water for money, we haue sold our land for victuals.

5 We haue sold our land for victuals, & we haue sold our land for victuals.

Our wood is sold vnvnto vs, & our neckes are vnder persecution: we are weary, and haue no rest.

6 We haue giuen our hands to the Egyptians, and to Asshur, to be satisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers haue sinned, and are not, and we haue borne their iniquities.

8 Seruants haue ruled ouer vs, none would deliuer vs out of their hands.

9 We gate our bread with the perill of our liues, because of the sword of the wilderness.

10 Our skin was blacke like as an ouen because of the terrible famine.

11 They defiled the women in Zion, & the maidens in the cities of Iudah.

12 The princes are hanged vp by their hands: the faces of the elders were not had in honour.

13 They tooke the yong men to grinde, and the children fel vnder the wood.

14 The Elders haue ceased from the gate, and the yong men from their songs.

15 The ioy of our heart is gone, our daunce is turned into mourning.

16 The crowne of our head is fallen: we now vnto vs, that we haue sinned.

17 Therefore our heart is heavy for these things, our eyes are dimme, 18 Because of the mountaine of Zion which is desolate: the foxes runne vpon it.

19 But thou, O Lord, remainest for euer: thy throne is from generation to generation.

20 Wherefore dost thou forget vs for euer, and forsake vs so long time?

21 Turne thou vs vnto thee, O Lord, & we shall be turned: renue our daies as of olde.

22 But thou hast vnto vs: thou art exceedingly angrie against vs.

We are ioyned in league & amitie with them, or haue submitted our selues vnto them.

As our fathers haue bene punished for their sinnes, so we that are culpable of the same sinnes, are punished.

Because of the enemy that came from the wilderness, and would not suffer vs to go, and seeke our necessary foode.

That is, by the enemies hand.

Their slavery was so great, that they were not able to abide it.

There were no more lawes nor forme of common wealth.

With weeping.

And therefore thy covenant and mercies can neuer faile.

Whereby is declared that it is not in mans power to turne to God, but is onely his worke to convert vs, and thus God worketh in vs before we can turne to him, le- re. 1. 13.

EZEKIEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that Iehoiachin by the counsel of Ieremiah and Ezekiel had yelded himself to Nebuchadnezzar, & so went into captiuitie with his mother and diuers of his princes and of the people, certaine began to repens & murmure that they had obeyed the Prophets counsel, as though the thing which they had prophesied should not come to passe, and therefore their estate should be still miserable vnder the Caldeans. By reason whereof he confirmeth his former prophesies, declaring by new visions & reuelations shewed vnto him that the city should most certainly be destroyed, & the people grievously tormented by Gods plagues, insomuch that they that remained, should be brought into cruel bondage. And lest the godly should despair in these great troubles, he assureth them that God will deliuer his Church as his time appoynted, & also destroy their enemies which either afflicted them, or reioyced in their miseries. The effect of the one and the other shoulde chiefly be performed vnder Christ, of whome in this booke are many notable promises, & in whome the glory of the newe Temple shoulde perfectly be restored. He prophesied these things in Caldea at the same time that Ieremiah prophesied in Iudah, & there began in the first yere of Iehoiachins captiuitie.

In the fift daye of the moneth (which was the fift yere of King Ioiachins captiuitie) The word of the Lord came vnto Ezekiel the Priest, the sonne of Buzi, in the land of the Caldeans, by the riuer Chebar, where the hande of the Lord was vpon him.

And I looked, & beholde, a whirlewinde came out of the North, a great cloude and a fire wrapped about it, and a brightnesse was about it, and in the middes thereof, as it was, in the middes of the fire came out as the likenes of amber.

<sup>f</sup> Which were the foure Cherubims that represented the glory of God, as Chap. 3. 23.

- <sup>5</sup> Also out of the middes thereof came the likenesse of foure beasts, & this was their forme: they had the appearance of a man.
- <sup>6</sup> And euery one had foure faces, and euery one had foure wings.
- <sup>7</sup> And their feete were straight feete, and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calves foote, and they sparkled like the appearance of bright brasie.
- <sup>8</sup> And the handes of a man came out from vnder their wings in the foure parts of them, and they foure had their faces, and their wings.

They were ioined by their wings one to another, & when they went forth, they returned not, but euery one went straight forward.

And the similitude of their faces was as the face of a man: and they foure had the face of a lyon on the right side, and they foure had the face of a bullocke on the left side: they foure also had y<sup>e</sup> face of an eagle. Thus were their faces: but their wings were spread out about: two winges of euery one the left side.

one were ioyned one to another, and two covered their bodies.

12 And euerie one went streight forward: they went whither their spirit led the, and they returned not when they went forth.

13 The similitude also of the beasts, and their appearance was like burning coles of fire, and like the appearance of lamps: for the fire ran among the beasts, and the fire gaue a glister, & out of the fire there went lightening.

14 And the beasts ran, and returned like vnto lightning.

15 Now as I behelde the beasts, beholde, a wheele appeared vpon the earth by the beasts, hauing foure faces.

16 The facion of the wheeles & their worke was like vnto a chrysolite: and they foure had one forme, and their facion, and their worke was as one wheele in another wheel.

17 When they went, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not when they went.

18 They had also rings, and height, & were fearful to beholde, and their rings were full of eyes, round about them foure.

19 And when the beasts went, the wheeles went with them: & when the beasts were lift vp fro the earth, the wheeles were lift vp.

20 Whither their spirit led them, they went, and thither did the spirite of the wheeles lead them, and the wheeles were lifted vp besides them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheeles.

21 When the beasts went, they went, and when they stood, they stood, & when they were lifted vp from the earth, the wheeles were lifted vp besides them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheeles.

22 And the similitude of the firmament vpon the heads of the beasts was wonderfull, like vnto chrystal, spred ouer their heads about.

23 And vnder the firmament were their wings streight, the one toward the other: euerie one had two, which couered their bodies.

24 And when they went forth, I heard the noyse of their wings, like the noyse of great waters, and as the voyce of the Almighty, euen the voyce of speache, as the noyse of an hoste: and when they stood, they let downe their wings.

25 And there was a voyce from the firmament, that was ouer their heads, whē they stood, and had let downe their wings.

26 And about the firmament that was ouer their heads, was the facion of a throne like vnto a saphir stone, and vpon the similitude of the throne was by appearance, as the similitude of a man about vpon it.

27 And I sawe as the appearance of amber, and as the similitude of fire round about within it to looke to, euen from his loynes vpward, and to looke to, euen from his loynes downward: I sawe as a likenes of fire, and brightnes round about it.

28 As the likenes of the bowe, that is in the cloude in the day of raine, so was the appearance of the light round about.

29 This was the appearance of the similitude of the glorie of the Lord: and when I sawe it, I fell vpon my face, and I heard a voyce of one that spake.

CHAP. II.

The Prophet is sent to call the people from their error.

1 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, stand vp vpon thy feet, & I will speake vnto thee.

2 And the Spirit entred into me, when he had spokē vnto me, & set me vpō my feet, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

3 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation, that hath rebelled against me: for they and their fathers haue rebelled against me, euen vnto this very day.

4 For they are impudent children, & stiffe hearted: I do send thee vnto them, & thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God.

5 But surely they will not heare, neither in deede wil they cease: for they are a rebellious house: yet that they knowe, I have sent thee a Prophet among them.

6 And thou sonne of man, feare them not, neither be afraid of their words, although rebels, and thornes be with thee, and thou remainest with scorpions: feare not their wordes, nor be afraide at their lookes, for they are a rebellious house.

7 Therefore thou shalt speake my wordes vnto them: but surely they will not heare, neither wil they in deede cease: for they are rebellious.

8 But thou sonne of man, heare what I say vnto thee: be not thou rebellious, like this rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eate that I giue thee.

9 And when I looked vp, beholde, an hand was sent vnto me, and lo, a roule of a book was therein.

10 And he spred it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein, Lamentations, & mourning, and wo.
